ENROLLMENT OF RECORD STUDENT BODY EXPECTED

MANY FRESHMEN ATTRACTED BY WIDE RANGE OF SCHOOL ACTIVITIES—BRADLEY PREPARES FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

PREDICT FILLED CLASSROOMS FOR OPENING WEDNESDAY

Institute Plans to Carry Out Most Extensive Program Since Founding—New Instructors and Courses Added in Anticipation of Large Student Body.

With indications pointing to the largest enrollment of students that has ever entered Bradley Institute, plans have been made to carry out the most extensive program that has ever been given at Bradley. New courses have been added, new instructors secured and equipment has been purchased by the college to accomodate the large number of students who are registering for the coming year.

No direct figures can yet be given on the number of students who will attend Bradley this term but at the present rate of enrollment it will exceed the number of last year by at least 200 and may reach the 2500 mark. This will give Bradley the largest attendance of any college in Illinois and will cause it to rank well with the universities of the state.

Students are attracted by the great number of courses that the Institute has to offer. Nearly every course that is being given at the large universities is now being given at Bradley and many freshmen are taking advantage of this to get the added benefits of a smaller school.

New students are all enrolling at either Bradley Hall, Manual Arts or at the Conservatory of Music. No increased enrollment is expected at Horology Hall as it has continued in session all summer and is practically filled to capacity.

Athletics are one branch of school activities which are attracting a large number of students. Bradley is second to none in the matter of athletic equipment and this combined with the record which theathletic teams have made during the past years has influenced many students to come to Bradley.

Dramatics have also played their part as a drawing card for prospective collegians and are responsible for a large part of those who register for the coming college year. The presentation last spring of "A Midsummer Nights Dream" at which 1500 people were present and as many more turned away served to make Bradley known as a center of dramatic art. This in itself was a powerful factor in determining the selection of a college by many high school students.

These and many other causes have brought about the busiest registration days and the largest enrollment that Bradley has ever known and it is expected that when classes open Wednesday they will be filled almost to capacity.

Students planning to take up work in the Conservatory should enroll at once in order to secure full credit for the year. Credit will be given for work in Piano, Organ, Voice, Violin, Violincello and in all theoretical studies offered in the Conservatory.

The new teachers added to the Conservatory Faculty are Mr. Kenneth Stead, voice culture and musical appreciation; Mr. Eldon C. Murray, violin, Viola and theory; Mrs. Kate Sherwood Merton, Piano and fundamental training; Miss Mary Frances Armstrong and Miss Mary Frances Thompson, Assistant Piano teachers.

FORMIDABLE FOOTBALL SCHEDULE PREPARED FOR RED AND WHITE

ST. VIATOR'S AND LOMBARD INCLUDED IN SEASON'S LIST OF GAMES

Lake Forest a Newcomer in Bradley Athletic Circles—Comes With Good Record

With a schedule of ten hard games booked for the Hilltop eleven this fall Coach Robertson is now sending his proteges through the first drills in an effort to sift out a team which will make a creditable showing against Lincoln College which the Red and White meet at Peoria on September 30 in the first game of the season.

Included in the roster of Tech games is St. Viator's College, last year's state champions and Lombard College which last year threw a 58-0 defeat into the Bradley team.

Little is known of the strength of Lake Forest as it is a newcomer in Bradley athletic circles, but from the caliber of the teams which it has been meeting it is thought that Bradley will meet its stiffest competition in the battle with the up-staters.

Wesleyan, Augustana and Carthage always put out strong teams and it is expected that they will run true to form this season. Both Wesleyan and Augustana defeated the Tech men last year but Carthage succeeded in handing out one of the two defeats suffered by Bradley.

Pre-season dope has it that Bradley has the edge on Illinois College and Normal University, but judging from past records neither contest will be won by a large score.

The season will close with the meeting of Eureka and Bradley at Peoria on Thanksgiving day. Due to the rivalry between the two schools this game is expected to be the hardest fought battle of the season.

KEEP SMILING

Smile into the face of the world and a smile comes back; render good service to others and good service is rendered to you; show a spirit of helpfulness and that spirit will surely send back aid to you of a like kind.

The world is a great mirror which truly reflects the thoughts, acts and ambitions of every individual.

Let no one cloud his vision, poison his mind and dwarf his soul with the false imagination that the world is not giving him a square deal.

The only way to avoid getting a square deal from the world is not to give the world a square deal yourself.—The Vidette.

A WELCOME

"The King is dead. Long live the King!" This has been for ages the spontaneous cry in the streets in monarchal lands when the death of a king caused a new sovereign to be proclaimed. Slightly similar is the situation when we pass from one college year to another. Something of the exaltation embodied in these words belongs to us as a college at the opening of this new term. Convocation with its memories, both pleasant and sad, is of the past. Our triumphs and our failures are sealed for all times but a new era opens—one pregnant with greater possibilities than any which has gone before. It is our high privilege to rise upon our triumphs and also upon our mistakes to a higher conception of honor and duty. Bradley offers its all to you. It withholds not its best even from the most timid and humble. It is yours to grasp these opportunities and to make the best possible use of all the privileges so generously provided to us by our Founder. May you strive honorably and live worthily of these opportunities as they pass.

A most hearty welcome to all new students—College, Vocational, Horological, Conservatory.

THEODORE C. BURGESS, President.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Dr. Theodore C. Burgess.

The Editor of THE TECH has asked me to write a brief history of the Institute. The past year has been a memorable one marking the close of a 25 year period. This fact was recognized in various ways throughout the year culminating in the wonderful presentation of the Mid-Summer Night's Dream during Commencement Week. There have been remarkable changes at Bradley during this 25 years, changes whose magnitude could hardly be appreciated except by those who have been privileged to see its beginning and to watch its progress during this quarter of a century.

The existence of Bradley Institute is due to the wise philanthropy of Mrs. Lydie Bradley, a life long resident of Peoria, who determined to devote her Estate to the establishment of an institution which should be a benefit for all time to the youth of this city and to those who might be benefited by its advantages. She had herself a firm conviction as to the character of the institution which she wished to found but she took into consultation many eminent educators, among them prominently President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago. President Harper took a wonderful interest in Mrs. Bradley's plans and was a most important factor in developing them. During the first years he was a frequent visitor, meeting with the faculty and giving freely of his wise counsel.

A formal opening of the Institute was held on October 8, 1897. The 8th of October has been honored as Founder's Day from that date to this. There was at that time two buildings, Bradley Hall and the Horological Building. Edward O. Sisson was made Director. The years which followed to the present date have seen a wonderful growth and steady increase in attendance and development in course of study. The enrollment the first year was about 350. For the year just closed it was 2,377. The faculty has been increased from an original 19 to 82, including the faculty of the college, the vocational school, the Horological School and the Conservatory. President Burgess is completing this year his 20th year in this position.

This remarkable increase has come through the high standards set and by the substantial way in which these have been realized. The Institute started with an Academy, Junior College and various vocational lines, including the Horological Department. The Academy ceased to exist at the close of the last school year. The Junior College has been expanded to cover the full four years in various lines. The vocational departments have been vastly increased. The Horological Division is more prosperous than ever before. Teacher-training courses have been developed, both in the Manual Arts and in Home Economics. The institution has for years enjoyed a national reputation along these lines. There have been added evening classes, a preparatory summer school, and most recently the Bradley Conservatory of Music. All of these developments have been in response to a felt demand.

During the war Bradley made a notable contribution through the Bradley Army School of Mechanics and the S. A. T. C. The U. S. government was most cordial in its appreciation.

Bradley Institute has rendered a wonderful service to the City of Peoria and surrounding community. It enters upon its second quarter of a century with a justified pride in the work accomplished and with a firm confidence for the future.

GENERAL MIXER TO BE HELD IN SOCIAL HALL

Y. M. and Y. W. Provide Informal Gathering for Students

Every student and faculty member is invited to be present at the "mixer" to be held in Social Hall on Friday evening, September 15.

The general get-together of students, new and old, is given under the joint auspices of the student Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. who are making plans to carry out a most interesting program. It is planned to have a number of talks given by the offices of the organizations and by some faculty members. Games will be played, Bradley songs and yells given and a general good time will be indulged in.

The "mixer" is an annual affair at Bradley and is solely for the purpose of making all the students acquainted. The Y. M. and Y. W. believe that the first essential of a happy college life is to get acquainted with your schoolmates. They are giving this opportunity so no one can have any excuse for not speaking to every Bradley student.

PHI SIGMA PI ORGANIZED FOR YEAR'S WORK

Phi Sigma Pi, Honorary Education Fraternity, is organizing its forces in preparation for the greatest year of its life. Phi Sigma Pi was organized in Bradley some years years ago. As its existence is largely dependent on the scholarship standards upheld by the student body, its size has increased and decreased with the standards.

Gamma Chapter begins with only four of the men back in school: Fritz Nelson, Glenn Shaffer, Alfred Heath and Ted Vorhees are the only men of the last year group that have returned. Banish, Grigsby, Chance and Dow were lost by the route of June graduation. John Shafer is teaching in the new Albion High school as well as coaching athletics. Hedin has joined the rank of the Benedicts and is at work in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, making a living for the family. Only the four named were neither married nor got a job during the summer and are back in school.

Investigation for membership is under way. Scholarship standing seems to have been higher during the year past, and quite a few new members seem assured. Two year's college work is a minimum requirement, and work of college grade must be equal or over 5 grade points in quality. No student is eligible unless he has attended Bradley for one semester.

The Fraternity stands for higher standards in school work, fair play and a fraternal attitude. Numerous luncheons were held last year with a good speaker at each. Something of the same sort is being planned for this year.

From all signs Bradley is going to have the biggest year of its history—which means that Gamma Chapter will enjoy its biggest year, for the welfare of any organization or any individual in the school depends upon the welfare of the institution as a whole.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GRID TEAM

SEVEN LETTER MEN NUCLEUS FOR TEAM — MANY NEWCOMERS TO PUSH VETERANS HARD FOR POSITIONS ON ELEVEN.

COACH LEO JOHNSON TO ASSIST ROBERTSON WITH SQUAD

Return of Four Veterans Yet Undecided—Number of All Americans Return—Babcock, Fullback, to Captain Team.

Football stock is taking a decided rise with the announcement that at least seven of last year's letter men are to return to Bradley this fall. These men will furnish the structure on which Coach Robertson and Captain Babcock will attempt to build a championship team for the coming grid season. With a large number of newcomers with Hi School records and the return of many of the famous "All Americans" of last year as well as any "dark horses" which may turn up, high hopes are entertained for a team that will rival the famous eleven of last year.

Babcock, Zierten, Siminski, Barrett, Allen, Schmitt and Fredricks of the last year's letter men will again be seen in uniforms on the Bradley field this year. It is not yet certain whether Meinen, Gross, Correll or Miller all "B" men will return to school this fall.

"Big John Meinen of Pekin, last year's captain of the Tech squad is not yet decided about his return to Bradley. Meinen is a tower of strength in the line and this combined with his weight and experience makes him a much desired grider in the Tech camp. The qualities of leadership which he displayed last year won him many friends among the Bradley supporters who are now praying for his return to a Tech uniform.

"Bunny" Gross the wing-footed Kansan is another player who would create a great deal of happiness by returning to school. His open field running of last year which placed him on the All-State Team with Meinen and Babcock marked him as one of the greatest stars that ever wore a Red and White uniform.

Tommy Correll and Al Miller are two more men who would greatly strengthen the team by their return. Miller who held the pivot position in the line last year is badly needed this year as there are no likely candidates for his place. Correll has the making of a great backfield man and is practically assured of a position if he returns.

Eitinger, another of last year's backfield men will not return to the Tech campus this year because of scholastic difficulties.

Among the most promising of the new candidates are John Huffaker a husky tackle from Paducah, Ky.; McNaught, a 236 lb. guard from the famous Gridley High School team of last year; W. E. Knight, a backfield man and former teammate of "Shorty" McMahon of Waverly, Ill.; Kuykendall, a star end and backfield man from Cairo, Ill.; Johnson, who played end on the Peoria High School team of last year; Goldsby, a star football and basketball man from Flora; and Schnebly and Howard of Peoria High.

Many of last year's Reserves are again out fighting for a place on the first squad. Among them are Allen Ruch, center; "Red" Burt, guard; Skinner, quarterback and Damon, tackle.

Two candidates from Manual are also expected to put in a strong bid for positions. They are Ruch and Dixon who both starred on their high school teams of last year.

With this wealth of material to draw from as well as many more of unknown ability who have reported for practice it is expected that there will be a hard scramble for places on the team.

Coach Robertson sends out a strong appeal for candidates saying, "I want every man in college who is physically able and who can spare the time to come out for football. But I

SEVEN NEW COURSES ADDED IN EXPANDING COLLEGE CURRICULUM

DEPARTMENT HEADS DECIDE TO GIVE WIDER RANGE OF SUBJECTS

First Year College German Given for First Time at Bradley—Review Math Offered

Several new courses have been added to the college curriculum of Bradley. These courses have been under advisement for several years and due to the expected increase in enrollment and the consequent enlargement of the school program it was decided to add them this year.

Dr. Wyckoff of the History Department will introduce a new course, Christ and the Individual, into his department. This as the name implies shows the relationship between Christ and Man.

Mr. L. G. Tillotson of the Department of Business Administration will add another course in Business Administration as a supplement to the one already given.

Miss Nadine V. Shepardson of the Department of Public Speaking will add an advanced course in the Fundamentals of Speech. This will enable the Public Speaking Department to accommodate the many students who wish to include this course in their program.

The Department of Mathematics under the direction of Dr. Comstock will offer a course in Review Algebra followed by one in Solid Geometry for the benefit of those who have only had two years of high school mathematics.

First year college German will be given by the Department of Modern Languages for the first time at Bradley.

Mr. C. W. Schroeder of the Department of Sociology will offer a new course called the Social Teachings of Jesus.

The Physics Department under the direction of Dr. Swaim will give two new courses in Physics, one of which is for the benefit of the students taking Manual Training work and the other for the Home Economics students.

JOURNAL-TRANSCRIPT GIVES BRADLEY VETS BIG WRITE-UP

The Journal-Transcript of September 10 contians a very realistic article about the 350 war veterans who are students at Bradley. The article is illustrated by pictures of the Vets themselves and some of their work.

Four Bradley students interviewed who had citations for bravery in the World War are: F. W. Bie, who holds a Croix de Guerre from the hand of Marshal Joffre; Phillip Scott, of the Marines, who won a Croix de Guerre and a Croix de Fourre; E. W. Wood, a member of Sergeant York's regiment, who was cited for bravery and recommended for honors and Claud Devinger, who was awarded a Distinguished Service Cross.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13, 1922.

THE FOUNDATION OF SUCCESS.

Students enter college for the purpose of getting the training that will enable them to make a success in life. A successful life is not to be measured in dollars and cents neither is it to be measured by social position or social influence. These things are often the result of success but not the cause. Real success is measured by hard work, energy diverted in the right direction, and honesty and benefits to the world at large.

Too often students enter college with no more purpose than to "get by." They forget that it is not the outward results, not the credits that they secure from their work that really counts but that it is the manner in which they gain these credits.

Hard work diverted in the right direction is never lost. It may be overshadowed for a time by natural genius or versatility but is bound to crop out and form the foundation of success.

———B. P. I.———

THE TECH.

THE TECH is devoted to the interests of Bradley Polytechnic Institute. It is controlled and edited by Bradley students. Editors from each department see that their section is well represented. All efforts are being made to build up and preserve unity in the school. THE TECH aims to keep out of school politics as much as possible. It will attempt to print straight news and to look on all questions from an unbiased viewpoint.

THE TECH must have the co-operation of the student body. It should be a student responsibility to take a personal interest in the welfare of THE TECH as their college publication.

THE TECH wants constructive criticism from the students, it wants news from the students and it wants the support of the students.

———B. P. I.———

"I AM THE COLLEGE."

Once again Bradley opens its halls of learning that all who seek knowledge may enter. Many new students are enrolling and most of the old students are returning. Improvements are being made around the buildings and on the campus, new courses have been added, several new instructors have been secured and everything possible is being done to make this one of the banner years in the twenty-six years since the founding of Bradley.

Improvements, equipment and instructors cannot make nor break a school. That is up to the student himself. He is the school and what he is the school is. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link. A college is as strong as the majority of its student body.

Weather Forecast: Same as usual.

* * *

This year the campus will be greener than ever. Maybe not with grass, but with freshmen.

* * *

Freshie: "Sweets to the sweet."
Senior Girl: "Oh, thank you; may I pass you the nuts?"

* * *

Dr. Packard (Giving exam.): "Does any question embarrass you?"
Dorman: "No sir. The questions are quite clear, sir. It is the answers that bother me."

* * *

Angry Father: "How dare you come home like this, in the middle of the term? And how dare you have the cheek to say you don't like the school? Don't you know that it has turned out some of the most brilliant men in the country?"
Son: "Yes, Dad. They turned me out."

* * *

Bring your dimes to chapel, fellows, and see who is going to walk out with the best looking girl.

* * *

"Now my son," said the conscientious father, "tell me why I punished you."
"That's it," blubbered the boy, indignantly. "First you pound the daylights out of me, and now you don't know why you did it."

* * *

A toast to women: "God dress them; we can't."

* * *

Visitor: "What does the chaplain do here?"
Freshman: "Oh, he gets up in chapel every morning, looks over the student body, and then prays for the college."

* * *

What kind of cars will we have to sit in this year? We hope some nice big ones, so we can swap stories in comfort.

* * *

First Freshman Girl (Out of English): Here I've been trying to flirt with Mr. Marvin, and I just found out he was married.

* * *

Second Freshman Girl (Out of Maths): That's nothing. I've been flirting with Mr. Gant and just found out he isn't married.

* * *

Let's start friendliness early this year?
Don't be afraid to smile, or say hello.

* * *

Soph: "I know where you can get a chicken dinner for fifteen cents."
Fresh: "Where! ! ? ? ?"
Soph: "At the feed store."

* * *

Warning to Freshmen—Please do not stroll too far off the campus, for a horse might see you and think you're its meal.

* * *

First Senior: "What shall we do?"
Second Senior: "I'll spin a coin. If it's heads we'll go to the movies; tails we go to the dance, and if it stands on edge we'll study."

* * *

An essay on Abe Lincoln: "Abraham Lincoln was born on a bright summer day, the twelfth of February, 1809. He was born in a log cabin he had helped his father to build."

* * *

Take your pick fellows. We have everything from "dizzy blondes" to gogs "bobbed brunettes."

* * *

Freshman: "To what do you attribute your long life?"
Dr. Wyckoff: "That I was born a long time back."

* * *

Freshman to colored janitor: "Don't burn that grass, it will make the lawn as dark as you are."
Janitor: "Don't worry 'bout dat, sah. Dat grass will grow out and be as green as you is."

* * *

Dr. Ashman: "Name three articles containing starch."
Smith: "Two cuffs and a collar."

* * *

Junior: "I never know what to do with my week-end."
Senior: "Why not keep your hat on it?"

Greetings

To all students of Bradley both new and old the Young Men's Christian Association extends heartiest greetings. We trust that you will find in our College the incentive for the development of real character.

The young men who are privileged to attend college this year are indeed fortunate. The problems which confront educated men the world over are of such a nature that young men now in the schools may well expect to have a part in their solution. It is then not only privilege but a duty that you should make the very most of your college life. May this year be a splendid and very useful one for you.

* * *

The Young Men's Christian Association

The Young Men's Christian Association is more than an organization. It is a spirit manifesting itself through an organization.

It is a monument world wide in its scope, whose purpose it is to develope better character, better communities and a better world.

The Student Y. M. C. A. sets itself to realize for every man the true ends of education. A strong character, a sense of service, a resourceful ability to think, a general knowledge of the best in the world—true Values of All in Life, and particular knowledge in one's life calling.

Life's Aim

We live in deeds, not years,
In actions, not in figures on a dial.
In thoughts, not breaths,
We should count time by heart throbs (in the cause of right);
He most lives who thinks most,
Who feels the noblest,
And who acts the best.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

South Manual Arts Building has been improved in many respects during the summer vacation. Hallways have received a coat of paint, ceilings have been made over and new ones placed. The forge shop is unrecognizable to the student of last year—new concrete floor and paint accomplished the result. The drawing rooms are re-decorated and otherwise improved.

* * *

The North Manual Arts building has also received attention that was needed. The machine shop is being redesigned preparatory to placing new machines that were received some time ago.

* * *

Among items of interest to former students are two marriages. We have learned that Miss Naomi Woods is now Mrs. Elmer Hedin. Hedin has accepted a position with the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Public Schools.

Eugene C. Eckert, a student of the summer session, was also united in the bonds of matrimony. Two students of Bradley witnessed the marriage ceremony of Eugene Eckert and Miss Mana McDonough on Thursday evening, August 26, and know the ceremony was properly performed. Mr. Eckert is in charge of Manual Arts work at Herrin, Illinois.

* * *

Word comes that Mr. Charles W. Chance has accepted a position as head of the Mechanical Drawing Department of one of Cleveland's public Schools.

* * *

We have just learned that Mr. Sherman Serff has accepted a position as instructor in a Grand Rapids, Mich., High School. Mr. Serff taught mill work at Bradley during the past summer as assistant to Mr. Hurff.

* * *

Mr. Claude Miller, reporter for the manual arts department for last year's Tech, is at his old work again. We understand that he is in newspaper work in Bloomington, Illinois.

* * *

T. L. Babcock, a federal board man, is in placement training at Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

* * *

Wm. Jack Banish is in charge of the Veterans Bureau at Saginaw, Michigan, according to last reports.

* * *

J. Neal Dow has returned to his home at New Brunswick, Canada. He has accepted a teaching position in the manual arts line, so we are told.

* * *

Don Allison, our East Peoria friend, has accepted a position at Memphis, Tenn.

* * *

Robert Ewing was back with us this summer. During his stay here he decided to teach at Herrin with Mr. Eckert.

* * *

John Shafer of Northfield, Minn., has accepted a teaching position in the new Community High School at Albion, Illinois. He expects to return to complete his work for a degree next summer.

* * *

We hear that Dick Kreitzer has accepted a place in the Peoria Public Schools. The reporter was in too big a rush to ascertain details.

* * *

Howard Weisflog, of track renown, is teaching at Michigan City, Ind.

* * *

John Brader has decided to work the coming year instead of attending Bradley. We hear that he has a position "somewhere in Minnesota."

* * *

George Garoian, after remaking an old automobile into a working apparatus during his summer stay at Bradley, has motored to Deadwood, S. D., where he teaches this year.

* * *

Richard Fawver teaches in Morristown, Minn., this year. He was one of our two year graduates.

Wm. Rasmussen has accepted a position at Springfield, Illinois. We understand that he is teaching in the grade schools of that city.

* * *

Howard Kelly, B. S., from Bradley, will be back at his school of last year at Mexico, Mo. He requests that his friends address him at Mexico Military Academy—Captain Howard Kelly, by the way!

* * *

Albert LaCour, also a degree man from Bradley, will return to his former place as teacher in the Technical High School at Atlanta, Ga.

* * *

Ralph Johnson, after spending the summer at both sessions of summer school, has returned to Kansas City where he is an instructor in a Junior High School.

* * *

Mr. Edgar Shelton, who was formerly a student at Bradley and who since that time has received his degree in Architecture at the University of Texas, has been appointed an instructor of Architecture at the University of Illinois. We like to hear that our former students are making good.

* * *

Floyd Barloga, a two year graduate, has accepted a teaching position at Onarga, Illinois, that was made vacant when Harry Gaines resigned to accept a place in a suburb of Chicago. Mr. Gaines, by the way, was married during the summer.

* * *

Harry Bennett, a Federal Board student, is in placement training with a local architect's firm.

* * *

John K. Franks, another student of the Veterans Bureau, is in placement training at the Holt factory across the river.

* * *

The following Federal Board students have been discontinued to enter in business or in other work:

Thos. Cleveland.
Walter Johnson.
Orville McFarlin.
John Horton.
Frank Winslow.
Claude Miller.
Byron Puterbaugh.
George Perta.
Charles Moreton.

* * *

Edward Warren, a Federal Board student, is now doing drafting work in the office of the Sangamon Electric Co., at Springfield. Mr. Warren was a member of the Student's Council while at Bradley.

* * *

Mr. Clarence Pritchle was in placement training with the A. B. C. Company in East Peoria. Latest word says that he is now in Washington, D. C., doing Patent Office drawing work.

* * *

Forrest Bennett and Henry Rice both will be located at Lincoln, Illinois. Rice will teach in a state orphan school, while Bennett will be with the Public Schools.

* * *

Wm. Hemmer who received his Bachelors degree from Bradley last June, has completed two of the three semesters work at Chicago U. for his Masters degree.

THE AMATEUR

Standing here in the shade of the overhanging bows of the whiffle tree he made his declaration:

"Darling, I have never loved another woman; I have never before kissed a girl or even tried to hold her hand."

"Oswald, is all this true?" she asked in a hushed voice.

"Darling, I swear it is true," he answered fervently.

"That being the case," she answered frigidly, "you might go somewhere and work up a reputation before you call on me again."—Gargoyle.

GRID GOSSIP

Reports from colleges which Bradley is to meet in football this fall indicate that the Tech eleven will earn all the games which they win. Wesleyan has the old Zinser-Hausler combination back as well as a number of other letter men and a very likely looking bunch of prospects. Eureka has 17 vets returning to school this fall and Coach McKenzie expects to develop a great team. Lombard will continue to go strong with the return of Lamb, Swanson, King, Faulkner, Turner and a host of others. No dope can be secured on Augustana, Lake Forrest, St. Viators nor Illinois College, but judging from past records they will put out strong teams.

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

If they used hammers at your high school, take yours back home. There's one big rope here at Bradley and everybody pulls for old B. P. I.

* * *

You may have been a big man in your high school, but your only a beginner here again. Your past laurels are out of style. Dig in and get some new ones.

* * *

Remember that your freshman year is one of adjustment. You are not here to get offices. There is plenty of time for that later. Be sure you can handle your studies before you tackle the side shows of college life.

* * *

First impressions are often lasting. Profs. are human; what kind of an impression are you making on your instructors these first days.

* * *

Keep your mouth shut in chapel. The fellow on the platform is put there to make the noise. Don't butt in.

* * *

Cutting classes is like drinking whiskey—easy to start, hard to stop, and full of griefs. The simile is out of date, but it holds. Be wise.

* * *

Don't think, just because there is no "study hall" at Bradley, that you have nothing to do when you are out of your classes.

* * *

The Profs are ready to be your friends, but friendship is not a one-sided proposition.

* * *

Loyalty is one of the finest qualities of character. You can learn to be loyal here at Bradley.—'21 Tech.

LOYALTY

Loyalty is a splendid quality, which can be developed by every one. There is the loyalty to conscience, to a Higher Power, which is the cornerstone of character. There is loyalty to ambition, to effort, which is necessary for success. There is that loyalty which requires faithfulness to duty, no matter what be the cost. There is that loyalty which is necessary that organizations survive and prosper. There is the loyalty of true friendship that demands many sacrifices and much confidence. Loyalty is greater than gratitude, for the latter presupposes a favor or benefit received. Be loyal to your school, to your organizations, to your friends, and to yourself.—Missouri Miner.

THREE NEW INSTRUCTORS ENGAGED BY INSTITUTE

Mrs. Mary Blossom Huston Returns to Bradley as Dean

Three new instructors have been secured from Bradley Institute this fall. They were selected from a large number of applicants and have the necessary qualifications to make very desirable instructors for Bradley students.

Miss Vera Andrus who holds a Masters Degree from the University of Michigan has been engaged to teach classes in English History and also a class in Economic Resources. Miss Andrus comes to Bradley from the Cass Technical High School of Detroit where she has been teaching.

Mr. G. F. Johnson has been engaged to assist Mr. Elliot in Machine Shop. Mr. Johnson comes from Montana where he has had a large amount of teaching experience.

Mrs. Mary Blossom Huston has been secured to accept the position of Dean of Women which was held by Miss Ethel Lyons. Mrs. Huston is well known and has many friends in Peoria having been connected with Bradley before in a similar capacity.

FIRST MANUAL ART STUDENT REGISTERED DESERVES ALL CREDIT

Time: 5 A. M. Monday.

Place: Dean Siepert's office.

Restfully reposing on the wooden bench (the hard one) in Dean Siepert's office is a long, lanky, individual garbed in gray. An alarm clock sounds. The individual reaches in his vest pocket, turns off the alarm, and notes the time. He yawns, stretches, brushes his hair and proceeds with breakfast. His breakfast consists of rolls purchased at Mullen's the night before. The individual then settles down on the bench preparatory to a long siege. He will have to wait long—he knows it because he has been there before—but the wait is worth while on registration day!

Time: 9 A. M. Same day.

Place: Same place.

Dean Siepert arrives. The stenographer has sneaked in a moment before and is busily engaged in cleaning the typewriter—trying to give the impression that she was there at 4 o'clock. Every one is suddenly alive, arranging cards for registration to begin. The tall, lanky one is now at the Dean's door, heading the line, with his arms spread in net fashion before him so that no one may sneak ahead of him. The line behind him is growing longer and noisier every moment.

Time: 9:15 A. M. Same day.

Place: Same place.

Dean Siepert calls for the first victim. The lanky one falls into his office—the Dean's office. The door closes and registration is begun. Noise, argument, the pounding of fists on the Dean's desk, and scuffing ensues.

Time: 10:15 A. M. Same day.

Place: Same place.

The Dean's office door opens and the Dean emerges forth, supporting the figure of the long, lanky one. The long, lean one presents a bedraggled appearance. His hair that was so neatly parted is parted no more. Five teeth have disappeared leaving only the valuable one—the gold one—in his mouth. His suit needs the attention of the tailor—unless the tailor decrees that it is fit for the rag man. But the victim smiles, showing the gold tooth. He has registered—the first to come through the ordeal—and he outlived it! Between the gasps for air he muttered as well as he could with the five teeth missing, "Oh, Boy! Ain't it a g-r-and and g-l-or-ious feeling?"

The reporter looked on the card of this brave individual to see who he was—the story was a corker, and a Carnegie medal ought to be in order. There, in the bold handwriting of the Dean, was the name of J. Edward Davis, the first of his division to register!

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The old parody is true with respect to advertising in college publications. It runs like this:

"Tell me not in mournful numbers advertising is a dream, for the business man who slumbers has no chance to skim the cream. Life is real! Life is earnest! Competition's something fierce, if for dividends thou yearnest, learn to parry, thrust and pierce. In the business field of battle, molly-coddles have no place; be not like dumb driven cattle, be a live one in the race. Lives of great men all remind us we must bring the bacon home, and departing leave behind us footprints on another's dome. Let us then be up and doing, otherwise we may be done; still achieving, still pursuing—advertise and get the Mon."—Exchange.

KNOW WHAT YOU WANT

How horrible it is to be aimless perhaps only the student fully realizes. "Know what you want and go after it steadily" we are continually told by successful men. "All you've got to do is to know what you want; it's easy." Is it? Take a three year old child who has been removed to new and rather overwhelming surroundings. You offer him his monkey, his teddy bear, your watch, all his familiar toys. He won't play, he is cross and obstinate and refuses to do anything that you suggest to him. At last in desperation, you ask him "well then, what do you want to do?" He will probably fly into a rage, for it is the last thing he can tell you, and the one thing he wants to find out. So with the student in a larger and more intellectual field. He must examine everything within range of vision as fully as possible before he can find his goal. He must thoroughly know his environment before he can adjust himself to its demands or change it to fit his own. If he has studied only one side of a question he is like a one-legged man without a crutch. He can go no distance. The slightest opposition upsets him.—The New Student.

EVOLUTION

When Edith Smith was in the grades, her hair was always done in braids. Her sox were tied with binder twine. She rose at four and swilled the swine, and curried off the horse and mule before she walked a mile to school.

She used to cook and sew and knit, and knew just how to saw and split, the stove lengths for the kitchen range. She loved the odors of the grange. She milked and plowed and raked the hay and made the ducks and chickens lay.

She climbed the windmill and the trees and knew the sheep ticks from the fleas. As common as a sulky plow and docile as her father's cow, she still knew how to till the peas and swarm a hive or two of bees, she longed to cook a pie or cake for some good looking country Jake.

She strove in vain to find a mate, but always was outfoxed by fate. So she's become a college fresh, and says, "My goodness," not "My gosh." Her hair is docked and frizzed in curls.

She dresses like the other girl, and wears a pledge pin on her skirt. She's playing at the game of bluff. She lops a bit and plays with "Duff."

Her title now is Edythe Smythe. She's climbed from out the rural rut and changed her waddle to a strut. A Milo has replaced her cob and bless me, she's a blooming snob.

And as I note her manner cool, I sigh, "There goes somebody's fool."—Octopus.

LAURA AVENUE PRACTICE HOUSE UNDERGOES CHANGE

Improvements Made in Anticipation of Large Student Body

The practice house on Laura Avenue has been undergoing a great many changes during the past few weeks in anticipation of the opening of the fall term and the return of the women students who have been making it their residence. A new gas stove with a Lorraine oven regulator has been installed. This equipment will be of great benefit to the classes in Domestic Science which will use it in connection with their studies.

New dining room furniture has been installed in the laboratory dining room. The floors have been revarnished, the walls refinished and nearly the whole interior appearance of the room has been changed.

Miss Jones, instructor in foods has been provided with a new office fully equipped. A filing cabinet has been placed in the office of Miss Long, head of the Department of Household Arts.

With all these improvements the Department of Home Economics will be able to give better service to a larger number of students.

MUTTERINGS OF A MEANDERING MIND

With a great many misgivings, but with a whole lot of supreme confidence in our infallibility of judgment is this issue of THE TECH distributed among the students.

For days and nights we have rushed madly about, gathering up news, writing it, rewriting it and writing it again. Many of the staff have not returned from their vacations, consequently we are shy in several departments.

We have ranted and raved and torn our hair till it is merely a pastime; we have become veritible maduen, stone walls quake and tremble before our terrible gaze. Sidewalks crook and groan where we tread and dead laves fall at our feet.

But——we see dawn ahead, our fury begins to subside. Wednesday is coming, our staff is coming, copy is coming, sleep is coming and "Oh sleep what a blessed thing thou art."

Oh, no, subscribers and friends, we are not making apologies; we are giving reasons, just reasons, that's all. We are not satisfied with this issue of THE TECH but we hope you are. We are going to improve it. If you have any suggestions for improvement let us know. Maybe we can use them. If you care to try writing for THE TECH let us know. We can use you.

THE BRADLEY TECH

VOLUME XXVI — ISSUED WEEKLY — NUMBER 2

PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1922

INCREASE OF TWENTY PERCENT SHOWN IN NUMBER ENROLLED

NINE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT STUDENTS REGISTER FOR COMING TERM.

Bradley Hall Shows Largest Increase —Other Departments Already Filled to Capacity.

With students still registering, figures point towards the highest enrollment in the History of Bradley Institute. The number registered point close to the thousand mark, Friday's reports having it as nine hundred and thirty-eight. Last year there was an advance of five students considered with the previous year, but this year there is an advance of fifty students. Considering that the Academy has been dropped this is a very marked advancement.

The number of college women and men registered so far is respectively two hundred and eight and two hundred and thirty-four. The large increase in size of the freshman class calls for three new classes and an additional teacher. The new faculty member is Mrs. Bertha S Snowder, a former graduate of Bradley who will assist in the English Department.

The number of students in the other departments of the school has not shown as marked an increase as these classes were already filled to capacity. The Vocational Department reports one hundred and six men, while the Horology, with two hundred and fifty and the Conservatory with one hundred and forty students enrolled are trying to find room for more students.

With the night school and summer sessions still to look forward to, the faculty and students on the campus claim that every factor points towards the greatest year in the history of Bradley.

TRAINING ON CROSS COUNTRY RUN BEGINS

Plan to Enter Teams min Winter Indoor Meets.

Work starts within a few days for those who desire to take part in the cross country running events. Athletes should soon be coming out for track, particularly the relay men, as Assistant Coach Johnson hopes to be able to enter a Bradley team in some of the indoor meets this winter.

Of interest to the forward men in the announcement that a cross country race will be staged during the latter part of the month of October. No one will be permitted to enter the race unless he has taken the preparatory training. Gale Warner, one of Bradley's constant point winners in the distance events last Spring, will be in charge of the runners to train for this race.

INVESTIGATES EFFECT OF RIVER SEWAGE

Dr. W. H. Packard, head of the Department of Biology, has been assisting Mr. R. E. Richardson of the State Laboratory boat which has been located at Peoria during the summer. They have been engaged in making a complete investigation of the effect of the Chicago sewage on the animal and plant life of the Illinois river. The results obtained from the investigation enabled them to determine the extent of the pollution of the river from the sewage.

VASSAR COLLEGE OFFERS COURSE IN JOURNALISM

Vassar is believed to be the first of the women's colleges to offer a course in journalism. The new course at the Poughkeepsie school plans to create the atmosphere of the newspaper office rather than that of the classroom. In studying headlines, the class experimented on the probable methods different papers would have used in captioning the "Voyage of the Ancient Mariner." "Books Own Blood," followed by appropriate subheads, was selected as a reasonable choice of the Hearst papers.

FIRST ALL-STUDENT ACTIVITY OF YEAR PROVES SUCCESSFUL

MANY STUDENTS AND FACULTY PRESENT AT Y. M. C. A. MIXER.

Play Games and Serve Refreshments —Talks Given by Officers of "Y."

Bradley's greatest mixer took place in the gym Friday evening, September 15, at 8 o'clock. A record crowd of more than four hundred students and thirty-five faculty members were present. As he entered, every student was given a numbered identification card on which was placed his name and also his home town.

The tickets were numbered and the men were compelled to find the corresponding number on a girl. This girl thus became his partner for the grand march which started at the Social Hall and wended its way down stairs to the gym where the faculty had formed a receiving line. The hands of the faculty were kept in continuous motion for forty-five minutes, after which the end of the line appeared.

Several short speeches were next on the program. Miss Geraldine Hadley spoke first, giving the students some general advice and telling them not to develop only one side of their characters, but prepare all sides.

Mr. C. W. Schroeder was the next speaker, taking as his text the phrase "Remember Thy Creator," found in the Book of Ecclesiastes. He compared the average student with the worshipper of God and spoke of Bradley as the Creator, saying that many students would be created by it.

Miss Lila Schaad, vice president of the Y. W. C. A. was the next speaker, she gave a short history of the Y. W. at Bradley and outlined their plans for the coming year.

Mr. H. N. Beimfohr, president of the Y. M. C. A. was the last speaker on the program. He also outlined the plans of his organization for the coming year. He placed special emphasis on the Lake Geneva Student Y. M. C. A. Conference held yearly at the lake. Three Bradley men were in attendance there last year and Mr. Beimfohr urged that a much larger delegation represent Bradley there next year.

The rest of the evening, until 11 o'clock, was spent in playing games. At 11 o'clock, the last part of all social gatherings occurred, namely the refreshments. At 11:15, the gymnasium was again in darkness and the students, on their way home, were declaring it the greatest mixer ever staged.

WANTED!

Where are the red-blooded men who love to get on the gridiron and fight for their Alma Mater. What will be Bradley's fate when she encounters the old rivals, Lombard, Westleyan, St. Viators, Augustana and Eureka? This question will only be favorably answered when more athletes declare their intention to alleviate the worries that now confront the Coach and his assistant, Leo Johnson.

Coach Robertson again appeals to the loyalty of all those who are physically able and who can give the time to come out for football. Unless the present conditions show improvement the team will be greatly handicapped in development due to lack of opposition in daily scrimmage encounters. The Athletic Department would have it known that the situation may force the cancellation of the entire second team schedule, a move that no high-spirited athlete enrolled at Bradley will care to see be taken.

STUDENT Y. M. C. A. PREPARES FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Committees Appointed for Carrying on Activities.

The Student Y. M. C. A. has been partially organized and is getting into shape to make the coming year a successful one from the standpoint of membership and service. Herman N. Blemfohr is president, Ross Suarz vice president and Wayne Buckley treasurer.

The following committees have been appointed: Faculty advisors, Mr. C. W. Schroeder, Dr. C. T. Wolcroff, Mr. A. F. Siepert, Mr. A. E. Gaut, Dr. F. F. Swaim. Membership, Eugene Millner, Marshall Curtis, Russel Peters. Religious activities, J. Voekel, J. Stahl, Irl Garnett. Socials and entertainments, E. J. Davis, E. P. Burt. Friendly relations, Wm. Voorhees, Glenn Schafer, G. Warner.

The committees are not complete as yet but are now on a working basis and are preparing to put on a drive for membership. A complete list of the members of the committees with the duties of each is being made out and will appear soon.

NEW METHODS BEING USED TO SEPARATE ENGLISH CLASSES

LARGE NUMBER OF FRESHMEN MAKE FORMING OF NEW CLASSES NECESSARY.

Students Being Classified According to Their Past Work and Experience.

Not to be outdone, the English Department, under the head of Miss Jennie Constance, has taken advanced steps in the division of the English classes. The heavy enrollment of freshmen made it necessary to divide the freshmen English class into three divisions, each of these divided into three sections and the addition of a new teacher to that department, Mrs. Bertha S. Snowder a former Bradley graduate and a teacher of experience is the new member of the faculty.

The classes are being determined by the previous training and experience of the freshmen and to accomplish the psychological tests are being made use of. This new experiment is being used only in some of the largest universities, among which are the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin. At the end of the period the students are assigned work so as to make definite progress in the reading of classes and literary material. Each student receives the same credit and at the same time the school meets the need of the individual student as well as that of the student body as a group. In the determination of the grades Thurstone's College psychological tests will be made use of and the student marked according to his work and ability to do the work. He will also be tested by themselves outside work and extemporaries which will make the course more fascinating and a great deal more interesting.

In this manner the students who require the same attention will be sifted into one group and given the chance to advance as rapidly as their ability allows.

MANUAL ARTS GRADUATE LANDS GOOD POSITION

Robert Woellner Heads Drawing at Chicago School.

Information has just arrived that Robert Woellner, who received his Bachelor's degree in Manual Arts last June, has been appointed head of the Drawing department of the University High School which is a part of the Department of Education in the University of Chicago.

Mr. Woellner graduated from the two year course some years ago and has since that time, attended Bradley during the summer sessions. He has also had summer work at Columbia University, the University of Cincinnati, and the University of Minnesota.

He was appointed head of the Vocational Training work at Camp Pike, Arkansas, during the war period. He has had considerable experience as teacher of drawing in the Cincinnati Public Schools.

His work at Chicago is both in connection with the manual arts end of the school and the department of [illegible]. The fact that Mr. Woellner was successful in his application for this responsible position should serve to make Bradley proud of the reputation it has built and is holding in this line of work.

STUDENTS TO TAKE PHYSICAL EXAMS FOR GYM WORK THIS WEEK

MEN WHO ENGAGE IN SPORTS MUST PASS INSPECTION.

Coach Johnson to Have Charge—Propose to Correct Abnormal Conditions of Body

Under the personal attention of Physical Director Johnson each student will be given a careful and thorough physical examination, and for any abnormalities corrective exercises will be prescribed. It is hoped that these examinations can progress this week, so that classes in gymnasium work may be organized without further delay.

The examination will cover eye, ear, nose and throat as well as heart and lungs. Any defects in posture will be noted on the examination blank, and to each individual will be given two pamphlets, the first of which contains the body measurements and the second bears his grading with reference to posture and the result of the examiner's tests. The purpose of these examinations is to correct abnormal conditions of the body and to instruct the individual as to the proper course to pursue in the correction of his ills.

Men who hope to participate in the gymnasium work as well as those who want to enter the intramural and major sports, must pass the inspections. Results of the physical tests will be kept on file, and a copy of the examiner's report together with the two leaflets will be given to the student for his own personal benefit.

Woodwork seems to be the favorite in the M. A. department. Mr. Hurff reports that the Wood Technology class will have to be divided in order to be accommodated this year. Mill work was offered all summer. Mr. Serff acted as assistant during the first semester to Mr. Hurff, while Mr. Hurff was away on his vacation the latter part of the summer, Serff had charge of the shop.

NEW SYSTEM OF BIDDING AT SWARTHMORE

A system of preferential bidding has been adopted by the Interfraternity Council at Swarthmore (Pennsylvania). Invitations to fraternity membership are given impersonally. Each fraternity places with the dean a list of its invitations. Then men are called individually before the dean and informed of the fraternities bidding for him. The statement of his preference constitutes a pledge.

REVISED MENTAL TESTS TO BE TAKEN BY ALL BRADLEY FRESHMEN

DETERMINE DEGREE OF MENTALITY OF STUDENTS BY TESTS.

Thurstone's College Psychological Examinations Used—Faculty Rating to be Compared With Results.

By Paul Deffenderfer.

For the second time in the history of Bradley Institute all freshmen will be required to take the so-called intelligence test. The analysis blank used is one similar to that of last year, but has been extensively revised by Prof. Joseph V. Hanna. "The purpose of these tests are not to embarass the students, but to help us to understand them and know their problems to the best advantage."

This year only one test will be given, as the result of last year's second test were so close to that of the first, that it would only be a repetition with expectations of the same results. A few weeks later a faculty rating will be added and the analysis blank will be put in a folder and go on file. "If a student is doing very poor work under fairly good conditions and the intelligence test shows a high average mentality, the Institute will look into the matter and see that the student receives the right kind of training for his especial benefit.

Only the most progressive institutions are using these mental tests and so far they are proving very satisfactory. Prof. Joseph V. Hanna says: "We are not using these psychological tests exclusively but they are only part of the system." With these tests, the blank and the faculty rating the Institute authorities will have a very good idea of what the student is capable of doing. These papers will be a very valuable asset in the hands of the different deans, who recommend different courses. It will enable them to pick out the students according to the ability of the different students.

BRADLEY'S BAND

By the Third Trombone.

Last year Bradley had a real band. This year we want Bradley to have even a better band. What would we have done without the band on the gridiron last year? It was there and with its own wonderful playing made shivery things creep up our spines. We were proud of that band and why shouldn't we be, for it was our band and was composed of the students of our Alma Mater.

This year we expect big things from our band and we intend to get as much as we expect and maybe more. We'll hear them for the first time at the Lincoln-Bradley game and at all the games following. Last year they played at the basketball games and many a time when the fellows were tired and ready to drop, the inspiring music of the band put pep in them and they resolved to win and did win.

This year we want Bradley to have a band larger and better than any band Bradley ever had. Let's boost it. Everybody help make Our Band the Band we think Our Band should be.

SMALL SQUAD HINDERS ROBERTSON IN FORMING CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

REPORT ONLY HALF AS MANY CANDIDATES FOR POSITIONS AS LAST YEAR.

Gross Returns to Tech Squad—Light Scrimmage in Order for This Week.

By Wayne Buckley.

Coach Robertson's appeal to every able-bodied man in Bradley to come out for football has evidently been ineffectual, for the close of the first week of practice has found the names of but thirty-five candidates on the roster. Such a scarcity of recruits is unaccountable, inasmuch as the enrollment this year has increased twenty-five per cent over that of last year, yet one year ago sixty men had answered the call.

The return of "Bunny" Gross, fleet-footed Kansan, has to a large degree dispelled the gloom that has been enshrouding the Tech football camp. He arrived in time to participate in the drill held Saturday afternoon, and his early performance confirms the report that he is in the pink of condition, ready for another strenuous season.

Within the past few days several newcomers of promise have been entered in, the most promising of whom are Hindle and Hodges. Hindle is a former Manual fullback, one of the best ever turned out down there, while Hodges shows promise at center, at which position he has had four years experience.

Positions in the forward wall are being earnestly sought. Robertson has a problem in finding two reliable men for the extremities. Putting in the strongest bids are Rogers and Johnson, of Peoria High School, although Koepping, end for the Pittsfield High School eleven for four years, [illegible] tion. In the early workouts, however, Koepping is being used at tackle.

The center of the line is also giving the coach no little anxiety. At this position for the present Hindle is being given a try out. Hodges will undoubtedly put in a strong bid, as will Alan Ruck, last year an "All American."

Unusually talented men are included among the backfield candidates, and with the return of Gross, star halfback, who gained more ground than any other member of the 1921 eleven, chances for the development of another splendid offense have been boosted. Tommy Correll has joined the aggregation and during early formation plays has been used at left half. Babcock, captain of this season's team, is, of course, to be found at his old post, that of fullback.

The quarterback assignment is attracting the bids of no less than six youngsters. Fredrich, an all around backfield man, Kuykendall, and Brewer are the most promising applicants. Van Koepping is another good prospect whose work will bear watching.

The first week of practice has been devoted largely to hitting the dummy, going through fundamentals, and learning elementary plays. Running drills and manipulation of the ball, as well as a few simple formations, are being added to the daily program for the three outfits which have thus far been organized. The men are fast rounding into shape for light preliminary practice which, with weather conditions permitting, will be indulged in the latter part of this week.

DEAN WESTLAKE

Another milestone has been added to the life of the finest watch-making school in America, Horology Hall.

The past year has seen a great change come over the Horology Hall. New faces appear, old ones go. The once half-empty building is filled to overflowing. Even during the summer months, the months of the vacationist, the building has been working to capacity.

In great measure this has been due to the influx of the Federal Board students, nearly all of whom take the full course offered. Half the present enrollment is students taking training under the Federal Board of Vocational Education.

The majority of the students are older men than was the case of years ago, but like those who have gone before, their purpose and their application to their studies gives one faith that this world shall not suffer for these men having taken their places in its life.

Even now new benches are being added to accommodate those who shall arrive with the coming of fall. Hearsay has it that many attending another school are not satisfied and are preparing to come to the finest school of them all.

This year, as ever, Horology Hall counts its students not only from Peoria or Illinois, but from all the states and foreign countries. Even now dusky maids from Mexico are studiously learning to carve symetric letters and designs in the Engraving Department.

Horological work was never made for weaklings. It means study and study, but Mr. Westlake, the dean, does his best to make each individual part of the course perfectly plain, and he succeeds remarkably well.

Horology Hall is a success among successes, and more than any other part of Bradley is the result of one man's brains and determination. We can well be proud of Dean Westlake.

FORGET IT!

A newcomer appearing on our campus would undoubtedly remark upon the varied hues in sweaters worn by the men of B. P. I.

And on the accumulation of these coats of "many hues and colors" he would find enough letters to spell a Russian monosyllable.

This unfortunate condition is met with in a mysterious and efficient manner in larger colleges and universities. The freshman appears but once upon the campus clad in his wild sweater, emblazoned with its huge "W", blazingly symbolic of the Whoozie High School from which the wearer emigrated.

The day after his original appearance the frosh is seen in the colors of his university, and is soon hard at work in an honest endeavor to earn a letter to place upon his new sweater.

Let this symbol sink deep into the brains of Bradley students: RED AND WHITE! RED AND WHITE! Discard that purple and orange affair, with the green "Q" glaring forth—be a Bradleyite. Get a RED AND WHITE sweater. When inhabitants of this town see you, they'll remark "He's a Bradley man."

And when you discard the high school rags, discard the high school spirit. We're growing up. The college idea briefly is: PUSH FOR THE COLLEGE AT ALL TIMES!—'22 TECH.

The annual mixer, held in the gym last Friday evening, proved a great success. The students were received by the faculty after which the girls were welcomed in a speech from Miss Hadley of the Home Economics department. Then, Mr. Schroeder greeted the boys. The President of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Beimfohr, outlined the work that the Association hopes to accomplish during the year. Miss Lila Shaad, vice president of the Y. W. C. A., reviewed some of the past work and good times of the organization and told of their plans for this year. After the speeches Dr. Wyckoff led in the singing of some of the Bradley songs and Arnold Hitchock in the yells. Games were played followed by refreshments. Much of the success of the evening was due to Dorothy Starbuck and her committee. The artistic decorations in white and red were carried out by a committee of which Frances Wood was the chairman.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The number of students enrolled at the conservatory far excels the enrollment of last year, when the conservatory was a new department of the school. Although several teachers are on leave of absence, others have taken their place and still others have been added to the faculty. Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead will be at the head of the voice department and Mr. Eldon Murray head of the violin department. The new teachers added are Mrs. Kate Sherwood, Morton and the Misses Mary Armstrong and Mary Thompson. They will assist in the piano department.

* * *

Among those to study in New York this winter are: Mrs. Mabel Riggs Stead, Miss Elizabeth Meek and Miss Beula Collinson. Mrs. Stead will study with the distinguished artist Lhevinne.

* * *

This summer Mr. and Mrs. Stead spent July in Chicago where they studied with Schmidt. In August they enjoyed the out of doors—fishing, boating and swimming at their summer cottage, Miltona Club, Alexandria, Minnesota.

* * *

Mr. Kenneth Stead and Mr. Eldon Murray will give a joint recital in Bradley Hall Monday night, Sept. 25, at 8:15 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring his friends to hear the first recital of these two musicians. They will be accompanied by the Misses Adelaide White and Mary Frances Thompson.

* * *

Other students to study in Chicago were: Miss Adelaide Janssen, who studied with Schmidt, and Miss Mae Ulrich who studied the violin with Sametini.

* * *

Mrs. Chaffee spent a week at Ravina Park enjoying opera, and later drove to Kentucky, where her old home is located.

* * *

Miss Naomi Lagron spent a very enjoyable vacation in Minnesota.

* * *

Mrs. Chaffee spent a week at Ravina Park enjoying opera, and later drove to Kentucky, where her old home is located.

* * *

Miss Adelaide White rested with relatives in Montevideo, Minn. While at Montevideo she gave several musical programs before large audiences.

* * *

Mr. Murray spent his vacation at his old home in New Philadelphia, Ohio.

* * *

This Friday night, in the Conservatory building at 8 P. M., a party will be given by the Social Club to all students studying at the Conservatory. Everyone is cordially invited and special invitations are given to all new students.

Ivan Grigsby, who was President of his class while at Bradley, is hard at work in the Public Schools at Indianapolis. Mr. Grigsby was engaged in Indianapolis when he decided to get his degree at Bradley, so it was only natural that he should return there.

* * *

Thoda Wallace is on placement training with Kinsey and Mahler of Peoria.

* * *

Basil Moses, a federal board man, is reported to be in Chicago where he is doing work in a laboratory of a Chemical Plant.

* * *

It was reported that Clarence Fritchle was doing drafting work in Washington, D. C. We find this report to be erronous. The last word from Fritchle indicates that he is in placement training in Moline, Illinois.

* * *

Lowell Lashbrook, our ranchman friend from Montana, was last seen on his way to Arizona. It is said that Lashbrook went there to teach, but those who know him feel assured that some ranch or Rattlesnake Farm will acquire his services before a public school does.

New men who have registered under Federal Board colors are: Walter Reeves, Litchfield, Illinois, Woodworking; Charlie Surrells, Robinson, Ill., Electricity; Herbert Sayler, Alexander, Ill., Electricity; George Underwood, Peoria, Ill., Electricity; Novel Branscome, Peoria, Ill., Mechanical Drafting.

* * *

"Shorty" Dene, an old student at Bradley, has returned for further work after a period of placement training at the Keystone Company.

* * *

The rush of registration being over, it is found that practically the same number of men are back in the Manual Arts Department as last year. The Teacher Trafining Division shows a slight increase. So far seven men have registered in this department who expect their degree in June. If this number is increased in the last semester as it was last year, this department will have a larger proportion of the graduates than it did last June.

Mr. Woelfle, instructor of freehand drawing, reports that new classes will be organized to take care of advanced students. A class in advanced Painting is being organized, while other classes are being planned for the future. This work is popular with students from all departments of the Institute.

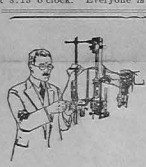
Harry Bennett and Carson Main, prominent federal board men, have been transfered to the University of Illinois. Carson Main has done some very creditable work in architecture during his stay at Bradley.



Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

STEM-WINDERS WEEKLY

Watch Our Dust.

During the past three months when all other departments of Bradley were away on their vacations, Horology has been working as usual. We had much rather have been away on our vacation, but nevertheless we had a HOT (?) time, and enjoyed talking about the weather, and discussing the prospects for an early fall (of the mercury).

Now that the other departments are with us again and the weather is more comfortable, we are going to take a renewed interest in our work and student activities. We mean to show some speed during the coming school year, so "please excuse our dust."

Mr. Paul Blackmond, Dowagiac, Mich., Mr. E. L. Weatherly, Chattanooga, Tenn., are among the latest entrants in C Room.

* * *

Mr. Leo Lahonville, who has spent the summer at his home in Onaway, Mich., is back again.

* * *

Mr. John Jones has returned from a two months' vacation at his home in Carmi, Ill.

Two hundred and ten pounds of avoirdupois arrived on the scene last week in the form of Igon Hodges from Dayton, Tenn. Although he won't admit it we have proof the girls in Dayton shave twice a week. We don't believe it but he tells us the girls in Dayton think he is cute for his size.

Mr. Oswald wishes Mr. Ficktson wouldn't have the insurance agents "come around" to see him on Saturday afternoon. At least one of the tribe come to see him last Saturday P. M. and was somewhat "Het up" when told that he was never there on Saturday afternoons.

As Shakespeare didn't say: Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and they laugh at you.

Many changes and improvements have been made in the filing department during the summer months, and a great deal of new equipment installed. Contrary to former times all new students now start in this department or jewelery in preference to engraving.

The enrollment for this department exceeds that for any year previous, approximately twenty-five students having enrolled for this work alone during the past week, among whom are the following:

Albert Gay, Peoria, Ill.
Ilunel Langston, Peoria, Ill.
Hymen Marcus, Frankfort, Ky.
Elmer Olthoff, Alton, Ill.
Armas Mackie, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.
Wilton Thompson, Estherville, Ia.
M. A. Spiker, Chicago, Ill.

FUTURE ON BRADLEY'S NINETEEN-TWENTY-TWO GRIDIRON CONTESTS

BRADLEY TEAM TO FACE STRONG LOMBARD, AUGUSTANA, ST. VIATORS, LAKE FOREST TEAMS

Wesleyan and Eureka Games to Draw Great Crowd on Account of Intense Rivalry.

By Al Fuller, Former Tech Reporter.

Bradley students and football fans will have the chance to see some of the best eleven in the mid-west in action on the Bradley field this fall.

Coach Robertson has lined up the hardest schedule of any team in the state, with ten games listed on the chart. Besides doing this he has managed to bring five of the great games to the local gridiron.

Lombard First Hard Game.

After the timekeeper's whistly brings the Lincoln-Bradley game to a close on the afternoon of September 30, the Bradley team will have only one short week to prepare for the toughest battle on the season's chart, the Lombard game.

If Coach Robertson is able to develop a defense that will stop the "Golden Tornado" of Lamb, Swanson, King and Turner he will attain the great goal of every Bradley coach, to beat Lombard on their own field.

Only twice in the athletic history of the two schools has Bradley been able to defeat Lombard on the gridiron. Both of those memorable games were fought on the local field. Lombard went through last year's football season without a defeat, only two teams being able to score on the green and gold eleven. Bradley students will long remember the 58-0 drubbing that the Universalists gave the Indians last season.

For the first time in the history of the two schools Bradley will entertain the St. Viator's eleven on the Bradley field. The up-state team will be in great shape as Coach Crangle lost only two men from last season's conference eleven.

Any game between the Catholic school and Bradley would be a big drawing card, and when the fact is disclosed that St. Viator's has never defeated Bradley in any sport on the local grounds, great interest is added to the coming conflict.

Illinois College Will Fight.

When the Bradley warriors trot out on the Harmon field at Jacksonville on October 21, they will have no easy proposition on their hands. Illinois College will bring under consideration that 20-0 defeat that they received here last fall. Bradley completely upset the dope bucket of every sport writer in the state when they swept the Harmon tribe off their feet for a great Bradley victory.

Wesleyan Battle Climax.

Then comes the annual gridiron classic, the Bradley-Wesleyan scrap. The game that brings out all the peak up rivalry of sixteen long years of athletic struggle between the two schools. The game that the coach, the team, and the school look forward to with great determination and fight. Bradley must win this game, she may lose all others, but "Beat Wesleyan" and the season is a success.

Never has Wesleyan defeated Bradley on the hill-top battle grounds of the "Fighting Indians." Twice Bradley has crossed the Wesleyan line for victories on the famous Wilder Field. In the sixteen years of Bradley-Wesleyan games Bradley has managed to annex eleven of the twenty-one games. Since the coming of Coach Robertson to Bradley, Wesleyan has had to be content with one track meet and one basketball game as their share of Bradley scalps.

Coach Wimberly has a great squad of men from which to pick his widely advertised "world beater" eleven. Lead by the famous Zinser-Hausler combination the "Grey Cyclone" will invade Bradley field on November 4 and try to avenge Bradley's historic victory of last year. This game is the climax of the season's schedule.

Augustana Hard Battle.

The "Fighting Indians" will then invade Rock Island to play the "terrible Swedes" on their home grounds. This battle is always uncertain until the final whistle, and Bradley will meet a tough proposition in the yellow and blue team this year as they will be SET to avenge their 13-0 defeat here last home-coming day.

Lake Forest New Here.

The next game on the Bradley schedule will introduce to local fans a new eleven to the Bradley field. Lake Forest comes to Bradley to open athletic relations between the two schools. Little is known of the northern team, but they are expected to give the Indians a good run.

Carthage Here Again.

On November 25 Bradley will meet the Carthage men in what is purely a grudge fight. Last year the down-state team came here and took Captain Meinen's varsity eleven for a 14-7 victory. The loss of this game is attributed to over-confidence Bradley will enter the fray ready to fight and the fans will see the Robertson machine at its best form on that date.

Eureka on Turkey Day.

For the first time in the history of the school a Bradley team will take the field on Turkey day. This year Bradley will close the season on the home lot with the annual Eureka scrap.

Last year the "Fighting Indians" outfought, outplayed, and defeated the McKenzie tribe in a thrilling 3-0 game on Thanksgiving day. This was the first time that a Bradley team had ever played on the Feast Day. Faculty permission was granted last year and fans will see Bradley play on their home lot every Turkey Day for years to come.

The Bradley-Eureka scrap will be a thriller from start to finish. Coach McKenzie has 17 veterans returning, and a large squad of rookies is laboring nightly on the well known "hill side" field.

A glance at the above list of Bradley games for this fall will assure anyone that there will be some thrilling moments of the local gridiron during the coming season. Coaches Robertson and Johnson are working hard with the material at hand and expect to have a man killing team ready to take to Galesburg when they meet the Golden Tornado of Coach Schissler.

THE CO-ED

School and fall weather are here again and we're all glad to be back. Or at least most of us are. Only a few have been heard to remark that they were having such a good time up North or elsewhere that they hated to return to studies. Personally the writer would rather study Latin, or English any day than plunge in a cool lake or sleep 'til noon. But the call of learning is insistant.

With more girls registered than ever before it's up to us to put our activities over in better style than ever. For instance there are girl's athletics. Miss Ewald, our new gym teacher is going to issue calls for hockey teams soon. Every girl is to consider herself personally invited to 'come out' for the teams.

Then there is the Y. W. This organization tries in every way to make new and old girls feel at home with each other. So, girls, whenever you have a chance, pull hard for the blue and white triangle!

The newest fashion in blouses for Autumn and Winter is the Mafalasse Jacquette Blouse, serving as a blouse, as a jacket and with a pleated or draped skirt. A charming frock. Exceedingly smart are these new blouses for College wear coming in brown, navy, black and many of the high shades.

* * *

When it comes to supporting your clubs don't forget the out-of-town girl's self-government organization. It accomplishes more business than any of the others.

* * *

The girls are very glad to welcome Mrs. Houston (formerly Mrs. Blossom) back to Bradley in her old position as dean of women. Mrs. Houston left Bradley four years ago to take up housewifely duties, but due to the death of her husband more than a year ago she has returned to Bradley. The B. P. I. girls extend her a very hearty welcome.

* * *

In a short time hockey will be started. Hockey is an out-door game, very exciting, and easy to learn. As only a few of last year's girls are back, the freshmen have an exceptional chance for making teams and thereby earning points for numerals and letters.

* * *

Paris is again wearing short skirts. Let's keep in style.

INTRAMURAL SPORT PROGRAM BEING DRAWN BY ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Intramural sports will be conducted on a large scale at Bradley throughout the school year. Assistant Athletic Director Leo Johnson is working diligently on the program for all activities, and he plans to have every student participate in one or more lines of athletics.

The fall sport card will consist of tennis, speed ball, cross country running, baseball, and soccer. In all these diversions teams will be chosen from among the various departments of the school as well as from among the social organizations. The contests will be staged along the lines of the major sports.

For the winter a wide variety of intramural activities are in order. basketball, indoor-baseball, indoor track, and volley ball will keep up the interest of those who wish to engage in these branches of athletics; and for the water nymphs Johnson will soon have worked out an interesting program.

Reproduced below is a registration blank, to which the heads of the athletic department wish to call the students' attention. This form is to enable them to afford each individual an opportunity to engage in the branch of sport which makes its appeal to him. Within the near future every Bradley man will be given one of these blanks to fill out.

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1922 — NUMBER 3

NEW IDEA IN VOCATIONAL TRAINING TO BE WORKED OUT AT BRADLEY

FOOTBALL TEAM BEING RAPIDLY SHAPED INTO FORM FOR LINCOLN

RETURN OF MEINEN HELPS COACH FILL BIG HOLE AT TACKLE.

Lincoln Comes With Eleven Letter men to Battle Techmen Saturday.

The early scrimmages, in preparation for the opening game of an elaborate schedule, are progressing nicely and with each session Coach Robertson and his assistant, Joe Johnson, take on new hope. Their becoming more optimistic is to be attributed to the brilliant performances of recruit backfield and linemen candidates.

That "Dutch" Meinen's return to the Tech camp has lifted from the coach's shoulders no small pack of worries, is unquestionable. For three years "Dutch" has been a star member of the Bradley eleven, and his early season form warrants a prediction that he will again receive distinction as an all-state tackle.

The first line of defense now looks to be the strongest in Bradley's history. At center is Siminski, whose work in the line last year makes him indispensible both on offense and defense. On either side of him Robertson will undoubtedly use Zierten and Koeppins. The tackle positions are certainly to be filled by Meinen and Barrett. Barrett is a tower of strength on the right side of the line.

Rogers Shows Class at End.

A merry strife is on among the end candidates, and as a consequence the choice presents to Robertson a puzzling situation. Of the lot, those who look best at present are Rogers, Allen, Purlee, Johnson and Knight. The only one to feel reasonably certain of his job is Rogers. He was a star on the team representing Bradley three years ago; and at each practice session he displays his old time ability at snaring passes, running down punts, and breaking up end runs.

Howell Joins Squad.

Among the backfield reserves there is a number of good prospects, and each evening's scrimmage indicates that this year's offensive department will be composed of fleet open-field runners. Although the regular backfield duties will rest with Fredrich, Gross, Correll, and Captain Babcock, Robertson is pleased with the showing made by several of the second string backs. The recruits attracting attention are: Kuykendal of Cair, Illinois; Hindle, Manual fullback ace; Knight of Waverly, and Howell of Toluca. Before many weeks Howell should develop into a first class halfback, for he possesses great speed and is rapidly acquiring the knack of picking holes. He and Knight are recent additions to the squad.

Lincoln Foe Here Saturday.

For the first game of the 1922 season Lincoln College is the attraction. Although Robertson's men had no difficulty downing the purple and white crew last year, expectations are that the visitor's will allow no such recurrence. Coach Robb, Lincoln College mentor, boasts of the return of no less than eleven letter men and a batch of highly praised high school stars. This game will enable Coach Robertson to formulate some definite ideas about a number of willing youngsters who are fighting for permanent jobs on the eleven.

PROVIDE NIGHT SCHOOL COURSE IN RADIO

One of the courses to be given at night school when it opens on October 9th will be the study of the radio phone. Mr. E. G. Shalkhauser will have charge of the work and will teach the theory and practice of the radiophone.

Bradley has one of the largest receiving and sending stations in the country. The practical use of the radio is now being admitted and this is largely the reason for the demand that a night course be given for the benefit of those who are interested in this form of communication.

RECORD ENROLLMENT EXPECTED AT OPENING OF NIGHT CLASSES

MANY SUBJECTS AND CLASSES ON THE NIGHT SCHOOL CURRICULUM.

Term to Run Twenty-four Weeks —Full College Credits Given.

Evening classes at Bradley will open October 3. They will be under the direction of Dean Siepert and will meet twice a week on Tuesday's and Thursday's. The hours will be the same as those used before, the classes starting at 7:30 and continuing until 9. The term of classes is twenty-four weeks in length, continuing until April.

A new plan will be followed in the giving of the evening classes this year. In addition to the drafting and shop work classes formerly given there will be a greater number of academic subjects offered this year than ever before. Among these are the courses given by the Business department which include accounting and business correspondence. Courses in sociology and psychology will also be given.

Although these courses are being given primarily for the benefit of those who wish to use the knowledge in their immediate business an attempt will be made to give college credit for all work successfully carried.

There is a possibility of the addition of more subjects and classes to the night school curriculum. In regard to this Dean Siepert says, "We will give any course for which there is a sufficient demand."

From advance reports it is expected that the enrollment will be larger than ever before. This is due largely to the increase in the number of subjects given. Enrollment figures for the past have been high often reaching the thousand mark.

MISS QUINN DRAWS UP RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR USE OF LIBRARY

FINE OF TEN CENTS FOR EVERY HOUR BOOKS ARE OVERDRAWN

On account of the difficulties which many of the students have in securing books from the library due to their lack of knowledge of the rules and regulations, Miss Quinn, the librarian, has drawn up a set of rules which will enable the student to use the library correctly and eliminate many of the difficulties and secure books without causing undue delay to other students.

Instructors have the privileges of reserving special collections of books for the use of certain classes. These books are withdrawn from general circulation and kept on special shelves. They are known as reserve books and are loaned from the library only after 4:00 in the afternoon and must be returned before 9 the next morning. If not returned promptly a fine of ten cents for every library hour is charged. The reserve books are kept behind the reference desk in the reading room. The following regulations govern the use of these books.

1. Books should be called for by author and title.
2. Only one book at a time may be borowed.
3. Each book has a special charging slip on which barrower must sign his name before receiving the book.
4. Every book must be returned to the reference desk as soon as the user is through with it, who must see that he is given credit for its return.
5. Students may make advance reservations during the day for books for home study.
6. Reserve books are not to be taken from the library without special permission.
7. Books usually may be taken out for the night or over Sunday after 4:00 but must be returned before 9:00 the following morning.
8. No books or magazines may be taken from the library without having it charged at the reference desk in the library.

STUDENTS USE CHAPEL PERIOD TO EXPLAIN SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

NATURE AND PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATIONS IS SHOWN BY MEMBERS.

Various School Activities Plan to Make Year a Successful One.

Chapel period Monday noon was given over entirely to the student activities of the school. The purpose was to acquaint the new members with the different clubs and organizations which go to make up the college. Short talks were given by members of the organizations explaining the nature and the purpose of the organizations.

The first speaker was George Johnson, a former member of the Student Council who told of the importance of the Council as the student governing body.

Charles Mee spoke for the Dramatic Club telling of its work of last year ending with the presentation of the Midsummer Night's Dream and giving a few of the plans for the coming year.

Gertrude Mayer representing the English Club told of its work and of the nature of the club itself.

The Commerce Club was represented by Burt Powell who gave a brief outline of the work which the Club expected to do in the coming year.

Grace Jamison spoke on the French Club telling of the requirements of the members and of the purpose of the club.

Ted Voorhees representing the Arts and Crafts Club summarized the activities of this organization and told of the plans for its future.

Mrs Ina Gaul spoke on the P. D. Club explaining its meaning and purpose and telling of its membership.

The Polyscope, Bradley's year book was represented by Robert Powers the Business Manager for the coming year. He briefly outlined the plans of the Polyscope management to make this year's annual larger than ever.

J. Edward Davis, Business Manager of THE TECH was the last speaker for the student activities. He delivered a short but humorous talk urging the co-operation of the students in the support of THE TECH.

Several other clubs and organizations were not represented in the talks given. It is probable that they will be given a chance to be represented later.

MR. KENNETH STEAD GOES ABROAD FOR SUMMER

Studies Under Old Teacher Maestro Taura—Meets Puccinni and Toscanini.

Mr. Kenneth Stead has just returned from a wonderful trip thru France, Switzerland and Italy. Landing at Cherbourg, he spent ten days in Paris, where he saw Notre Dame, the Louvre, and other historical points of interest. After spending the Fourth of July in Milan, he went to Viareggio, an aristocratic summer resort on the Mediterranean, south of Genoa. Here he studied with Maestro Taura, his old teacher, with whom he had studied in New York in 1918 and 1919. He met the noted composer Puccinni, and the noted conductor at La Scala, Toscanini. Mr. Stead visited the art galleries at Florence and Venice, the cathedral at Milan, the finest in the world, the leaning tower of Pisa and Ballombrosa, three thousand feet above sea level and surrounded by pine forests and ragged snow-capped mountains. His whole trip was one of interest and one which he enjoyed very much.

TREATISE ON PRECIOUS STONES FIRST OF SERIES OF ARTICLES

HOROLOGICAL WORK TO FURNISH SKETCHES FOR PUBLICATION.

By R. Grayson Raisch.

Precious stones are those which because of their beauty, hardness and variety, are prized for use in ornamentation, especially in jewelry. The diamond, ruby, sapphire and emerald are the only stones which are, strictly speaking, entitled to be called "precious" in this sense; but the opal on account of its beauty, is often classed with the precious stones, likewise, the pearl, which is really not a stone, but a secretion of a shellfish.

Sapphire.

The sapphire is the stone of September. Like the ruby it is corundum, and the name sapphire is generally applied to corundum of any color excepting the red. More especially, the name is applied to blue specimens, the desired tints being royal blue, velvet blue and cornflower blue. Dealers call the blue corundums "Oriental sapphires." It is one of the most ancient of stones and its names differ but slightly in the ancient languages, Chaldean, Hebrew, Greek and Latin from which the English word is derived. The colors of sapphire range from white, colorless, or so-called "Leuco sapphire," through the yellow call "Oriental topaz," and through various tints to the royal blue of the typical gem sapphire. As the name of a gem the term is restricted to the transparent varieties of blue, pink and yellow colors. The best blue variety are nearly as valuable as the diamond. The sapphire is next to a diamond in hardness. Sometimes sapphires show different colors at their terminations; for example, one cannon from colored sapphire is cut into a figure of the Chinese sage, Confucius; the head is colorless, the body pale blue, and the legs yellow. Asterias or star sapphires present the same six-rayed gleams of light that are sometimes manifested by the ruby, yet they being more common than rubies are less valuable. Both are found in about the same mineral situations, the sapphire predominating in some localities as rubies do in others. They are more abundant than rubies in Siam. They are found in Ceylon, in the northwest Himalaya mountains, in the gravel beds of Australia, and in North Carolina and Montana in the United States. The mines at Bo Pie Rin, in Siam, yield five-eights of the world supply. There they are found in a light sandy clay within two feet of the surface. The "mines" are small rough pits, the clay is washed away and the sapphire is picked out of the residue. In America they are found at Cowee Creek in Macon County, North Carolina, where the fine crystals appear in dunite and olivine-rock. The sapphires of Montana are found in gravel in the Missouri River bed near Helena. Sapphires of the finest quality have been found at the source of the Iser River in Bohemia, in Europe, but they seldom exceed four carats in weight. At the present time a great many blue sapphires cut in square, triangular, diamond and oval shapes are being used along with diamonds in the manufacturing of high-grade platinum and white gold jewelry, making a very beautiful combination.

COLLEGE UNITES WITH PEORIA CONTRACTORS TO PROVIDE NEW COURSE IN SHEET METAL WORK

WILL PROVIDE THOROUGH TRAINING ENABLING STUDENT TO DO PRACTICAL WORK IN INDUSTRIAL PLANT—NINE MONTHS COURSE OFFERED.

Entire Day Must be Spent on Course to Receive Full Credit—Same Instructor to Teach Sheet Metal Work and Allied Subjects—Leading Trade Journals Advertise Work.

By ALFRED HEATH.

Announcement was made a few days ago that a trade course in sheet metal work was to be offered at Bradley. This marks the inauguration of a new idea in vocational work at Bradley Institute.

The work as it will be offered is the result of an idea conceived by the Peoria Sheet Metal Contractors Association. The Association is responsible both for the originality of the plan and for the financial backing. Bradley is guaranteed financial success for the first year by the Sheet Metal Contractors Association. That the plan will meet with favor financially and otherwise is assured by the manner in which the whole project is being handled.

Announcement has been made to the leading trade journals over the country of the proposed course. The "Sheet Metal Worker" and the "American Artisan and Hardware Record" have both carried articles advertising the new work.

The student in the work must devote his whole time to this course according to present plans. He will, however, receive training in allied subjects such as drafting and shop mathematics. All sheet metal work as well as the allied subjects will be taught to the student by the same teacher. No student will be allowed to take a few hours work in the course—he must spend his entire day for a full nine months to receive credit for the work. This feature is one that assured a trade course—thorough training in one line of work that equips the student to do practical work in an industrial plant.

Information has been received to the effect that the present Auto Engine laboratory will be moved from the Automobile building into the Tractor building. The space thus vacated in the Automobile building will provide a shop for the new line of work. The new shop is to be fully equipped in every respect. Practical machinery will be installed as is the case of all the Bradley shops.

Announcement will be made later as to who will be the new faculty member to take charge of this work. The Association responsible for this work insist that the teacher be a practical man with a wealth of practical experience as well as ability to teach. The co-operation of Bradley and the Association in such work ought to assure a great result. The idea is one of the latest along vocational lines. Bradley, as usual, is quick to take advantage of anything that will offer better results for its students.

Announcement will also be made later in regard to a course to be given at Night School for this line of work.

TUCKER AND CONREY TO STAGE MATCH ON AUGUSTANA COURT

BRADLEY STAR WILL ATTEMPT TO EVEN UP FOR PREVIOUS DEFEATS.

May Arrange for Return Match at Bradley on Armistice Day.

An invitation to play a match game of tennis with Kenneth Conrey has been extended to Harold Tucker, and on the morning of October 21 the two keen rivals will meet on the Augustana courts. Those who follow the sport will recall that Tucker and Conrey have always staged spectacular matches, and the one planned for the above date promises to be no exception.

At the District Tennis Tournament held here during the fore part of August, Tucker and Conrey fought their way through to the finals. Three straight sets, the scores of which were 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, went to the Auggie star. In the Central States Tournament Conrey again eliminated Tucker and thereby added another trophy to his collection.

Tucker will therefore journey to Rock Island determined to upset his adversary. A return match may be arranged to be played on the Bradley courts on Armistice Day.

ATTEMPT BEING MADE TO SECURE LINDSAY FOR BRADLEY STAGE

STUDENT BODY MAY HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR ILLINOIS POET.

Appeared Before Bradley Students Eight Years Ago—Has Unique Presentation.

Arrangements are being made that will probably result in the appearance of Mr. Vachal Lindsay, the famous poet on a Bradley stage in the near future possibly the 16th of October.

It is through Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, a cousin of Mr. Lindsay, that these arrangements will probably be carried out. Mrs. Chaffee is an instructor in the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Lindsay has been secured by the Choir of the Central Church to give readings from his own poems the evening of Monday, October 16th. His coming will be one of the biggest events in Peoria this fall. This appearance of the famous poet is a part of his two year's tour in America and will be his only appearance in Peoria for that period of time.

Mr. Lindsay is an Illinois poet of international fame who is not only noted for his gifts of prose and poetry but also for his unique manner in presenting a program.

Mr. Lindsay appeared once on a Bradley stage eight years ago. Since that time he has recited in the universities and colleges of 44 states and has also appeared before students of foreign countries including the students of Oxford, England.

Bradley students may hear him in a program of request poems if they help work out a plan presented by his management which will be presented later.

ELECT ROBERT MURRAY PRESIDENT OF SENIORS

Other Officers Are Ina Gaul, Margaret Cation and Ruth Whalen.

Members of the senior class held a meeting Monday noon in the Chemistry lecture room for the purpose of electing officers. Nearly all the seniors were present and a large vote was cast. Little competition was shown in either the nominations or the election. The officers elected were:

Robert Murray—President.
Ina Gaul—Vice-president.
Margaret Cation—Secretary.
Ruth Whalen—Treasurer.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1922.

TRADITIONS

In the twenty-six years of Bradley's existence there has been a decisive lack of traditions. Except in athletic events little or no school spirit has been displayed by Bradley students. They have come and gone getting as much from the school as possible and leaving as little. Short bursts of enthusiasm have cropped out only to die away in a few days leaving nothing permanent.

We hear of freshmen of other schools being forced to obey certain traditions and we think of Bradley freshmen with no traditions to obey. We hear of other freshmen wearing the conventional green caps as a reminder of their position and we think of the member of last year's freshman class who succeeded in selling a dozen caps to a class of two hundred students. We also think of the upper classmen who drew a set of rules for making tradition among the undergraduate body but were forced to discontinue them for lack of support.

One of the largest parts of college life is the college spirit. Traditions are the result of college spirit. New students all have the secret longings for a "hazing" and consider themselves as having missed part of their college education when they are allowed to go along smoothly without restrictions from upper classmen. Leaving college they take with them no memories of class fights, rushes or even a vital interest in the activities of their Alma Mater.

It is never too late to begin; Bradley is young yet. Some time the student body is going to start making traditions that will be part of the college and will last as long as the college. When this happens it will mean the beginning of a new era for Bradley.

"ONLY A HOROLOG"

One of the most loyal groups of students in Bradley and yet one of the most misunderstood is the Horologs. They are composed largely of World War veterans who are taking up the study of jewelery so that they might adapt themselves to the changed conditions under which they will find themselves in the world of business. Among their numbers are found men who were successful in business before giving it up to enter the service of their country, men who have received citations and have been acclaimed the bravest of the brave by leading military heads of both Europe and America, and men who have attended and been graduated from the leading universities of the country.

Many of these men are only here for a short time. Others do not know how long they will continue to be Bradley students and cannot lay plans to make Bradley a home for the time at least. Yet in the face of this and in view of the fact that they are hardly considered as Bradley students by a small part of the student body they continue to give their loyal support to Bradley activities. The school publications, the TECH and the POLYSCOPE of this year and past years would not have been possible without the co-operation of the Horologs. Horology has made notable contributions to the athletic teams of the past as well as giving its support to the games. The name of Horology Hall is known over the country as symbolizing one of the greatest, if not the greatest horology schools in the United States. Yet there are a few so-called students of Bradley—and we pride ourselves on having only a few such—who have referred to members of this part of the Institute as being "only a Horolog."

GETTING ACQUAINTED

After passing thru the turmoil of getting registered and settled for the year the next thought of the student should be that of getting acquainted. Too often the year passes before the student realizes that his friends or even his acquaintances are composed of a comparatively small part of the entire student body. Students and instructors of a college the size of Bradley should be as one large family—idealistic it is true yet at the same time practical.

It should be for the older students to cultivate the acquaintance of the newly arrived members. Those who have been here in former years as well as those who have been doing summer work here should all combine in making the new student a part of the school itself. The process of acclimation and assimilation is a slow one indeed if the uninitiated are left to enact the transformation themselves.

The co-ed has been the object of much study and we take this opportunity to give a brief survey of it.

There are four types of co-eds. The first, commonly called "dig" to distinguish her from her sisters, is comparatively rare. She is generally found in the library, and is easily known by tortoise shell glasses and by the pile of books she carries.

The gymnasium is the resort of the second type, the athletic co-ed. She infests the tennis courts and all games. Her badge is a tennis racquet or some other implement of the athlete.

The third kind has no name. She spends most of her time on the campus accompanied by men, and burdened with a huge vanity case.

The most common and least harmful of the co-ed family is a composite of all three types. She is that ideal girl that is Bradley's pride. We have many of them, and here's hoping the new freshmen girls are of this type.

* * *

The Girl's Athletic Association is one of the new organizations to which all Bradley girls can belong. The membership fee is only $.50 but it makes a person eligible to any number of good times.

There has been a point system worked out by which girls may earn their own letters and numerals. At present the required number of points for a "B" is 500, for a numeral 200. These points may be earned by swimming, playing hockey, volley ball, basketball, baseball, tennis and by hiking. A perfect gym record also earns points.

The title of this essay is weather. Weather, like girls, is a subject which never becomes worn out as a conversational topic.

The wonderful Fall weather which we have been having the last week, gives us such a feeling that all's right with the world, that even twenty and forty page assignments in English and Sociology cannot dispel it.

It is the weather for weiner roasts and steak frys in some woodsy hilltop or sandy shore. What could be more enjoyable than a long walk into the country in the company of a dozen or so congenial and happy girls?

Soon the leaves will be turning. Then the Illinois valley will be one mass of gorgeous colors. The Heights tower, although rather shaky, is worth climbing to see the wonderful picture made by the river and surrounding fields and wooded hills.

Fashion Note

Fashion—who is eternally and perennially young—has made the new frocks and outer garments a very song of youth! They are ready at the B. & M.—the neatest of gowns, the slimmest of suits, the softest of coats.

The following was received by a student of Bradley from a former student of his down in Austin, Texas:

To Miss Flapper

Blessings on thee, little dame—
Barebacked girl with knees the same.
With thy rolled down silken hose
And thy short, transparent clothes;
With thy red lips, reddened more,
Smeared with lipstick from the store;
With thy makeup on thy face,
And thy bobbed hair's jaunty grace;
From my heart I give thee joy—
Glad that I was born a boy.

No wonder that Capper's Weekly awarded a prize to the writer! This is only one of the things they are taught down in Texas according to the boy's former teacher.

SOCIETY

You, as out-of-town girls, certainly missed a lot if you did not attend the P. D. Lantern Parade. Saturday evening there was a real get-together and get acquainted party of out-of-town girls at Social Hall in honor of the new "out-of-town girls."

The evening was started by a lantern parade led by Mrs. Burgess and Miss La Fevere. It was a pretty sight indeed, to see scores of girls join in the march about the campus. The parade was followed by games and last of all but not least were the eats and dancing.

There has been a lively program consisting of picnics, hikes, parties, dances and many other good times planned for this year. Surely the out-of-town girls will not miss the entertainments which have been planned so fully for them.

Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Students from the Teacher Training Division that have registered up to this time come from an area covering some thirteen states. Illinois of course, contributes the greater number. Indiana ranks second, while Minnesota comes third. Other states with representation are: California, Kentucky, Ohio, Texas, Florida, Kansas, Wisconsin, Missouri, Pennsylvania and Iowa. The fact that students come to Bradley for this work from such a scattered area indicates the real strength and worth of this branch of work.

* * *

While meandering thru the winding passages of the manual arts buildings in search for news one of the reporters discovered that another Prof. has fallen for the excitement offered on the waves of the old Illinois. Mr. Hewitt was found working on a motorboat. "Pop" Harmon is busily engaged in making the drawings for a 4 cylinder opposed engine that is to propel the child of Mr. Hewitt's efforts.

* * *

Which reminds us that Mr. Becker's two boats were victorious this summer. His small boat captured the usual honors it is supposed to capture. His new and larger boat the "Bradley Tech," was also a place winner in its races. We hope to see "our boats" win 'em all during the Regatta week next summer.

* * *

Friends have received letters from Max Shadiner, a former student in the Teacher Training division. Shad is teaching out in California. He reports the bungalow to be a "peach" and says the teaching position just hits the spot. His work consists of teaching furniture making on a factory basis. The products of his shop are sold to firms in Los Angeles. As everyone remembers Max said "I will" and promised to obey just before leaving Peoria last July.

* * *

Roy Pearson, formerly a student at Bradley, was a visitor last week. Pearson is with a Cleveland firm of architects in the serious business of making a living. His former aspirations were to be a teacher. He changed his mind, however, and decided to go to work.

* * *

The electrical students are rebuilding the test panel and installing a three panel switch board in the electrical laboratory. The motor generator control panel in the machine shop will also receive attention and then the distribution cabinet will be rebuilt.

The reporter reports that he ran into five tons of steel while looking for news the other day. Hard news, we'd call it! The steel is to be used in the shops at Bradley.

* * *

The ed. walked into a restaurant the other day and spied "Frenchy" Ortman. It seemed so much like old times that the ed. merely said "hello" and proceeded to the business in hand—when it came to him all at once that Ortman was a visitor and not a student and that it had been some time since he had been in Peoria. The ed. and "Frenchy" thereupon fell on each others necks and said a proper hello as friends ought to say. Frenchy was undecided as to his final destination but said he wouldn't be at Bradley this year.

* * *

W. G. Scott, Veterans Bureau coordinator for the past year and a half at Bradley, has been transfered to Detroit. The boys are all sorry to see Mr. Scott go as he has made a host of friends while here. Mr. Scott will be succeeded by Mr. Parkins at Bradley.

* * *

New Federal Board students this week are Charles N. Schipps from Fairmount, James A. Wyatt from Watseka, and James E. Finks from Peoria. Schipps is registered as a machinist while Finks and Wyatt are both in the electrical department.

* * *

Automobile dealers take notice: "Ole" Hanson announces that when he purchases an automobile it will be a good one. Ford might do a little business here!

Professional Notes

Fred Hanson and H. G. Snell of the drafting department are designing a centering attachment for the lathes of the machine shop. The old process of centering a piece of stock before placing it in the lathe will be eliminated for a quicker and surer method.

* * *

Lloyd K. Rosenberg has almost completed plans for an automatic coil winder to be used by the electrical department. This apparatus will be a great aid in winding coils that at present must be wound by hand.

* * *

Editor's Note: Professional notes are here for the benefit of those students in the various departments that may be interested in them. We excuse our use of technical terms on the ground that if the news printed interests those students it should be printed.

"I Hate Public Speaking."

I hate public speaking.

When we were in Grammar school, they called it reciting.

When we reached High school, it became elocution.

Now that we have successfully entered college, along comes the same stuf in a sugar coating—Public Speaking.

The first assignment called for the delivery of a memorized public speech. Being somewhat of a Frosh, I proceed to learn mine by heart, and it was not long before I mastered it.

At class the next day, I was called upon to recite. I began, "If there is a struggle for existence," ... here my voice cracked. Somebody laughed. I decided to pull myself together and try again.

"If there is a struggle," ... this time I had forgotten it. Suddenly the room became unbearably hot. I gasped for breath. I was dizzy and little spots appeared before my eyes. I resolved to make one final effort. "If there is a struggle," ..... the words wouldn't come. By this time the struggle had become a fight. The walls of the room wouldn't stay in their place. My knees became weak. I felt for the table, but somebody must have moved it while I was speaking. I saw only one hundred grinning faces stare at me,—suddenly the floor hurled itself in my direction and everything became black.

When I came to, I was in the hospital. The nurse was holding my head, I tried once more "If there is a struggle," ... "Never mind, darling," she said, "just close your eyes and go to sleep." I stayed in the hospital for about a week.

I don't mind nurses so much, but ... I hate Public Speaking.—Orange Peel.

MUSIC RECITAL GIVEN BY MR. ELDON MURRAY PROVES LARGE SUCCESS

Misses White and Thompson Serve as Accompanists for Program.

Many music lovers of Peoria attended the recital given by Mr. Eldon C. Murray, violinist, in Bradley Hall Monday evening.

Mr. Murray showed great skill in his interpretation of a number of musical offerings and made a pleasing impression on the people present.

Mr. Kenneth Marvin Steed, tenor, who was to have appeared on the program was prevented from doing so by illness.

Miss Adelaide Ihrig White and Miss Mary Frances Thompson, who served as accompanists to Mr. Murray, aided greatly in making the recital a success.

The program given was as follows:

Aria—"Il mio tesoro intanto" (Don Giovanni) .....Mozart
Concerto, D major.....Paganini
Aria—"O Paradise "L'Africaine.. .....Meyerbeer
Lament .....Eldon Murray
Time Enough .....Nevin
O! Men from the Fields...Treharne

SECRETARY HUGHES ON EDUCATION

The following excerpts from the address of Secretary of State Hughes read before the meeting of the National Education Association last summer indicate that Mr. Hughes is not, in his educational philosophy, in complete accord with modern education. His, however, is the kind of philosophy teachers hear in about eight cases out of ten from educated men outside of the teaching profession. It is altogether possible that modern education is too modern. Mr. Hughes said in part:

"When we consider the true object of education, to give the training which will enable one to make the most—that is the best—of oneself, we must realize that the foundation should be laid in a few studies of the highest value, in self-discipline, and that there should be supplied every incentive to attain that mental and spiritual culture which connates, not merely knowledge and skill, but character. This means self-denial, hard work, the inspiration of teachers, with vision, and an appreciation of the privileges and obligations of citizenship in democracy.

"In the elementary schools, it means that sort of training which insists, at whatever cost, on the mastery by the student of the subject before him, on accuracy—the lack of which, I regret to say, is now conspicuous in students of all grades—the correct use of our language, and the acquisition of that modicum of information which everybody should possess.

"In the secondary schools (our high schools and academies) it means that we should stop scattering. There is at present a bewildering and unsuccessful attempt at comprehensiveness. It fails of its purpose in giving neither adequate information nor discipline. It asks too much of the student, and too little. I believe that we need to have a few fundamental, substantial studies which are thoroughly mastered. I am one of those who believe in the classical and mathematical training, and I do not think that we have found any satisfactory substitute for it. But the important point is the insistence upon concentration and thoroughness. The function of the secondary school is not to teach everything but to really teach something, to lay the basis for the subsequent, and more definitely specialized, intellectual endeavor.

"I think, also, that we have done too much to encourage intellectual vagrancy in college. Of course there should be opportunity to select courses having in view definite scholastic aims, but we have gone so far that a 'college education' outside of technical schools, may mean little or nothing. It is a time for reconstruction and for the establishment of definite requirements by which there will be secured better mental discipline, more accurate information, and appropriate attention to the things of deepest value which make for the enrichment of the whole life of the student."

———B. P. I.———

DOES AN EDUCATION PAY?

"To go or not to go," is the question in the minds of many high school boys.

At this time of the year preplexed and distressed parents are urged by their sons to allow them to quit school and to go to work—to make money. Do these boys realize that the high school boy has many advantages over the grade school boy? That one of the first questions of the employer is, "Are you a high school graduate?"

The boys declare that an education does not pay. They say that studying English, history, algebra, and Latin will never help them to earn a dollar.

There are many standards of success. Unthinking people of the world are very prone to judge people by the money standard. The man who has succeeded in accumulating a great fortune is counted as a success. "All of show" that money can buy, the material things and comforts, has an appeal to many people. The possession of wealth does not mean that one cannot have an appreciation for the good, the beautiful, and the finer things of life, but we too often fail to use these things as standards for measuring success.

Unless the boy has a special talent for making money, he is almost certain to fail without a high school education. If the boys could realize that in the matter of money income alone, laying aside the pleasure, influences and power that comes with a thorough education, a man's earning power through life is so increased by every year of high school and college training that a high school year for the average boy represents nearly $3,000 of invested capital and a year at college for the average student over $5,000 they would be slow to leave the ranks of the great army of American students.

Elaborate and thorough investigations have been made in many parts of the United States to ascertain the earning capacity of the high school and college graduate over that of the man with only a grade school education. It is found that the high school graduate receives a salary more than double that of the boy who has not had this training. The boy who wants to quite school does not realize that every school day of the four year high school course is worth practically $26 to him in future earning capacity.

Statistics gathered by the Missouri College of Agriculture show that the educated farmer has an income 71.4 per cent greater than that of the untrained farmer. The college farmer has nearly $1,000 annual income than does his untrained neighbor.

At this adolescent age when the boy is restless and unsettled, much patience is necessary on the part of the teachers and parents to help him realize the advantage of an education.—The Student.

A PERENNIAL EDITORIAL

"The Midnight Hour," by a College Editor, Is Reprinted Each Year.

One of the most interesting examples of a college tradition which has grown of its own accord from a chance beginning is a yearly rite known to thousands of students, is that of Columbia University's famous editorial, "The Midnight Hour."

As the widely known, "There is a Santa Claus" editorial appears every Christmastide in one of New York's newspapers, so once a year in the Columbia Spectator this writing of an anonymous editor celebrates its anniversary in print. When it appears it is invariably the subject of campus comment, for it seems to have caught in some chance way the spirit of "college life," that vague title which is so often explained and so little understood.

It is not known how long ago it was written, and its authorship rests equally unknown. Some attribute it to John Kendrick Bangs, the late humorist and at one time the editor of Spectator. One rumor places the authorship at the door of Nicholas Murray Butler, another one-time editor of the college daily. No one is sure when it was first used, but it is a tradition in East hall, the oldest building on the Morningside campus and itself a stronghold of tradition.

The following are several paragraphs from the "Midnight Hour" editorial:

"Midnight sessions are among the most enjoyable experiences in college life. No classroom discussion can take the place of the friendly, rambling, soul-revealing sort of argument that most of us carry in our memories as the choicest part of our undergraduate days. Count not that time lost, which is stolen from studies and dull, profitable education, to drag discussion through interminable windings while the room is filled with the atmosphere of philosophy and the blue tobacco smoke, and the hands of the alarm clock, which is to ring at 7, slowly move around to 4 o'clock in the morning.

"That is the time when friendship is tested, when toleration and fair-mindedness are taxed to the limit, when Utopian schemes are advanced to reform religion, college politics or the social system. That is the time when generous or impracticable illusions have full sway, when man meets man without his deceiving mask of manner and custom, on a basis of complete acceptance and equality. That is the time when a man forgets that he has always considered it actually immodest to expose his own feelings and beliefs, and when he speaks the thoughts that are in his mind with full assurance of understanding. That is the time when the friends are made whom we mean to keep through life with us.

"Finally the conversation lags and dulls, and the host shows by nods and yawns that he is sleepy, and he opens the door to say "Good night" with a lack of politeness that, at any other time, would arouse resentment. One then takes his feet off the furniture and dumps the ashes from his pipe on the floor, departing to allow the cool night to blow away the tobacco smoke, and the host to snatch a few hours' sleep before daylight."—New York Times.

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1922 — NUMBER 4

OBSERVANCES TO PERPETUATE MEMORY OF MRS. BRADLEY TAKE PLACE MONDAY

FIGHTING INDIANS TO PLAY LOMBARD TRIBE SATURDAY, OCTORER 7

STRONG DEFENSE IS ONLY HOPE OF STOPPING GAINS OF SCHISSLER'S ELEVEN.

Performance of Correll in Lincoln Game Assures Him Berth on Regular Eleven.

With a comparatively easy win to his men's credit, Coach Robertson now faces the task of correcting the numerous faults that were manifest in the opening struggle against Lincoln. Before the meeting with Lombard at Galesburg next Friday, a few changes in the first string line-up may also be made.

The Lombard boosters are boldly acclaiming another championship eleven, for it will be recalled that last year the Universalists went through the season without a defeat. Practically the same line-up will again represent the green and gold.

Backfield Lacks Nothing.

"Robbie's chief difficulty is not with the backfield, for at halves he has a clever pair of speed merchants who can also hit the line, if necessary. Though he suffered a wrenched knee in the early part of Saturday's struggle, Gross was good for long gains every time he was called upon the carry the ball. The injury forced him to retire from the game in the second quarter, but it will not prevent his playing in the Lombard game unless complications set in.

Correll's performance in the Lincoln contest assures him a berth on the regular eleven as a side-kick to the veteran, Gross. His speed is phenomenal, and the manner in which he picks his way through opposing players is reason to believe that he will be a marked man. Captain Babcock, specializing again in line plunges, and Friedrich can be counted upon to gain the yards that may be needed.

On a strong defense lies Robbie's only hope of stopping the Lombard tribe. In such a combination as Swanson, Lamb, Hammon and Turner, Coach P. J. Schissler has an enviable offense; and a forward wall that held the Notre Dame reserves' heavy line in good style leaves the Lombard mentor nothing more to be desired. Minus the services of Captain King, who is on the injured list, Lombard won its initial game of the season Friday, 33 to 14.

Remembering that only twice in the history of the two schools has Bradley been able to defeat Lombard on the gridiron and hankering to revenge the 58-0 drubbing received last season, the Tech warriors will invade Galesburg Friday determined to upset the "dope bucket." A large squad will leave Thursday evening in company with Manager Strayer and the coaches.

ALL AMERICANS PLAY FIRST GAME SATURDAY WITH LOMBARD SCRUBS

SHORTAGE OF TECH MATERIAL NECESSITATES DRAWING IN RESERVES.

Yannigan Outfit Strong in Backfield —Weak in Aerial Defense.

This week-end will be a busy one for the Bradley coaches, for two games are scheduled with Lombard, the first string men invading Lombard's ranks Friday and the seconds entertaining the Schissler tribe on the local field Saturday. This game is the first on the "All American's" schedule.

Lombard is reported as having a large squad of promising yearlings. To battle them on even terms, Coach Johnson, who has charge of the yannigan outfit, will probably have to call into service some of the regular reserves, such is the shortage of Tech material from which to mold a formidable second team.

Practically every candidate who turned out Saturday was given a chance to do his stuff in the Lincoln game. Many deficiencies were evident in the youngsters' first performance. Lincoln's aerial attack, too much for the "All Americans," disclosed a deplorable weakness that to correct will occupy the major portion of the assistant coach's time this week.

As the season develops and as the first game on the second team's chart draws near, the "All American" line-up of the forward wall looks something like this: Purlee, Johnson and Wilson, ends; Metzel, C. Ruch, Stuber and Fritz, tackles; Cortelyou, Eliff, McNaught and Newell, guards; A. Ruch and Burt, centers. From the following Coach Johnson has a choice remarkable talent to fill the backfield positions: Brewer, quarter back, Bostic, Kuykendall and Hoswell, half backs, and Knight, full back.

The starting time for the game is set at three o'clock.

BAND MAKES INITIAL APPEARANCE BEFORE STUDENTS AT GAME

DIRECTOR ROSE LAYS PLANS FOR PUBLIC CONCERT AT END OF SEMESTER.

Twenty-two Members Now in Organization — Rehearse Every Wednesday Night.

Bradley Band made its initial appearance Saturday at the Lincoln-Bradley game and furnished music for the large crowd of spectators both before and during the game. The selections were well played and gave a good idea of what the band will be after it has been able to practice for a few weeks.

There are twenty-two members thus far and considering the short time for practice Director James H. Rose has worked wonders with the material at hand. He is still in need of a cornet and a trombone and will gladly extend membership to any persons playing these instruments. Rehearsals are held every Wednesday night at 7 p. m. in the tower room. All musicians are cordially invited to come up and "set in" at these rehearsals.

New music has been ordered and is expected in the very near future. This new music will consists of overtures, operatic selections, popular music and other kinds of selections for the different occasions at which the band will play. Very soon work will begin for a public concert which is to be given in the latter part of this semester.

The following are the members of the band:

Geo. M. Steiner, baritone; Robert E. Murray, cornet; C. J. Hershe, cornet; E. G. Shalkhauser, baritone; E. C. McNutt, baritone; Frank N. Ireland jr., alto saxaphone; Tracy Benedict, B tenor saxaphone; Leonard Houghton, mellophone; F. E. Brown, bass; Harry Nagel, C saxaphone; Paul E. Blackman, C saxaphone; Ima Blower, E bass; Anthony Sbenska, French horn; Noel Jamison, trombone; Chas. E. Carrier, trombone; James H. Rose, cornet; Winifred Hummel, 1st B clarinet; Glenn Schaffer, clarinet; V. P. Swain, clarinet; G. S. Kuhlmann, piccolo; J. Edward Davis, bass drum; R. A. Hitchcock, snare drum.

CONSERVATORY STUDENTS TO GIVE PARTY

On Thursday night of this week there is to be a party in the Recital Hall of the Conservatory. It is to be a good-time social for all, the old and the new students and faculty. Every one from high school age up is invited to come and have a good old time.

———B. P. I.———

The semi-monthly student recitals have begun. Tuesday night of this week at 5 o'clock in the Recital Hall was held the first. All students in the intermediate and advanced departments of the Conservatory are expected to come.

MUSIC CONSERVATORY HAS RECORD NUMBER ENROLLED FOR COURSE

GIVING OF COLLEGE CREDIT FOR WORK PUTS MUSIC ON PAR WITH OTHER STUDIES.

Secure Great Artists for Recitals—Radio Widens Scope of Work.

When Bradley was made a four year college two years ago the Conservatory of Music was started under the direction of Mr. Franklin Stead. The position of the Conservatory Hall itself was in one of the most beautiful spots around Bradley. The building was purchased and remodeled to suit the demands of the managers that it be built on artistic lines as well as being made the most convenient for musical work. Stately trees surrounding the Conservatory serve to greatly enhance its beauty.

The first year of the Conservatory's existance was devoted to making a name for itself. The success in which it did this is attested by its enrollment for the last two years when the classes have been filled to capacity. Each year nearly three hundred students have enrolled for the course and it has been with difficulty that the number of instructors employed have been able to care for the many students that are seeking an education in musical lines.

The instructors for the Conservatory have been selected from among the best in the country. Most of them have taken their musical education abroad under the supervision of the best teachers that the old world can produce.

A large part of the Conservatory membership is composed of the younger pupils. They have banded themselves into the Faelton Club which is recognized as being one of the largest and best musical clubs in

ILLINOIS POET TO APPEAR BEFORE BRADLEY STUDENTS IN UNIQUE PROGRAM

A rare treat is in store for Bradley students this month when Mr. Vachel Lindsay presents in person on the Bradley stage his unique program of readings from his own poems. The internationally famed poet is to appear here on Monday, October 16th, under the auspices of the Choir of the Central Church.

Fortunate indeed is Bradley on this occasion, for Mr. Lindsay's coming to Peoria is considered to be one of the fall's biggest events. This appearance of the distinguished poet is a part of his two year's time in America and will be his only appearance in Peoria for that period of time.

Mr. Lindsay is an Illinois poet with an international reputation, having appeared not only before students of the universities and colleges of more than two score states, but also before students of foreign countries. Eight years it has been since he has appeared on a Bradley stage.

For those who desire copies of Lindsay's most popular works, arrangements have been made whereby the following works by the noted poet will be placed on sale in the Bradley Book Room:

"Golden Wifes of California."
"Chinese Nightingale."
"Congo and Other Poems."
"General William Booth."
"Hardy Guide for Beggars."

Mr. Lindsay himself plans to be on hand to autograph each copy sold.

In making the arrangements for Mr. Lindsay's appearance before a Bradley audience Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, a cousin of the eminent poet, has been most instrumental.

ANNUAL FOUNDERS DAY SERVICES TO BE HELD IN CHAPEL WITH THE REV. HAZEN AS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

IN THE FOUNDING OF BRADLEY POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE MRS. BRADLEY WAS SEEKING THE HIGHER IDEALS OF LIFE—"HER PRINCIPLES WILL NEVER DIE."

No Pilgrimage to be Made This Year to Her Tomb in Springdale Cemetery, Committee Concludes—Student and Faculty Representatives to Give Short Talks in Connection with Chapel Exercise.

By PAUL DIEFENLERFER.

General observance of Founder's Day will take place Monday, October 9th. Founder's Day is held to commemorate the works of Mrs. Lydia Bradley and bring her in thought, as close to the student body as possible. As Mayor Michel said last year: "Bradley Polytechnic Institute only demonstrates the unselfish and charitable characteristics of Mrs. Bradley. It is a monument—a living monument—of her ambition, her desire to do good to others, and it fully denotes her true Americanism, and the fact that she was a typical Peorian."

The services to be held in chapel will be somewhat similar to those held in previous years. The exact time is as yet unknown, but notices will be posted on the bulletin board. The chief speaker will be Rev. Mr. Joseph Hazen of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Hazen will deliver an address which will be of interest to everyone and will do honor to the occasion. Dr. Theodore C. Burgess will give a short eulogy of Mrs. Bradley and the school. We shall also have the privilege of again hearing Mr. Kenneth Stead, head of Bradley Conservatory voice department. Mr. Stead will render one or two vocal selections.

The pilgrimage to Mrs. Bradley's tomb in Springdale cemetery, as at first decided, will not be an annual event. Last year the pilgrimage was the largest event on the program and it was decided to hold one every year. However, committees have been come to the conclusion to hold it only every five years. In this manner it will be conceived of as an especial tribute to Mrs. Bradley. On these occasions great care will be taken to perform the ceremony in a truly memorial fashion. Not only Bradley, but every organization in Peoria, will hereafter be represented in these pilgrimages.

MEETING RESULTS IN ORGANIZATION OF BRADLEY ORCHESTRA

CONSERVATORY INSTRUCTOR TO BE AT HEAD—WILL PLAY AT STUDENT AFFAIRS.

Wind and String Instruments to be Used—For Bradley Students Only.

Another page in the history of Bradley Polytechnic Institute was started last Tuesday evening at the Conservatory of Music where a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing a Bradley orchestra.

The meeting was called by Mr. Eldon Murray, new instructor in the Conservatory. Mr. Murray pointed out to those present the purpose of the orchestra, and what would be expected of the members. With the co-operation of the student body he believes that the orchestra will soon be a reality.

The orchestra is to be made up of both wind and string instruments. Its primary aim is to boost Bradley and make it a better college by placing itself alongside other student organizations such as the Glee Club, and the Bradley Band which have done much for the college since their organization. Membership in the orchestra will be limited to Bradley students.

The college has long been in need of such an organization to function on occasions, for which the Bradley Band is hardly fitted. The orchestra plans to play for all indoor student gatherings which require its services. Its value to the college can hardly be over estimated.

Rapid progress by the orchestra is expected under the able leadership of Mr. Murray. Mr. Murray is the new instructor in violin at the conservatory, and has been interested in orchestra work for some time. His skill as a musician was witnessed by many music lovers of Peoria at a recital in Bradley Hall on Monday evening of last week. He also impressed the student body with two selections in Chapel.

DR. WINFIELD S. HALL AT BRADLEY OCTOBER 16

SERVICES OF NOTED LECTURER SECURED BY CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Negotiations are now being carried on which it is thought will result in the bringing of Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, the noted lecturer to Bradley October 16. The Christian Associations have joined forces in the attempt to secure Mr. Hall and his coming is now practically assured.

Dr. Hall has formerly been connected with Northwestern University but is now devoting his time to giving lectures on vital questions to students of colleges and universities over the country. Wherever he speaks he is always well received and is asked for return engagements.

This promises to be one of the best speakers to be engaged to speak at Bradley this year and it is expected that the student body will be very enthusiastic over the lecture.

TECH MANAGERS APPOINT NEW MEMBERS ON STAFF

EVERY DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL NOW REPRESENTED IN TECH STAFF.

Several new members have been appointed to positions on the staff of THE TECH during the past few days. A number of positions are still open and appointments will soon be made to fill these vacancies.

Miss Mary Thompson of the Conservatory of Music will serve as Editor from that department and will have charge of all the Conservatory news.

Mr. Archie Walters has been appointed to the position of Horology Editor to fill the place left vacant by Macon Brock. Mr. Walters will be assisted by other members of Horology Hall.

Wayne Buckley will take charge of the sports writing and will represent the Athletic Department in THE TECH.

William Clark will act as Circulation Manager on the business staff and will have charge of the subscription list.

Hoyt Boren has been added to the reportorial staff and will assist in general news writing.

LEADERS AND STUDENTS

Student Council elections are soon to occupy the attention of the student body and if they run true to the form which they have followed before it is to be expected that a great amount of campaigning and political competition will be shown. Politics have entered into the life of college students in practically the same quality as those which enter into the life of the man solving his civic problems with the same results. Too many of the students show a lack of interest which if shown in other matters of far less importance would hinder the successful termination of the same. Yet this same laxness often shows itself later in the discontent and dissatisfaction displayed because of unpopularity of phases of the government.

In student life, as in all branches of life, the will of the majority rules only as long as the majority is active and awake to their powers and possibilities. Bryce says, "Ten men with firm convictions can control one hundred men who have no convictions." Although it may be a slight exaggeration to use this quotation with reference to college students, yet experience has shown that even they are not immune from the power of a few leaders.

THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

Of all the colleges and universities of the Middle West few can boast of a campus so beautiful as that which surrounds Bradley. Many schools have a larger campus and larger buildings but for beauty of structure and design Bradley ranks among the best.

Buildings of white stone set off by the green of the maples and lawns and the white walks leading from building to building present a color contrast more beautiful because of its reality than the conventional product of the brush and easel.

The carefully trimmed lawns and shrubs show the results of much thought and work on the part of the men who spend their time and ideas in the attempt to preserve and add to the beauty already greatly enhanced by their work.

One of the prettiest spots on the campus as well as one of the least noticible is the flower garden planted and tended by Mr. Botts. It is located behind the power house in an obscure out-of-the-way place and has seldom been seen by many of the students. Mr. Botts has secured a great variety of flowers and shrubs and by careful study and experience has developed a bed of flowers containing many varieties. Since early spring the flowers have blossomed and now with the frosts of autumn are losing their petals and their beauty for the time at least. Spring will find them back again in all their beauty and with the hoped for extension of the flower bed. Mr. Botts will again have one of the most beautiful and one of the least known spots on all Bradley's campus.

On Thursday evening, September 28, the Royal Order of Bums held a steak fry on the point overlooking Mossville. Sixteen of the members were present. Miss Shepherdson has accepted the position of faculty adviser for the Bums.

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::

Prohibition seems lately to have taken effect on the girls at Bradley. Why this is so no one has been able to decide. The girls reviewed their past conduct but cannot discover where or when their actions have been such as to warrant these harsh measures.

Every noon two hundred embarrassed girls wend their way among the tables to the boys' side of the lunch room to fill their empty glasses. Milk is good for us but the home economics girls say that it will not take the place of water.

Here's hoping good old water soon finds its way to the girl's side of the cafeteria.

HER TRAIL.

A Bible entry: "Born, a girl,"
A knitted shoe, a golden curl,
A wooly lamb, gay-colored blocks,
Some well-worn garments in a box;
Some dog-eared books, a pair of skates,
Old photographs of all her mates,
Boarding-school letters full of jokes,
And "love to all the dear home folks."
A glove, a program from a dance,
A rose pressed in an old romance;
A rain of rice along the hall—
Tears on my cheek—and that is all.
—Chicago Tribune.

Do you know how to swim? Why don't you see Miss Ewald about joining one of her beginner's classes then? There will be no excuse if a Bradley girl does not know how to swim this year for our instructor has swimming classes at all hours on Tuesday and Thursday.

Hockey practice is being held every day. The Freshmen and Sophomores will have several teams in the field. The Juniors and Seniors are not showing up so well. After a hard day of study, nothing is more invigorating than to get out in the fresh air and forget all your troubles in an exciting game.

Y. M. C. A.

Monday evening, October 30th, 1922, is the date set for the Y. M. C. A. Hallowe'en Pajama parade. Fellows, begin to decorate your spare pajamas with all kinds of Hallowe'en features. This is also a special feature for the freshmen. Be sure to save the date, "Y" Pajama Parade, October 30, 1922.

If you have not already signed up with the student Y. M. C. A. do so at once.

Dr. Winfield S. Hall will be with us Oct. 16, 1922. We are indeed fortunate to secure this national known lecturer. Remember every man on the campus should attend these lectures. You shall hear more about it later.

NIGHT SCHOOL PROVIDES CHANCE TO MAKE UP CREDITS

The opening of night school gives many students an opportunity to acquire extra credits towards their graduation or degrees. Full college credits are given in most of the classes making a good opportunity for day school students who are short in credits.

The same business English is offered in night school as is offered in day school. Other classes similar to day school classes are psychology, commercial art, drawing and a few other courses. Besides these classes all the regular night school courses will be offered, including radio as an added attraction.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Lowell Lashbrook, a two year teacher training man, who, we predicted, would go into the ranching business rather than the teaching game, has just written. He did the unusual thing as he is teaching in the Yuma public schools. He reports a new school building, new equipment and a new course of study. Along with all this we know from personal experience that he might also have reported a lot of hard work. While hard work is nothing to Lowell, we would just like to see him as he goes about his duties.

Lowell reports only one drawback to his work. He states that he has a complete equipment except for one thing—and that is a bench-hook. He wants to know where he can get them. Send your order to the editor and he will see that you are supplied Lowell.

We were all beginning to wonder where Shorty McMahan was keeping himself when word was received that he is teaching football and coaching manual training at Homer, Illinois. Shorty says that he will have a good team—but never a word about manual training. Things seem rather quiet without Shorty yelling his head off out in front of the dorm.

* * *

Bill Donhoe came back—only for a visit, however. Bill is in the employ of the C. & A. railroad. Bill is not married—yet—but he says that the strike is intertwined with the hopes of Bill. We can't explain but it is a fact.

* * *

Norman Weir, from Canada, registered in the teacher training division during the week. Weir has had training at the Provincial Normal School and the Ontario Agricultural College, both in Canada. Weir is ranked as a Senior.

We were sorry to learn that Edward Gilly was called to his home in Quincy because of the death of his wife.

Ray Smith, federal board representative to last year's student council, has been sent to a Chicago hospital for treatment.

The drawing rooms are beginning to take on a crowded appearance. Upon inquiry it was found that ten new tables, made under Mr. Iturff's directions, had been installed. But even more new equipment will have to be added because the student body is growing quickly—and more students of the college are taking advantage of the industrial work in connection with their other work.

* * *

New federal board students this week are: Barney Wood from Buford, Ill., James Fink from Peoria.

The editor of this column wishes to commend the work of Erwin Beck, a Veteran's Bureau man on the reportorial staff. If all the reporters worked as hard as Beck we could fill a whole page instead of a column. Give honor to whom honor is due—Beck gets the honor.

Interest in the world's series baseball games takes second place to the new gambling ring discovered in the forge shop. Walton and "Ole" Hanson are the means whereby the gambling ring has a nucleus for its activities. Bets are placed daily on either one or the other of these men as to which one of them will get possession of the new hammer. There is only one new hammer in the shop this year and these two men use it. The fellow that don't get the new hammer knocks off for the day or spends his time in upbraiding the other. See what each fellow eats for breakfast and how it affects his disposition—and then place your bet early.

Mr. Claude Bodle, a student in the Auto Mechanics course, is now in placement training at a Moss avenue garage that is owned by Congressman Clifford Ireland. Bodle was a Federal Board man.

Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

STEM-WINDERS WEEKLY

Attention!

Notice has been given that our little "Stem Winders Weekly" is a fallacy, inasmuch as it does not include either the jewelry or the engraving departments. In view of this fact the editors have offered a suitable reward to the person who offers the best suggestion for a new slogan, embracing all departments of the school

A box will be placed at the supply window where all suggestions will be received. Here is a chance for you to show your ingenuity, and help the department. Don't forget to sign your name.

* * *

Students are still enrolling steadily in all departments. The engraving department lays claim to a U. of South Dakota man, Chas. Halbkat. Mr. Halbkat is an S. A. E. fraternity man from that school and the department feels justly conceited since his enrollment.

* * *

Mr. G. R. Leggett of Plymouth, N. C., also enrolled recently, coming here from the Porter Military Academy.

* * *

A. H. Francis is now on the home stretch having gone up to trade last week. Macon Brock is at sword's point with the instructors up stairs for fear they will get a monopoly on Francis' veal chops and milk gravy.

* * *

* * *

The following men have enrolled in the filing department—and all are making plans for "finishing" Lawrence Decker, Nashville, Ill., Jos. Wilt, Chicago, Ill., R. M. Cole, Washington, D. C., Geo. May, Cascade, Iowa, Kenneth White, Lebanon, Ind., Edward Rewolinski, Milwaukee, B. J. Manrei, St. Louis, Mo., Geo. Schoonman, Grayville, Ill.

* * *

Announcement has been made to the effect that night school starts Oct. 3, continuing every Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, throughout the winter.

"Alma in Wonderland" or literally translated, "An ambigerous apparition, as perceived by an inanimate Rodomontade." (Sounds just like Nancy, doesn't it?) Ever hear of Nancy? No! Better see Mr. Hamilton or Mr. Deiffenbach at once as with their "passe" (French for kicking the bucket) will be forever lost the internal secrets of this famous sans fermette institution (French for feeble minded) as they are the only two excuses for humanity to escape from said institution—and it wasn't really an escape as the warden afterwards reported." "We were forced to decide between the lesser of two evils. On the one hand we did have a few rationals, could we, and later face our Master with a clean conscience, allow these two 'chuffs' (feeble minded clowns) to pollute the minds of these few rationals, and of those not so blessed with reason, to enclose their interstices (empty space in the head) with their debasing chitchat?" Which accounts for their presence here with us.

But to return to the apparition, (now that everyone has a line-up on Hamilton and Deiffenbach). Report had it that the jewelry department has an exceedingly frequent femine visitor, and I, not desiring to have my curiosity known, by an ingenious method known only to Bob and myself, contrived to see this enchanting witch on one of her "hourly" seances, only to return crestfallen, having to admit my ruse a failure.

No one knows who she may be or from whence she may come, as "she will tarry with no man" (save one) pursuing a straight and intrepid course to the rear of the room, whence after a sometimes seemingly ghostlike soliloqy, or in frequently, an intensely mortal combat (verbal, of course) and nothing spiritual about it either, she "passes out," to the chagrin of the entire department. Like the flight of a circus to a small boy. And then to spoil the whole show, I heard Bob bawl out, "don't forget the Liggett's tonight, Blair"—yes—Blair has enrolled in the jewelry department having recently completed his work in trade—and we are all sorry our name is not Blair (the apartition I mean.)

ONSLAUGHT OF TECH SPELLS DOWNFALL OF LINCOLN TRIBE

BRADLEY TAKES FIRST GAME OF SEASON IN EASY FASHION, 60-6.

Robbie's Men Surpass Visitors in Every Department of Play—Correll Shines.

The light and inexperienced Lincoln College aggregation went down to easy defeat Saturday afternoon before the on-slaughts of Bradley's husky warriors, and opposite the first game on the Techmen's 1922 chart can be recorded this result: Bradley, 60; Lincoln, 6.

With the kick-off the regulars scampered up and down the field and on the 10-yard line downed and held the Lincoln recipients. After three attempts to gain their yardage through the Bradley line, Berryhill punted weakly and Gross returned the ball to his comrades' advantage. Successive gains were then made by Correll and Quarter Back Friedrich.

Score Early Touchdown.

On the fifteen yard line Gross was given the ball. His spectacular sprint through the heart of the Lincoln line netted Robertson's gang its first touchdown. On the "try-for-a-point" play Gross registered a point by successfully kicking from placement. To accomplish this early lead required but three minutes of play.

Henceforward the veteran gladiators had everything their own way. Before the close of the first quarter four touchdowns had been rushed over the chalkline. Barrett, not to be left undone, laid his hands onto a fumble and humped 15 yards unmolested to the goal. So impregnable was the Tech forward line that not once during this period were the Lincoln backs able to make a first-down.

Correll Stars.

The outstanding feature of the afternoon's play was the stellar performance of Tommy Correll. Although he worked only forty minutes of the game, he scored a third of the total touchdowns.

In the first quarter Correll demonstrated his skill as an open-field runner by racing fully 90 yards through the entire Lincoln squad. On the kick-off, Gross received the ball on the right side of the field, and started toward the left end. As he did so he made a backward pass to Correll, who darted around right end made a dash for the goal-line, evading "en route" a half-dozen surprised hostile gridders. As Tommy neared the scoring zone the race developed into a one-man affair.

Seconds Given Chance.

Such was the lead at the end of the first half, Bradley 47, Lincoln 0, that Robertson elected to give the second stringers an opportunity to show their prowess. They lacked the punch, however, and Lincoln was not slow to seize the chance to make a touchdown.

At the opening of play in the second half the Lincolnites opened up with a series of forward passes, which were more or less painful. Near the 25-yard line Berryhill flipped a long low pass into the waiting arms of Madden, who sprinted across the goal line for the visiting boys' only counter. The attempt to kick from placement was frustrated by a Bradley lineman.

Other substitutes were sent in at the start of the fourth quarter. The early portion of this period the youngsters tried hard to push over a touchdown. A blocked punt and a fumble on Lincoln's part afforded the yearlings their one chance to get within close range of their objective, but Robb's men braced themselves and held on the two-yard line. On the next play Berryhill punted out of danger.

Here the regulars relieved the seconds. Without any preliminaries they started down the field, toward the Lincoln chalk mark. A pretty 15 yard run by Kuykendall and clever interference work by his mates resulted in the first touchdown of the closing period. Immediately after Lincoln's kick-off the veteran Tech outfit was again on a forward march. Line plunges by Babcock and Correll, and a 6 yard gain on a forward pass to Rogers put the oval on the five-yard line. For his third touchdown of the afternoon Correll leaped through a hole in the line, thus ending Bradley's scoring for Kuykendall's drop-kick failed to rise over the bar. The summary:

Bradley	Position	Lincoln
Rogers	L. E.	Gallagher

the city.

The members of the Conservatory have been successful in bringing a number of noted musicians to Bradley. Among them being Ossip Gabrilowitch, the celebrated pianist who delighted a Bradley and Peoria audience last fall by his technique and feeling in his rendition of his selections.

Recitals are often given by members of the Conservatory in Chapel Hall and are attended by many outsiders as well as many from the student body of the Institute. Many of these recitals and concerts are broadcasted over the surrounding country by means of the radio.

The Conservatory offers work in which college credit may be obtained which will aid in securing an A. B. degree for the ones securing the needed amount of credits. This aids in placing the Conservatory in the position of being a vital and indispensible part of Bradley Institute.

HARVARD SCHOLARSHIP WON BY ARTHUR PAYNE

Graduate and Instructor at Bradley —Later at University of Minnesota.

Arthur F. Payne, a former Bradley graduate, has lately been assigned a Harvard scholarship. He graduated from Bradley in 1914, at this time securing his B. S. degree in Manual Training. Later he was instructor of the Art Metalwork in the Manual Arts Department. In 1918 Mr. Payne left Bradley for a position as Professor of Industrial Arts at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Payne has just been assigned an Austin Scholarship in the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University and has been granted a year's absence from Minnesota to take advantage of the award. He is now studying to secure his Ph. D. degree. He will also do some research work and teaching.

The Austin Scholarships were established in 1899 for the benefit of teachers in colleges or secondary schools, and are awarded on the basis of distinguished academic work.

TECH AND ST. VIATOR TO MEET ON GRIDIRON FOR FIRST TIME SATURDAY

STUDENT BODY DOES HONOR TO MEMORY OF MRS. LYDIA BRADLEY

REV. JOSEPH C. HAZEN DELIVERS PRINCIPAL ADDRESS OF THE DAY

Other Speakers on the Program Were Dr. Burgess and Marshall Curtiss

Annual founder's day was observed by the faculty and student body of Bradley at eleven o'clock Monday morning in the chapel. It has long been the custom at Bradley to set aside one day each year to commemorate the work of Mrs. Bradley. The program this year was similar to those held in previous years.

The program was begun with an organ recital by Mr. Franklin Stead. After the faculty and members of the board of trustees had been seated on the stage, the student body was asked to join in singing "Alma Mater".

Following the song, Dr. Burgess told of his personal acquaintance with Mrs. Bradley, and how she had first conceived the idea which later became a reality in the form of Bradley Polytechnic Institute. In his closing remarks Dr. Burgess appealed to the students of Bradley to set a high standard in their work in order that they might adequately show their appreciation for the fine gift which Mrs. Bradley placed within their reach.

The student body was represented by Marshall Curtiss. In retrospection Mr. Curtiss vividly pictured for us the student body, the faculty, and the trustees as they assembled on Founder's Day, Oct. 5, 1906, and how Mrs. Bradley attended the exercises in person.

"Bradley may not be as large as some colleges, but the students here have made the school strong in spirit and wide in influence," was the essence of his brief but impressive speech.

The following number on the program was a song by Mr. Kenneth Stead, accompanied at the organ by Mr. Franklin Stead.

The principal address of the day was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Hazen of the First Baptist Church of this city. Rev. Hazen expressed the thought that "we all feel the joy and the responsibility which comes with this day." He dwelt on the character and personality of Mrs. Bradley, and pointed out that she was industrious, faithful to her trust, and that she had remained until the last true to her ideals and her God.

Mr. Hazen also made mention of the astounding growth of Bradley from its founding until its becoming a full fledged college. In closing his inspiring address he congratulated the three faculty members, Dr. Burgess, Dr. Wyckoff, and Dr. Comstock for their long and faithful service to the Institute. "Keep the faith and carry on the work as Mrs. Bradley would have it done", was his appeal to the student body.

MR. VACHEL LINDSAY MAY GIVE RECITAL AT BRADLEY HALL

WILL APPEAR AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH MONDAY, OCTOBER 16

Mr. Lindsay Has Appeared at All Leading American and European Colleges

In order to have Mr. Vachel Lindsay appear before the students and faculty of Bradley Polytechnic Institute a sufficient number of tickets must be sold for his recital, which is to be held at the Central Christian Church, Monday, October 16, 1922. Tickets for this recital can be procured from any member of the English Club or at the general office. Special provisions have been made for the students and faculty members of Bradley. These provisions allow admittance to the recital for the small sum of fifty cents. Other tickets can be purchased at the regular price of one dollar.

Many authorities proclaim Mr. Lindsay the greatest American poet of today. Mr. Lindsay has appeared at most all the leading colleges in the United States and Europe. He was most enthusiastically received in the higher universities of England. He has unquestionably attained an eminent position among the foremost American poets.

Mr. Vachel Lindsay is not to be hired, but he will come on the above conditions. If these conditions are met, the date of his appearance on the Bradley stage will be announced later. This recital will be free to all the college students as well as to the members of the faculty.

DR. WINFIELD HALL ENGAGED BY STUDENT Y.M.C.A. AT BRADLEY

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN MEDICAL TEACHER TO APPEAR OCTOBER 16

Comes Highly Recommended by Foremost Institutions of the Land

Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, internationally known medical teacher, writer and lecturer, has been engaged by the student Y. M. C. A. of Bradley; and he will deliver a lecture from the chapel stage on October 16. The lecture will be for the especial benefit of the student body, but it is the intention of those in charge of the program to provide for the attendance of others who care to hear him.

Dr. Hall is the Associate Secretary of the Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare of the Presbyterian Church of America and is known the country over for his lectures on social and school life problems. Last year he visited and spoke at more than 100 colleges and 150 high schools and academies in 21 states, between the Dakotas and Maine. He is in great demand among the schools of the country and comes highly recommended from such institutions as University of Chicago, University of Texas and the University of Washington.

Bradley Team Guests of Ascher's Palace Theatre Management

Saturday Night Bradley's Fighting Indians are, as guests of Ascher's Palace Theatre, to see the great Paramount picture, "The Old Homestead," after the St. Viator game.

The members of the team will be the guests of Mr. R. C. MacMullen, manager of Ascher's Palace. They will meet at the school about seven o'clock in order to enjoy the first performance of the evening. In the party, of course, will be Manager Arleigh Strayer and Coaches Robertson and Johnson.

BRADLEY HUMBLES MIGHTY LOMBARD IN VIRTUAL WIN, 6-0

TECH MEN OUTPLAY AND OUTFIGHT OLIVE GRIDDERS—GAIN EARLY LEAD.

Red and White Resist Every Mode of Attack—Individual Stars Numerous.

How every Bradley warrior did fight, is the exclamation of those fortunate ones who were witnesses to that mighty struggle staged within the Lombard stadium last Friday afternoon. For all that the score was a tie, 6 to 6, Robertson's men and Bradley adherents are as jubilant as though a victory had been won. And justly so, for Lombard supports a team that critics pick as capable of the best minor college football in the mid-west.

Primed to its highest notch the Tech eleven, to a man, entered the game with the attitude of atoning for that crushing defeat suffered last year on the local field. Consequently the Bradley gladiators lost no time in adjusting themselves to their task. With them, it was a case of fighting like a pack of frenzied tigers in the face of sure and painful death.

Tech Men Draw First Blood.

After recovering a punt on Lombard's 25 yard line, Bradley ran the ball down the field by means of a series of short, but consistent gains, in which Babcock and Correll featured. To check this advance of Robertson's hard-driving backs the Lombard forward wall strove desparately but in vain. The fifteen yards separating them from their objective Tommy Correll covered on a beautiful end run, putting the first counter across the line after an elapse of five minutes play. Friedrich's attempt to kick goal from placement was blocked.

Throughout the major portion of the first half Bradley was on the offense, though the Lombard tribe came back in the second quarter and began to force Robbie's band on the defensive. The early lead and the surprising strength of the "Indians" stunned the Lombard mentor and his men.

Lombard Reserves Add Punch.

During the third and fourth quarters the Bradley stalwarts fought on the defensive, because a number of fresh men at the opening of the half and frequent substitutions thereafter afforded Lombard an advantage that threatened to prove disastrous. Early in the third period the Universalists rushed the oval to the four yard line, but there Robbie's men held like a stone wall. Later in the same period the ball was again dangerously close to Bradley's goal. On the one yard line "Red" Allen recovered a fumble and with the pigskin tucked snugly under his arm dashed fifteen yards, thereby preventing what was an almost certain touchdown.

The Schissler tribe mustered up enough strength in the last quarter to march from mid-field to the 20 yard line, forward passes being used exclusively. Lamb then carried the ball on a wide end run, his only successful jaunt of the day, which netted an additional fifteen yards. Through the center of the Tech machine shot Turner for a touchdown. COMMERCE CLUB HAS ITS FIRST SOCIAL AND BUSINESS MEETING

MR. RICHARD BRADLEY CONTRIBUTES IN MAKING MEETING BIG SUCCESS

Marshall Curtiss Elected to Succeed Burt Powell as President

Richard Bradley, better known as "Dick" Bradley, the Peoria humorist, served as the drawing card that attracted 35 members of the Commerce Club to attend the first meeting of the year which was held in the Social Hall on the evening of October 4. Some business including the election of officers was also transacted at the meeting.

Mr. Bradley gave a talk on "Salesmanship" and its application in all phases of life. He laid special emphasis on particular and satisfactory service to the buyer, illustrating with examples taken from his own business experience as well as from that of other prominent merchants.

Light refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were partaken of by the members of the Club after the address by Mr. Bradley.

Election of the officers for the coming year was held after the social side of the program was concluded. The club accepted the resignation of Burt Powell, president, and elected Marshall Curtiss as his successor. Audra Newell was elected vice-president; Wayne Buckley, secretary, and Harry Gordon, treasurer.

Altho only in its second year as a club, the Commerce Club plans to put on a large educational program for the coming year. It is planned to have at least one lecture each month given by some man prominent in business world. The monthly meetings will also have their social side.

The Commerce Club is seeking the co-operation of the Peoria merchants thru the Peoria Association of Commerce and the Merchants' Association.

Membership in the Club is open to any student taking at least three hours work in the department of Business Administration.

PROF. M. K. TEACH WRITES ARTICLES FOR "AMERICAN BUILDER"

COMPILATIONS TO APPEAR IN SERIES UNDER THE HEAD OF ARCHITECTURAL DRAWING

Purpose of Articles to Furnish a Clear, Concise Text for Carpenters and Contractors

Professor M. K. T. Teach, instructor in the architectural department of Bradley, has just completed a series of articles to be published monthly in "The American Builder" a national technical magazine. The series come under the general heading of "Architectural Drawing", and cover in detail the entire subject from the elementary use of the drawing instruments to the more complicated problems encountered in structural design. The first article to be published takes up the subject of lettering, and by means of diagrams and notes the construction of each letter of the alphabet is fully explained. Several styles of letters are explained and the advantages of each style pointed out.

The second article of the series is intended to instruct the beginner in the use and care of his drawing instruments. The third article deals with the projection of ideas on paper, the fourth takes up a more complicated subject—and so on until the series is exhausted. Each article is complete within itself.

Mr. Teach's purpose in writing such a book was to furnish a clear, concise text for carpenters and contractors who do their own drafting. The articles will appear in 12 consecutive issues of the magazine.

Mr. Teach is a graduate of Ohio State University and has been connected with Bradley during the past two years.

TO KEEP IN RUNNING TECH MUST OVERTHROW "FIGHTING IRISH"--ST. VIATOR ALSO OUT TO COP LAURELS

COACH ROBERTSON TO DRILL MEN HARD—EXPECT TOUGH SCRAP WITH CATHOLIC LADS FROM KANKAKEE.

Friday's Win Over Highly Touted Lombard Team Enhances Tech's Reputation—Several Veterans on Injured List.

To be entertained on Bradley field Saturday comes the St. Viator college eleven, one of the best in the mid-west. It will be the first of a series of the fastest brand of college football ever offered to Bradley students and to football fans of Peoria. With the possible exception of the Wesleyan battle, in no other game will Coach Robertson's cohorts fight more stanchly, for never in any sport has Bradley been defeated by the Catholics from upstate.

St. Viator is represented by a great team this season. Since only three of last year's veterans are missing, Coach Jack Crangle, former University of Illinois star, has a splendid nucleus around which to build from the host of promising material an eleven that bids fair to wrest the conference championship. Its first step toward that goal was taken last Saturday when the Notre Dame reserves were defeated, 20 to 7.

Lombard Win Encourages Tech.

The great showing made by the Tech gridders in their win over Lombard Friday was as surprising to Bradley supporters as it was shocking to the cheaty Lombard football following. So "cock-sure" were Lombard boosters of a victory for Coach Schissler's band that they backed their team four to one against the Tech warriors. Being held to a draw has mightily chagrined the Universalists.

Coach Robertson and his men are in the best of spirit, and now might maintain hopes of turning in an unblemished slate were it not that the battle has taken its toll of scarred and wounded.

Reserves Inexperienced.

Serious difficulties confront Coach Robertson and Asst. Coach Johnson as a result of Friday's "wreck." In the conflict Rogers sustained an injury that will keep him out of the game for at least two weeks. Simiaski, the big Minnesota boy, suffers with a broken finger on his left hand while several linesmen are nursing bruised and battered limbs. Whether "Bunny" Gross will be able to participate in Saturday's fracas with the "Fighting Irish" is still problematical.

Though Purlee and Brewer filled their niches well Friday, they lack the experience and driving power of the regulars. Because the same holds true of practically all of Robertson's second stringers, the query naturally arises whether the under-studies may be competent to assume the task where the veterans leave off should more of them go the route Rogers travelled last week.

—B. P. I.—

The Home Economics Club gave a very delightful party in the Social Hall Monday evening, October 9. After a short business meeting, Miss Hadley and Mrs. Huston each responded with an inspiring talk. Mr. Kenneth Stead rendered two vocal selections, which added much to the evening's pleasure. Then followed an original and interesting game, after which were disclosed the delights of a real, old-fashioned Hallowe'en party.

The committees in charge of the Home Economics Club have planned a series of just such pleasurable affairs as that of Monday evening, and club members are looking forward with avidity to the surprises that are in store for them.

NOTRE DAME FIVE PLAYS TECH HERE

RED AND WHITE ATHLETES TO FURNISH COMPETITION FOR CATHOLICS.

Consistent with his policy to afford Bradley students as well as the sporting fraternity of Peoria first-class attractions in every branch of major athletics, Coach Robertson announces the completion of arrangements whereby Notre Dame's basketball five will appear on the Poly floor December 19 for a contest with the Tech outfit.

The Notre Dame officials are planning a training trip through Illinois during the Christmas holidays, and are booking contests only with the best teams in the state. That Bradley has been thus recognized ranks the Red and White in the top-notcher class.

Although the Techmen's possibilities of trimming the Catholic five are slight, Robertson and Captain-elect Rogers expect to offer the Notre Dame outfit as much or even more opposition than will Wesleyan or Millikin.

THE GIRL WHO DID'NT PLAY FAIR

Once upon a time, as the story goes, there was a little girl, or a little boy, it doesn't matter which, who was playing with a group of other little boys and girls, which of course was only natural. They were playing at a game in which it was necessary for each child to await his turn in line before he could receive the much desired honor of being "it."

Now this little girl being new at the game and unacquainted with the rest of the children was at first very careful to take her proper position in line and keep it being very careful that she did not offend any of her new friends or give them the impression that she was not playing fair, in other words she tried to convey the idea to them that she was not dishonest and a cheat—which again was only natural.

As time went by, the little girl became better known among her playmates and knowing this she began to assert her real self. No longer did she take and keep her rightful place in line with the rest of the children—and it is a shame to end a story like this—she began to show her true character, and it was not the character of a really, truly lady but just of an ill-bred, selfish girl to sneak—that's the word we want—into the line ahead of her rightful position.

The next day she took a position which did not belong to her and so embarassed her playmates near her who were much too gentlemanly and ladylike to demand that she take her rightful place. She even grew so bold that she refused to enter the line at all but awaited at the head of the line until one of her playmates—the selfish, ill-bred one again—brought her the honors that should have gone to the really, truly lady who awaited in her correct position in line.

The selfish, ill-bred girl still keeps this up. As yet she has not been punished for doing it or even forbidden to do it but—and this is the sad part of our story—she is losing the respect as well as the friendship of her playmates. Sneers greet her where there were formerly smiles and she is slowly but surely earning the contempt of her fellow playmates.

We have forgotten to carry the analogy using the boy as the subject but if we had used the boy as a principal we would have no story. The boy tried to take anothers place in the cafeteria line—now we've given our secret away—but there is a strong sentiment against it and now he is willing to take his own position.

HOMECOMING DAY

Homecoming day is less than a month away and as yet there has been no preparations for the carrying out of a program to celebrate this day which ranks highest among the student affairs of the year.

Last year's Homecoming Day was most successful and was only the result of long hours of hard work by the committee in charge. The organization of the monster Homecoming parade, the co-operation of the students of the Manual Arts, Horology and Hall, and the great amount of school spirit shown during the day were not spontaneous but were the results of hard work by the leaders of the movement.

There is no doubt that the Homecoming Day for 1922 can be made as successful as that of last year if the committees are given the time and opportunity to work and prepare for the carrying out of a carefully planned program.

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::

By Bernice Jones

The title 'snob" is applied to a person who is so conceited and ignorant as to show that he believes that he, as a human being is any better than a fellow mortal.

We all regard ourselves as "all important" but we are sadly mistaken when we suppose that we are "all important" to other people.

There are three kinds of snobs—money, social, and intellectual. The first two are closely connected. It is hard to follow the line of thought which a snob takes in deciding that thought. How does he or she think he is superior? (Or is it lack of credit for having money or social position when it is usually the parents who have made or secured them?) Oftentimes, however, these snobs are made up of those who have neither of these but who worship them.

The intellectual snob, if he or she is really intellectual, has more excuse for being than either of the others. But when we come to those who have reasons to feel superior we find that we cannot call them "snobs."

Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

Results of the election for representative to the Students Council from the Vocational Department were announced as follows:

Butterfield	39
Charlesson	23
Dockett	34
Walton	22

The race was a close one between all candidates. This would seem to indicate that all nominees were prominent and evidently qualified enough to receive merit from their respective followers. The vote cast was fairly heavy in comparison with the votes cast in previous elections.

Elmer Hedin, now of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who is very near the Bachelors Degree, and who forsook his chance to get the coveted honor so that he might get married and then make a living, sends us a letter. He is still in a joyful frame of mind. Somehow or other Elmer is more optimistic than most people are after they have been married a while.

He states that he is in a new High School of the Junior type. He has installed new equipment and likes his job very much. He sends greetings to his friends at Bradley.

A news item comes to the editor's attention to the effect that certain men are doing teaching for the first time in Mr. Johnson's woodworking room. From what we can gather their success seems to be of that kind that is to be expected of old-timers.

The reporter who scouted this news takes an oath that the boys "eat the shavings" when Lynch and Murray come around. That sounds impossible to the Ed. but a reporter will say anything these days to get a story to attract attention. We advise the reader to take these shavings with a grain of salt.

* * *

Harry Wright craves publicity. He is the representative of the Manual Arts Press and desires to dispose of the many wares published by that firm. He gets a commission for all he sells and his highest ambition seems to be to "sell 'em out."

Anyone who contemplates purchases from the Press ought to patronize our student agent. If you don't know him look for a fellow with a light grey suit—tall and rather dreamy eyed. If you can't find him ask someone who knows him.

Mr. Dace, in charge of the Electrical department, is offering a new course in the Evening school. Title of the course is Practical Electricity. The course is designed to cover what theory is necessary, but to be as practical a course as the subject will permit.

The following, taken from the catalogue explains the new work in detail:

Work in electricity will cover the general theory and practice concerning the subject. The classroom instruction will cover both direct and alternating currents and will be presented in such a way that a student having a working knowledge will be able to solve the problems.

Commercial testing and experimental laboratory work will be carried on parallel to the classroom instruction in such a way as to emphasize to the student the important points and the various applications of the subject.

The instructor will include the fundamentals of direct and alternating currents, batteries, direct current motors, generators, alternating current motors, generators, transformers, rotary converters, various types of rectifiers and all the more important auxiliary apparatus pertaining to the above macines, as well as generation and distribution systems and general power house operation.

:: GOLD 'N WHEELS ::

"Congestion"

Enrollment seems to have (fortunately for all concerned) reached its maximum. At no time in the history of the school has there been a larger number of students, and with this increase in enrollment no action has been taken for their accomodation.

There are approximately one hundred and three students in C room and five instructors, which in a liberal arts college or lecture room would be sufficient, as it is generally estimated that one instructor can do justice to a class of twenty, inasmuch as all are doing the same work and can be counseled as a group. But it is highly impossible for one instructor to educate twenty students when all are intersted in and doing a different work from the other and this of course means individual instruction. Assuming that each instructor spends twenty minutes per day with each student (it would be quite impossible to estimate exactly as some students require more help than others) we find that the entire day has been consumed and twenty minutes instruction will not suffice when we consider that in a seven hour day we are called upon to do many new things. And as was pointed out above probably ten of the twenty students require more than twenty minutes and in this event what is to become of the other ten?

* * *

Recently one of the new students lit upon this ingenious method for sharpening his burnishers on the large grindstone. From former experience in sharpening his gravers he had found that twenty-nine days out of thirty he was making nails out of his gravers, while under the hallucination that he was grinding on a flat surface. His moral: Sharpen your gravers every thirtieth day as the other twenty-nine the grindstone reserves for burnishers.

* * *

It is estimated that twenty-three students (including myself) are without work-bench vises. It is certainly a presumption to make a student entertain the fallacy that he can be a watch maker without a vise. It may sound ridiculous but he could just as well be without a lathe and try cutting with a knife.

Briefly one student has expressed himself on the situation ably as follows, "We are allowed eighteen months to complete the course, twelve months to be spent hunting for an instructor, four months in mastering the art of turning a flat graver on a cylindrical grindstone, and two months of watch work."

Lorin Blair has completed his course and accepted a position in Columbia, Tenn.

J. A. Loveland left Monday for his home in Kalamazoo, Mich., where he will visit during the week.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Students who attended the "Get Together" party in the conservatory last Thursday night were well satisfied with the royal time which was shown them. The party was put on by the Social Club of the Conservatory of which Mary Thompson is president and Mary Armstrong is acting secretary.

Spin the plate was the game most enjoyed at the party and a great deal of mirth was aroused by the spectacle of Mr. Stead or Mr. Murray running frantically across the room and grabbing for the plate. Charades Jeruselum and other games were also played and were followed by the serving of refreshments.

The Social Club is expecting to have another good time in November and before that time it is expected that a large number of students will become members of the Club.

Students wishing to become members of the Social Club should see Mary Armstrong or Miss Fahnestock at the Conservatory office. The membership is limited to students over 16 years of age.

* * *

Owing to illness the recital to be given by Kenneth Stead has been postponed. The definite date will be announced later.

* * *

Mr. Murray spends Wednesdays and Thursdays in Pekin and Canton where he instructs large classes in the violin.

TECH AND OLIVE SECONDS DUPLICATE FEAT OF REGULARS

NEAT EXHIBITION ENDS IN 0-0 DRAW—COACH JOHN WELL PLEASED

Yannigans Possess Strength—Stellar Roles Assumed by Ruch and Hoswell

With blood in their eyes and with their hearts set on accomplishing what the regulars had been unable to do, the Lombard seconds pranced onto the Bradley field Saturday only to face the same stiff resistance that so stupefied Coach Schissler and his band Friday afternoon. The same spirit characterized the play of the Bradley second team and inspired them as they battled for sixty long minutes without a score.

The grudge was fought out on a slippery field and under a drizzle of rain which fell throughout the entire playing time. Each team was likewise handicapped by the wet pigskin, in the handling of which many costly fumbles were made.

Realizing that a single slip might cost either of them the game, the members of the two elevens at once settled down and put on, to the satisfaction of the fair crowd of shiverling spectators, a great exhibition.

"All-Americans" Threaten

Lombard kicked off to Captain Ruch and his mates, who promptly started a goal-ward march in which Kuykendall and Hindle were the chief figures. They were halted on the 30 yard line. On the fourth down Coach Johnson's yearlings attempted a drop-kick, which fell slightly short of its mark.

In the second quarter the "All-Americans" were even closer to their goal. Ruch, off with one of Bostic's punts, frustrated the Lombard safetyman who permitted the oval to slip through his arms. Ruch recovered the fumble on the visitors' 20 yard line. Hindle and Kuykendall then gained eight yards on line smashes; and on the third play, which was an attempted forward pass, Haucock threw a scare into the bleachertes by intercepting the ball and making a mad dash for the far end of the field.

Hoswell Saves the Day

A clear field was open to the Lombard fullback. He looked good for a touchdown. It would undoubtedly have so resulted had not one Bradley youngster, who answers to the name of James Hoswell, undertaken to run him down. Fifty yards they raced until Hoswell dived at his opponent and laid him low on the Bradley 20 yard line. Here the Lombard outfit made several vicious attacks, but not a yard would Coach Johnson's proteges yield. Lombard's resort to a drop-kick was not successful as the ball missed registering, being swerved in its course by the wind.

During the rest of the performance the ball see-sawed back and forth in midfield, neither team being able to endanger the other's goal. In the final period the Universalists cut loose with an aerial attack, but this method was likewise foiled so closely did the Bradley ends and backs cover their opponents. Only one pass was successfully completed.

Ruch Proves Great Fighter

At the bottom of every play and a dominant factor in checking Lombard's over-head assailments was Captain Alan Ruch. He kept the spirit of his mates flaming by his brilliant work, and not a gain was made through the middle line. Guards Cortelyou and Eliff were also prominent on the defense. With Krablin and Johnson at ends and Stuber and Fritz at tackles it is no wonder that the Lombard backs were often thrown for losses on attempting wide runs.

Bostic out-punted his adversary practically every time. Hoswell's speed was responsible for many a yard, as was the line-plunging of Hindle and Kuykendall. Hindle also performed commendably on defense.

In charge of the visiting lads was Turner, regular fullback on the Olive institution's varsity eleven. Of the youngsters whom he elected to play, Nestor, Foster and Hancock, on the defense, and Stevenson, Martin and Reed, on the defense, showed up best.

The Summary

Bradley		Lombard
Krablin	L. E.	Foodish
Stuber	L. T.	Graham
Eliff	L. G.	Stevenson

attempted place-kick was blocked by Koepping and Meinen, and the game was tied.

Spotlight!

Each of the thirteen Bradley players who took part in that memorable struggle comes in for his share of the honors for the team's remarkable showing. The line, from end to end, was a bulwark, while time after time Rogers, Purlee and Allen broke up Lombard's end runs. On one occasion, Allen torn in and "nailed" the fleet-eared Lamb for a fifteen yard loss. In his first college game Koepping did brilliant work.

Largely responsible for holding the Lombard aggregation to a low score and keeping the Tech out of danger was the great punting of Friedrich. In each exchange of punts Bradley benefited by yards. The Chillicothe lad used good judgment, too, in his calling of plays. To Johnny Brewer, subbing for Bradley's running ace, "Bunny" Gross, who is still disabled, is due no little credit. He was a big figure in the few Bradley passes executed. Correll and Captain Babcock share honors in carrying the brunt of the Tech's offensive burdens.

In the entire game Coach Robertson substituted only two men, Purlee replacing Rogers, who sprained an ankle in the fray, and Eliff relieving Zierton when the latter sustained an injury to his leg. The numerous substitutions by the Lombard mentor were apparently made in an effort to wear out Robbie's courageous crew.

The teams took the field in the following formation:

Bradley	Pos.	Lombard
Rogers	L. E.	Munson
Meinen	L. T.	Thompson
Zierton	L. G.	Faulkner
Siminski	Center	Stabler
Koepping	R. G.	Kasper
Barrett	R. T.	Strickland
Allen	R. E.	(Capt.) King
Freidrich	Q. B.	Lamb
Correll	L. H. B.	Murphy
Brewer	R. H. B.	Swanson
Babcock (C.)	F. B.	Turner

Substitutions — (Bradley) Purlee for Rogers, Eliff for Zierton, Zierton for Eliff, Eliff for Zierton; (Lombard) Swanson for King, Stetson for Strickland, Steine rfor Kasper, Strickland for Stetson, Hart for Faulkner, Faulkner for Hart, Kasper for Faulkner, King for Munson, Jones for Murphy, Murphy for Jones, Hummell for Turner.

Score by quarters—

3 Hendy lathes.
1 Pratt and Whitney lathe.
1 Rockford drill.
1 LaSalle surface grinder.
1 Besley disc grinder.
1 Warner Sawsey turret lathe.

This machinery was used by the government during the war. Some of it is almost new as many of the machines were turned out almost too late for use. With the close of the war many machine shops and government schools were closed, leaving a lot of machinery on hand. As the government could not get a good price on this machinery they decided to send it out over the country for educational purposes. One of these first shipments came to Bradley and consisted of one carload.

This machinery will be invaluable to Bradley as it is a better and of later type than the majority of Bradley machine. Very few schools have such complete equipment for students to work on as Bradley now has. The Warner Sawsey turret lathe is an asset of which even larger schools can not boast. All these machines have been installed with the other equipment in the north vocational building. This addition was indeed welcome for there was on hand an excess of old machinery. It has now been removed and the new installed in its place. This makes possible the handling of more students and enables the instructors and the students to produce work of a higher grade.

This machinery is not being used for any special purpose or by any particular classes but is open to the use of any student registered in machine work. A large supply of tools have also just been received.

That the equipment has been installed in such a short period of time is due to the persistent efforts of Mr. Alley.

FEDERAL BOARD MEN BECOME ORGANIZED AT BRADLEY INSTITUTE

MAY BE CLOSELY AFFILIATED WITH NATIONAL ORDER OF THE GUN AND BLADE

During the past week the Veterans' Bureau men met for the purpose of organizing for mutual benefit. A temporary organization was effected, to be followed by one of permanent nature. Those responsible plan that the local should be affiliated with the national order of the Gun and Blade.

The Gun and Blade exists for the purpose of aiding ex-service men and for their benefit and weal. An affiliation with this national body will mean much for the Veterans at Bradley.

The temporary officials elected at the meeting were:

McDonald—President.
Rowe—Vice-president.
Rand—Secretary.
Butterfield—Treasurer.
Levinski—Sergeant-at-arms

BRADLEY'S HOMECOMING

Students of last year will remember the Homecoming Day, the day when all Bradley united in putting on the most complete celebration ever carried out on the campus. The monster parade, the football victory won in the mud and slush of the gridiron, the banquet and most of all the spirit shown by the students in their co-operation with the committees in charge, all served to give the day a distinction which is rarely found among celebrations of the common variety.

Homecoming Day was a success last year not only because the committee in charge was made up of men and women of ideas and ability but also because the whole student body got behind the thing and pushed.

The general committee for this year's Homecoming has been appointed. Only a little more than two weeks for them to prepare for the Day of Days in the callender of the college. Two weeks to prepare for the reception of the Wesleyan gridders, two weeks to prepare for a celebration that will rival a Roman holiday in the minds of the students.

More committees will be appointed; students will be asked to give their time and labor to make the day a success. New ideas are at a premium. Two weeks is a short time to do what should and will be done but with the work of last year's committees as a precedent and the success of last year's Homecoming as a mark to shoot at it is not only possible but also probable that when the last of the cheering is done and the last horn is blown all concerned will pat themselves on the back and say, "It's a good job well done."

COACH ROBERTSON'S BAND JOURNEYS TO JACKSONVILLE SAT.

BACKFIELD SHATTERED — CAPTAIN BABCOCK AND BUNNY GROSS OUT OF GAME.

Harmon's Tribe Expected to Give Fighting Indians a Good Run.

For the fourth start in the 1922 football schedule Coach Robertson's band of huskies will have to invade foreign territory. The second invasion of the season takes the Tech squad to Jacksonville where the Illinois college eleven will be the foe, next Saturday.

Very little has been learned concerning the Harmon aggregation except that they battled the strong Normal University team to a 0 to 0 tie last week, at Normal. That fact, however, has slight bearing on the outcome of Saturday's struggle, because the down-staters are out to atone for the 20 to 0 defeat Bradley handed them last year. Coach Robertson will spare no efforts this week in preparation for a hard fight, for he realizes that his men are going to have no easy proposition on their hands.

Tech Backfield "Jinxed."

Coach Robertson's hopes to present again an intact backfield combination were shattered last week when both "Bunny" Gross and Captain Babcock were injured. Gross had to be carried from the field early in the second quarter of the St. Viator game. He suffers a severely wrenched knee which may cause him to be out of the lineup for a three-week period.

Babcock's injury, a sprained ankle, though not so serious as that to the peerless Gross, is not to be regarded lightly; for the services of the towering line-plunger can be ill spared at this time. Hoswell, by-reason of his great showing Saturday, will probably fill in at the fullback post until Babcock is sufficiently recovered to resume his old position behind the forward wall.

The mighty Tech right end, "Red" Allen, was also roughly treated by the Irish. His injuries consist of a bruised appendage and a sore back. It is hoped that Allen will be able to play in the Illinois College game. If not, Purlee will serve at the right extremity.

Rogers Shows Improvement.

Clarence Rogers, star end, who sustained torn ligaments in the ankle in the Lombard game, is improving steadily. For a while yet he will need the help of crutches to get about. Rogers watched the St. Viator game from the players' bench.

With an eleven more or less patched-up, perhaps, but with a reserve force that is fast developing, the Tech coaches and Manager Strayer depart early Saturday for Jacksonville. Robbie's men stand a splendid chance of going through the season undefeated and will not permit the southern college representatives to thwart them in their aims.

DR. WINFIELD SCOTT HALL GIVES TALKS IN BRADLEY CHAPEL

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE—HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING IN P. M.

Is Student of Social Problems—Brought to Bradley Thru Agency of Y. M. C. A.

One of the most interesting and instructive lectures of the year was given the students of Bradley when they were addressed by Dr. Winfield Scott Hall in the chapel, Monday afternoon. The subject of Dr. Hall's remarks was the development of the social side of man from the earliest primitive mankind of which we have any knowledge, to the civilization of the present day with its complex social system. Social development was traced through successive stages by Dr. Hall who pictured the life lived by the savage cave man ten thousand years ago. He also pointed out the prime influences which were instrumental in lifting man from the low plains of savagery to the high level of civilization reached during the period of the Christian era commonly referred to as the "age of chivalry."

Dr. Hall gave a special talk to the young men of the College at three thirty o'clock in the afternoon, and another to the young women at four fifteen o'clock. These talks contained to facts vital in the life of every College man and woman.

Dr. Hall is a medical teacher, writer, and lecturer of international fame. He is at present at the head of the medical department of Northwestern University. He has long been a student of social problems and is peculiarly fitted by his long experience, to lecture on the subject. Dr. Hall was brought to Bradley through the influence of the Bradley Y. M. C. A.

A Girl's Athletic Association meeting was held in Room 12, Monday noon, for the purpose of electing officers. It was announced that tryouts would be held this week for the swimming teams.

Regular girl's swimming teams are a new thing at Bradley. It is hoped that all girls who can swim or dive will try out with Miss Ewald this week.

The girls who were elected to hold office are all very capable and under their leadership the G. A. A. is sure to have a very successful year. The results of the election are: Stella La Follette, president; Clara Cornell, secretary; Mable Green, treasurer.

MR. VACHEL LINDSAY GIVES READING OF POEMS TO STUDENTS

POEM "JOHNNY APPLESEED" IS WELL RECEIVED BY MEMBERS OF AUDIENCE.

Brought to Peoria by Central Christian Church—One of Leading Contemporary Poets.

Mr. Vachel Lindsay, considered by many to be the foremost contemporary American poet, gave a reading of one of his poems before the student body of Bradley in the chapel Monday morning. The subject of the poem was "Johnny Appleseed," a picturesque character in the pioneer history of the middle west. The poem deals with the events in the life of this pioneer whose gift to mankind consisted of numerous orchards which he planted with his own hands in the wilderness before the coming of the white settlers.

The poem was very well rendered and equally well received by the student body.

In commenting upon the recitation Dr. Burgess recalled the poet's last visit to Bradley eight years ago, and requested Mr. Lindsay to recite again a short "tribute to Mary Pickford," a poem of which he is the author. Mr. Lindsay declined, however, but instead recited a tribute to the City of Peoria.

Vachel Lindsay's poems have been gaining recognition for several years among the educators of this country. He has been brought to this city under the auspices of the Central Christian church of Peoria.

PROF. HANNA WRITES ARTICLE FOR ILLINOIS MEDICAL JOURNAL

"Duty and Obligation of Science to Direct and Wield Public Opinion."

Prof. Joseph V. Hanna, head of the Department of Psychology, is the author of an article entitled "Psychological Fads and Fancies" that appeared in the September number of the Illinois Medical Journal. This article is the print of a speech read by Prof. Hanna before the Peoria City Medical Society on June 16th of this year.

The paper by Prof. Hanna deal with the fad of the so-called scientist who claims much for sciences such as phrenology, and the other so-called "New Thought" movements. The entire trend of Prof. Hanna's paper may be summed up in one paragraph of his dissertation. It reads as follows:

"It is not the province of science to look forward to the time when there will be no psuedo-scientists or quacks. It is the duty and obligation of science, however, to endeavor so to direct and wield constructive public opinion as to make confusion and misinterpretation impossible."

Fumbles Prove Costly to Visitors—Siminski Recovers Slippery Pigskin at Opportune Times—Meinen and Allen Demons on Defense—Hoswell Big Surprise.

Bradley annexed another of its most important games of the season Saturday when the Tech forces triumphed over the St. Viator tribe, 16 to 0, in a contest replete with thrills. The same spirit of fight that carried Coach Robertson's warriors to a great draw with the state champion Lombard eleven two weeks ago was with them when they faced the Irishmen last Saturday.

This victory for Bradley marks the fourth set-back that St. Viator has received here at the hands of Coach Robertson, having been defeated twice at baseball and once at basketball. Saturday's clash on the gridiron between the two schools is also significant in that it is the first in their football history.

Tech Backs Ram Viator Line.

The first quarter started off with a rush. On an exchange of punts and a blocked St. Viator kick the Tech men were early able to approximate their goal. A series of line smashes then by Babcock and Friedrich carried the ball close to the touchdown zone.

Five yards from the goal line, the Tech aggregation changed tactics. On a beautifully executed criss-cross play, Correll to Gross, the latter rushed around left end and galloped over the chalk mark for Bradley's first touchdown. A point was added to the score when Friedrich sent the oval between the uprights.

Score Two More on Safety.

Before the close of the first period the "Indian" again had the Viator tribe backed up to the wall. The Catholic warriors' attempt to send them back via the punt method was frustrated, however, for "Dutch" Meinen cut through the line and so obstructed McGinnis' boot that the ball rolled back and under several automobiles parked at the end of the field. Automatically, the Tech was credited with a safety.

The Poly forces' invincible drive was continued in the second quarter and would undoubtedly have resulted in another counter had the pigskin not been so unruly. On the Saints' fifteen yard line Gross flipped a pass to Correll who had wended his way behind the goal line, but the wet ball slipped through Tommy's arms and to the ground.

Viators Start Rush.

With the ball now on their twenty yard line the Catholics opened up an attack that swept them down the field and into the threatening region. But Siminski's recovery of a fumble on the Bradley twenty yard line halted their rush for the time being.

A few moments later Crangle's men were launching another offensive drive. Their repeated and persistent game around both Tech ends placed the ball within ten yards of the goal. Another opportunity for the Irishmen to score went glimmersin as Barrett intercepted a forward pass, and the half ended.

The Tech huskies' repairing to line smashes at the opening of the second half soon culminated in another touchdown, for which Hoswell, subbing for Captain Babcock who suffered a sprained ankle in the closing moments of the first session, Correll and Friedrich were largely responsible. On reaching the four yard line the ball was given to Hoswell. He pierced the Viator wall and squirmed over the mark for the dark for the touchdown. Friedrich brought the total to 16 when he succeeded in the "try-for-a-point" kick from placement.

Viators Again Threaten.

The visiting team was goalward bound again in the fourth quarter. A series of end runs, made possible by their brilliant interference, put the Saints on the twenty yard line; but the Irish procession was brought to a halt when one of the backfield

MISS CONSTANCE OF ENGLISH DEPARTMENT WRITES ARTICLE

CRITICISM OF DRAMA APPEARS IN SEPTEMBER ISSUE OF "POET LORE."

Writes on "Some Tendencies of the English Speaking Drama—Deals With Familiar Plays.

Among the exclusive articles to be found in the September issue of the Poet Love Magazine is one entitled "Some Tendencies of the English Speaking Drama." The author of this article is no other but the head of the Bradley Department of English, Miss Jennie Constance.

Miss Constance has a Masters degree in English and has been with Bradley for a number of years. It is quite an honor to have an article accepted and printed by such a distinguished and conservative magazine as the "Poet Lore." "Poet Lore" is the oldest and largest review in the English language and is devoted strictly to drama and poetry. Not only is the magazine well circulated and known in America but has quite a large circulation in Great Britain.

Miss Constance's article published in the September issue is a criticism of recent plays staged both in England and America. Many plays familiar to the average college student, are presented, and criticised in a very pleasing manner.

Among those mentioned are "Emperor Jones," which was given at the Majestic theatre last week and drew a full house at every presentation, "Sidlin' Through" had a week's run at the Madison theatre a few weeks ago and was very popular among the Peoria folk. "Main Street," the much discussed novel of recent times by Sinclair Lewis. This novel has caused more criticism and comment in college classes than almost any other novel of the later period. "Bab" and "Nice People" are also included in Miss Constance's article. "Lightnin," starring Frank Bacon, enjoyed a run of sixty weeks in New York and is now in Chicago for a protracted run. "Abraham Lincoln," starring John Drinkwater, originated in England and after a run in English theatres was brought to America. Here it enjoyed long runs in many of the foremost theatres of America's largest cities.

As Miss Constance says "Everybody loves a play," and without doubt everyone agrees with her.

ATHLETICS

Among the largest assets of any school is the athletic teams. Without doubt it attracts more students and gives the name of the school wider circulation among the people of the country than any other single factor. A boy intending to enter a college first compares its athletic record with that of other schools with which he is acquainted; after that he looks over the courses offered. A speech of a Yale professor must be exceedingly unique, radical or shocking to even receive recognition in the great daily papers of the country; a Yale-Iowa football game receives columns of space in the same papers.

Athletics appeal to all the human instincts. Competition, both mental and physical; furnishes the basic element for an athletic contest. The idea of sports for the sake of sport is dying or dead. The idea of sport for spoils of war is becoming the principle upon which all athletics are based. Football players are not putting in their time and risking their lives on the gridiron for the fun of the thing. They are there to make a name for themselves if possible; if not they will at least help to make a name for their school.

Athletics are the main-stay of a college. No curriculum can compare with a championship team in the minds of the general public and it is the general public that is supporting the schools in all their activities.

THE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

The Employment Bureau of Bradley has been on the go ever since the opening of the school year, trying to find jobs and places for certain students and then again to find students to fill certain jobs and positions. They have met with wonderful success so far and have succeeded in placing seventy-five out of one hundred and thirty applications for work.

Many of the jobs consist of after school and Saturday work and still others pertain to work being done in the spare time of the student.

There is much larger vacancy for girls than for boys. The girls work consists mainly of housework. The girls care more for positions as private stenographers than for household work but as there is little demand for unskilled stenographic work the pay is exceedingly low. There are a number of household positions open to girls but it is hard to find girls who want to do this kind of work.

When first coming to school many students get enthused over the idea of working their way thru college. After a few weeks of persistent and maybe hard work they get tired and start to slow down and even go as far as to shirk their work. This makes it hard both on the side of the student and employer and may go against the work of the Employment Burea.

The Employment Bureau tries to the best of its knowledge and ability to locate the certain students in the positions which it seems they will be best able to fill.

The Freshmen have been joked about and hidded ever since their order began. We shall endeavor to break this ancient custom, however, and praise them for what they bring into a school.

Our freshmen girls have pepped up everything into which they have gone. They are like a gust of outdoor air into a stuffy room, freshening up everyone within.

College life is new to them. They are anxious to know about and to join all organizations in the school which are open to them. What older classman has not been eagerly asked by some wide-eyed little "freshie" how to get into some club or other?

That is the type of freshman we need. Not those sophisticated young things who know it all, who drift in now and then. Bradley is fortunate, in having escaped, to a great extent, this latter type.

So, Freshmen, let's see what you can do! Whether you realize it or not, the upper-classmen are watching you, and are interested in your achievements and sympathetic with your failures.

BRADLEY RECEIVES INVITATION TO JOIN ORATORY ASSOCIATION

EXPECTED TO BECOME MEMBER OF STATE ORGANIZATION—SEND DELEGATES

In response to an invitation from the Illinois Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, faculty members of the Institute who are in charge of the Oratory and Debating in the college are considering the proposition of making Bradley a member of the association.

The Illinois Intercollegiate Oratorical Association is the largest organization of its kind in the state, being composed of seven of the important minor colleges. Monmouth, Wesleyan, Augustana, Northwestern College, Eureka, Knox, Illinois College, Mt. Morris are the members of the association at the present time.

A high grade of oratory is developed at the contests of the association, the representative of the state meet being sent to the interstate meet.

Atthe nothing is yet definitely decided it is very likely that Bradley will submit its application for membership to the association at the next meeting which will be the annual Contest and Convention held at Augustana early in November.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

New Veterans Bureau men who have entered Bradley are: John Sayle of Pekin, who is registered in the electrical department. Eugene Jorcas of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who is registered with the teacher training group.

* * *

John Bader, last year a Bradley student, writes from Rochester, Minn., where he is teaching mechanical drawing and printing in the high school. Bader is getting along fine at his new position and seems to be highly enthusiastic over his work. His address is the Y. M. C. A. building, Rochester, Minn.

* * *

Mr. Hurff, instructor in the Mill Work says that a new spirit seems to pervade the atmosphere in the Mill Room. Men who last year were inclined to be laggards (Bradley has some like that yet) seem to be awake and alive to the job.

The new drafting tables that are being installed in our drafting rooms are the product of our mill. Two lockers were made for Miss Mickle. They are of the interlocking type that was worked out in the mill under the direction of Mr. Hurff. Bradley is the only school known to us that has a locker of this type. It is a Bradley product from idea to the finished article.

The Conservatory has ordered a flock of articles, most of which have either been made or are now under way. The English Department has also an order in for desks and chairs which will soon be under construction.

Cabinets for the Home Economics department are also being made.

Mr. Hurff's department is one that says little but works all the time. The motor is rarely idle and the men are working all hours of the day. This is one of the most popular shops of the night school.

* * *

Most of the Manual Arts fellows will recall a tall, lean individual who hailed from Bloomingdale, Indiana, last year. John Coffey was his name. He was the captain of one of the intramural basketball teams. He writes that he is contemplating a return to Bradley next semester. He became homesick last year and returned to Bloomingdale, but now he seems homesick the other way—he wants to get to Bradley again. A close personal friend of John's states that he wouldn't be surprised to get an "announcement" pretty soon. Well, Bradley has had more than one married man on its roll call. Don't be bashful, John.

STEM-WINDER'S WEELLY

With the passing of the recent founder's day celebration in commemoration of the work of Mrs. Lydia Bradley, is brought to us the obligation we are under to our Alma Mater, through our founder. She laid the foundation for one of the greatest horological schools in the world and it is our privilege to be partaking of the opportunities that have been made possible for us.

The obligations which we accept on matriculation pledge us to do our utmost in the furthering of the great work she has started. So henceforth, let's all pull together for a bigger and better horological school, and as a result, a bigger and better Bradley Polytechnic Institute.

The Tech is the medium through which we may express our suggestions or register our criticism for the promotion of this work. It therefore behooves every student, as certainly his privilege and more assuredly his duty, to express his convictions for the betterment of our institution.

* * *

The Tech board wishes to announce a new change in editorship. It is our hope to start a "Round Robin" staff, through which every person who wishes may assemble the copy for one week's editor on his own responsibility. Doyle May and Mason Brock will have charge of the next two issues respectively. This is an excellent training and an opportunity for all to try their literary talent.

* * *

Can you beat this for impudence? At the recent mixer dance Macon danced at least nineteen out of the twenty dances offered and on the remaining dance cached his partner in an inscrutable corner, while ten of us modest batch fakers (plural for watch makers) stood around with folded hands and with a feeling probably similar to that of a bull in a china shop. And then to have the impudence and insolent low-down, double-jointed Brock come around next morning and ask: "Why didn't you dance with my girl last night?" Can you beat it?

* * *

Since it is the duty of every editor to speak nought but the truth, it behooves me to give warning to Mr. Greyhouse's "wife" to prohibit him from attending any more of our faculty dinners. At the latter mentioned affair Messrs. Greyhouse and Brock conducted themselves shamefully, so the story goes. It seems after dinner apples were offered and true to the above gentlemen's reputation, they enticed a number of our liberal arts instructors (of the fairer sex) to engage in a game of "catch," (so they called it) and then after the heretofore named gentlemen had all the "catches" in their hands they called "King's Ex," and then boasted about "how easy some women are." However, we understand that Mr. Greyhouse "caught" something besides apples Friday evening.

* * *

We welcome the following new men filing:

Max Gumbardner, Wapello, Iowa; Donald Hauffman, Columbus Grove, Ohio; E. L. Stephenson, Peoria, Ill.

* * *

The latter named conceived an idea by which he could hasten his stay in the department. Namely, by taking his tools home for polishing, which he did, and is now searching the street railway company for said tools, but meanwhile he has made a new start on his chosen career.

* * *

Word has been received of the marriage of Lemuel Galbraith and Glenn Hobbs. Both have many friends in the school who extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith will make their home at Pana, Ill., where Mr. Galbraith holds a position, while Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs will go to Champaign, Ill.

* * *

The night school students in jewelry welcome Dean Westlake back to the teaching staff, as he is now assisting Mr. Clafy with the evening instruction.

H. H. Gross of Mattoon, Ill., and Don C. Rotherberger of Delphi, Ind., have enrolled in the engraving dept.

* * *

Art De Gree is in placement training at Minneapolis, Minn.

* * *

Carl Jackson visited us on his way to placement training at St. Louis. Carl attended the Winters school of engarving the past nine months.

* * *

Vern Hoyell has returned to take up his work after an absence of several weeks.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

On Tuesday evening, Mr. Kenneth Stead gave a song recital in Bradley Hall accompanied by Miss Adelaide White. He sang a musical program before an enthusiastic audience.

* * *

In the Recital Hall of the Conservatory every Tuesday at 5 o'clock are held student recitals or lectures given by different members of the faculty. Any student or friend is invited to attend.

* * *

The class in Musical Appreciation is very large. Those taking this course feel they are learning much about the world's best music that every educated person should know.

* * *

On Thursday of this week, Oct. 26, every faculty member, student, or musician in the city of Peoria interested in forming a large chorus are asked to meet with Mr. Franklin Stead in the Recital Hall. Mr. Stead hopes to have a chorus large enough to present "Elijah" or some other orotorio by May. Regular rehearsal will begin the first Monday night in November.

NEW BRADLEY SONGS

Students, clip the words of these two new Bradley songs and put them in your pocket. Both words and music were written by a former student of Bradley. The music is being transcribed for the band and soon you will either want to sing or whistle the tunes with the band. Before the season is over, every student ought to know these two songs. Sing if you can, if not, whistle for Bradley.

Bradley, we sing of abiding loyalty,
Gratitude to thee,
Lasting love for thee.
Obedience ever to thy mandates
Justly given.
Keep us ever true,
Filled with love anew.
Brothers (Sisters), united for thee,
Pledge, pledge,
Pledge our loyalty.

Inauguate Song or Yell Contest for College Rooters

A "song or yell' contest is now being inaugurated among the student body, the purpose of which will be to secure one or more good songs or yells for use at the college activities such as games, pep meetings, and other gatherings where noise or music is an important factor.

Songs or yells submitted must be original and must never have before appeared in any publication or used by any other school. The contest closes on November 1 and no entries will be received after that time. Competent judges will be chosen to pass on the merits of all the manuscripts submitted and a prize will be awarded to the writer of the best selection.

Many contestants are expected to enter the contest in an effort to provide good songs and yells for the college. The best contributions will be published in the Tech. The Bradley Book Shop is sponsoring the idea and will award the prize.

P. D. MIXER DANCE HELD IN GYMNASIUM ---WAS BIG SUCCESS

MUSIC FURNISHED BY KAHN'S ORCHESTRA—DANCING ENJOYED WHOLE EVENING

Friday night was a gala night for all those attending the mixer held in the gymnasium. The P. O. mixer was a big success from beginning to end and every one, of the hundred and fifty, attending enjoyed a very sociable evening.

At this mixer the direction was not towards a social gathering but rather a get acquainted meeting that is, to see how many new people you could meet.

Kahn's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing, which was enjoyed from eight o'clock to eleven o'clock.

PHYSICAL CULTURE CLASSES PROBABLY TO MEET THIS WEEK

All Participators in Intramural and Major Sports to Be Examined.

Now that the physical examinations are under way, Physical Director Johnson is organizing the men into groups for gymnasium work. The first classes will probably be held the latter part of this week.

Not only those who are required to take gymnasium work but also those who want to participate in the intramural and major sports, must submit to these examinations. By so testing the students the department of physical education purposes to correct abnormal conditions of the body and to prescribe for each individual beneficial exercises that will help him to eradicate his ills.

BRADLEY BACKFIELD PLOWS INTO ST. VIATOR FOR WIN

ball-carriers permitted the leather to slip from under his arm. Siminski was watching the ball closely and pulled it down, thus marring any hopes that the Irishmen may have had of scoring on that occasion.

Toward the close of the period a long forward pass from McGinnis to Barrett netted Crangle's gridders a twenty yard gain, but the spurt was short-lived. They were unable to hold the Tech forwards from breaking through and nailing the backs in their tracks. When the final whistle sounded the ball was in St. Viator's possession on their ten yard line.

From the Bradley viewpoint Allen's remarkable performance at end, Meinen's stalwart game at tackle and the center trio's line work were particularly outstanding. Each of the backfield men played high grade football as did the several substitutes whom Coach Robertson sent in during the final quarter as relief for regulars.

Winterhalter at halfback, O'Connor at fullback and McGinnis at at quarterback on the offense, and Barret at left end on defense, were the headliners for the St. Viator eleven.

Summary:

Bradley	Pos.	St. Viator
Hindle	L. E.	Barrett
Meinen	L. T.	L. Murphy
Zierton	L. G.	Best
Siminski	Center	Reincke

College co-eds in Peoria are no longer forbidden to go to the leading dance halls, it became known from a reliable source yesterday. This action was expected by dance hall officials as recent investigations by the civic organizations of the city placed their Okey on the dancing places.

According to officials of the Inglaterra dance hall, student representatives from the college recently visited that dance hall and found no fault in the matter of general order maintained.—Adv.

Coach Robertson's clan is to face here Saturday a team which has the reputation of being the greatest "in and outers" in the state, but that team, when it meets the Red and White, invariably seem to be "inners." Illinois State Normal University is that team and they have so far this season lived up to their reputation.

Against Lincoln College, the team that the Tech thumped 60 to 6, the Teachers are said to have looked not much stronger than an average high school team. The score was 6 to 2, Normal. The next week the Normalites showed a complete reversal of form and held the Illinois College eleven to a scoreless tie. Just last Saturday the Teachers almost upset Coach Ralph McKenzie's formidable Eureka tribe. The score, 10 to 5, indicates that the Eureka collegians had to extend themselves the limit.

Normalites Formidable.

Although their play may be characteristically spasmodical, the Teachers are invading the Tech camp this week end in a revengeful attitude. They present a strong lineup and will be over here fighting for every inch.

In the lad Dominetta, whose punts have been a feature of every game, Coach Russell of State Normal has a "find." The big Italian boy is touted as one of the best punters to be found among the I. I. A. C. His kicks average close to fifty yards and are of the beautiful spiral variety. Jean Harrison is another of the veteran Normal backs whose playing has been sensational.

AUTHORITIES AWARD GOLD EMBLEMS TO MEMBERS OF WINNING '22 TRACK TEAM

Like Award Given to All Teams Having Clean Slate.

In accordance with their offer made last year, to give to every member of a championship team a gold emblem or charm, the Institute authorities are soon to award the 1922 track team with beautiful miniature gold track shoes. The Tech trackmen are entitled to these handsome awards by virtue of their emerging undefeated last spring, though the margin of victory in the case of Eureka was but one wee point.

The same rule governs other athletic teams as well. Every member of a Red and White team which succeeds in coming through the season with a clean slate will receive, in addition to the sweater and the "B," an emblem or a charm of gold. For the grid men that means a gold football; for the indoor pastimers, a good basketball; for the trackmen, a gold track shoe; and for the baseball artists, a baseball of the precious metal.

To date the football team has almost achieved the half way mark in its search of the glistening emblems. One of an athlete's most treasured possessions is a gold football charm, to win which this fall the Bradley gridders have still a hard road to travel.

BRADLEY'S ANNUAL "Y" PAJAMA PARADE TO BE STAGED HALLOWE'EN

REFRESHMENTS TO BE SERVED AT GYM—BAND WILL HEAD PROCESSION ABOUT TOWN.

Committees Already Appointed—Paraders to Attend Second Show at Orpheum.

The annual pajama parade will be started on Monday evening, October 30, at 7:30 o'clock. This event is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., but is open to all the men students of the Institute.

The parade forms at the gym at 7:30 and there will have their eats, consisting of apples, doughnuts and cider. From there the line will proceed to the down town district, headed by the band, and will visit the various clubs, hotels and other public places there which the band will serenade.

This annual event has always been one of the greatest happenings in the school year. Last year, over 200 men were in the line of march and it is hoped that there will be four hundred this year.

But the most important event of this parade is the second show at the Orpheum. Practically the entire down stairs is reserved for the Masqueraders and there is then a "Bradley Night" at the show. All the performers join to make the event more enjoyable.

After the show the parade will break up officially.

The committees in charge of the affair are:

Ticket and Eats Committee—Ross Snare, chairman; Gail Warner; Marshall Curtiss, Paul Diefenderfer.

Publicity Committee—Ted Voorhees, Irl Garnett, Glenn Schaeffer.

Director Rose of the band has promised that they will lead the parade. This would be an innovation as never before has there been a band in the parade.

Everyone is requested to bring all the noise-making instruments available, the louder the better. Any old clapbans, auto horns, klaxons, or anything that makes noise will be used by the paraders.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP INCREASES AS RESULT OF DIVISION MEETING

OFFICERS MEET AT PEORIA Y. M. C. A. TO LAY PLANS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR.

Organization Has Been Very Prominent Both in Social and Educational Events.

Membership in the Y. M. C. A. is slowly increasing since the divisional membership meeting held in the cafeteria a few weeks ago. At the present time there are 35 active and 10 associate members or a total of 45 members who have signed and turned in the membership cards.

The student Y. M. C. A. is one of the most active of the student organizations. Speakers of national and international fame have been brought before the student body through the instrumentality of the "Y." Dr. Winfield Scott Hall was the first of a number of speakers which the "Y" is planning to bring.

To lay plans for the remainder of the year the officers and committeemen of the "Y" are to have a meeting at the Peoria Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night of this week. A cafeteria supper will be served and the meeting will be addressed by Owen E. Spence, state student secretary.

Officers of the organization at Bradley are Herman Blensfort, president; Ross Snare, vice-president, and Wayne Buckler, secretary and treasurer.

—B. P. I.—

BEAT WESLEYAN!

THAT PAJAMA PARADE

Here it is, back again. Mr. Y. M. C. A. himself is sponser for the statement that on next Monday eve, Hallowe'en eve to be exact the loyal sons of Mrs. Bradley will array themselves in their snore clothes and troop to the gym where they will themselves with the festive apple and the sodden sinket, put themselves under the leadership of an amateur top kick who will herd them in line with the rest of the prospects. After the line is properly drawn and the general is determined by a free-for-all fight the advance upon the city will begin. Walking, riding, sliding and crawling down hill to the tune of cheers and groans the band of Bradleyites will reach the town at the foot of the hill where they will lay protracted siege to traffic, business houses, clubs, and theatres.

After a few hours of carousing all the white-robed army still in the ranks will attend the Orpheum theatre where especial attention will be given to keeping them quiet. After this little diversion the party officially splits up.

The "Y" officials hint that enough ready cash is on hand to provide ball for any one who is snared by the long arm of the law but do not advocate lawlessness.

The best part of the whole works is that it is open to all the students for the buying of a 65 cent ticket from any of the "Y" officers. They ask that all paraders wear pajamas or anything.

NEW SYSTEM USED TO ELECT MANAGERS FOR ATHLETIC TEAMS

ELLIS G. FRIEDRICH TO LEAD BRADLEY BASKET CAGERS THROUGH SEASON OF 1922-23.

The Bradley Athletic committee has evolved a new system of athletic managership election whereby, from those whose nominations are handed into the committee, one is elected actual manager and three as assistant managers. This recently adopted method is similar in nature to that employed in the large colleges and universities.

In a late issue of the "School and College Cafeteria" magazine an article appeared which was headed "Correct Diet for School Children." The article was written by Miss Geraldine S. HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

All Sons and Daughters of Bradley. GREETINGS.

By presidential proclamation (T. C. B.'s) be it known that SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, has been set aside as DER TAG when all loyal Sons and Daughters, Step-Sons and Step-Daughters of old B. P. I. shall COME HOME.

There is dire need for you here, for on that day eleven of our breed wearing the old Red and White will meet eleven invaders wearing the despised green and white of the descendents of John Wesley. IT WILL BE A BATTLE TO STIR THE BLOOD OF THE MOST SLUGGISH! Would you miss it. Last year our valiant pigskin chasers pushed the faces of the Methodists in the mud on their own field on their own home-coming day. S'blood. They're out for revenge. Nuff Sed.

There is pleasure for you here, for on that day there will be other big doings; one of those famous Bradley parades will start shortly after noon. Plan to have your car in line.

Music—the new, big, snappy Bradley Band will fill the air with harmony, and the big time will be "HAIL! HAIL! THE GANG'S ALL HERE."

Stunts, stunts, stunts will be pulled off before and during the game.

Food—hot and savory will be handed out after the game in the cafeteria to warm you and make you comfortable.

AND—after that the gymnasium will be filled with the strains and sweet music and the sound of dancing feet.

COME ON HOME—Get your hand shake working and your smile oiled up to meet the grads and ex-students, old and young. Take a look at the best little college in the state—three years a full fledged college and already a student body—arts and sciences—of 450—third among the state minor colleges; seads of would-be musicians in the conservatory, and a bigger and harder gang of Horologs and Vocational men than ever before.

COME ON HOME—See the team that held Lombard 6-6 and beat St. Viator 16-0. Help make it four straight victories over Wesleyan. They have never beaten us on Bradley Field. Greet the Profs.—big and little, from "Commy" down to "Doc" Swalm. Slap the Deans on the back and offer them "smokes" (just the men deans of course); take tea with the women deans or invite them down to the movies or the Inglaterra.

THE LATCH STRING WILL BE OUT—THE CAMPUS WILL BE YOURS.

Homecomingly yours,
THE COMMITTEE.

Above is a copy of the letter which the Homecoming Committee is sending out to Alumni of Bradley as an invitation to attend Homecoming Day at Bradley. Will it bring 'em?

BRADLEY STUDENTS AND ALUMNI TO CO-OPERATE IN THE CELEBRATION OF HOMECOMING DAY, NOVEMBER 4th

FEATURE OF DAY TO BE FOOTBALL CONTEST BETWEEN BRADLEY AND WESLEYAN—AUTO PARADE THRU DOWNTOWN DISTRICT ALSO PLANNED.

Event Largely Advertised Thruout Country—Mr. Gant Chairman of General Committee—Dance and Refreshments at Gymnasium in Evening.

Home Coming Day for the Alumni of B. P. I. bids fair to be unrivaled by any previous event of this nature ever held on the hill top campus. The Committee in charge of the program for the day has announced that their plans are nearing completion and that no detail will be overlooked in making the day unequalled in the memory of every Bradley Student and Aluminus.

The day's program as the Committee has planned it will open at 12:30 with an auto parade through the business district of the city. To make this feature a success it will be necessary for every available car to be in the parade and every car filled with students. Any student who has been in one or seen one of the parades, know what it means. It is to remind Peoria that her "College on the Hill" is celebrating.

The next event will begin at 3 o'clock when the Bradley football team meets Illinois Wesleyan, their old gridiron rivals. In view of the fact that both teams boast championship timber this year the struggle promises to be a classic, and officials are preparing to accommodate the largest crowd of spectators ever attracted to the athletic field to witness a football game. The Bradley Band will be on hand with its best tunes to enliven the periods between play.

In the evening refreshments will be served in the Social Hall of the Gymnasium and following this will be a dance which is to be the final feature on the program. Throughout the entire evening there will be a variety of games to guard against any dull moments in the evening's entertainment.

The Home Coming Committee headed by Mr. A. E. Gaut has availed itself of every possible means to let the Alumni of Bradley know that a warm welcome awaits them. The columns of the newspapers will be used. Personal invitations will be given where possible, and to those who cannot be reached by either of these means a letter has been sent. The success of the event now depends largely upon the student body and the co-operation in the final details will insure a successful day.

FIRST MEETING OF FRENCH CLUB PROVES MOST SUCCESSFUL

DINNER SERVED IN TRUE FRENCH STYLE—ENJOY FRENCH GAMES.

Social Gathering Followed By Business Meeting at Which Officers Were Elected.

The first meeting of the French Club was held Thursday evening, October 19, in the Social Hall.

The meeting was in the form of a French restaurant, with French money, cartes de jour, and "garcons." Dinner was served in true French style, even the "garcons" doing their part by talking in French.

In the south car or the hall was used, being divided from the other end by screens, and making a very cozy room, especially effective when lit by only the firelight and the candles on the tables.

After dinner the business meeting was held, and the officers for this year were decided upon. They are as follows:

President—Miss Elsie White.
Vice President—Edwin G. Wiley.
Secretary—Gladys Hedstrom.
Treasurer—Mahle Green.
Pianist—Ruth Dixon.
Chairman Social Committee—Jas. Rose.

After the business meeting ice cream and cake was served. Also a game of jumble French words was played, Wayne Buckley winning the prize. The meeting was closed with the singing of several French songs.

DR. C. E. COMSTOCK'S NEW BOOK NEARS COMPLETION

Series of Four Books Now Perfected and Ready for Use.

With the completion of Dr. C. E. Comstock's new book, "Advanced Course in Algebra for High Schools," the series of four books will be complete. The new book is coming along very nicely and will be off the press for use next year. The arrangement of this algebra is different than the other high school algebras and the work is presented in a very pleasing manner and orderly form. It includes a chapter on mathematical strategy and tactics, something that can not be found in other algebras.

The other books are all off the press. Mathematics for high school has been in use a number of years and the other two books "Algebra" and "Solid Geometry," have come off the press more recently.

FRESHMEN TO RECEIVE HONOR.

A new method of acknowledging the standing of the Freshmen who receive the highest grades will be taken at the end of the semester by the faculty. It consists in having the names of the tenth of the Freshmen class who stand highest in their scholarship printed in the Tech at the end of the semester. This is the first time this has ever been attempted and it is thought that it will prove an added incentive to the freshmen to maintain a high standard throughout the year.

WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 25, 1922.

THE ROOTERS' CLUB

The newly formed rooters' club is one of the few school organizations to which every student owes his active support. It was started for the purpose of arousing the spirit of the student body to give support to the foot ball team. Only a few days after its founding it gave the football team one of the best send-offs that has ever been the good fortune for a Bradley team to receive.

The rooters' club is, however, capable of doing many greater things than giving organized cheers. It has enough members to support any activity leading to the betterment of the college. The club could be a powerful factor if used to the success of Homecoming Day. School affairs both social and political might be bettered by the club. Plays like the "Midsummer Nights Dream" of last year would be more assured of success if they had the backing of a strong all-student organization. Even class periods, holidays, library hours, and chapel services might come under its influence.

As yet there is no body at Bradley which takes an active interest in school affairs except the Student Council and it is limited chiefly to legislative duties. There are great possibilities for an organization as strong as the rooters' club to become a powerful factor for the upbuilding of Bradley.

NAVY DAY

Overburdened with a multitude of "Days" such as Pire Prevention Day, Swat the Fly Day, Do a Good Turn Day, and even Eat an Orange Day the average American experiences no thrill when he learns that the Navy League of the United States with the approval of the Navy Department has inaugurated a new day, "Navy Day" which will be observed thruout the country on Friday, October 27th.

The Navy rendered vital service to the nation and to humanity during the World War. No great fleet action was fought to give spectacular emphasis to its vital contribution to the victory. But the convoy, the anti-submarine patrol, the mine barrage were essential factors in the winning of the war and the saving of civilization. So it has been in every crisis of our history—the Navy has not failed. In the revolution, the War of 1812, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, victory without the Navy would have been virtually impossible. Today our peace and prosperity are safeguarded by the Navy. It is an agent of stability in a troubled world. It carries no threat, but it lends authority to America's voice, speaking for altruism, justice and law.

Those who proposed the celebration of Navy Day, who urge upon you what they believe to be an opportunity of patriotic service, are advocates of peace. They believe in and support the policy of reduction of armaments by agreement but reject as absurd the fatuity of disarmament by example. Living in the world of reality they would foster the instrument of their security while looking forward to the realization of the ideal not yet attained when the only security needed by mankind shall rest in the hearts and minds of men and nations.

———B. P. I.———

The Juniors here have made no attempts toward organization yet. Even sovietism a la Trotsky would be welcome to most of them. They want some one to blame for their inactivity.

Cats! There are all kinds of these animals from alley-cats, tiger cats, angora cats, to human cats.

The first three types I have mentioned are only slightly dangerous (unless a dog appears while you have one of the same variety in your arms) compared to the fourth. This last type of cat is decidedly unpleasant, but is met with very frequently among girls and men. Yes, there are male cats but we dare not stop to discuss them in this column. Anyway, we don't want to lose all the boy friends we have.

Perhaps we shouldn't classify them as a type, for all girls treat themselves to catty remarks at times. If anyone is doubtful let them drop in the Y. W. Room while a cosy chat is in progress. The remarks passed on some absent member is enough to make the chills run up and down one's spine.

Most of the girls consider the source and take these remarks for what they're worth and thus many reputations are saved.

This week's good one is told by Margaret Cation who, for the past year, was a teacher in one of the Peoria Public Schools.

Said Miss Cation to her class, "Yes, children, all the able-bodied men who could leave their families enlisted in the army. Now, can any of you tell me what motives took them to the front?"

Bright Boy (triumphantly) "Locomotives!"

Looks as if Mr. Marvin spoke the truth when he said half of the Bradley girls would have their pictures in the paper before the year was over. A certain paper should have wide circulation among the Bradley folks.

Some lucky man up in Chicago has won our poet, Agnes Smith. Miss Smith has been doing settlement work in the big city this fall. Who the man is, is a mystery. Dorothy Dunn received a letter from Agnes in which she merely stated in an offhand way she was married. Best wishes and luck, Agnes.

* * *

Two more marriages among Bradley folks have been discovered. Mary B. Lorenson married Glen C. Hobbs of Ripon, Wisconsin. Dorothy Smith of Peoria married O. Wm. (Ed.) Baekken. Both couples attended Bradley last year.

He: "Going to have dinner anywhere to-night?"

She (eagerly): "Why, no, not that I know of."

He: "Gee, you'll be awfully hungry by morning!"

The hockey teams have developed until now the practice games are showing up some real material. The opposing team loses hope when Clara Cornell or Mable Schmidt get a clear swing at the ball.

* * *

The try-outs for the swimming teams will be finished this week. The material which Miss Ewald has uncovered promises a tank meet which Bradley may be proud of. The Freshmen and Sophomores especially are showing up well at a meeting of those interested in swimming. B. Jones was elected swimming manager.

A Frosh went to his class;
It surely was a bore.
Until the wise prof. sprang a joke
That made the whole class roar.
The Frosh went to his house;
He told the story o'er,
The fellows simply smiled and said,
"We've heard that one before."
"I don't see how you could," he said,
"When just our class was there to hear."
A senior sadly shook his head,
"He tells the same ones every year!"

It has been said that a life of victory and power hinges on three things: an Act, a Purpose, and a Habit; the act of surrender to Jesus as Master of one's person and life, the simple, steady purpose in everything to do as he would wish; the daily habit of getting a bit of time every day off alone with the Master, with door shut, the Book open, the knee bent, and the will bent afresh.

A wondrous outburst of laughter was heard the other day in the jewelry department. We straightway decided to go in and see what it might be all about.

Much to our surprise we noticed that the excitement was being caused by a student who was at the sandblast. He was jumping around and on his face he wore an ear-to-ear grin. We promptly inquired of him the reason for such hilarity.

His answer was, that when he worked the blast the sand on it tickled his hand.

New students recently to enter the Engraving Department are: Messrs. H. L. Howard of Providence, Rhode Island, C H Fordham of Georgia, D. C. Rothenberg of Delphi, Ind., W. L. The C Room has installed a new Electric Press Drill which is to be used chiefly for small articles. A shipment of bench vises has also been received for the C room, so that everybody will now be provided with one of these instruments.

We are wondering who got stung when Art Dieffenbach bought from John Thomson a seven jewel Elgin watch. At least, we heard Mr. Greyhouse tell Art that he wouldn't give him more than five dollars for it.

So by the looks of things Art got stung; or does he know what he's doing?

* * *

Mr. W. L. Bass from Laurel, Miss., finished the C Room here last spring and then accepted the position as assistant manager of Burton's Jewelry Store, in that city. Mr. Bass has returned to take up engraving.

He is an ardent Methodist—we wonder why?

* * *

Mr. Walter Schwartz, who some time ago finished a complete course at Bradley, was sent to Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Schwartz is one of the best skilled watchmakers and engravers that Bradley has ever turned out.

We have recently heard that his placement training is up and that he will soon change his address.

Mr. Kincer also has returned. He has been ill but now he is feeling fine.

Enrollment in the night school in the jewelry department is very large, but we don't know whether it's because of the lady students or because of Dean Westlake.

Having recovered from his recent illness, Mr. J. A. Miller has returned to the jewelry department.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING LIBRARY CARD CATALOG

MANY NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES TO BE OBTAINED IN LIBRARY.

The catalog of the books in Bradley Library is in card form and is found in the card cases in the end of the reference desk in the reading room. This catalog is a complete guide to the books in the library and contains a card for every book under author, subject and title when the title is striking. These cards are arranged in strict alphabetical order, like the entries in an encyclopedia. Under a person's name in the catalog will be found a list of all the books by that person or about him that the library contains. Also under a specific subject such as immigration will be found a card for each book in the library treating that subject.

The card catalog will give the following information:

1. All books written by a certain person that the library possesses.
2. All books written about a certain person that the library possesses.
3. All the books treating a given subject that the library possesses.
4. Whether the library possesses a book with a certain title.
5. The location of each book is indicated by the call-number of each book. It is given on the upper left hand corner of the catalog card, in red ink. This with the author and title is necessary in order that the book desired may be located. This call-number corresponds to the label on the back of the book.

STATE NORMAL-TECH TILT SATURDAY TO HE USUAL THRILLER

A large delegation of Normal rooters plan to accompany their team to Peoria Saturday. They boast a unique yelling corps and a "Sympathy Sextette" which are led by John Kemp, a Peoria boy.

Tech Regulars' Absence Felt.

Coach Robertson is having an undue amount of worry thrust upon him by the crippled condition of his team. Minus the services of Rogers, Gross and Capt. Babcock and seriously handicapped by the injuries to Allen, right end, the Tech mentor saw his cohorts struggle desparately against Illinois College for a hard-earned victory, last Saturday.

In as much as neither Rogers nor the peerless Gross will be able to start in the Normal game this week, the reserves must again be counted upon to fill the "regulars" traces. Unless further complications set in, Captain Babcock will be able to play his old position. The mighty line-plunger's return to the lineup is indeed welcome news.

IN DOWNING ILLINOIS TECH FORCED TO LIMIT; LONG PASS NETS SCORE

JACKSONVILLE COLLEGIANS PROVE DANGEROUS FOE—DENT POLY LINE.

Hilltoppers in Crippled Condition—Three Regulars Out of Lineup With Injuries.

Though handicapped by the absence of three of their regular mates, the Tech gridders managed to slip a 6 to 0 victory over Coach Harmon's eleven in what will be recorded in the annals of Illinois college as one of the bitterest and most spirited games ever played on that college's gridiron. The fact that the downstate collegians had not tasted of victory so far this season added to the intensity of the struggle and primed them to the highest notch for last Saturday's tilt.

Bradley crossed the Illinois goal line early in the first quarter as the result of a perfect forward pass. After an exchange of punts, which were decidedly in the Tech's favor, the ball was Bradley's on the twenty-five yard line. At this juncture the Hilltoppers opened up with an aerial attack that netted their lone touchdown. The successful pass was executed by Friedrich to Correll, who made the catch on the five yard line and from there conveyed the ball across the goal.

Illinois Gains on Line-Bucks.

Throughout the remainder of the first half the oval was kept in midfield. Once, in the second quarter, the blue jersied warriors almost worked their way to a touchdown by smashing the line; but at the critical moment the Poly forward wall tightened to hold, and it did. With the ball in their possession the Tech in turn resorted to straight football tactics, but made no perceptible advance.

Near the close of the third quarter Coach Harmon's tribe started another rally. A line smashing attack carried them down the field and a series of steady gains placed the ball on the Bradley six yard line. In his attempted off-end play from this point the Illinois left halfback fumbled and several of the ever-watchful "Indians" quickly recovered the leather, thus arresting the Harmonites' most serious threat of the game.

Technen Retaliate.

Late in the final period the Tech offense again began to function and with the assistance of the stalwarts in the line marched to within five yards of their goal. Efforts to pierce the Illinois' wall in order to gain another touchdown were futile, however, as the Illinois aggregation gathered itself together and forced the Poly athletes to surrender the ball on downs. When Referee Muhl blew his whistle to end the game, the teams were lined up on Illinois' thirty-five yard line.

MORAL—SUBSCRIBE

A man who was too stingy to subscribe for his home paper sent his little son to borrow the copy taken by a neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn full of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $35 set of false teeth. The baby having been let alone, crawled thru the milk into the parlor, ruining a new carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man and the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes lines.—Unit-Journal.

The three subordinates so chosen are to assist the manager in his duties and to acquaint themselves with the functions of that post. Only those who have served in the capacity of assistant manager are eligible for election to actual managership the following year.

Three assistant managers are still needed for football and for basketball. It therefore behooves those who aspire to be manager of the 1923 football team, as well as of next year's basketball team, to hand their nominations at once to any member of the Athletic Committee. The members o fthis committee are Dr. V. F. Swaim, who acts as chairman, Mr. A. E. Gaut and Mr. C. M. Hewitt.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic committee Ellis G. Friedrich was elected manager of the basketball team for 1922-1923. Friedrich is proving to be a star performer on the gridiron this fall and should do equally as well in leading the Red and White basket cagers through another great campaign.

Already he and Coach Robertson are working on the winter's schedule. The Notre Dame University quintet has been signed for an appearance on the Poly floor, December 19, and negotiations are under way to bring here other high class teams. La Crosse Normal college, school champions of Wisconsin last winter, and Lake Forrest University are both desirous of booking games with the Bradley mentor.

MISS HADLEY HAS ARTICLE PUBLISHED IN NEW MAGAZINE

was first published as a bulletin in the extension department of Purdue University. At this time Miss Hadley was assistant state leader of the home demonstration agents in Indiana. This year the article was published in the "School and College Cafeteria" magazine. This magazine is a comparatively new magazine having only been printed a few years.

This new magazine is edited by specialists in institutional buying and serving of food. The editorial staff consists mainly of educators and manufacturers who are interested in this type of work.

In this article Miss Hadley states that "The human body is a working machine, engaged almost continually in muscular activity such as walking and talking, and constantly doing such internal work as breathing, digesting food and pumping blood.

"Power to do such work is stored in foods. Foods are burned in the body in much the same way as wood or coal is burned in the engine to heat the passenger coaches of the train and furnish power for the engine to pull the train. The foods burned in the body yield heat and energy and also substances needed to build tissues which are worn out by activity. Miss Hadley then tells what is the best kind of food for the different children and ends the article with a table consisting of the different kinds of food, the amount that should be used and the number of calories which it furnishes.

BRADLEY PREPARES FOR RECORD HOMECOMING

EXPECT HOST OF ALUMNI TO VISIT CAMPUS FOR ANNUAL EVENT, NOV. 4th

A hearth fire blazing brightly, lighting up the faces of the family group gathered around it, the aged grandparents in the center, children and grandchildren on either side, telling stories, playing games, the remnants of a sumptuous feast on the large dining table in the center of the room, all serve to bring to one's mind the picture of a family at home. Joy is supreme. Each member is happy in the thought that he is back in the old home circle.

Alike and yet different is the homecoming of students to their Alma Mater. Different in the fact that there is little or no telling of stories and only in rare instances is there a fireplace or home circle to welcome the returning ex-student back from from his travels. Yet it is alike in that the spirit of comradeship is dominant, uniting the alumni and students in a bond of fellowship. It is alike in the fact that happiness and joy are the reigning qualities of the day. It is also alike in the feasting and gayety that bring back memories of games of the past with their feasts, snake-dances, bon-fires, and class scraps.

When Bradley welcomes back her own it will be with all the pomp and gayety that will do fitting honor to the one time students who have returned to visit the halls and campus of the school which has served as a home to them through many months of scholastic toil. More impersonal than a father or mother would welcome their children home after a long separation is the welcome of the Alma Mater to its returning graduates yet with a like depth of feeling does it extend the hand of welcome to the returning students.

Sentiment alone cannot make a successful homecoming either for the family or the college. To bring out the tangible side of the day plans are made to re-awaken and provide interest in the school. The parade, football game, banquet and dance all bring out the spirit of the day in a distinctive manner.

As the homecoming of the children would be spiritless without the love which prompted their return, so would the return of students be without the sentiment that prompted their return. The meeting of old friends, the revisiting of old haunts, and the revival of half forgotten memories all help out the atmosphere of the occasion.

At the Homecoming of 1922 the students of Bradley are hosts, the alumnae of Bradley the guests. A hand of fellowship and greeting is extended former students as Bradley welcomes back her own.

"STUDENTS SHOW NEW SPIRIT"-DEAN

Mrs. Mary B. Mouston dean of women, is very enthusiastic over the future of Bradley and expresses the opinion that the morale of the student body has made a considerable improvement over that of the students of a few years ago.

Mrs. Houston served as dean at Bradley prior to the year 1918 when she was called away to attend household duties. This year she returned and again took up her duties as dean.

Speaking of the student body, Mrs. Houston said: "The attitude of the students has shown a marked improvement. They do not have the old carefree manner but are working for their college and trying to give as well as receive from it. With this spirit and the support shown by the student body I believe Bradley has a great future in store."

95 YD. RUN FEATURE OF BRADLEY VICTORY OVER STATE NORMAL

FRIEDRICH TREATS LARGE THRONG WITH DAZZLING DASH FOR GOAL.

Teachers Kept on Defense Most of Game—Normalite Boots Long Place Kick.

Bradley's rush attack proved too much for Normal Saturday when the band of Tech warriors smashed through the Teachers' ranks for a decisive 26 to 3 victory in which every available Tech recruit was given an opportunity to share.

Straight football and cleverly manipulated end runs by Friedrich and Correll were chiefly responsible for the win. Normal's three points were registered by Harrison who, in the final quarter, booted a field goal from the thirty-eight yard line.

Day's Honors to Friedrich.

Besides directing his team with discerning judgment Friedrich also played a wonderful offensive game, looming out as a leading figure in the play from the start to the time he was relieved by a substitute in the fourth period. His 95-yard sprint of the closing session was distinctly the feature of the afternoon's performance.

Standing on his own five yard line, Friedrich called for a sweeping run around right end. With the ball nicked snugly under his arm and with the assistance of perfect interference, which brushed aside the Normal defenders, the Bradley quarterback wheeled around Normal's left extremity and crossed toward the side line. Through the Teachers' secondary defense he then darted, dodged and twisted himself to gain a clear field for the goal posts fifty yards away.

Butzow, Normal right halfback, here set out in mad pursuit of the Bradley field general. The fleet Normalite showed great dash and in twenty-five yards he was close onto Friedrich's heels. Fortunately, just as Butzow was about to lunge, Friedrich looked over his shoulder and shifted cleverly, thus managing to elude the Normal pursuer's grasp. From this point the Tech ace's way was clear so that he jogged the remaining distance for the score.

Score Twice First Quarter.

Before four minutes of actual play had elapsed the Poly forces had rushed the ball to Normal's seven-yard line. Only one play a skillfully executed criss-cross, was necessary to carry the ball across. Correll conveyed the pigskin around the right end, and an instant later kicked goal, netting the early margin of seven points.

In the same quarter another line-smashing attack, made possible by the Tech forwards ripping big holes in the Normal line, enabled Correll and Friedrich to approximate the goal for the second Bradley touchdown. Hoswell and Kuykendall also contributed much yardage in this goalward march. On the five-yard marker the Teachers showed an unyielding disposition, but they crumbled, with the Tech's fourth smash at the center and Friedrich leaped over the goal line. Correll's place kick added another point.

Tech in Danger Only Twice.

Throughout the second and third quarters Bradley substitutions were numerous. The substitutes continued to play in Normal's territory and several times had the ball on the Teachers' twenty-yard line. They were not able, however, to annex another touchdown until the early portion of the last session.

Play in the fourth quarter started in midfield with the ball in the Techmen's possession. A Bradley pass was intercepted by Butzow who raced to the right for a distance of forty yards. Three line plays advanced the Normalites to within twenty-four yards of their goal. A penalty, which set them back fifteen yards, brought a halt their apparent rally. Normal then punted to Brewer on the ten-yard line, and there the Poly team lined up. On the first play occurred the afternoon's thriller, Friedrich's dazzling 95-yard dash, the longest of the year, in which he was wildly cheered on by a frenzied crowd.

By resorting to an aerial attack after this surprise, the Teachers gained considerable ground and appeared threatening until, at the critical moment, the Tech began to break up the passes. Not being able to gain further by this means, and finding the Bradley line impenetrable, the visitors thereupon dropped back on the thirty-eight yard line for a place kick. Harrison's accurate toe sent the bladder sailing beautifully through the center of the goal posts, and Normal had to be content with but three points.

Substitutes Show Class.

To avoid having any other regulars added to his list of cripples Coach Robertson started injecting his second stringers at the opening of the second quarter. There was from then on a continual stream of Red and White athletes running on and off the field. Practically every available recruit saw service.

The play of the entire Tech aggregation was of the first class. In the backfield Friedrich's and Correll's offensive efforts stood out most prominently while each of the others is entitled to no small share of praise. Of the reserve linemen who faced the Tutors Cedrich Ruch deserves honorable mention. The scrappy youngster repeatedly broke through the Normal line and several times threw the opposing backs for losses.

Luminaries among the visiting team were: Stuhmer Butzow, and Harrison in the backfield; and Bowman and Changnon, ends, who with Harrison proved proficient in the art of the forward pass.

Because he suffered a broken collar bone, Taubeneck, Normal fullback, retired from the game in the early part of the second quarter. His, however, was the only serious injury that resulted.

DRAW RULES FOR GOVERNING CO-EDS

Regulations for the governing of out-of-town women students have been drawn up. Following are the rules as submitted by Mrs. Mary B. Huston, dean of women:

Freshmen and Sophomores will be in the house after eight o'clock on school nights except when school functions occur on those nights.

Juniors and Seniors will be in the house at ten o'clock on school nights unless kept out by school functions.

Both upper and lower class girls must be at home by eleven o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights and at ten o'clock on Sunday night unless school functions keep them out later than that, or permission to attend other late affairs has been obtained. (Walking and motoring after ten o'clock with young men is not permitted.)

Ice cream parlors and drug stores may be patronized before ten-thirty on the evenings. No one will eat out later than that without permission.

Permission to attend dances or dancing places must always be obtained.

No one will attend moving picture shows on Sunday. Girls attending in the evening without escorts or chaperones will attend the first show.

Any girl motoring after dark with a young man or walking in the park after dark with a young man must be accompanied by another girl. No one will walk in Bradley park after nine o'clock.

Students leaving town in the day time for meals, picnics or ball games must obtain permission.

Callers are to leave at ten o'clock on school nights or Sunday nights, and at eleven o'clock on Friday and Saturday. Report them on the weekly slips. Only one night (school) is to be used for that purpose.

Any one leaving town for her own home will notify Mrs. Houston or Miss Potter before going. If spending the night elsewhere than at ones own home, permission is to be obtained.

Girls in Laura Cottage obtain their permissions from Miss Potter, all others from Mrs. Houston.

BRADLEY ALL SET FOR ANNUAL GRID CLASSIC WITH I.W.U.

BLOOD-THIRSTY WESLEYANITES INVADE HILLTOP CAMP SATURDAY TO AVENGE DEFEATS OF PAST FOUR YEARS—MASTIFFS HAVE YET TO TAME INDIANS ON LOCAL BATTLEFIELD

Grads, Students, and Team Tuned up for Toughest Game on Season's Chart—Wesleyan Idle Last Week now in Great Trim Whereas Tech is Still at Disadvantage.

War clouds are lowering over the Bradley campus as the date set for the annual battle between the "Indians" and the "Mastiffs" from Wesleyan approaches. Never were the two schools so determined or so keyed up as they are this year. Moreover, on this classic will be focused the eyes of the entire collegiate state as the Tech, in order to maintain a clean record, must upset the mighty Wesleyan eleven. In Saturday's engagement the Hilltoppers indeed face an acid test.

So bent is Coach Wimberley on avenging the defeats that Bradley has administered to Wesleyan teams on the gridiron in the past, that he purposely left an open date in his schedule last week when he was arranging the Wesleyan chart a year ago. Consequently, it is doubtful whether any team in the state is in finer physical condition than the present Wesleyan aggregation.

Tech Grads Boosting Team.

From far and wide are Bradley graduates coming to witness the annual gridiron classic which this year has been fittingly arranged as the Homecoming Day attraction. Poly boosters have never been known to be so enthusiastic. Their Alma Mater has made great strides in the past two years and they are out to back up Coach Robertson under whose direction Bradley is rapidly attaining front rank in athletic circles.

Not only is the clamor "Beat Wesleyan" to make the season a success, but also "Beat Wesleyan" to climb another rung in the ladder that reaches to the Minor College State Title. Half the way has already been achieved.

Wesleyan Never Victors Here.

In not one of the nine games staged between Bradley and Wesleyan on the Hilltop stamping grounds has a Green and White team been victorious. The Tech, however, has twice crossed the Wesleyan line for victories on the famous Wilder Field. Of their seventeen year's football relations, in which twenty-one bloody feuds have been waged, the "Indians" have to their string eleven Wesleyan scalps.

Looking back to the year 1898, we see that the Evergreen City warriors completely overwhelmed the Red and White by an 89 to 0 score. The only way to account for such a one-sided count is the fact that, in those early days of football development, the

Tech Paraders Hold Nocturnal Revels

Night-gown Army Captures City But Returns It With All Parts Intact.

On Monday evening the proverbial midnight oil ceased burning, text books remained closed, and the "He" element of the student body at Bradley donned its most gaudy evening clothes to celebrate Hallowe'en in traditional fashion with a ghastly demonstration known as the pajama or shirt-tail parade.

The festivities began at 7 o'clock at the gym, when the revelers congregated to take part in a lavish feast of doughnuts and apples furnished by the "Y." Following this the procession moved toward the business district of the city headed by the Bradley band which furnished music calculated to instill the spirit of Hallowe'en into the multitude. Unless results are unreliable indicators they were successful in doing this because when the parade reached the heart of the city there was not a place of importance that had not echoed some or all of the Poly yells.

The grand finale was a theatre party at the Orpheum, and there can be but little doubt that it was Bradley night at that playhouse. A large section of the main floor had been reserved by the paraders and no inconsiderable number of seats held "Bradley's Fairest" who, like their sisters of old were barred from all grand festivities where the masculine element asserted itself too strongly.

The actors caught the spirit of the occasion and joy reigned unfettered by conventional restrictions.

The parade itself was, to crib a hackneyed term, a riot of color; green red, lavendar, yellow and white were the predominating strains and as a result the mooted question of what is proper in men's "snore togs" seems to be near solution. Abe Martin says that the parade reminded him of one of those paintings by them there futurest artist.

For several years past the annual Hallowe'en frolic has been held until now it has become a well established bit of tradition. The affair has always been under the direction of the Bradley "Y" and has been sanctioned by the city officials whose requests that no disorder be permitted, has always been respected. "Y" authorities have already started plans for a similar stunt to be held next year.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

Bradley Institute, like all other modern day colleges, uses the so-called "honor system" as a basis for checking results of its instructors upon the student body.

The honor system does not exist for the purpose of cultivating or even tolerating the "tattle-tale;" nor does it exist for the purpose of restraining the student body from their natural rights and liberties.

The "honor system" is a Code of Honor. Its fundamental concept is honesty, expecting each individual to be honest with himself, and in that manner not to encroach upon the works of other individuals.

College students are mature men and women, both mentally and physically. They are expected to work out their own salvation, in the main, as must be done because of needs, after graduation.

Cribbing and cheating will not be tolerated in the world. The best politician and the lasting one is he who makes the sanest promises and then lives up to them. A student is always under moral obligation of being the "doer of his own wok." The obligation is not a thing that is beyond the power of the individual to live up to—it is a same one that forms the basis for the worth of the College.

If the student is inclined to believe that College is a mere "bluff," a formality to be gone thru with for the sake of wasting time, the best advice and the sanest, is for that man or woman to "get out." If the thought that "bluff" works in the world for long is the motivating thought, then let that student and his school career for a time try and bluff his way for a while. He will not last long. Attending college, like selling insurance, running a grocery store or digging ditches, should be the honest business of the student.

The existence of an honor system is dependent on the individual. The student body can make the system, honesty, a farce. Bradley students are a high type body, but some are not "educated up" to our system as yet. Cheating and cribbing are rampant. Some individuals have been caught—some will never be caught. Those who are indicted are more fortunate than those who are not discovered, because the indicted man may form a habit of honesty thru force. The man who goes scot free will meet his Waterloo when he tries to buck the world with a lie or a bluff.

Tom-boys! Where is the real, live girl who has not been called by the flattering name sometime during her life? Yes, although not always meant to be one, it should be taken as a compliment. For who could claim to like a pale, Alice sit by the fire, girl, better?

Now to the main business of this exhortation. There is going to be a 'hobo' parade Saturday morning, November 4, at 8 a. m. beginning at school. The boys, of course, started it, but they are very anxious for the girls who can come down off their dignity a bit, to put on the finishing touch. Any kind of old clothes may be worn.

This 'hobo' parade in the morning will be more of a novelty, and should afford a more exciting time, at least, than the large one in the afternoon.

The G. A. A. picnic held last Thursday was exceptionally successful. Stella La Follette enthusiastically told of plans for the coming year and piled wood on the blaze while the girls sat around on logs with the firelight flickering on their faces.

The picnic did not even lack boys. Four small ones appeared out of the darkness and were invited to finish the eats. Needless to say they did not decline, but one boy surprised the girls by asking his young brother if he "didn't have any manners?"

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of Alpha Pi fraternity was held Monday evening.

FROM GILBERT'S DE MAGNETE —

"WORD MONGERS" and "CHATTERING BARBERS"

"Word mongers" and "chattering barbers," Gilbert called those of his predecessors who asserted that a wound made by a magnetized needle was painless, that a magnet will attract silver, that the diamond will draw iron, that the magnet thirsts and dies in the absence of iron, that a magnet, pulverized and taken with sweetened water, will cure headaches and prevent fat.

Before Gilbert died in 1603, he had done much to explain magnetism and electricity through experiment. He found that by hammering iron held in a magnetic meridian it can be magnetized. He discovered that the compass needle is controlled by the earth's magnetism and that one magnet can remagnetize another that has lost its power. He noted the common electrical attraction of rubbed bodies, among them diamonds, as well as glass, crystals, and stones, and was the first to study electricity as a distinct force.

"Not in books, but in things themselves, look for knowledge," he shouted. This man helped to revolutionize methods of thinking—helped to make electricity what it has become. His fellow men were little concerned with him and his experiments. "Will Queen Elizabeth marry—and whom?" they were asking.

Elizabeth's flirtations mean little to us. Gilbert's method means much. It is the method that has made modern electricity what it has become, the method which enabled the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to discover new electrical principles now applied in transmitting power for hundreds of miles, in lighting homes electrically, in aiding physicians with the X-rays, in freeing civilization from drudgery.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Mr. Harry Hurff, instructor of woodwork, was found working on a wireless telegraph receiving set by the report. Mr. Hurff, who is well known for his ability to "make anything" if he takes the notion, is living up to his reputation. With the help of Mr. Dace and Mr. Wurtberger all the parts of the set are being made at Bradley shops.

The set is one difficult of construction, and like all the work turned out in the shops, is a beautiful thing. When the set is completed the aerial will be strung from the smokestack of the Auto building to the west end of the North Manual Art building. Another set will be constructed later and will be installed in the Manual Arts building, while the set now under construction will be taken to Mr. Hurff's home.

Russel Wyeth is a new member of the Teacher Training corps. We welcome Mr. Wyeth to our departments and school.

But there is a little story connected to Mr. Wyeth's appearance on our campus that we would like to tell to the world. Wyeth, during his last year, was a student at the Mexico Military Academy at Mexico, Mo. Mr. Howard Kelly, B. S., from Bradley, was his instructor in the shops of the academy. Through the eloquently persuasive tongue of Capt. Kelly Wyeth was induced to come to Bradley.

Bradley College as an advertiser is a weak sister. It advertises well in the city of Peoria, but is little known out of the state except—and here is the root of the matter—except by the reputation our students are making and the advertising they make for us. The Manual Arts and the Domestic Science Departments of Bradley stand at the head of any in the United States. The advertising gained through former students in these departments is the one factor that keeps our departments filled to capacity with new students.

The act makes us feel kindly toward Howard Kelly. We hope others are doing as well. It is to be hoped that the present student body keep this in mind when they are out on the job. If a school is worth spending years of voluntary time at, it is worth advertising—both by your work and by word of mouth.

The class of seniors in public school administration under Mr. Siepert, visited the Peoria High school during the past week. Study was made in the arrangement of the building and equipment. A visit will be made later to Manual Training High school and one of the grammar buildings.

A meeting was held Thursday afternoon by the members of the Federal Board for the purpose of arriving at some decision in regard to the Gun and Glade organization. It was decided to hold an open caucus on the question of permanent organization under conditions specified. A complete and final organization will be effected in the next few days.

The Gun and Glade is an organization open only to veterans in training. It exists for the purpose of aiding its members in troubles that may arise from time to time. The organization is thoroly commendable, and the men are to be congratulated because of their efforts to organize a chapter at Bradley.

The forge shop reports that new vices and tongs have been received to replenish the stock of tools. No new hammers have been bought as yet, although argument over the one new hammer has ceased. The new hammer now looks as old as the rest and both parties to the contention are content.

* * *

The editor of this column suggests to the president of organizations that there are a set of buildings on the campus known as MANUAL ARTS BUILDINGS. They are located on Bradley avenue between Institute and University, and bounded on the south by Fredonia.

Complaint is frequently registered by our men that no notice is given them of meetings. There is an official bulletin board in the South Manual Arts building that is as important as the one in Bradley Hall. Our men very often do not have classes in Bradley Hall. It is manifestly unjust that they be not notified of meetings. Incidentally we might say that if a meeting is not PROPERLY announced we might be induced to have that meeting declared null and void by the proper officials.

And while we were at it, we might remark for the benefit of a certain judicial organization that is supposed to deal with the honor and fairness of our students, that the Federal Board has several representatives in that body. Two meetings have been held by that body but the veterans have never been notified.

If it is impossible for any official to find the Manual Arts buildings, address a letter to Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Department of Manual Arts, Peoria, and we will work out our own salvation in the matter of posting the announcement.

Lang Bass and Dorothy Dergis attended the Methodist masquerade on Thursday night. Lang attended in the guise of an old negress (more specifically as Macon's wife.) They played their parts very well and all would have ended happily had not Dorothy's mother greeted them on their arrival home two a. m. Friday morning. Briefly Lang had unintentionally transposed a liberal portion of his make-up, and when Dorothy entered the house Mrs. Dergis thought she was entertaining a pickaninny.

Rae Stuteville played the part of a loyal rooter at the Normal game, by rooting for Normal. As Rae said afterwards, "I wasn't rooting the football game, I was rooting for my hostess." It was loyal, wasn't it?

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Mr. Kenneth Stead accompanied by Miss Adelaide White, and Mr. Eldon Murray, accompanied by Miss Mary Thompson each gave a twenty-minute program before the University Club last Saturday night at their quarterly business meeting. Both men were enthusiastically received and were asked to make the University club their headquarters while down town.

Mr. Franklin Stead accompanied Mrs. Stead as far as Chicago on her way to New York. She returned Tuesday morning.

The orchestra is increasing in numbers and is enthusiastic over its work on Beethoven's symphonies and other worth-while compositions. The chorus was organized and will meet for its first regular rehearsal Monday night, November 6th, in the Recital Hall at 7:30.

Mr. Eldon Murray, violinist, and Miss Mary Thompson, accompanist, will give a recital in the Methodist church of Canton, Illinois, on Thursday night, November 9th.

BRADLEY ALL SET FOR ANNUAL GRID CLASSIC WITH I. W. U.

"home boys" might call upon the crowd for assistance. The Wesleyanites must either have done that or else the Bradley Coach delegated the task to the academy youngsters who, we understood, were in the majority here at that time.

Wesleyan still smarts under the 21 to 7 defeat dealt out to them last year. The trouncing was the more pathetic in that it was administered on the day of all days, Homecoming. No less hard to swallow was the bitter pill of 1920 when the Bloomers, confident of victory and with a thirteen point lead, were overcome by the Hilltoppers in the last minutes of play. Such a feat on the Bradley gridiron has yet to be excelled.

Possibility of Vets' Playing

While the widely advertised and highly touted invincible squad of Wesleyan gridders may be in the pink of condition, the Tech warriors are not so. For the first time in three weeks Clarence Rogers was in the Saturday lineup. His ankle has so improved that he will this week undoubtedly hold down the left extremity. "Red" Allen will probably be in condition to start the game at the other wing post.

Whether Captain Babcock and "Bunny" Gross will grace the Poly lineup against Wesleyan is still much of an uncertainty. The stalwart leader's ankles are strengthening under the coaches' daily care as is Gross's wrenched knee, but neither of the crippled stars are able to withstand as many severe falls as they could were their injured joints healed.

To add that "Dutch" Meinen will be at his old position in the line, left tackle, despite an injured wrist, means much to the Bradley defense. Meinen is a great fighter. Against Wesleyan the big Pekin boy always does his best. How he does crave a win over Wesleyan!

Wesleyan Has Flashy Team.

An aggregation of game battlers is that representing the Bloomer institution. The fact that two Peoria boys perform for the Green and White adds to the interest of the scrap. From Peoria High School two greater football stars never graduated than Johnnie Zinser and Glen Haussler who are said to be at their best this season. Zinser holds down the right halfback post; Haussler the left.

Directing the Wesleyan outfit from the quarterback position is Tommy Oliver, who last year was one sweet end for the Poly eleven. Oliver's star work it will be remembered, was a big factor in downing the Bloomers in 1921. That he has rejoined a team which in that year he abandoned would lead one to believe that the welcome accorded him Saturday, so far as his old team mates on the gridiron are concerned, will be none too cordial.

ALUMNI-STUDENT BODY CELEBRATION SETS PRECEDENT

TECHMEN CRUSH WESLEYAN ELEVEN

FRIEDRICH RUNS 100 YARDS FOR TOUCHDOWN—CORRELL MAKES BIG GAINS.

Not a one of the many hundreds of Bradley homecomers but left the Hilltop campus Saturday thoroughly elated over the 26 to 0 trounceing which the Techmen administered to the celebrated Wesleyan eleven. Warriors of yore have never tasted victory more sweet. It was indeed a fitting climax to the day's full program.

Spurred on by the "Beat Wesleyan" chant that for weeks had rung in their ears and imbibed with the determination to turn in a clean slate for the season, the Bradley athletes pounced on the "Mastiffs" and for sixty minutes of thrilling football play held them at bay. On but one occasion was the Wesleyan aggregation in a position to score. Its efforts went for nought, however, as Bradley on the five-yard line refused to yield.

Friedrich Climbs to Stardom

Forever to be remembered by that record throng of gridiron fans is the wonderful run of 100 yards made at the start of the second half by Ellis Friedrich. The Chillicothe lad's all-round play was of highest calibre while his generalship, too, was unerring. His punts, averaging fifty yards, exceeded those of the Wesleyan kickers by many yards.

Sharing honors with Friedrich in the grand triumph over the Methodists was a band of Tech gladiators who were in there to win or die. At no time was there a letup in the fight on the Red and White warrior's part. From the very start they played better ball and throughout acted as a unit.

Lose No Time Gaining Lead

With machine-like precision the Bradley backs started early in the opening period to clip off yardage through the generous holes cleaved in the Wesleyan line by the Tech forwards. Correll's thirty yard gain around right end followed by his and Babcock's line plunges enabled the Tech to go straight down the field seventy-five yards. On a criss-cross play Correll then capered around the right extremity for the first touchdown. Friedrich kicked goal. The contest had been under way only eight minutes.

Bradley again kicked off. After being penalized fifteen yards Wesleyan was back on its fifteen-yard line, at which point Zinser fumbled, a break decidedly in the Techmen's favor as Harrett recovered the ball. Hoswell gained six yards and Friedrich plunged through center for six more. Three attempts put the ball within a few inches of the goal and then for the second touchdown Babcock clambered over the pack of infuriated Wesleyanites. Thirteen minutes of play were spent in registering the 13 point lead.

Wesleyan threatened as the second period opened. Zinser and Haussler taking the ball on a series of gains from midfield to the five-yard line. There the Bloomers' advance was halted, and Friedrich punted the Tech out of danger only to have the visitors resume their threats to score. A penalty set them back, however, and they forfeited the ball on downs to Bradley. When the half closed Bradley, again the offender, possessed the ball on Wesleyan's thirty-yard line.

100-Yard Sprint Day's Feature

Bradley rooters sighed as they saw McGrath's kick-off at the start of the half soar high into the air and come down into the waiting arms of Friedrich, who, in order to get the ball, had to lean against the goal posts. They watched him as he deliberately followed his interference and as he swerved through the oncrushing Wesleyan tacklers. One by one they were picked off by his mates and Friedrich fought his way to midfield.

Only Zinser remained in his way. But the Wesleyan safety's lunge was futile so that the Bradley ace conAnother thrill was added to the spectacular run when Captain Gottschalk of the Wesleyan tribe pursued Friedrich and dove for him on the twenty-yard line. The Tech leader sidestepped him as deftly as he had eluded the desperate grasp of Butzow, fleet Normalite, against whom Friedrich two weeks ago raced 95 yards for a touchdown.

Amid outbursts of joy such as have never been equaled on the historic Hilltop campus Friedrich stumbled over the white line. Enthused spectators were still surging onto the field while Correll tried for the extra point. His kick was slightly wide, the score now reading 20 to 0.

Meinen Blocks Kick for Score

As a result of poor punting on Wesleyan's behalf the fourth quarter opened with Bradley in possession of the ball seventeen yards from the goal. By falling in the four-down attempt the ball went over to Wesleyan on the ten-yard line.

To get out of danger Zinser thereupon dropped back to punt, standing on his own three-yard line. "Block that kick" echoed through the Tech ranks as "Dutch" Meinen, the infallible leader of the Poly forwards, climbed through the line and in a twinkling had knocked the ball to earth. Fate evidently decreed that Bradley should have another score for the pigskin bounded directly into Purlee's arms. The rangy end loped across the six-point margin for the final touch-down to conclude the day's scoring.

DEBATE COACHES PLAN SCHEDULES

SIX OF LAST YEAR'S MEN BACK —NEW METHOD OF TRAINING USED.

Debate coaches from Wesleyan and Eureka met in conference with Mr. W. Ross Marvin, coach of Bradley debate teams last Saturday and laid plans for the carrying out of a debate program for the season of 1922-23.

It was decided that each college should held two debates on the evening of March 22, which will be the Thursday of the last week before the spring vacation. In all cases the negative team will make the journey to meet their opponents while the affirmative will debate at home.

The question of the debate as decided upon by the coaches will be, "Resolved that the United States should join the League of Nations." As this question is a vital one in the world at the present time it was agreed upon the logical one for the subject of debate.

For the debate of March 22, the Bradley negative team will go to Wesleyan while the Eureka team will meet the Bradley affirmative at Bradley.

Coach Marvin is going to put the debate candidates through a new method of training this year. Classes will be organized which will meet regularly in which the theory and technique of debating will be studied. It is planned to start the classes this week.

It is also planned to pick two teams instead of three teams as in former years. This will allow for more individual attention to each member and is expected to result in better developed teams.

Possibilities of a debate with Illinois State Normal University are also being discussed and negotiations may result in the arrangement of a discussion of the same question with the Normal School.

Six members of last year's team are back in school this year and have signified their intentions of working for a place on the squad. Blemfohr, Haman, Galowitch, Mee, Damon, Peters and Hitchcock are the men who are back from last year's teams. In addition to this there is a small amount of new promising material handy, including Voecke and Millner.

An attempt is being made to schedule more debates and it is thought that a few more will be added to the list before the season opens.

The General Committee desires to thank the Student Committees as well as each and every Student and member of faculty who in any way aided in making Homecoming Day the greatest day of its kind Bradley has ever had. They also wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the citizens and business houses of Peoria who so generously supported the event.

A. E. GAUT,
Chairman.

MASK AND GAVEL ELECTS OFFICERS

GERTRUDE MAYER TO BE ASSISTANT COACH — LARGE NUMBER OF APPLICATIONS PRESENTED.

The first meeting of Mask and Gavel Club for year 1922-1023 was held Wednesday, November 1, for purpose of electing officers.

At the suggestion of Miss Shepardson, faculty advisor and coach for the club, Miss Gertrude Mayer was elected as assistant coach. Miss Mayer will have charge of minor plays and assist in other coaching duties.

Although the club is only in its second year, over one hundred applicants for membership have been received. At the next meeting, at a time to be announced later, election of new members will take place. As the membership is limited, only a few of those who apply can be selected.

The election for treasurer resulted in a tie vote between Miss Helen Wallace and Glen Shaffer. This office will be decided at the next meeting. Plans for the year will also be made. Other officers elected were:

President—Charles Mee.
Vice-President—Lenora Wysong.
Secretary—Ruth Conlee.
Business Manager—Rodney Mitchell.
Chairman Social Committee—Mildred Merkle.
Assistant Coach—Gertrude Mayer.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEW VETERAN'S CLUB

Members of the Bradley U. S. War Veterans' Gun and Blade Club held a meeting Friday, November 3rd, for the purpose of electing officers and obtaining a charter for the organization.

The meeting was addressed by E. C. Preek, the National District headquarters in Chicago. Mr. Preek outlined the procedure to be followed in organizing. He was followed by a number of prominent business men of Peoria who gave short talks.

After the election of officers was held the meeting broke up into a social good time, cigars and stories furnishing the entertainment for the Vets. Officers elected were:

President—A. J. McDonald.
Vice-President—J. A. Canfield.
Secretary—S. N. Farthing.
Assistant Secretary—Thos. Everetts.
Treasurer—A. L. Butterfield.
Assistant Treasurer — Arthur Crumb.
Historian—E. Z. Jancas.
Assistant Historian—D. Rogers.
Sergeant at Arms—R. Breshnen.

HOMECOMING BRINGS BACK MANY OLD GRADS

Many students of Bradley of past years returned to help in the celebration of Homecoming. Without exception they were all astonished at the rapid growth of the school in academic lines.

Among those present were C. C. Merrill, '14, now superintendent of schools at Forrest, Ill.; George Harms, '18, now athletic coach at Forrest; Edward Root and Helen Dawson Root, '13, Ida Iben, '17, and Miss Helen Graham, '19.

'On to Augustana!'

That's the battle cry of the Tech warriors as they maneuver on the campus this week in preparation for Saturday's conflict with the "Terrible Swedes." It will be Bradley's final journey abroad before meeting on the Hilltop gridiron Lake Forest, Carthage, and Eureka in the order named.

Though Augustana has been beaten both by Wesleyan and Millikin this season, Coach Swedberg's outfit is by no means a "weak sister." The Norsemen give every team a hard fight as is proven by the low 3 to 0 score to which they held the mighty Wesleyan tribe.

Bradley's hard earned 13 to 0 victory over the Islanders last year avened matters between the two schools since the resumption of football relations in 1920 when Augustana blanked the Tech 35 to 0. Both teams are, therefore, out this year to win the odd game of the trio.

Correll Injured.

Not since the Lincoln game has Bradley been represented by an intact eleven. This week's lineup will also be somewhat further patched up as a result of Tommy Correll's being injured in the Wesleyan scrap. The speed halfback sustained three fractured ribs and though hurt in the early part of the second half stuck through the third quarter without even a suggestion of removal to his teammates. He is improving rapidly under the doctor's care and within a few days will be able to leave con-

DR. BERNARD SECURED TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Arrangements have been made to secure the services of Dr. L. L. Bernard in rendering three lectures to be held in Bradley Hall November 20. The following subjects will be discussed:

1. Natural Resources and Future World Policies.
2. Natural Resources and Civilization.
3. Geography and Civilization.

Definite arrangements had not been made as to the deliverance of these speeches but the probable order is that one will be given during the first period. Another after chapel and a third one later afternoon or evening.

A committee was appointed to conclude arrangements and push the financial end. The committee is as follows: Lenora Wysong, chairman, Roberta Tweedy, Fred Tinthoff.

Dr. Bernard is being brought to Bradley through the efforts of the Horology department. All the lectures will be open to the students and public.

Dr. Bernard has done extensive work as lecturer on the Chautauqua platform. He is one of the leading sociologists in the country and writes noteworthy articles in some of America's foremost sociological magazines and journals. He was graduated from Chicago University in 1911 and has been giving courses during the summer sessions of that school as a visiting professor.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING EVENT CREATES NEW BRADLEY SENTIMENT

DISTINCTIVE PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES BRINGS OUT SPIRIT OF THE DAY—PARADE OF "HOBOES" IN MORNING AND AUTOMOBILES AT NOON AROUSES GREAT INTEREST.

Freshman and Sophomore Classes Engage in Spirited Contests—Spectacular Grid Victory Preceded Monday Snake Dance and Followed by Successful Banquet and Dance.

The fires of enthusiasm kindled on Bradley campus last Saturday when the alumni and student body assembled to celebrate a grand home-coming proved to be no fitful flame so characteristic of former events if this nature, but instead a seething caldron of pep which warmed the heart of every "old timer" with pride and fired the student body to fever heat. The weather man did his bit to make the day a success and the campus, resplendent in autumnal glory furnished a fitting background for the day's activities.

The program as it was outlined by the Home Coming Committee was carried out to the letter. The first event was everything which the title suggests, "a hobo's parade," which started from the gym at 8:30 o'clock and marched through the city, each parader carrying some expression of victory for the gridiron triumph which was to come later in the day.

After the hoboes returned the perennial differences existing between the Sophomores and the Freshmen were set forth and both classes turned out, each wishing to assert its supremacy over the other. The first battle was won by the "Frosh," when they captured the greatest number of sacks in a sack rush. The contest was spirited and the judges were unable to give their decision before a thorough study had been made. Both classes were exhausted but the Soph line had received the hardest blows in the encounter. But a vision of defeat only tended to spur them on in the tug of war which followed. This contest ended a tie after three ropes had been broken. The Freshmen made the better showing but since their victory was not entire they will bow to tradition and wear the green spats for the remainder of the year.

Immediately after noon the big parade formed on the campus and with band playing and students shouting it moved through the city arousing interest in the football game which was to be played in the afternoon. After returning to the campus the parade disbanded and the students assembled on the athletic field to stage a snake dance before the game.

The feature of the afternoon's celebration, aside from the football victory was the parade put on by the Manual Arts and Horology students who combined in staging one of the largest, most spirited and spectacular parades ever witnessed on a Bradley field. Costumed to the height of ridiculousness, with a goat and a donkey as mascots, they paraded over the gridiron, causing excitement and mirth only seconded by the spirit of the football game.

The game itself was a rare exhibition of the gridiron sport which kept the crowd on its toes with excitement. The spirit of both teams combined with the quality of ball played won and kept the undivided attention of the audience from start to finish.

The Homecoming banquet in the cafeteria after the game was a success both in spirit and substance. Scores of old grads spent a long looked-for hour in company with old friends over the dinner tables.

At evening the dance in the gymnasium was well attended and the bonfire which was lit in celebration of the football victory was the only rival for the attentions of the devotees of the waxed floor.

As the music of the dance ceased the flames of the bonfire dropped lower, the guests began to leave and another Homecoming Day passed into history.

ANNOUNCE STAFF OF POLYSCOPE

BEGIN WORK ON COLLEGE ANNUAL UNDER DIRECTION OF KATHERINE LANGTON AND RUSSEL PETERS.

Work on this year's "Polyscope" is well under way according to Miss Katherine Langton, editor.

The book has been planned and an efficient staff chosen. The management feels that it has chosen the best people for the positions.

The art work will be one of the best features of the book. Glenn Schaeffer and Theodore Voorhees are art editors and are drawing trial sketches.

Clarence Hershe is humor editor and promises that this section will eclipse all previous ones in wit.

The athletic departments are in charge of Walter Schmidt and Bernice Jones. All other departments are headed as efficiently.

The annual is to have many new features. It will be in keeping with Bradley's development in every respect. It will be as much larger as the co-operation of the student body allows.

The management urges the help of every student. It is their book and should be compiled by them.

All are urged to hand in items of interest and snapshots to any member of the staff.

Due to the uncertainty of the teams of the Horological students their editor has not yet been chosen.

The Industrial Teachers Training and Vocational Guidance editors are still to be chosen.

The staff follows:

Editor—Katherine Langton.
Business Manager—Russel Peters.
Art—Glenn Schaeffer and Ted Voorhees.
Seniors—Grace Jamison.
Activities—Helena Burke.
Athletics—Walter Schmidt Bernice Jones.
Classes—Marshall Curtiss.
Societies—Charles Mee.
Photographer—Wayne Buckley.
Humor—Clarence Hershe.
Home Economics—Lucille Stansell.
Calendar—Marjorie Ogden.
Conservatory—Mary Thompson.
Debates—Herman Beinfohr.
Publications—Edwa Humphrey.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1922.

WILL IT LAST?

Greater than the day itself was the spirit of the students who were part of the largest and best celebration ever held on the Bradley campus. The day, with its accompanying incidents, is now but a memory to be revived again next year. The spirit of the student body that enabled them to make the day the success which it proved to be is always present. If carefully handled and preserved it is capable of doing far greater things than the successful carrying out of plans for a homecoming day.

It was not the participation of three departments of the Institute, working toward the culmination of three different plans that made the day a record one for the college annals. It was the combined effort of the mass of students working for a certain goal. Sacrifices were made on all sides for the common good.

Sectional and departmental prejudices were almost forgotten. So-called social caste lines were nearly obliterated. Success was the result.

After the display of spirit shown last week it is difficult to believe that the students will sink back in the old rut of apathy and antipathy. A famous man said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Experience has shown that a house divided against itself can stand if the division is not large enough to prevent its uniting for a common purpose. Experience also shows that a house divided in part is neither as effective or efficient as a house of continual unity.

THE STUDENT VOTER

A few days ago a Bradley professor was asked by a local politician to attempt an explanation of the unusually large registration of Poly students for the bi-ennial elections. The reasons for voting, their purpose in voting, and the issues and candidates for which they would cast their votes were a subject of mystery and uneasiness to the politician. Never before, perhaps, had the college students in Peoria shown such an interest in politics of the city. It was something new, these college student voters, and the leaders of the political machines recognized this with respect.

The power of the college student is beginning to be felt in politics. Large numbers of young men and women, trained to make the proper discrimination and see the real issues of a campaign have cast their vote in the past election. Many more will vote next year. They will study the issues at stake and be able to vote intelligently.

Their power extends far beyond their actual numbers. As leaders the voting power of college students is increased several fold. Their influence is far reaching. It is possible that the men who have governed politics have begun to see the "handwriting on the wall."

Football Men Feed and Attend Orpheum

Mullen's Cafe was the rendezvous of the Bradley football team last Monday evening. Mr. Mullen was treating the players to an oyster stew in honor of the important victory over Wesleyan. Coaches Robertson and Johnson are not satisfied that as musicians with the spoon their protegee are eligible to the best "synfunny" orchestra.

After gratifying their appetites the party of players, accompanied by football manager Arlright Strayer and cheer-leader, Harry Gordon, and chaperoned by the coaches, attended the first show of the Orpheum as guests of Manager Felix Greenburg. Some special grid stunts were staged for the benefit of the team, the night being designated as "Football Night." Each of the thirty-five Techmen forgot the afternoon's strenuous workout on the field as he revelled in the evening's unique program and with his comrades contributed cheers to the wild music.

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::

By Bernice Jones

It is not very often that anything turns out so successfully as Homecoming did last Saturday. Of course everyone at Bradley is to be congratulated, but we are proud of the girls especially.

To begin with the hobo parade. There were some rivals of Sis Hopkins. The auto parade was also supported by the girls. Fully half of the cars were driven by co-eds.

The game was of necessity played by the boys but the girls valiantly did their duty cheering on the side lines and in the snake dance. In the evening at least half of the dancing was done by the fair sex.

And then some of these "mere boys" get it into their heads that they could get along without us. We doubt if Fredericks could have spoken away for that long run Saturday if he hadn't felt some fair damsel's eyes on him. And it is a well-known fact how "Shimmy feels." This is a useless question but just consider it "What would a dance be like without any girls?"

SPOONING.

"'Tis love that makes the world go round." If this is true Bradley should be dizzy, for we have our full quota of devoted coupies.

So be it. We couldn't get along without them. They lend atmosphere.

But here's the rub. Some of these dreamers are making a laughing stock of Bradley. They have earned for it the term "spooning factory."

Some of our more fortunate students come to school in cars which afford an ideal place in which to seek the solitude necessary for study and more questionable pursuits.

The people of Peoria, who support Bradley, are constantly going past the college. It was one of these, who after seeing the behavior of some occupants of cars, called Bradley "a spooning factory."

There is not enough spooning on our campus for us to merit such a name. However, there is enough to impress onlookers unfavorably.

If spooning is necessary to happiness let it be carried on where Bradley will not earn a hard name from it. Its thrills are but added to by restraint in public.—K. L.

BRADLEY GRADUATES LOCATED ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES

MANY B. S. AND A. B. GRADUATES SECURE HIGH SCHOOL POSITIONS

Other Graduates Still Continue School in Order to Get Higher Degrees

Most of the graduates of Bradley in the class of '22 have taken up the profession of teaching and are located in towns and cities all over the country. A great many of them have recently corresponded with former classmates still at Bradley, and from these the following list has been compiled:

Home Economics—2 Year Graduates

Margaret Beasley, in the Peoria City Schools.

Pauline Burgess, in Brook, Ind.

Essie Mae Byler, Cleveland, Ohio.

Gertrude Cleveland, Moline, Ill.

Verna L. Cole, High School, Rushville, Ill.

Mabel E. Ditch, Wood River, Ill.

Inez Englund, Ritter Home, Athens, Ga.

Nona Landers, Spring Valley, Ill.

Maxine McBride, Orion, Ill.

Helen Millard, Minier, Ill.

Roberta Perry, Noblesville, Ind.

Of the young men, the following are teaching Manual Training:

Don Allison, Memphis, Tennessee.

Floyd Barloga, Onarga, Ill.

Russell Fawver, Morristown, Minnesota.

Lowell Lashbrook, Yuma, Ariz.

Henry L. Rice, Lincoln, Ill.

Harvey Rasmussen, Springfield, Ill.

Max Shadinger, at George Junior Republic, Chino, Calif.

John A. Bader, Rochester, Minn.

Howard Weisfiog, Michigan City, Ind.

Russell McMahan, Homer, Ill.

Three of those who received the A. B. degree are teaching:

Miss Abigail Dunn and Miss Camille Mahannah at the Manual Training High School.

Alma Goodrich in the high school at Averyville, Ill.

Others have returned to Bradley to complete their work for a degree.

The B. S. graduates are located as follows:

Mildred F. Carley, in the High School, Hinsboro, Ill.

Dora L. Colwell, High School, Madison, Ill.

Clarabelle Friedheim, High School, East Peoria.

Mildred J. Greves, Peoria City Schools.

Esther M. Houghton, High School, Tonica, Ill.

Elton Kinahan, High School, Cordova, Ill.

Margaret B. Mann, High School, Milford, Ill.

Elsie M. McCluggage, High School, Eureka, Ill.

Lois Hurlbutt accepted a position in the Carbondale High School but secured a substitute before the opening of the school year, and is now taking a course for dietitians at one of the leading hospitals in Minneapolis, with promise of a very attractive position after a few months of training.

Mrs. Eula G. Teutenberg has entered the University of Colorado for graduate study and will receive the M. A. degree at the end of the year.

Most of the Manual Arts graduates of last year are teaching in other cities:

Charles Chance is teaching at Cleveland, Ohio.

J. Neal Dow is in Canada.

Ivan Grigsby is in Indianapolis, Ind.

Roy Pitman in the same city.

Sherman Seriff is at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Paul T. Welles is teaching in California.

Herbert Westphal, Milwaukee, Wis.

Robert Woellner, University of Chicago.

William Hemmer is taking graduate study at the University of Chicago and will receive the M. A. degree after a year's work.

William Banish is connected with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

The Homecoming celebration was ably celebrated by the manual arts department. A parade of the manual arts people, following by a rooting stunt in the bleachers was the order of the day. Bedecked in colors of all sorts, grotesque faces even more horrible than the original of the most of us, and outfitted with instruments of a noise-making variety, the Manual Arts men paraded from our buildings to the field. Leading the parade was the goat committee with the goat and the mule committee with the mule.

* * *

Erwin Beck was in general charge of the stunt, Rowe, Lashley, and Daniels were the all-important finance committee. Thomas Babcock had charge of the signs. Mr. Sill was the mule committee, while Mr. Calder was the goat committee.

* * *

The Manual Arts men were strengthened by the Horologs, who thought our stunt good enough to join. The able Horolog committee was Moberly, Garlick and Otto.

The stunt provided all the necessary ingredients for a good time and for the accomplishment of the purpose: fun, noise and the all-important spirit.

* * *

Among those seen on the campus during the Homecoming who were former Manual Arts students were: Harvey Rasmussen, Floyd Barloga, Leslie Cotter, Herman Neuhauser, John Gilcrist.

Gilcrist, by the way, is teaching at Osceola, Iowa. He is in the Manual Arts department, and coaches football as well. He says that he has a winning team this year. Gilcrist was a student at B. P. I. the year before last, and has attended several of the recent summer sessions. His coming some several hundred miles to see his alma mater smash Wesleyan is probably worth noting.

* * *

Mr. Weir, a Canadian, was sentenced to teach a class of young machinists at Manual Training School during the past week. The class in Industrial School Administration under the direction of Mr. Siepert, visited the M. T. H. S. during the week for information of a nature that is being sought after by members of that class.

* * *

Carl Heine from Harrisburg, Illinois, is a new Federal Board man at Bradley. He is enrolled in the electrical department.

* * *

The reporter began to get his material ready for a big write-up! He spied a man on top of the Automobile building chimney and thought of the wonderful opportunity he had of writing of the "Steeple Jack." When he discovered who it was, however, he decided the item unworthy of note. George Underwood was climbing to the top of the stack in order to string the aerial of the new wireless set that is being installed in the woodworking department.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Monday evening, Nov. 6, at 7:30 the first regular chorus rehearsal was held. Work started on Mendelssohn's "Elijah" which Mr. Stead hopes to give in May.

AS STUDENTS SEE IT

Bradley Institute is coming into its own. It is taking on the semblance of a real college. A college attitude is beginning to manifest itself. Athletically we are a real college. Academically we are arriving. Spiritually, we have a long way to go.

Quite a few articles have been written in the effort to persuade Bradley people to wear the red sweater of B. P. I. It has been stated that in the large universities the student discards all but the colors of his school. The writer will take issue with that statement. He has attended a university of some 4000 students and there are sweaters of all hues and colors as well as patterns. No one pays particular attention to the general appearance of the sweater as long as it serves its purpose.

The writer suggests the practice that is prevalent in a few of the larger colleges, namely that of awarding the captain of the team or the leader of the activity a sweater of another color than that the player receives. If the Bradley man is awarded a red sweater with a white letter, then give the captain a white sweater with a red letter.

Not alone should the player be recognized, but there should be some reward given to a cheer leader. No award is made for this service at Bradley, as is true in most other schools in the country. The cheer leader should be expected to make the rooters cheer—but there should be a sensible arrangement made in order to accomplish the result.

And there is one last thing. Label the Bradley section for both men and women, and then keep out all ANTI-BRADLEY people by having a special place for them.

We have a good team this year as we had last year. The coaches do all they can to make things interesting, but it is discouraging when the student body does not seem to appreciate their efforts. We hope the time spent in the preparation of this article will not be in vain.

We believe then in wearing any sweater that you please but having the Bradley spirit.

We believe that a distinction should be made in the award of sweaters between the captain and players.

To distribute honors among the thirty-six athletes who performed so valiantly in a game so all-important would be an impossible task. There is one lineman whose work was most conspicuous and on him must be bestowed the lion's share of the defense honors. Emerging from almost every play on his side of the line and from many on the other side as well tinued his sally toward the goal, was to be seen the mighty Dutchman. Long will his name and the names of the other Tech heroes linger in the memory of Bradleyites.

Zinser, though a victim of two costly miscues, Haussler, and Captain Gottschalk occupied feature roles for the Evergreen City institution. Tommy Oliver, last year a Red and White gridder, proved himself to be a great fighter for Wesleyan.

The lineup and summary:

Bradley		Wesleyan
Rogers	L. E.	Ware
Meinen	L. T.	Wallace
Zierton	L. G.	Ballinger
Siminski	Center	McGrath
Koepping	R. G.	Anderson
Barrett	R. T.	Pike
Allen	R. E.	Gottschalk, Cap
Friedrich	Q. B.	Oliver
Correll	R. H. B.	Zinser
Hoswell	L. H. B.	Haussler
Babcock, Capt.	F. B.	Ford

Substitutions: (Wesleyan) Formhals for Wallace, Fitz for Ballinger, M. Ford for Zinser, Wallace for Formhals.

(Bradley) C. Ruch for Allen, Hindle for Babcock, Purlee for Rogers, Babcock for Hindle, Brewer for Correll, Hindle for Babcock, Elliff for Koepping, McNaught for Zierton, Johnson for C. Ruch, A. Ruch for Barrett, Bostle for Hoswell, Cortelyou for Meinen, Miller for Siminski.

Touchdowns: Correll, Friedrich, Babcock, Purlee.

Goal after touchdown: Friedrich, Correll.

TECH GRIDDERS MEET AUGUSTANA SAT.

finement. It is doubtful, though, whether Coach Robertson will play him against Augustana.

Babcock, Allen, and Rogers, too, are nursing injuries. Each of them had his injuries renewed in last week's fracas. By taking care, however, the trio will undoubtedly be in condition to fill their niches Saturday. They are just now most needed.

Reserve strength of the Poly forces continues to develop and each game in which the substitutes are being used proves that Coaches Robertson and Johnson are much better off than they earlier in the season anticipated. Purlee and Johnson are dependable ends while Cedric Ruch is another "find." The other linemen who have been sent in to relieve the regulars and the backfield recruits who have from time to time seen action behind the line make on the whole a formidable combination.

Rooters to Follow Team.

Many Tech followers are planning to accompany the team northward. If the coaches and Manager Strayer elect to depart Saturday on the early morning Rock Island train, a special car or two may be chartered. Those who go are assured a glorious time and will enjoy, too, the satisfaction of having seen a mighty fine exhibition of football.

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1922. — NUMBER 10

STRONG LAKE FOREST TEAM MEETS TECH SATURDAY

PROVIDE FOR NEW CONVENIENCES ON POLY FIELD

LARGE CROWDS MAKE OLD ARRANGEMENTS INADEQUATE FOR SPECTATORS.

Add Bleachers to Accomodate 4,000 People—To Install Score Board and Side Numbers.

Due to the large numbers of people who have been attending the football games it has been found necessary to erect new bleachers and to provide other conveniences on the field in order to handle the crowds.

Additional bleachers will be put up during the week to accomodate the spectators at the Saturday game. As all the bleachers used in the Homecoming game were not sufficient to seat all the spectators it is planned to erect a number of box seats along the west side of the gridiron. There will be about sixty of these boxes, each one containing six chairs. They will be placed at the most advantageous place for the viewing of the game and will be sold at a slightly higher price than the regular bleacher seats. Many of these boxes have already been reserved for the Lake Forest game.

A regulation score board of the type used in the larger colleges will be installed soon on the athletic field. Whether or not it will be up for the game Saturday is not known as the locating of one of them requires a great amount of work. Officials expect to locate it in the southeast corner of the field. The score board will fill a great need in keeping the spectators informed as to the score.

Another innovation for Saturday's game is the placing of side numbers along the outside lines of the gridiron. They will become a permanent fixture on the Bradley field and will serve to show the position of the teams in respect to yardage.

The increasing interest being shown in Bradley athletics is the reason for the improvements in the athletic field. Not only students but also Peorians and people from all over Central Illinois have been coming to the games in such large numbers that the old arrangements were inadequate to handle the crowds. With the seating arrangements made as planned it will be possible to accommodate 4,000 people.

The appearance of Dr. L. L. Bernard has been assured by the committee which was appointed by the classes of the Sociological department. Definite arrangements have been made and all plans carried out as far as possible.

Dr. Bernard will give a series of three lectures before the student body. The lectures deal with the result of the geographical environment on the social development of the American race. The first lecture tobe held will be during chapel period. The other two will be held in the afternoon or possibly one in the evening.

Dr. Bernard has been secured through the co-operation of the classes of the Sociological department. Each member contributing a small sum towards the fund and in this way enough was secured to pay expenses and present a small fee.

S. D. Lyman, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with illness but is now able to visit the Institute occasionally. During his absence his duties have been taken over by Mr. H. M. Botts, Superintendent of Power.

Coach Leo Johnson has already proved his worth as Bradley by assisting Robbie in turning out the best football team in the history of the Institute. Coach Johnson hails from Millikin.

COMMITTEE FOR ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET CHOSEN

MANY NEW IDEAS BEING INTRODUCED TO MAKE IT BIG SUCCESS

Admission to Either Banquet or Dance can be had Separately.

Members of the general committee for the annual Football Banquet to be held Saturday, December 9th, have been appointed by Charles Mee, manager of the Banquet, and are making preparations for the holding of an epoch making event. The Banquet is always held at the close of the football season in honor of the team. Its manager is elected by the Athletic Board.

Many new ideas are to be introduced into the Banquet this year. In previous years it has been the custom to charge one admission for both the banquet and the dance following. This year it is planned to divide the price so that the admission to either the banquet or the dance can be had separately.

The committee is working on a plan to provide separate tables for the men and women students as well as to have the class tables as formerly. By this they hope to eliminate the non-attendance of persons who do not have dates.

A new scheme in decorating will be carried out, according to Mr. Mee. It will consist in the draping of the college colors to form a background for a gigantic "B." The color scheme will also be carried out in the table decorations, class colors being predominant.

Sale of Booster tags will be made in connection with the banquet. The money received from the sale of these tags will go towards the purchase of emblems which will be presented to members of the squad as gifts to show the appreciation of the college students for the work done on the football field. The sale of the tags will begin in a few days.

Realizing that the cafeteria is hardly large enough to hold the large number of people, who it is expected will attend, the committee is attempting to secure permission to hold the banquet in the gymnasium rather than in the cafeteria. Holding of the banquet in the gymnasium will also provide for a better carrying out of the decoration scheme.

"We have had a very successful year in football and all the attendance records have been shattered," said Charles Mee, "and we intend to stage a banquet that will do full credit to both. The Federal Board men have pledged their help thru A. L. Butterfield and if the rest of the Institute does as good we need not worry about the outcome."

The large committee will be split up into smaller committees, each of which will work on a particular phase of the preparations. This will be done this week and the work of preparation will progress faster.

Tickets for the Banquet will be sold for $1.00 and the dance will cost $1.00 for each couple or 50 cents for a single admission. Hogan's orchestre has been engaged to play for the evening.

DEBATING TEAM HOLDS TRYOUTS NEXT MONTH

MR. W. ROSS MARVIN TO LEAD DEBATERS THROUGH SEASON.

Tech to Meet Wesleyan, Eureka, Illinois and State Normal.

Tryouts for the debating team will be held in three or four weeks and will be the means of selecting the men who are to represent Bradley in its debating schedule.

Among those working for the try outs are Galowitch, Mee, Haman, Millner, Beimfohr, McDonald, Landers, Silverstein, Brill, Voeckel, Bull and Curtiss.

The question to be debated is "Resolved that United States should enter the League of Nations." The Bradley teams will consider both the affirmative and the negative sides. The affirmative team will debate the question at home while the negative team will make the journey to the other colleges.

The first meeting of the debaters will be held sometime during the end of the week. At this meeting the course of action will be determined. Mr. W. Ross Marvin debate coach will also give a talk on the different methods of debate and discuss the general question of the League of Nations. Probably meetings will be held weekly or twice a week and at these meetings most of the time will be spent in debates among the different contestants. In this manner the contestants must prove themselves fit for the teams and it will be made easier to pick the debaters who will represent Bradley at the inter-collegiate debates.

It is probable that eight men will be used on the debating teams. These men will meet the debating teams of Wesleyan, Eureka, Illinois and State Normal and will debate the League of Nations question.

Possibly the schedule may contain two more debates. One of these would be with the Parsons College, Iowa, and would deal with the question of Cabinet Government.

BRADLEY "Y'S" UNITE IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Members of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are planning on joining their forces in an effort to aid in successfully carrying out the campaign for funds that the Red Cross is making. The drive started November 11th and continues until November 30th. It is the annual nation-wide drive for money for the support of the Red Cross. The membership fee for the year is $1.00 which is the same as former years.

The local drive is being made under the direction of Mr. William L. Mee, chairman of the Peoria committee for the Red Cross drive. The Bradley student Christian Organizations have enlisted their aid in order to increase the membership among the college students.

Although he has been able to take part in only four Bradley games this season, "Bunny" Gross is recognized as one of the best backfield men ever to don a Red and White uniform. His spectacular 67-yard run in the Augustana game is evidence that he is again going to be of real value to the Hilltoppers.

BRADLEY DOWNS AUGUSTANA 34-0 AT ROCK ISLAND

TECH GOAL ONLY THREATENED ONCE—HELD SCORELESS IN OPENING PERIOD.

Gross Makes Long Run for Touchdown—Substitutes Display Good Form.

While blanking Augustana Saturday the Techmen themselves romped across the goal line for five touchdowns and scored on four out of five attempts at try-for-point for a total of 34 points. Throughout the full sixty minutes of battling Bradley was complete master of the situation and only once did Augustana threaten, even then not seriously.

Bendle received Friedrich's long kick-off in the fourth period on his own ten yard line and wormed his way through his interference out into the open. His only chance to finish lie in eluding the diminutive John Brewer who stood in Bradley territory on the forty-yard line, but Brewer made a dive at the dashing Swede and brought him down with a pretty tackle. The Islander's first play after this was a forward pass to Anderson who advanced the ball thirty yards nearer the Augie goal. When three attempts to penetrate the Tech defense and a forward pass failed, Robertson's outfit claimed the bladder and thus avoided having its goal crossed.

First Quarter Honors Even.

For the first time this season the Bradley machine was held scoreless in the opening period. The fifteen minutes of hard play, though fruitless for the Tech, ended, however, with the ball on the Islanders' 25-yard line and put the Poly forces in position to score soon after the start of the second quarter.

Line plunges and end runs then by Babcock and Friedrich advanced the ball to the 8-yard line. On an end run, in which he outsprinted the Augie wingmen, Hoswell skirted the

POLY GRIDDERS IN CHAMPIONSHIP TILT WITH NORTHERNERS

TWO SCHOOLS TO OPPOSE EACH OTHER ON GRIDIRON FOR FIRST TIME—FOREST LINE-UP CONTAINS BACKFIELD OF TOSSERS AND SPEED MERCHANTS.

Participation of Rogers Undecided—Fans Hail Return of Tommy Correll With Joy—Expect Gross to be at Best in Tussle With Northerners.

Coming out of the Augustana tilt in excellent shape and having practically an intact line-up, Coaches Robertson and Johnson started Monday a week of intensive preparation for what will probably be the hardest game of the Bradley football schedule, that with Lake Forest University.

Besides its importance as the game on which may rest the Tech's championship hopes, it is significant in that it is the first time Lake Forest and Bradley have opposed each other on the gridiron. Athletic teams of the two schools have met only once, on the basketball court in 1912.

Lake Forest a Great Team.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of the Chicago outfit, which, by the way, is coached by Ralph Glaze, former All-American star, was its holding to a scoreless tie the strong Ripon College eleven, last year's state champions of Wisconsin. De Pauw, the team to which Lake Forest lost a hard fought game, tied Indiana, while Beloit is another of the most formidable Wisconsin college teams.

Remarkable, too, is the fact that Coach Glaze has on his team seven new men. Jackson, Stewart, and Sherry, backfield men, and Barnes, end tackle, were all chosen All-Conference on their high school teams. Since the entire backfield is unusually fast, Jackson and Stewart being 10 second men; and since the Lake Forest eleven is a great forward passing team, Bradley adherents may well expect to see one of the season's banner contests.

Tech Regulars in Trim.

By keeping Correll, Rogers, and Hindle out of the Augustana game, the Tech mentors purposed to allow the injured men to recover in order to be able to be present this Saturday the regular line-up. Gross played a wonderful game against the Swedes and thereby gave full indication that he will yet be of real value to the Red and White in the season's remaining games. Since he has not been in a game for the past three weeks, his return naturally brings joy into the hearts of the coaches as well as of all Bradley followers.

In just what condition Clarence Rogers will be to start Saturday's game at end is still uncertain. Last week he injured his left shoulder while tackling the dummy. Each day's treatment, though, is relieving the pain so that if he continues to show improvement, he too will be played.

Hailed with joy would be Tommy Correll's appearance in the Tech backfield against Lake Forest. The fractured ribs are steadily mending and he may don a uniform to enter the all-important tussle.

Correll's Absence Sorely Felt.

The fleet-footed left halfback has, with Ellis Friedrich, been shouldering the brunt of the Tech's offensive burdens. When Gross and Babcock were out on account of injuries, it was to him the Red and White

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED AND STARTS PRACTICE

SHORTAGE OF BASSES AND TENORS HINDERS PRACTICE SESSIONS.

Management Considers Propositions to Make Public Appearances—Order New Music for Singers.

Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Stead of the Conservatory the Men's Glee Club has been organized and has begun work in an intensive study of the principles of music. Due to the lack of singers from previous year and the lack of experienced members a great deal of practice will be necessary to fit the organization for an appearance before a large group of people, according to Harold Tucker, president of the club.

Four rehearsals have been held to date, none of which were well attended. The membership roster now includes fourteen names which is a decided contrast to the list of forty names in last yearsfs club. Most of the members are inexperienced and will require a great amount of training in musical lines. As membership is open to any one possessing the necessary voice qualifications the officers of the organization expect that many new members will join before the club makes its first appearance in public.

Lack of tenor and second bass voices is proving a serious question for the organizers of the club. As in former years, there is a comparatively large number of second tenors and baritones but only a few singers of the other two positions have thus far put in appearance.

Practice sessions are held every Wednesday night in the Recital Hall of the Conservatory of Music. The members are not required to practice in long sessions which enables them to prepare their school work. As the membership grows larger it is probable that the time of practicing will be lengthened.

Mr. Stead has ordered new music for the club. As soon as it arrives practice will begin on the selections that are to be given in public this winter. The best selections from great musical artists are being obtained as well as the old, familiar, songs that carry their appeal directly to the hearts of the audience.

Although no definate plans are yet made, the management of the Glee Club is considering a number of invitations to appear on the stage. There are also possibilities of a presentation of a cantata or a musical opera.

Officers of the club, elected at the first meeting are: Harold Tucker, president; Fred Saas, secretary; and H. Mason, treasurer.

CHAPEL SEATING

At the start of the school year it was announced that a definite seating arrangement was to be folowed in chapel. In accordance with the custom followed at many other schools and also for the sake of convenience it was decided to have the seniors sit in the first rows, the juniors next and the classes to follow in the order of their seniority.

This plan has not been carried out completely, due partly to misunderstandings and partly to carelessness. Some of the students don't know where they are supposed to sit; others don't care.

Designation of specific rows of seats to be used by each class might aid in clearing up the difficulty. At least it would put the matter up to the student to decide.

"THE OLD FIGHT"

What is said to be the strongest football team that has ever represented Bradley Institute is now on the last leg of its journey to the championship of the minor colleges of Illinois. Only two other college teams in the state have not met defeat at the hands of other Illinois colleges. One of these is Lombard, with whom Bradley played a 6-6 tie a few weeks ago and the other is Lake Forest, which Bradley meets next Saturday.

Saturday's game will eliminate one of the three title contenders, barring the possibility of a tie game. Lake Forest comes with a good record including victories over St. Viator and Beloit and a scorless tie with Ripon.

Lake Forest will be at a disadvantage in playing on a foreign field. If Bradley supporters give the team the same kind of support that they did at the Homecoming game it will be an additional aid to a Bradley victory.

Some students seem to think that the football season is closed with the Wesleyan game. Noon mass meetings are not as well attended as formerly and interest seems to be dying out since the Homecoming demonstration.

The Rooter's Club is trying to foster the spirit of loyalty and support of the team as well as to arouse enthusiasm for the games. Its backers realize that the hardest part of the schedule is yet to be played. A long string of victories with the resulting overconfidence of the team and its supporters may do more towards losing a football game than lack of training. The remaining games on the schedule will be doubly difficult because they will have to contend with the problem of keeping alive the enthusiasm of both students and team.

ENGLISH CLUB HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

The English Club held its first meeting of the year, November 8, at Social Hall.

This first meeting took the form of a get-together party, and many clever stunts were enacted.

Mr. Walter Winget spoke for the club, welcoming the new members. He briefly outlined the history of the club which includes many of our most prominent alumni.

"To belong to the English Club," stated Mr. Winget, "is one of the most coveted honors on the campus." Membership is based upon the ability of the student in literature.

The Club has not yet arranged a definite program for this year. It was decided to hold the regular meetings the second Wednesday of every month.

This year's officers are: President, Frances Wood; Vice President, Edward Davis; Secretary-Treasurer, Bernys Payne.

The new members of the club include: Misses Dorothy McDonald, Lenore Wysong, Dorothy Starbuck, Florence Westcott, Berniece Jones, Mabel Schmidt, Margaret Cation, Verna Barton, and Virginia Applegate; Messrs.: Harold Voelkel, Glenn Walker, George Johnson, James McComas, Edwin Wiley, Bob Howard, and Louis McDonald.

ATHLETIC MANAGERS AND ASS'T'S ELECTED

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Board Ralph Haman and William Johnson were elected to the position of assistants to Arleigh Strayer, manager of the football team. Managership of the 1923 football team can be conferred only on either of these two men as they alone are eligible to the position, according to a recent ruling by the Athletic Board.

Robert Howard, Fred Saas, and Verne Barnes have been elected assistant basketball managers. The track managership goes to Edward Siminski while the 1923 baseball team will be managed by Harold Zierton. He is to be assisted by Freeman Skinner.

Duties of cheer leader have been assigned to Harry Gordon who is doing so much to revive the pep at Bradley. Bruce Brown has been chosen as his assistant.

THE CO-ED

By Berniece Jones

The spirit among the Bradley girls has been steadily growing better for the last three years, in fact, ever since the academy began to disappear.

Snobs are getting fewer as Bradley becomes more and more like a real college. We are realizing that there are two very good reasons why a feeling of fellowship should pervade the halls, classrooms, and campus. First, it is undoubtedly foolish and only those who are, as Mr. Schroeder would say, "unsocialized" indulge in the expensive luxury of snubbing.

The best work for an organization or institution can only be done when and friendliness within. If we are for Bradley we must work hand in hand with our fellow student, whoever she may be, and we must realize her worth.

And then in haste he said,
"I'll take you home, if that's the case
So you can go to bed."

It was rumored around the campus that the women teachers were going to get up a hockey team. Miss Hopper and Miss Baum have been heard to remark that they knew they would enjoy it. Miss Ewald stated that there was some good material in the faculty and she was sure they could give the students a good game. It may be too late to have a faculty hockey team but why not basketball?

SECOND OF ARTICLES ON PRECIOUS STONES

By R. Grayson Reisch.

The precious opal is one of the most individual of gems; of all the opaque minerals, it reveals the most beautiful play of colors, it is the birth-stone for October, the symbol of hope, yet, for years the fame of this fire-flashing stone was blackened by a cloud of superstition which condemned it as unlucky. A genuine reason why opal may have come to be regarded as unlucky by its possessors is its mutuability. The changes which may occur in the opal are not only numerous but freakish. Brilliant opals have lost their fires and luster, then regained them, while others have lost them forever, again dull specimens have suddenly developed brilliancy. Mediocre specimens will sometimes, when moistened with oil and water, display a fine color. This will vanish when the stone is dry again. In this case a stone would be unlucky for the purchaser. Only a dishonest stone dealer would do this.

The opal regained its lost popularity when the late Her Majesty Queen Victoria presented each of her daughters with opals at their marriage, this and other acts which signified her admiration for the stone and her disdain for the superstition thru which its reputation had fallen into evil day soon raised opals high in the realm of precious stones.

The admiration of the ancients for the opal is expressed by Onomacritus, writing five hundred years B. C., who remarks: "The delicate color and tenderness of the opal remind me of a loving and beautiful child." Pliny said: "It is made up of the glories of the most precious gems and to describe it is a matter of inexpressible difficulty." There is in it the gentler fire of the ruby, the brilliant purple of the amethyst, and the sea-green of the emerald, all shining together in an incredible union.

This craming irridescence is produced by the reflexion and refraction of the light imprisoned within certain openings in the interior of its mass, which are arranged in regular directions.

The ancient Romans esteemed the opal highly; and attributed to it an influence for every possible good.

The combinations of color are infinite. The most beautiful opals are called "harlequin"; these are distinguished by small angular patches of brilliant and variegated colors. Usually the colors of the opal are broken up into small sheeted lights, which play as it is moved. The rarest form is the "Cats-eye Opal," which exhibits a chatoyant line over the center of the dome similar to the cat's eye and usually of a bright green color.

The Musee de Mineralogie, Paris, possesses a very fine opal carved into a bust of Louis XIII when a child.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Mr. Eldon Murray Gives Concert.

Last Thursday evening, November 9, Mr. Eldon Murray, teacher of violin in the Conservatory, gave a violin recital in the Methodist Church of Canton, Ill. The audience was enthusiastic over the splendid playing and Mr. Murray responded with four encores and the repitition of Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois." The people requested him to return and give another concert after the holidays. He was accompanied by Miss Mary Thompson.

Faelton Club Has Frolic.

Saturday was to have been a gala day for all the students in the Faelton classes, for the Faelton Club had planned to have a weiner-roast in Bradley Park. Even though it rained and made it impossible to go to the park, they were not disappointed. It was held in the Social Hall, and such screaming, yelling, and singing has not been heard in the old Social Hall for months. They played "Jerusalem," "My Mother and Father are Irish," and bobbed for apples. The committee then served the hot weiners and buns with mustard, apples, and lovely creamy pink marshmallows. Altogether the party was a wonderful success, and everyone is looking forward to their next stunt.

Next Social Club Stunt.

All of those who attended the first party given for the Conservatory faculty and students by the Social Club know what a gleeful time everyone had. Now this Friday we are going to have another jolly time. It is to be a weiner-roast in the Conservatory yard. Everyone is to meet at the Conservatory Friday, Nov. 17, at 6 P. M.

STEM-WINDER'S WEEKLY

Dawn of the Golden Age.

"No standard of honor could possibly be too high as an ideal for the Jewelry business," says the editor of the Keystone. And he goes on to say that, "Confidence of the public, earned by deserving it, is the indispensable cornerstone of success in this industry and absolute honesty should ever be the watchword of the Jeweler in his transactions with his customers, his employes, the Manufacturers, and the Wholesaler."

And further on he says that, "Every Trade Evil" is an evil to the trade as well as the public. You cannot fondle an Adder without eventually feeling its fatal sting."

While the foregoing article was written expressly for the retail jeweler, it can very readily be adopted to the Horological student, and the workman at the bench, most of whom hope to eventually become retail jewelers themselves.

Just as the old adage, "Procrastination is the thief of time," is as true today as it ever was, so it is with the student, or the workman at the bench, who, under the illusion that they are saving time, will do a "slightly" unworkmanlike job, with the idle hope of "getting by."

No good is ever accomplished by doing work that is "just as good," and untold harm is the inevitable result. It not only causes the workman to lose faith in himself, but that most valuable asset to any jeweler or watchmaker, public confidence, is also destroyed, or materially lessened.

The jeweler is held in public esteem and is trusted more than perhaps any other business man excepting the banker. Articles worth thousands of dollars are entrusted to him every day for repairs or alterations, for which the customer receives only his spoken word as security that the article in question will be returned to him in as good shape as when he received it, plus the necessary repairs or alterations. You have not kept faith with the customer unless the article, whether it be an ordinary watch, or an elaborate platinum and diamond piece is returned in as good shape as when the final O. K. was put on it at the factory, allowing of course, for ordinary wear while in use.

Our worthy ancestors, the ancient "Craftsman," or "Guildsman," as he is called, put his very life blood into his work. No piece of work was ever turned out until he was satisfied that it was the very best that was in him. Wonderful specimens still survive to tell the story of many weary months, in many instances, years of toil, spent on one small article. Yet with all his disadvantages, his few, and crude hand made tools, he was able, by determination, and perseverance to make articles of jewelry that were so perfect, and so wonderfully beautiful that they have not been equalled to this day. Often the only recompense the workman received was the satisfaction of knowing that he had done his best.

Can we of the present day, with our large airy workrooms, finely wrought tools, and super-human automatic machinery afford to do less than our worthy ancestors the "Guildsman" or "Craftsman," who did their best?

* * *

The best way to rid the country of the botch workman, protect the jeweler, the watchmaker, and the public, from such costly pests, is to cooperate with the Horological Institutes of America, either by taking the examination or encouraging others to take it, and encouraging the jewelers to employ only Certified Watchmakers. Dean Westlake is on the Advisitory Committee of the Institue and will be glad to answer any questions that you may like to ask.

* * *

Oh Boy! Did you see the Horologs turn out 125 strong, and join the Manual Arts in the parade preceeding the Homecoming game Saturday? With their red noses, funny caps, horns, squackers, and tin drums, they were able to do some very effective "noise making," for Bradley's heroic eleven. Go to it boys, the more of this kind of boosting the better we like it. The team deserves it. So "Let's Go."

* * *

The only good knocker is a dead one. If you can't boost, and your jaws must have exercise. Chew gum.

* * *

Mobley had his picture taken holding "Wesleyans?" (donkey) He asked his friend, if he didn't think it was a good likeness of himself.

"Yes, it is," replied his friend. "But who's that holding you?"

* * *

Three men, an Englishman, a Scotchman, and an Irishman were standing on a hill looking through a pair of field glasses.

The Englishman was first, and after looking a while said, "I can see the clock on the tower, in the city. I can even see the figures on the dial."

The Scotchman was next, and not wishing to be outdone by his friend the Englishman said, "And I can even see the hands on the clock move."

The glasses were handed to the Irishman and after looking a moment said, "Faith and we can hear it strike."

SECOND OF ARTICLES ON PRECIOUS STONES

Among the French crown jewels were two wonderful opals; one was set in the clasp of the imperial cloak.

The opal is cut on a leaden wheel with emery, and polished with a wooden one with tripoli and water; great care must be taken not to heat the stone too much by friction, and from its fragility very delicate handling is required.

The principal supply of opals come from Australia; they are also found in Queensland, in brown ironstone nodules, and in South Wales in a matrix Kaoline. They are also found in Hungaria. Black opals are occasionally found in Australia, but are rarely seen in this country. Mexican and Honduras "fire" opals have little sale in the United States. They are more transparent than the precious opal, or brownish red color, in which various indistinct colored lights float. The colors are less fiery and they fade. They are found at Esperanza, in the state of Queretaro, Mexico, in Honduras and in Guatemala.

Agates, fossilized wood and bone are found opalized and are called "agate opal," "wood opal," etc. Reports mention the importation of a piece of opalized bone weighing 1150 carats, of rich color and fire.

looked for its gains. One-third of the time he carried the ball and to him must duly go the credit for scoring the only touchdowns registered against Lombard and Illinois College.

Correll's consistent ground gaining and his sensational line plunging are assets the Tech machine can at this time ill afford to lose. No less important has been his defensive playing, for very seldom does he miss a tackle. That the all-round backfield star will be able to compete against the Chicago outfit is the wish of every Bradleyite.

right extremity and touched the oval behind the chalk line for the first of the Tech's five touchdowns. The attempt at kicking goal was successful.

Gross' 67-Yard Sprint.

In the dying moments of the first half, during the major portion of which the Swedes were kept on the defensive, Erickson shot to Bendle a long forward pass. Howell touched the ball and it fell into the waiting arms of Gross, playing safety. The entire Augustana team was dazed as "Bunny" hit for the sidelines and followed his favorite path for 67 yards to the goal.

He was forced to the limit near the finish of his spectacular run, for Anderson almost overtook him near the fifteen yard line. Friedrich's attempt to add another point by a kick from placement just as the half closed was futile, so that the score steed 12 to 0.

Third Quarter Bradley's Best.

Three minutes after the opening of the second half found the Techmen galloping down the field for another marker. Babcock, Friedrich, and Gross were the best gainers in placing the ball to within 29 yards of the six-point margin, where Friedrich himself raced through the center of the Augustana line as it parted with the thrusts of Siminski, Koepping, McNaught, Barrett and Meinen.

Counter number four resulted from an Augustana fumble by Anderson on the 12-yard line. Johnson recovered the pigskin and on the fourth play, a criss cross executed by Babcock to Gross, the latter carried it over. Griedrich again kicked goal.

Practically the entire second team was playing when the final touchdown was registered in the last quarter. It came through a 25 yard forward pass, Friedrich to Johnson, who caught the ball on the goal line. A few steps over he touched it down and Friedrich brought the total to 34 when his kick soared between the uprights.

Bradley's line was as great a bulwark to the Augie aggregation as it has been to many others this season. The second team linemen gave a good account of themselves, particularly McNaught who relieved Zierton in the second half. Every play that the Swedes attempted through his position the beefy Gridley lad "smeared." He is a mighty hard man to budge.

The lineup and summary:

Bradley	Pos.	Augustana
Purlee	L. E.	Larson
Meinen	L. T.	Cornell
Zierton	L. G.	Carlson
Siminski	Center	O. Johnson

CARTHAGE INVADES HILLTOP FIELD TO TRIP TECH

BRADLEY MAY JOIN LITTLE 19 AT CONFERENCE

PRESENT RULING MAY BE CHANGED TO ADMIT INSTITUTE TO MEMBERSHIP.

Dr. Swaim and Coach Robertson to Attend December Meeting at Bloomington.

Whether Bradley will joint the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference is one of the most vital matters sure to come up before the winter meeting of that organization to be held on December 8, at Bloomington.

Bradley is not in the conference or will not join the conference under its existing rules, though for years Bradley was one of the leading members of the so-called "Little Nineteen." At the time the I. I. A. C. was organized some rules were passed which made it impossible for the Tech institution to maintain athletic teams that could compete with the other strong teams of the conference.

One of those rules bars from competition any athlete not carrying per week twelve hours work leading to a degree. Such a rule is not absolutely fair to a school like Bradley as it precludes any one from playing on its athletic teams who may be enrolled in the Vocational and Horological departments where work taken does not lead to a degree.

Bradley authorities take the proper stand in not wanting to cut those students from an opportunity to compete on athletic teams. The mere fact that some student chooses to take work along vocational lines should not bar him from active athletic competition. As a matter of fact, a very small percentage of the athletic material on the Bradley teams comes from the Vocational and Horological departments.

Would the conference take cognizance of the actual facts and make an exception of the Tech's case by erasing that one rule in particular from the by-laws, Bradley authorities see no reason why they would not gladly join the conference next month. Since Bradley is in part a technical school, it is in a different situation than any of the colleges now in the conference; consequently, if the other members of that organization are desirous of having Bradley enter they should be willing to entertain the Tech authorities' proposals.

The question that naturally arises is whether Bradley would benefit from entering the Little Nineteen circuit. In increasing the material for its athletic teams the Tech would receive no advantage. Joining the conference does, though, offer a channel through which a school can claim an undisputed state championship.

At present the conference is a weakly organized body. It is so primarily because of the different interpretations which the various conference schools are giving to the conference eligibility rules as they now stand.

Bradley will be represented at the December meeting by Dr. Swaim, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics, and Coach A. J. Robertson.

ARTICLE APPEARS BY PROF. M. K. TEACH

The first of a series of twelve articles under the head of architectural drawing by Prof. M. K. Teach of the Manual Arts department, was published in the November edition of "The American Builder," a national technical magazine. The article dealt with the construction of letters and was accompanied with numerous illustrations which simplify the text. This article is to be followed by another which deals with more advanced phases of the subject.

—B. P. I.—

W. J. Brandon, well known by the Vocational men, has just been transferred from Bradley to Springfield.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE COACH

By Frank N. Ireland, Jr.

I casually wandered into Coach Robertson's office at Bradley the other day and found the coach seated at his desk with his feet adorning the top of that article of furniture. In my book on "Helpful Hints to Colleges" I am going to suggest that coaches and instructors be provided with spurs. That is beside the point, however, and has nothing to do with this article. The coach was in fine humor and it looked as if I had struck an opportune moment for my purpose. After a little conversation on various and sundry topics I casually said, "What are the qualifications for a successful coach, Robbie?"

"Ha-ha-ha," was all the answer I got.

"I'm serious, Robbie. I'm a representative of the Washburn Weekly Blade and I've been sent to interview you as coach of a prospective championship team," I continued.

"Ha-ha-ha," again. It looked as though I had struck a rut. The coach became normal in a few minutes, however, and delivered the startling statement that a successful coach "was one that could win games."

"I know that," I replied. "But what qualifications must he have? Should he have studied psychology, must he have a forceful personality, does he need to be a leader of men, or what?"

"I suppose he needs all those things," replied the coach. "But he needs one thing more that I can think of right now. He must be a hard loser."

"What's that?" I demanded. "I thought a man should be a good loser, no matter what the game."

"By no means," declared Robbie. "An athletic coach should be a hard loser. I don't mean that he should be an 'Alibi Ike' or anything like that, but if a coach don't feel a defeat, how can he make his men feel it?"

Just then Leo Johnson, the assistant coach came in.

"Try Leo," suggested the coach. "He can probably give you some dope."

I explained to Johnson what I was after and he immediatly handed out some encouragement.

"Come into my office," he said. "I think I've got just what you want." This sounded a little like the story of the spider and the fly, but he's a little fellow so I took a chance.

He brought out a couple of notebooks and began a search.

"I had all that stuff on the qualifications of a coach. It's here somewhere and I'll try to find it for you."

After a futile search through the first notebook, he discarded it and started on the second. This didn't give up any useful information, and the search was started over again. The second hunt yielded no better than the first, and he finally gave it up.

"I guess it isn't here," he said. "I was sure I had it."

I thanked him for his attempts to help me and went back to Robbie's office in hopes that I might yet find some of the elusive "qualities."

"I can't write a six hundred word interview on the fact that a coach should be a hard loser," I complained. "That's about the only thing you've told me."

"A newspaper reporter ought to be able to write a thousand words on nothing," he came back at me.

Judging from this, I had all I was going to get. I was a little disappointed but I thanked the coach for his lengthy discourse and made a graceful exit.

DEAN WESTLAKE APPOINTED TO POST OF HONOR

NAMED SUPERVISOR OF CENTRAL ILLINOIS DISTRICT OF HOROLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA.

To Certify Watchmakers According to Degree of Skill—Issue Certificates to Jewelers.

A. T. Westlake, dean of the Horological Department of Bradley Polytechnic Institute, has been appointed supervisor for the Horoligal Institute of American for the Central Illinois District.

The selection of Dean Westlake for this post is quite an honor as the Horological Institute of American is an important scientific body formed under governmental auspices to encourage the study of watchmaking and watch repairing and thereby relieve the great shortage of men skilled in these fine mechanical branches, which is one of the present problems of the retail jewelry and watch industry.

The Horological Institute of America being directed by leaders in the watch manufacturing, jewelry and scientific fields and has a number of the foremost governmental experts on its advisory board. The district supervisor will have charge of certain phases of the work of certifying watchmakers according to their degree of skill, so that the institute may issue certificates showing which ones are competent to make repairs to the watches and clocks of the community.

Mr. Westlake is also a member of the advisory council of the Horological Institute of America.

—B. P. I.—

The Bradley Conservatory orchestra under the direction of Mr. Murray, will give a concert Monday evening, December 4, in Bradley Hall. Merle Gibson, pupil of Mr. Franklin Stead, will play the G minor concerto with orchestral accompaniment.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB SECURES NOTED EDUCATOR

MRS. MARY SCHENCK WOOLMAN TO SPEAK ON VOCATIONAL EDUCATION BEFORE CLUB.

Well Known in Educational and Economic World—Holds Many Executive Positions.

Mrs. Mary Schenck Woolman who comes to Bradley on Nov. 27, under the auspices of the Home Economics Club is an educator, lecturer and author of national reputation. For many years she has held important public offices in the educational and economic life of this country and extended study of the revival of crafts and trade schools in England and in Europe gave her foremost rank as an organizer of vocational studies in schools of this country. She became professor of Domestic Arts at Columbia University organized and was the first director of the Manhattan Trade School for Girls after which many trade schools in this country have been patterned.

As a specialist in vocational education, she has been long associated with the National Society for the Promotion of Vocational Education. She was also chairman of the organization committee of the Campfire Girls when that movement was launched in 1911. During the late war she served on the Massachusetts committee on Food Conservation and with the War Service Committees of the Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Woolman is a woman of not only abounding energy, but of great personal magnetism and charm. She has been an inspiration to the countless students who have been fortunate enough to be in her classes, and a wise counselor and friend of women and girls in industry. It is a great privilege to have her visit Bradley Institute again after a lapse of about ten years and much to the credit of the Home Economics Club for making it possible.

DR. L. L. BERNARD SPEAKS TO LARGE STUDENT AUDIENCE

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA LECTURER TALKS ON RELATION OF SOCIOLOGY AND GEOGRAPHY.

Suggests Use of Alcohol as Substitute for Diminishing Coal Supply.

"Over-industrialization means imperialism," said Dr. L. L. Bernard in his address before the student body Monday afternoon. "Colonies, possessions, and spheres of influence are much sought after as sources of raw materials for the factories of an over-industrialized country. Greed and the lust of gain play large parts in the struggle for the lands of countries having large undeveloped natural resources."

Dr. Bernard, who is a lecturer of note from the department of sociology, University of Minnesota, delivered three lectures to the students of Bradley Monday, two of them being in the afternoon and one in the evening. Large audiences greeted his appearance at all of the meetings and his discussions of the relation of geographical and sociological conditions of nations were well received.

In his first appearance of the afternoon Dr. Bernard gave a short summary of the great political changes of history which were due to the desire of nations for possession of territories having valuable natural resources, particularly coal and iron. Dynastic reasons, according to Dr. Bernard, are usually only an ulterior motive for the great wars of history. The real underlying motives are economic.

Dr. Bernard again spoke at 1:30 o'clock on "Natural Resources and Civilization." The lecture dealt with the need for conservation of the natural resources of this country, the length of time the present resources will be available, and the forces which will probably be utilized as substitutes.

"There is only enough coal and iron in the world to last for three or four centuries at the most," said Dr. Bernard. "Waterpower, windpower and electricity either lack the energy to produce the power now produced by coal or dependent upon coal for their energy. It is possible that the people of the world may be forced to return to a 'stone age' in a few centuries from now."

Dr. Bernard further explained that alcohol producing plants might be grown in such quantities that the alcohol obtained from them might be used to produce the power now obtained from coal.

The final lecture was given at 8 o'clock and consisted of a general summing up of the points of the two previous talks.

STUDENT FRIENDSHIP DRIVE OPENS DEC. 6

Members of the Bradley Christian Associations are combining their forces for the beginning of a drive to raise money for the Student Friendship Fund which is used to aid students, particularly in foreign countries. The drive will formally open on December 6th when a speaker from the national headquarters will appear at Bradley and deliver a talk on the importance and use of the Friendship Fund.

Efforts are being made to unite the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations of America with the Student Associations of other countries in securing funds for maintaining and developing self-help in several of the Central European Countries, in providing relief for Central European refugees, and in providing relief for Russian students and professors in the universities of Russia. This will require a fund of about $250,000 which must be raised by the student organizations of the world.

GRUDGE FIGHT TO BE WAGED WITH OMER TRIBE ON SATURDAY

POLY GRIDDERS RECALL DISASTROUS RESULTS OF LAST YEAR'S ENCOUNTER WITH DOWN-STATERS—EXPECT A HARD GRAPPLE TO WIN.

Meinen and Zierton Out With Injuries Received in Lake Forest Fray—Backfield in Fair Shape for Semi-Finals in State Championship Race—Carthage Presents Intact Line-up.

Another spirited fight will be waged on the Hilltop field Saturday when the Carthage and Bradley elevens grapple. The Techmen recall the disappointing 14-7 defeat administered to them last year by the underestimated Omer tribe.

On several occasions this season the Carthage scouts have watched the Poly team in action. Coach Omer's sleuths worked so well last year that every Tech play was sensed by the visitors It remains to be seen just how much information they have secured on Bradley's favorite formations.

Carthage will undoubtedly be represented by an intact aggregation. Last week's game with Lincoln was purposely arranged by the Carthage mentor in order that he might protect his regulars. As it is, Coach Omer has essentially the same line-up that last year scored a win over the too confident Poly gridders.

Meinen and Zierton Out.

Saturday's victory over Lake Forest was costly to Coach Robertson's outfit. Meinen was laid low in the thick of the fray and had to be carried from the field early in the fourth quarter. His injury, a wrenched knee, will certainly keep him out of this week's contest. With careful nursing, so the doctor advises, the lighting Techman may be enough improved to start the Thanksgiving Day battle.

Zierton also received rough treatment from Glaze's men. His injury, consisting of a bruised shoulder, will probably force him out the remainder of the season. Zierton's absence, however, is less serious than that of Meinen, as McNaught can ably serve at the guard position.

Coach Robertson may have to use Purlee at Rogers' end against the Carthaginians. Rogers' shoulder and ankle are still bothering him so that he may not be seen in the line-up Saturday. Purlee is an able substitute and he plays his position well.

Bradley's quartet of veteran backs will probably work together again this week-end. Though Gross is not in the best condition, he still proves to be a big threat to his opponents. Correll's fractured ribs are not yet perfectly mended so that he, too, must take care. Babcock has hit his stride and in these two remaining games should be the Tech's source of gains when yardage is needed. Friedrich has yet to complain.

Hoswell, Hindle, Bostic, Brewer and Haeffner are reserve backfield men on whom Bradley coaches can rely should any of the regulars need relief. It is probable that each will be called upon aSturday in order to preserve the regulars for the Eureka game on Turkey Day.

Among other things the electrical department students are rebuilding an induction motor into a synchronous motor. Some interesting tests will result upon completion.

ALLIED ENGLISH INTERESTS PLAN WINTER PROGRAM

ENGAGE LITERARY MEN OF NOTE TO APPEAR BEFORE PEORIANS.

Hamlin Garland, Edgar Lee Masters, Louis Anspacher and Walpole to Speak.

The Allied English Interests of Peoria will again present to the people of Peoria and its vicinity a series of lectures and entertainments which will take place throughout the winter months. In previous years the Allied English Interests have had very much success in securing poets, novelists and literary men of the highest type from practically all parts of the world. This year they expect to have as good a program as any previously held.

Hamlin Garland is the first of the series of entertainers, and he will appear November 27. Mr. Garland is a novelist, lecturer and farmer. In his early life he was a professor of English literature at private schools in the vicinity of Boston. In 1890 he published his first book and since that time many have come off the press. Among the most noticeable are "A Son of the Middle Border" and "Main Traveled Roads." A good deal of his life is spent out of doors trailing game. Mr. Hamlin also indulges in many other out-of-door sports.

The second entertainment, January 22, will be given by Edgar Lee Masters. Mr. Masters is a lawyer and a graduate of Knox College, and has only taken up poetry in later life. He has written drama in blank verse and also some very interesting plays. Some of his later books of poetry are "Toward the Gulf" and "Starved Rock Poems."

February 15th finds Louis K. Anspacher in Peoria. He is a dramatist and lecturer as well as an American playwright and poet. Robert Erskine Ely, director of the League for Political Education, New York, says: "He is a remarkable lecturer." Mr. Anspacher has written many plays. Among the most remarkable are "The New House," "All the King's Horses," "The Unchastened Woman," "The Glass House," "The Kingdom of Content," "Triston and Isolde," and others of similar type. During our participation in the late war Mr. Anspacher wrote many poems for the American people and some of them, particularly "The Clarion" and "The Pledge," have been incorporated into and are still used in many of our national memorial ceremonials. He comes highly recommended from all parts of the country.

Hugh Seymour Walpole, the world famous novelist, who is admittedly one of the foremost living authorities on modern English literature, will entertain Peorians the evening of February 28th. Mr. Walpole is a graduate of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and served with the Red Cross during the late war. He is a renowned English novelist and literary critic; also the author of "The Dark Forest," "The Secret City" "Married at Forty," "The Gods and Mr. Perrin," "The Duchess of Wrexe," "The Wooden Horse," and many other interesting novels.

These lectures and entertainments will be held at the Women's Club of Peoria. The price of admission for the whole series of lectures is $3.00 and special arrangements of $1.50 have been made for students.

ADAPTABILITY

A prominent educator of this country recently made the remark that, "The value of a college training lies, not so much in the knowledge gleaned from books and lectures as in the lesson of 'Adaptability' which every college student must learn or drop by the way side." This remark was not idle talk founded on hearsay or a false perspective of conditions. It was based on the experience of a man who, for many years has been active in preparing men and women for this life's work after college days are over.

The lesson of adaptability is one which a student hardly realizes he is getting. Learning to adjust himself to new conditions which arise every day in college life, is a slow, almost imperceptable process, but in the end the results stand out in bold relief to distinguish the college breeman and woman.

THE GUN AND BLADE

A few weeks ago the Gun and Blade club; an organization of World War Veterans came into existence at Bradley. Membership was decided upon, officers were elected and the organization was put upon a working basis.

Saturday the attention of members of the club was called to the fact that one of their former buddies of the Great War was lying seriously ill at his home in the city, with little money or food to tide him over his illness. Contributing generously, the members soon made up a purse to be donated to the man. An automobile load of provisions was also assembled by the members and delivered to the needy Veteran Saturday afternoon.

That the man who received the assistance was not a member of their organization did not affect the attitude of the men of the Gun and Blade. The need was evident and the relief was swift.

Deeds of that kind will soon make a name for the club. If the Golden Rule is adhered to in all the acts of the organization as it was in this particular case Bradley may well be proud of the group of men who make up the Gun and Blade Club.

Cases are very common among girls, perhaps more so than among men.

With girls these cases are not limited to boys, but extend to members of their own sex. When the object adored is in sight it is the universal practice for the affected party to blush. Sometimes all their actions are for the benefit of the admired party.

Others are affected differently. All they ask is to be permitted to gaze and worship from a distance. When they attempt to study, instead of seeing the printed page before them they have strange visions in which their cases and themselves play the main part.

If the feminine half of the case speaks in chapel, the words from her mouth are heeded and believed as the ten commandments should be.

If the male half plays on the football team, the worshipful freshman appears at all of the games and feels a thrill run up her spine when a cheer is given for her "hero."

We have often wondered why cases are not more commong among boys but have finally decided that perhaps they limit their affections to one.

* * *

Personally we believe in cases. Only a person who is looking for the "ideal" ever has one.

Historians tell us that it has taken millions of years to make a man out of a monkey. It only takes a woman a few minutes to reverse the process.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

The radio set in the woodwork shop is in good order now. Mr. Hurff reports that he hears Davenport, Pittsburgh, Detroit and all the other stations just as do all the rest of the radio bugs.

It was discovered that Mr. Hurff's weakness is for the Bed Time Stories broadcasted from Davenport!

* * *

The Machanical Drawing department had charge of planning the new box seats that were used at the Lake Forest game. This scheme made room for 396 people, and assures these few of a particular seat at the games.

* * *

Mr. Emil Johnson took his patternmaking class on a visit to a local foundry. Upon returning Haeppner was found bewailing the fact that he could find no "Green Sand" at the foundry!

* * *

Daniels wins! He was late to English class the other morning. His mind reverted to his kid days. Upon entering class he placed a big red apple in front of Miss Hobson; then he meekly took his seat. We are told that either the offering or the pitiful look that accompanied it accomplished the purpose!

* * *

The class in wiring has rebuilt the switchboard controlling motor generator in the machine shop. The boys are now working on the distribution panel. Useful equipment for the school is also being made by these students.

* * *

Mr. Dace gave an interesting lecture at Bradley Hall on Testing of Electrical Magnetic Machines. This is a part of the regular night school work. A later lecture will follow on Automatic Substation.

* * *

Red Ireland, master blacksmith, wishes to announce to the public that hand forged products are his specialties. Any one in dire need may call upon Red for such work. All patronage appreciated.

* * *

Homer Mason designed a duck in class. It was so realistic that when Miss Mickle left the door open one night, the duck got loose and flew away. Mason, with the aid of the Great Hunter Redfern, recaptured the duck. It is now securely fastened on the paper, but Miss Mickle keeps it locked in case it gets loose again.

A letter from Albert Mooney was received during the past week. Mooney is teaching at Chaska, Minnesota, this year. He writes that his work is going fine. Chaska is noted as being a sugar town—sugar is made from the beet.

Mooney reports that W. T. Haugen, another former Bradley student, is engaged in running a movie show at Chaska.

* * *

New Federal Board students that registered during the past week are:

Robert E. Harvey, Jacksonville, electrician.

Charles A. Larson, East St. Louis, machine draftsman.

* * *

William Hemmer, a graduate of the four year course last June, writes from Saginaw, Mich., where he is an instructor this year. Hemmer sticks to the statement that teaching is a great game, but he says the path is not exactly a rosy one. He can't be persuaded that it is possible to make furniture without lumber, and says that purchasing agents are "hold-up" men!

Hemmer is teaching in the West Side school at Saginaw.

An article has just appeared in the last issue of "Motor Service" on the subject of "cutting a triple left hand Acme thread." The author is none other than our Mr. George F. Johnson of the machine shop.

* * *

A lot of drafting boards which were ordered last year have finally arrived. These boards are extra large and are designed to meet the growing need for such equipment in the drafting courses.

* * *

Herman Neuhauser, a student in the Teasher Training Division last year, is teaching wood turning at the Normal University at Bloomington. He is completing his college work at the same school.

* * *

Because of the greater chance for instruction since the additions in our machine shop the classes have been lengthened from two to three hours. The student gets the advantage in enlarging the shop, both by more time and by better instruction, because of an increase in faculty members in the department.

* * *

The reporter says that all men in Manual Arts know that:

1. Walton is destined to become a great blacksmith.
2. Buchele and Gille are authorities on gear design.
3. Rand is the expert on Wrigley's Spearmint.
4. Sills as a commercial artist would make a good mule skinner.
5. Judging from the appearance of some of our men's faces the barbers are still "out."
6. "Ole" Hanson is saving money.
7. Hiner will make a better photograph salesman than an architect.
8. Judging from the free hand drawing class census, Boren is quite attached to Venus.
9. If it's electricity you've got to approve it to Dene.
10. Bybe will be a designing engineer—if he lives long enough.

H. M. BOTTS INJURED, STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Mr. H. M. Botts, Superintendent of Power, of Bradley Institute was seriously injured Friday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Chester Larson of 1113 Webster Street. His left arm and two ribs were broken in the accident which occurred at the corner of Madison and Fulton streets.

The blinding rain which prevented Larson from seeing Mr. Botts as he crossed the street is said to be the cause of the accident.

Mr. Botts has been attending to the duties of S. D. Lyman, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, at the Institute during the latters illness. Mr. Lyman has practically recovered and will soon resume his duties.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR FOOTBALL BANQUET

The various committees in charge of the annual football banquet which will be given December 9, have announced that plans for the banquet and dance are nearing completion. In view of the fact that the football team in whose honor the affair is given has made such a good showing, the banquet should be one of the most successful events on the football social calendar.

Whether the banquet is to be given in the cafeteria, in Bradley Hall or in the gymnasium has not yet been definitely decided. However, it may be necessary to make use of the cafeteria since more diners can be accommodated there than in the Social Hall.

The committee in charge of decorations has announced that the predominating colors will be red and white. Each class will decorate a table in their respective class colors. Tables for guests will be decked with red and white.

Tickets for the banquet and dance can be secured from any committee member. Tickets for the banquet will be sold for $1.00 per plate, and dance tickets for 50c per person.

The general committee has also planned a "Booster Tag" sale, the proceeds of which will be used to buy tokens of appreciation for the football players.

Now is the time when most fellows "break up" with their girls, so they don't have to buy any Christmas presents. We know 'em, don't we girls?

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Mr. Kenneth Stead Gives Program.

Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead gave a very enjoyable program Sunday afternoon, November 19, at the Country club. He sang a varied program of twenty numbers consisting of several English, French and Italian songs, three operatic Arias, and two Neapolitan dialect songs. He was enthusiastically received by the large audience, as was also Miss Adelaide Ihrig White, his accompanist, who also played three numbers.

* * *

The second term opened Wednesday, November 15. The enrollment has increased in all departments, but has not yet reached its height.

TECHMEN SUBDUE FORESTER TEAM IN DECISIVE WIN

POLY LINEMEN PUT UP GREAT EXHIBITION—BLOCK PUNTS AND RECOVER FUMBLES

Two Beautiful Running Catches of Forward Passes Net Touchdowns —Friedrich's Punting Feature.

Bradley's "Fighting Indians" again covered themselves with glory when they downed the Lake Forest tribe Saturday in a ne'er to be forgotten battle that ended 26 to 6. By so doing the Tech materially strengthened its bid for the state championship. Lombard now remaining as the only other contender.

Red and White linemen played sensational ball. With dogged determination they rushed the Lake Forest backs and forced the opportune "breaks" that paved the way for the coveted victory. Bradley well deserved to win, for the Poly warriors fundamentally outplayed the Chicagoans.

Submerge Forest Clan Early.

Sliminski's recovery of a Forester fumble within the visitors' territory and Meinen's blocking an enemy punt, on which Zierton fell, put the Poly eleven in line early in the opening quarter for its first touchdown. Following a series of line thrusts Gross tore off a fifteen yard gain around left end. Babcock then pierced the northeners' defense and carried the ball over the line. Friedrich's kick was perfect.

Bradley immediately launched another drive for goal and in six more minutes had registered the second counter. Two beautiful catches of long forward passes, one by Rogers for a gain of twenty-five yards and the other by Correll who speared the oval as he loped across the whitiny, were the means by which it was accomplished. Both passes were flipped by Quarterback Friedrich. As the try-for-point attempt was not successful, the quarter ended a moment later with the score standing 13 to 0.

In the second period Zierton again pounced upon the ball when Folgate, Lake Forest half, assisted in blocking one of his own mate's punts on the ten yard line. Finding the Lake Forest wall solid on two attempts, Friedrich then called for a criss cross play. Perfect interference was afforded Correll as he raced around right end for Bradley's third touchdown. Barrett laid low two tacklers who threatened to nip Correll.

Stewart in Prominent Role.

Stewart, light-weight colored halfback for the northerners, on the fifteen yard line received the Bradley kick-off that followed. Setting off toward the right side of the field and dodging the Poly tacklers he darted up the sideline to the opposite end of the gridiron. The deer-footed Stewart made the run practically unaided for he outdistanced his teammates several yards before reaching midfield. He is perhaps the fastest runner on a straightaway that Peoria football fans have ever seen. A bad back-pass from center frustrated Stewart in his attempt to place kick for the extra point.

Coach Glaze's outfit opened up at the start of the second half with its celebrated aerial attack. The volley of passes that came toward the close of the third period enabled that aggregation to rush the ball to Bradley's eight yard line. The Tech ramparts were unwavering, however, so that Lake Forest was forced to surrender.

Further disaster was wholly averted when Friedrich's extraordinary kick sent the bladder to the far end of the field. It was extraordinary in that the spinning ball lit on the Forest 45 yard line and rolled end over end to within one yard of the Bradley goal line.

Rush Punt and Secure Ball.

Stewart was forced to hurry his punt out of danger because of the Tech forwards' rushing in on him; consequently his kick was weak. Friedrich, playing defensive right half, dropped on the ball at the twenty yard line. From there, on two line plunges, Babcock advanced the Tech's position five yards. A running forward pass, Friedrich to Gross who leaped to catch it in Lake Forest's goal territory, gave Bradley its fourth and final touchdown of the game.

Their hopes now pinned on a successful overhead assault the Foresters, with Stewart on the sending end and Peterson, McIntosh, and Captain Jackson as receivers, opened up with another discharge of passes. Though they showed marked ability at the aerial game, of the number of tries, twenty-four, only nine were completed for a total distance of 147 yards. Friedrich, Correll, Barrett, and Hoswell were especially consistent in breaking up the enemy's flings.

Bradley, on the other hand, completed four of its eight attempts. The total of the yards thus gained is 55. Two of the passes were directly responsible for two touchdowns scored by the Poly eleven.

Bradley Team a Unit.

Unlike the Lake Forest band of hardies, which seemingly lacked leadership, the Tech machine worked as it always works, as a unit. Though the play of the linemen was the more sparkling, the backfield is deserving of as much credit for the great victory. Each of the aces, Gross, Correll, Friedrich, and Captain Babcock, did his share when the opportunity to score was provided. The Tech general's marvelous punting was an important factor as was the brilliant work of Koepping at guard and of Rogers and Allen at ends. Substitutes McNaught, Purlee, Elliff and Hoswell also showed up well.

Standing out most prominently for the visitors were, aside from Stewart, Captain Jackson, Barnes, Dickson and Leaf.

FRATERNITIES OF BRADLEY ATTEMPT TO NATIONALIZE

FIRST MOVE TO ESTABLISH FRATERNITY HOUSES BY TWO LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS.

Many Out-Of-Town Men to Live in Houses — Faculty Support Attempts to Get Chapters.

Corrected

A new era in Bradley's fraternities will begun when on December 1 the Sigma Phis will move into their new house at 108 N. Elmwood Ave. The Beta Mus are already in their house at 200 Predonia St. The Alpha Pi's, comprised largely of in-town men have as yet made no plans for the future.

Out of a membership of 25, the Betas have 15 residing at the house while the Sigma Phis will have 15 out of a membership totalling 30. These two fraternities have opened these houses as a means of securing admittance to national fraternities, petitions for local chapters having already been filed.

Russell Damon, president of the Betas, states, "We are opening our twelfth year of existence at Bradley and are making every attempt to nationalize." When asked concerning the method of operation of the house he said, "Each man is detailed a certain duty which must be performed. Each week a sergeant-at-arms is appointed whose duty it is to oversee the house. The men detailed to such work as cooking or straightening up the house."

Walter Schmitt of the Sigma Phi's states that they will run their house practically on the same scheme. He states that on December 1 they hope to take possession of their new house with fifteen members as residents. Those not staying at home are in-town men.

That the faculty is back of these attempts to nationalize is shown in a statement made by President T. C. Burgess. He remarked, "The faculty will co-operate and assist in every possible way to help these fraternities nationalize. Composed as they are of a membership which comprises both in and out-of-town men, the faculty will regard this experiment with no little interest."

The names of the national fraternities petitioned are withheld.

AVERY ON BUSINESS STAFF

Mr. Cyrus Avery, formerly of the business office, is again temporarily connected with the business staff of Bradley Institute, taking care of the many details that go to make a football season successful, financially and otherwise.

Mr. Avery is handling the gate receipts and box seats for the home games played by Bradley's football team. Last year Mr. Avery held the office of purchasing agent for the Institute but gave up that position due to his work with Hogan's orchestra.

COACH JOHNSON TO BECOME BENEDICT

The marriage of Miss Henrietta Page, daughter of Mrs. Anna F. Page of Decatur, Ill., to Leo Johnson, son of Mrs. L. C. Johnson of Carlyle, Ill., will take place next Tuesday afternoon, December 5, at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, 570 W. Prairie, with the Rev. C. E. Jenner of the First Presbyterian Church of St. Louis officiating.

Simplicity will mark the occasion with only the immediate family and close friends present. Little Dorothy and Richard Hoff will be the attendants at their aunt's wedding. Miss Dorothy, only three years old, will be flower girl, her eight year old brother is to be ring bearer. A wedding dinner is to follow the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will leave for Chicago to spend their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends at 315 St James, Peoria, after December 15.

Mr. Johnson first met Miss Page when they were both attending Milliken in 1916. She was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority at that school, and he, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

During the war our coach was Lieutenant Johnson overseas. There he formed the friendship of the Rev. Jenney, a chaplain in the army.

Mr. Johnson, as his position here at Bradley signifies, has always been an ardent athlete. Both before and after the war, he took a big part in all athletics at Millikin; he is one of the best all around athletes that Millikin ever turned out. In the summer of 1919, he was a member of the American track team in Europe. Since his arrival last fall at Bradley, he has done a great deal, both with the team and the student body.

All Bradley is anxious to meet Miss Page as Mrs. Johnson after December 15th.

Men of Bradley Institute:

Your Y. M. C. A. pledges, made at the beginning of the year, are now due. Money is needed to carry on the good work which the "Y" has started. The officers are working hard to put the organization on a firm financial basis. Remember your pledge.

FORMAL OPENING FRIENDSHIP DRIVE ON DECEMBER 9

WORLD'S STUDENT CHRISTIAN FEDERATION BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS.

American Students to Contribute in Aiding Those of Foreign Lands to Secure Education.

Bradley's opportunity to show its spirit of good will and good fellowship comes December 9th. On that day the Student Friendship Drive will be formally opened.

Miss Margaret Quale, a representative from headquarters, will present the situation in a speech given at the chapel hour in Bradley Hall. Miss Quale has been in the foreign field and is familiar with the conditions.

Because thousands of our fellow students in central Europe are starving intellectually as well as physically the World's Student Christian Federation is making a campaign to raise funds.

Because fellow students of foreign countries, especially Russia, are without warm clothing and fuel as well as without books and equipment the association asks Bradley students to give.

Because educated leaders are vitally necessary to the salvation of Europe they ask Bradley students to demonstrate their belief in the Brotherhood of Man.

Since 1920 ninety thousand students in 125 universities have been aided. Work and lodgings have been provided for thousands. Figures can not indicate the true significance either of this physical relief or of the very genuine feeling of international student brotherhood, which has existed since the beginning of the work in 1920.

BOTTS SLOWLY RECOVERING

Mr. H. M. Botts, chief engineer of Bradley institute, who was seriously injured a week ago Friday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Chester Larson, Webster street resident, is gradually recovering from the effects of the accident.

Although Mr. Botts is able to walk around now, it will be some time before he will be in a position to resume his work, as he has three ribs on his right side and his left arm broken.

START BASKETBALL PRACTICE AFTER TURKEY HOLIDAY

SIX LETTER MEN EXPECTED TO APPEAR FOR INITIAL WORK-OUT—ROGERS CAPTAIN.

Plan Two Practice Sessions Each Day—Limit the Number of Candidates.

SCHEDULE THUS FAR

Dec. 16—La Crosse Normal, here.
Dec. 19—Notre Dame, here.
Jan. 20—Augustana College, here.
Jan. 26—Armour Institute, here.
Feb. 2—Mt. Morris College, here.
Feb. 23—Augustana College at Rock Island.
March 3—St. Viator, here.

Six lettermen and a wealth of new material are on hand to answer the call to start extensive basketball training for what promises to be another successful season for the Red and White cage-men. Coach Robertson issues the summons immediately after the Thanksgiving recess.

Captain Rogers, Barrett, Hoswell, Brewer, Simiuski and Zierton form the nucleus of the 1922-23 basketball five. As candidates for the guard positions Robertson's choice lies in Barrett and Brewer, veterans of last year, Howard Tyler, former Peoria High crack, John Elliff, Pekin boy who is showing up so well in football, and Ernest Koepping, three years a running guard on the Pittsfield High School team. Harry Gordon, a member of the 1918 and 1919 Poly quintets, also signifies an intention of bidding for the back guard post.

Forward Tryouts Many.

From present indications aspirants to the center position are in the minority. Captain Rogers acted as pivot man the greater part of last year and may serve there again provided no recruit shows enough class to fill in at that important post. With his uncanny eye for the hoop and his ability as a floor man he should this season be the mainstay of the Tech basket-tossing crew.

Glenn Garner, Farmington High School ace, Harrison Dixon who performed with Manual High quints, and Fred Smith from the Hoosier state are the principal forward candidates. Larry Gardner, former Wabash star, may be among the tryout for a forward berth as may Tommy Correll. Correll's versatility would well fit him for the center position.

In order to round his squad into shape for the first game of the season, December sixteen, the Poly mentor plans to hold two practice sessions each day. Such a program necessitates his limiting the number of contestants to about twenty. Heretofore Robertson has made the invitation general, but so short is the time for preparation that he cannot this season labor under such a handicap.

The 1922-1923 Bradley basketball chart so far completed includes four new rivals, namely La Crosse Normal, University of Notre Dame, Armour Institute and Mt. Morris College.

The Home Economics Club gave a reception for Mrs. Mary Woolman in Social Hall on Monday afternoon, November 27. Mrs. Woolman gave a very interesting talk on "Silk." Following the program refreshments were served.

Almost unbelievable is the announcement that "Bunny" Gross is lost to the team on account of a sudden death in the family. Sunday afternoon Gross received the sad news that his father had died, and early Monday evening the Kansan departed for his home. Gross' teammates and his host of admirers extend to him and to the bereaved family their most heartfelt sympathy for their irreparable loss.

Home Economics Department Will Hold Bazaar

The Home Economics Club is going to stage a bazaar Friday, December 8th, from 3 P. M. to 8:30 in the Social Hall. The club is going to do its best to raise $400 to pay Mrs. Mary Woolman, head of the Manhattan Trade School, who spoke in chapel last Monday and to buy some furnishings for the practice house.

The bazaar held last year was practically sold out an hour after it opened and this one promises to be even better.

Entertainment is to be one of the main features. Princess Mankazata, daughter of the Egyptian Prince Raja Hoolioolí, is in Pekin on a visit now and has promised to look into the future for all those wishing to learn their fate in love, exams or football games.

An orchestra will furnish music for dancing in the afternoon and evening. One corner of the hall will be made into an ice cream parlor where frozen dainties will be served by the best girls of the Home Economics Department.

Christmas presents for the whole family may be purchased in the booths. The candy booth will be one of the main features. The girls have already been working for three weeks on clever little candy favors, dolls and buttonieres.

A booth which will probably be the most attractive will be the food booth. Here cakes, fruit cakes, doughnuts and pies will be attractively displayed.

Dainty handkerchiefs, doilies, towels and pillow-cases will be on sale at the fancy work table.

In the utility booth, pan holders and kitchen towels which mother would find useful even before Christmas will be sold.

All those interested in fishing, must hunt for the fish pond, where sea animals, from whales to star fish may be pulled out. The only necessity is silver bait.

The Home Economics club is working as one big committee to put this bazaar over the top. "With eighty girls working for weeks on the bazaar it cannot help but be successful," says Miss Hadley, head of the Home Economics Department.

The chairmen of the different committees are: Utility, Sarah Thoman; toy, Edith Rawson; ice cream, Clara Wolfenbarger; fancy work, Litia Renes; foods, Iva English; candy, Roberta Austin; fish pond, Celia Johnson.

DISCONTINUE WORK OF SHEET METAL COURSE

Corrected

"The course in sheet metal work was not started soon enough this year to attract many students and consequently nothing is being done with it at the present time," Dr. Burgess said when interviewed on the subject.

"It will be offered next year as a special course, with a place in the catalog and with the help of the Contractors Association of Peoria, will be extensively advertised."

Dr. Burgess stated that the course will be composed of three divisions, including shop mathematics, pattern drafting, and machine shop work.

"We had too small an enrollment this fall to warrant continuing the course, but we expect to open next fall with a large class," said Dr. Burgess.

EUREKA MEETS TECH HERE THANKSGIVING IN ALL IMPORTANT GAME

ODDS AGAINST RED AND WHITE WARRIORS AS CHRISTIANS ARE REPORTED IN SPLENDID SHAPE—TECHMEN NEED WIN TO CONCLUDE LONG, SUCCESSFUL GRID SEASON.

Bradley Enters Final Struggle Without Halfback Gross—"Bunny" Is Called Home at Father's Death—To Be Meinen's Last Game as Poly Lineman—Team Retreats to Kickapoo Club.

When Bradley and Eureka clash on the Hilltop field Thursday afternoon another installment will be added to the long history of athletic rivalry between the two schools. Of thirteen starts, eight times has the Red and White emerged victorious over the Woodford county gridders, while once the two rivals have fought to a 7-7 tie. Eureka collegians cherish hopes of decreasing that margin this year.

It is the first time a Bradley team has ever entertained at home on Thanksgiving Day. With the annual Eureka scrap is concluded the longest and undoubtedly the most successful season that a Red and White eleven has at any time experienced. In nine games played this season, the Techmen have won eight and tied one.

BRADLEY GAMES.

1808—Bradley,	0;	Eureka, 44.
Bradley,	0;	Eureka, 23.
1913—Bradley,	23;	Eureka, 0.
1914—Bradley,	58;	Eureka, 0.
1915—Bradley,	20;	Eureka, 0.
1916—Bradley,	6;	Eureka, 0.
1917—Bradley,	39;	Eureka, 0.
1918—Bradley,	7;	Eureka, 7.
1919—Bradley,	37;	Eureka, 0.
Bradley,	14;	Eureka, 10.
1920—Bradley,	7;	Eureka, 7.
Bradley,	3;	Eureka, 47.
1921—Bradley,	3;	Eureka, 0.
1922—Bradley,	7;	Eureka, 7.

Comparatively Eureka Favorite.

Comparative scores would indicate that Eureka holds a slight advantage over Robertson's "Fighting Indians." Eureka defeated the strong Carthage team, 16 to 6, a few weeks ago, whereas the Hilltoppers barely nosed out the Carthaginians, 7 to 6. This true, however, that the Tech eleven met the Carthage aggregation at an inopportune time, when two star Poly gridders were out of the line-up and when several of the others who played were disabled.

Coach McKinzie's squad of veterans was never in better physical condition. Last Saturday was an open date on the Christians' schedule so that every one of the regulars is in his best fighting trim. Furthermore, the Eureka coach and his band of huskies have in these two weeks of preparation been drilling hard on Bradley plays. Scarcely a Bradley game have the Eureka scouts missed this season, so eager is the Panther to mar the Tech's possibilities of a state championship year.

Bradley is in little better shape for the Eureka fray than for last week's encounter with Carthage. "Dutch" Meinen may be on the line playing opposite Waggoner, Eureka right tackle; but let it be known that, however hard he may try, he'll not be quite the same "Fighting Dutchman" who has battled in every Tech game for the four years during which he has been an indispensable member of Bradley eleven.

Zierton, suffering a bruised shoulder, is not the tower of strength that he has been heretofore. Notwithstanding, he played a great game last week. That his shoulder may be sufficiently strong to withstand another sixty minutes of battering is the hope of the coaches. McNaught fills Zierton's traces should the sturdy Minnesota boy need relief.

As he has done before each of the past three important games, Coach Robertson has made arrangements to take the team into seclusion at the Kickapoo Golf Club, early Thanksgiving Day morning. There the players are at noon served just the proper food and allowed to rest quietly until game time.

It is through the courtesy of Bruce Rutherford, of the Kickapoo club, that Robertson and Johnson are able to be with their men as they wish before this hazardous struggle.

COMPARISONS OF INTELLIGENCE TESTS ARE GIVEN

TESTS USED TO DETERMINE LEVELS OF INTELLIGENCE OF STUDENT BODY.

Bradley Students Rank Above Those of Center College and Washington University.

"Intelligence tests can determine nothing more than general ability," was the statement made by Professor Jos. V. Hanna of the department of education, when interviewed last week. "The tests are useful to determine levels of intelligence rather than specific ability. Probably the seashore tests for musical ability come nearer to reaching this goal than any others."

Professor Hanna reviewed some of the comparisons which he had tabulated with reference to other schools. In the liberal arts school, Bradley ranked above such institutions as Center and Washington University, and was excelled only by schools such as Northwestern. In the engineering departments Bradley ranked high and led many state universities.

Professor Hanna said that the student who made high grades in tests such as these would do good work in any line he chose to take up, providing he had no emotional aversion to it. In the self analysis tests the aim was to interpret the students invironmental influences. Questions pertaining to individual preferences, ancestral occupations, sometime gave a solution to the students adaptability.

It was Prof. Hanna's opinion that if such a test were given to advanced classes, the results would show a higher average due to the fact that the students of inferior ability would have been dropped by the wayside. He stated that an instructor could very near judge from the students attitude and interest in his work, as to how far he would go in his college course.

The results for this year have not been completely tabulated and Professor Hanna stated that he could not give any definite information as to the general average of this year's intelligence. He is at present working out a set which he hopes to show the results of the self analysis blanks in comparison with the general tests of intelligence.

The library clock is once more ticking off the minutes and hours, serving as an advisory committee to students, studying in the library. The wheels of the clock, stopped for many days, have once more been put into motion by Mr. Lyman, and the steady tick, tock, can now be heard throughout the rooms of the library.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29, 1922.

BRADLEY AND THE I. I. A. A.

Bradley has been offered an invitation to join the I. I. A. A. which is recognized as the official inter-collegiate organization of Illinois minor colleges. Bradley has not been a member of this association for a number of years due to the fact that certain provisions in its rules would prevent many Tech students from participation in inter-collegiate athletics.

A meeting of the conference members is called for December and it is likely that the question of Bradley's admittance to membership will then be thrashed out. If the rule concerning the ineligibility of any college athlete to compete in I. I. A. A. athletics altho he is not working towards a degree is removed it is probable that Bradley will enter the conference. This would enable the college to present a claim to conference as well as state titles in the future. If this article is not done away with, however, it will be to the best interests of the college to refuse to join the association as it will serve as a ban on the entrance of nearly half the student body into inter-collegiate athletics.

EXERCISE

The need of exercise by students is a thing that is heeded but little by them while they are in college, but this heedless attitude is always regretted greatly when age begins to take its toll. Exercise is well recognized as a necessity in keeping a person fit, in mind as well as in body. The work of the student in the classroom or laboratory is calculated to develop his brain. The work in the gym is given to keep his body fit. Although these two phases of work appear to be separated and distinct, in reality they are closely bound together. Without the physical vigor stimulated by athletic contests or regular gynasium exercises, the brain is handicapped. It is a live organ in a dead body. Instead of brain and body running pace in pace, the brain is feeding much of its energy to a lethargic body, and losing thereby.

Induce co-operation between your brain and your body by treating both in the way they should be treated. Exercise both and your reward will be better service from them.—Polytechnic Reporter.

ENGLISH INTERESTS BRING NOTED AUTHOR

Hamlin Garland, member and director of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and famous middle west author lectured at the Women's Club Monday evening, Nov. 27, at 8:15. Mr. Garland spoke upon "Personal Reminiscences of Modern English Authors. He was brought here by the Allied English Interests of Peoria.

Mr. Garland who has spent the past summer abroad gave an interesting account of literary life in England. Among other interesting stories, the author told of the experience of a dinner with Rudyard Kipling, and of a lunch with J. M. Barrie. He spoke of seeing Old Rye with Henry James, of a meeting with Thomas Hardy, of an interview with Bret Harte and of his impressions of Bernard Shaw. Mr. Garland also gave a humorous account of how he taught Conan Doyle to pitch a baseball and he described a cricket match between Barrie and Conan Doyle.

Mr. Garland is the first of four lecturers to appear here this winter in "Peoria's Modern Author's Course" which the Allied English Interests have arranged.

Edgar Lee Masters, Illinois poet and author of "Spoon River Anthology" will appear Jan. 22 at the Women's Club building. He will be followed by Louis Anspacker, noted dramatist who will lecture March 15 upon the subject, "What's the Matter with the Theater?" The fourth lecturer, Hugh Walpole, famous English novelist, will speak March 28th upon "The Realists: Wells, Galsworthy and Bennett."

Miss Lyons, dean of women at the University of Oklahoma and former dean at Bradley says that "Jazz is to music just what slang is to English. The following article was taken from the Peoria Sunday Star:

"I believe that jazz has a positively harmful influence upon youthful university students," Mis Lyons continued.

"The purpose of the university is to educate the taste as much as to provide practical training. Certainly a taste of music should be developed, and jazz is only music by courtesy, in my opinion.

"The men and women who come to the universities will determine the standards of taste and culture of their respective communities, and it is essential that the universities endow them with the best educated tastes it is possible to give."

Geneva Club Organized.

The Geneva Club was organized at Bradley, November 14.

The purpose of this club which has branches in leading colleges throughout the country, is to make money with which to send Y. W. C. A. representatives to Lake Geneva.

The club has charge of the candy locker and sells candy at athletic contests.

A bakery sale is planned for sometime in January at the Washington Dairy on Main street. The exact date will be announced later.

The charter members of the Geneva club are: Dorothy Griesser, chairman; Misses Andreen, Babcock, Clifford, Becker, Glasgow, V. Jones, D. Johnson, McMullen, Ogden, Steingraber, White, Verner, Straesser, Wasson, and Gillett.

French Club Holds Second Meeting

Shouts of "Une touche par terre," and "Allez! Allez!" were heard at the football game which was the main attraction at the second meeting of the French Club, Thursday November 23, in Social Hall.

The meeting was opened by the signing of "La Marsaillaise." Following this, Mr. James Rose gave an interesting talk on French music, and played "La Marsaillaise." Miss Hepper related an interesting account of the French holidays.

Refreshments were served after the football game. By the light of the grate fire, James Romine, Edwin Wiley and Laura Hedstrom told stories to the members of the club.

CHORUS TO SING "ELIJAH"

The Bradley Chorus, under the personal direction of Mr. Stead, is now well under way with Mendelsohn's "Elijah." As Mr. Stead wishes to put it on in a very fine manner it will probably be sung in the early spring. Selection of voices for the three solo parts have not yet been made.

After "Elijah" has been produced the chorus will work on compositions of the modern school.

The chorus is composed of sixty voices. Any Peorian who can meet the requirements is eligible.

GETTING TO BE BIG BUSINESS

Is Wesleyan going foreward with the other colleges in this march of progress in the athletic world?

That college athletics is becoming "big business" more and more every year, is shown in the addition of a publicity man to the athletic staffs of most of the smaller colleges. This is not a new winkle in the larger universities who have had such a man to extol the virtue of their athletes, coaches, etc., for a number of years, but now the smaller colleges are copying the idea with the hope of stimulating attendance in their institutions.

Knox was the first Illinois college to install a graduate manager and publicity man, and now comes the news that Bradley has engaged a publicity man.

Kenneth Jones, formerly on the Peoria Star, is to handle the work for the Technical Institute, which is backed by the millions of the Rockefellers.

The Peoria school has made a great splurge in the athletic world since the coming of A. J. Robertson as athletic chief.—Wesleyan Argus.

SMALL CHANCE FOR POST-SEASON GAMES

Courier

"Will Bradley and Lombard play a post-season game to decide the state championship?" This question seems to be uppermost in the minds of the followers of college football in Illinois.

Coach A. J. Robertson of the Bradley team, when approached upon the subject ,would neither deny or affirm the rumor that such a game would be played, but his actions indicated the safe and sane policy of "let well enough alone." All thoughts of post-season scraps at the Tech camp have been pushed into the background by the ever-increasing importance of the Thanksgiving day struggle with Eureka. A loss to Eureka would leave Lombard the sole possessor of the coveted championship, as its remaining game with Kalamazoo will have no bearing on the Lombard team's standing in Illinois.

An analysis of the situation shows that, while both teams would be fighting for the state championship, Lombard, in case of defeat, would still be champions of the "Little Nineteen" Conference, which in itself is quite an honor. On the other hand, Bradley, being in no conference, would lose everything in case of defeat.

Furthermore, both teams would be without the services of several stars. At present, it looks as though Bradley would be hit the harder in this respect. Gross, the versatile halfback, is out for good, due to the death of his father, and Molnen, star tackle of four years, is still suffering with the injured knee received in the Lake Forest tussle. Carrell, Zierton, Rogers and Allen would also be handicapped by previous injuries. Lombard would be without the services of fullback Turner, who is laid up with a broken ankle. Other members of Schisler's team are showing the wear and tear of a strenous schedule.

It is certain that if both teams do come through with clean slates, Bradley will not lose prestige by comparitive scores; if anything, Bradley has a slight edge on her rival. While comparitive scores mean nothing more than possibilities, they are always referred to by followers of sport.

The Tech's 26 to 0 victory over Wesleyan compared to the 14-0 win annexed by Lombard is too slight a basis on which to figure odds. It is only one example of the Red and White possibilities.

Bradley then, would have much more at stake in the proposed match, although Lombard followers are slow in wishing another game with the Bradley warriors.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The Bradley Conservatory orchestra will give a concert in Bradley Hall on Monday evening, December 11. The public is most cordially invited.

* * *

Miss Mary Frances Thompson and Mr. Eldon Murray assisted on a program given at the Country Club Sunday afternoon, November 26. They were very heartily received by the large crowd of Peoria music lovers. Miss Thompson played two Chopin preludes, "Freeia" by Tschaikowsky, and MacDowell's "Polonaise." Mr. Murray played Shubert's "Ave Maria," "Pierrot Gai," by Thrindelli, "Poeme," Massa, and one of his own compositions, "Lament." Miss Thompson also accompanied Mr. Murray.

* * *

Miss Mary Morgan will spend the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents in Galva, Illinois.

* * *

Miss Mae Ulrich, teacher of violin in the Conservatory, will spend the week end in Chicago.

* * *

Miss Wanda Proudfit left Wednesday for her home in Arenzville, where she will spend the Thanksgiving vacation.

* * *

Miss Danelia Jansen was unable to take care of her work the first of the week owing to a severe cold.

* * *

Miss Edith Clinebell, teacher in the voice department has been ill for the past two weeks. Later reports show her somewhat improved.

* * *

An added treat was given to the members of the preparatory section at the recital given in the Conservatory Saturday afternoon. This was the playing by Miss Wanda Proudfit of Paderewiski's Theme with variations.

* * *

Miss Proudfit, who is an honorary member of the Faelton Club and a senior in piano, demonstrated the value of practical systematic training by her splendid rendition of the selection. Her technique and tone shading was remarkable.

* * *

* * *

Earl Griffin left for his home in Greenville, S. C., for the Christmas season. The school isn't the only one that will miss Earl, but here's to good luck for him in his Southern abode. It's a well known fact that Southern girls are the most beautiful in the world, so no wonder the boys are always wanting to go home to visit after a few months in Peoria. Take Mr. Greathouse, or Macon for instance, both with those beautiful Southern dream eyes (unfortuneately the eyes have their influence on the rest of their anatomy so they are in a dream most of the time) for which all of our Northern beauties pine.

Charles Halbkat left for his home in Watertown, South Dakota, to assist his father in the store during the rush season.

P. J. Hicks, Owassa, Michigan, has enrolled in the engraving department. Mr. Hicks has had two years of placement training in jewelry and clock work.

* * *

William Ehlkie, Milwaukee, Wis., has enrolled in the engraving department.

* * *

The engraving department is glad to welcome J. K. Kaminsky after an absence of several months due to serious illness.

* * *

N. J. Neemess is leaving soon for Davenport, Iowa, where he will enter placement training.

"Neem" wants all of his radio fan friends to listen in soon after his arrival as he is going to broadcast all the news of the bright lights of Davenport.

* * *

"Doc" Price left Friday for Kewanee, Ill., to start his placement training.

* * *

E. W. Richmond left Monday to take up work at Springfield, Illinois.

* * *

Willard Wills contemplates leaving soon for his home in California.

* * *

Beta Sigma Mu gave an informal dance at Holly's Saturday evening, November 25. Seeley's "Sons o' Syncopation" furnished the music. Twenty-five couple enjoyed the affair.

* * *

* * *

Lambda Phi held an active meeting Thursday, November 23, at the home of Melba Blank. Following the meeting dinner was served.

* * *

Monday evening, November 27, Sigma Phi held an active meeting.

* * *

The R. O. B.'s held an initiation for half of their pledges Thursday evening, November 23, at the home of Edna Dean Proctor on Columbia Terrace. Mrs. Proctor was initiated as an honorary member.

On Saturday, November 25, the Delta Kappa sorority held formal initiation at the home of Josephine Miles on Underhill avenue for the following girls: Margaret Bailey, Helen Cole, Grace Dolan, Dorothy Genter, Jane Klein, Mildred Mathews, Martha Robb, Josephine Mantz, Mary Wynn Stowe, Florence Rhoelfs, Corinne Schwab, Marie Clifford, Cecil Wallace and Clara Wolfenbarger.

* * *

Beta Mu held their weekly business meeting at the chapter house Monday evening.

TECHMEN BATTLE TO RETAIN CLEAN FOOTBALL SLATE

DEFEAT AT HANDS OF CARTHAGE NARROWLY AVERTED WHEN ROGERS SCORES.

Lyons Boots Two From Field to Gain Early Lead on Tech—Aerial Attack Nets Big Gains.

Clarence Rogers, elongated Bradley end, brought 3000 fans to their feet, and saved Bradley from a defeat at the hands of Carthage College Saturday afternoon, when he snagged a pass in the second period and scored Bradley's only touchdown. Not only was it Bradley's only touchdown but it was the only touchdown of the afternoon. Carthage scoring their 6 points on two place kicks from the tee of Lyons, and the left toe at that. Up to this time Bradley had trailed with the short end of a 6-0 score, but Rogers' feat tied the count and a perfect kick by Friedrich gave the needed point after touchdown. Though both teams battled their hardest, neither crossed the other's goal line in the second half and Bradley emerged triumphant.

Despite the fact that they had won there was little joy in the Tech locker room after the game. From the crestfallen expression on some of the faces an outsider who had not seen the game would have thought that they had lost. The team that held Lombard to a 6-6 tie and beat Lake Forest was down hearted and disappointed. There was no optimism or cheerliness. Carthage had pulled the same surprise as last year and almost with the same results. The team over which Eureka triumphed 16-6 and which Monmouth beat 7-0 had come within an ace of ruining Bradley's state championship hopes.

It was perhaps the best thing that could have happened to Bradley. On Thursday, the Techmen meet Eureka, Bradley's oldest enemy and a strong foe. Their near defeat Saturday will bring home to them the fact that no team is invulnerable and will undoubtedly destroy any over confidence they may have acquired from their many victories

While Bradley has forced the breaks in almost every game thus far, it was forced to see the opposition grab the breaks Saturday and utilize them to the best advantage. There were costly fumbles and at times even a lack of determination and fight. This might be attributed to several reasons but more than likely it can be laid to the door of the hoodoo of all teams and athletes, "an off day." Another reason might be the absence of "Dutch" Meinen, all-state tackle. "Dutch" has held a place on Tech teams for four years, and during that time he has never been out of the lineup till Saturday.

Carthage showed a fine defense, both in the forward wall and in the secondary. Never in a game this year has the Bradley backfield failed to such an extent around the ends and through the line. Lyons, Osborne, and Harter stopped all attempts at skirting the ends and through the line the backs were little better off, though Babcock did accumulate considerable yardage from time to time.

Stopped by the Carthage forward wall and secondary defense, Quarterback Friedrich resorted to an aerial attack and with remarkable success. Four heaves were received by Clarence Rogers, the Hoosier end, one of which scored the needed touchdown. Ralph Johnson, who was substituted in place of Anne at end when the Kansan was forced out of the game, caught a pass in the last quarter but was tackled short of the goal line and a grounded pass over the goal line gave Carthage the ball.

On the defense, McNaugh played a stellar game and it was his huge bulk that turned back the Carthage onslaughts numerous times. Substituting because of the injury to Meinen, "Mac" proved his worth and showed some of the stuff that gave Gridley high school a claim to the state title last year.

From the standpoint of the spectators it was the most thrilling game that has been played on Bradley field this year. The fight was intense from beginning to end and the score was ever in doubt.

The lineup and summary:

Bradley	Position	Carthage
Rogers	L. E.	Cheyney
Barrett	L. T.	Lesher
Zierton	L. G.	H. Wagner
Siniinski	Center	Neumann
McNaugh	R. G.	Hurst
Keepping	R. T.	Stull
Allen	R. E.	Hansen
Friedrich	Q. B.	Sandlin
Correll	L. H. B.	Osborn
Gross	R. H. B.	Lyons
Babock	F. B.	Harter

Substitutions: Hoswell for Gross; Johnson for Allen; Hawthorn for Harter; E. Wagner for H. Wagner.

Touchdowns: Rogers.

Goal from field: Lyons (2).

Goal after touchdown: Friedrich.

Score by quarters:

HOME EC. SENIORS TEACH GRADE PUPILS

Increased facilities in practice teaching have been afforded the Home Economics Department of Bradley through co-operation with the Peoria schools.

The seniors of the department spend a day each week teaching domestic science to the upper grades of the schools.

The work is done under the supervision of Miss Geraldine Hadley, dean of Home Economics. As yet only five schools can be taken care of, but before the year is over Miss Hadley hopes to cover all the schools.

The girls claim to derive great benefit from the new arrangements.

The increasing fame of Bradley's Home Economics dision states Miss Hadley, "requires more adequate means of giving the girls actual experience. This method is far more beneficial than class room work."

Miss Hadley left Monday for Detroit, Mich., where she will attend the National Vocational Education convention, to be held there Nov. 29 to Dec. 2.

While in Detroit Miss Hadley will also attend the American Home Economics Association.

Prominent educators from universities all over the United States will speak at both of these convention.

Miss Hadley plans spending two days at Cass Technical high school in Detroit. This school is famous for its splendid modern equipment and methods of teaching.

BRADLEY TIES LOMBARD FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

BRADLEY CAGERS PREPARING FOR OPENING GAMES

First call for basketball practice was sounded Monday afternoon in spite of the fact that the football season is just over. It has been customary in the past to grant football men a week's respite before taking up the cage game but Robertson finds that practice impossible this year due to the fact that the first court game of the season is billed for Dec. 16, allowing less than two weeks for the moulding of the team.

Another innovation on the basket program is the limiting of the squad to twenty men. Instead of the general call for tossers, Robbie has made it a sort of invitation affair for regular practice with the list of hopefuls limited to twenty. The coach will not, however, miss out on any "dark horses." He will conduct another practice session each evening for others who wish to try out for the team. By that arrangement all aspirants are sure of being given the once over.

The letter men who reported Monday are Captain Rogers, Brownsburg, Ind.; "Hunk" Barrett, St. Cloud, Minn.; John Brewer, Peoria; "Shimmy" Siminski, St. Cloud, Minn.; and James Hoswell, Toluca. Zierton is another veteran to report. All are letter men from football and will be in good training. Rogers, Siminski, and Zierton are pivot men; Brewer and Barrett are guards; and Hoswell performs at forward.

Judging from some of the new men at Bradley, the "B" men will have to step some to hold their positions on the squad. Among the new men who are expected to wage a stiff fight for berths are Koepping, Gardner, Tyler, Dixon, Ralph Johnson, Garner, C. Ruch, Metzel and Fritz.

Koepping was the only freshman on the football team and if he shows as much in basketball he will likely see service. "Koepp" played a guard position on the Pittsfield high school team for three years. Jimmy Gardner is a Hoosier, playing two seasons at forward with Lebanon high school when those preps lugged off the high school championship of Indiana. Tyler was Coach Herke's best bet at Peoria high two years ago. Dixon received his early training at Manual and Garner from Farmington, is another flashy youngster.

Although six letter men answered the whistle Monday there is little wild talk about following up the football championship with a state cage title. The Techmen face one of the hardest schedules a Bradley team has ever bucked up against, judging from the games already booked and other strong fives to be carded shortly. Four newcomers on the Hilltop chart are La Crosse Normal, Notre Dame, Armour Institute, and Mt. Morris, all to be played here. Wabash is negotiating for a game here February 1.

Home Economics Bazaar Center of Interest Friday

Social Hall will be converted into a carnival of booths Friday when the Home Economics Club will hold a bazaar.

Every girl in the Home Economics department is on a committee, and the various booths are in charge of the following young women: Toys, Edith Ramson; utility, Sarah Thoman; ice cream, Clara Wolfenberger; fancy work, Lita Benes; foods, Ina English; candy, Roberta Austin; fish pond, Celia Johnson.

A prize will be offered for the most beautifully decorated booth. Prominent artists, whose names have not yet been made public, will act as judges.

The fortune teller's booth will be one of the chief attractions. Here, Princess Markazata who claims to be the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter who lived on the banks of the Nile, will reveal the future to those seeking knowledge.

The latest styles in sundaes will be mixed at the soda fountain. An orchestra will furnish music throughout the afternoon and evening.

Many donations for the bazaar have been received from the alumni of the Home Economics department. Men of the Manual Arts department are handling the booths.

Members of the committee in charge, under the supervision of Mrs. Ina Gaul, say it will be a case of first come, first served.

"The bazaar will give people an excellent opportunity to do their Christmas shopping," said Mrs. Gaul, "for we have things suitable for every member of the family."

The funds realized from the bazaar will be used to provide furnishings for the practice house, for the Student Loan Fund, and to bring speakers to Bradley.

Those well-worn words "the greatest season in history" could easily be applied referring to Bradley's 1922 football season, but that phrase isn't necessary this year. It's much simpler and clearer to take a squint at the flag stamped "Illinois Minor College State Champions" which would be floating at the top of the campus pole were championship flags awarded football teams as pennants are handed to conquering baseball nines of the professional leagues.

For that's just what the Robertson-Johnson combination put across this year—a state championship or at least half of it, with Lombard College claiming the other end of the bunting. Both elevens went through their programs without a reverse and to give each a worthy claim the two schools fought out a six to six draw. But Bradley played two games more than the Galesburg clan. If that isn't worth just a little edge of the credit our guess goes wrong a mile.

Attendance Records Broken.

It isn't even necessary to look at Bradley's great score chart to judge the season's success. Over 21,000 persons watched the seven home games which tells the same story from another angle. Never before did Peoria turn out to back the Hilltoppers as was the case this year. The gates were stormed each game until it was necessary to erect new bleachers and to meet the demands of many fans reserved box seats were built by the hundreds.

Just going to show that there was a big demand to see the Robertson eleven perform. But a few years ago a crowd of several hundred was considered good but this fall they came in by the thousands. The Wesleyan game alone drew 4,500 and had the weather man been decent Thanksgiving Day close to 8,000 persons would have been packed in to see Bradley demolish Eureka for its claim to the title. As it was more than 5,500 saw the game.

And from the publicity angle Bradley's great campaign stands out even more brilliantly. Chicago newspapers, seldom mentioning a Bradley team before, requested that they be given stories from Bradley's training camp and accounts of the game. And all news presses carried the Tech results.

If Bradley doesn't benefit in every way from its first state championship another surmise goes astray. Prospective college students like to enroll at a school whose athletic records are worthy of boast. Coach Robertson, his mate, Leo Johnson, and their hard working squad, should be the pride of the college.

There is one thing above all of which Bradley can be proud, and that is its championship eleven was above board, not the result of enticing star athletes into school. As proof we offer the team's personnel. Just one regular member of Robertson's varsity was a freshman, the others had been working for their positions at least one year before. That indicates that the Tech grid team was the result of other season's careful building which we believe Robertson had in mind when he took over the task with the slimest of material a couple of years ago.

Had it not have been for continued injuries that held back the team, Bradley would probably have stamped its opponents into the turf in a style even more convincing. In but one game was Bradley at full strength, the others saw two or three reserves taking the places of crippled regulars.

After starting the season with a 60 to 6 thrashing over Lincoln, Bradley gave the state an idea of what would happen in the future by battling to a 6 to 6 tie with Lombard on the latter's soil. Considering the 58 to 0 defeat Lombard had handed Bradley a year ago the achievement seemed little shy of miraculous. Walter Eckersall, foremost football critic of the middle west, refereed the game and declared that Bradley bettered the 1921 champions at every turn.

The rest of the season was just one glorious victory after another with every old grudge getting out of the Red and White system: St. Viator, 1921 runner-up for the state title, was trimmed 16 to 0, State Normal was easy; and then came Wesleyan with a pair of Peoria boys who evidently thought Bradley football was a bit slow so they went to the enemy's camp. And Wesleyan was crushed, 26 to 0.

Illinois College, Lake Forest and Carthage had been set aside when Eureka came to Peoria Thanksgiving Day, determined to put Robertson's team out of the state title picture. The old rival was given much disappointment as Bradley toyed with them for a 42 to 6 victory. And the Christians didn't even like their one touchdown as to gain it Robertson took the first team off the field.

Captain Golden Babcock's men well deserve the credit bestowed upon them. They were loyal from first practice to final game, always working and never grumbling. Best star and most humble substitute gave all they had to Robertson and to Bradley.

Bradley will have several members of its championship eleven back next year, but one real star will not be back. That is John "Dutch" Meinen who ended his four-year football career in a blaze of glory. For the third time Meinen was named on Fred Young's All-State Eleven which is enough to depict his worth.

MEET TO DECIDE MEMBERSHIP IN LITTLE 19 FRIDAY

Reading

Whether or not Bradley will be a member of the Little Nineteen Conference next year will be decided at the annual meeting of the I. I. A. A. to be held at Bloomington, Friday, December 8. Fred Muhl, Wesleyan coach and president of the association, will preside at the meeting.

Under the present ruling, any student not working for a degree is ineligible for athletic work. This would eliminate Horologs and Manual Arts students from Bradley teams. As almost one-fourth of our athletic material comes from these two departments, it would not be to Bradley's best interests to join unless this clause is modified.

The meeting will be held in the new Wesleyan gymnasium.

J. E. GHEEN HERE TO ASSIST ASS'N OF COMMERCE

Reading

"Sell Peoria to Peorians before you attempt to sell it to strangers," Mr. J. E. Gheen of Buffalo, New York, organization expert, told Bradley students Monday. Mr. Gheen is here to assist the Peoria Association of Commerce in its program of expansion and reorganization.

"You, as future citizens of Peoria," he said, "should take an active interest in the Association of Commerce. And even those who do not live in Peoria, but who like Peoria, should give this organization their full support."

Questionaires were distributed to the students to be filled out. The first question was: "What business, profession, or trade do you hope to pursue as a life work?" Mr. Gheen explained that the answer will help to determine the kind of workers that Peoria may look forward to in the future.

"After completing your education, do you expect to live and work in Peoria?" "Why?" was the second question. The speaker pointed out that this would indicate the number of future workers

"From your observation, what do you suggest that the Association of Commerce undertake for the improvement of Peoria?" was the last question. The organization expert stated that this would help in the preparing of a program of work for the association.

A complete tabulation of the results will be published within a few days.

Mr. Harry Dale Morgan will address the student body next Monday during the chapel period. The context of his speech will be on the proposed new constitution of Illinois.

FOOTBALL BANQUET LAST EVENT OF GRIDIRON SEASON

The annual football banquet to be held Saturday night, December 9th, in the Bradley gymnasium, will be by far the biggest and best arranged of any that Bradley has ever had. Arrangements have been made to accommodate 400 people, double the amount of last years banquet, and the fact that we are entertaining the first state championship team in our history will give added pep and enthusiasm to the affair.

Manager Charles Mee has appointed the following committees to assist him in the work of staging the banquet and dance.

Dance committee: Dean Battles, chairman; Dorothy Starbuck, Clifford Arends, Merrill Charlson, Charles Brobst, Clara Wolfenbarger, Audra Newell.

Banquet committee: Ralph Haman, chairman; A. Butterfield, Gertrude Mayer, Bob Murray, Ed Davis, Grace Jamison, Archie Walters, Glenn Walker, Bob Howard.

Publicity committee; Lee Watson, chairman; George Johnson, Kathryn Langton, Wayne Buckley, Walter Younge.

Ticket committee: Paul Schmidt, chairman; Archie Walters, Harry Gordon, A. L. Butterfield, Merrill Charleson.

Clifford Arends, chairman of program committee.

Coach Alfred J. Robertson is awaiting word from Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame coach, and it is very probable that he will be here to speak at the banquet. He is very anxious to come here, but a conference of Indiana coaches, on the same day will prevent his coming unless he can secure a substitute. He expressed intentions of doing so and if it is at all possible he will be here.

At the banquet the sweaters and gold footballs will be given the team in recognition of the record that they have made. The banquet committee has also made arrangements to present a token of appreciation to every man on this years squad.

A series of speeches by Coach Alfred J. Robertson, Miss LaFollette, President of the G. A. A., Dick Bradley, representing the business men, and Dr. Orville Barbour, of the alumni, have been arranged. Manager Charles Mee will introduce Dr. T. C. Burgess, who in turn will introduce Roger Schenck, a Bradley alumnus and basketball star, the toastmaster of the evening.

After the banquet the dance will be held with Hogan's Orchestra furnishing the music. The dance committee are working very hard on decorations and promise some very new and original ideas. Several new and interesting features are being planned together with several novelties.

This has been our biggest athletic year and the football banquet will more than hold up our standards.

BRADLEY'S BACKERS

It is with the help of the business men of Peoria who are Tech advertisers that this special issue of The Tech has been published. As they have backed Bradley and Bradley's activities before, they are now behind every progressive movement of the Institute.

It has been said that many Peorians do not know that they have a full-fledged, progressive college in their midst. This cannot be said of the business men of the city. Many times they have thrown their support into, and saved seemingly unsuccessful projects.

The aid and support given by these men of experience and ability cannot be over-estimated. It often lacks the vigor shown by the student body in supporting college activities, yet when it comes to a showdown on the question of dollars and cents the business men of Peoria are there.

———B. P. I.———

THE SCRUBS

As the football season closes let us look for a moment at the men who made it possible for Bradley to hang out a state championship pennant. People are too apt to give the varsity players all the glory and give the scrubs nothing. When the team wins it is the varsity men who get the praise. Theirs is the glory forever and ever, amen.

Let us not forget in the bestowing of honors and medals to give a fair share to the scrubs. Toiling for hours every night, getting battered and bruised, carrying their school work, with no chance to make a letter, they have stayed with the squad all season. There were no quitters among them. They did a large part in making the varsity team what it was and in so doing they are largely instrumental in the winning of the championship.

———B. P. I.———

HAIL THE CONQUEROR!

Through all the ages that cry has gone forth to greet the victor. Bradley's recent athletic triumph has written something new in the history of the Institute in the form of a State Championship football team. To even the most casual observers an achievment of this nature is not of passing importance because such results are the "earmarks" of a healthy, growing Institution of learning which looks, not only backward at pleasant traditions, but forward to future progress.

The happy climax of the past football season is due in varied degrees to three factors. A well trained, clean playing team, an able, efficient Coach, and a "rooting," appreciative student body. Absolute co-operation on the parts of these factors has been the alchemy which transformed the possibility of victory into a vivid reality.

The state championship is a fitting and happy culmination of the first quarter century of Bradley's existence and a hopeful beginning of the second. For the present the laurels are secure.

Hail the Conqueror!

Many New Books to be Found on Library Shelves

Miss Lillian M. Guinn, Bradley librarian, announces the arrival of several new books in the Bradley library this week. As soon as the books are catalogued they will be placed upon the top shelf in the section at the right of the loan desk.

Among the new arrivals, there is a set of six musical dictionaries for 1922 by A. Grove, entitled "Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians."

The following physics books were added this week:

Schule Der Optik—Gleichen and Klein.

Die Atomtheorie—Dr. Leo Gratz.

Sammlung Vieweg—Walter Gerlach.

Lehrbuck Der Physik—Dr. Bernhard Dessaw.

Elements De Physique—Chappins & Jacquet.

Physique—Gouard and Hiermaux.

Die Theorie Der Allotropie—A. Smits.

Mr. Loyal G. Tillotson, professor of Business Administration, gave the following set of two books to the library; "New Argentine Republic or Northern Patagonia," and "The Minister of Public Works, Argentine Republic." These books contain splendid plates of illustrations and maps.

The list of miscellaneous books added are as follows:

"The Story of the Paris Churches," by Zetta Wolff.

"Literary Chapters," by W. L. George.

"Studies in Spanish American Literature," by Isaac Goldberg.

"Economic Motives," by Zenas Dickinson.

"John McCormack: His Own Life Story."

"Building a Career," by E. W. Weaver.

"Patterson's American Educational Directory, 1921."

"Manufacturing, Cost and Accounts," A. Hamilton Church.

"A Short History of the Near East," Wm. S. Davis.

"American Anniversaries," Philip R. Dillon.

"New Views Points in American History," Arthur Schlesinger.

"Banking and Credit," Dewey & Shugrue.

"Auditing, Theory and Practice," Vol. I, Montgomery.

"Origins of Jeffersonian Democracy," Chas. A. Beard.

"Heath's Petit Larousse—Illustrie—Heath."

"Essays and Poems of Emerson," Stuart Sherman.

"The Appreciation of Literature," George Woodberry.

"Contemporary American Literature," Manly & Rickert.

"Christianity and Problems of Today," John Finley.

"The Girl and the Job," Hoerle and Saltzberg.

"English Poems and Prose of the Romantic Movement," by George Woods.

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

WHO'S WHO ON THE GRIDIRON

CAPTAIN GOLDEN BABCOCK
(Fullback)

The confidence that last year's letter-men placed in him, when they wisely chose him to be their 1922 grid captain, Golden Babcock more than fulfilled by leading those same men in their bringing to Bradley its first state football championship. "Babbie," as he is familiarly known in the Red and White camp, this year undoubtedly played the best game of his career and bids high for the fullback position on the mythical "all-state" eleven.

To have captained Bradley's first state championship football team is within itself no small accomplishment, but to have lead a track team also through a no-defeat season is the double honor to which Babcock justly has title. He was one of the stars of the champion 1922 track team. "Babbie" has another year at the Tech.

LEO JOHNSON
Assistant Coach

Behind the squad of ambitious yearlings who slaved every night to give the varsity eleven that much-needed scrimmage, was Leo Johnson, assistant coach. To him and his proteges is due no little credit for the grand success of the regular outfit, for it was they who conditioned the first string men for the big battles. From the very first practice, Johnson taught the reserves the spirit of never quitting, that superb fighting spirit which spurred the Techmen on to bring home to Bradley the state football championship, its first.

Every one of the squad admires "Robbie's" first lieutenant, and all of those who will return next fall pledge to him their best endeavors.

ELLIS FRIEDRICH
(Quarterback)

Largely responsible for Bradley's surprising success on the gridiron was Ellis Friedrich, a younster of nineteen years to whom, because of his keen judgment, his exceptional ability at punting, his speed and his sure tackling, Coach Robertson entrusted the quarterback post.

His rise to stardom is quite singular. A year ago Friedrich was "just one of the players" on the Poly squad, though he did play enough quarters to earn a letter. It was chiefly his great skill as a punter that won him a berth on the team in '21. He possesses one of the best toes ever to do the kicking for Bradley. 50 yards is his average while frequently his kicks soar 60 yards. Every opposing kicker with whom he has exchanged punts this year Friedrich has appreciably out-distanced.

Friedrich enjoys the honor of having remained in 90 per cent of the forty quarters of play this season. Not once has he been taken out on account of injuries. No more unassuming or unaffected player ever trod a college campus than Friedrich. He is well liked by his teammates who all hope that their general will again enroll at the Tech institution to pilot them through another such successful season.

CLARENCE ROGERS
(End)

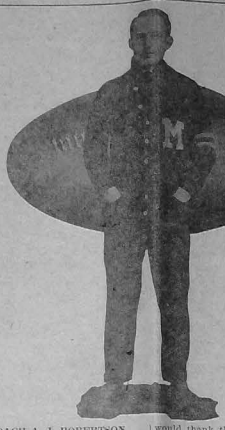
Rogers, too, has played his last football game as a wearer of the Red and White because in June he is to be graduated. The rangy Hoosier lad has been even more valuable to the Tech outfit this year than he was two years ago, though then proclaimed an all-state end. Injuries have the past season seriously handicapped "Roge." Several of the important games he has had to view from the sidelines; but when he was able to play he certainly contributed his all. Rogers was the chief cog in the passing combinations developed by the Tech mentor. In the Eureka tilt Rogers played a remarkable offensive game, so neatly brushing his opponent out of the plays that Poly backfield men gained at will around his side of the line. He will coach and teach.

ALBERT "RED" ALLEN
(End)

Those of the foe who tried to negotiate distance around the Tech right end usually failed, for Allen was a strong defensive player and handled his opponents accordingly. At snagging aerials and running down under punts "Red" is equally adept. So consistent was Allen in his playing that to single out any one game as his best is impossible. Bradley has Allen to thank for putting the Tech in the running for the state championship, for the reason that, at Lombard, the ever-alert Poly end recovered a fumble on the Bradley one-yard line and dashed fifteen yards to carry the ball out of immediate danger. Both he and Rogers took the heart out of the Universalists by repeatedly breaking up their end runs. On one occasion Allen tore in and threw Lamb for a fifteen yard loss.

FRANK PURLEE
(End)

Purlee has filled in at left end most creditably. In that memorable Lombard game, his many home-town admirers saw him throw runner after runner for a loss when the speedy Lombard ball-carriers strove to skirt his end. Purlee, as proficient at snagging forward passes as at running interference, has been one of the most promising yearlings on the field. The end berth left vacant through Clarence Rogers' non-return can safely be entrusted next year to the Alexis youngster. Purlee is also a good kicker.



COACH A. J. ROBERTSON

No matter whether Alfred J. Robertson, director of athletics, stays here for the remainder of his coaching career or whether he leaves in the near future, his name will always be written in the Bradley "Hall of Fame," for he has brought to us the first championship team; and it was a team that won its spurs by battling through the toughest schedule that could possibly have been drawn up from among the Illinois colleges.

In "Robbie" Bradley Institute has a man who can stand in the front rank among the coaches of the country. This is perhaps a trite and much worked statement, but we here at Bradley know that it is no exaggeration. Not only do we know it, but other colleges recognize it. One of the leading institutions of a nearby state last summer sent a man to Peoria to offer "Robbie" the position of football coach, and it is no secret that certain other Illinois colleges would thank their lucky stars if the name of Alfred J. Robertson could appear on the roster of their faculty.

Two years ago "Robbie" began his work with B. P. I. athletics. With a football squad of practically the poorest material he won half his games, although during the season he lost five first string men. Next year he welded together a machine, with only three veterans as a nucleus that lost but two games, and this season came the inevitable results of the work of a man who knows his job and can win and hold the respect of his men. This is saying nothing of an undefeated track team, and of a baseball team that was the equal of any other in the state.

And so we say again that when it comes to coaches Bradley Institute can rightly claim that it has one who is everything that the name implies. He knows the game; he can win and hold his men; he commands the respect of his team, the student body, and every lover of sports.

JACOB "BUNNY" GROSS
(Halfback)

Featuring in every game in which he has had the good fortune to play was "Bunny" Gross, Bradley's star halfback. Though last year in the limelight constantly because of his spectacular open field running, Gross has this season, been the constant prey of hard luck.

The first contest of the season left "Bunny" in a crippled condition. In the St. Viator game he was again hurt and his re-injured knee, failing to mend, kept him out of the line-up each week until the Augustana trip. He was then on the fair road to recovery when, against the Carthage team, his arm was badly wrenched. Climaxing the ordeal of his hardship came the sad news that his father in Kansas had died.

Gross is doubtless one of the best all-around halfbacks that ever wore the Red and White on the gridiron. In spite of his injury, he played a great game against Lake Forest, his performance being a big factor in the Techmen's win over the strong northern aggregation. Those who watched him at his best will long remember him as one of the greatest of open field runners developed at Bradley.

ERNEST KOEPPING
(Guard)

Little sung has been the brilliant work of Ernest Koepping, right guard, who has taken his place as an equal with the other strong men of the line this fall. On defense, Koepping was shifted to right tackle from which position he time and time again broke through opposing linemen to throw hostile backs for heavy losses. The Pittsfield star has raced down under punts and prevented many a gain on their return. Koepping's return next year would be ample assurance to Bradleyites that the Tech forward will will again be impregnable, a line through which only one actual touchdown has been made. Two of the remaining three were scored on the reserves while the other is that accredited to Stewart, Lake Forest speed demon, who astonished the Poly warriors by literally flying past them on the kick-off.

JAMES HOSWELL
(Halfback)

James Hoswell, the "Toluca flash", more than once this season gave indication of the possibilities that are in him and his nimble footed legs. He is easily the fastest man on the Bradley squad and has proven a valuable understudy to the veteran Gross, whose position he capably filled when the Kansas ace was unable to play. When it is considered that Hoswell had no opportunity while in high school to learn the game of football, the improvement that he has shown under the Tech coaches' direction is most remarkable. This year's experience should develop him into a halfback of the highest caliber. Hoswell is one of the best bets for a backfield berth next season.

MERRILL "RURE" HINDLE
(Halfback)

Hindle was wearing out his pants' seat during many of the season's games; but it must have done him good for the manner in which he performed against Eureka was indeed convincing that the former Manual star is yet to make a name for himself in college circles. Wedging his way through the Christians' line Hindle was good for a substantial gain every time he lugged the ball. Since "Rube" is an equally dangerous defensive player all Bradley is anxious to see him in Tech moleskins against next season. Hindle is a freshman, enrolled in the teacher training course.

JOHN "DUTCH" MEINEN
(Tackle)

To have played four years as a regular in the Tech line-up is the enviable record to which John "Dutch" Meinen, left tackle on the Bradley eleven, is probably the sole claimant. During those years of service his playing has been the outstanding feature of Poly football. His fame as a lineman has spread throughout the middle west. Three times an all-state tackle, "Dutch" is beyond all doubt in line for another place on the "all-state" team selected by the leading football authorities.

In scenting opponents' plays and in working out defensive formations to counter them Meinen is unmatched. His instinct in this respect is developing to an uncanny degree and wisely have opposing teams avoided his side of the line. The failure of countless enemy tricks to materialize can be accredited directly to the big Dutchman.

In all his playing not a single touchdown has the stalwart lineman to his credit. To console himself, however, Meinen can look back to the four years he has helped Bradley to down the traditional rival, Wesleyan, four consecutive times. This distinction belongs to "Dutch" alone.

TOMMY CORRELL
(Halfback)

Rising to the heights of stardom in one season is the attainment of Tommy Correll, left halfback. Now that all is said and done on the Bradley gridiron, none can say that this modest youth has failed to do his bit in steering the Tech toward a state championship.

Unheralded in 1921, because it was his first year in college football, Correll this season truly lived up to expectations. He has improved with every game, and with the veterans Gross and Babcock out of the line-up Correll assumed jointly with Friedrich the offensive burden. More than one-third of the time the fleet Tommy has carried the ball and eleven times the ever-reliable halfback has crossed the enemies' goal line for as many touchdowns.

Reading from left to right: Barrett, Zierton, and Siminski. When Coach Robertson began a year ago the organization of what turned out to be a team of state championship caliber three of his most promising linemen were Alphonse Barrett, Edward Siminski, and Harold Zierton, all hailing from St. Cloud, Minn., the little town whose name this trio has made celebrated about minor college circles in Illinois.

ALPHONSE BARRETT
(Tackle)

With Meinen gone, Barrett looms as the most likely candidate for his enviable position as the bulwark of the forward wall. Barrett, like Meinen, imparts inspiration to his teammates during combat; and with a smile on his face challenges the foe to send a play through his section of the line. "Hunk" is one of the most aggressive linesmen boasted by the Red and White in years. By virtue of his extraordinary lineplay, the St. Cloud marvel has received most favorable consideration for a guard berth on the "all-state" selection. Barrett is taking up engineering work and will be back next year.

HAROLD ZIERTON
(Guard)

"Butch" was the biggest man on the Tech squad this fall and he played his guard position in the manner befitting a man of might. Zierton, the third of the famous "St. Cloud trio," was handicapped all through the season of '21 by illness so really did not get a good chance to show himself in his most favorable light. This year, however, he budded out into a star of the first order. "Butch," like his sidekick "Shimmy," was a great "opportunist" whose quick eyesight paved the way for numerous advantages in the way of fumbled balls and blocked kicks. Zierton probably played his last with Bradley this year, as he intends to complete his education in drafting at the University of Minnesota.

EDWARD SIMINSKI
(Center)

Nearly faultlessly perfect has been Siminski's passing back of the ball from center. "Shimmy" played at guard last year, from which position he was called to do the punting. A lack of center material this fall caused Robertson to decide to give the husky "Pole" a try at the passback job. Siminski was not long in acquiring the knack of snapping back the ball and by the middle of the season he was handling his new job with the facility of the most experienced veteran.

The husky St. Cloud youth also developed into a ball-snatcher of the first magnitude as a result of his faithful observance of the coach's dictum to "follow the ball." Siminski has recovered more fumbles than any other man on the team. He will be back again next fall to study further in manual training.

JOHNNIE BREWER
(Halfback)

Out there to each evening's practice as faithfully as "Ol' Dog Tray" was one youngster who, whenever an opportunity to play was afforded him, always performed commendably. Johnnie Brewer is that lad, and to him Coach Robertson looked to substitute for Gross in the all-important Lombard game. The diminutive Brewer smashed the line like an 185-pounder, was a big figure in the few passes Bradley executed, and on the defense he was a tower of strength, always fighting. Against Wesleyan he played equally as well, getting off to several neat runs.

EUGENE McNAUGHT
(Guard)

To place a rating too high on the service Eugene McNaught rendered the Tech machine throughout the past strenuous season is inconceivable. Just when the Poly forwards needed relief the big Gridley lineman was there, ready to be called into action. He possesses the great fighting powers that make for a dependable guard, one who provides perfect interference for the charging backs. McNaught is, as many of his adversaries have sadly learned, just as effective on defense. He will return next fall.

JOHN ELLIFF
(Tackle)

In Elliff another "find" has been disclosed. Elliff is a hard worker. All season he has done his level best in every game wherein he served. Substituting for Zierton at Lombard, Elliff proved an impassable barrier to that team's great line plungers. He, too, hails from Pekin, the city which has given to Bradley the incomparable "Dutch" Meyer. Elliff may return a year hence as a successor to the big Dutchman.

RALPH JOHNSON
(End)

With just meager high school experience Ralph Johnson, substitute right end, has made good in a way that is surprising. Johnson's ability was grabbing passes. Many of his catches were of a spectacular variety, one such catch, at Augustana, enabling him to score a touchdown. The work of the former Peoria High athlete will be keenly watched next year.

OMICRONS MAKE BIG SUCCESS OF MUSICAL COMEDY

BRADLEY STUDENT LOAN FUND OF SORORITY TO RECEIVE PARTS OF PROCEEDS.

Several Bradley Students Appear in Cast—Three Act Play Illustrating a Story.

"Springtime," the musical comedy given under the auspices of the Omicron Tri Kappa sorority at the Majestic theater, December 1 and 2, was a big success. The net proceeds of $550 will be divided by the organization's benefit committee as follows: The Omicron Student Loan Fund of Bradley, which was established last year as a memorial upon the withdrawal of the sorority from the college, will receive $200. The remainder of the proceeds will be donated to local charities.

Leading parts in the play were taken by Miss Leah Tefft and Walter Donley. Miss Tefft made a charming picture appearing in the first act in a wedding gown of the style of 1868. Miss Helena Leisy was very appealing in her quaint gown of lace and satin.

The three acts of the play illustrated a story which Mrs. Wm. Wittick, as Mrs. Elkins, told concerning the ancestors of three society maids, Mrs. George Luthy, Helen Louise Wallace, and Helen Tinan.

Leonard Fritz, as the trifling son of the millionaire, played the role of the flirtations batchelor. His acting was splendid and added much to the amusing scenes in the play. John Bergan, as a black faced comedian, executed many clever steps and slides in his specialty number. Miss Alice Bonner presented several beautiful dance interpretations.

Critics would have to make a wide search to find a more talented group of amateur players.

MASK AND GAVEL WORKS ON NEW CONSTITUTION

The Mask and Gavel Club is at present engaged in a revision of the constitution, the old one proving inadequate for club expansion. It will be impossible to take in new members until the constitution is complete. Ninety-four applications have been made, but the list has been cut in half. Those not admitted now, will be placed on a waiting list, and considered later.

The co-operation of the English Club and Mask and Gavel will make possible the Tony Lard Marionette performance, in January. It is the aim of the club to produce plays during the year, with only club members taking part.

BRADLEY BUMPS EUREKA TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

GRAB LONG END OF 42-6 SCORE BEFORE FIFTY-FIVE HUNDRED SPECTATORS THANKSGIVING

Reserves Play Third Quarter—Hindle Shows Class in Backfield—Eureka Shows Good Fight

Bradley's long cherished dream of an Illinois State college football championship banner's floating from the top of the old flag pole crystallized into a reality Thanksgiving day when the Tech forces, before the largest throng of the season, mauled the Eureka college eleven by a 42 to 6 score. Fifty-five hundred persons braved the inclement weather to see Bradley bring to a close its happiest football season.

Though before the swift moving Tech eleven the Eureka Collegians were powerless, it cannot be said that they once laid down. Such a crushing defeat as the Techmen handed to the McKinzie tribe was entirely unexpected.

Techmen Score Regularly

From the beginning the result was never in doubt. So co-ordinately did the regular Poly machine function that within ten minutes after the starting whistle it had smashed its way across the Eureka goal line twice. Except for the third quarter, the period in which Coach Robertson injected his serves, against whom Eureka registered its only touchdown, the Red and White crew averaged two scores per quarter.

Bradley's excellent showing was the work of a team rather than that of any particularly outstanding individual. Practically every play attempted carried through successfully, the Tech backs being given beautiful interference as they swept around Eureka ends and the Poly forwards ripping in the Eureka wall big paths for the ball carriers.

Unable to get out of its goal line region following the initial kickoff, Eureka punted to Correll who returned the ball to the enemy's 35-yard line. Babcock and Hindle alternated at bucking center and tackles with Correll skirting his own left end for fifteen yards. Babcock then plowed five yards over center for a touchdown, and Friedrich kicked goal.

Bradley's second touchdown followed within a few moments, when Siminski enveloped a Eureka fumble on the visitors' 20-yard line. Another offensive drive started with Correll's circling his own right end and culminated with Friedrich's plunging across and again kicking goal.

Hindle Consistent Gainer

Straight football during the early portion of the second quarter put the Hilltoppers in line for their third touchdown. Hindle was the big feature in this steady drive, and he scored by going off Eureka's right tackle.

As a starter for the Tech's fourth marker Friedrich's kick-off, driven back by the strong prevailing south wind, bounced directly into Siminski's arms. Though Eureka then intercepted a Bradley pass, Fate must have decreed that on the following play Koepping was to have an opportunity to add a counter to his credit for Tweddale, the Eureka center, passed high over Patelski's head and the ball rolled toward the goal. Neither the Eureka quarterback nor Allen, both of whom lunged for the oval, could smother it. Koepping deftly scooped it up and trotted for an easy score.

Eureka Rally Short Lived

Up the field at the start of the half advanced the Eureka warriors against Robertson's yearlings. A touchdown was soon put over and the ralliers were again marching goal wardly when the Tech regulars hurried back into the fray.

The Red and White troopers promptly got under way for their fifth touchdown, the opening for which Tommy Correll provided by running forty-five yards to the Eurekans' 35-yard line. Plunges by Babcock and Hindle, a pass to Hindle which netted eleven yards, and a smash through right tackle by Correll augmented the score.

After a miserable Eureka punt had given the ball to Bradley on its opponents' 20-yard line, a cross-buck, Babcock to Correll, was executed to perfection and Tommy sprinted across the border for the final marker. Friedrich for the sixth time made the kick.

The summary and line-up:

Bradley	Position	Eureka
Rogers	L. E.	Wroug
Meinen	L. T.	Ziegler
Zierton	L. G.	Kirby
Siminski	Center	Tweddale
Koepping	R. G.	Beach

ATHLETICS FOR ALL IS AIM OF ASS'T JOHNSON

VARIED INTRAMURAL SPORT PROGRAM FORMULATED—CAGE GAME HEADLINER

According to definite announcement made by Assistant Athletic Director Leo Johnson, the intramural sport program for the remainder of the school year has been completed. Since a wide variety of activities is in order, there is no reason why every student should not be engaged in his favorite line of athletics.

Intramural basketball will be conducted on a basis altogether different from that of last year. The Department of Physical Education is planning a permanent intramural league into which teams will be allowed to enter under their own name. Each team is to be composed of seven players whose names, as well as the name by which the team is to be known, must be handed in to the heads of the athletic department before December 12.

A league schedule will be drawn up at once in order that the teams may start play immediately. The schedule is to be so arranged that the teams entered in the league will get opportunities to play off many of their matches as curtain raisers to the regularly scheduled 'varsity games.

There are also plans under way to carry on an inter-fraternity league. The various fraternities of Bradley are requested to submit before the same date, December 12, the list of players whom they wish to enter in the fraternity league.

For those who may not get an opportunity to play under either of the above arrangements, there will be a regular intramural league as last year. Play in this league will be begun as soon as practicable. Suitable trophies are to be provided for the winning teams of the different leagues.

The remainder of the intramural sport card, as drawn up for the winter, includes volley ball, indoor baseball, indoor track meets, swimming, and bowling. If enough are interested, an effort will be made to start tumbling and wrestling classes. In the spring, track, tennis, and baseball promise to be the principal diversions.

BRADLEY GLEE CLUB ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

The Bradley Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Stead is fast rounding into shape. Seven more voices are needed to assure a well balanced organization.

The baritone section is complete, but two more first and second tenors and three more second basses are needed.

Trips are being planned to Galesburg, Springfield and surrounding towns. Music already secured includes spirituals by Burleigh, comic numbers, late popular hits and classics by Brahms and Victor Herbert.

EXPECT SUCCESS IN DIVISION OF ENGLISH CLASSES

SEPARATE FRESHMEN COMPOSITION STUDENTS INTO FOUR GROUPS ON BASIS OF TESTS

"Our work is still in the experimental stage," Miss Jennie M. Constance, head of the English department, said in reference to the outcome of the divisions of freshman composition students inaugurated this fall. "However," she continued, "we feel that we are getting results.

"There are three examinations given," Miss Constance explained. "One a test in the fundamentals of composition, was made out by a graduate student, another English examination was given by myself, and a third examination, a psychological test, was given by Mr. Hanna. These papers were very carefully graded. The three grades were averaged, and then the most difficult part of the work began.

"We divided the entire groups into fourths according to grades. Owing to some little eccentricities in the schedule, it was impossible to make this division as nearly exact as we would like."

"While the experiment has not been tried long enough to determine the grading results," said Miss Constance, "it appears that the grading will be most fair to the students. Each division has its own standard which is within the reach of every student in that group. Students come to Bradley from many different high schools and come with varying degrees of thoroughness of preparation in English. These sections are an effort, it seems, to give each student what he most needs.

"This experiment has made a great deal of extra work for those undertaking it," Miss Constance stated, "but it has paid for the trouble. It had to be worked out step by step, with almost no guidance.

"Nowhere, to my knowledge," she declared, "has so thorough and painstaking an experiment been made. At the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin a division is made by examination in the Freshmen English class, but in no means so extensive a manner."

DR. BURGESS ATTENDS PRESIDENTS' MEETING

Dr. T. C. Burgess, president of the Institute attended a meeting of college presidents of the Illinois colleges last Saturday at the University of Illinois. Bradley was only admitted to this federation of Illinois colleges last year and this is the first time a representative from here has ever attended one of the meetings.

The meeting was called for the purpose of taking up the discussion of certain standards which the Illinois college should meet. About 25 college presidents were in attendance at the meeting which was presided over by President Kinley of the University of Illinois. Nearly every minor college in the state was represented, delegates coming from as far north as Armour and Lake Forest colleges and as far south as McKendree College.

TECH OPPOSES FAST LA CROSSE QUINT HERE SAT.

POLY TOSSERS PREPARE FOR HARD TUSSLE—THREE GAME FIVE NEXT TUESDAY.

Another major sport will be ushered in at Bradley this week when Coach Robertson's basket five meets La Crosse Normal on the Tech floor Saturday night.

Tech basket tossers have a strong foe in the La Crosse outfit as is indicated by its last year's record of but one loss. The Teachers lost that one game to the University of Wisconsin quintet by a close margin. Four veterans of that championship team are again playing under Coach Keeler.

Captaining the Badger State collegians is Max Poscover, former Millikin star, two years ago rated as one of the best forwards in the Little Nineteen basketball circuit. Ress, a St. Cloud boy, is playing the other forward position while Jorgenson jumps center. Stoneman and Shields are the La Crosse guards, the former being named an all-state guard last year. Ress and Poscover's appearance on the Poly court adds much local color to the northern aggregation's invasion.

Cy Ettinger, quarterback on Bradley's football team last year, may, as it is rumored, accompany the squad. If Ettinger should prove to be a member of the invading cagers, there will probably be a spirit of friendly enmity prevailing.

Positions on the Tech squad are by no means cinched as yet. Captain Rogers and Hoswell look fairly certain of their forward berths, but they are being pushed hard by Jimmy Garner. Garner is also showing skill that would warrant his seeing service in this opening tilt.

At running guard Robertson has two likely looking candidates in Brewer and Koepping. Brewer's lack of weight may handicap him, whereas Koepping is a strapping six-footer with plenty of speed and a good eye for the hoop.

"Hunk" Barrett, letter man from last year's squad, and "Letty" Tyler, former Peoria High defense man, are battling for the back guard position. By reason of his experience Barrett holds a slight edge on Tyler, though the latter is fast developing under the Tech mentor's direction and will undoubtedly be given an opportunity to do his stuff in these early games.

Siminski, 1921 regular, is being forced to the limit to regain his old position at center. Ralph Johnson, another former Peoria High athlete, is putting in a strong bid for the pivot job.

Several of the candidates from the night squad are making a favorable impression. Robertson may fall back on his second string outfit, two or three of whom will probably be out in uniforms Saturday night.

Notre Dame Here Next Tuesday.

After the scrap with the Wisconsin Teachers, the coach will have a pretty fair idea as to who are entitled to go in against the University of Notre Dame five, December 19. Whether the Techmen can upset the formidable Catholic quint remains to be seen, though Notre Dame's cage crews have not gained the nation-wide renown that its football elevens have been accustomed to receive. Captain Rogers and his mates realize, however, that winning is within the range of possibility and hope to offer the Catholics plenty of competition.

PEORIA BUSINESS MEN BANQUET FOOTBALL SQUAD

CLUBS COMBINE TO ENTERTAIN WINNERS OF ILLINOIS MINOR COLLEGE TITLE

The fact that Peoria's business men appreciate the efforts of Coach Robertson and his state championship team was clearly demonstrated on the evening of Friday, Dec. the eighth. The occasion was a banquet at the Jefferson Hotel given by the various luncheon clubs of the city: the Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist, Ad, and Lion clubs sharing in honoring, entertaining, and feeding the entire Tech squad.

Dick Bradley, in his "made to order" capacity of toastmaster kept the spirit of the evening at a high pitch, despite the entreaties of "Hold that line." Gene Brown acted as referee and saw to it that too much time was not taken.

The speakers of the evening vied with each other in expressing the gratitude of the city for the brand of football which they were permitted to witness during the past season.

Dale Morgan, vice president of the Rotary Club gave the address of welcome. Rex Post, president of the Lions' Club, spoke on "Visions of the past." Mr. Schwab represented the Ad Men, and Dr. Thomas the Board of Directors.

Other speakers of the evening were: John Brewer, Rotarian; Mayor Michel, Professor V F Swaim, Judge Henry, and Coach A J Robertson.

LEADERS IN MANUAL ARTS WORK TO MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

Members of the Illinois Manual Arts Association will gather to hold their nineteenth annual meeting in the Springfield High School auditorium on Wednesday, December 27, at 10 a. m. The meeting will be held for the purpose of discussing some of the questions which arise in connection with the teaching of manual arts subjects.

Professor M. E. Wharry, head of the department of mechanical drawing of Bradley who is vice president of the association will read a paper on "Side Lights on Machine Drafting," and Mr. C. M. Hewitt, professor of automobile of Bradley will speak on "Courses of Study in Automobile Mechanics."

Officials of the Association are: president, L. M. Cole, James Millikin University; vice president M. E. Wharry, Bradley Institute; secretary and treasurer, L. M. Kavanaugh, Supervisor of Industrial Arts, Springfield.

Students and faculty members from all the manual training departments in Illinois will be represented in the meeting which is open to anyone interested in manual training subjects on the payment of the annual fee of $2.

Alphonse "Hunk" Barrett, stellar tackle on the Bradley football teams of 1921 and 1922, was elected captain of the 1923 eleven by 18 letter men just before the annual football banquet given Saturday evening by the students of Bradley to honor the grid warriors.

Barrett possesses all the qualities of a good leader. At all times during the season just closed "Hunk" was one of the most aggresive fighters on the team. His gentlemanly attitude on and off the gridiron assures Bradley that the team representing the Red and White next fall will be composed of as clean and as hard fighters as ever trod the Hilltop field. No more popular choice for the captaincy could have been made.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

EIGHTEEN MEN GET LETTERS—BABCOOK AND MEINEN PRESENTED WITH LOVING CUPS

The Football Banquet held Saturday night was a great success. Although it was held in the cafeteria instead of the gymnasium, as had been originally intended, it was just as great a success, and some late ones found it a problem to secure seats.

Each class had its own table and made themselves noticeable thruout the evening by directing yells at each other. There was a separate table for the team, and also there was one for the speakers.

The members did justice to the "spread," and when that was finished a few yells were indulged in and everyone was ready for the speakers.

The members of the varsity, 18 men in all, were presented with sweaters and gold football charms, while the whole squad, "scrubs" and all, were given gold penknives. Captain Babcook and "Dutch" Meinen were presented with loving cups as an appreciation for the work they have done for Bradley.

The speakers of the evening were as follows:

Dr. Theodore C. Burgess, President.

Toastmaster—Mr. Roger Schenck.

Alumni Representative—Dr. Orville Barbour.

President of Girls Athletic Association—Miss Stella La Follette.

Faculty Representative—Mr. C. M. Hewitt.

Manager of the Team—Mr. Arleigh Strayer.

For the Student Body—Mr. Walter Schmidt.

Captain of the Team—Mr. Golden Babcook.

For the Business Men of Peoria—Mr. Richard B. Bradley.

Coach of the Team—Mr. A. J. Robertson.

The singing of the football song and the loyalty song followed the speeches and then the banquet broke up, many going to the gym to dance. There was not much dancing, however, as the banquet had lasted until almost eleven o'clock. The gym was very prettily decorated with American flags, and Hogan's Orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

NEW INTERPRETATION OF ELIGIBILITY RULES NO HANDICAP TO TECH

CONFERENCE DELEGATES VOTE UNANIMOUSLY IN FAVOR OF BRADLEY'S ENTRANCE INTO ORGANIZATION—TECH TO BECOME ONE OF ITS FOREMOST MEMBERS.

According to Present Version of Rules Those Meeting College Entrance Requirements and Carrying Per Week 12 Hours Work Leading to Degree are Eligible for Conference Athletic Competition.

Glad indeed were the member schools of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference to admit Bradley into their organization at the annual winter session held at Bloomington last Friday. Dr. V. F. Swaim of the faculty athletic board and Athletic Director A. J. Robertson represented Bradley at the meeting.

No alterations in the conference rules were necessary to admit Bradley. Dr. Swaim appeared before the body of delegates, representing 19 of the 23 member schools, to ask for interpretations of the eligibility rules on which hinged the Institute's joining the association. Those particular rules being interpreted in such a way that only members of the Bradley Horology department will be ineligible for conference athletic competition led Bradley's representatives immediately to make formal application for membership.

That the conference members were anxious to have the Tech align forces with them is evident by their awarding Bradley a membership through a unanimous vote, in spite of the fact that several of the delegates to the conference met secretly before the regular session to intimidate the Tech into affiliating itself therewith. Under the new arrangement everything is satisfactory, and undoubtedly the Tech institution is again to become one of the leading members of the so-called "Little Nineteen."

Take Fling Now at Titles.

It is unfortunate that Bradley did not come into the conference before last Friday when Lombard was unanimously voted the conference football championship. Playing nine conference schools against four played by Lombard, Bradley holds a much better record than the Universalist school, leaving little question but that the Tech would have been voted the official championship had it been a member of the conference. Now, however, Tech athlete teams may take an open fling at the championship honors, a privilege which they have not enjoyed since the spring of 1920.

Another matter of vital importance came up before the conference for discussion was that in regard to "migration." The conference, at the time of its re-organization in January, 1920, adopted a migratory rule to the effect that an athlete transferring from one college to another must have resided in his new surroundings for at least four and one-half months before he be eligible to compete in athletics. The old rule was amended to read one year instead of four and one-half months.

Fred Muhl, Illinois Wesleyan, H. H. Russell, State Normal, Professor L. M. Cold, James Millikin University, were re-elected to the offices of president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

EMPLOY NOVEL IDEAS IN MAKING THE POLYSCOPE

MANAGEMENT PROMISES MORE THAN "BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER" ANNUAL

Originality is to be the keynote of the Polyscope, Bradley's Annual, for this year. Novel ideas will be worked out in every possible way. Katherine Langton, editor of the publication, assures us that it will be more than the customary "bigger and better polyscope."

The drive for the sale of Polyscope tags will be launched shortly after Christmas.

The photographer's contract has been given to Burkhart, a real artist in his work. Individual pictures will begin to be taken at the first of the year. Group pictures will have to wait until all classes and clubs are organized. A great deal has been accomplished in the picture line. Irv Garnett, the staff photographer, has already gathered many pictures of students.

Snapshots always add life to an annual. The more snaps, and the more unusual the snaps, the more life of the student body the book portrays. This department calls for the co-operation of the students. Katherine Langton is having many pictures handed to her.

The different contest will be a new feature of the book. Up to this time only those who were blessed with unusual beauty have been eligible for the one contest put on by the Polyscope, the beauty contest. This year not only will there be a beauty contest, but there will be a contest for popularity, service and for athletic ability. A board, appointed by the staff, will choose the students who stand out prominently in these lines.

The various departments of the book are being well taken care of. "The art department," Miss Langton emphasizes, "will be one of the big departments of the book." Ted Voorhees and Glen Schaeffer are responsible for the work. Ben Hershe will work up the humor section in a new manner. The athletic department will be suitable to a championship year.

BRADLEY ATHLETE OF FORMER YEARS DIES

Frank G. "Jake" Mercer, one of the most noted and best liked of all Bradley athletes of former days was arried to his last resting place the ast week. Infection resulting from a scratch received a few months ago was the direct cause of his death.

Frank or "Jake" was one of the few men to win letters in four major sports while at Bradley. Halfback on the football team, sprinter on the track squad, guard in basketball, pitcher, second baseman and center fielder on the baseball team, he was one of the men who helped raise the plane of Bradley athletics to a high level.

After Mercer had finished his college days he moved to Oklahoma where he was living at the time he received the accident which resulted in his death.

"B" GIRLS

The Bradley girl who wins her letter has something to be proud of. There are no rooters to cheer her as she works for her goal. Perhaps few know until the letter is awarded to her, that she is in the race for one. Even when she has won her letter and is wearing it, many think it has been won by some masculine athlete.

A "B" is won by a girl who has made a certain number of points in swimming, hiking, tennis, and other sports. She must gain the points in her spare time. If she wins the letter in her second year she is exceptional.

COLLEGE

By George Fitch

Colleges are useful because they produce teachers, preachers, writers and statesmen. They are a nuisance because they produce 'rah 'rah boys in explosive clothes, who have confined their studies to a thorough education in the conquest of thirst. Happily, these are greatly in the minority.

Statistics show that of all the men in America, less than one-fifth are college graduates. On the other hand, one-fourth of all the famous men in the country are college men. One-half of the members of congress are college men. Seventeen out of twenty-six presidents have been college men. Nine-tenths of the writers of the country and one-half of the millionaires are college men.

This teaches us that the college boy who minds his teachers, and does not burn down the buildings during his course of study, stands an exceedingly good chance of landing at the top. But it does not teach us that a college boy is destined to receive a free ride to fame. The world is full of college graduates who are still waiting for the band wagon to come along and haul them to the White House; and some of them are having difficulty in paying their board bill while waiting.

In case anyone is bewildered as to what I want for Xmas I am placing a list of the things I need at the top of this column of so-called humor.

I wear size 15 shirts.
Size 11 sox.
I need new shoes badly.
I like blue neckties.
I doté on candy.
Now make your choice, and do your Xmas shopping early.

Wanted: A good looking girl to take the part of the heroine in Miss Baum's Spanish play. Must be of Spanish type. Will play opposite that dashing young hero Mr. Landers. Don't crowd.

* * *

Ed. Murray: Say did you ever take chloroform?

Risser: Naw, what hour does it come in?

* * *

Extra! Extra! Abbot went to see "The Bat" because he thought that Babe Ruth would be in it.

W. J. BLACK TALKS TO COMMERCE CLUB ABOUT BUSINESS PROBLEMS

W. J. Black, prominent Peoria lawyer, and associated with the law firm of Barnes, Morgan and Black, was the principal speaker at the Commerce Club meeting, held last Thursday evening, Dec. 7, in the Bradley cafeteria.

Mr. Black gave a very interesting talk on business and business problems.

"Opportunities in the business world," declared Mr. Black, "are just as numerous today as ever to the individual who is alert enough to see the opening."

"The trouble with the average college graduate," he said, "is that he has the wrong impression of the value of his college education." "He believes that it alone entitles him to a higher position in the world. This is not true. It merely gives him a broader and clearer vision and prepares him for the task in life which he undertakes."

Mr. Black also emphasized the importance of each individual in the field of industry and showed that the shirking of responsibility on the part of any individual must necessarily cause a hardship to another.

Marshall Curtis, President of the Commerce Club introduced the speaker and gave a short talk.

After the meeting "hot dogs" and coffee were served as refreshments.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

While hunting on Tuesday morning west of the city between Danvers and Lilly, Claude Miller brought down a large chicken hawk which was trying to get a rabbit out of a brush. It was after Mr. Miller had shot the hawk that he found this out, for when he picked up a piece of the brush to put the finish to the bird that he had just crippled, a rabbit scampered out of the pile. The hawk measured forty-nine inches from tip to tip.

Mr. Miller presented the hawk to Dr. F. E. Wood, of the Illinois Wesleyan University, where it will be mounted. Besides getting the hawk, Miller succeeded in bagging several quail and a few rabbits. This bird will add to the already large collection Prof. Wood has at the Wesleyan and will add materially to the North Side Museum.

Dr. Wood is always glad to receive such gifts and is very grateful to Mr. Miller.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

New Veteran Bureau men to enter Bradley are: Leslie Dargle of Peoria; J. M. Cheshire of Rock Falls. Both men are enlisted in the electrical department.

The season of football just past has been one of success from almost every point of view. The Manual Arts department feels a spirit of elation and pride in the season because of the great number of Manual Arts men who were on the great team that has just finished its season.

Far be it from the department to brag, but we do feel a sort of pride in the men who so ably represented this side of the campus, and at the same time kept their faith with the instructors of the various classes.

The names just following are the men who were on the squad that are enlisted in our department: Hoswell, Siminski, Meinen, Correll, Rogers, Allen, Zierton, Purlee, Hindle, Druge, Gross, Fritz, Bostic.

We are proud of the whole team, but it makes us feel just a little nice to think that we did "our share" in giving Coach "Robbie" as much of his material as we did.

And last, but not least, we are all for Coaches Robertson and Johnston. Any of the men on the squad can furnish plenty of reasons why we ought to feel grateful toward them.

Bradley Sportswomen.

Our football team has made Bradley a force to be reckoned within the athletic world. Our Home Economics Department also has done much to put us on the map.

The bazaar given December 8th showed to with what untiring efforts the Home Economics girls worked to further the success of their department. Weeks of hard work preceded the bazaar which was all over in a few short hours. In all affairs put on by the school the Home Economics girls are in the front row.

This department draws students from all over the country. The majority of girls enrolled at Bradley are Home Economic girls. The third floor of Bradley Hall is devoted to their work. They "make" Bradley just the same as our teams do.

They proved themselves one of Bradley's most progressive groups. Here's to them!

Y. W. C. A. Stunt Show.

One of the biggest affairs of the season for all the girls is the Girls Stunt Show. This is to take place in the chapel on Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Following the stunts a light lunch will be served in the Social Hall, after which dancing will occupy the remainder of the afternoon.

Every organization in the school in which girls are members is to be represented by a stunt. Between stunts the syncopation will be furnished by the Delta Kappa Comedians. A drawing card on the program will be a Paramount film brought here by the English Club. The other stunts will be along the line of toe dancing, interpretive reading, farces and solos.

We are very sorry that no boys will be allowed. This is a strictly feminine affair, so let all of the girls show their school spirit and come.

We move that a vote of thanks be extended Miss Potter for the drinking fountain re-installed on the co-eds' side of the cafeteria.

If a girl should eat her lunch on the men's side of the cafeteria would she be as welcome as a man on the girl's side?

At the football banquet, B's were awarded Stella La Follette, Bernice Jones, Dorothy Reinhart and Clara Cornell. They worked long and hard for their letters, and they deserve credit for it.

We are waiting for the pre-Christmas quarrels to begin.

The Varsity Hockey Team.

The girls getting 100 points are: Babcock, Campbell, La Follette, Reinhart, Schmitt, Straesser, Andreen, Belsley, Decker, Palmer, Cornell.

50 points were won by: E. Johnson, King, Simon, Whalen, Cation, Gallwin, Moody, and Wasson.

The winners of 25 points were: Miller, Rush, Cramer and Gordon.

The Varsity Swimming Team.

The winners of 100 points are: Jones, Cornell, Steingraber, Bonner, and Green.

50 points were awarded to: King, Dustey, McCarthy, Schoenfeld, Day, Schmitt, Reinhart, Belsley, Risser, Wallace, Moore, M. Cation, Pease and H. Whalen.

All girls interested in earning money next summer and in visiting Yellowstone Park watch for a notice on the bulletin board.

Many colleges are represented every summer in National Park Camps by girls who do dining room work. Unusual advantages are offered: sightseeing tours, means of earning money and a great deal of fun.

If Bradley girls are interested it may be possible for a group to go to Yellowstone Park next summer. If you are interested do not forget to sign the notice before January 1st.

Basketball practice begins this week. All girls interested sign up with Miss Ewald at once. If enough girls come out we will have class teams and have some real rivalry for school championship at the end of the season.

* * *

"Ethel, where did you get this perfectly shocking book?"

"At the corner book store, mama."

"Do you suppose he has another like it?"

* * *

Hockey points have been awarded. Those making the varsity team and thus earning 100 points are: Babcock, La Follette, M. Schmidt, Straesser, Campbell, Reinhart, Cornell, Andreen, Palmer, Belsley and Decker.

These eleven girls are the best players chosen from both teams. This varsity team resembles the mythical all state football eleven in that it is only an honor and doesn't play any games.

Those earning fifty points are: Johnson, King, Simon, Whalen, Cation, Gallion, Moody, Wasson and Allen. Twenty-five points were given to the squad consisting of Miller, Rush, Cramer and Gordon.

PROFESSOR COMSTOCK TO RESUME TEACHING IN SECOND SEMESTER

"I will be back in my class next semester and will be on the job in full swing," was the answer given by Professor C. E. Comstock of the Mathematics department to one of the numerous inquiries of the student body. Prof. Comstock is finishing the manuscript of the fourth of a series of Mathematics texts, which he is co-author with Miss Mabel Sykes of Bowen High School, Chicago, Ill. He stated that the books already completed have been very favorably received by the various authorities of many educational institutions.

Prof. Comstock was president of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics teachers in 1908. He has just returned from the annual meeting of that Association, which Dr. W. H. Packard of the department of Biology also attended. At these meetings reports are made and papers are read. The purpose of which is to bring about an exchange of ideas on questions of science.

Many of the leading men of science of the country attended the meeting the results of the findings of men in the modern realm of science were discussed with their application to present day usage.

Home Economics Club Bazaar Is Success

The Home Economics Club Bazaar, December 8th, was marked with great success. So far the proceeds have amounted to $265 which will be used in furthering the work of the club.

Kahn's Orchestra played as the shoppers thronged from one booth to another. The Christmas scheme was carried out in the motives and colors of the booths. The first prize was won by the Food Booth, which represented a snow storm. The prize, a box of candy, was donated by the candy committee.

The fish pond and fortune teller's booth were among the main attractions. The ice cream parlor offered delicious sundaes.

The candy raffled off was donated by Katzing's, the Sugar Bowl, and Gmelich's.

STUDENT FRIENDSHIP FUND INCREASES

Students of Bradley pledged over $420 to the Student Friendship Drive which was formally opened December 6. The exact total of the contributions cannot yet be ascertained since several pledges are still outstanding.

The purpose of this drive is to help students of foreign countries, especially those of Russia, to stay in school. It is absolutely necessary that these young people receive a good education in order that they may carry on the important work of reconstruction.

"Many of these students," said Miss Margaret Quayle, American relief worker, in her chapel address, "exist on only one meal every other day, and possess the very meagerest of clothing. Just put yourselves in their places and think how you would feel, if on awakening, you found that it was not your day to eat."

It seems almost impossible, but nevertheless it is true, that food can be furnished to these boys and girls at the small cost of five cents per day. Ten cents a day will furnish hospital care.

Miss Quayle returns the end of December to take up her work in Russia.

BRADLEY ORCHESTRA GIVES FIRST CONCERT

The initial concert of the Bradley Conservatory Orchestra, under the direction of Eldon C. Murray, head of the violin department, was given Monday evening. According to musicians it was a pronounced success. The program was pleasingly varied, and it was difficult to select the best rendered number.

The following selections were presented:

Hungarian Dances .....Brahms
D major and G minor
First Symphony .....Beethoven
Audante Movement
March Militaire .....Schubert
Lament .....Eldon Murray
Piano Concerto Op. 25..Mendelssohn
Last Movement
Mr. Merle Gibson

The Mendelssohn Concerto was perhaps the finest number on the program. The "Lament" by Eldon Murray was received with appreciation.

The following are members of the orchestra: Misses Ulrich, Brill, Brazelton, Miller, Proudfit and the Mrs. Lacey and Brown; Messrs. Koklas, Lindbeck, Arzenhaffer, Anderson, Koenig, Albright, Whitaker, Hulsizer, Brown and Byrnes.

—B. P. I.—

A statistical report just composed shows that there is enough energy wasted in chapel each week to:

1. Run a boiler factory one hour.
2. To sing the "Star Spangled Banner" through 132 times with 13 encores.
3. To make a Bradley Alumnus blush.

VETERANS BOOST SALVATION ARMY CHRISTMAS FUND

CONTRIBUTIONS EXPECTED TO REACH OVER 200 DOLLAR MARK.

Bradley Veterans have not forgotten the days they spent in the trenches of foreign lands nor the organizations which brought them the small amount of cheer which it was possible to furnish in those dark days. A number of the trainees have started a subscription list for money to be donated to the Salvation Army Christmas Fund, to carry on their work of bringing aid and cheer to the needy of the city as they brought cheer to the men "over there."

All the vocational and teacher's training Federal Board men have not been solicited as yet, while the Horologs are just organizing their forces for a canvass for funds. No definite figures can be given but it is thought that the amount donated will be over $200.

The Pledge with its signers:

We, the undersigned trainees of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau at Bradley Institute, in consideration of the Christmas seasons spent in a foreign land, among the hardships of war, hereby subscribe as listed below, to the Salvation Army Christmas Fund that the Yuletide spirit may be successfully carried to the needy, deserving people of this community.

COACH ROBERTSON WRITES ARTICLE FOR MAGAZINE

Appearing as one of the feature articles in the January number of the "Athletic Journal" is that entitled "Some Observations on Line Play," written by Athletic Director A. J. Robertson. To contribute to a magazine so widely read by the sporting fraternity is indeed a mark of high distinction. It is further indication that "Robbie" is rapidly gaining recognition as an authority in the coaching realm.

That Coach Robertson has been a keen observer of the various methods of line play is clearly shown throughout this interesting and instructive article wherein he discusses briefly the relative merits of the two styles of defense most commonly employed today, namely: the standing and the crouching line. The remarkable showing of the Bradley eleven during the season just closed has certainly supported "Robbie" in his statement that on the strength of the line even more than on complicated backfield formations depends a football team's success.

CLUBS COMBINE TO PRESENT "GAMMER GURTON'S NEEDLE"

At the last regular meeting of Mask and Gavel, it was decided that the club co-operate with the English club, in bringing to Peoria the Coffer-Miller Players, to put on "Gammer Gurton's Needle," one of the earliest English comedies. Last year Bradley heartily received the Coffer-Miller Players in the production of Sheridan's "The Rivals."

Tony Sarg's "Marionettes" will be brought to Bradley in January, by the English club and Mask and Gavel. Tickets will be on sale after the holidays.

BRADLEY GIRLS GIVE CHRISTMAS GIFTS

A happier Christmas for the kiddies of the Neighborhood House and for the patients of the Proctor and Methodist hospitals has been made possible through the efforts of the social committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Bradley girls plan to give gifts to thirty-five "from two to six year olds" at the Neighborhood House. Little cardboard Santa Clauses will be sent to the two hospitals to be put on every tray carrying an Xmas dinner. Many recent magazines and picture books have been sent to the Associated Charities for local distribution.

TECHMEN TOPPLE FAST LA CROSSE BASKETBALL CREW

DISPLAY FINE EARLY SEASON FORM IN HOTLY CONTESTED GAME—SCORE 19-18

Bradley Defense Impenetrable—Barrett and Brewer Allow Visitors Few Close Shots.

Bradley basketeers opened their season in grand style last Saturday night with a close and hard fought contest with La Crosse Normal, last year's minor college Champions of Wisconsin. Despite the fact that La Crosse came to Peoria with an enviable reputation and though headed by that veteran of innumerable courts, Max Poscover, Bradley refused to be fazed and emerged with the long end of a 19-18 score.

From the earliest part of the game, when Hoswell sank a short shot after two minutes of exciting play, until the end the Techmen maintained the lead. It was Poscover who brought the excitement to fever heat during the closing moments of the game by scoring a basket that sent the invaders' count to within one point of a tie. The timer's gun, however, put an end to their hopes for a victory.

Poscover Visitors' Big Noise.

Throughout the game, the towering figure of Max Poscover dominated the play of the Wisconsin quintet. He was the moving spirit of the team; shooting baskets, playing the floor, encouraging his colleagues to greater efforts. The score sheet shows that, as a result of his untiring efforts, he was high-point man of the evening, being credited with a total of six field goals and two free throws.

Defensively both teams showed to better advantage. As a consequence, the majority of the shots had to be taken from near the center of the floor. In this respect Poscover proved to be the most accurate by sinking baskets from a considerable distance.

Tech Defense Impregnable.

La Crosse found the Techmen's five-man defense impenetrable, and only on one or two occasions did the visitors work the ball through the stonewall opposite them. Then the Wisconsin men took chances on long shots which they hoped one of their men might get on the rebound. Their hopes were in vain, as "Hunk" Barrett, Bradley back guard, was there to wrest the ball from their hands. Barrett permitted the opposition mighty few close shots at the hoop. The St. Cloud boy played one of the best games of his career.

Johnnie Brewer was not far behind his mate Barrett in aggressiveness and all-around play. He showed by his fighting spirit and accuracy of his passes that he has overcome to a remarkable extent his lack of weight and stature.

To Captain Clarence Rogers must go the lion's share of the credit for Bradley's victory. His accurate shooting of free throws made possible the winning of the opening game of the season. Out of 16 attempts, he registered nine ringers. Had Captain Poscover and Rose flipped in but two more of their 11 tries, there would have been a different tale to tell.

Both coaches, Johnson of Bradley and Keeler of La Crosse, used substitutes frequently in an endeavor to strike the right combination. Though

The Christmas Spirit

Almost two thousand years ago a Child was born in the palm shadows of the East. A silver star blazed His glory to the world and wise shepherds traveled far to bring Him gifts. Rubies, incense, emeralds, and myrrh were at His manger laid, for the personality of this Child was to change the though of the world. The Boy-Baby grew like a young sapling, straight and strong, and when twelve times the year glass ran its course, girt in purest raiment, He stood in the temple door and by His wisdom astonished the learned ones of the East. From that day henceforth, He walked among men, healing, helping, loving, and giving to Jerusalem a new light, a glory born of patient and triumphant suffering. The radiance of His personality burned brightly with a white flame and beside it Solomon's gilded palaces were insignificant, and the pyramids, sharply outlined against their saffron sky, were unimportant. His was a matchless love, unconquerable.

Today His memory, finely chiseled like a cameo, delicate as a bit of old lace, comes down to us, and when the snows of Christmas blow, it rekindles into life and walks with us through gift-laden stores, down humanity crowded streets, and out into the open spaces of the country. It radiates from the crimson holly and from pearl-like mistletoe; it shines from the eyes of friends, and grips us with every cordial hand clasp. Before such spirit, greed and selfishness and unworthiness slink into the shadows, ashamed to show themselves, and kindliness and helpfulness are lighted from its flame of love.

This spirit which little children call Santa Claus is the hope of the world. Because of it we know that man is good, and that life is not the hopeless, spinning thing that always brings one back to the starting point, as the ancients believed it to be. For, as long as a gleam of mistletoe or a glitter of tinsel can bring strong men a love for little children, or the glow of a holly wreath bring kindliness to the human heart, we will progress.—The Decaturian.

Receive Word of the Death of Coach A. J. Robertson's Mother

Coach A. J. Robertson was not present Saturday night to rejoice with his team and all Bradley in the triumph over the basketball champions of Wisconsin, for the had departed early last Tuesday evening for his St. Paul home to be at the bedside of his sick mother. Wednesday evening word was received here that Mrs. Robertson had died.

Members of the Bradley faculty, students and friends extend to Mr. Robertson and the bereaved family their deep sympathy.

CHAPEL LECTURER TALKS ON JUNIOR CITY PLAN

Peoria is to have in the near future, a junior city, with a complete organization of officers, including police officials, mayor, city council and courts, according to Mrs. Harrison Brown, former president of the Peoria Women's Club. Mrs. Brown stated that during the war people awoke to the fact that something was vitally wrong. We have too long paid attention to the foreigner and have neglected our own youth. In a country such as ours, the responsibility of citizenship is very great.

She stated that one must take part in community affairs to learn about the duties of a citizen. It is for this reason that the movement to initiate a junior city organization is to be started. Young men and women between the ages of 16 and 21 are to be eligible to vote and to hold offices. A thorough, practical and useful knowledge of the duties of citizenship is to be taught.

Members of Sigma Phi fraternity held formal opening of their new chapter house at 106 N. Elmwood on Sunday, December 17, between the hours of three and six. Mrs. E. N. Jacquin and Mrs. Orville Barbour poured. Two hundred friends called during the afternoon.

No mention was made in last week's Tech of Charles Mee in connection with the football banquet. Mr. Mee was chairman of the general committee and had complete charge of the banquet. It was through his efforts that the banquet was the success it proved to be.

Woman's Organizations of Bradley Stage Annual Stunt Show

The annual Girls' Stunt Show sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. took place in the chapel December 15th, before a large audience. All Bradley organizations in which women figure were represented in the various acts.

"The Tragedy of Little Nell," a Pansaol production, brought here by the English Club, opened the program. Mary Pickleface and Rodolph Vaselino, the leads, were ably supported by an all star cast. The audience wept profusely as they followed Little Nell through her blighted love affairs.

Sigma Chi Gamma was represented by a graduate of a famous school of speech who chose "The Sayings of a Small Boy" as her selection. She rended it to shreds in a most laudable manner.

The stage was transformed into "The Little Red Schoolhouse" on visitors' day. The children spoke pieces and the superintendent gave an impressive speech on "The Value of Eddycation."

The Home Economics Club staged a tent show production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The tragic figure of Eliza crossing the ice was terrifying, while the heart-touching scene of Uncle Tom's death brought tears to many eyes.

Mask and Gavel put on an original stunt, a hat, a small boy, and a henpecked husband being the principal characters.

Delta Kappa succeeded in persuading "Cornfield Dollies" to stage their show for the performance. A galaxy of beautiful girls tripped about the stage in the flickering candle light to the strains of a jazz orchestra.

"Mary, Molly and Rose" were three old-fashioned Lambda Phi maidens in the hoop skirts and panalets of their grand mother's day. The too dancer of this skit was called back several times for an encore.

The climax of the show was reached when the P. D. club presented "Under the Weeping Willow." There was not a dry tear in the house when the curtain descended upon the heart-rendering scene.

After the stunts a spread and dance were held in Social Hall.

The active chapter of Lambda Phi sorority will entertain twenty-five children from the Neighborhood House with a Christmas Party on the afternoon of December 24, at the home of Gertrude Mayer on Armstrong Avenue.

SILVER LOVING CUP TO FOOTBALL TEAM

Bradley's state championship football team was presented a silver loving cup Monday, December 11, at a banquet given them by the Journal-Transcript at the Creve Coeur club. The cup was presented by Edwin N. Jacquin, sporting editor of the Journal-Transcript, and was the first ever given to a Bradley team by an outside organization.

The cup is valued by its owners as a gift from one of the best advertisers and supporters of the team.

COACH JOHNSON ISSUES CALL FOR TRACK CANDIDATES

PLANS UNDER WAY TO ENTER RELAY TEAMS IN COMING SPRING CLASSICS.

"Red" Allen, Gale Warner and Skinner Members of Last Year's Winning Team to Report.

Although basketball will hold the spotlight until the last game is played in March, Assistant Coach Johnson has already issued a call for track material to report immediately after the Christmas recess. Mr. Johnson is confident that there are enough high class track men at Bradley to warrant his preparing for the early spring classics, the University of Illinois indoor relay carnival and the Drake relays.

One of the fastest one-mile relay teams ever to represent the Red and White is being anticipated by ardent enthusiasts who recall last year's successful season. It is possible that Coach Johnson may also introduce a sprint relay team, something new at Bradley.

Three of last year's team, Skinner, "Red" Allen and Gale Warner will again carry the baton, provided no aspiring candidates upset the dope. Babcock and Krablin, veterans, and Garner and Smith, both of whom boast of high school records, in the distance events, are sure to put in strong bids for the team.

From such choice material there is every reason to believe that Bradley is to enjoy another successful season on the track.

If good showings are made in these events of national reputation, it will be well worth all the effort that must be expended in the formation of winning teams, both to Coach Johnson and the men who train under him.

PUBLISH POEMS OF GRADUATES IN "BOOK OF VERSE"

ALLIED ENGLISH INTERESTS COMPILES VOLUME OF POETRY FROM PEORIANS

The poems of five Bradley graduates and of two ex-students of Bradley appear in the "Peoria Book of Verse," which is just off the press. Camille Mahannah, Dorothy Crowder, Holland De Witte Roberts, Mark Langdon Rowell and Haskell Ready Armstrong are the five Bradley graduates who have contributed. Josephine Bowman Wetzler and Rev. William James Leach, at one time Bradley students, are also Peoria poets whose works have been published in the "Peoria Book of Verse."

The book of poems is a community project compiled by the Allied English Interests of Peoria. It consists of verse submitted by residents of Peoria among whom some of the better known are Julia Proctor White, Bishop Spaulding, Robert G. Ingersoll, George Helgesen Fitch, Rev. William J. Leach, William A. Rone and Eugene Brown.

Professor John T. Frederick, editor of the Midland Magazine, wrote the introduction. Miss Leila M. Thompson, a Peoria girl, painted the decorations for chapter heads and frontispiece. The committee chosen by Miss Caroline Rice, head of the English Department of Peoria High School to assist in the compilation of the book, were: Hugh Cooper, Jennie M. Constance, Emily F. Johnston, Elizabeth V. Roberts and Charles Bennett, chairman.

The purpose of the book is to stimulate a wider interest in poetry. It will serve to unify Peoria's aspirations and achievements in one of the Arts, that of poetry. By its publication Peoria attains a position of leadership among American cities in the vitally important movement toward community consciousness in the arts.

The following editorial advice to the students of Western Reserve is equally good for the students of any American college, quotable miscellanda:

Don't forget that you are a Reserve man or woman twelve months of the year, even if you only pay tuition for nine. You are the most noticeable piece of publicity that the university has, and the impression you create upon the people you meet either helps or harms your college. Don't forget that.—The Reserve Weekly.

FAMOUS PUPPETS TO PLAY HERE

By EDNA WIETING

When Tony Sarg's Marionettes appear here January 18, Bradley students will have the opportunity of seeing midgets and a giant in the same performance, for, when Tony Sarg makes his appearance before the audience at the end of the play, the eyes of the audience have become so accustomed fo the small figures, that they will look upon the human figure as a Colossus, rather than upon the puppets as dwarfs.

The actors in the production are little wooden figures, so skillfully proportioned, jointed, and weighted as to be capable of making virtually all movements of humans. From 16 to 22 strings are used to operate the average figure. In some instances, figures are fitted with as many as 36 strings.

The dolls are all designed and carved by Tony Sarg, the same artist that makes the Tony Sarg Almanac famous in the movies.

A complete company is required to manipulate the strings that animate the marionettes, to break the lines, to change the scenery, and to play various instruments, as the action of the play requires.

These whimsical, wire pulled actors are not new; they are older than human actors. The name "Marionette" is a modification of "Maria," Virgin, meaning little Mary, from early statuettes in churches, for it was in the church that puppets first performed, centuries ago.

Tony Sarg has a people who obey when he pulls the strings. In many instances he can accomplish feats that are impossible to human actors; such as the transformation of Porter Gruffanuff in "The Rose and the Ring," into a door knocker. On the other hand, some of the simplest acts of living beings are extremely difficult for the puppets. It is only with great ingenuity that a puppet is enabled to pick up objects and lay them down again.

These little figures, that are life-like but not life-size, perform upon a stage that is fitted to them in perfect proportion. The furniture and all stage properties are made for them. The system of lighting effects are such as may be found in any metropolitan theatre.

Tony Sarg's marionettes will be brought here through the co-operation of the English Club and Mask and Gavel club.

In the afternoon they will play "Rip Van Winkle," the puppetized form of Washington Irving's novel. "Don Quixote" will be presented in the evening.

CHRISTMAS.

Thoughts of school and studies are being put aside for a time and all minds are turned toward the holidays and Christmas. Christmas to many of the students means home, friends and gifts. To others it means an unusually good dinner, a box seat in a theatre, and a day of rest. Others have the spirit of giving and of good will towards men.

Prosaic, even trite perhaps, is the saying that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." Even less vitally does this seem to affect the college student, who is rarely able to "give" during Christmas or any other time. The college man or woman would be in a sad plight indeed if he were forced to be on the "receiving" end of every gift.

If material gifts alone were the standard by which we could judge the giver and the receiver, college students, as a whole would be counted "out." Material gifts, however, cannot be classed with the real gifts of life, the gifts of love, devotion, fidelity, and the spirit of helpfulness which the college student or anyone else might give as well as receive. No such gift is ever held cheaply or given lightly.

———B. P. I.———

SPORTSMANSHIP.

Some of the courtesy which has marked the attitude of the student body toward athletic competitors of Bradley teams for the past few years nearly "went by the boards" in the La Crosse game. The "razzing" given to a member of the opposing team during his attempts to throw free throws was not in keeping with the former attitude of the students at athletic games. The fact that it was necessary for the spectators to be warned to be silent not only shows a lack of good sportsmanship but also a lack of good judgment on the part of the spectators, who were hindering the chances of the team to win the game.

The team has a long record of victories on the gridiron and bids fair to add some more on the basketball floor. The inevitable defeat, when it comes, will be a bitter pill to take but it will be made doubly sour if the reputation for sportsmanship is lost at the same time.

A few instructions on how to write a Term paper.

1. Sharpen ten or twelve pencils.
2. Kiss the folks good bye, and tell them that you will see them in the sweet bye and bye.
3. Go upstairs to your room, if you have no room the furnace room will suffice.
4. Lock the door.
5. Throw the key out of the window.
6. Cuss.
7. Cuss again.
8. Swear.
9. Muss your hair.
10. Repeat.
11. Go to bed.
12. Have your big sister write it for you the next day.

He: "What will you do if I kiss you?"
Verna B.: "I'll call the family."
He: "What for, I don't want to kiss them too."

Somehow the olives are always dropping on the floor, and then the fellow next to you jams you with his bony elbow and you spill a mixture of brown gravy, chicken and trimmings all over your nice new suit. Then you don't know where to park your arms, the fellow across the table from you keeps kicking your shins and wiping his muddy shoes on your trousers. After all this they call on you to make a speech, that you had forgotten hours ago. I hate a banquet.

MICHIGAN AGGIES AND BRADLEY MAKE PLANS FOR DEBATE

Tentative arrangements have been made with the Michigan Aggies' State Agricultural College debate team to compete with Bradley along the latter part of March. The only thing that prevents a positive statement that the two schools will debate is that they have not as yet agreed upon a subject.

A triangular debate between Illinois State Normal, Lombard, and Bradley, on March 9th, is to be one of the main attractions during the debate season this year. Lombard had made a date on which to debate with Bradley, but Mr. W. Ross Marvin received a letter stating that they also wanted to debate Illinois State Normal, and asked if a triangular debate between the three schools could not be arranged. Mr. Marvin replied in the affirmative, setting the date as stated above.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved that the United States Should Enter the League of Nations."

"Indications point to the most successful forensic year in the history of Bradley. With six experienced debaters back, and plenty of excellent new material we should be able to come through with a clear slate," says Ralph Haman, president of the Pi Kappa Delta Fraternity.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Mr. H. B. Rose, instructor in night school shop math., leaves in January to accept a position with a Cleveland firm as consulting engineer. Mr. Rose at present is chief draftsman at the Avery Company. Altho glad of the advance in position, his many friends at Bradley regret to see him leave.

Our star reporter, Erwin Beck, handed in only one item this week. It was sufficient. He reports that he is a "daddy" of a 7 pound boy, born on Friday, last.

* * *

I saw a new man struggling with a "mike" the other day as though it were a strang insect with one too many legs and I smiled as I recalled my own initial attempts some years ago.

I was a new cub in a kennel of eight tool makers. Each man had his own one inch "mike" and wore it daily in a special apron dap-pocket over his heart, and nightly cradled it in its plush lined case in the most select drawer of his exclusive tool chest. Due to numerous elaborately punctuated and dire threats of annihilation I, perforce, had come to regard these trinkets as a species of intimate jewelry—not to be borrowed by anyone. (I still think so).

About six months after matriculating in this lowly university the boss one day yelled, "Hey, kid, know how to read a 'mike'?"

"Yes, sir," was the meek reply as I produced a black handled one borrowed from the millwright, who wasn't so "particular." But I only thought I knew).

"All right, 'mike' these," handing me about fifty small cutters. "Let's see that C-clamp! Humph! Jerry's! Hand that junk back to him and tell him the blacksmith will fix it up for him for two-bits. Here's mine."

Dazzled with the shiney instrument all bright with predigested mathematics neatly stamped on its frame. I mentally gaped as he explained that the fundametal principle was a 40-thread screw affixed to the thimble which ran through a nut stationed in the barrel and therefore with every revolution of the thimble the end of the screw advanced one-fortieth of an inch which equals 25-1000ths.

He then tried me out on various things, including some strands surreptitiously plucked from my firmly rooted cow-lick.

"Funny," says he, "how hair varies." Then the noon whistle blew.

I was back as soon as they would let me in, and was on the job borrowing hair of all colors and previous conditions of servitude from about fifty girls who came through the department in order to further my practice on the bosses' "mike."

Right there I learned to read the "mike," literally "to a hair," for the "old man" had supplied the principle and now, glancing over my shoulder, he rather enthusiastically supplied the lesser information of the thimble graduations being .001 inch, the horizontal barrel graduations as .025 inch corresponding to one revolution of the thimble, and later the perpendicular barrel graduations as .0001 inch, and the rest is but practice.

Incidentally the strawberry blonde queen of the department had the thickest strand of hair I have ever seen, (.00275 inch). But, sush, I'm married now, and my wife is not a strawberry blonde.

The Maiden's Prayer.

"Here it is Christmas and not a speck of shopping done. I wonder what He'll (notice the apostrophe) give me. I'll bet He tried to pick that fight just to get out of giving me a present, the old cheap-skate. I didn't fall though. After spending all that time making that darling pink and purple tie, I'm going to get a gold mesh bag at least out of it. I think I'll bring Him window shopping and give Him a hint. It would be just like Him to give me something useful."

* * *

Mr. Marvin says it is rediculous to refer to college men and women as "boys and girls," thus showing his utter ignorance of the feminine sex. It is a risky thing to insinuate that a girl has reached the place where a more dignified name should be applied to her.

Mrs. Oscar Williams, formerly Agnes Gene Smith, is now living in Chicago. In a letter to a friend here she stated that she and her husband are in the movies, and that she would post the letter while on her way to tea with Nazimova.

Doris Blake (a familiar name to all feminine readers of the Chicago Tribune) presented the meaning of women's names in a recent issue of that paper. Among them we noticed "Henrietta—home ruler." Perhaps, in the days to come, Henrietta Proctor's lesser half will verify this. Mabel Schmidt is a shining example of what Mabel signifies—mirth. Viola Peterson Walker is the personification of violet. Stella LaFollette is a "star" in more ways than one.

Miss Blake was not so kind to some of us, but we can't help if our parents endowed us with less poetic names.

The Y. W. C. A. has another successful affair to add to its long string of successes. The Girls' Stunt Show, sponsored by the association, outstripped all previous stunt shows in cleverness, originality and training.

An enthusiastic audience applauded the songs and dances of the various stunts. It is unnecessary to recall to our readers the side-splitting comedy of the "Little Red School House," or the tragedy of "Under the Willows." Anyone who missed the Stunt Show missed one of the red-letter days of her college career.

Our Christmas Story.

Dr. Lederman, the author of "Hairsprings" and Lien Moberly have adjoining seats in "C" room. Moberly has donated to the poor and needy so generously this fall that he was sadly in need of a working suit. He solved the problem by having a few words with Doc, who headed the list with his last thirteen cents and talked the rest of the boys out of the goodly sum of $5.62. A nice pair of full length corduroy rudolphs and double strength suspenders were presented to Moberly in a special meeting in Tractor Building last Friday morning. Mr. Moberly thanked the boys with tears in his eyes and went right down and bought a War Savings Stamp with the money the boys had saved by their kindness.

Monday (Special)—Shiek Moberly created quite a sensation this morning in his bell bottomed, toreador trousers.

SANTA VISITS THE DORMITORY

'Midst a glitter of tinsel and swirl of snow, the big twin-twelve ('23 model) Sky-Jack swished up to the door of the dormitory. There was a grinding of brakes as Santa drew the thing to a stop. Taking but an instant to fill his radiator with alcohol, he drew his pack from the tonneau, flipped it deftly across his back, brushed a few stray snowflakes from his whiskers and advanced towards the door.

Little Lois on opening the door drew back, terrified at the sight of the strange creature standing there. Undaunted by her lack of hospitality, Santa brushed past her into the hall where he was confronted by Edwa and Alta who immediately demanded that they "know his business." Sagely shaking his head after the manner of wise prophets, Santa went in the dining room and seated himself at a table from which the remains of pre-Yuletide feast were being cleared away. Failing to get any service he "raised such a clamor" that he was soon pounced upon by two "pearl divers" and a bevy of waiters.

After he had explained his mission to the masculine side of the house he was set at liberty. Profuse explanations came from all sides. Santy, however, had his pride sorely injured.

"You treated me so mean that I have a notion not to play," he exclaimed, tears running down his cheeks.

A few soft words by the fairer sex and Santa was on his toes again, ready to carry out the program of the evening.

Space will not allow us to tell of the saturnalia of joy which permeated the dormitory 'till the wee sma' hours when Santa packed the remains of his pack in his vest pocket and wended his way from the place. Brushing past a number of Romeos and Juliets, parked at specified distance apart on the porch he went to his Sky-Jack, steamed it up and departed to see some poor children.

And this, children is a very conservative view of the Yuletide celebration held at the dormitory in the Year of Our Lord, 1922.

Majority Favor New Ruling

Given an opportunity to register their sentiments toward the new "point after touchdown" rule 480 spectators at the Bradley-Lake Forest game cast a "straw vote" favoring it, while 408 would revert to the free kick to score the extra point. Football fans, for whose benefit the change was especially made, had not before been requested to express their opinions for or against the new ruling which allows the scoring team to place the ball in play on the five-yard line to count the added point.

Inasmuch as the present rule is sure to be one of the first propositions to come up before the rules committee this winter, the Tech officials hit upon the straw ballot as a means of ascertaining the spectators' attitude thereto. The result was broadcasted through the press associations over the country.

Koepping, Gardner and Johnson were given a chance to display their wares during the latter part of the game, a criticism of their work cannot be justly made inasmuch as the time allowed to them was comparitively brief. Both Koepping and Johnson are sure to see much service on the varsity quintet this season, the latter particularly demonstrating that he can use his height to advantage in following up shots under the basket.

The showing of the Bradley team was very pleasing, and Assistant Coach Leo Johnson is deserving of much honor for his work in rounding the five into shape without the help of Coach Robertson.

NATIONAL CHAPTERS FOR FRATERNITIES BEFORE SUROR ITIES

LACK OF OUT-OF-TOWN MEMBERS PREVENTS ESTABLISHING OF HOUSES.

Three Local Chapters Have Over Fifty Active Members—Large Alumni Membership.

Bradley will have national fraternities before it can claim any national sororities. Two fraternities on the campus made a big step toward nationalizing, when they moved into their houses. It seems to be essential that national fraternities have a house. Sororities, on the other hand, will be national long before they own a club house.

Bradley organizations have no need for sorority houses. Sigma Chi Gamma sorority has the greatest number of out-of-town girls; it has only six. It is quite obvious that no organization would support a house for six members. Bradley, however, does not necessarily call for club houses, when a school like Northwestern University has not a single sorority house. The Bradley organizations look at the house question as concerning them only in the future.

They are thinking of nationalizing now that Bradley is firmly established as a four year college, it will not be long before nationals will come in.

Bradley now has three local sororities. The oldest, Lambda Phi, was organized in 1900 by seven members. It has now a membership of 125 alumae members and an active chapter of 15. Lambda Phi feels that as the school is an established and recognized four year college, the better national organizations will come in.

Grace Jamison, in speaking for Delta Kappa chapter said: "Although nationalization is being considered, the sorority does not wish to make any statement concerning the matter at this time." The Delta Kappa sorority was organized in 1917 by eight charter members. Their alumna chapter numbers 45, and their active chapter 22.

Sigma Chi Gamma is the other sorority at Bradley. The chapter was opened in the spring of 1922 with 16 charter members. They have an active chapter this year of 16. Dorothy Starbuck, president of the chapter, says: "I feel we are still too young to make any definite plans as to nationalization. We have it in mind; have had, in fact, when we organized."

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1922. — NUMBER 16

MEET TO ORGANIZE PRESS ASSOCIATION SATURDAY

ADMIT BRADLEY TO MEMBERSHIP IN ORATORICAL ASSN.

COACH MARVIN ADVISES PROSPECTIVE ORATORS TO BEGIN WORK.

Announcement has been received by those interested in oratory of the admittance of Bradley into the State Oratorical Association. This came as a result of the submission of an application to membership by Mr. W. Ross Marvin at a meeting of the Association held at Augustana college, December 14.

The Association numbers among its members nearly all the principal colleges of the state. An annual meeting is held at which a representative from each college is present to represent his school. Cash prizes are given, the contestant receiving first place going-to the interstate meet which is to be held in Ohio this year.

Plans were made to hold the next annual meeting at Mt. Morris college, in December.

The length of time required to prepare an oration for delivery at an Association contest is causing many contestants already to start work on the preparation of their orations. Two thousand words is the limit of the oration, not more than ten per cent of which may be quoted. Either men or women may enter the contest.

In speaking of Bradley's possible chances in the December meeting Mr. Marvin expressed the conviction that any student who was willing to put the time and hard work on the preparation of an oration would stand a good chance of winning a place. He emphasized the idea that it was not so much the originality of the matter as the conviction and thoroughness shown by the oration and the finished manner in which it was delivered that would largely determine its success. He advised that anyone desiring to enter the contest should begin preparing the material at once.

LITERARY CLUBS BRING TONY SARG AND MARIONETTES

PUPPETS TO PLAY RIP VAN WINKLE AND DON QUIXOTE.

Tony Sarg will present his Marionettes in "Rip Van Winkle" in the afternoon, and "Don Quixote" at the evening of Thursday, January 18, at Bradley Hall, under the auspices of the English club, and Mask and Gavel. This will be the first appearance of Sarg's puppet show before a Peoria audience.

Puppet actors are different than human actors in several respects. Their names never appear in the scandal sheets of the newspapers. And, too, they can always be depended upon to appear, for they are immune from illness and cannot give sickness or countless other excuses that the theatrical public is so accustomed to; an audience can rest assured, then, that where they come to see the original Wolf, Rip's dog in Tony Sarg's company, they shall see him, not his understudy.

In a review of Tony Sarg's "Don Quixote," John Corbin, in the New York Times said that this play proved itself particularly well adapted to Sarg's peculiar artistry. He said "Whatever may be the case with human actors, madness in a Marionette is broad comedy. Whether this living skeleton in armor is swept aloft by the sails of the windmill or refuses to pay his shot at the inn because hotel bills were unknown in the age of chivalry, the spirit of laughter has full sway."

It seems to be the general opinion that puppet plays are for children. About seventy-five percent of the audiences at these performances, however, in the last five years have been made up of adults. It is not merely a children's performance. The slogan is "for children from six to sixty."

HUNTER COLLEGE PLEDGES SUM TO RESTORE LIBRARY

RENEW CAMPAIGN FOR AMERICA'S WAR MEMORIAL IN BELGIUM.

Hunter College, with a pledge of $2,500, is the first institution of higher education in the United States to announce a contribution to the campaign for completion of the $1,000,000 fund for restoration of Louvain library.

New York State College, Albany, also has made a pledge to the fund: $1,000 for one of the fifty bells which will form the carillon in the tower of the restored library.

Renewal of the campaign for America's war memorial in Belgium was begun in New York State in December 3. Since that date, both the College of the City of New York and New York University have been making canvasses for the fund which have not yet been completed.

The campaign in New York extends not only into the universities and colleges, but into all the public schools of the state. An estimate made from reports already received indicates the public schools of New York City alone will contribute $25,000 toward restoring the famous library.

Universities and colleges in other states will participate in the campaign during the early months of 1922.

The national committee is headed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and has as members many of the best known educators of the United States.

Faculty Plans for Larger Curriculum In Second Semester

Several new courses are being planned by the faculty and will be added to the curriculum beginning with the second semester. Most of them are a result of a long-felt need for a more thorough handling of some subjects.

Among the new courses to be added are: One in Nutritional Physiology by the department of biology of which Dr. Wales H. Packard is the head; a course in surveying by Dr. C. E. Comstock, and a new course dealing with recent American history by Dr. C. T. Wyckoff of the history department.

TEN TEAMS START IN INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL RACE

WINNERS WILL BE DECIDED ON PERCENTAGE BASIS—OPENING GAME WEDNESDAY.

One of the features of the athletic year will start Wednesday with the opening of the intra-mural basketball league. There are ten teams of seemingly even strength entered, and the race for the championship undoubtedly will reveal some classy basketball, and probably uncover some varsity material for future years.

The opening game at 4:30 Wednesday will be played by the Teacher Training and Auto Mechanics, and will be followed by the Stars vs. Engineers. As a curtain-raiser for the Bradley game on Wednesday night, the Freshmen Engineers will lock horns with the Sophomore Teacher's training team. There will be three six to ten games per week and the winner will be decided on the percentage basis.

Teacher Training—Fritz, Hendrix, Faletti, Dollie, C. Johnson, Capt. Elmore.

Auto Mechanics—Amsler, Grover, O'Brien, Rasdale, Stuber, Davis Capt. Miller.

Engineers—Millner, Reichle, Ringness, Swanson, Mullen, Capt. Leach.

Freshmen Engineers — Jackson, White, Capt. H. H. Burt, Sammis, Beeler, Dowling, Bullis.

"Tigers"—Capt. F. Ireland, H. Ireland, Schmidt, Cortright, Gordon, Young, Newell.

Shooting Stars—Risser, McClure, Capt. H. Tucker, G. Johnson, Radley, W. Smith, Dalton.

Beta Sigma Mu—Cortelyou, Purlee, D. Wixson, L. Wixson, Capt Chalacomb, Correll, Hayden.

"Murderers"—Capt. Meinen, Babcock, Allen, Freidrich, Ruch, Bostic.

Teacher Training—Allen, Redfern, Mason, Capt. Krablin, Burkhart, Haille, Bell.

Jones Team—Jones, Dixon, Buckley, E. Burt, Metzel, Ruch, Hindle, Eliff.

The college town chorus of 500 singers and 60 orchestra members traveled from Lindsborg, Kansas, (home of Bethany College) to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, for three performances of Handel's "Messiah" in two days. Twelve special cars were required for the long journey. The new city auditorium of Oklahoma City, seating 6,000 was crowded at each performance. This chorus has sung the Messiah 140 times in forty years. In it are grandchildren and grandparents, to some of whom the Messiah has become a sacred thing, comparable only to the Passion Play of Europe.

William H. Hudson, who graduated in 1909, was one of the recent callers at the office of President Burgess. Since leaving Bradley he has been engaged in the automobile business in Detroit, Mich. He is now the junior member of the firm of Crump-Hudson company where he is an efficiency expert.

TECH MEETS TEST THIS WEEK IN TWO STRENUOUS GAMES

NORMAL HERE WEDNESDAY; MILLIKIN HERE FRIDAY—BOTH CLASSY TEAMS.

Bradley's basketball five has its test this week when it meets here on Wednesday evening Normal University and on Friday evening James Millikin University, both of whom are this season represented by top-notch organizations.

With the Teachers appear some of the best basketball material in the I. I. A. C. Butzow, formerly with Wesleyan, and one of the best forwards in the conference, Harrison, Changnon, Barr, and Sharp are the pick of the Normal mentor. Harrison performs at running guard, at which position he won all-state recognition two and three years ago. At back guard Coach Russell's selection is Barr, a classy recruit who boasts an enviable record as a former member of Bloomington high school aggregations.

Millikin Invaders Strong.

Following the Normal game is a two day rest-up for the decisive engagement with James Millikin University on Friday evening. It is the first time in several years that Bradley has engaged Millikin in the popular indoor sport. The appearance of the powerful Big Blue five on the Poly court has consequently awakened much of the old time rivalry that existed in years gone by. At the Decatur institution this year all indications are for an even faster and more accurate tossing crew than that of last season, and an unusually intense struggle should result.

Manifestation of the strength of Millikin is the 23-20 victory it holds over the touted Notre Dame outfit which Bradley had been able only to hold a fairly low score the night previous. The victory was, however, a surprise to even the staunchest Millikin supporters. Doubt is entertained whether the Wann quintet could repeat were the Notre Dame athletes not under the strain of playing three games in as many nights.

Around Captain Curl, speedy and aggressive forward, Coach Wann is moulding his team. As a running mate to Curl the Millikin mentor may choose either of the veterans, Bowman or "Rom" Miller. Walley, center, is back from last year's team. He is one of the sensations of the present season in Decatur. Arrington and Sweet at the guard posts complete the line-up that will probably start against the Techmen Friday evening at eight o'clock.

Bradley Line-up Uncertain.

Coach Robertson received last Saturday evening his first glimpse of his proteges in action against an opponent, the teams being under the direction of Leo Johnson up to the Christmas recess. The Lombard fracas unquestionably gave "Robbie" a few tips of a first-hand nature concerning his squad. There may be, as a result, a few changes in the Bradley line-up.

Captain Rogers and Hoswell look good at forward berths, though Jimmy Gardner is by no means out of the picture. The Hoosier ace, however, is unable to participate in either of this week's games as the ligaments of his left ankle were torn loose during the Lombard scrap. He will come in for close scrutiny in succeeding contests for he is an accurate cager.

The center job with Siminski and Johnson supplying the chief rivalry is still puzzling Coach Robertson. Johnson is proving as adept at following up shots as he Captain Rogers. Should the former Peoria high lad show a tendency to score with more consistency than the St. Cloud giant he will get the assignment.

Koepping and Brewer are hot contestants for the running guard post. Though Koepping has an undisputed advantage over Brewer in weight and size, the midget is still racing him neck and neck for the honors.

With Brewer and Barrett working well together and with Koepping and Tyler fast wising up to the short pass game, the Poly coach has choice of defensive combinations of the highest calibre. Correll is to see service in either the Normal or the Millikin game. His only handicap seems to be lack of experience.

COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS OF ILLINOIS SEND DELEGATES TO ATTEMPT NEW PROJECT

PROPOSED TO INCREASE INTEREST IN STUDENT JOURNALISM AND IMPROVE COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS—OHIO AND IOWA HAVE SIMILAR UNDERGRADUATE BODIES.

Delegates from ten Illinois colleges will meet in Peoria Saturday afternoon, January 13, at one o'clock to organize the Illinois College Press Association. Representatives from Wesleyan, Normal, Carbondale, Lombard, Knox, Millikin, Augustana, Monmouth, Macomb and Bradley will be present.

Bradley College issued invitations last December to the other Illinois colleges to attend the meeting. The proposed Association met with unanimous approval.

The purposes of the Association will be to elevate college journalism, to interest the students in the college journalism departments in journalism as a life's profession and to improve the college papers by offering prizes for the best constructed college publication.

Among the first business to be acted upon are the election of temporary officers, the drafting of a constitution, the selection of a place for the spring convention, the question of limiting the membership to colleges with a weekly, semi-weekly or daily type or of allowing all minor college news publications to be eleglible.

The meeting Saturday will make further plans for the spring convention, at which journalists from the leading papers and from leading schools of journalism will speak upon the structure of the college paper.

College press associations of this kind have been organized in Iowa and Ohio. Illinois has never had such an organization although one was talked of last year.

The local newspapers approve of and encourage the association. They are willing to donate silver loving cups for various forms of competition such as headlines, make up, stories and editorials.

The organization is entirely a student activity as in other states and it is expected that with the support promised by other colleges it will be a success.

EXTENSION WORK INAUGURATED BY FACULTY MEMBERS

WILL CONSIST OF LECTURES AND CORRESPONDENCE COURSES.

The introduction of extension lectures at Bradley is the latest advance to be inaugurated. The extension work which shall be outlined in the near future will consist of lectures and correspondence courses. These will be of special interest to Peorians and to the residents of surrounding communities.

Bradley is practically the only minor college in Illinois to institute lectures of this sort. The University of Chicago allows half of the work required to secure a degree to be done by correspondence, and almost all state universities offer similar courses.

Members of the extension committee are Professors C. W. Schroeder, Loyal Tillotson, and A. F. Siepert. Through the efforts of this committee the faculty will be canvassed for possible material for lectures and courses. These will be outlined, a catalogue gotten out, and work begun. Regular college credit will be given to anyone completing the prescribed course. The extension committee will also establish standards for fees and give publicity to the work.

There is always a demand by various organizations and clubs for lectures, and it is the plan of the extension committee to help fill this demand. A complete list of all available lectures will be kept on the Institute file.

At the present time a course of eighteen lectures in sociology is being given by Professor Schroeder to Peoria teachers.

—B. P. I.—

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND MEETINGS DURING HOLIDAYS

Several of the faculty members have attended educational meetings during the holiday vacation. President Burgess attended the Illinois State Teachers Association, Springfield, Ill. Mr. Schroeder went to the national meeting of those interested in sociology held in Chicago. Mr. Tillotson attended the Association of Economics teachers, Chicago. Messrs. Siepert, Wharry and Emil Johnson went to the meeting of the Manual Training Teachers held in connection with the state association meeting at Springfield.

VOCATIONAL MEN TO SEE FILMS OF INDUSTRIAL VIEWS

DIFFERENT SHOW EACH WEEK TAKES PLACE OF CHAPEL.

Federal board men will be excused from chapel starting this Wednesday to see the Industrial Educational films which Mr. L. P. Elliott is procuring for the vocational students of Bradley Institute.

Professor Elliott has succeeded in getting a different educational film each week which he will present to those who care to see it. This Wednesday the Cleveland Drill Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, have sent a film called "The Uses and Abuses of the Twist Drill." Those who have seen this film say it is one of the best industrial educational films in existence.

Next Wednesday a film will be shown dealing with the construction of the automobile in its most minute details. It is not definite as to which company's films will be used, but it will probably be those of the Buick Automobile Company, The Sangamo Electric Company of Springfield, Ill., is sending a film to be used the following Wednesday. This film will deal with the construction and workings of meters.

Bradley is fortunate to have these films at their disposal. Mr. Elliott has planned to have a different film for every succeeding Wednesday of the school year.

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."

Advertising is getting to be one of the big businesses of the day. Different lines of work are being taken up. The fields of business endeavor are being crowded. Monopolies in most lines are becoming less frequent. The small dealer competes with the big dealer and in time becomes a big dealer. It is not the goods which he has in stock that bring him the trade but it is the goods which he is able to bring before the public. His method of bringing them before the public is his scheme of advertising.

The college paper as an advertising medium has often been looked upon by many who advertise in it as a charity proposition. Many college advertising managers have solicited ads on the "we need it to help us out" plan or have received them on "I'll help you that much" plan. This not only relegates a publication to a servile level but actually brands it as a recipient of charity.

The time for advertising managers of student papers to approach a prospective advertiser in fear and trembling is passing, if not past. Men who have the goods to advertise and who put them before the people through the medium of a college publicationin a business-like manner have found that it pays in dollars and cents. The biggest corporations of the country actually solicit advertising space in college papers. The smaller dealers are beginning to realize the benefit to them. College publications, although of a limited circulation, are read from end to end. They have a personal touch which other forms of advertising do not equal.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL.

The seeming inactivity of the Student Council is causing some discussion among the students. Last year the Council was active in taking up its newly bestowed duties as the undergraduate governing body of the Institute. Hardly a week passed in which the organization did not pass some edicts, good, bad, and indifferent, for the governing of the students. This year the Council has kept its actions under cover and has hardly created a stir in the life of the college.

The idea of issuing orders merely for the sake of making a name or to create a discussion should not be the purpose of the Council. Nothing can be done if there is nothing to do. On the other hand the students like to feel that it is a student organization which is governing them.

MAGAZINES OF ALL KINDS IN LIBRARY

In order that the students of Bradley can see all the new books as they come into the library, a special shelf has been provided. It is located at the North end of the loan desk and on this shelf the new books added to the library are displayed for one week before going to their regular places on the shelves. These books are changed every Friday morning.

This month the subscriptions to magazines have been entered. An unusual number of carefully selected and fine magazines are being received at the library. You will be able to find magazine articles on almost every subject you may be interested in. Several circulars, bulletins, dealing with special subjects have been added to the library mailing list.

In selection of the magazines by the various departments and the librarian, an effort is made to meet the demands for the material needed for each and all lines of work. And make the whole collection a well rounded selection, covering trade-work, language, dramatic, vocational, art, science, etc.

The Manual Arts Department receive the following magazines:

American Magazine of Art.

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::

By Bernice Jones

Well, Girls, vacation is over, New Year resolutions have been made and broken, and ye Ed is back at her duties stirring up trouble. The only trouble with this job is that the scandal which we dare print is too tame, and that which we would delight in printing would cause our near death. This is easily understood when we explain that our life has been threatened over some of the mild love pats which we have gently handed out.

In fact things have come to such a pass that our Main New Year's Resolution was to entirely disregard the fear as to "what people would think" and launch upon our friends right and left.

We wish to state here though, that all remarks passed by the editor should not be taken personally. Ah, no, not at all. It is merely a matter of business (though at this point we cannot help confiding that it is a business without pay). Someone must suffer, and when you open the "TECH" and see your name glaring up at you in the midst of some outrageous sentence, just philosophically think, "Thank goodness this is over. My turn won't come again for another six months or a year."

There is a bright side to this column; please don't think it is all sadness and gloom. When you wish to start a little scandal about a friend or pay up some old score with an enemy, just slip what should be a dark secret about them into the Co-ed box. The editor welcomes all such contributions with a thankful heart. We stop at nothing.

Marriages are often forced on unsuspecting victims by the matchmaking public. Whether this is true in the case of Bernys Payne, or whether there is good cause for the rumor of her marriage is a mystery.

* * *

My, we feel honored and all that sort of bunk, to be asked to write in this column. I don't know the rules so I'm just playing the game, besides that's better because I won't have to break any (rules I mean). How Miss Hobson would press us to her heart if she knew that we were exploiting her English in this manner. Oh, well, Bunyon was hard but Oh, my corns is worse!

Before we go further we must excuse Bee Jones—she ain't writing this, she just asked us and poor dear, sweet thing (she wants to be dignified, too!!!) she asked the wrong person. Don't think we're discrediting ourselves, cause we're not—personally we don't see why some large editor (we don't mean fat, we don't like fat men, really), don't snap us up and beg us to write for him—cause you see we're not particular what we write. But don't listen to Clara Cornell, she knows our dark past and is apt to get wound up.

As we have said before, we don't know the rules and since we're just an occasional visitor and we can't get fined three dollars or some other exhorbant (is that the way you spell it?) date we will whisper: we saw Mr. Hanna in a fancy little candy shop—who is she?

And why the broad smile on Mr. Becker, maybe he got a loud tie for Christmas or something.

I guess we better stop, me and myself, cause something warns me—i guess I'll take a look behind me—

Don't you wish it was Spring?

P. S.—After mentioning Spring I strolled into the biology lab and ha, ha, I thought it had sprung, yeah! there was Deefindurfur (and I had thought he was sucha nice boy!) holding Bee Jones' hand!! (alas! I'll take back my words about saying she was dignified). Oh, well, day by day in every way. Spring is growing nearer!

Editor's Note:—Employers who can offer employment to disabled soldiers who have been trained in trades and agriculture at the U. S. Veterans' Bureau Schools, or who desire definite information on men trained in the various trades should write to Col. Charles R. Forbes, Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C., or employment Section, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, 111 No. Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Over 101,000 disabled veterans are being rehabilitated under the U. S. Veterans' Bureau. These men are roughly divided into the following classes: trade and industrial training, 33%; professional education, 14%; agriculture training, 12%; business and commercial training, 26%; pre-vocational training, 15%. These men are being trained in established institutions, training schools, colleges and also are receiving training "on the job" in industrial establishments.

The opening of the first U. S. Veterans' Bureau Vocational schools at Chillicothe, Ohio, marks the inauguration of a new system in the rehabilitation program. This school is conducted under the supervision of the government. The men in training reside at the institution which allows closer contact between the Veterans' Bureau and the trainees. In order that sickness will not interfere with their rehabilitation, a competent medical and nursing staff has been supplied.

In order that the best of instruction is given to these students, the most up-to-date machinery and laboratories have been installed. The instructors are under the control and supervision of the government which has not been the case formerly. In fact the whole vocational school system at Chillicothe is under government control and supervision.

There are approximately 3,000 acres of land available for practical instruction and for experimental purposes in the various branches of agriculture. An advisory counsel has been formed of agricultural experts and practical farmers. The students who will graduate in agriculture from this institution will be fully equipped to do scientific farming. Many of them are being trained to become farm managers and expert dairymen.

Additional to agriculture, the following trades are now being taught at this government vocatinal school; auto mechanics, carpentry and frame building, cabinet making, upholstering and body work on automobiles, electrical work including general interior and exterior wiring and armature winding, plumbing, sheet metal work, sign painting, shoe repairing, tailoring, laundrying, typewriter repairing, baking, cooking and nursing (male), general mechanics, machine shop work, drafting and vulcanizing. Classes are in operation in all of the above subjects under competent instructors with all modern facilities and apparatuses for instruction in these lines of work.

The men who graduate from this school must pass satisfactory tests and must demonstrate their ability to carry on in their chosen vocation before the government will allow them to accept employment. They will have not only the theoretical training necessary to their particular vocation, but they will also receive practical work and some experience on the job before they are declared rehabilitated.

It is necessary for the American employer to be a partner in this enterprise. The cost of rehabilitation is going to increase if the men are not quickly placed in employment after their training is finished. These well-trained men are ready to compete with their fellowworkers on their merits alone. They ask equal pay for equal work. A comparatively small number have amputations that are serious and even these cases receive such training that the amputation does not affect their efficiency. This opportunity for vocational rehabilitation carries no corresponding obligation other than that the beneficiaries profit by such opportunity.

Recently the remains of a mastodon were unearthed near Naperville. It was only about half the size of a full-grown elephant and besides its small size gave other evidence of immaturity. As it was found in black mucky earth and showed no signs of having met with violent death, it is believed that it got mired in an attempt to cross the swamp.—College Chronicle.

American Jeweler Has Article About Work of Horolog

An insight into the work given Bradley Horological students is shown in the following article taken from the American Jeweler, the national jewelers' magazine, published at Chicago. The article, together with an illustration of the model, appeared in the December issue.

J. B. Ford, the creator of this model, is a federal board man. The work put in on this can readily be appreciated from a perusal of the following article:

"The illustration shown herewith is of a timekeeping ship's chronometer made by J. B. Ford, a United States Veteran's Bureau student, at the Horological department of the Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria, Ill. There have been made in the last year six others of the same size.

"There is no stock material used in these escapments further than the mainspring and balance and hole jewels. In fact everything about this chronometer, with the exception of the mainspring and train and balance jewels, is the work of the student, and is a piece of work that must be seen to be appreciated."

BRADLEY DOWNS LOMBARD IN EXTRA PERIOD

BARRETT AND MEYERS LOOK BEST DURING STRAP HITTING CONTEST.

Two overtime periods were necessary to decide Bradley's first conference game against Lombard last Saturday night at Galesburg with Bradley returning the victor by a 26-23 score. Bradley took the lead at the beginning of the game and held it until the last minute of play when Murphy slipped in a free throw on Barrett's foul to tie the count at 20 all.

In the first overtime period, Meyers, star forward of the Golden Tornado quint, caged a one-handed shot that almost gave Lombard a victory. Barrett saved the day for Bradley by sinking a basket from the middle of the floor with but thirty seconds to go.

In the second overtime period, Rogers put the Tech in front with a basket after a minute of play and Siminski helped the score along with another sinker a few seconds later. Bradley successfully stalled the remaining two minutes while the Lombard rooters clamored madly for their athletes to break up the Tech's defense.

Barrett was put out of the game on personals in the last two minutes of play, Tyler replacing him. Barrett played a stellar game at back guard and broke up innumerable short shots. It was his shot from the middle of the floor in the last thirty seconds of the game that made Bradley's victory possible.

Jimmy Gardner looked pretty good at a forward berth Saturday night. Besides caging two baskets, he played a good floor game, but was a little weak on the defense. He will undoubtedly see considerable service this winter.

Koepping at running guard was one of the stars of the evening. His defensive work was of the highest calibre and he showed the natives a few things about working the ball down through a five man defense.

Bradley was the first to score in the game when Gardner dropped in a basket. The Tech led at half time with a 11-9 lead, but Lombard tied the score in the last few minutes when Barrett committed a personal foul and Murphy dropped a ringer.

TWO STRONG QUINTETS ON TECH CHART THIS WEEK

DELEGATES FORM ILLINOIS COLLEGE PRESS ASSOCIATION

PLAN TO HOLD SPRING CONVENTION AT KNOX COLLEGE

Delegates from eight of the principal colleges of the state met at the University Club Saturday afternoon and organized the Illinois College Press Association. It is the first organization of this kind ever formed in Illinois.

The meeting was called largely through the efforts of Professor W. Ross Marvin, of the Bradley English department. To elevate college journalism, to interest students in journalism, and to promote newspaper work as a profession were defined as the purposes of the organization.

Among the important business matters transacted at the first meeting was that of membership. Those college publications of a weekly and semi-weekly type only are eligible to become members, though other minor college news publications are allowed a vote, without the privilege of competing for prizes.

Election of temporary officers also took place. George Johnson, editor of the Bradley Tech, was chosen president; and the choice for secretary-treasurer was W. E. Simpson, assistant editor of the Knox Student, Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois.

A committee was also appointed to draft a constitution, to be submitted to member schools within the near future. Tentative plans were also laid for the spring convention which will be held in Galesburg. At that time it is planned to award prizes for the various forms of competition, such as headlines, make up, stories, and editorials. Several of the prominent newspapers of the state express a willingness to donate silver loving cups for such prizes.

As in other states, notably Ohio and Iowa, the Illinois organization is entirely a student activity. With the support and the encouragement of the local newspapers every indication is for a higher plane of college journalism and a wider interest in journalism as a profession.

Representatives attending the first meeting were: Ralph Eckley, editor of the Monmouth Review; Helen Hayes, editor of the James Millikin Decaturian; R. J. Benedict, business manager of the Wesleyan Argus; Edwin C. Munson, editor of the Augustana Observer; Lawrence F. Barber, editor of the Normal Vidette; W. E. Simpson, editor of the Knox Student; L. J. Rambeau and V. Rosequist of the Lombard Review and George Johnson, Wayne Buckley and J. Edward Davis of the Bradley Tech.

PROFESSOR SIEPERT TO ATTEND MANUAL ARTS CONVENTION

Professor Albert F. Siepert left Wednesday to attend the Manual Arts convention at Madison, Wisconsin. The conference is expected to break records in attendance this year. All men who are leaders in this field attend the conference to exchange ideas.

Mr. Siepert is on the program to deliver a paper relative to the curricula of our colleges in teacher training work.

NOTICE TO PRESIDENTS OF ALL ORGANIZATIONS OF BRADLEY:

Every Co-Ed function given by a Bradley organization must hand in the name of the chaperone to Russell Damon, president of Student Council, or to Mrs. M. B. Huston, Dean of Women. The names must be reported 24 hours before the function.

ELEVENTH HOUR COUNTER DOWNS BIG BLUE MACHINE

GARDNER AND JOHN BREWER SHOW GOOD EYE FOR STRAPS.

Bradley basketball adherents were thrown into another mighty scare last Friday evening when the Millikin cagers forged "Robbie's" Fighting Indians to exert every effort to overcome a six point lead and to emerge victorious in the final second of play, with the long end of a 28 to 26 score.

Up until the middle of the second half even the most optimistic of Tech rooters were extremely dubious about the Tech's chances of checking the Big Blue machine from Decatur. It was shortly after Tyler's injection into the mixup, with about five minutes of playing time left, that the Red and White athletes began their flashy comeback. The 23 to 17 count favored Millikin when the Bradley attack began moving, for the first time during the evening, with telling effectiveness.

Rogers sank a goal from the field and Gardner, from near the center of the court, heaved another that brought the score to a 22 to 21 ratio. Miller, Millikin's foul tossing ace, fliped a free throw, after which Rogers retaliated by registering two points from his own foul line. The score then stood 24 to 23.

Brewer Responds to Pleas.

When Gardner again sent the ball spinning through the mesh, giving Bradley a one point advantage, and Rogers, a few seconds later, tossed another free throw, the spacious Poly gymnasium was all at once the scene of wild cheering of such volume as has seldom been echoed within its walls. Miller's snapping two points through the iron rims from the free throw line, tangling the count at 26 all, caused Bradley rooters to shout madly for another goal.

Johnnie Brewer responded to their pleas instantaneously. In the last second of play down the floor he rushed to receive unhindered Johnson's pass in from outside the court. Into the air he leaped to drop the ball into the basket for the final and deciding tally of the evening.

Standing out almost as prominently for Bradley as Brewer were Gardner, Rogers, Tyler, and Barrett. Gardner was the only Tech shooter who could locate the hoop in the opening period. In the closing moments of play it was Captain Rogers again who tallied the points that enabled his mates to remain in the running. Barrett's and Tyler's efforts under the backboard broke up innumerable close shots for the Big Blue warriors.

Let it be said that Coach Wann's aggregation displayed some of the best form seen on the Poly court this season. As far as the visitors are concerned Russell Miller was a flash of the game. Bowman and Walley also made favorable impressions as did the Millikin guards, Arrington and Sweet.

The summary:

Bradley (28)	f.g.	f.t.	t.p.
Rogers, f.	2	3	7

Students Talk on Marionettes In Chapel Monday

The chapel period on Monday, January 15, was devoted to the Mask and Gavel and English Clubs speaking on behalf of Tony Sarg and his Marionettes, whose performance here they are sponsoring.

Miss Gertrude Mayer acted as the chairman and introduced the speakers. John Wier spoke first on the history of Marionettes. Dorothy Starbuck was the second speaker, telling about the Marionettes as they are at present and the position they now occupy.

Dean Battles spoke next, dealing with Mr. Sarg and his Marionettes alone. Charles Mee was the last speaker and gave some remarkable statistics in connection with the price of admission.

The puppets will appear in Bradley Hall, Thursday, January 18, at 4 and 8:15 P. M.

PLAN BOARD OF CONTROL FOR TECH AND POLYSCOPE

WILL BRING CLOSER RELATIONSHIP WITH ADMINISTRATION OF INSTITUTE.

A board of control of undergraduate publications is the plan recently set forth and now being sponsored by W. Ross Marvin of the English department.

"Because of the increasing importance of the Tech and Polyscope in the student life at Bradley it is evident," declared Mr. Marvin, "that there should be a more business-like management of these two organs, and a closer relationship between them and the administration of the Institute."

According to this plan of management the board of control would consist of either eight or eleven members, five students and three faculty or seven students and four faculty, faculty members to be appointed by the president of the Institute to serve two terms, students to be elected by popular vote.

This board would have absolute control of the Tech and Polyscope, and any other undergraduate regular publication. It would control the rates of advertising, subscriptions, contracts of all sorts, appointments or approval of editors and business managers and audit the books.

The board would also fix salaries and bonuses and maintain a treasury for a sinking fund to meet emergencies.

"There are many reasons," said Mr. Marvin, "why this plan or a plan similar to this should be adopted. The Tech especially is not only a very important organ in which to voice the opinion of the faculty and students, but it is also valuable to the school as a publicity organ and historical record. For these reasons alone I think that this publication especially should be put under a more systematic management."

ALLIED ENGLISH INTERESTS BRING EDGAR LEE MASTERS

Edgar Lee Masters, one of the foremost of America's poets, will appear January 22 at the Woman's club. This poet, author of the widely read "Spoon River Anthology" is being brought here by the Allied English interests of Peoria. Mr. Masters will discuss contemporary American poetry.

On March 15 Louis Anspacher, dramatic critic, will give a lecture at the same place on "What's the Matter with the Theater?" Hugh Walpole, the famous English novelist, will be heard March 28. The Allied English interests are credited with securing all three lecturers.

POLYSCOPE TAG SALE BEGINS MONDAY, JAN. 22

GROUP PICTURES NOW BEING TAKEN FOR COLLEGE ANNUAL.

The Polyscope tag sale will begin Monday, January 22. The sale will be conducted for a week. The price of the book will be three dollars. One-half of this sum will be payable at the tag sale, the remainder when the books are delivered.

The Polyscope management is making a great sacrifice to present the annual at this price. The book will be larger and will include many new features.

Those who will have their pictures in this year's annual are urged to have them taken as soon as possible. The Burkhart studios have the contract for this year. Group pictures are now being taken.

Stella La Follette and Harry Barton have been elected by the student council to steer next year's annual.

A board has been chosen by the present management to select the representative B. P. I. men and women who will be chosen for popularity, athletic ability, beauty, and service to the school.

Much of the copy is already in the hands of the staff. All those who have snapshots, interestly beautiful, or comical, are urged to deposit them in the Polyscope box or hand them to some member of the staff. Any pictures of Students' Day, Mid-summer's Night's Dream, or Commencement of last year are especially requested. All snaps must be on glazed paper.

PROFESSOR HANNA CONSIDERS JOLIET SCHOOL POSITION

ACCEPTANCE DEPENDS ON SECURING OF CAPABLE SUCCESSOR.

Professor Joseph V. Hanna, assistant professor of education, has been offered a very attractive position in the Joliet high school and junior college. Acceptance of the offer is dependent on securing a man capable of taking Mr. Hanna's place at Bradley. Definite word will be given in the next day or so as to whether Mr. Hanna will be released.

Mr. Hanna has been offered the position of Personnel director in the Joliet high school and junior college. The duties of the position are in line with the work undertaken by Mr. Hanna at Bradley in his analysis of freshmen. His work, in the event that he goes to Joliet, will be in the nature of heading up committees on vocational guidance and information. He will direct the graduates and "drop-outs" into positions that they may be capable to fill and which offer the best chances for their fulfillment. This sort of work will, of necessity, involve a close contact with the business and professional world of the city.

Mr. Hanna is willing to leave Bradley for the place, which is a newly created one, because it is in direct contact with the work that he is most interested in and that he has made a minute study of. As the work is a comparatively new one in this country, the opportunities that are offered in such a place are great.

Joliet is one of the most progressive cities in the country in the matter of its school. The institution that Mr. Hanna may be connected with has been recognized as the finest in these United States.

If Mr. Hanna leaves Bradley his place will be one hard to fill. Mr. Hanna has been connected with this Institute for some three years. His influence among the student body has been a great one.

HILLTOPPERS JOURNEY TO EUREKA THURSDAY; MEET AUGGIES HERE SATURDAY

McKENZIE LINE-UP BOASTS NUMBER OF OLD TIMERS—EXPECT HARDEST BATTLE WITH ROCK ISLANDERS WHO CLAIM TO HAVE TEAM OF REAL CHAMPIONSHIP CALIBER.

Two more powerful foes are charted on the Bradley basketball schedule for this week. Eureka is to be met on the Christians' court Thursday evening, while the husky quintet representing Augustana invades the Poly cage Saturday night for the second tilt of the week.

Coach Robertson expects the customary hard battle with the Eureka collegians just because it is difficult to evaluate with any certainty the credits of the Woodford county cagers. Coach Wann of Millikin declares that Eureka provided his outfit the stiffest conference battle through which the Big Blue had gone until his aggregation struck Bradley Friday night.

The Eureka five trounced Normal last Friday night on the Teachers' own floor, 22 to 19. That score against the team which forced Bradley into an overtime session indicates that the two teams are well matched.

Playing the star role for Eureka this season is Bob Ryf, who performed for Bradley in 1918-19. Those who recall his brilliant work while a wearer of the Red and White aver that he will bear close watching from Tech guards. Coach McKenzie also boasts of several veterans, of whom Kirby, Whittler, and Dennis are most notable.

Augustana Has Classy Team.

Without doubt the harder opponent of the two is Augustana which is known to have one of its greatest basketball machines this season. The Swedes have so far disposed of some of the strongest teams in this section. Marquette, the team that trimmed both Butler and the University of Wisconsin, was held to a 10-8 score. Ripon and Oshkosh Normal are numbered among the Norsemen's victories for the present season.

Captain Andresen and Ogden Johnson are the mainstays of Coach Swedberg's aggregation. Conrey and First hold down regular forward berths, while the Augie mentor entrusts to Bricson, Wilson, and Beihl the defensive duties.

As Augustana is with Bradley a hardy contender for the I. I. A. C. honors this winter, Saturday evening's game promises to be one of the hardest fought of the season.

Against the towering Swedes the services of Ernest Koepping as running guard would be a big asset. He is expected to have his studies up to par by Thursday so that in all probability he will be declared eligible for both the Eureka and Augustana contests.

—B. P. I.—

Mrs. Ina Gaul has resigned her position as president of the Home Economics club because of heavy duties. All members of the club greatly appreciate the efficient way in which Mrs. Gaul has served during the time she held office. Miss Edith Rawson will be the president for the remainder of the year.

Packard is offering a course in Nutritional Physiology. These courses are a result of a long felt need at Bradley and will make a creditable addition to the curriculum.

Examinations will start on Tuesday and will extend through Friday, and the usual plan of a two hour period will be carried out again this year. Rumors of a holiday the following Monday were downed by President T. C. Burgess when he said that such holiday would hardly be possible.

The date for the Junior Prom has been set for April 8th and will be one of the big events of the new semester. Spring vacation will commence the 24th of March and will end on the 2nd of April.

COUNCIL SUBMITS AMENDMENT FOR FACULTY APPROVAL

PROVIDES FOR ELECTION OF NEW MEMBERS EACH SEMESTER.

The Student Council has submitted to the faculty for their sanction, an amendment to the constitution which provides that one member of each division represented in the council be elected in February, to hold over to the following February. The other members will be chosen, as usual, in September.

If this amendment meets with the faculty's approval, it will become valid in September. To put it into working order, the freshmen representative, Paul Younge, will remain in office for six months as a sophomore member, and the other divisions will vote on the one member they wish to retain until the February election.

The present system of electing members, assemblies, usually, an entirely new body of council members. If some are re-elected they are so much in the minority that it helps matters very little. This year not one member was familiar with the working of the council. A written report of the actions of last year's council was the only guide.

With this new amendment in force, the council will be continuous from year to year because of the gradual changing of membership in the group. Six old members in the group will enable them to resume the duties of the council as soon as they are elected. They will not have to grope about blindly to find out what to do and how to do it. The change would do away with the seeming inactivity of the council for the greater part of the first semester.

The elections would be as follows:

	Sept.	Feb.
Freshman (6 months)	1	1
Sophomore	1	1
Junior	2	1
Senior (6 months)	3	1
Horolog	2	1
Conservatory	2	1
Vocational	2	1

PREPARATIONS FOR SEMESTER EXAMS BECOME NOTICIBLE

Semester exams are fast approaching and Bradley students are beginning to take notice of the fact that on the 31st of January to the 2nd of February, pens must fly and record the knowledge that has been stored up during the semester. Professors are thinking about piles upon piles of papers that must be read and grades that must be recorded. In general the tenseness of the zero hour is becoming very evident and text books are being tackled with added zest.

Several new courses are being planned by the faculty and will be added to the curriculum with the beginning of the second semester. Dr. C. E. Comstock is offering a new course in surveying, Dr. C. T. Wyckoff is offering a new course in recent American history, and Dr. W. H.

THE COLLEGE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Something new in the world of college journalism in the state was started last Saturday by the forming of the Illinois College Press Association. An unsuccessful attempt was made to organize such an association last year but this time the matter was made a reality by the colleges supporting it.

It is expected that this organization will help to raise the plane of college journalism in the state and give it the credit it deserves. High schools in Illinois, as well as the college publications of other states, have such associations and they have met with success. Nothing less can be expected of the Illinois College Press Association.

—B. P. I.—

GLEE CLUB MINUS GLEE.

Putting up a determined fight to keep in existence, the Glee Club is making a final drive to get enough singers to warrant the continuation of practice sessions and to make plans for an appearance in public. Lack of interest shown by the students in their irregular attendance at meetings is delaying, and forces to put a stop to all preparations for a club of male songsters to represent Bradley on the stage.

In past years, particularly the last two, the Institute has been represented by organizations which have made a name for themselves in the show houses of the city. This year a scanty dozen of members irregularly attend the practice sessions. Officers of the club will not make preparations for any activities of the organization unless they are assured of sufficient membership roll to carry out their plans satisfactorily. Matters are at a standstill.

The Glee Club is one of the more important of a number of student organizations which are in the same condition. Some under-graduate organizations are threatened with death by stagnation.

The cause is not hard to find, but is difficult to remedy. Bradley students are being literally "clubbed to death." Qualifications for membership to the organizations are not strict and there is no limit to the number to which a student might belong. There are no specified times when meetings can or cannot be held; school nights as well as week-ends come in for their share. This causes a tendency for the student to neglect either the extra-curricular activities or his studies.

Kicks and Komments

By V. Don O'Meara

Kicks and Komments present the dramatic masterpiece of the season entitled: The Great American Home.

Act One: The curtain rises and we see the sitting room, in one of the model homes of this country of ours. Mother has just playfully hit father over the head with her Ever-ready—rolling pin—father is thereby put out of the game for awhile, mother should be put out on personal fouls.

Oswald (the baby): "Gimme a urink, gimme a drink."

Mother (laughingly throwing a china dish at dear little Oswald): "You're just like your father, always looking for a drink."

Father (who has just recovered): "You must not throw plates at Oswald—they cost too much."

(Time out while mother throws a datiron at father, hitting him in the head—the iron is splintered to pieces.)

Oswald: "Gimme a drink—gimme a drink."

Mother picks him up and lovingly lets him drop to the floor, head first—Ossie goes right on through the floor, and ends in the basement.

Our story closes with this peaceful scene.

PROFESSOR ASHMAN CONDUCTS IMPORTANT TESTING LABORATORY

Not many students at Bradley realize that a testing laboratory of no small proportions is being conducted by Professor George C. Ashman, head of the chemistry department.

Dr. Ashman devotes a number of hours daily to this research work. Among the firms sending in samples are the Herschel Co.; Peoria, Hanna City & Western Ry.; and the Manito Soil Co. He is also analyzing samples of shoe paste, enamel, gold, whiskey, clay and peat.

The Herschel Co. sends in daily at least two samples of malleable castings. The test is over in an hour and are sent back by the messenger who brought them. The Peoria, Hanna City & Western Ry. are having samples of clay tested as to its adaptability for use in tile. The Manito Soil Co sends in samples of surface soil to be tested for their qualifications for use as peat or fertilizer.

This work is all taken care of by Dr. Ashman personally. The scope of articles he tests is limitless. Anything from soup to coal will be tested.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

It develops that the Manual Arts Teacher Training division has so much basketball material that we have two teams to represent our division. One has been entitled the Freshman team and the other the Soph team. However, the "Soph" title was erroneously given as there are men from silly freshmen to the dignified senior in it. The freshmen handed in their name as "Siepert's Seven Sinkers" and the popular title has evolved into "Teachers." The other group wish to be known as the "Professors." With all these pedagogues on the field we hope to tame wild animals and subdue the vicious lawbreakers that are in the intramural league.

BRADLEY'S RADIO STATION RETURNED TO CANTON OWNER

There has been much speculation since school began in the fall as to what has become of the Bradley radio station. The station had been discontinued, but the reasons were not generally known.

To begin with, the radio set used did not belong to Bradley. It was the property of a resident of Canton, Illinois, and was offered to the school for a price of $500. There was not enough money for such an appropriation, so in consequence the set was taken out and the station discontinued last summer.

Dr. V. S. Swain stated that the college needed a receiving set and the department of physics was trying to secure one. The main reason for securing one was that it was needed in research work that was being done in the department. Mr. Shalkhauser is at present working on some special coils, which when finished will be sent to the Bureau of Standards for testing.

"There is some great work connected with the radio game," Dr. Swain stated; "but at present radio is more of a hobby than a serious study."

There were many opinions as to the value of a radio station to Bradley, both for advertising and experimental purposes, and there is a general opinion, that Bradley should own some kind of a set.

SUNDAY RECITAL IN BRADLEY HALL ATTRACTS MANY

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE HEARS FIRST OF MUSICAL PRESENTATIONS.

By KATHERINE LANGTON.

An appreciative audience of four hundred heard the recital given by the Bradley Conservatory of Music at Bradley Hall, Sunday afternoon, January 14th. This is the first of a series of recitals.

Miss Adelaide White, pianist, Mr. Franklin Stead, organist, and Mr. Eldon C. Murray, violinist, opened the program with the "Andante Religiaso" by Guilmant.

Mr. Kenneth Stead, tenor, was enthusiastically received, and sang with his usual finish and charm.

"The Song of the Basket Weaver" by Russell, opened the excellent organ numbers by Mr. Franklin Stead. Mr. Murray gave three violin selections and was heartily encored.

The number, "Ave Marie" brought the program to a successful close

BRADLEY ASKED TO ENTER SPEAKERS IN PEACE CONTEST

WINNERS OF FIRST AND SECOND PLACES RECEIVE CASH PRIZES.

By PEARL GARLAND

Announcement has been made of a "Peace Contest" to be held this spring in which Bradley has been asked to enter at least three contestants. The Misses Helen and Mary Spabury of New Bedford, Mass., are the donors of the two prizes which are $50 and $40 respectively.

All bona fide students of Bradley college are eligible who are carrying twelve hours of work. The preliminary contest will be held in April at Bradley Hall. The winner will represent Bradley college in the state contest, May 10. The local contest will probably be a speaking contest but the state contest will be by typewritten manuscript copy of his essay or oration to the state chairman, Albert T. Mills, of James Millikin University at Decatur, Ill., before May 10.

The topic must be about some phase of "Peace." No old revised oration or essay is acceptable. The essay or oration may not require more than sixteen minutes for delivery.

HOLD UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO CLUB CONTEST IN MAY

ORATIONS SUBMITTED TO BE TWO THOUSAND WORDS IN LENGTH.

The annual oratorical contest sponsored by the University of Chicago club in Peoria will take place this year as usual. The preliminary contest will be held at Bradley Hall in May. The final contest will be in June.

The oratorical contest is open to all students in Bradley. The orations will be two thousand words in length. They will be original and may be about any subject which the contestant may choose.

All students who enter the contest must submit a copy of their oration to the three judges on thought and composition. These judges will read all essays and return them. A preliminary contest will be arranged in which all contestants may speak before three other judges on delivery. The six best orations will be chosen to be spoken in June at the final contest. From the final contest the two best compositions will be chosen.

The two prizes offered by the club are thirty-five dollars in gold for the best oration and fifteen dollars in gold for the second best oration.

The purpose of the contest is to elevate college oratory. The Chicago University club is a local organization. Many of its members are alumni of Bradley and it is largely an act of friendship for their Alma Mater which has induced these men and women to contribute the financial support for the success of the oratorical contest.

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::

By Berniece Jones

The time is now ripe for an editorial on finals. The question which is universal in all students minds are "Why do we have them?" They are a cloud which begins to be seen in the offing during the holidays and which looms darker and darker as the end of January approaches.

After looking into the matter deeply we have come to the conclusion that finals are given, first, for lazy teachers, and second, for lazy students. For these two classes of college people, they are lighthouses which guide them off the shoals.

The lazy teacher has no grades at the end of the semester. But wait, she is saved! There are the examinations. And then the poor misguided student who has been told by some other professor that craming is bad; perhaps flunks. But we are cheered up considerably by the fact that the eight months bluffer, by a night or so of hard work may come through with flying colors.

A maiden passed with silken hose,
Well suited for display;
A spinster puckered up her nose,
And turned her head away.

The maiden went her way content,
The men all stopped to stare;
The spinster saw, and then she went
And bought herself a pair.

It's name was Bunco Cole,
And everywhere that Helen went
That dog was sure to go.

It followed her to school one day,
And to chapel went in Social Hall,
This was very much against the rule
But doggie followed neither beck nor call.

Coley gave him the twenty-pound look,
And he sure was hurt to be snubbed so
When Mrs. Huston put him out of the room,
He ran home fast as his legs would go.

TECH BASKETEERS SUBDUE NORMAL IN EXTRA PERIOD

ROGERS BREAKS TIE MADE BY BUTZOW'S COUNTER.

In spite of their lead gained early in the game and maintained until the last few minutes of play the Techmen were able only to subdue the fighting Normal University basketball five after an exciting overtime session. Captain Rogers it was who, in the ensuing period, broke the 23-23 count which the Teachers' aggressive leader Butzow had tied when but ten seconds of the regulation second half remained.

Seeing Bradley in the lead and sensing an opportunity to place his mates on even footing, Butzow was alert to take advantage thereof when a personal foul was called on Siminski inside the foul zone. The Techmen, expecting Butzow to shoot twice from the free throw line, were caught napping as that young man missed the first try, walked in to catch the ball off the backboard and re-shoot for an easy field goal. It developed that Referee Young had allowed but one free throw on Siminski's foul, so that the basket counted. Inasmuch as the timer's gun sounded before the ball could again be put in play, an extra five-minute period was necessary to decide the winner.

Captain Rogers in turn caught the opposition off guard. On rushing in to follow up his long shot at the hoop he eluded the Normal defenders to send in from close range a perfect field goal. It proved to be the determining factor of the contest, for during the entire five minutes of overtime the Pedagogues had only one open chance at the basket so closely were Tyler and Barrett covering the opposing basket tossers.

From the Bradley viewpoint Captain Rogers was the star of the evening. He registered more than one-half of the Tech's field goals and failed in only four of the eleven trials given him from the foul mark. On the defense, Barrett was the outstanding performer for the Poly quint.

Butzow, offensively, and Changnon, defensively, were the leading figures for the Teachers. Toward the close of the game the visitors' crafty leader tossed three goals within four minutes. Bolin and Schneider were also important cogs in the powerful offensive attack of Coach Russell's team.

The summary.

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1923. — NUMBER 18

THEO. H. KUHL FOUNDS $2500 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Eckersall and Canty to Officiate 18th Annual Interscholastic

BRADLEY MEET RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF THE BEST

Attendance at Event of May 5 to Surpass All Previous Records.

Walter H. Eckersall, former University of Chicago athlete, now leading sport writer of the Chicago Tribune, and T. J. Canty, a nationally famed announcer, will, except for the athletes themselves, be the bright lights at Bradley's 18th annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, to be held on May 5th. It was only with the greatest of difficulty that Coach A. J. Robertson was able to secure the services of these men as they are in great demand and officiate only at the big track meets. Bradley's reputation for her successful track meets is becoming nationally known, for they compare favorably with any held in this section of the country.

Preliminary announcements have already been mailed and formal invitations are to be sent out the first part of April. Five hundred twenty-three athletes, representing fifty-six schools participated in last year's meet, making it the largest in Bradley's history; but indications point to a far larger attendance in the coming meet.

Medals to be Given.

A beautiful gold and bronze trophy will be awarded to the school winning the meet, and a handsome gold watch will be presented to the high individual point winner. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given to the winners of first, second and third places, while a suitable trophy will be presented to the school winning the relay, and bronze medals will be given to the individuals on the winning team.

The events will consist of 50, 100, and 220 yard dashes, and two races in each of the 440, 880, and mile events. There will also be high and low hurdle races, pole vault, discus, shot put, javelin, and an 880 yard relay.

New Records Made in 1922.

The 1922 meet was exceptionally fast and four records were smashed. Dicenzo, the Toluca flash, stepped the 100 yards in 9⅘ seconds; Alman, of Galesburg, put the shot 48 feet, 4½ inches; Simon, of Canton, hurled the discus 120 feet, 8 inches, while Hart of Galesburg, hurled the javelin 164 feet, 3 inches. Forrest Community High School won the meet with a total of 21 points. Champaign took second place with 17½ points, and Toluca third with 15 points. Leonard of Forrest, was the high point man of the meet with a total of 16 points to his credit.

The Bradley Interscholastic Track meet has been rapidly acquiring a far reaching reputation and with Eckersall doing the officiating and Canty the announcing in the coming meet, there is little doubt left but that this meet will be far the most successful of any that Bradley has held.

JUNIORS PLANNING FOR PROM APRIL 6

The date for the Junior Prom, which will be the greatest and best ever, has been definitely set as April 6. President Glen Walker of the Junior Class has appointed Russell Peters to the general chairmanship, and under their direction plans to make the Prom a huge success are gradually formulating. One of the features of this gala event is to be a unique scheme of decoration, details of which are not to be disclosed till later.

A meeting of the Junior class has been called for Wednesday, January 24, at which time the various committees will be appointed. All Juniors are expected to be there, in the Chemistry Lecture room, at 12:30.

STUDENT INTEREST IN WRESTLING AND BOXING INCREASES

COACHES NOW GIVING ONLY RUDIMENTARY INSTRUCTION IN MANLY ARTS

Football Linemen Especially Urged to Take up Wrestling as Conditioner

Boxing classes recently organized by Coaches Robertson and Johnson are now well under way. Each session grows in popularity, and there are at present some forty who have signed to meet with John Weir each Tuesday and Thursday at one o'clock.

So far, only rudimentary instruction has been given; and a few one round matches staged. As the members of the class range from the lightest of flyweight mitt artists to the heaviest of heavies, many interesting contests are assured. It is probable that before the basketball season is ended a few exhibition bouts will be carded during the intermissions between halves.

The class for wrestlers is now being arranged and will doubtless meet every day next semester for those who wish to fit themselves for the opening of football practice next fall. As Coach Robertson faces the task of unearthing several talented forwards for the team that is to represent Bradley on the gridiron in 1923, he will see to it that his prospective linemen get plenty much training. In anticipation, therefore, of a large turnout, both coaches are planning to take direct charge of this phase of physical training.

FACULTY OUTLINING EXTENSION COURSES AND LECTURES

EXPANDING CURRICULUM WILL ADVANCE BRADLEY ACADEMICALLY

Professors C. W. Schroeder, Loyal G. Tillotson and A. F. Siepert Committee on Extension Work.

Another step in Bradley's academic advancement will soon be added by the introduction of extension lectures into the curriculum. Members on the extension committee are Professors C. W. Schroeder, Loyal G. Tillotson and A. F. Siepert.

A course of eighteen lectures in sociology is now being given by Mr. Schroeder to the Peoria teachers.

As soon as all the courses are outlined, a catalog will be issued and work begun.

The report of the committee on extension follows: "It is recommended by this committee that the president appoint a permanent committee of three which shall be known as the committee on the extension work of the Institute whose duty it shall be:

A. To determine the principles and policies which should govern the Institute's relationship to

1. Public lectures
2. Local extension work
3. Correspondence work

B. To set up machinery or processes for carrying these principles and policies into effect.

Solely by the way of suggestion and not at all as an indication that all the points mentioned below shall be considered by the committee, the following are outlined:

1. Methods of making the committee the clearing house for all forms of extension work carried on by the Institute.
2. Canvassing the faculty for possible material for lectures and courses.
3. Giving these matters publicity.
4. Establishing standards for fees.

Exam Schedule

The examination schedule for first semester is to follow essentially the same scheme as that formerly worked out. The days for examination have been designated as January 30 to February 2, inclusive.

Classes meeting the odd hours, namely, first, third, and fifth hours, on Tuesday and Thursday, will have examinations on Tuesday, January 30, the examination periods being from 8 to 10, 10 to 12, 1 to 3, the first hour examination coming at eight, etc.

Those classes which meet the odd hours on Monday, Wednesday and Friday will have examinations on Wednesday, January 31, periods running from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M., as above.

Thursday, February 1, is the day on which fall examinations for the classes meeting the even hours, second, fourth and sixth, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Classes which meet at the even hours on Tuesday and Thursday will have examinations on Friday, February 2.

Classes reciting four or five times a week will meet on either of the days indicated under the hour of recitation, according to the convenience of the class. Those classes which hold recitations the seventh period must take their examinations at an hour selected by the instructor.

TOURNAMENTS IN MAJOR SPORTS PLAN OF ASS'T COACH

SYSTEM OF AWARDING POINTS TO DETERMINE WINNER OF HANDSOME TROPHY

Contests Get Under Way February 5—Captains of Teams Should Report at Once.

With the purpose in mind of stimulating greater and more varied athletic competition among the classes and fraternities of Bradley, Assistant Coach Leo Johnson is outlining an interesting program of athletic activity. He plans to conduct, on the point system basis, tournaments in basketball, bowling, baseball and tennis.

A basketball consolation tournament will begin immediately after the opening of the second semester of this school year. If the captains of the various fraternity basketball teams have not already listed their entrants with Mr. Johnson, he urges that they do so at once to enable him to commence tournament play. For the team which finishes first, 20 points is the award, while the team that finishes second scores to its credit 10 points.

As bowling is also part of the program, each fraternity should proceed at once to select its representative bowling team, to be composed of five members. Each player is to roll three games and the total points of the five players is to constitute that team's final score. That team which rolls the highest score will be awarded 10 points. 5 points is the award to the team placing second.

Under the same arrangement as made in the case of basketball, the fraternities are to meet in a baseball consolation tournament. To the winning team 15 points are accredited, while the team finishing in second place will receive an award of 10 points.

In the tennis tournament both single and double matches are to be played, after the process of straight elimination. 10 points is the award to the winner of the singles, 5 points to him who finishes second. The same number of points constitute the award to first and second places in the doubles tournaments.

When all contests will have been played off, the fraternity scoring the largest number of points receives a loving cup or other suitable trophy. Since Feb. 5 is the date on which the contests are to start, it is advisable that the fraternities elect captains for the above teams without delay. The captains shall be responsible for their fraternity's playing the games as scheduled and agreed.

Their co-operation assured Mr. Johnson is confident that such a program will foster between and among the fraternities the much needed keen spirit of wholesome rivalry that should prevail at Bradley as it does elsewhere.

NORMAL-ARMOUR NEXT IN ORDER FOR POLY CAGERS

ROBBIE'S MEN MEET TEACHERS TUESDAY AFTERNOON—CHICAGO FIVE FRIDAY.

Koepping and Brewer in Condition Again to Assume Guard Posts—Dependable Reserves Big Help.

Next on the Bradley basketball schedule is the return game with Normal University on the Teachers' floor, Tuesday afternoon. To defeat the Russell aggregation in its own lair will command the best efforts of the Red and White forces, for Normal is ever a stumbling block to Bradley's athletic teams.

Buttow is the Normalites' big threat. It was he alone who almost turned the tables on the Tech five two weeks ago on the Hilltop court. Nine goals was his accomplishment during that evening's frolic.

Introduce Armour Institute.

Following the invasion of the Normal camp the Techmen begin work for the game with Armour Institute here on Friday evening.

Little is known about Armour, for the Chicagoans have been meeting few of Bradley's friends. However, as the Windy City Tech institution draws the best athletes from the Chicago high schools and since its coaching is on a par with the material, Bradley is sure to find in the visitors plenty of opposition.

The Tech mentor finds himself well prepared for both of the week's hard tassels, as his running guards are again in shape to play. Koepping's nine once more graces the eligibility list, while Johnnie Brewer has recovered from his injury. Gardner is apparently just hitting his stride, and Johnson is developing into a capable center. By reason of his performance at Eureka last week Tyler is contending strongly for a guard position. Correll, Siminski, and Hoswell are other reliable utility men.

FORMER COACH BROWN RETURNS TO AMERICA

Fred C. Brown, once athletic instructor of Bradley, who has been holding a high position in South America, has returned to the United States and is expected to be in Peoria within a short time.

Mr. Brown was very popular with the student body of Bradley. All regretted to see him go to Buenos Aires, where he had charge of training athletes for the South American Exposition. Although Mr. Brown was successful in his work there, he did not like the country. He came direct from Argentine to Earlham, Ind., where he is at present visiting relatives.

While director at Bradley, in 1909, he was president of the I. I. A. A., which he founded. In 1917 he went overseas as athletic director in the service of the Y. M. C. A. In the summer of 1919 he returned to Bradley, remaining here till the spring of 1920, when he accepted the position in South America.

PROMINENT PEORIAN THUS SHOWS FAITH IN BRADLEY'S GROWTH

ONE-HALF OF ANNUAL INCOME AVAILABLE FOR SECOND SEMESTER OF THIS YEAR—ANNOUNCEMENT IN CHAPEL GREETED WITH TREMENDOUS APPLAUSE.

Deserving Students to Benefit From Thoughtful Generosity of Mr. Kuhl, Who Makes Bequest in Memory of His Beloved Wife, Recently Deceased—Awarding of Scholarship to be Left to Special Committee.

Theodore H. Kuhl, president of the Block & Kuhl Company, has donated a $2,500 scholarship fund to Bradley Institute. It will provide an annual income of $150, one-half of which will be available for the second semester of this year.

The announcement was made by President T. C. Burgess in chapel, Monday, January 22, and was greeted with tremendous applause by the students. This award comes as a decided assistance and encouragement to the Institute authorities who have felt that increase in scholarship funds was one of Bradley's most pressing needs. Most of our educational institutions have a long list of such foundations. Through the annual interest from such funds, tuition is furnished to deserving persons who would otherwise be deprived of a college education. "Where such assistance is lacking, the college loses some of its best material," said Dr. Burgess.

While several Peorians have signified an intention of including such bequests in written wills, the honor of being the first one to put in actual operation such a scholarship belongs to Mr. Theodore Kuhl of the Block & Kuhl Company. This gift is quite in keeping with his well-known generosity and his loyal devotion to Peoria's higher interests. Mr. Kuhl has founded this scholarship in the name of his wife, recently deceased.

In announcing the gift, President Burgess said: "Thanks to the trustees, faculty, students, and citizens are due to Mr. Kuhl for his thoughtful generosity. The value of this act at this time can scarcely be overestimated. The honored name of his wife will be perpetuated as long as Bradley stands and he has at the same time shown faith in the college of his own city. The growth of our municipal institution will be greatly curtailed if prominent Peorians fail to make it in increasing degree their own. All honor to the man who has shown to the community that he values our college sufficiently to link with it by his visible means his own name and that of his beloved wife, Mrs. Theodore Kuhl."

WILL SHAKESPEAREAN PAGEANT BE GIVEN AGAIN THIS SPRING?

IS QUESTION BEING ASKED BY STUDENTS, FACULTY, AND TOWNSPEOPLE

Last Year's "Midsummer Night's Dream" Tremendous Success—Warrants Repetition.

Is there going to be a Shakespearean play produced this year? What plans have been made for this season? These are two questions that are being asked the faculty daily. To those who are new at Bradley, a little explanation of what took place last year would not be amiss.

The student body with the aid and direction of faculty and student committees, presented Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." This production was put on just north of Bradley Hall in the open air. Stands and seats were especially constructed and an audience of more than 2000 people enjoyed one of the most elaborate entertainments of this nature ever produced in Peoria. Contrary to all expectation, such a large demand for seats came at the last moment, that 1500 persons were turned away. Discussion of the repetition of this play was immediately begun both by the newspapers and the public.

Plans were laid as early as December, 1921, and rehearsals began some months before the final performance. The cast of principals, which included most of our more prominent student actors, was as follows: Gertrude Mayer, Marjorie Packard, Abigail Dunn, Camille Mahanna, Chas. Mee, Fred Oakley, Chas. Brobst, Wm. Krughoff, Helen Wattace, John Bergan.

Aside from these there were many choruses which took part. In the cast were also several groups of dancers. In all about two or three hundred people were in the play.

Newspaper comment at the time gave proof of the fact that Bradley had made a decided "hit."

Praises were showered on both actors and producers and Frederick A. Stowe, writing in the Transcript, suggested that the performance be made an annual affair. His idea was that a person be allowed to hold a part as long as he was in school, provided no more able actor should appear in the tryouts. In this way, argued Mr. Stowe, it would be possible to develop a very high grade of acting, and make possible for certain of the students to earn a real fame in the part as the result of two or three years of study and appearance in it.

Dr. C. T. Wyckoff, through whose suggestion and efforts the plan was first taken up, says, "There is no reason for not reproducing 'Midsummer Night's Dream,' since we would know exactly what plans to make, and there are a great many more people who didn't see the production last year than those who did."

Dr. T. C. Burgess, president of the Institute, stated: "It is very likely that the same play will be produced again this year the first week in June. There were a great many turned away last year, who would want to see it. The parts which were taken by students not now attending Bradley will be given to other students. Miss Shephardson of the department of Public Speaking, would have charge of the plans."

Chorus Rehearses "Elijah"; Needs Tenors and Basses

Under the able direction of Professor Franklin Stead, the Bradley chorus of 35 members is rapidly rounding into shape for its spring presentation of "Elijah." At present the singers are a little weak in the tenor and bass sections. They meet every Tuesday evening in the chapel. Membership is open to anyone in Peoria, as well as to the students.

In former years the Bradley chorus has presented a concert at the Madison theater, appearing twice an evening for one week. Although no official announcement has been made of a similar plan this year, it is generally believed that such a program will take place later in the spring.

DON'T CONTRADICT THE PROFS.

Dean Thomas Clark of the University of Illinois recently laid down twelve rules for students to follow if they wished to flunk their studies. The twelfth of these rules as printed in the Daily Illini was "disagree with the instructor as often as possible in class."

Dean Clark forgets that instructors are made for the students and not students for instructors. As a member of the "old school" of college professors he is trying to retain the old fashioned, strait jacket methods of giving a college education.

Students who can not or will not disagree with their instructors in class are too liable to stunt their initiative and accept any ideas handed to them by their teachers. The idea of raising a university professor on a pedestal and worshiping him as a god is fast becoming obsolete.

BASKET BALL GAMES AND DANCING.

A short while ago the Bradley custom of dancing after basket ball games was abandoned. Reasons given for this move were that dances held at the gymnasium encouraged the gathering of an undesirable element at these dances, and the fact that the added expense of music was placing a deficit in the funds of the Athletic Association.

Wednesday morning a petition was placed on the bulletin board, calling for students who wished to have dancing revived again to sign their names. By Wednesday afternoon more than two pages were covered with students' names, showing plainly the attitude of the school toward the question.

Granting that it costs more to have dancing on Friday and Saturday nights, it is also true that more people come to see the game if there is dancing afterward. The admission price could be advanced a small sum on these nights, and it would not keep away enough people to make up the difference.

As to the gathering of undesirables, they form the minority, and as far as it is known, they have caused no trouble so far. The students are united in the plea for the return of after-the-game dances, and since they constitute most of the supporters of the team, they should be considered first. Some sort of a solution will have to be worked out.

Kicks and Komments

By V. Don O'Meara

There was a young lady named Milly
Whose actions were what you'd call silly.
She went to a ball,
Dressed in nothing at all;
Pretending to represent Chile.

Me—What's to prevent my kissing you?

She—Why, my goodness.

Pat—What was that last card I dealt you Mike?

Mike—A spade.

Pat—I knew it was, I saw you spit on your hands before you picked it up.

The other night I went to see a new girl. I didn't know her very well, but I thought that I would take a chance. Well we went to the movies and then we had some ice cream, and gosh, she was awful dumb. Then in the hall I was thinking of some good excuse to go home early, while she took off her hat. And then—when I saw how carefully she pulled down the front window shade I changed my mind.

Tomorrow night I don't think we shall go even to the movies.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

By H. Merle Gibson.

Those who are musically inclined will be delighted to hear of the second Sunday afternoon recital which will be given January 28, in Bradley Hall, at 4 o'clock.

The program will be given by the Bradley Conservatory String Quartette, consisting of Eldon C. Murray, first violin; Miss May Ulrich, second violin; Mrs. James Lacey, viola, and Miss Hazel Munger, cello; Miss Mary Frances Thompson, pianist. The admission is free. The public is most cordially invited.

Monday evening, January 29, there will be a students' recital.

We all remember the splendid manner in which the Bradley Chorus assisted with the performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream" last year and singers are urged to join the chorus this year at once, and embrace the two-fold opportunity of helping Bradley "put this over" right and of becoming acquainted with Mendelssohn's masterpiece, the oratorio "Elijah."

The chorus rehearses every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in Bradley Hall.

The new term of the Bradley Conservatory of Music opens January 31.

TRACKMEN GET CHARMS

Presentation of gold track shoes to members of Bradley's undefeated track team took place today in Chapel. This team defeated Augustana, Eureka, Hedding, Lombard and Illinois college.

The gold charms are about one inch in length and are complete in every detail from the spikes to the tongues. Engraved on one side is the word "Undefeated," and the date, 1922. On the other side is a small red "B." On the top of the shoe is a small ring used to fasten it to a watch chain.

Dr. V. F. Swain presented the trophies to the following men: H. Ireland, I. Manley, E. Friedrich, F. Skinner, G. Warner, T. Carrol, T. Correll, L. Weisflog, A. Elmore, J. Krablin, and P. Diefenderfer.

DORMITORY NOTES

Some people have a peculiar idea of fun. A couple of wide-awake girls at the "dorm" certainly have a bright sense of humor. The other night about 12 o'clock when everyone was wrapped in slumber (?) these two girls blew big bass horns directly above Miss Potter's head. Several girls who are sound sleepers thought it was Gabriel, but the rest of us didn't.

Henri and Roxi had birthdays last Monday. Each received a box from home to the joy of us all. Their mothers surely knew what we girls liked and sent a good quantity. It was some feed. We would not care if they had two birthdays a year.

POLYSCOPE STAFF LAUNCHES TAG SALE FOR 1923 ANNUAL

NEW FEATURES ASSURE BIGGER AND BETTER VOLUME AT NO GREATER COST.

The Polyscope was launched on its tag sale at the Chapel exercises on Wednesday, January 24. Miss Katherine Langton and Russell Peters, editor and business manager respectively of the Annual, described the appearance of the final production and explained the financial side of it.

"The trite phrase, that this year's book, will be better and larger than any previous one," said Miss Langton, "is absolutely true concerning the 1923 Polyscope. The book will be better in that it will contain features never before attempted, and larger in that it will have more pages than those heretofore published. Furthermore, this is the first Flyscope to have a genuine leather cover."

The humor section comprises one of the main attractions of the book. "In fact," declared Miss Langton, "it is being modeled after a book so wild that the editor was politely requested to leave college."

Mr. Peters told of the cost of the book. He explained the great expense under which the staff labors. "The book is costing you what previous books cost, but you are getting a book that is better in every respect. For three dollars," he assured, "you are getting a book that you will not sell for love or money ten years from now."

The tag sale, to be conducted to accommodate everyone on the campus, began immediately after the chapel exercises. Tags for the 1923 Polyscope sell for $1.50 and can be procured from members of the staff. The remainder is due when the book is produced.

Girls are always interested in knowing what boys think about them. At the Y. W. meeting Friday noon, five articles written by Bradley men, were read on "The Ideal Girl."

In dress, the general opinion seemed to be that it should be neat and becoming, although not necessarily expensive. She should have pleasing manners and an interesting personality rather than be merely pretty. That happy gift of making people feel at ease should be one of her main attractions.

The athlete seems to feel an interest in the "flapper" type, although he admits he would not call her his "ideal girl." He would have her interested in athletics and would have her participate in the milder sports. A point made by another man is that she should not "faint at the sight of a mouse, nor lean heavily upon her escort's arm after walking two blocks."

We have a good joke on N. K. and Mr. Hanna but as the girl in the case has had her name in twice lately, we refrain.

* * *

What percentage of Bradley girls will permit a fellow to kiss them after they've had three dates a week for four weeks?

This deep question is being discussed in the halls and classrooms of our venerable Institute. The discussion is not whether it is right or wrong—perhaps one hesitates to say it is wrong for fear of being called a radical reformer.

However, one would suppose that college students might find worthier subjects to spend their time on, especially as finals are so near.

A posse should be appointed immediately to guard the Tech room and Bradley's bricks. Mr. V. Don O'Meara was tempting fate when he challenged us to print his name in our column. We intended to print a good Irish joke about Don but there were so many we couldn't decide which to use. Anyway we thank Mr. Kicks and Komments for spelling our name correctly.

Girl's basketball is to be featured this year by class teams. Heretofore there have not been enough girls out from the upper classes to afford a chance for class rivalry. The teams were chosen irrespective of class, and named according to colors.

This year, however, Miss Ewald is planning on having Junior-Senior, Sophomore and Freshman teams. The freshmen and sophomores are turning out for practice especially well and will therefore give considerable choice in picking the team. The juniors and seniors lag behind but have enough good material to give the under classmen a fight for the championship.

There will be another change in this year's basketball. Boys will be admitted to the games to root for their own class teams. This is being done in practically all colleges and high schools.

The teams will be picked by Miss Ewald and Emma Andreen immediately after the mid-year examinations. All those who are not carrying their work successfully will be eliminated.

EUREKANS AGAIN VICTIMS OF TECH IN LISTLESS GAME

GARDNER AND ROGERS STAR IN RUNNING UP EARLY LEAD ON CHRISTIANS.

Bradley's basketball quintet enjoyed at Eureka last Thursday evening another gala night when it romped over the Collegians for an easy 26 to 16 victory. From start to finish the Techmen held a commanding lead.

The Eureka contest was not as tough as Coach Robertson had expected. The Woodford County boys usually provide plenty of excitement for Bradley, no matter how insignificant their basket five may be. The team that defeated Normal by a comfortable margin did not present a very formidable array; and with any kind of luck in hitting the hoop, the Tech cagemen would have run up a large score.

Jimmy Gardner in particular seemed to have difficulty in making his shots stay put; many of them that were labelled baskets skidded out. Despite that fact, however, he registered four ringers from the floor and three points from the free throw line.

Neither Brewer nor Koepping being available for use at running guard, Coach Robertson elected to send in "Lefty" Tyler. He played the floor in a satisfactory manner, though his regular berth is the backguard position. Tyler and Barrett formed a defense which allowed the McKenzie five but very few short shots.

Rogers played his usual good game at forward and contributed eleven points to the score. He and Ralph Johnson, who started at the pivot position, were consistent in their efforts to bore their way into the Eurekan's defense to get the ball on its rebound from the Tech's back board. Siminski relieved Johnson early in the first half, when the rangy freshman took a bad fall under the basket.

Starring for Eureka were Captain Kirby and Bob Ryff, former Bradley athlete. Kirby was the mainspring of the Christians' offense and a big factor on the defense. Whittler, the gridiron star, also performed well in the Eurekan's struggle to stem the tide of the Techmen's sweeping attack.

BRADLEY DISPOSES OF AUGIE QUINTET IN GREAT VICTORY

GARDNER PUTS INDIANS IN LEAD OVER SWEDES AND ROGERS MAINTAINS IT.

Bradley's second victory of the week disposed of a tough foe, Augustana, whose warriors led by one Gustave Andreen fell before the smoothgeared Robertson machine by the score of 21 to 17. The fact that the Northmen had gained quite a reputation on their journey through Wisconsin, defeating several good teams and holding the mighty Marquette five to a two-point lead, did not face the Tech tribe in the least; for it stepped out and took the lead in the first few minutes of play and never relinquished it.

Perhaps the Augustana boys' defeat of the night before may have had something to do with their poor showing on the Poly court Saturday night. Monmouth downed them by the close score of 26-24 in an overtime grapple, and it may have taken a little of the heart out of them. Another reason might be assigned to the fact that they quarreled among themselves during the game.

Captain Andreen was, as he has been for the last three years, the big ace for Augustana. He tried in vain to rally his mates near the end, but to no avail. It was he who put them within reach of Bradley in the last few minutes, but the Hilltoppers managed to retain possession of the ball and finish the game with a safe margin.

Gardner and Rogers divided the honors of the evening. Jimmy put his team out in front early in the first half and Rogers kept them there by scoring three baskets at the time when they were needed most.

"Hunk" Barrett and Johnnie Brewer played a great defensive game. Very few short shots were the visitors allowed, so closely were the Tech's guards defending their objective.

Augustana could have made the score considerably closer had Andreen and Heider hit the hoop from the free throw lane with greater consistency. In this department of the game Bradley also outranked the Swedberg outfit.

EVENING MILLINERY CLASS

Evening classes in millinery are now being taught by Miss Lelia Whearty, instructor of sewing. The course consists of twelve lessons and is open to all women students, teachers and women of Peoria. A fee of $6 is charged to cover the expense of the course. The class meets each Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, at Bradley Hall.

Although the first class was held last Thursday evening, anyone desiring to enter now may make arrangements with Miss Whearty to do so before Thursday, January 25. Bradley women who take the course are allowed one credit toward graduation.

PUPPETS DELIGHT AUDIENCES AT TWO BIG PERFORMANCES

By EDNA WIETING.

Tony Sarg's doll, Sancho Panza, compares with actors like Fiske O'Hara in the influence it is capable of exerting over an audience. Were there any in the audience who did not feel that the marionettes were real; who did not feel that those jointed pieces of wood and clay, were responsible for the splendid performance afford them.

The stage and lighting effects in "Don Quixote" were counterparts of metropolitan stagecraft. The exact proportion of all the property pertaining to the stage, resulted in an optical illusion that made it impossible to realize that the characters were only twenty-four inches in height; the figures in the miniature puppet show but eight.

Although prepared beforehand for the false show when Mr. Sarg would make his appearance on the puppet stage, those in the audience were not able to adjust their eyes to see the man in his normal size.

Such master touches as Sancho Panza, that nimble dancing figure with moving eyes, and quick tongue, the lighting effects in the transformation scenes in "Rip Van Winkle," the singing scene in "Don Quixote," and any number of other major and minor details made the two performances last Thursday the success that they were.

The more or less set age limit, 6 to 60, is not extensive enough. There was a man of 65 in the evening assembly who, after every scene, remarked, his face beaming: "That is for kids," but his expression told that the play was not only entertaining to children.

I heard children shower questions that hundreds of children ask at any Tony Sarg performance; questions such as: "What makes them move?" and "Do they talk?"

The two clubs, English and Mask and Gavel, realized $75.00 apiece from the two performances. No definite arrangements have been made for their return next season. The next attraction that the two clubs will put on will be the presentation of a rollicking old English comedy "Gammer Gurton's Needle," produced by the Coffer-Miller players, on May 3.

FACULTY ACTION DOES AWAY WITH OPEN NIGHT EVENT

OTHER EXERCISES FACULTY FEEL ATTRACT MORE OF THE PUBLIC.

Continuance of Event Involves Unwarranted Disruption of Class Work Is Claim.

There will be no open night held at Bradley Institute this year. Faculty action at their last meeting did away for this year at least with this famous event of the college. It is probable, say faculty members, that some such exhibition will be held every few years.

The main purpose of open night was to show to the public of Peoria the work of the Institute. The feeling of the faculty was, however, that the tremendous amount of work involved in the display and the consequent disruption of the class work in certain departments did not warrant the continuance of the event. Furthermore, the commencement exercises have been drawing more of the public, and the spring pageant inaugurated last year by the production of the "Midsummer Night's Dream" has in a certain measure taken the place of the open night as a means of attracting the public to the Institute.

GENEVA CLUB AND G. A. A. SPONSORING A BIG CARNIVAL

FUNDS TO SEND Y. W. C. A. CABINET MEMBERS TO GENEVA CONFERENCE.

Every piece of candy you buy from locker 371 helps swell the fund that the Geneva club is raising to send girls to Lake Geneva as representatives from Bradley at the Y. W. C. A. conference in August.

The Geneva club was organized here this year for the purpose of obtaining $200 or more to send as many of the cabinet members as possible to the camp, to get in touch with other colleges, to learn what they are doing with their Christian Association and be able to lead the organization, the following year with advanced ideas. Dorothy Griesser, Ruth Cunjee, Ruth Schneider, Agnes Archer, and Helena Burke were the Bradley delegates last year.

A big carnival will be jointly sponsored by the Geneva club and the Girls' Athletic Association on March 16, in the gymnasium. Every organization and division of the school will be expected to take some part in the affair. It will be conducted on the order of "Main Street" of last year. Stella La Follette and Dorothy Griesser will name their committees and start work on it the first of next semester.

The organization of the Geneva club has relieved the Geneva chairman of a great deal of responsibility of raising the required amount.

The first semester's candy sale has netted the Geneva club approximately $60.

—B. P. I.—

The students of Bradley Conservatory gave last Monday evening in Bradley Hall a very pleasing program in which all departments were well represented. The performers displayed much talent and promise in their work.

We want You to Come And bring YOUR GIRL To the College Party Saturday, February 3rd. Dancing and eating Will be indulged in. Hogan will play.

To this college party in the gymnasium Saturday evening the fraternities and sororities of Bradley extend to the student body and the faculty a cordial invitation. In sponsoring this unusual social affair the fraternities and sororities are standing all expense, so don't stay away as it's free.

BRADLEY KEYED FOR BIG TILT WITH "LITTLE GIANTS"

WABASH TOUGHEST FOE ON THE TECH CHART APPEARS HERE THURSDAY.

Out for Seventh Conference Win Friday Night Against Mt. Morris.

Odds may be against the Bradley cage performers when they trot out on the hardwoods to meet their toughest foe Wabash College, Thursday night; but to predict that the game will be no walk-away for the "Little Giants" is not extravagant.

It will be the second Peoria appearance of the Indiana quintet in two winters. Though the Techmen bowed in submission before the celebrated Hoosier collegiate five last year, the possibility that they can even matters at this meeting serves to key them up to the highest pitch. It is barely possible that the Hilltoppers will meet the Wabash team off its regular stride Thursday night, while they themselves are hot at the basket.

Send Big Men Against Giants.

Coach Robertson will probably send in against the towering Wabash outfit the five biggest men in his camp. Last year it was demonstrated that against the Hoosiers good little men are almost worthless, as Coach Vaughan's men passed and shot at will above the Techmen's heads. Rogers, Gardner, Johnson, Koepping and Barrett will compare somewhat more favorably with the giant aggregation, and to them undoubtedly will be assigned the task of staving off the second loss of the year.

Mt. Morris Foe Friday.

The following night, Friday, Bradley tackles Mount Morris. As the upstaters are members of the I. I. A. C. Coach Robertson is particularly anxious to down them for the seventh consecutive conference win. Little is known of Mt. Morris' prowess.

EARLY TURNOUT OF TRACK CANDIDATES COACH JOHNSON'S URGE

FIRST NEED IS FOR A TEAM TO SEND TO ILLINI RELAY CARNIVAL.

"Every man in school who means business is wanted to come out for the track team," declared Coach Leo Johnson in issuing his call for track men. "It is not necessary for him to have been a star at high school as his talent may have been undeveloped."

Coach Johnson's urge now is especially for milers, half-milers, and quarter-milers. Unquestionably the sooner these men start training, the better condition they will be in when outdoor practice starts.

First need is for a team to send to the University of Illinois Relay Carnival to be held March 3. Both a one mile and a medley relay team will represent Bradley at this meet.

The list of men out at present includes among the hurdlers Captain Harrison, "Red" Ireland, Tom Carroll and Golden Babock; among the quarter-milers Gale Warner, Claude Hendrix, Freeman Skinner; among the milers are John Krabbs and Athol Elmore; and among the two-milers are Paul Diefenderfer and A. Fallettl. Albert "Red" Allen is practicing for the weights, and Fred Smith and Robert McFadden have started training for the dashes.

Coach Johnson wishes to see more dash, weight and middle distance men out as soon as possible. "With the nucleus of last year's undefeated team around which to build," he states, "the track team of '23 should enjoy a season even more successful."

The active chapter members of Sigma Chi Gamma will have a slumber party Friday evening, February 2, at the home of Myrtle Dustey.

Sorority Rushing Rules

Convinced that the sororities should be governed by more uniform restrictions concerning rushing and pledging the Inter-Sorority Council has deliberately drawn up the following rushing rules. The rules and restrictions are in force for the coming rushing season.

During registration and pre-rushing season new girls are not to eat at tables with sorority members, nor are they to be entertained in any manner off the campus.

Rushing shall be restricted to only those who are formally enrolled in class work in Bradley College, to those in the Conservatory and Horological School who have completed fifteen units of high school work. Rushing is not permissable before the third Friday of the fall semester nor before the second Friday of the second semester.

There shall be no communication between rushees and sorority members from the time the date books are mailed until the day rushing begins (the second Friday of the second semester.)

A rushee is not to accept two conflicting dates.

No sorority influence shall be exerted on the rushee, between the beginning of the rushing and pledging.

A time limit of one year is set for a girl to hold her pledge.

A girl who has broken her pledge to one sorority cannot be rushed by any other sorority for eighteen school weeks following the breaking of the pledge, and the twentieth school week.

No girl shall be initiated into a sorority who is not maintaining at the time of initiation an average of 4 grade points; the grade point average must be officially certified by the recorder and filed with the secretary of the Inter-Sorority Council at the time of initiation.

WESLEYAN SEEKS REVENGE IN TECH ENCOUNTER MON.

BATTLE DECIDES SUPREMACY IN STATE MINOR COLLEGE RANKS.

Many Stars Performing Under Green and White Colors—Peoria Boys Appear in Foe's Lineup.

Ever since they were made to swallow the bitter pill handed in the form of an unpleasant defeat in football last fall have Wesleyan loyalists been yearning for the eventful eve of February 5. It is at that time that Bradley and Wesleyan again contend for supremacy in the state minor college realm.

Apprehension reigns within the ranks of Bradley backers when they view the record so far made by the high-powered Green and White basketball five. To Augustana, the team Bradley downed by the close margin of 21 to 17, Wesleyan recently administered a 31 to 16 defeat.

The array of cage stars boasted by the Methodist institution this winter is further cause for the optimistic attitude assumed by Wesleyan fans. Oliver, Hausler, Zinser, Angelsea, Dunham, Gottschalk, Ware, Wilson, and Arends comprise the crew which "old grads" at the Evergreen City pronounce as the best yet. How to shift this human material around in such a way as not to slight the other temperamental stars on the squad seems to be the problem facing Coach Wimberley.

The Bradley fight can be depended upon to carry Robbie's band of "Fighting Indians" through to victory. In their minds dangle visions of a conference championship. Not even Wesleyan do they propose to let be an obstacle to their crystallization.

SALE OF TAGS MUST MEET WITH GREATER PROGRESS AT ONCE

"The Polyscope Tag Sale is not going as it should," said Russell Peters when asked regarding the progress of the sale.

One reason perhaps why the sale is dragging, it is thought, may be attributable to the fact that since tuition is now due many have postponed buying tags. Members of the Staff have solicited almost every person on the campus.

To a great degree the final appearance of the annual is dependent on the advance sale of tags. "If we do not sell more tags soon," explained Mr. Peters, "we will be forced to cut down on some of the features."

Every member of the Polyscope staff is selling tags, which cost $1.50.

HEATED FIGHT FOR LEAD IN INTRA-MURAL LEAGUE

STARS MAINTAIN A CLEAN SLATE BY NOSING OUT MURDERERS.

Tail-enders Expected to Cause Upsets—All Teams Show Improvement in Play.

Featuring the Intramural basketball race during the last week was the hotly contected battle between the undefeated Murderers and Jones' Stars for first honors.

The final score 12 to 11 is indicative of the closeness of the fight, which up to the last second of play was anybody's. A. Ruch wasted a splendid opportunity to put his team in the lead in the closing moments when he threw wild on both free offerings of a foul on the Stars. Meinen's long basket a minute before had put the bloodthirsty Murderers within one point of the Stars.

At half-time the Murderers led, 7 to 4; but this advantage they could not hold when once the eagle eyes of C. Ruch and Dixon started to locate the hoop.

Hookers Trounce Mechanics.

Suffering defeat at the hands of the Hookers forced the Auto Mechanics to remain in the cellar. The victory for the Hookers clinched their hold on the triple tie for second place in the league standing. Skinner, with four pretty baskets, led the scoring, while Stuber was the only one to find the hoop for the Mechanics.

Soph Engineers Also Win.

The Sophomore Engineers finally broke into the win column by drubbing the Shooting Stars by a 16 to 7 score. Millner, Reichle, and Swanson, were the main cogs in the victorious machine, while McClure and Tucker did all the scoring for the Stars.

STRIKING RESULTS OBTAINED FROM INTELLECT TESTS

QUESTIONS RAISED AS TO INTELLIGENCE OF VARIOUS COLLEGE GROUPS.

More Geniuses and More Imbeciles Among the Men Than Among the Women Is Conclusion Drawn From Curves.

Are Liberal Arts students more intelligent than those of the Manual Arts groups?—a question which was raised after Professor Joseph V. Hanna's report to the faculty on the intelligence tests that he has given to Freshmen entering Bradley the past two years.

Liberal Arts, Business Administration, Home Economics, and Manual Arts comprise the four groups into which the students were divided. The ratings were arranged in the form of graphs, at the top of which the first year stood the Business Administration group, with Liberal Arts second. The standing of these two groups for the second year was just the reverse, the Liberal Arts winning first honors and the Business Administration second. The two Manual Arts groups' being at the bottom both years is what caused the question to be raised.

Mr. Hanna realizes that these tests are not an absolutely accurate measurement of the students' intelligence; yet it must be admitted that the results prove the tests produce a fairly accurate correlation with the student's ability.

Faculty Keen Judges.

That Bradley's faculty-members are keen judges of human nature the following results will show. Each of the faculty was asked to rate his students on Punctuality, Perseverance, Leadership, Interest, Self-confidence, Tact, Reliability and Temperament. Results of these ratings were correlated and graphed by Mr. Hanna, and compared with a graph of the intelligence test results. The curves approached a reciprocal relation of .7 for reliability and 7.5 for tact, on a basis of 10 would mean complete correlation. All of which clearly indicates that to fool the faculty requires more tact than is commonly supposed.

Men and Women Compared.

Another feature of Mr. Hanna's interesting report was a graph showing the comparative intelligence of the men and women. Between the curves there was a marked similarity except that the curves illustrating the results of the intelligence tests of men ran both higher and lower than did the curve for the women, indicating as Mr. Hanna says that there are more geniuses and more imbeciles among the men than among the women.

Supplementary charts and graphs made the results of the intelligence tests most vivid and striking. Testing the freshmen by means of such tests is a field of study comparatively new, and in this sort of work Mr. Hanna has laid an excellent foundation. There is little doubt but that in future intelligence tests will prove of even greater value.

DR. T. C. BURGESS REMAINS AS HEAD OF THE INSTITUTE

BOARD OF TRUSTEES DEEMS CHANGE IN PRESIDENCY UNWISE AT THIS TIME.

Understanding of the Important Problems and Needs of Bradley President Burgess Alone Possesses.

President T. C. Burgess is to remain as head of Bradley Institute until the present work of reconstruction is more fully completed, according to a statement made by him exclusively to the Tech. Dr. Burgess asked the trustees last September to accept his resignation, which they did dependent upon their being able to secure a satisfactory successor.

The Board of Trustees has decided that it is unwise to make a change in the presidency at Bradley just at this time. While the newly added college is very prosperous, far more so than was anticipated even by its chief promoters, there are some important problems still to be settled. A comprehensive and sympathetic understanding of these comes only from long years of patient labor and personal contact, and cannot easily be passed on to another.

There is probably no person now living who has the intimate knowledge of Bradley and its needs that President Burgess possesses. He has been with the institution since its founding and has seen its student body grow from 350 to 2277, the number enrolled last year. The faculty has increased to keep pace with the remarkable development of the school—from 25 to 81.

The Teacher Training Courses, the Summer Session, Evening Classes, Conservatory of Music, the Junior and Senior years of College Work—all these have been added under his regime. He knows personally every graduate of Bradley—both Academy and College. Of no other person can this be said.

While Dr. Burgess is weary of the burden and would prefer to lay it aside, his interest in the future of Bradley is too sincere to allow him to place personal ease above what seems to be a higher obligation.

LOCAL PAPERS FEATURE BRADLEY IN WRITE-UPS

That Bradley's fame is growing is attested to by the fact that on next Sunday, the two Peoria papers, the Journal-Transcript and the Star, will devote the main page of their magazine sections to a write-up of Bradley Institute.

These articles, together with numerous pictures, will constitute two of the outstanding features of these papers. The articles are being written by the respective Sunday editors of these papers, Miss Marilee Barger and Miss Marie Strehlow.

—B. P. I.—

Mighty interesting work is being done also by the Glee club, which is under the supervision of Mr. Kenneth Stead. The men of Bradley are urged to co-operate with Mr. Stead and to attend rehearsal each Wednesday evening.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

What about that strenuous college life at Bradley? This is the question every graduate of a High School asks before he numbers himself among those in this institution. He has been told that only those willing to work need apply but he takes his chance.

Before many days, the novice goes marching gally along with everybody else except the "digs"; but why mention them? Nobody ever does, for they are unwisely allowing their lessons to interfere with their college education.

The sororieties and fraternities have helped him eliminate the "study evil," wisely ignoring the fact that nature abhors a vacuum. "Some days he hums happily, "I'm a flirting success," others, mid weeping and wailing for cash, murmurs "this is a game of checks, but no balances."

A few students believe that the Bible can answer all questions, have told him of the existence of these prophetic words, "Tomorrow will take care of itself." By their theory of unpreparedness, they have been able by means of their own good examples to keep the heresy of "study" out of college.

Thus it is that the strenuous life is ushered in, "undimmed by human tears." It furnishes the world with a few more atheists, to make religion a little more interesting; it supplies the tea importers a few more sippers; it provides for a few more bridge players; and makes possible more interesting wedding announcements as, "the bride and groom attended Bradley College."

In the end the strenuous life is for the dad at home, who supplies the oil to make Johnnie's wheels go round, and not for Johnnie whose chief business seems to be to scatter those self-same "wheels" to the ends of the world. But why worry. Some day like Mary's little lamb, the prodigal will come home dragging his life behind him.

It is announced that orchestra rehearsal will be conducted Tuesday evening at the regular time in the Conservatory building.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Professors at Bradley Institute took a prominent part in the 38th annual convention of the Illinois Society of Engineers, which was held in Peoria, January 23-25.

Mr. Siepert, Dean of the Teacher Training Department, and Mr. C. M. Hewitt, Professor of Auto Mechanics were both on the program. Dean Siepert spoke to the convention on the topic, "Psychology Tests and Their Uses"; while Professor Hewitt delivered a talk on "The Automobile Industry in Relation to Traffic Problems."

* * *

Wesley Budde, Veteran's Bureau Training man, who was sent to Speedway Hospital in Chicago for treatment, has been returned home for a few weeks' rest. He is reported as doing fine. His many friends hope to see him soon about the campus again.

* * *

Charles Schmidt has recently been employed to act as caretaker of the machine shop, just at present having charge of the tool crib. Later, however, he will assume full duties on repairs and upkeep.

* * *

A lot of parts were recently received for repair parts on the heavy duty lathes in the machine shop. They are in the nature of extra equipment.

Mr. Hurff, instructor of machine woodwork, reports the largest class in night school. The class averages 32 students—a large group for this sort of work. Because of the popularity of his work Mr. Hurff's classes always attract many.

* * *

Boys in engine laboratory are now in the midst of a very interesting study of the carburetor. Experimental work is being done on all types of carburetors, including a shipment of the latest models of this part of the gas engine.

This class will devote its time and attention to garage practice during the coming semester.

* * *

C. F. Rand and A. J. Butterfield leave Bradley at the end of this semester. "Old Man" Rand goes into placement training at the Hal Leech Engineering firm of this city, while Butterfield goes to Chicago for additional training.

* * *

Another registration was reported for Bradley dated about the year 1941, this time in the Home Ec. department. Joe Blechl is the proud daddy of a seven and one-half pound girl, born January 22nd.

* * *

Carl W. Booeg is a new Veteran Bureau man, registered in the machine drafting course. His home is in Peoria.

Dean A. T. Westlake of the Horological Department of the Institute has gone to New York City to attend a banquet given by the Horological Institute of America. Although Mr. Westlake did not expect to attend this particular banquet, he was urged to be present because at this meeting very important business matters are to be discussed and decided.

Mrs. Westlake accompanied him on the trip, and while in New York they will probably call upon their son Allen T. Westlake, Jr.

PROFESSOR DOSTAL LEAVES BRADLEY

Another well known member of the Bradley faculty who leaves this semester is Mr. B. F. Dostal of the Mathematics department. Mr. Dostal has been occupying the position left vacant by Prof. Comstock.

Mr. Dostal intends to go to the University of Chicago next semester in order to take up some advanced study in mathematics. Prior to his coming to Bradley Mr. Dostal was a member of the faculty of the University of Denver, Denver, Colorado. For a time during the war he served overseas in the artillery service of the United States army, being in that part of the work connected with the accurate sighting of the big guns.

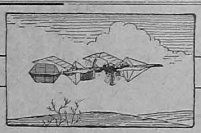
LANGLEY'S FIRST



MODEL IN FLIGHT

"The way of an Eagle in the air"

CENTURY after century men broke their necks trying to fly. They had not troubled to discover what Solomon called "the way of an eagle in the air."

In 1891 came Samuel Pierpont Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. He wanted facts. His first step was to whirl flat surfaces in the air, to measure the air pressures required to sustain these surfaces in motion and to study the swirls and currents of the air itself. Finally, in 1896, he built a small steam-driven model which flew three-quarters of a mile.

With a Congressional appropriation of $50,000 Langley built a large man-carrying machine. Because it was improperly launched, it dropped into the Potomac River. Years later, Glenn Curtiss flew it at Hammondsport, New York.

Congress regarded Langley's attempt not as a scientific experiment but as a sad fiasco and refused to encourage him further. He died a disappointed man.

Langley's scientific study which ultimately gave us the airplane seemed unimportant in 1896. Whole newspaper pages were given up to the sixteen-to-one ratio of silver to gold.

"Sixteen-to-one" is dead politically. Thousands of airplanes cleave the air—airplanes built with the knowledge that Langley acquired.

In this work the Laboratories of the General Electric Company played their part. They aided in developing the "supercharger," whereby an engine may be supplied with the air that it needs for combustion at altitudes of four miles and more. Getting the facts first, the Langley method, made the achievement possible.

What is expedient or important today may be forgotten tomorrow. The spirit of scientific research and its achievements endure.

GRADUATE OF EARLY YEARS CALLS ON DR T. C. BURGESS

Victor West of the class of 1903 called at the president's office last week. He is one of Bradley's excellent graduates.

After completing the literature group at Bradley, he graduated at the University of Chicago, and then returned to Bradley as an instructor in English. He engaged in business for several years and then went on with graduate work in Political Science. He has held positions at Northwestern University, University of Wisconsin, and for the last ten years has been professor and head of the Department of Political Science at Stanford University, California.

Mr. West was in all student activities during his period at Bradley, among other things he was editor of one of the earliest Polycopes.

He has many friends in the city especially among those who were at Bradley in the earlier years.

Machine ends problem of doubtful loves.

No longer need the doubtful lover remain doubtful. An apparatus being perfected by Dr. Albert Abrams, physician, of San Francisco, California, will mechanically answer the question of whether love exists in an individual, and if so, how much. The machine measure love by recording the vibration felt by the patient when he concentrates his thoughts on the girls of his acquaintance.

NORMAL UNABLE TO HALT LATE RALLY OF BRADLEY CAGERS

ROGERS-JOHNSON SCORE IN RAPID SUCCESSION TO OVERTAKE TEACHERS.

Bradley basketeers again demonstrated their fighting spirit by coming from behind to beat Normal by the score of 22 to 20, last Tuesday. In the first game with the Teachers, played on Bradley's floor, the Techmen came under the wire with a two point lead, and history repeated itself at Bloomington.

This is the fifth game in which the Poly cagers have nosed out their opponents by three points or less. In most of them, Robbie's warriors have come from behind in the last few minutes.

All the way through the Normal game was a thriller, the result ever being in doubt. Normal led at halftime, but long shots by Rogers and a short one by Johnson brought the Red and White to the fore, never to be overtaken.

Captain Rogers was the star and high-point man for Bradley. He caged four goals from the floor and scored five shots from the free-throw line. Johnson followed Rogers with three field baskets.

Barrett and Brewer played an airtight game on the defense. Time after time these two stellar guards spoiled Normal's chances for points. Brewer's dribbling and passing were par excellence, and though the diminutive star did not cage any shots, he displayed championship caliber.

Hoswell was substituted for Gardner in the first half and came through with some of the stuff that won him a letter last year. His basket in the second half came at a critical moment, and was one of the deciding points of the game.

The summary:

Bradley (22)

	F.G.	F.T.	Tot.

Rogers, f	4	3	11
Hoswell, f	1	0	2

ADD TO STRING OF VICTORIES; TROUNCE ARMOUR TECH, 25-16

CHICAGO FIVE PLAYS ERRATIC BALL AND MISSES MANY SHOTS.

Bradley continued its unbroken string of victories by taking Armour Institute of Technology into camp last Friday by the score of 25 to 16. The game was marked by poor teamwork and basket-shooting, it being apparent a few minutes after the contest had been sent on its way that the Chicago five was not going to cause the Hilltop tribe a whole lot of trouble.

The reason for Bradley's poor showing may be that "Robbie" was experimenting, but there was certainly a lack of action. In his effort to find the right combination, a combination that could give satisfaction, the Tech mentor used nine men.

Rogers and Johnson were the only two men to play up to form. They demonstrated their ability and their right to their places on the team by accurate shooting and good floorwork. A few more men to follow their shots like Johnson would give the Techmen a dangerous scoring machine. Rogers was again high point man, caging four field goals and five free throws.

Late in the opening period Coach Robertson substituted Hoswell for Gardner. Before being relieved, however, the Hoosier lad sank two long goals from the center of the floor. In the second half, at the start of which Bradley was in the lead, 18 to 8, Koepping and Tyler replaced Barrett and Brewer, while Siminski was sent in to relieve Johnson at center.

BOWLING.

The Manual Arts team No. 1 took 2 out of 3 from Manual Arts team No. 2 on last Thursday evening. The first game was won by team No. 2 by only one pin. It was the first game rolled in the newly formed Bradley Bowling League. It is planned that each team will roll 15 games. Prizes for the first and second teams as well as for the five highest individuals will be given.

Leo Randolph was the high man in both single game and series. He rolled 180 in his last game and averaged 150 for all games. Low scores featured the first set of games.

The scores:

EDITOR OF TECH CALLED TO HIS HOME LAST WEEK

George Johnson, editor-in-chief of the Tech, was early last week summoned to his home in Altona on account of his father's sudden relapse. So serious was the senior Mr. Johnson's condition that it was necessary to rush him to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. George accompanied his father to the hospital in the northern city. He writes that he will return Tuesday.

ARRANGE FOR BIG AQUATIC MEET IN BRADLEY TANK

WELL KNOWN OFFICIALS TO ASSIST IN CONDUCTING EVENT PROGRAM ON MARCH 13

School Organizations Requested to Enter Teams in Relay Races at Once—Meet Augments Intramural Program

In his endeavor to establish a full intramural program of athletic activities Assistant Athletic Director Leo Johnson last week completed arrangements whereby a big aquatic meet will be held in the Bradley tank on Tuesday, March 13. Every Tech student is eligible to compete in the meet.

The events in their order will be:

160 yard Relay
Fancy Diving
40 yard Sprint
100 yard back stroke
100 yard Sprint
200 yard Breast Stroke
Plunge for Distance
440 yard free style race

In running off the events Tech officials will have the services of Dick Granger, expert swimming referee. Granger attended Bradley in 1914 and 1915 and since then he has assisted in promoting and conducting several large meets of the nature planned by Director Johnson. In large part it was due to Granger that the champion Weismuller was brought to Peoria last summer for an exhibition at one of the municipal natatoria.

Arthur Crawley, former captain of Northwestern University swimming team, has been secured as judge of the diving events. While at Northwestern Crawley won recognition as the best fancy diver in the Big Ten.

The promoters of this coming meet hope to have even greater success than was attained by a similar event last year. Consequently, every organization in Bradley is requested to select representative teams and enter them in the relay contests. There are undoubtedly many good swimmers in the school who are eager for this opportunity to test their ability in competing for the handsome trophies that the officials are to award those who place in the events.

Mr. Johnson is anxious that the various school organizations hand their entrants' names to him at once. Individuals who wish to enter should also sign with him at the earliest possible moment.

SELECT COMMITTEE FOR RE-ORGANIZING TECH MANAGEMENT

RECOMMEND PUBLISHING BOARD OF 2 FACULTY MEMBERS AND 3 STUDENTS

Professors A. F. Siepert, W. Ross Marvin and L. G. Tillotson have been selected to act as a committee to reorganize the management of the Tech. They have recommended that a publishing board of five members be chosen, two faculty members and three student, the president of the student council being an ex-officio member, to have complete charge of the publication of the Tech, the fixing of the salaries of the editors, and the auditing of the books.

The plan will be presented in the next faculty meeting.

The Bradley Conservatory chorus under the direction of Mr. Franklin Stead is working on the "Elijah," and meets every Tuesday evening in Bradley Hall at 7:30. The chorus is open to new members and a full attendance is desired Tuesday evening to decide when and in what form the "Elijah" will be presented.

—B. P. I.—

The student recital given last Monday evening by the Bradley Conservatory pupils was one of great merit. The program consisted of voice, piano and organ numbers and every pupil acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner, showing that the work of the Bradley Conservatory of Music is of the very highest order.

DEBATE CHANCES LOOK POOR WITH TWO MEMBERS ILL

COACH MARVIN ATTEMPTS SEARCH FOR SPEAKERS TO FILL VACANCIES.

Blemfohr and Haman Out—Meet Lombard and Normal on League of Nations Question March 6.

Unless some good debating prospect is soon brought under the charge of Coach Marvin Bradley will be out of luck for a team to represent it on the platform this season. With Blemfohr and Haman both out of school with illness the team is practically at a standstill in their work, waiting for the selection of members to fill the vacant places. No likely prospects have, as yet, put in their bid for the position. Milliner seems to be the best of the scanty material available and will probably be the choice for one of the positions. Who will fill the place left vacant by the other debater it is impossible to decide.

Only a month remains before the first debate of the season which will be held jointly with Lombard and Normal on March 6, the League of Nations question being in dispute. Debate Coach Marvin is drilling a number of students in an attempt to prepare them to take the places of the missing members.

The debate with Michigan Agricultural College is still pending. Both schools have not been able to agree on the conditions under which the debate should be held and have not announced a final decision. Mr. Marvin expressed hope, however, that both schools would soon come to an agreement on the terms.

RECEIVE MANY NEW SPANISH BOOKS IN BRADLEY LIBRARY

Many new Spanish books have lately been received in the library and a wealth of material is now available to all those interested in the Spanish course.

The new books include:

Spanish Ballads—Morley.
Easy Spanish Plays—Henry.
A Picture of Modern Spain: Men and Music—Trend.
Tablas Cronologicas de la literatura espanola—Urena.
Selections from the novelas ejemplares—Cervantes.
Cambridge Readings in Spanish Literature—Stimmarice.
Spanish Literature—Clark.
Appleton's New Spanish Dictionary.
Art in Spain and Portugal—Dieulafoy.

Another very interesting book received is the "Peoria Book of Verse." This book, which has been put out by the Peoria Allied English Interests and published by the Manual Arts Press of Peoria, is purely a Peoria product and has been creating much talk throughout the literary circles of the city. It is a book of exceptional quality and very well written.

O. Henry, our great American writer of short story fame, in writing upon the subject of books, once gave a very interesting and lucid definition of Daniel Webster's Dictionary. This may be somewhat enlightening to those who so seldom carry into the mysteries of this great book.

O. Henry says: "We find on our table an exhaustive treatise on various subjects written in Mr. Webster's well-known lucid and piquant style. There is not a dull line between the covers of the book. The range of subjects is wide, and the treatment light and easy without being flippard. A valuable feature of the work is the arranging of the articles in alphabetical order, thus facilitating the finding of any particular word desired. Mr. Webster's vocabulary is large and he always uses the right word in the right place. Mr. Webster's work is thorough, and we predict that we will hear from him again."

MASK AND GAVEL MEMBERS TO SEE PLAY THURSDAY

GERTRUDE MAYER TRAINS STUDENTS FOR PARTS IN DRAMA.

Recent Appearance of Tony Sarg and Marionettes Proves Financial Success for Sponsors.

Members of the Mask and Gavel are preparing for the meeting of the organization to be held Thursday evening in which the dramatic talent of the club will unite in presenting a one-act play. The chief characters are being trained for their roles by Gertrude Mayer, assistant coach of the Mask and Gavel club. Plans for a business meeting in which the question of admitting more members into the organization will probably be decided upon are also being laid.

The play, which treats with the psychology of dreams, is a subtle drama dealing with the relations of the mind and dreams. Its name is suppressed at the request of the president of the Mask and Gavel. The parts of the chief characters in the play are taken by Helen Cole, Helen King and Cliff Ahrends.

According to Charles Mee, president of the Mask and Gavel, the recent appearance of Tony Sarg and his marionettes on the Bradley stage was a financial success. The English and Mask and Gavel clubs who combined in securing the actors for the presentation each had about 100 extra dollars for their treasuries after all the expenses were paid.

FORMER BRADLEY COACH PRESENT AT I. W. U. GAME

Fred C. Brown was one of the mob of 2,000 that begged and coaxed for admission to the Bradley gymnasium to see the Wesleyan-Bradley game Monday evening.

Out of that mob the former athletic director of the Hilltop Institution was one of the very few who gained admission. Returning to Peoria for the first time in three years after a sojourn in South America, "Brownie" found himself one of a great mob that surged back and forth in front of the gym doors. The crowd would not relax to let anybody through.

Coach A. J. Robertson, however, heard that Fred Brown was somewhere in that mob. Joe Cook, the former Peoria baseball hurler, is said to have been the one who brought word to Robertson that Brown was outside and anxious to get in. Robertson sent a corps of his able assistants out to find Brown and they brought him in via the fire escape, but here a dense throng blockaded his view.

Greeted With Cheers

It was not until between halves that Brown was discovered far back in a corner and brought forward to be duly introduced to the crowd. Great cheers greeted the former Bradley coach and honest tears came to his eyes as he waved a welcome and an appreciation of the ovation.

There were many in that throng that knew Brown personally, loved him as an instructor and friend and respected him as coach. Written in the archives of Bradley are the achievements of Brown's team, but his ethical standards for which he was so admired are remembered now only as a tradition. "It's Brown, it's Brown, it's Brown, who brought the Bradley boys singing through the town," they used to chant out on the hilltop.—Transcript.

The Bradley Conservatory orchestra under the direction of Mr. Eldon C. Murray meets each Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Conservatory building. The orchestra now consists of about twenty members, and is open to new members, for violin, cello, flute and bassoon. New members are urged to enroll at once in order that the orchestra may begin work on the next concert program.

Former Bradley Girl Helps to Found Magazine

Word has been received of the founding of a new magazine of poetry, "Rhythmus" by Agnes Smith Denwood in collaboration with other prominent New York poets. In addition to being one of the founders of the magazine Mrs. Smith Denwood is also one of the associate editors of the publication. The first issue was in January.

Mrs. Smith Denwood was a student in Bradley academy last year, leaving for New York in June where she become actively engaged in settlement work. Later she became poetry editor of the Art Review, a magazine of contemporary art. She was married to A. B. Denwood, a prominent business man of New York. Her interest in poetry increased with the writing of several poems which gained recognition for her in literary circles of the city. This resulted in the organization of the company to edit and publish the Rhythmus.

BIG CROWD SEES TECHMEN DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER

BRADLEY WINS SEVENTH CONFERENCE GAME, 26 TO 17; LOSE TO WABASH.

By Carl Buchele

Bradley ran true to predictions Friday night, dividing a bargain evening basketball double header. The Hilltoppers chalked up their seventh conference win at the expense of Mt. Morris college in the opening game and dropped an exhibition to Wabash's national collegiate champs in the main bout. Mt. Morris was routed, 26 to 17 and Wabash soaked the Techmen with a 34 to 17 figure. Over 1,600 persons packed the cage for the two events while of couple of hundred or so were refused admission.

Bradley regulars enjoyed the privilege of performing in both games, a la tournament style. Mt. Morris turned out to be just a little bit too tough for Robertson's game reserves and it took about five minutes of the varsity's entry to scuttle the northerners. Then the main ring performers came back and battled Wabash over the full route. A strenuous evening for five young huskies.

Tech Cops First Half

And for twenty minutes Hilltop fans had visions of their favorites slipping one over on the heralded Blue Giants of Crawfordsville, Ind. Pete Vaughan's boys didn't let themselves out in the first half while Captain Rogers' five played its hardest and the Hilltoppers carried an 8 to 6 margin in their favor at the end of the first half. The Techmen played some great basketball in that half and outplayed the Little Giants, if they can be called "little."

It didn't take much time in the second half to see the tide turn. Wabash's big forwards and six foot seven center broke through the Tech defense near the basket and piled in a load of sinkers. Chadwick at center, dropped them in with a couple of Hilltoppers on his neck, while Adams poked in a quarter from short range before he was ejected for personals.

Koepping and Rogers bagged all of the Bradley points. Koepping, playing his first game as a forward, gave all kinds of promise of being a star at the position Jimmy Gardner gave up when he quit the outfit a few days ago. Koepping was a big cog in the floor game and hung up four nice baskets. Most of his tosses came from beneath the hoop where he fought like a tiger.

A Rough Battle

It was a rough battle, with three cazes going to the showers after committing the limit on personals, Johnson was eliminated as well as Adams and Chadwick, of the Hoosiers.

The Mt. Morris boys gave the fans a run for their dough in the first clash. The northern five was just good enough to keep a few points to

BRADLEY DROPS LEAD IN CONFERENCE RACE TO WESLEYAN NET MEN

Frenchie Haussler and his battling cohorts outclassed the Bradley five Monday evening before a throng that filled every corner and loaded every beam and rafter in that expansive floor.

Illinois Wesleyan now goes into the undisputed leadership of the Little 19. Both Bradley and Wesleyan were undefeated previous to Monday evening's contest.

Rotten Basket Luck.

But what of Bradley? The team that wears the red and white did not please the home folks Monday evening. Was the defense weak or the Wesleyan offense all-powerful? Was the Bradley offense woefully weak or was the visitors' defense airtight?

Without detracting one iota from the stellar exhibition put up by the boys from Bloomington, without any attempts at an alibi, it can truthfully be said that the Hilltoppers suffered the toughest sort of luck at hitting the hoop. The Tech team that lost to Wesleyan Monday is good for more than two baskets against the Green and White, any night in the season. But for Monday's total, there were but two measly field goals to chalk up to the bluffmen. Eleven of the fifteen points made by the Bradley men were sent through the basket from the free throw lane by the captain of the Bradley basketeers, Clarence Rogers.

If we admit that the Techtesters were suffering a wee bit of tough luck on goals from the field, let us also go on record as stating that the Bradley offensive was not up to snuff, that it was one of the poorest exhibitions the Hilltoppers have put up all year. They were not passing the ball as they have been in the habit of doing in previous games. Their teamwork was of such an inferior order that they obtained but one close-up shot during the game, and that was one caged by Ralph Johnson to start the second half.

Bradley Cageless.

Bradley did not obtain a single field goal in the first half so active was Wesleyan's defense and so difficult was it for Robertson's gang to find the location of the basket. Here is a tabulated summary of the attempts and field goals caged during the game:

First Half.

	Attempts	Baskets
Wesleyan	27	4
Bradley	25	0

Second Half.

	Attempts	Baskets
Wesleyan	19	4
Bradley	18	2

From this tabulated review it can be seen that Wesleyan won largely because of a better percentage of shots sent through the hoop. The home five registered less than 5 per cent of its shots while the visitors were good for almost 20 per cent.

The first half showed Wesleyan far out in front with a seven point lead, the score reading, 10 to 3. The two teams battled along on even terms during the last half neither team having any material advantage.

So we have seen fit to criticise the officials for the close scrutiny which they gave the game. Their officiating resulted in four men being sent to the showers, the inimitable Haussler in the closing minutes of play. Oliver shortly before the game ended, Koepping early in the second half and Johnson late in the second half. It cannot be said that the removal of any of these individuals by reason of their personals materially weakened either team. Instead it perhaps added new blood where revivification was necessary for some of the tired pastimers.

However, in such a game where rivalry is intense it is essential that the officials keep their eyes wide open and call most anything that looks like a foul or the game will get away from them. The visitors led in the roughness as the fouls called will show plainly. John Zinser got a chance when Haussler was derricked and contributed a sleeper shortly after his arrival.

Brewer Cleanest.

John Brewer, Bradley dandy running guard and easily the smallest man on the floor played the cleanest game of all, he alone being the only man to get by without having a foul called on him.

Wesleyan showed in addition to the clever dribbling warrior, Haussler, a very clever floor performer in Bill Dunham, a good defensive man in Claude Ware at center, a fighting Gottschalk at the back guard job and a streaky Tom Oliver at running guard.

The Wesleyan phalanx was built around Haussler and closely knit into his style of play was the work of Dunham, Ware, Gottschalk and Oliver. On the other hand to rival in leading the offensive, Bradley had only Clarence Rogers, game basketeer that he is. But Rogers did not get the best support last evening. Fight as only Brewer and Barrett can, they could not keep Haussler and his cohorts from crowding the territory of the goal. All of Haussler's five baskets were short shots, made on rebounds or by dribbling up to the basket.

Wesleyan attained its 10 to 3 lead over Bradley in the first half by virtue of four field goals by Haussler and two fouls by Dunham. Bradley's three points in this period were made by Rogers from the free throw line.—Peoria Transcript.

INAGURATE ENGLISH COURSE FOR NEW STUDENTS ENROLLED

Realizing the need of more single semester courses and full year courses starting at the beginning of the second semester the department of English at Bradley has announced that a freshmen course in English composition will be started this semester. This course is the same one formerly given only to students starting at the opening of the school year. It is added for the benefit of new freshmen students registering in the middle of the term and for those who fail to carry the work the first semester.

The addition of other yearly courses at the beginning of the second semester as well as a number of half year courses is also being contemplated. This is as a result of the difficulty found by many new students registering at the mid-year in enrolling for many of the courses wanted.

THE RUB.

It is an obvious fact that the college is becoming less and less a selective agency. Where a century ago only the mentally precocious or the prospective preacher were to be found in the college, now the advancing proportion and the increasing heterogeneity of the college population are aggravating a condition that is becoming alarming to economists as well as educators.

It is not flattering to us as college students to be looked upon as parasites, yet during the time we are in college, economically speaking, most of us merit that name. Very few of us earn our own living and consequently for the four years we are in college we do not assume our individual economic burden. Not only the number but also the proportion of men and women going to college is increasing yearly. Some economists believe that if the present acceleration in the growth of the college population obtains as a whole will not be able to withstand the burden of feeding, clothing and housing so vast a number of non-workers.

To the educator this problem reflects upon, and brings to an issue his idea of the aims and functions of higher education. Practically, at least, the selective function is a passive and not an aggressive operation of the college. Harvard University has taken steps which may be open to criticism according to the present conception of the aims of higher education. There the plan has been proposed of automatically dropping the scholastically lower one-fifth of its students, whenever conditions become crowded enough to warrant such a step. Iowa University is considering a similar plan.

The problem has many angles. If educators come to the conclusion that higher education in its largest sense is for everyone, then some sort of an "earn-while-you-learn" plan may have to be the ultimate solution. If the college wishes to close its doors to the mob, cater to the mentally superior only, it will have to create more exacting entrance requirements which is far from the tendency at present.

However, educators attack the problem, the task of this student generation is clear: it must prove to the nation that a college education is valuable economically. It must prove that the four years of non-production spent in college are much more than counter-balanced by the increased efficiency of the individual in later life.—College Chronicle.

A MILESTONE.

With the passing of the semester examinations, another milestone is passed and we approach more closely that time when we leave this scene of our labors and interests.

Some of us can face the next semester with the satisfaction of having done ourselves and the school justice for the period that has just become history.

But to some of us will come the words, "You fail." To those of us who receive this dictum, comes at once a test of character. Shall we lie down—or shall we show that the creator did not make a mistake and give us cotton strings for backbone?

No one need fail.

Says Edison: "Genius is one per cent inspiration and ninety-nine per cent perspiration."

Our esteemed business manager, Mr. J. Edward Davis, rises up in wrath, and has asked us to print in our valuable column that: "The Tech room can be used to study in or as a loafing place, not NOT as a denizen of thieves and cut-throats." He goes on further to say: "They have stolen our exchange magazines, they have stolen our stationery, they have stolen our advertising material, and even my own personal magazines have stuck to the sticky fingers of some youthful Jesse James. I will give fair warning that the next time anything is missing, I am going to get real sore."

Kleinschmit: Hello, I want to reserve a box for tomorrow night. There will be six in the party.

Yes, sire, but our boxes only hold one person, but we will be glad to make one special.

Wall: Is this the Orpheum?

No, this is the undertaker.

Dr. Wyckoff: "In how many wars has U. S. engaged?"

Bill Hogan: Five.

Dr. Wyckoff: Enumerate them.

Bill Hogan: One, two, three, four, five.

God gives us strength to bear our studies each day, but he never calculated that we should leave them pile up for a week or more.

Dick Abbott: "May I have this dance?"

Helena B.: "Sure, what do you want to do with it?"

Dick: "That's just what I wanted to find out."

* * *

Dr. Wyckoff: "What can you say of the age of Elizabeth?"

Howard Tyler (dreamily): "She will be eighteen next month."

* * *

B. Powell: "Well, I think I'll go to my business law class tomorrow."

C. Mee: "I guess I'd better go with you."

Bert: "Why should you go, you are not in the class?"

Charles: "No, but you'll probably need some one to identify you."

The cornerstone on the new physics building at Iowa State was recently laid. It contains important documents and papers showing the progress of the college. The erection of this $225,000 building is but a part of Iowa State's great building program.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Word was received from John M. Shaffer who is teaching in the new community high school at Albion, Ill. Shaffer is having much success with his basketball team, judging from results to date. John is teacher of manual training in the new school. He plans to attend Bradley this summer and finish work for his bachelor's degree in Manual Arts Teacher Training. That Shaffer was an enviable student is shown by the fact that he attained membership in Phi Sigma Pi, national honor fraternity, while a student here last year. Shaffer was also an athlete, being a member of the 1922 basketball team.

* * *

Max Shaddinger writes that he is planning a return to Bradley during the coming summer session. Shad is teaching in the George Junior Republic in California. From all reports he seems to bet getting away with it too.

* * *

Mr. Hanna is gone. He was probably closer to the Manual Arts Teacher Training group than to any other group on the campus. We knew Mr. Hanna well ,and from that relationship there grew a sincere regard. We are sorry to see him go, although we do feel glad for him because of his promotion. We wish him the best of success.

* * *

Some one has suggested to the editor that he write an article in this column regarding grades—a sort of rebuke to some of us for not making grades. However, the student who made that remark may have felt, the writer feels that it is none of his business. He has enough to do to get his own grades. From observation (personal experience!) the writer does feel that most of us start like a whirlwind, hit the middle of the semester about like the warm air of a little furnace hits a big cold room in zero weather (kind of discouraged like) and then wind up the season by a supreme effort to fool the teachers. It may work once in a while, but it isn't an infallible method. Start in good style, keep going in that same style and wind up in good shape, and the grade machine will register a happy summer for you.

* * *

After taking finals we once more arrive at the conclusion that it is unwise for the instructors to leave the room while a class is taking that exam. "There is no honor among thieves" is an adage that might be well to remember. And we took finals in both Bradley Hall and the Manual Arts buildings. One is no better than the other. We suggest that secret booths be built before the next exams wherein the teachers may see and listen. It is a safe bet that there would be many a revision of thought and opinion as to why certain of us make the grades that we do. A dumbell is not a dumbell when he is a cheater!"

DENIS PAPIN'S STEAM CYLINDER

They Weighed Air—and Charles II Laughed

SAMUEL PEPYS says in his diary that Charles II, for all his interest in the Royal Society, laughed uproariously at its members "for spending their time only in weighing of air and doing nothing else since they sat."

This helps to explain why Charles has come down to us as the "merry monarch."

The Royal Society was engaged in important research. It was trying to substitute facts for the meaningless phrase "nature abhors a vacuum," which had long served to explain why water rushes into a syringe—the commonest form of pump—when the piston is pulled out.

Denis Papin had as much to do as anyone with these laughable activities of the Royal Society. Papin turned up in London one day with a cylinder in which a piston could slide. He boiled water in the cylinder. The steam generated pushed the piston out. When the flame was removed, the steam condensed. A vacuum was formed and the weight of the outer air forced the unresisting piston in.

Out of these researches eventually came the steam engine.

London talked of the scandalous life that King Charles led, and paid scant attention to such physicists as Papin, whose work did so much to change the whole character of industry.

The study of air and air pumps has been continued in spite of Charles's laughter. In the General Electric Company's Research Laboratories, for instance, pumps have been developed which will exhaust all but the last ten-billionth of an atmosphere in a vessel.

This achievement marks the beginning of a new kind of chemistry—a chemistry that concerns itself with the effect of forces on matter in the absence of air, a chemistry that has already enriched the world with invaluable improvements in illumination, radio communication, and roentgenology.

SOCIETY

The Sophomore Class will have a party Wednesday evening, February 7. There will be dancing, games and eats. All Sophomores should come out and have a good time.

* * *

The members of R. O. B. held a business meeting Wednesday noon.

* * *

The College Party given by the sororities and fraternities for the student body Saturday evening, February 3, was a very successful affair. About sixty couples enjoyed dancing from nine to twelve. Refreshments were served.

The Lambda Phi sorority will give a benefit card party on Saturday afternoon at Bradley Social Hall, as the first of their series of benefits. The money from this card party will be given to the Student Loan Fund at Bradley.

Mrs. Edward Root is general chairman and reservations may be made with Mrs. Leland Weers—telephone 2-4023.

* * *

Members of Omicron Tri Kappa sorority met Wednesday evening, February 7, at the home of Grace Nelson, 126 Moss. A buffet supper was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a business meeting.

The Alpha Pi fraternity met Tuesday evening, February 6.

* * *

Delta Kappa sorority held formal invitation on Saturday afternoon for Mabel Schmidt at the home of Mary Wynn Stowe on South Glenwood. A buffet supper followed the ceremony and later the members attended the college party at the gym.

* * *

The active chapter of Lambda Phi will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Marjorie Ogden on Dechman avenue.

THE CO-ED

By Bernice Jones

Spirit cannot be measured. There is a great deal of talk now about the intelligence tests and there is no doubt but what they help the teacher judge the abilities of a student. However, they do not take into account will power, personality, and that indefinable something, the winning spirit.

Many basketball and football games are examples of this. Why is it that Bradley has won so many of their games by just a few points? Why was it that in the Normal game they overcame a lead of 5 points in the last few minutes of play, and won the game 25 to 22. It was not superior skill or superior strength. It was superior spirit.

How does Bradley as a college measure up in regard to this "superior spirit"? Are most of our students here to be entertained, or to put in and get out of college life all the good they can? We have too many boys styled "tea hounds" and too many girls called "society buds."

A person gets what he gives. To be really entertained one must entertain others. It would be a safe bet to say that more real fun was had at old fashioned barn dances, where the Virginia reel and square dances were hailed by those present as the "real sport" than at most of our up-to-date formal affairs.

The sophisticated and worldly wise student will smile at the idea, but this was meant for he who smiles. The way we spend our leisure time is bound to have an effect upon our school life. And school life is usually a sample of what our entire life will be. Be sure you know what is worth while.

the good of Robertson's reserves and they held a 10 to 8 edge when the first half was over.

The second half got under way and Mt. Morris gave evidence of packing away a bigger lead, and after five minutes Robertson shot his first quintet onto the floor and Mt. Morris' little jig was up.

It took Captain Rogers' men a few minutes to get the hang of things but they soon broke through and started some heavy counting. Rogers' eye was in great shape, as was Koepping's, and after about eight minutes of toil, the regulars held a 26 to 15 lead. Out they came and the yearling went back and held everything safe.

EDUCATIONAL FILMS SHOWN VOCATIONAL MEN EACH WEDNESDAY

Just by way of experiment Dean L. P. Elliott is having shown to vocational men motion pictures each Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Tractor building. The plan so far has proved very successful, he declared when interviewed last Monday.

In as much as Bradley owns its own motion picture machine and as the films are furnished free of charge by various industrial firms, Dean Elliott sees no reason why such a plan should not prove highly practicable. The United States Department of Commerce co-operates in the manufacture and the distribution of approved industrial films. Such motion pictures already shown to the vocational men include those of the Cleveland Twist Drill Co., Buick Co., and the International Harvester Co. Those scheduled for future dates are: January 31, The Manufacture of an Electric Meter by Sangamo Electric Co.; February 7, The Manufacture of a Tire by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.; February 14, Uses of Drafting Machinery by C. F. Pease Co.

As soon as the necessary funds are procured a $125,000 gymnasium will be built at Lawrence College, according to a recent decision of the board of directors of that institution. A campaign for $250,000 will be started soon, as it was also decided that appropriations for the enlargement of the Science Hall and the running expenses of the new building be included. The board further decided to adopt the four-quarter plan of school year at Lawrence.

As the present library at St. Olaf College no longer adequately fills the need, a campaign is now being held to raise $200,000 for a new building to replace the present structure known as Steenland Library. Up to date almost $75,000 have been pledged by Alumni and friends and it is expected that the goal will be reached by June 1st of next year.

LOMBARD INVADES HILLTOP TO AVENGE EARLY DEFEAT

BASEBALL SOON TO HOLD CENTER OF SPORT STAGE

COACH TO ISSUE CALL FOR CANDIDATES AFTER WESLEYAN GAME

With the lowering of the basketball curtain at Wesleyan on March 8, Coach Robertson will issue a call for baseball candidates. It is very probable that the battery men will start daily workouts about March 1.

The schedule is not complete, but will in all probability contain games with Wabash, Charleston, Normal, Millikin, Wesleyan, St. Viator, Armour Institute, State Normal.

Although at first glance the baseball outlook is not imposing, there is an abundance of new material which, with last year's outfield and pitching staff, may be rounded into a championship nine.

With Captain Bernard Allen, Tommy Correll, and "Red" Ireland back, the outfield will be well taken care of. Dixon, Molnea, Gregory, C. Rush and Metzel will also put in bids for outfield berths.

The problem of organizing an infield to replace the Schmidt, Manley, McMahon, Ettinger combination of last year is the biggest worry at present. However, the return of Earl Doubet, former Bradley academy star and later a member of the University of Illinois squad, who registered for the second semester, relieves a great deal of that worry. He can play second or short. Other aspirants for the second base, third base and short stop positions are Fritz, Brewer, Friedrich, Jones and Hoswell, all of whom have enviable records.

The catchers who have signified their intentions of reporting are Hindle, Haffner, Reichle, and Allen Ruch, besides Buckley of last year's team.

"Lefty" Tyler and Tom Carroll, who shared the bulk of the pitching last year, will undoubtedly repeat, although Rogers, of the team of '21, will put in a strong bid for a permanent assignment on the mound staff. Rogers is also an exceptional infielder.

There promises to be a hot fight for protector of the initial bag with Koepping, Ralph Johnson, Landers, and others struggling for the position. Ernest Koepping probably has the edge at present, though Landers is an experienced first sacker, and will afford other aspirants plenty of competition.

—B. P. I.—

Food and Fun Form Program for Joint Y. W. C. A. Party

Members of the Industrial girls' department of the Peoria Y. W. C. A. will be guests of the Bradley Y. W. girls Saturday evening, February 17th.

Elaborate plans consisting of a program of varied entertainments, refreshments, and musical numbers has been arranged by Francis Wood, general chairman of the affair.

The heads of the various committees are:

Dorothy Starbuck—Entertainment.

Melba Blank—Refreshments.

Katherine Langton — Decoration.

MAKE PLANS FOR HOLDING ANNUAL INTERSCHOLASTIC

DATE ADVANCED ONE WEEK TO GIVE PREPS MORE TIME FOR TRAINING.

Although the date of the annual Bradley Interscholastic Track Meet is over a month and a half away, track manager, Edward Siminski, is busy planning to accommodate a larger crowd and entry list than ever before.

The date, Saturday, May 5, is one week later than the time usually set for the meet. This will induce many new schools to send a team, as it will give them more time to get in shape.

Forrest, winner last year, will be among the headliners, but will miss Leonard, the high point man of the meet for the last two years.

The Peoria schools, Peoria High, Manual and Averyville will be represented, but Rex Shraub, Manual's speedy quarter and half miler, seems to be the only hope of the local preps at present.

Champaign, Urbana, Springfield, Bloomington and Galesburg are always among the larger schools who put in a bid for the championship hunting, and this alone assures class.

The smaller schools, however, always carry off a good share of the honors. Toluca, with Dicenzo, the deer-footed sprinter who copped the 50 and 100 yard dashes wherever he went last year, looms up as especially strong.

Miss Katherine Horenz, pupil of Miss Edith Clinebell, teacher of voice culture, won the amateur musicar scholarship for the coming year.

HOME EC. MEMBERS BRING CHAPEL SPEAKER

Miss Florence Kelley, general secretary of the National Consumers' League will speak in chapel Monday, February 19. Miss Kelley will lecture at the University church Sunday evening. Through the courtesy of Dr. Carpenter of that church, the Home Economics Club will be able to bring Miss Kelley to Bradley.

The association which Miss Kelley represents aims to protect the maker and distributor of factory-made articles and to educate the consumer in his responsibility toward labor. It was organized in 1899. Miss Kelley, then factory inspector in the State of Illinois, was active in the plans of organization "Shall our children pay for the War?" "The Blanket Amendment," and "Child Wage Earners" are a few of the vital problems on which Miss Kelley speaks.

VARSITY TUMBLES ALUMNI CREW IN SLOW GAME 34-23

KUPPER, SCHERRER AND MANLEY STAR FOR "GREYBEARDS"

"Youth must be served" was proven last Friday night when Bradley Varsity trampled on the Alumni, 34 to 23. The game was marked by the teamwork of the younger Techmen and the lack of it on the part of the graduates.

Coach Robertson had his Red and White five working in good order and it speaks well for the defense of the Alumni that the score was not larger. Ralph Johnson and Koepping were hard to hold under the basket and Captain Rogers was a constant menace from beyond the free-throw line.

Koepping and Rogers were the high-point men of the Varsity, scoring four field goals apiece. In addition, Rogers dropped six ringers through the hoop on fouls committed by the Alumni.

The game was rather erratic. It went from high speed to a crawl and then back again. This might be accounted for by the poor condition of the Greybeards. Their lack of wind and fullness around the belt showed little basketball but lots of food.

Barrett was the shining light of Regulars on the defense. Not only did he break up numerous plays but he was able to dribble up the floor to within shooting range on several occasions. Brewer was not far behind Barrett in stopping the Alumni offense and working the ball under his basket.

LARGER ENROLLMENT FOR SECOND SEMESTER

The registration for the new semester is 570 as compared to 547 for the count of the fall term. This figure covers only the college and vocational departments of the Institute. There have been quite a number of students withdrawn, but the new entries more than make up the loss.

The men in these two departments outnumber the women two to one.

It is anticipated that the total enrollment for the year 1922-1923 will be 2500, an increase of some 200 students over the number of last year.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS TO RECEIVE TRAINING

Miss Haney, representative from the national headquarters of the Girl Scouts at New York City, will conduct a course of training for girl scout leaders at Bradley Hall from April 2 to April 14. The course is open to all seniors and juniors, who receive faculty permission and to the public at large.

The same course is being presented now at the Municipal University of Akron, Ohio, by Miss Haney. In March the Municipal University of Toledo will present the course.

The girl scout leader training movement has been popular in girls' colleges in the east, especially at Vassar and Smith colleges. The west has also favored the movement but the middle west has not been as active as the other sections of the country. Bradley and the two Ohio colleges are the first to become interested in this phase of the girl scout organization.

For use in the files of the Institute the Tech wishes to have two copies of the April 5 Tech of 1922, number 27; issues number 37 for 1922, and the 2nd and 3rd issues for September, 1922. Any student willing to part with these copies should bring them to the Tech office.

Social Hall Scene of Sophomore Students' Valentine Party

The Sophomores are alive and going. They had a Valentine Party in the social hall, on Wednesday evening, Febuary 7th.

Dainty tables filled one end of the room, at which the fair damsels, and their young escorts chatted over a friendly game of bridge. Those not desiring to play cards, entered into the "footmusic" accompanied by a four piece orchestra.

Super-dainty delicacies decorated with hearts, brought the gastronomical delights of the evening to a climax. Silently one by one of the party wended their way home thru the infinite shadows, to the strains of "Home Sweet Home".

POLYSCOPE PLANS THREATENED BY LACK OF SUPPORT

MANAGEMENT WILL BE FORCED TO DISCONTINUE WORK UNLESS MORE TAGS ARE SOLD.

Unless a change comes over the student body in the matter of buying Polyscope tags Bradley will be without an annual for possibly the first time in its history. This was the gist of the information given out to the Tech Monday by Russell Peters, business manager of the year book. The lack of interest shown by the students threatens to half all work on the book.

"The tag sale has been in progress three weeks," said Mr. Peters, "And to date only 104 tags have been sold. The staff has planned a book which will necessitate the sale of 500 tags to make a success and unless at least 450 of this number is sold we cannot stand the burden of the enterprise and will be forced to discontinue our plans."

"In order to get a Polyscope one must buy a tag. This is because the staff cannot have more books printed than are ordered. The business manager and the editor-in-chief are financially responsible for the publishing of the book and unless the students back us up in this matter it will mean that there will be no 1922-23 Polyscope."

Tags for the annual are being sold by Grace Jamison, Grayson Reisch, Ted Voorhees, Stella La Follette, Paul Diefenderfer, Marshall Curtiss, Charles Mee, Ralph Lynch, Wayne Buckley, Marion Caton, Mary Thompson, Edwa Humphrey, Marjorie Ogden, Lucille Stansell, Helena Burke and Berneice Jones.

MEMBERS RE-ORGANIZE G. A. A. CONSTITUTION

The constitution of the G. A. A. has been reorganized. For some time it has been known and realized that reformation was needed but this task has only been undertaken recently. According to the plans for the new constitution the organization is to be more of an honorary institution rather than in present form and to make a certain number of points, as yet undecided, necessary for membership. The membership fee will be raised to 50 cents a year and will be due at the time of initiation. The officers are to be chosen each spring and to be trained for their positions by the ex-officers.

This new ruling decrees that a requirement of 800 points be earned for a "B", with 300 points deserving a minor award, a numeral or a pin, and 1200 a major award, which has not been decided. By this method a girl can win her "B" at the end of her sophomore year or beginning Junior year.

BRADLEY MUST SUBDUE OLIVE TO STAY IN THE CONFERENCE RUNNING

TOSS-UP BETWEEN DOUBET AND KOEPPING FOR FORWARD BERTH VACATED BY GARDNER—MILLIKIN CARDED FOR RETURN GAME AT DECATUR MONDAY.

Lombard swoops down on Bradley Friday evening hoping to atone for the Techmen's basketball victory over the Universalists early last January. Two overtime periods, it will be recalled, were required to give Coach Robertson's Indians a hard-earned victory over the strong Schissler tribe in their first meeting at Galesburg. Largely because of that beating the "Golden Tornado" team will be in rare fighting trim when it meets the Poly five here this week-end.

Murphy, Lamb, Swanson, and Meyers give Coach Schissler a mighty fast offensive combination. It was their lightning speed and their aggressive style of play that forced the Red and White to go the limit to emerge victorious. Since their skirmish with the Hilltoppers early this season the Olive cagers have been going great guns and are expected to give the Techmen some merry competition.

Bradley Still in Race

Though the tabulated standing shows the Tech to be a full game and a half behind Illinois Wesleyan, Bradleyites have by no means relinquished hopes of winning the I. I. A. C. title. The Methodists must still meet six of the strongest teams in the conference, among them Bradley, before they can lay claim to the confalon. In these six remaining games Wesleyan is almost certain to meet her match.

Six more consecutive wins would give Bradley 13 victories and one defeat as compared to Wesleyan's 12 victories and two defeats, provided Bradley and another "Little Nineteen" aggregation take her measure, and the undisputed right to the title. Should Bradley fail, however, to register a second victory over Lombard Friday the Red and White will be practically eliminated from the race.

Hot Scramble for Forward Berth

The accurate eyed Gardner's absence has indeed been felt in the last two important games. Since there is little possibility that the Hoosier lad will be playing in the line-up Friday, Coach Robertson is letting his choice for the vacancy rest between Earl Doubet and Ernest Koepping, both of whom put up a keen brand of ball in the alumni tilt last week.

Doubet will be remembered as having been a member of Bradley athletic teams in '19 and '20. Both years he was in addition to being high scorer on the cage outfits the mainstay of the Red and White defense. Though he has played little basketball since leaving Bradley to attend the University of Illinois, he is through intensive drilling fast developing an accurate eye for the hoop. Doubet also competes in football and baseball, in which latter sport he is a polished infielder.

Journey to Millikin Monday

The Tech's sailing after the Lombard game is anything but smooth. Next Monday the Poly cagers perform on a foreign court, meeting Millikin at Decatur. To repeat a victory over the Wisconsin tribe in their own lair is going to be no easy task, for the long, narrow floor is decidedly in favor of the Big Blue aggregation.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE AT MEETING OF REGISTRARS HERE

MISS ANNA LE FEVRE ON COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Registrars of Illinois colleges will meet at Bradley Monday, April 16, tentative, to organize a state association of college registrars. The committee in charge of their initial meeting consists of: G. P. Tuttle, University of Illinois, chairman, Cliff Guild, Wesleyan, and Miss Anna LeFevre, Bradley.

Some twenty-five members will convene for one day to discuss the best and most efficient methods of their line of work. The program has not yet been completed.

At the national convention at St. Louis last summer an organization of Illinois college registrars was conceived, and the committee appointed.

The meeting will not bring together a large body of people, but it will bring the name of Bradley before most of the major and minor colleges and universities of Illinois and will, to some degree, make the college better known.

MASK AND GAVEL PLANS GREEK PLAY

The Mask and Gavel club held their regular monthly meeting in the Social Hall, on Thursday night, February 8.

The first part of the evening was turned over to a business meeting. Miss Nadine V. Shepardson, instructor in public speaking and dramatic work in the college, told of the plans that are being made to put on a Greek play, in the place of repeating "Mid Summer Night's Dream" this year. "The music this year," she said, "is to be in keeping with the play."

After the short business meeting, the members were entertained by a play, "Suppressed Desires," coached by the assistant dramatic coach, Gertrude Mayer.

Helen King, who took the leading part, showed exceptional skill in her facial expressions, as well as in her grace.

Helen Cole looked very lovely and acted her part with unusual ability.

Mr. Clifford Arends, the only man in the play, showed his capability in playing his part with natural, but forceful enthusiasm. He added humor to the play, as well as a contrast in the type of characters.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and a general good time.

Dainty refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Hope Gordon was chairman.

—B. P. I.—

The English club met Tuesday evening, February 13, in Social Hall. The roll call was answered by statements about Czecho-Slovakia. After the business meeting a social time was enjoyed.

STOP LIVING IN PRACTICE HOUSE

Residence in the Practice House, 106 Laura, has been discontinued for this semester. The course in Home Management with residence at the practice house will now be offered in the fourth year of the Home Economics course. The girls will live in the house a longer period of time than formerly and more practical problems in household management will be introduced.

RELICS OF BARBARISM.

Two years ago a professor at Northwestern University furnished collegiate circles a topic for discussion by making a public declaration that college examinations are relics of barbarism, but we do not think that we have yet come to the place where they can be abolished.

Examinations are essentially an artificial spur to the students upon which their graduation is dependent. There is a small group of students who do not need this spur to insure their serious pursuit of their studies, but we are quite certain that the group is quite small. And for the sake of democracy, these few must submit to these examinations with those whose work has been only to the end of completing the course.

Whether or not we shall all of us ever come to the place where the faith of the professor may be vindicated and examinations abolished is a matter of conjecture. The fact that colleges and universities are now casting about for some means of selecting the students whom they will admit may be the forerunner of this equally drastic step. But until our student bodies do become select groups of earnest students studying to the maximum instead of merely "betting," we must expect to have this barbarous institution with us.—The College.

"PRIVATE DRIVEWAY."

"Private Driveway" is the enticing phrase used to denote the main thoroughfare which bisects the main part of the campus. Does not this notice give rise to the question that Bradley is exclusive and everyone is not welcome on the campus? To an outsider the sign in reality has no more effect than the worn out signal "Beware the dog." Autoists and pedestrians pay no attention whatever to it. Why should they? Are they not entitled to pass through and enjoy the beauty of our campus? Is not "Institute Place" one of the most used thoroughfares of the city, especially by those who live in the uplands and who go down town by Moss avenue which connects on to Institute?

Why then this sign? Why not do away with such a forbidding greeting and replace it with another which would read "Welcome"? Then, after having installed such a sign, probably no one would seriously object if the roadway were rebuilt and not merely repaired. It should be the duty of the city and the Institute authorities to keep this road in good shape. Sightseers in the city have but small opportunity to view our campus when passing through the campus. Most of their time is spent in maintaining an equilibrium. The digestive facilities which the road offers are very numerous. Why does not someone in authority take steps to bring about these two much-needed changes?

IRELAND'S ILLNESS HURTS TRACK PROSPECTS

With Harrison "Red" Ireland, track captain, in the hospital recovering from an attack of pleurisy, the prospects for a championship track team take a downward slant. Captain Ireland is an infallible point winner in his events, the high hurdles and the high jump. Not a high hurdle race in which he has entered since competing in minor college meets has he lost.

It is hoped that Ireland will not be lost to the baseball nine this spring. Right field is his position. The Washburn lad is a good hitter, having finished last season with a .350 average.

IDEAL TROY DOES GOOD WORK

ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT ISSUES TAX EXPLANATION

LESS THAN ONE CENT OF EACH DOLLAR OF TAX GOES TO STATE UNIVERSITY.

Although the Federal Government raised 388 million dollars in Illinois in taxes of various kinds during the assessment year 1921, and the local government units raised more than 216 million from general property tax the same year, the State Government raised only little more than 15 million dollars for general property tax. This is the heart of a circular, "Where Lies the Burden of Taxation," issued last week by President David Kinley, of the University of Illinois, on the tax question.

"Where is the burden heavies?" asks the President.

"Of the total taxes paid as shown above about 62 percent was for federal, 25 per cent for local purposes, and about 3 per cent for State purposes. That is to say, of each dollar paid by the people of Illinois in these taxes for the support of Federal, State and local governments, 62 cents went to Washington, 25 cents were locally expended, and about 3 cents were spent for general State purposes. If the whole State general property tax had been abolished, each Illinoisan would have saved about 3 cents on the dollar of the above taxes.

"It should be remembered that the $19,073,000 of state revenue is not the whole of the state income from which appropriations were made," he pointed out. "It is only that part raised by the general property tax. In addition some thirty-seven millions were raised from taxes on corporations and other sources. But educational appropriations are charged to the income from the general property tax.

"If the amount raised for local and State purposes from the general property tax ($235,467,000) 92 per cent was for local expenditures, and 8 per cent for State purposes, and some of the State money went back to the communities for schools.

"The University's share of each dollar paid in the above taxes by the people of Illinois in 1921 for Federal, State and local purposes was seven and one-half mills. This amount not only pays for the teaching of 11,000 young men and women a year, but also meets the expense of the research and other work done by the University at the request of the people."

FORMER DEAN TALKS TO UNIVERSITY WOMEN

The following article was taken from the Sunday Journal-Transcript regarding Miss Ethel Lyons, formerly dean of women at Bradley and now serving in the same capacity at the University of Oklahoma:

Miss Ethel Lyons, dean of women at the University of Oklahoma, lectured before the members of the Oklahoma City branch of the American Association of University Women Saturday afternoon following the luncheon given by them in the club rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association.

"The Goal of Higher Education for Women," was the topic of Miss Lyons' lecture, which she prefaced with a short sketch of the woman movement from Biblical times down to the present. Miss Lyons said that the twin children of the modern woman movement were the elective franchise for women and education for women. According to Miss Lyons, the third child is the problem of mental development versus motherhood. The solution of this problem, the mother's responsibility to the child and the state's responsibility to the mother, were discussed in an interesting manner by Miss Lyons, who stressed upon the family as the basis of civilization. Points emphasized by the lecturer were the necessity for physical development of women, the birthright of every woman to develop her mental life, their need of preserving their individuality and their field for best service in complementary service. The responsibility of college women in solving the women problems of today was pointed out by Miss Lyons in closing her talk.

Your Chance to Make the Movies

You might be the one! Here's a chance to get a $1000 scholarship, make $500 besides, and secure another $1000 for Bradley by writing a scenario for the "movies". The scholarship is offered by Carl Laemmle of the Universal Pictures Corporation. Any college or university may compete for it.

There has been a constant cry for "better motion pictures", and that is one of the main reasons why this appeal is being made to college students. They are the ones to bring about a change if any is expected.

The scholarship will be paid on or before October 1, 1923, to the treasurer of the college at which the prize winner is enrolled, and shall be paid to the student in equal yearly installments throughout the balance of his or her college course.

In addition to the scholarship the scenario will be paid for at a rate to be determined by the Universal Company, but not to be not less than $500. The college at which the winner is a student will also receive $1000. Other stories used will be paid for at the rate of $500 each.

The scenario should be written in short story form in a simple and brief manner. The process of arranging the continuities and working scripts will be taken care of by the scenario department at Universal City, California.

THE CO-ED

By Berniece Jones

Chapel is a fine place to hold a chatting bee when one sits with a group of one's friends. However, here is one place where we should consider the feelings of someone else before our own pleasure.

It is our duty to treat our chapel speakers with proper respect. Duty is a dry word. What it amounts to in this case is merely a little unselfishness.

Our chapel speakers are not paid. It is a favor on their part to come to Bradley. They come expecting an intelligent, appreciative audience, and sometimes find one which would be a discredit to a grade school.

One of our women speakers this year went away so disgusted with her treatment that she said she was never going to appear before an audience again.

'VARSITY TUMBLES ALUMNI CREW IN SLOW GAME—34-23

Gus Kupper was the big ace for Alumni. His unerring eye found the hoop four times for counters and his floor work was one of the outstanding features of the Alumni team's play. Williams at backguard was a big factor in turning back the onslaughts of Coach Robertson's protegee. Manley and Scherrer covered the floor in good style, Manley showing that he has lost none of his former speed.

FORM NEW COLLEGE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Formation of a new athletic conference of colleges in the middle western states was discussed at a meeting of athletic directors of six colleges at Chicago on Saturday. The constitution was presented and approved but it will not be accepted until word is received from two other schools who are expected to join.

Colleges represented at the meeting were: Western State Normal College of Michigan, Valparaiso University of Indiana, St. Viator, Bourbounnais College, Columbia College, and De Paul University. The two other colleges expected to join the proposed conference are the La Crosse State Normal school and Carroll college. Five states will be represented in the new association.

GLEE CLUB FAST ROUNDS INTO SHAPE

The Glee club has hit its stride and is now fast rounding into shape. This organization did not accomplish very much the first semester but with the beginning of the second semester it is progressing by leaps and bounds.

"Glee club rehearsals are well attended this semester and the club will soon be ready for public appearance," said Kenneth Stead, director of the organization, when interviewed today.

Rehearsals are held every Wednesday at seven o'clock in the Recital hall of the Conservatory. Any students wishing to join the Glee club may do so by attending the rehearsals.

THE BRADLEY TECH

VOLUME XXVI — ISSUED WEEKLY — No. 22

PEORIA, ILLINOIS, FEBRUARY 21, 1923.

HARD SCHEDULE OF GAMES FACE TECH GRIDDERS FOR '23

INDIANA UNIVERSITY MAY BE BOOKED FOR OPENING CONTEST.

With the possible exception of one date, Bradley's 1923 grid schedule is complete. Seven games are already booked for the coming season, and Coach Robertson is still communicating with Indiana University regarding a game to be played in Bloomington, Indiana, on September 29. The outlook at present for a contest with the touted Big Ten eleven, however, is not very favorable.

A glance at the schedule shows that not one "weak sister" eleven opposes the Bradley outfit next fall. Except for the schedule last fall, the chart for 1923 is the hardest ever tackled by the Red and White.

Six games are to be played on the Hilltop field. Only Illinois Wesleyan will be opposed on foreign soil unless the Hoosiers are signed up, in which case Coach Robertson will lead his cohorts to the Indiana city for the first game.

For the first time in the history of the Institute, Eureka College is not to appear against Bradley on the gridiron. Millikin has been booked for the Thanksgiving Day date which has in the past been reserved almost without qualification for the Woodford County institution. The reason why Eureka failed to accept the date has not been disclosed.

The schedule as brought up to date is as follows:

October 13—St. Viator here.
October 20—Lombard here.
October 27—Illinois College here.
November 3—Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington.
November 10—Augustana here. (Home-coming.)
November 17—Lake Forest here.
November 29—Millikin here.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF BRADLEY INSTRUCTOR

Announcement of the engagement of Macon A. Brock to Miss Florence A. Decker was made at a Valentine party given at the Decker home on Bigelow street.

Miss Decker is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Decker and is a former student of Bradley, having studied music under Mr. Franklin P. Stead at the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Brock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brock of Cedartown, Ga. He is a former student of the Bradley Horological School, where he is now serving as an instructor, and is a member of the Psi Delta Omega fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding according to Mr. Brock.

The Valentine scheme was held throughout the party. The table was decorated with tiny red hearts and cupids served as place cards. Ribbon streamers leading from a decorated basket were drawn by the guests. At the end of each ribbon were fastened announcements of the engagement, which the "drawing" procedure brought out.

The Glee Club will make its first public appearance on the chapel stage at Bradley March 5. They will sing the "Lullaby" by Brahms and "Trim Ship" by Crosse.

Members of the Glee Club are: First tenors, Homer Mason, Albert Helmick, Harold White, Morris Bardonner; Second tenors, Frederic Oakley, Donald Challacombe, Clarence Krughoff, Clarence Hersh; First bass, George Johnson, Fred Saas, Harold Tucker, Frank Allen; Second bass, Fred Tinthoff, Clifford Putnam, Edwin Anderson, Paul Diefenderfer, Weston Harding.

FORMER BRADLEY COACH SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

TELLS OF LIFE IN RIO DE JANERIO WHERE HE IS EMPLOYED AT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR.

Rare indeed are the occasions which all the students of Bradley give their undivided interest. One of these took place at the regular chapel period last Wednesday. Former Coach Fred C. Brown, who is on leave of absence from his position as athletic director of the Fluminense Club in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, South America. Coach Brown told of the beauty of that modern South American city, Rio de Janeiro.

"The customs," Coach Brown said, "are so very different than those of the states, that the American of this country has to adjust himself all over. Especially is this true of the extreme politeness which every one practices. Nearly all the business is carried on in the street or coffee houses and cafes. This is one of the reasons for the failure of so many foreign salesmen. They are not used to the customs and are considered very impolite by the native, who buys through friendship, rather than on account of price."

"Rio de Janeiro is the most extravagantly lighted city in the world, and contains many miles of boulevards, which are unrivaled for their natural beauty," stated Brown. The city is kept immaculately clean and is free from the dirt and soot of northern cities.

Coach Brown said that the spirit of play was something almost unheard of when he first took charge of the club. Now they compete in practically all branches of sport and have Olympic teams. He thought that the spirit of play was one reason for the greatness of the United States today.

"Bradley is to be complimented," said Coach Brown, "upon her athletic achievements in the last two years and should prosper under the excellent direction of Coach Robertson."

GREEK DRAMA LECTURES GIVEN PRIOR TO PLAY

Miss Nadine V. Shepherdson, instructor of dramatic art and public speaking at Bradley College announces a series of lectures upon the Greek drama to be given prior to the presentation of the Greek play. All those who have been cast for parts in the Greek play will be expected to attend the lectures in order that they may become acquainted with the Greek productions.

Miss Shepherdson says, "This presentation will probably be one of the greatest productions ever seen by Peoria. We expect to use all the talent we have at Bradley."

BRADLEY ENGAGES IN OPENING DEBATE WITH I.N.U. MAR. 5

ILLNESS NECESSITATES POSTPONEMENT OF LOMBARD DEBATE TILL EARLY IN APRIL.

The debate season will be ushered in on March 5 when the Bradley debaters lock horns with the Normal arguers at Bloomington. The question will be: Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations. The affirmative will be defended by the Bradley team consisting of Louis McDonald, Louis Galowich and Marshall Curtiss.

The Lombard debate, originally scheduled for March 5, has been postponed until some time early in April. This delay was caused by the sickness of Ralph Haman and Herman Beimfohr. The remaining member of this team is Clifford Bull. The debate will be held in Peoria and the negative will be represented by Bradley.

Two debates will be held later in March when the affirmative will debate at home and the negative abroad. The debate with the Michigan Aggies has been canceled because of financial disagreements.

PROSPECTS FOR WINNING TRACK TEAM LOOK GOOD

MOST STRENGTH SHOWN IN FIELD EVENTS—RECOVERY OF CAPTAIN IRELAND MEANS POINTS

The prospects for another winning track team at Bradley seem good, but much depends upon the complete recovery of Captain Harrison Ireland, who is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. He is being counted upon to take the high hurdles and high jump, as in the past two years.

"Red" Allen will undoubtedly again assert his superiority in the weights, as he did last year. Halfa of last year's squad will also try out for the weights. With Carter of Elmwood, and Herdrich of Brownsville, Indiana, both of whom have excellent records out for weight assignments, this department promises to be one of the greatest point winners.

Correll and Hoswell look like the best bets for the dashes, although some fast men are likely to be developed from the new material.

Carroll and Friedrich again put in strong bids for the low hurdles, while Babcock, Skinner, Warner, and "Red" Allen are capable of taking care of the middle distances. Other half and quarter milers will soon start warming up the cinder path in an effort also to gain a permanent berth.

Elmore and Krablin in the mile, and Paul Diefenderfer in the two mile are other veterans who will add strength to the team.

In the pole vault, Friedrich and Rogers are probably the best in school unless a "dark horse" is uncovered before the spring is over. Captain Ireland, and Frank Purlee, a freshman football "find" of last fall, are sure to cop many places in the high jump. Clark, of last year's team will also be in the competition.

With this talent, and the usual array of new material, Bradley ought to place high in the Conference meet at Jacksonville in May. To win it the first year of their return to the "Little Nineteen" would be quite an achievement, although no predictions can be made this early in the year.

GENEVA CLUB AND G. A. A. SPONSOR GYM STUNT SHOW

CARNIVAL ON ORDER OF LAST YEAR'S "MAIN STREET" TO BE STAGED MARCH 16.

The Geneva Club and Girls' Athletic Association are sponsoring a stunt show known as "Bradley Board Walk," which will be held in the Bradley gym on March 16. The show will be on the order of "Main Street" of last year, that is, carnival style.

The committee, consisting of Dorothy Griesser and Stella La Follette, are endeavoring to make "Bradley Board Walk" representative of the entire student body. All organizations of Manual Arts, Horology and Bradley Hall are requested to either have a booth or prepare an act in the side-show.

Chairmen of the various committees are as follows: Marjorie Ogden, Board Walk Novelties committee; Mary Stillfield, publicity; Helena Burke, booths; Eleanor Burby, finance; Mable Schmidt, dance.

PENNSYLVANIA U. GIVES COURSE IN TRUTH-TELLING

Editor's Note: This article is being published at the request of the Student Council in an effort to impress the student to a realization of the duties and privileges incurred by the adoption of an honor system at Bradley.

The following write-up was taken from "What the Colleges Are Doing" a publication of Ginn & Company of Philadelphia:

"A course on truth-telling has been added this year to the curriculum of the University of Pennsylvania. The Associated Advertising Clubs are backing the project and preparing material for it. With the National Surety Committee they are launching a movement to engage the co-operation of school boys, teachers, and public-welfare institutes of every description throughout the United States to teach common honesty. These organizations realize that millions of dollars could be saved to the people of the country if truth-telling in advertising, in stock promotion, and in manufacturing and retail business were more general. The new course is part of a campaign to this end."

Such a course might well be introduced at Bradley in helping to bring about a strong spirit against dishonesty and cheating in the class room.

It might be well for students at Bradley to realize that the Faculty and Student Council are working to bring about the honor system. By action of the faculty, two students were not given their credit in a course, at the close of the last semester.

INDUSTRIAL GIRLS' ENTERTAINED BY Y.W.

The Bradley Y. W. C. A. entertained the Industrial Girls, by giving a Valentine Party in the Society Hall on Feb. 17th.

About twenty girls came up, and they were entertained by various games and a delightful dancing act put on by Miss Ewalt's interpretive dancing class. Dorothy McDonald did a most charming dance, in costume. Mary Morgan pleased every one highly with her piano solo.

A grand march led by Miss Ewalt mixed all of the girls, and was a means of acquainting our girls with the Industrial Girls.

Later in the evening dainty refreshments were served by the committee of which Melba Blank was chairman.

Bradley Band Plans to Give Chapel Hall Concert in March

Members of Bradley's twenty-one piece band are planning a concert to be given in the chapel hall sometime during March. The band has appeared at most of the home basketball games the past season and has made a decided hit with its audience. It is being conducted by James H Rose.

The concert planned will follow the series of musical concerts that are being given by the Conservatory of Music on Sunday afternoons in the chapel.

SPANISH STUDENTS PLAN TO PRESENT CASTILIAN DANCE

FIRST PRESENTATION OF WORLD FAMOUS DANCE AT BRADLEY WILL BE MADE IN GYMNASIUM

The Spanish Fandango, sponsored by the combined Spanish classes of Bradley will be held Friday, March 2, in the gymnasium. This dance will be everything that a dance should be. Cabaret stunts will be staged and there will be favors and refreshments.

The gymnasium will be beautifully decorated and the effect will decidedly Spanish. This is not a costume dance and it will be very informal. The fame of the Spanish Fandango has spread throughout the world. This Fandango is the first one ever staged at Bradley and gives promise of being a success.

This dance is open to the public and everyone is welcome. Tickets may be secured from members of the Spanish classes. The general committee in charge of the affair includes:

Mary Stillfield, Dorothy Moore, V. Don O'Meara, Harold Tucker, Clifford Putnam, and Miss Teresa Baum, instructor in Spanish.

BRADLEY SATISFIES NEW INSTRUCTOR

Professor Franklin C. Chillrud, head of the Department of Education, can say nothing against Bradley, that is, he can say he is pleased that he has hardly been here long enough to say anything; for, whatever he might mention may be a mistaken impression of the real thing. He feels, however, that he could say nothing against it. "So far, I like it fine," he commented.

Mr. Chillrud, who came to the Institute this semester to take the place vacated by Professor Joseph V. Hanna, who went to Joliet as head of the Education Department of the high school and junior college of that city, took his master's degree, P. H. M., at the University of Wisconsin just prior to taking his place here. His home is in Scandinavia, Wis.

Before taking his degree, he had considerable training and experience in teaching. He taught in rural and state grade schools for several years. While serving in the world war, Prof. Chillrud studied at the A. E. F. University at Beaume, France. For three years he took charge of the city grade schools in Douglas, Wyo.

TWO STRONG FIVES ANXIOUS TO EVEN MATTERS WITH TECH

EUREKA FOE HERE WEDNESDAY —MEET SWEDES ABROAD FRIDAY IN HARD TUSSLE

Bradley hopes to make it two straight against Eureka Wednesday evening when the Techmen match themselves with the Collegians on the home floor in the second contest of the season. The Poly cagers had to exert no great effort in taking the measure of the McKenzie tribe early in the year and believe that they can repeat.

To judge the Eurekans' strength on comparative scores would not be reliable as they are reported to have been off form in their recent games. Their "comeback" may be staged against the Red and White, in which case Bradley can count none too riotously on an easy win for Coach McKenzie has several stars who may break loose that evening. Both Kirby and Patelaki are dangerous forwards while Whittier's work at guard is always distinguishing.

Tech Tackles Augies Friday

On Friday Bradley saunters off to Rock Island to clash with Augustana. The Swedes are anxious to square matters with the Tech warriors; consequently Robertson's men will undoubtedly run up against a more stalwart foe than they met here several week ago.

Biehl and Aronson have lately been declared eligible, affording Coach Swedberg a formidable defense. Forward Conrey and center Andreen, because of their ability as accurate basket tossers, will bear the close watch of Tech guards, for on their own quarters floor the Norsemen are almost unbeatable.

Will Robbie Make Changes?

A perplexing problem faces Coach Robertson as he prepares for the four tough games remaining on the schedule. Several regulars were not performing up to par in the Lombard tussle; and if Bradley hopes to play Eureka, Augustana, St. Viator, and Wesleyan on even terms, one of the two events must take place. Either the veterans must play more truly to form or others must be found to replace them.

It is not altogether unlikely that several of the freshman stars will be given an opportunity to display their wares before the curtain lowers on the '23 basket season. Metzel's work in the two minutes he played against Lombard may be taken as indicative of the possibilities possessed by the youngster. By reason of his clever exhibition of guarding when he stopped the fleet Murphy and Swanson, Tyler, too, is sure to command more consideration.

"Gammer Gurton's Needle" will be presented at Bradley Hall on the evening of May 3, by the famous Coffer-Miller Players. The play will be sponsored by both the English Club and the Mask and Gavel Club.

"Gammer Gurton's Needle," a comedy by William Stevenson, is a pre-Shakespearean play. It was first presented at Christ's College, Cambridge, England, shortly after the middle of the sixteenth century.

"WE'LL TELL THE WORLD"

"BRADLEY PROFS FLUNK IN PRACTICAL SOCIOLOGY" and the Journal-Transcript follows up this headline with an article criticising several members of the Bradley faculty for their support of the present mayor of the city of and his campaign.

Who or what is to be the next mayor of the city is of little importance to the Tech. The fact that the Tech is a publication read by many voters both in and out of the college does not make it feel the responsibility of trying to exert any political influence on the present question. The idea expressed by one of the members of the faculty "it's a toss-up between the two" expresses our opinion in regard to the political controversy. Possibly the "intellectuals" who espoused the cause of the present mayor considered that they were selecting the lesser of the two evils when they gave their support to him.

But who is the Journal-Transcript to question the judgement of the faculty members? It is the organ of the interests which admitted they paid the present mayor a monthly "salary." It is the paper which admittedly has a political bone to pick and is attempting to further its ends by the use of ridicule. Bradley faculty, whether they be right or wrong in their political views, are at the present time above any criticism that may be made by the Journal-Transcript.

———B. P. I.———

"STALLING"

From the view-point of "win games" the Bradley-Lombard scrap was one of the best games played here. From the viewpoint of the spectator it was little less than disgusting. A crowd of half-frantic fans were forced to sit for minutes watching two teams facing each other, each standing motionless in his position as per instructions while the end of the game drew near.

The side of the fence the spectator is on of course makes a great deal of difference. Bradley has tried the same game successfully on the home floor. Little protest was heard from the bleachers when the home team won games by that method. But a loss makes it a horse of another color.

Cases of this kind will probably lead to a change in the rule governing it. Till this is done the followers of the sport can only follow the Golden Rule of David Harum. "Do others as they would do you but do them fust."

Yea, Jacquin! !

The Peoria sporting editors have certainly been unsportsmanlike to say the least. We believe that some of the statements made in the Wednesday Journal-Transcript were made by a lunatic or else someone unfamiliar with sports. Perhaps Wesleyan has now demonstrated that she is one of the best in the conference, if not the best. Eight games in a row without defeat or even close scores against the pick of the conference, speaks for itself.—Wesleyan Argus.

IDEAL TROY DOES GOOD WORK

: : STEM-WINDERS : :

Fellows we have just got to stand by the Polyscope. Can we afford to just sit there and let it go to the bottom? I am sorry to have to say we are not doing our part, so let's put our shoulders to the wheel and put her over the top. Take an interest in this matter, and make it your duty to see that it is the best book ever. Inquire as to its present financial standing and support it as an interested student. If we do our part the other departments will do theirs,—so let's go fellows, and put her over the top, and make it the best Horology Section out yet.

* * *

We are always glad to welcome new students, for it builds up our department.

We are sure that the year of 1923 will break all records of the Horology department when it comes to the number of students enrolled for the year.

We are glad to see this department crowded, for it gives us a splendid idea of what a wonderful demand there is for men who have a firm foundation of the idea of Horology.

Among the new students coming in during the past week are as follows:

Engraving.

L. J. Sellers, Canton, N. C.
R. L. Johnson, Rockford, Ill.
L. C. Findaser, Staples, Minn.
J. S. Deans, North Wilksboro, N. C.
H. R. Lane, Flint, Mich.
R. L. Wicker, Lakeview, Iowa.

We have enrolled so many students in the class of engraving, until it was necessary to employ another instructor.

We are not only proud of the fact that the engraving class has almost reached its capacity, but also to know that the new instructor is one of its recent graduates, Mr. P. M. Williams, of Mansfield, La.

What Every Woman Ought to Know.

Sounds interesting, doesn't it? If we saw a book advertised with this as a title I wonder how many of us would have a sort of a longing for it.

It might be a fashion book with all the new becoming styles in it. Thrilling page of long slender ladies posing with their hands on their hips or lounging gracefully on davenports with their hands clasped behind their heads. Of course there would be gorgeous colored sheets with all the now colors in stylish dresses. Every woman ought to know about these, shouldn't she?

Or it might be something like advice to the lovelorn; how to gain the admiration of a certain person. There must be many mysterious ways by which the attention of the opposite sex could be gained. Some girls seem to know them, so what would be more natural than that one of these lucky women would sell her information to her less lucky sisters? Certainly a book like this should be owned by every woman.

Thus, the hundred who ordered the book must have thought. They sent good money for "What Every Woman Ought to Know," and got in return a commonplace, unromantic cookbook! But stay! It might not be so bad after all. The first two would probably be of more use in getting the man but mightn't the cook-book help more in keeping?

P. S.—This is a sort of anti-climax. The company who advertised the cook-book in this way was sued for libel.

What's a Man Made Of?

A scientist says each man contains the following ingredients:

Fat enough for seven bars of soap.

Iron enough for a medium sized nail.

Sugar enough to fill a shaker.

Lime enough to whitewash a chicken coop.

Phosphorus enough to make 2,200 matches.

Magnesium enough for a dose of magnesia.

Potassium enough to explode a toy cannon.

Sulpphur enough to rid a dog of fleas.

The whole collection is worth $8c. Even that is a high price to put on some men.

TECH BOWS BEFORE LOMBARD TRIBE IN CLOSE, FAST GAME

JOHNSON-MURPHY STAR IN DEFEAT THAT GIVES CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES A JOLT.

Bradley's championship hopes took another drop last Friday night when Lombard took the Techmen into camp by a 21-20 score. A beating by Wesleyan was half expected, but to be beaten by Lombard after trimming the Schissler men on their own floor was a rather bitter pill.

The Lombard five was easily the fastest moving aggregation to face Bradley this year on the local court. In line with the great improvement in football at the Galesburg institution, the basketball teams have also improved.

But the Universalists believe in conserving their energy. Just as they believe in moving fast when they do move, so they insist upon not making any tracks at all when they don't feel like it. Their favorite stunt was to get the ball under Bradley's basket when the Techmen were lined up on defense. On several occasions Nester would complacently stick it under one arm and let the minutes roll by. Being a few points in the lead, they cared not whether the Techmen ever broke their defense to come after it.

It was no joke to Poly rooters. No matter how loudly they yelled, the Red and White warriors didn't budge. They evidently took it for granted that Lombard would get tired holding the ball after a little and come down with it, but Schissler's men stood their ground firmly. This stunt of holding the ball with but a few minutes to play is a method of play accepted among basketball teams; Bradley has employed it quite a few times, and there is no censure for it.

Lombard led at half-time, 12-9. The visitors held a 19 to 16 lead with four minutes to play. Ralph Johnson then heaved his fourth basket of the evening and placed Bradley within one point of tying the score, but Murphy dropped in a lucky shot from the foul line to put his team back to its three point lead. At this juncture Robertson substituted Siminski for Doubet, Tyler for Barrett, and Metzel for Johnson. Though the new combination rang up two points on Brewer's basket, the time was too short; and the gun ended Bradley's hopes for a last minute victory.

Coach Schissler of Lombard created a sensation early in the second period of the game by rushing out on the floor to argue with the officials. For the act, an absolute violation of the rules, he should have been fouled a second time, whether the first foul, called on him for coaching from the side lines, was just.

ANCIENTS BELIEVED IN USE OF PRECIOUS STONES AS MEDICINE

Did you know that, according to the ancients, the precious stones in your fraternity badge might be used to cure hemorrhage, inflammatory diseases, "collicks," and even "goggley eyes"?

At any rate, according to Burr, Patterson & Co., manufacturing fraternity jewelers of Detroit, the middle age doctors are authority for this assertion and Dioscorides himself, it is said, prescribed powdered sapphires for the last ailment mentioned above.

For those afflicted with melancholia, Avicenna suggested coral made into a cordial which he found "singularly productive of joy." Mathiolt, we are told by Sidney Beath in his "Romance of Symbolism" prescribed for his patients suffering from the same ailment, a dissolved pearl which, he assured them, was a "sovereign against melancholy." For epilepsy, the same medico recommended coral to be worn about the neck or drunk in powders at the patient's option.

For those who care to test the medicinal qualities of coral, the following prescription is cited from the Family dictionary of Dr. Salmon—1696:

"Coral, to prepare.—Take such a quantity as ye think convenient. Make it into a fine powder by grinding it upon a porphyry or an iron mortar. Drop on it by degrees a little rose-water, and form it into balls for use. After this manner crabs-eyes, pearls, oyster shells, and precious stones are prepared to make up cordials compounded of them and other suitable materials for the strengthening of the heart in fevers, or such like violent diseases, and to restore the decays of Nature."

Still more costly remedies were found in emeralds and rubies used in a variety of ailments, the emerald to be tied on the stomach as a cure for dyspepsia. This stone was prized by the Arabs as an antidote for poison and we are told of one Abenzoar who, after taking poisonous herbs, was entirely cured by placing an emerald in his mouth and another on his stomach.

It is impossible not to associate the colors of the various stones with the medical uses to which they were put, similar colors being trusted to counteract against themselves. The ruby, garnet, and bloodstone, for example, were considered remedies for inflammatory diseases; the amethyst for intoxication; the yellow stones for jaundice and bilious disorders.

The Greeks considered the diamond as deadly poisonous and for that reason an excellent antidote provided it touched the skin. An interesting story tells that a diamond was selected for poisoning Benvenuto Cellini, the famous Italian metalworker, and was to be mixed in his salad. A cunning apothecary, however, substituted a cheaper beryl which was unrecognized by the conspirators and the trick failed. A proof of the healing powers of the diamond when properly used, was believed by many to lie in the fact that the poor died in such numbers of the plague.

HELEN BOYD OF HULL HOUSE TALKS ON RECREATION

STARTED WITH INAUGURATION OF ATHLETICS—LATER BECOMES SCIENTIFIC STUDY.

Helen Boyd, head of the recreation department of Hull House, spoke to the student body from the chapel stage on Monday, February 26, on the problems and benefits of scientific recreation.

She showed the development of the movement in the United States in the past twenty years, how it started with the inauguration of athletics in the schools and colleges and later branched out into a line of work taken over by the people interested in the physical and mental development of the race through play.

Miss Boyd told of the principal buildings of the country erected to provide suitable places for recreation. Ann Arbor, Michigan, she cited as the first important city to start the drive for social development through play. The erection of a large recreation center there was followed by the taking up of the work by five colleges which also established centers.

"The theater movement in connection with the colleges has helped push this enterprise ahead," said Miss Boyd. "It helps the student to develop the emotional and social side of his character which is necessary in the work of a social nature."

Miss Boyd explained that the adapting of people to the social side of life was thoroughly instilled into students in Norway from their first days in school until they reached maturity, but that in America this was neglected and it was necessary to receive the principles in later life if they were to be learned at all.

FROLIC OF FRESHMEN HELD IN SOCIAL HALL

Over one hundred guests were present at the Freshmen Frolic in the Social Hall following the Bradley-Eureka game on Wednesday. This is one of the largest representations that has turned out at any class party during the present school year.

The hall was decorated with the Freshmen colors, green and white, which formed an attractive background and contrasted sharply with the soft glow of the shaded lights.

Dancing and bridge were enjoyed by the guests as well as the refreshments which were served a la cafeteria.

Preparations for the Frolic were in charge of a committee from the Freshmen class of which Mable Schmidt was general chairman.

Feminine "Friendly Enemies" Entertain Tech Basketballers

Members of Bradley's basketball team were entertained by the feminine sex of their "friendly enemies" from Augustana following the game Friday night. The entertainment was in the form of a dance given by the Sigma Pi Delta sorority.

The invitation was received by captain Rogers for the entire Bradley team and little time was wasted in accepting it. Only a very few times before have Bradley athletes been entertained at post-game festivities.

The sentiment expressed by captain Rogers was, "That women, those floor, them feed; um-m-m boy, too bad we don't play more colleges like Augustana."

DATE OF AQUATIC MEET CHANGED TO THURS., MARCH 22

NUMBER OF ENTRIES FOR BIG EVENT ENCOURAGE OFFICIALS.

Due to the great interest being shown in intramural basketball, Assistant Director Johnson has decided to change the date of the aquatic meet from March 13 to March 22. As the basketball schedule will then have been completed those who desire to enter the meet will have ample opportunity to prepare for the big natatorial events.

Among the young men of Bradley there is a considerable number of talented swimmers. Every Tech student is eligible to compete, and already several have entered their names with the officials. The various organizations of the school which would like to be represented in the relay races are urged to make early appointments of their captains and as soon as possible to hand in the names of the members of their teams.

Dick Graner, expert swimming referee, has assisted Tech officials in arranging the program of events. The meet, as previously announced, is to be conducted in accordance with intercollegiate rules. To judge the diving contests those in charge of the coming meet have secured Arthur Crawley, who two years ago captained the tank teams of Northwestern University. Crawley won recognition as one of the best divers ever to compete in the Big Ten.

JOHN BREWER.

The diminutive Red and White floor guard who has won the admiration of all followers of basketball in the city. His work in the Augustana game was very instrumental in deciding the outcome.

MAKE CHANGE IN RULES REGARDING CLASS ABSENCES

REASON FOR NOT ATTENDING MUST BE EXPLAINED—CHANGE AMOUNT OF FINE FOR BEFORE AND AFTER VACATION CUTS.

Too great an eagerness on the part of Bradley students to take advantage of the old "cut" system has led the faculty to change the rules governing absences from classes. Following the example of many of the large universities throughout the country, Bradley faculty has declared attendance at all class meetings compulsory.

An absence that is unexplained or that is not considered justifiable by the instructor is considered "unexcused." An unreasonable number of such absences is punishable at the semester. Low grades can often be traced back to lack of explanation of absences.

The former method of inflicting a fine of $3.00 upon anyone guilty of missing a class immediately preceding or following a vacation, has given place to a fine of $1.00 for each class cut. In addition to this, each such absence counts as three unexcused ones.

Members of the faculty believe that the new system will do away with the great number of "cuts" many students allowed themselves.

INTER-FRATERNITY LEAGUE BASKET PLAY STARTS IN FEW DAYS

THREE FRATERNITIES ENTER STRONG TEAMS—EXPECT GOOD GAMES.

The fraternities of Bradley are again to be given an opportunity to prove their athletic prowess when on March 14, 15 and 16 they meet in a basketball tournament.

Drawings have not yet been made, but since only three fraternities have signified an intention of entering teams one will draw a "bye." For that reason but one game will be played each of the aforementioned dates ,the game to decide the championship will occur on Friday evening, March 16.

Alpha Pi's enter with a stronger team than formerly. Harold Tucker, McClure, Radley, Younge, Peters, and Risser will undoubtedly constitute the line-up to face either the Beta Sigs Mu's or the Sigma Phi's in their opening contest.

Through Harry Gordon's leaving school and "Red" Ireland's illness the Sigma Phi outfit is somewhat handicapped. Nevertheless, Captain Frank Ireland has a group of basketeers from which he can certainly choose a winning combination.

Never before has Beta Sigma Mu had such a good representation of basketball stars. With Swanson, Reichle, Friedrich, Purlee, Burt, Pearson and Cortelyou rests the burden of carrying the Gold and Black to victory. At each practice session they show improvement in their team work and basket tossing.

—B. P. I.—

Eldon C. Murray, teacher of violin and theory, and director of the Bradley Conservatory orchestra, gave a splendid violin recital in Bradley hall last Monday evening. The audience, which was largely made up of musicians and those especially interested in violin playing were very enthusiastic, demanding many encores. Mr. Murray had arranged a program of great interest, including many of the standard works as well as some of the more modern works. Mr. Murray has splendid technique, fine tone quality and his interpretations throughout the entire program were highly interesting. It is seldom that one hears the Legende and Polonaise by Wieniawski played in such a finished manner as Mr. Murray played them. Miss Mary Frances Thompson who accompanied Mr. Murray did excellent work at the piano, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the program.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR 'BRADLEY BOARD WALK' COMPLETED

DECIDE ON METHODS OF TICKET SELLING AND PRESENTATION —WILL START ON TAG SALE DRIVE NEXT WEEK.

Plans for the staging of the "Bradley Board Walk" the carnival to be presented by the women's organizations of the school are completed. At a meeting held Wednesday noon representatives from all departments and the presidents of all organizations met to discuss the ticket selling campaign and the methods to be followed in the presentation of the "Board Walk."

Except for being "bigger and better" the "Board Walk" will follow the same lines as the "Main Street" of last year. The "walk" will be lined with attractively decorated booths from which articles made in the manual departments will be retailed to the public. Games of skill and chance will furnish a "get rich quick" element to those speculatively inclined. Along with these attractions will be the characterization of personages of the famous board walks of the country. The monocled duke, the titled nobleman, the countess with her French poodle, the "new rich" and their designing daughters, the "fly by night" speculator and the "con" artist men will all serve to lend to the affair an atmosphere identical to that found along the great "board walks" of Newport and Deauville.

The Girls' Athletic Association and the Young Women's Christian Association are sponsoring the affair and intend to hold it in the gymnasium on March 16.

Booths will be given out to organizations applying for space; the best locations on the floor being given to those who apply first. Helena Burke, chairman of booths, announces that a number of reservations have already been given out.

Committees in charge are intending to start a tag sale drive for tickets to the "Board Walk" next week.

MISS HADLEY TO ATTEND HOME EC. ASS'N. MEET

Miss Geraldine S. Hadley, head of the home economics department, will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Illinois Home Economics Association to be held at Chicago Club, Chicago, May 3.

Miss Hadley is a member of the executive committee which is composed of teachers who have organized to support the study of home economics in the state.

—B. P. I.—

Bradley faculty members and their wives enjoyed a party at Bradley gymnasium Friday evening, February 25. During the evening a series of mock trials, presided over by Judge V. F. Swain, furnished amusement for the sixty or seventy guests. Leo Johnson, assistant coach, was charged with entering the state of matrimony without faculty consent. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a life term as T. Wendlee was reprimanded for attempting to climb the Columbus monument on Columbia Tarrace, with his Ford. Miss Geraldine Hadley pleaded guilty when charged with purchasing a Ford limousine without faculty consent. W. Martin was accused of being a general nuisance in faculty meetings.

The attorney for the prosecution was C. E. Comstock; the other attorney, for the defense, was M. E. Wharry. A. E. Gaut served in the capacity of bailiff.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Miss Alice Bonner furnished solo numbers.

Attempt Chartering of Special Car for Game with Wesleyan

Special traction rates to the Bradley-Wesleyan basketball game on March 8 have been secured and the chartering of a special car for the trip now depends upon the number of fans who sign up to go.

The game promises to be the deciding one for the championship of the Little Nineteen conference and the intense rivalry between the two schols as well as the promise of a hard fought game should draw a large crowd from Bradley.

A passenger list of 200 people must be guaranteed before a special car can be chartered. The fare for the round-trip will be $2. If the required number of names are signed to the bulletin board notices.

NEW DIVISION OF ENTRIES MADE FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC

SPEAKING CONTESTS — OLD METHOD OF DECLAMATION AND ORATION NOT SUCCESSFUL.

Honors won in the Bradley Interscholastic will not be limited to athletes. The essay and speaking contests are now a part of the big day.

Only last year the essay contest was added to the Interscholastic activities. It is open to all boys and girls from any high school in the state. The prizes are awarded on the thought and composition. They are given no public reading.

The feature of the speaking contest this spring will be the new division of speakers. The boys and girls are to be in separate classes, one to meet in chapel the other in Social hall, and the contestants to choose any type of speech. Last year, the division of speeches into declamation and oration were not so successful.

This contest takes place at 10 o'clock the morning of the Interscholastic. Because of lack of time, it is necessary to limit the number of schools represented in the speaking contest. Usually nine schools are invited to take part, the schools being chosen from the neighboring counties.

The winners will be awarded gold, silver, and bronze medals of the same design as those won for track and field events.

Louis McDonald, of Morton, a member of the freshmen class, at Bradley, was one of the winners of last year's contest.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE THEME OF LECTURES

Miss Jenny B. Constance, head of the department of English, has been giving lectures in a number of nearby towns during the past few days on the subject of "The English Language and Literature." Most of the work has been done before the county Institute and has as its purpose the plan to interest people in the correct use of the English language and an appreciation on English literature. Among the towns at which Miss Constance spoke are Princeville, Glasford and Averyville.

"Red" Ireland is still at the Methodist hospital. He is doing as well as could be expected according to the last reports. The weeks at the hospital will probably keep "Red" off the track team as well as his place on the baseball team. "Red" is a star of some note in both sports.

"Red" don't like the hospital. He swears that he is leaving as soon—well, about that time the Doc. came around and "Red" decided that he had better not say how soon he was leaving. He swears that he will stay here and attend Bradley even if the semester is half gone when he gets well.

Coach Robertson and his band of basket cagers last Monday began final preparations for the home stretch of the race for the I. I. A. C. championship.

Two important contests yet remain on the Tech chart, both of which the Poly team must garner if the conference basketball title is to be conferred upon it. St. Viator college is slated for March 6, while two days later, March 8, Bradley meets her bitter rival Wesleyan on the latter's court in Bloomington.

A defeat at the hands of St. Viator would certainly shatter any hopes that Bradleyites may entertain of claiming the state championship. Though the Irish are practically out of the running, they are by no means inclined to give up; and the Hilltoppers expect to encounter stiff opposition in Coach Bushell's men.

At the present time Wesleyan leads Bradley by a half game, having to her credit eleven victories while the Tech can claim only ten. Both teams have dropped two contests. In no way, therefore, can Bradley afford to drop a game to St. Viator, as Wesleyan's position is such that though the Methodists may lose to either Monmouth or St. Viator, they can still come off victors in the flag race March 8 by trimming Bradley.

The impending battle is stirring up much enthusiasm among Bradley's adherents, and indications are that hundreds of Peorians in addition to a large delegation of Red and White rooters will accompany the basketball five to Bloomington on the night of the all-important tussle. A committee is already at work in an effort to procure two hundred tickets for reserved seats in the new Memorial Gymnasium.

Doubet's Shooting Eye Better.

By the end of the week Coach Robertson will probably have definitely decided on the line-up that he will pit against the two remaining strong foe. As a result of the splendid showing of Doubet at Augustana Friday night, the Tech mentor may decide to use the former Academy ace as a regular at the forward berth.

Doubet's floor game may yet leave much to be desired, but his consistent basket tossing will more than counter-balance the weakness apparent in his floor work. Siminski and Carter continue to push Doubet hard for the honor of starting in the St. Viator and Wesleyan frays.

—B. P. I.—

The regular meeting of Mask and Gavel will be held March 15 instead of March 8 as previously announced, due to the Wesleyan Bradley game.

—B. P. I.—

Students of the Colorado School of Mines are much wrought up over the proposed consolidation of that school with the University of Colorado. Duplication of engineering courses is said to be the basis of the proposal.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Many are they who have bewailed the fact that there were no Manual Arts notes last week. The editor is thankful that there are some in the department who really look for the notes—there was a sneaking notion that the notes merely took up space and were never read. We, the editor grammatical error? stand corrected. While at 111 Fredonia Ave., the editor was sadly bewailing the fact that there was a general scarcity of news and inspiration. The boys immediately offered a little help. So here it is—and woe be on the bird that yells because he gets the worst of this deal.

The editor suggests that some of the Manual Arts fellows get busy on orations. The University of Chicago Club of Peoria offers a $35 and a $15 prize for the best first and second oration. A call will soon be issued for candidates. There are some Manual Arts men who have had training in this line. They should get busy and make the thing interesting.

* * *

How about that thesis? All Manual Arts teacher trainees must have their thesis in and approved before they are given the Billy Goat skin. Time is getting short—just a reminder.

Meric Charleson is in placement training with the Allen Co. contracting firm in Peoria. Charleston was a Federal Board trainee for several years.

* * *

Prosperity has hit the Manual Arts department. Berne Allen has bought us a Ford sedan. The boys all use it occasionally. Bern gets the use of it at noon during week days.

* * *

FOR MEN ONLY—

Did you see Berniece Jones' conception of a Man? This seems to be the general idea of a man from the girl's side.

Men, are we going to let this sort of thing go on? Arise and save your race. Enlist now so that we can battle against the female race. They can't slander us that way. 'Cmon, you cave men, we'll show 'em whose boss. If this be treason make the most of it.

SPRING IS HERE

Mind is awful hazy,
Lessons r on the bum,
Oh, spring vacation
Ain't you NEVER going to come?

:: :: THE CO-ED :: ::
By Berniece Jones

We notice that there is not a game scheduled this week. It is a good thing for we will need our voices and energy for the Wesleyan game March 8th. The chance is that the Bradley championship of the I. I. A. C. will hinge upon that game.

The Wesleyan rooters probably feel sure that their "temperamental stars" as they have been so appropriately called, will beat our "Fighting Indians." They follow the example of the team in their confidence in themselves which is putting it mildly. At least they are very frank about it.

The Bradley rooters know that it is going to be one grand fight. Whether we win or not rests, to a large extent, with the students, and, narrowing it down, with the Bradley girls. The larger the crowd which goes over to Bloomington, the more chances we are giving our team to bring home the championship banner.

He calls her "Revenge" and she calls him "Vengeance."

Why?

Revenge is sweet and vengeance is mine.—"Ee-Aw."

The girls' basketball tournament will begin the week of March 12th. This event is going to be very important in the plans of those interested in athletics for it means the choosing of a champion team from a group of many excellent ones. All people are to be permitted to see these games.

The various teams have chosen their leaders and the following were honored:

Faculty—Miss Whearty.
Junior-Senior—Berneice Jones.
Sophomore—Alyce Pease.
Freshman, first teams—Decker and Correll.
Freshmen, second teams—Foster and Harlan.

* * *

On the same date as the basketball tourney the final volley ball games will be played.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The orchestra under the direction of Eldon C. Murray will give a concert in Bradley Hall March 19. Kenneth Marvin Stead will be the soloist.

* * *

"There's Music in the Air" came "in the Gloaming" (7:30 P. M.) to the song party in Recital Hall at Bradley Conservatory. Come dressed to represent a song and you will see "Scenes that are Brightest" and you will go "Home Sweet Home" as "Happy as a Lark."

All conservatory students over sixteen invited. Thursday evening, March 15.

* * *

New members including those not members of Bradley Institute are invited to join the Bradley chorus. The chorus is preparing the very instructive and entertaining work of Mendelssohn's, the Oratorio, Elijah. Rehearsals in Tuesday evenings in Bradley Hall at 7:30.

* * *

The recital hall was filled to overflowing Saturday afternoon of February 24, to enjoy a program of great merit given by the preparatory pupils.

: : STEM-WINDERS : :

Tag Day for the Polyscope is here. We have already noticed quite a few of these tops in the shape of the letter "P", swinging to the lights over the students' desks. But we are not quite satisfied, for we can't see one over every desk. Have you bought yours? If not, don't put it off any longer, for we want to make it a hundred per cent drive. You buying a tag will mean a lot toward a better book this year. So come on fellows, and lend a hand.

* * *

If the class in "C Room" keeps growing, it will soon consist of as many students as there are in all the other departments of horology.

* * *

One of the recent graduates of "C Room", Mr. J. Thompson of Davenport, Ia., has accepted a position as instructor in this department.

* * *

Some of the new students coming in this week are as follows:

Engraving
Geo. E. Schulte, Edwardsville, Ill.
Geo. F. Schoennar, Grayville, Ill.
Filing
Howard L. Guth, Brooksville, Ia.

* * *

Dale—Gee, where did Mr. Brown get the new big bass horn.

Hill—Aw, boy, didn't you hear how he just ruined that other horn? One night he was playing in the band, and they were just playing "Bradley Will Shine Tonight," and Mr. Brown was pumping that old horn so hard until he stripped every one of the gears. Jes ruined it.

* * *

A young man who was very much in love with a young lady whom he had been going to see for quite a while, at last got up the courage to "pop the question" to her.

He—Let's get married.

ADD MILIKIN TO THE LIST OF NET VICTIMS

Staging a come-back in the closing minutes of the contest the Techsters broke through the defense of the Blue and White machine from Millikin and picked enough points to give them a 25-23 win. Bradley tailed in the scoring columns nearly the whole game but free throws by Captain Rogers kept them within striking distance and as the time became shorter they gradually over hauled the Millikinites and a field goal followed by a free throw as the gun sounded put the Tech into a two point lead.

Rogers free tossing was largely responsible for the win. He chalked up 11 points in this manner. Johnson at center played a bang up game as did Brewer.

Bowman and Millikin were the best bets for the Decatur school They showed a little hard luck at the basket, but played a good floor game.

TECH BASKETEERS OVERTHROW EUREKA

Playing a loose brand of basketball, Bradley's cagers were nearly upset by the fast Eureka five on the Tech floor Wednesday night. The game ended in a 27-19 victory but was much closer than the score indicates. Only by a spurt in the closing minutes of the contest was Bradley able to chalk up a win which put them within half a game of Wesleyan, leaders in the Little Nineteen conference.

The offense end of Robertson's machine did not function as it should, but the combination of Brewer and Barrett at guard kept the Eureka tossers at bay. Johnson at forward played a good game getting 4 ringers.

Kirby was the shining light for Eureka and his long shots were a source of constant worry to the Techsters.

BRADLEY DEFEATS AUGUSTANA COLLEGE

Showing a reversal of form which nearly caused a loss to Eureka, Captain Rogers and his band of net artists bumped off the rangy Augustana team at Rock Island Friday night. The game was hard fought and clean. Bradley seemed to have better luck at collecting points from the field than it has had in most of the season's games.

Brewer was in good form and played an unusually good floor game. Doubet covered himself with glory by collecting a brace of field goals when injected into the scrap.

BASKETBALL GAINS AS POPULAR SPORT

Popularity of basketball among sport followers has grown to such proportions that it is estimated that the attendance for the 1922-23 season will exceed 1,000,000 fans. This is a decided contrast to the small handfull of spectators who first witnessed the game fifteen years ago when the sport was inaugurated.

Basketball probably will never outrank football as a college sport, but it is running the gridiron game a close second in the Big Ten and is far ahead of track and baseball, both in attendance and interest. Gymnasiums built ten years ago are hopelessly inadequate, as crowds are turned away at almost every basketball game.

COMMERCE CLUB HEARS BOURLAND ON INVESTMENTS

TRACES HISTORY OF BOND SELLING—ROSS SNARE ELECTED TREASURER TO FILL VACANCY

"An investment man sells part of himself every time he sells an investment," said Fred Bourland in his talk on investments before the Commerce Club in Social Hall, Tuesday, evening.

He explained this statement by showing how the personal reputation of the seller must stand behind every bond or stock. For instance, if the seller advises his best friend to buy a certain bond and that man loses his money, he will forever blame the friend who sold him the worthless bit of paper.

Mr. Bourland stated that the subject of investments is as broad as life itself. He told about the first bond that was ever issued. This was in 1171 when the government of Venice wished to borrow money to build ships to send out an expidition against an outlaying island near Italy. The bonds were to be paid off if the expidition was a profitable one. The building of warships nowadays, however, is not considered a gilt-edge risk.

"The rapid growth of railroads would have been impossible without bond issues," said the speaker. He estimated that it would have taken a thousand years for them to reach their present state of development if they had been built only out of the profits of previous years.

"Honesty is one of the most essential qualities to an investment man because there have been more frauds perpetrated in the name of investments than any other thing," concluded Mr. Bourland. Personality is also very important, and personal honesty all the way down the line makes for safety in investments.

A short business meeting was held before the main address was given. Ross Snare was elected treasurer of the club to succeed Harry Gordon who is no longer in school. Refreshments followed "the investments."

JACQUES BLOOM GIVES BUSINESS SCHOLARSHIP

The "Jacques Bloom Scholarship" is the latest permanent fund to be given to Bradley. This is given by Jacques Bloom of the B. & M. Store who last year furnished a prize for the Business Administration Department, which was won by Walter A. Kumpf. The Bloom Scholarship will be given to the person of highest rank in the Department of Business Administration. The person must, at the same time, be in need of financial assistance. The value of the scholarship is $50 annually.

Under the name of the "B. & M. Prize" an additional prize of $25 annually will be given to reward scholarship and will be awarded to some member of the Department of Business Administration.

"Fifty such scholarships should be the goal of Bradley," said Dr. Burgess. "We need permanent prizes for debating, oratory, and other special lines. The college has yet to reach its full proportions."

OPPOSE NATIONAL FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

College authorities throughout the country are not in favor of arranging their schedules to aid in the determination of a national college football champion. This information was gained from answers received from presidents of the leading universities. They take the position that it would cause athletics to take the place of the educational work of the school.

Freshmen English Students Show Desire for Law and Order

Bradley freshmen, contrary to the general opinion regarding college yearlings, are ready to forego their "personal liberty" to some extent if anyone forces them to do so. They do not, however, like faculty supervision when taking exams but wish to be put on their honor.

Themes were written by the freshmen on the subject of what improvements they would suggest for the Student Council to put into into operation at Bradley. Almost every paper carried the suggestion that the Council should act to preserve better order in chapel. Some of the writers admitted that they were not orderly themselves but believed that quiet should reign during the chapel services. The second idea expressed by the freshmen was that the honor system should be adopted without reservation.

Other suggested improvements covered nearly all the ground possible, ranging from the repairing of the road in front of the Institute to the dropping of the study of mathematics from the college curriculum.

POLYSCOPE HAS NEARLY ALL COPY OF DEPARTMENTS

TAG SALE NOT GOING GOOD—PICTURES COMING IN SLOWLY—NO BOOKS WITHOUT TAGS.

Most of the departmental material for the Polyscope is now in the hands of the editor-in-chief of the annual, Katherine Langton, and the management hopes to deliver all the copy to the printers by April 1.

Russell Peters, business manager, claims that the sale is far behind what it ought to be. "Bradley Hall alone should be good for four hundred copies of the book," he said, "but we have yet to sell half that number. This drag is not due to any lack of work on the part of the staff, but to the indifference of the students. The Polyscope is a business undertaking, not a get-rich-quick scheme. The editor and business manager would like to see some possibility of the bills being paid. The present lack of co-operation on the part of the students must affect the appearance of the book."

There are some who have not yet had their pictures taken. Inasmuch as all engraving will be finished by the middle of the month, there will have to be some fast work done if these people wish to appear in the Polyscope. At the rate snapshots are being handed in, the pages of snaps will be few and far between.

The management emphasizes the impossibility of buying a Polyscope when they come out in June. The tag sale decides the number of books that will be printed, and no extra copies will be ordered.

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR JUNIOR PROM

Junior Prom committees are already at work on arrangements for the "event of the year" which will take place on April 6. Elaborate preparations are being made for the big dance which is recognized as being the crowning social event in the school calendar.

The price will be $3.50 per couple, a slight increase over that of former years but the added attractions will be well worth it, according to Glenn Walker, president of the Junior class.

The committees appointed are: Russell Peters, general chairman; Arnold Hitchcock, chairman of finances; Lenore Wysong, general arrangements; Alice Marie Dolan, music arrangements; and Charles Brobst, John Weer and Ted Vorhees of the decorating committee.

DELIVER FIRST LECTURE ON GREEK PLAY AND STAGE

WILL EXPLAIN DRAMA PLANNED FOR PRESENTATION IN JUNE—MANY STUDENTS ATTEND.

Nadine V. Shephardson, instructor in Public Speaking, delivered the first of the lectures on the Greek play in the chapel, Thursday, March 1. Miss Shephardson's first talk was a review of the history of the Greek theater and play. About thirty or forty students attended the lecture and showed a great interest in the play that is to be produced by the student body this June.

The Greek theater was originally built in a natural spot between two hills and was circular. The Greeks held a celebration each year and business of all kinds ceased while the feasts to the gods were given. The first of these festivities were in the nature of oratorios and were centered in the circle, in the very middle of which an altar was erected for the giving of sacrifices to the gods. Gradually these feasts and celebrations changed and the circle was reduced to a semi-circle and a stage erected. From this was evolved a new method of introducing religious ceremonies and the play gradually grew from this. In the Greek play proper, there were only three speaking parts, which were supported by many dancers and choruses.

In the Greek play of the present day much more is made of the performance of the dancers, and the acting is elaborated in many other details. The play to be presented this spring is to follow very closely this type of drama. The choruses are to be under the direction of Franklin Stead, director of the Bradley Conservatory and the speaking and dramatic parts are to be coached by Miss Shephardson.

"The representation attending the first lecture was evident indication that the plays will be very successful," stated Miss Shephardson. "We have a large amount of material and talent to choose from, in view of our last year's experience with play presentation of this type, we should be able to produce a well-finished, artistic presentation."

SQUAD OF FIFTEEN REPORT FOR FIRST SPRING GRID DRILL

"DUTCH" MEINEN COACHES CANDIDATES OF 1923 TECH ELEVEN.

Fifteen candidates for the 1923 football team took their first workout under John "Dutch" Meinen last Monday afternoon. Meinen has been assigned to coach the gridders during the spring practice sessions, and he hopes to have working under him as long as the weather will permit a squad of twenty men.

Newell, Elliff, Goldsby, A. Ruch, C. Ruch, Furtec, McNaught and Metzel were among the linemen to report for the initial practice. Besides Hindle, Hoswell and Friedrich, there were several new men among the early backfield try-outs. A number of the basketball squad will probably join Meinen's ranks as soon as the cage season closes.

Coach Robertson has instituted spring football training to keep the men around whom he plans to mold his 1923 eleven in good physical trim for the coming season in which the Poly warriors are scheduled to meet the strongest college teams of the state. All those who seek positions on next fall's eleven would do well to take advantage of this early drill.

It goes without saying, that under "Dutch" the candidates will receive thorough grounding in the fundamentals of the game. A "smarter" lineman than Meinen never donned a Bradley football uniform. For four years he was a regular on Tech elevens and each year he was the choice of recognized officials for a tackle position on all-state teams.

Meinen completes his course of study at Bradley this June, and next fall he will take up coaching and teaching in a high school. Fortunate indeed will be the school that secures Meinen's services, for he is a natural leader of men as well as a developer of the best that is in an athlete.

Vision of New Gym Proves to Be One of Fleeting Nature

Brilliant visions of a new and wonderful gym which Bradley students have been fostering for the past few weeks were suddenly crushed Monday afternoon when George R. MacClyment, business manager of the Institute was interviewed concerning the proposed erection of the new building.

"What new gym?" he asked. "Where? When?"

When told that discussion was prevalent among the students that a new gym was to be erected he threw back his head and emitted a roar of mirthful laughter.

"Why we couldn't even think of it," he said. "The idea is absurd. What we need now is a new dormitory and library. These must come first of all. After that we might begin to think of a new gym."

Mr. MacClyment said, however, that plans are soon to be laid for a remodeling of the athletic field. This will probably take place some time next fall.

DEBATING SQUAD STRONGER; READY FOR OPPONENTS

MEE TO TAKE BULL'S PLACE—FOUR OF LAST YEAR'S MEN MAKE UP TEAMS—MEET EUREKA AN WESLEYAN

Addition of Charles Mee, veteran debater, has strengthened Bradley's debate squad very materially. He replaces Clifford Bull, who will be unable to debate because of sickness. Mee and Haman, two last year's men, with Landers, a very promising new man will form the negative squad.

The affirmative team, Curtiss, Galowich and McDonald, will meet Eureka here March 24 in what will perhaps be the hardest debate of the year. Eureka is noted for her strong teams and Bradley will have to extend herself to win.

Bradley's negative team goes to Bloomington to meet Wesleyan on the same night. Haman and Mee and Landers ought to average the 2-1 defeat that the Wesleyan team handed them last year. The negative team meets Lombard College here on April 4 in the last debate of the year. Little is known of the strength of the Lombard team as Bradley has never debated them.

Haman, a veteran of two years service on Bradley debate teams and president of the Pi Beta Kappa fraternity, in speaking of the coming meets says, "In past years the debates held here have not been well attended and there has been a decided lack of interest. We hope this year to elevate debating at Bradley to the place which it deserves in the minds of the student. A debater must spend nearly as much time in preparation and practice as a member of an athletic team and must also have a keeness of mind. Debating is hard work and we are going to try to gain for it the credit it should have."

TITULAR BATTLE AROUSES SPIRIT OF BRADLEY FANS

SPECIAL CARS CHARTERED TO TAKE ROOTERS TO BLOOMINGTON THURSDAY.

Two hundred Bradley fans have made arrangements to set off in quest of a state basketball championship at Bloomington Thursday.

A week of hard drilling has put the Red and White cagers in splendid condition for their momentous set-to with the Wesleyanites while Koepping's presence adds considerably to the Techmen's strength. The big Pittsfield lad is in good trim even though he has been out of the service several weeks due to ineligibility, and if he is going at his best can be counted upon to play a large factor in any victory which Bradley might put over on Wesleyan.

Whether Coach Robertson will start Koepping at forward against the Methodists depends much on the youngster's performance in Tuesday's battle with St. Viator. Doubet and Sliminski have made favorable impressions in recent games and each stands an excellent chance of breaking into the fray Thursday night. Both can be worked in with advantage at some time or other during the game.

Captain Rogers, forward, Johnson, center, Brewer and Barrett guards, may with reasonable assurance be picked as the remainder of the Bradley line-up, with Tyler, Metzel and Carter being held in reserve.

A special car or two over the Illinois Traction System will take the throng of Bradleyites to Bloomington. Reserved seats were put on sale Tuesday so that all loyal rooters who wish to see the bitter rivals in the final contest for the championship bunting may be assured good seats in the new Memorial gymnasium.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

"Is Bradley ready for self-government?"

This is an unusual question to be asked by the president of the Student Council whom we would expect to be the undoubting exponent of student government.

To the thinking students the question will carry great weight, while to the unthinking group it has already been forgotten—which, in itself, serves as another point of proof for the negative when we again ask the question: "Is Bradley ready for self-government?"

The president of the Council realizes the situation. For two years the Council in its present form has struggled along as a figure-head. Legislation enacted by it has served its purpose only when it was not contrary to the ideas of the faculty and when it pleased the individual student to obey the edicts. Rules for one department cannot be forced in another, yet representatives from each division meet in conference and carry on the sorry business of making more rules, which will be enforced only as the students wish them to be.

Aside from the fact that it has the election of persons to occasional offices the only justification for the Council is that it is a harmless bit of sentiment, serving as a veneer to cover and quiet the desire among the students for a real student government.

"SPRINGTIME"

Spring is coming, bringing its birds, flowers, mud, spring fever and keep-off-the-grass signs. The warm breezes soon will be calling to its hearers to leave their work and come out and play. Foremost among the hearers are the people who have been occupied all winter bending over a desk, their minds filled with mathematics or Browning.

The call of spring is strong, and more than one grade will take a downward skid from neglect. Happy is the student who has followed the friendly advice of the instructor and has taken time by the forelock and completed work which might have been left until the end of the year.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California gives this amusing explanation of the origin of the country-wide expression, "Talk Turkey."

"Two men, a white man and an Indian, agreed to hunt together for a day, and to divide the game at sundown. When the dividing time arrived there was no difficulty in apportioning the smaller birds and animals—one of a kind to each. But trouble arose when they reached the last pair which happened to be a turkey, and a crow. 'Now,' says the white man with a great show of fairness; you may have the crow and I'll take the turkey; or I'll take the turkey and you may have the crow.' 'Huh!' says the Indian, 'why you no talk turkey to me?'"

ODE TO MIDNIGHT

It is that mystic midnight hour of twelve
When 'tective into murders delve,
And burglars, "dopes," cracksmen, thieves
Are pouring forth in droves and sheaves
From out their holes where they, like rats,
Have hidden from police—the cats!
The hour when cats at the high moon howl,
And dogs at due deaths moan and growl.
The hour when corpses rise from the dead
And do the death dance minus a head!
The hour when ghouls ungarnish the grave
To buy "dope" and rum they crave!
The hour when myriad ghosts do roam
With eyeless sockets; covered with foam!
With bloody foam and torn out hair;
They laugh in glee! Ah, the sight is rare!
They rattle bones and rattle chains,
They open up heads which have no brains,
They fill me full of aches and pains,
I shiver and shake from feet to head—!
Who-o-o-o-, Gosh!!! I'm goin' to bed!

———B. P. I.———

It's easy to smile when you're happy,
For then it is natural to laugh;
But the guy worth while,
Is the bird who can smile,
When he's taking an exam. in math.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Somebody ask us how much it cost to go to Bradley for one year—that is nine months of regular school. Well, it is hard to say—the financial lay-out for tuition, fees, books, room, board and laundry will run about $750.00. The incidental expense will depend upon the individual and those whom he undertakes to support. energy and patience and time consumed in thinking about the enormous cost of things, if computed in monetary value because of physical disability incurred, will run up the amount about $250.00. All in all it is a sort of expensive business—this going to school. We sincerely pity numerous dads of some of our students.

ROBERT BOYLE'S AIR ~ PUMP

The "PRACTICAL" Alchemist and "THEORETICAL" Robert Boyle

THE alchemists wrote vaguely of "fluids" and "principles." Copper was potentially silver. Rid it of its red color and the "principle" of silver would assert itself, so that silver would remain. With a certain amount of philosopher's stone (itself a mysterious "principle") a base metal could be converted into a quantity of gold a million times as great.

This all sounded so "practical" that Kings listened credulously, but the only tangible result was that they were enriched with much bogus gold.

Scientific theorists like Robert Boyle (1627-1691) proved more "practical" by testing matter, discovering its composition and then drawing scientific conclusions that could thereafter be usefully and honestly applied. Alchemists conjectured and died; he experimented and lived.

Using the air pump Boyle undertook a "theoretical" but scientific experimental study of the atmosphere and discovered that it had a "spring" in it, or in other words that it could expand. He also established the connection between the boiling point of water and atmospheric pressure, a very "theoretical" discovery in his day but one which every steam engineer now applies.

He was the first to use the term "analysis" in the modern chemical sense, the first to define an element as a body which cannot be subdivided and from which compounds can be reconstituted.

Boyle's work has not ended. Today in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company it is being continued. Much light has there been shed on the chemical reactions that occur in a vessel in which a nearly perfect vacuum has been produced. One practical result of this work is the vacuum tube which plays an essential part in radio work and roentgenology.

THE CO-ED

By Bernice Jones

It isn't our fault that the Co-ed column has been so small lately. We don't know how our readers feel but the editor feels very insulted when half of the copy she hands in, doesn't appear in print. We had to put this article first for fear it would be cut off. You know if the editor thinks he hasn't room he cuts from the end of the article up.

This reminds us of a story we once heard about a woman and a snake on an Oklahoma homestead. A big snake had been playing around the yard teasing one of the children until the poor child was frightened to death.

At last the mother in exasperation grabbed a hoe and started after the snake. Because it was a blue racer the mother couldn't run fast enough to reach the head so she began killing it at the tail. First the end of the tail came off, then she took another chop, and another until there wasn't much snake left.

So the editor does with our stories, but who are we to object to the dictates of ye Ed.

"Bern and Em never seem to get along since he bought his flivver." "Oh, well, true love never did run smooth, you know."

Wanted: A young man to teach French in a girl's school. Must be good-looking. Should know something of French.

* * *

Now we have proof of what we long suspected, namely, the fact that the men read the Woman's column. Last week Mr. O'Meara seemed to be objecting to the article in our column which placed a man's value at 98c. He calls for cave men to save their race from such slander. Wonder what they'll do about it?

But really, we didn't think there is much cause for the men to worry. Judging from their actions, there seems to be plenty of girls who place a much higher price upon a man.

STEM-WINDERS

Are you interested in the Horology section of the Tech? If so, please make it your duty to gather up all the news of interest as well as some good jokes to help make the Stem Winder a real section in our college paper.

You will notice a small box on the bulletin board for the students to drop in any article of interest they wish to go in the paper.

With your co-operation we can make our section very interesting, so lend a hand.

Every Saturday morning from 10:30 to 11:45, Mr. Wild will give some very interesting lectures on escapement. These lectures are free for all the horology students, it does not matter what you are taking at present, you are invited to attend. They are worth while, especially to the watchmaking students. And you may be assured you are missing a lot if you do not attend.

* * *

Students who are to have their pictures made for the Polyscope should get in touch with Grayson Reisch at once so he can arrange an appointment for you.

All the watchmaking students, especially those in trade and finishing should try to pass the examinations offered by the Horology Institute of America, Washington, D. C. There are three of these examinations namely, Junior Watchmaker, Certified Watchmaker, and Certified Horologist. These examinations are conducted under Government supervision, and a Certificate is awarded to those passing the examinations, which will prove very valuable to the owner in the future. For full information, application blanks and literature on this subject, see Mr. Westlake.

LIFE OF ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI MAKES AN INTERESTING STUDY

One of the most fascinating men in all history is St. Francis of Assisi. He was born about 1182 in a small town in Central Italy. His father was a well-to-do merchant, and in his younger days Francis spent his money freely. His associates were all carefree and reckless, yet he longed for finer things.

Finally at the age of twenty, after a very serious illness, he tired of his old pleasures and determined to devote his life to helping the poor and destitute. His father, however, did not believe in encouraging him in his philanthropic ideas, and threatened to disinherit him. Francis immediately returned all his belongings to his father and became a homeless hermit.

He began to preach and before long others followed his example. They went through Italy preaching the Gospel and calling themselves "God's troubadours." Seven years later, missionary work was begun, in the accomplishing of which, brethern were sent to Germany, Hungary, France, and Syria. Their activities steadily increased until finally the Franciscan Order was formed in 1223. St. Francis died in 1226 after a long life of self-sacrifice and helping others.

RELAY TEAM MAKES SPLENDID SHOWING AT U. of I. CARNIVAL

EMERGE FOURTH IN FAST MEDLEY—HENDRIX NOSED OUT AT FINISH.

Competing against the best minor colleges of the Middle West in the Sixth Annual Relay Carnival conducted by the University of Illinois, March 3, Bradley's relay team took fourth place in the medley race. So placing earned for each of the members of the team, Warner, Babcock, Skinner and Hendrix, a beautiful bronze medal.

Those teams which finished ahead of Bradley were: First, Central College of Missouri; second, Carleton College; third, Cornell of Iowa. These teams and Bradley surpassed the previous record of 9 minutes and 5 seconds. Central College's speed merchants cutting down that time to 8 minutes and 44 2/5 seconds. Hendrix, Bradley's miler, crossed the line three seconds later, making Bradley's time 8 minutes and 47 2/5 seconds.

Warner, at the end of the half mile, had accumulated for his mates a lead of three yards; but in spite of their best efforts neither Babock nor Skinner, quarter-milers, were able to maintain this advantage so that when Hendrix started his mile he had a six yard handicap. Nevertheless, Hendrix forthwith regained the lead and held it until within 200 yards of the tape, when he was nosed out in a blanket finish.

Considering the fact that Bradley finished ahead of such teams of strength as Wabash, Butler, Monmount, Knox, and Eureka speaks well for the future of the Red and White track team.

WARMER WEATHER CONDUCTIVE TO OUT-DOOR TRACK WORK

LOSS OF CAPTAIN IRELAND SERIOUS BLOW TO PROSPECTS.

Because of Captain Harrison Ireland's leaving school, prospects for another undefeated track team in 1923 have been considerably weakened. Captain Ireland was high-point man of the team last year, his performances in the hurdles and the high-jump being one of the big factors in the perfect record of the 1922 team.

Despite the absence of one of the stars, this year's aggregation will undoubtedly give a good account of itself. Of the twenty-one members of the 1922 squad, sixteen have already reported for duty and a number of the new men are showing good form. That the relay team is going to uphold the records of Bradley's cinder stars is attested to by the splendid showing that the members made at the Illinois Relay Carnival last Saturday.

Track Coach Leo Johnson is desirous that all track candidates who have not already reported do so immediately in order that they can get in the best of condition for the coming strenuous schedule which has been arranged. Several dual meets are planned in addition to the conference meet which is to be held at Jacksonville late in may.

ROGERS DESERVES MUCH CREDIT FOR QUINTET'S SUCCESS

HOOSIER LAD FINISHES FAR IN FRONT OF MATES IN POINTS SCORED

Staid, unemotional figures bring to light the reason for Bradley's edge on the basketball court this past season.

Clarence Rogers, captain and forward of the Poly quintet, deserves much of the credit for Bradley's success, for the doughty leader finished far in front of his mates in the matter of points scored during the season.

Out of 186 chances from the free throw line, Rogers made good on 116 of them, which gives him an average percentage of .624 for the year. In all he scored practically two-fifths of the team's points.

FRATERNITIES START TOURNAMENT PLAY

First blood in the battle among the three fraternities entered in the Inter-fraternity basketball league was shed Tuesday afternoon when the Alpha Pi's met the Sigma Phi's. As Beta Sigma Mu fraternity drew a "bye" its representative team will play the loser of game number one Wednesday afternoon.

The winner of game one must meet the winner of game two to decide the championship. The deciding game is scheduled for Thursday afternoon, at four o'clock. Suitable awards will be given the fraternity that comes off with the championship.

Freshman Honor Roll

On the honor roll of Bradley freshmen should be scrolled the names of these twenty-two students who have carried fifteen or more hours work during the first semester. Their grades are the highest one-tenth taken into consideration in making up the list.

The extraordinary high average of 7.66 was earned by one of the below-mentioned honor students. 5.37 is the lowest average to appear on the honor roll.

Mabel Allen
Margaret Belsley
Harold Brill
Hugh Burt
Daniel O. Druge
Esther Earnhart
Joseph E. Fuller
Olive Harding
Martha Hoerr
Frances Howard
Noel Jamison
Frank W. Magee
Josephine Manta
Josephine Park
Charles D. Paull
J. Huber Sammis
Mabel Schmidt
Mabel Starrett
Mary Gene Stillfield
Grace Thalberg
Kenneth Vayette
Edwin G. Wiley

In the above list should be included Gordon Buehrig, Helen King, and Harold Pinnell, whose grades made an average of the upper tenth of the class, but their number of semester hours for which they are registered fell below the regular number, which is 15 or more.

DECISION FAVORS NORMAL NEGATIVE IN INITIAL DEBATE

BRADLEY TEAMS NOW PREPARE TO MEET WESLEYAN ARGUERS MARCH 22.

The Normal negative debate team secured a two to one decision over the Bradley affirmative, in a debate held at Normal, March 5. The question, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations" is one which has often been discussed. This was one of the series of triangular debates arranged between Bradley, Lombard and Normal.

Louis McDonald, Marshall Curtiss, and Louis Galowich made up the Bradley delegation while Miss Dorothy Graff, Freeman Goodman, and O. C. Echols represented Normal.

Louis McDonald opened the debate for the affirmative and was followed by Dorothy Graff, speaking for the negative. The negative offered no constructive argument or plan to substitute for the League of Nations but spent all of its time in tearing down the plans of the affirmative.

The judges for this contest were: Principal Goodler of Bloomington High School, Rev. H. Baillie of Bloomington, and C. Jorner of Leroy.

The next debate of this series will be held at Bradley Hall March 22, when the afirmative team from Bradley meets Wesleyan. On the same date the negative team composed of Charles Mee, Raymond Landers, and Ralph Hamon will go to Wesleyan.

A debate with the Lombard affirmative team at Bradley Hall, April 4, will close the season for the Bradley debaters.

CLASS IN JOURNALISM VISITS NEWS PLANTS

Eyes wide open and senses alert, the Bradley journalism class, tutored by Professor W. Ross Merrill, took a trip last Tuesday through the plants of the two local newspapers, the Peoria Star and the Journal-Transcript.

The news room, composing room, mailing room and press room were visited by the would-be journalists, under the leadership of employees of the papers. All the various machines in the composing rooms were put through their tricks for the benefit of the amateurs and were in turn wondered at and admired.

PUT TECH AND POLYSCOPE ON NEW BASIS OF CONTROL

TWO ORGANS ARE TO BE MANAGED SYSTEMATICALLY BY BOARDS

Pursuant to the advice of the committee to investigate the future control of undergraduate publications a complete reorganization of both the Tech and Polyscope is soon to be effected. Under the proposed plans of the committee both publications will be run upon an entirely new basis; the Tech is to be controlled by a board of students and faculty, and the Polyscope will be placed under the guidance of the Junior Class.

It is hoped that by placing the publications under broader control much greater support will be effected throughout the school.

According to the plans formulated a board of control of five members, three students and two faculty, will be organized to have complete supervision of the Tech, subject of course to the final authority of the faculty. This board will be vested with full control of such matters as contracts for printing, rates of advertising and subscriptions, the auditing of the Tech accounts and any radical changes in the policy of the paper. Complete control of the editing of the Tech, however, will remain in the hands of the students, that is to say, the board will not in any sense be considered a board of censors. It will reserve the right to elect or to approve the editors and business managers.

The Polyscope will be placed under surveillance of the Junior Class of the college of arts and sciences. Because of the difference between the financial stability and the value to the Institute of the two publications it was thought unwise, for the present, to place them both under the same board.

In the case of the Polyscope especially, it was felt that placing it in the hands of the Juniors might secure for it a broader basis of support than seems to be the case at present.

JOHN BREWER

To be their leader next year the six letter men of the basketball team elected John Brewer, running guard, who starred consistently throughout the season just closed. Johnnie is a popular lad and should prove a capable successor to Clarence Rogers who has performed his last in Bradley basketball togs.

ANALYZE PARTS IN GREEK PLAY CHOSEN FOR PRESENTATION

"Alkestis of Euripides" Chosen as Great Spring Production

"Alkestis of Euripides" is the Greek play to be presented this spring instead of repeating "Midsummer Night's Dream", according to the announcement made Thursday by Miss Nadine V. Shephardson, instructor of dramatic art and public speaking at Bradley College.

In a series of lectures Miss Shephardson proposes to analyze this great Greek drama which calls for a large number of parts. In addition to a chorus of fifteen people there are to be twelve personages who have primary speaking parts. Guards, attendants and handmaidens will also have a share in this marvelous production, the like of which Peoria has probably never seen.

To be in keeping with the spirit of the Greek drama the play is to be staged out-of-doors in an amphitheatre constructed after the manner of the original Greek theatre. The performance is to be prolonged by Greek dances on which Miss Ewald, instructor of women in the department of physical training, will begin work at once.

"We expect to use all the talent we have at Bradley," says Miss Shephardson. "It is most desirable that all those who wish to try out for parts in the Greek play attend the lectures in order that they may thoroughly understand the form of drama we are undertaking."

SUNDAY CONCERT IN CHAPEL WILL BE GIVEN BY BAND

As a part of the series of musical entertainments being given by the Conservatory of Music, the members of Bradley's twenty-one piece band are to render a concert next Sunday afternoon, March 18, in Bradley Hall.

Students of Bradley have this opportunity to show their appreciation of the splendid work that the band has been doing throughout the year. The band has appeared at most of the home basketball games the past season and has made a decided hit with its audiences.

James H. Rose, conductor of the band, has arranged the following program which is to commence at three o'clock:

1. March—Under United Banners. Geo. Rosenkrans.
2. Operatic Medley—Gems from the Opera, Arr. by Beyer.
3. At Evening Time, Fred Jewell.
4. Selection from Prince Charming, K. L. King.
5. March—Iowa Brigade Band.

Intermission

6. Alpine Sunset.
7. Serenade—Love's Old Sweet Song.
8. Trombone Specialty — Muttering Fritz, F. L. Losey.
9. March—Little Giant, Moon.

Those who have diligently and gladly given of their time and energy toward making the Bradley band the pride of every loyal Bradley student are:

Cornet—Messrs. Hersche, Mitten, Jackson, Helns.

Clarinet—Messrs. Dr. Swaim, Himmel, Shaefer.

Piccolo—Mr. Kuhlman.

Altos—Messrs. Shanaska, Haughton, Snare.

Trombones—Messrs. Carrier and Jamison.

Basses—Messrs. Brown and McMillan.

Saxaphones—Messrs. Nafe and Wicku.

Drums—Messrs. Hitchcock and Davis.

Conductor—Mr. Rose.

—B. P. I.—

Two drummers were shipwrecked and for two days floated around on a raft. Toward the end of the second day, one of them cried out, "Ikey, I see a sail."

"Vot good does it do us?" was Ikey's report, "Ve ain't got no samples!"—The Techinque.

NOT SO WORSE

Everybody happy! School will not open until Monday noon following Easter vacation. The purpose of allowing this extra time is to give out-of-town students the opportunity of not missing their morning classes.

Next year, the Easter vacation will be entirely governed by Easter itself. It will begin the Wednesday before Easter Sunday and end the Wednesday following.

NOVELTY GALORE IN ANNUAL STUNT SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT

PROMENADERS TO BE TREATED TO EATS, DRINKS AND FUN ALONG "WALK."

For the small sum of fifteen cents Bradley will have Atlantic City's board walk brought to its very doors Friday night, when the annual stunt show, the Bradley "Board Walk" will be held in the gymnasium under the joint auspices of the Geneva club of the Y. W. C. A. and the Girls' Athletic Association.

The "Board Walk" will call out every Bradley student to promenade before the novelty stands, or to dance to the strains of Hogan's orchestra. Nothing will be lacking in the way of eats, novelties and fun. The R. O. B.'s Hot Dog Stand will be a case of when Greek meets Greek. The English club will put on a clever stunt that promises to rival that of Sigma Chi Gamma. The prohibition law will be a joke when the Sigma Phis' display their still.

In contrast to the Sigma Phi den of evil will be the Japanese Tea Garden of the Sophomores. Here dainty Japanese maidens will dispense tea and other light refreshments to the thirty promenaders.

Ice cream sandwiches, pop corn balls and candy will be sold by the P. D., the Home Economics and the French clubs respectively.

The Manual Arts Department will have a duck pool where something is promised to all who try their luck. Lambda Phi will sell confetti, and all the other organizations of the college will stage clever stunts or conduct booths.

Committee chairmen in charge of the affair are:

General chairmen—Dorothy Griesser and Stella La Follette.
Booths—Helena Burke.
Dance—Mabel Schmidt.
Stunts—Marjorie Ogden.
Publicity—Mary Stillfield.
Finance—Eleanor Burby.

STARS TAKE INTRA-MURAL BASKET TITLE

Title to the championship of the Intra-mural League rests undisputably with the Stars by reason of their 15 to 13 victory over the Tigers last Wednesday afternoon.

The Stars clung tenaciously to the lead which they gained early on the Tigers, though Captain Ireland's band threatened toward the close of the game to overcome it. The all around play of the Stars, interspersed with brilliant sallies by Boswell, made the win possible. For the Tigers, Schmidt and Newell played stellar roles. The work of the Star defense stood out especially strong in the final half of the game when the Tigers got on their rampage. Hindle, Elliff, and Delaney were the bulwarks of the Stars' defense.

Gold medals will be presented to the members of the intra-mural championship team.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR HIGH CALIBRE BASEBALL TEAM

SCHEDULE OF 13 GAMES SO FAR ARRANGED—TWO LONG TRIPS

With the calling out of baseball candidates last Monday was ushered in another major sport at Bradley. At that time Coach Robertson's battery men reported for first duties and each day for at least two weeks they will be sent through daily paces under shelter of the gymnasium roof.

Three veteran hurlers were on the scene to answer the initial call. They are: Howard "Letty" Tyler, a southpaw, Tom Carroll and Clarence Rogers. Rogers was a twirler on the Bradley team of 1921.

Catchers who expect to bid high for consideration on the nine include Reichle, Fritz, Hindle and Alan Ruch, besides Buckley of last year's aggregation.

Many vacancies need to be filled before the Tech mentor embarks on the tough schedule of games arranged to be played this spring. Few are the veterans who are back in search of their jobs. Captain Bernard Allen and Tommy Correll are the only outfielders to return, though in Harrison Dixon there is much promise as a right fielder to fill "Red" Ireland's berth.

Last year's infield combination must be replaced. Out for those positions left vacant are Earl Doubet, experienced short-stop, Landers and Koepping, first basemen, Friedrich and Brewer, second basemen, Jones and Boswell, third sackers. Doubet's return brightens things up considerably between second and third.

Schedule developments show that tentatively games have been arranged for the dates as follows:

April 13—Armour Tech at Peoria.
April 18—Charleston Normal at Charleston.
April 19—Wabash at Crawfordsville.
April 20—Millikin at Decatur.
April 26—Normal at Peoria.
April 30—Wabash at Peoria.
May 10—St. Viator at Peoria.
May 14—Charleston Normal at Peoria.
May 17—St. Viator at Kankakee.
May 18—Armour Tech at Chicago.
May 22—Wesleyan at Bradley.
May 24—Millikin at Peoria.
May 30—Lombard at Galesburg.

BRADLEY MEN MAY ORGANIZE ARMY PLATOON

The Bradley Army! Sounds interesting, doesn't it? Well, it will in all probability be a reality. Several of the men in school have already signed up and a campaign for more enlistments is to be under way within a very few days.

A platoon will be organized at Bradley as a portion of the I. N. G. This will be a separate organization, drilling at Bradley, and composed entirely of Bradley men. Uniforms, rifles, bayonets, and all equipment is furnished free of charge, besides which a salary of one dollar is paid for one day's drill a week.

This summer there will be a fifteen days' camp at Camp Custer, Mich. All expenses are paid there and the regulation pay of $1.10 a day also given.

Drill is held at the Armory on Monday nights at 8 P. M. Any members of the school who wish to join are invited to come to drill, or they should see Clifford Putnam or Fred Tinthoff.

CRITICISM

How easy it is to criticize other people. Judgment is always being passed on one person by another. This is only natural, but what we have to beware of is false judgment.

Criticism takes one of two forms: it is either the kind which builds up or the kind which tears down. By the first type we do not necessarily mean favorable criticism. If the criticism, be it favorable or unfavorable, is given with the idea of helping some one overcome some fault, it belongs to the former class; and it should not be condemned.

The spirit with which a person offers his criticism has a decided bearing on the good it does or does not accomplish. In finding fault with others we must ever realize that there is a great deal to criticize within ourselves, and we must show them that we apprehend our own faults clearly.

There is no excuse at any time or in any place for the critic who would be other than constructive. Have we no definite end in view when we criticize, then whatever we say would be better left unsaid.

Do "Frat Pin" Engagements Really Count?

(From the Daily Californian)

Is a "fraternity-pin engagement" for life or just for college?

"They are as successful as regular announced engagements," says Eduardo Paya of the Spanish department. "It is true that the co-ed wears a fraternity pin from habit, but she doesn't change sweethearts any oftener than she does pins. It is a pastime that makes campus life more attractive."

Paya believes that few marriages result from this pastime because the two learn too much about each other. Those marriages which do take place are usually successful because the participants develop the same tastes during their three years of companionship. When the engagement is broken, neither person should hold the other responsible. Paya believes that men other than the owner of the fraternity pin have a right to step with the girl who wears it.

"The pin custom is not a new one," says Mrs. J. P. Buwalda, '16, who was president of the Y. W. C. A. in her senior year. "Some women are in the habit of collecting them. It is a mistake for a freshman woman to label herself by wearing a pin soon after her entrance to the big college community."

Pins express the desired idea as well as expensive diamond rings, she believes. They are useful in the probationary period of the engagement proper. "If a mistake has been made, it is not embarrassing on either side for the pin to be returned.

"In co-educational colleges, engagements of the fraternity pin type, while doubtlessly silly in many instances, are to be looked upon as rather beneficial to the future happiness of the participants."

SECRETARY HUGHES ON EDUCATION

The following excerpts from the address of Secretary of State Hughes read before the meeting of the National Education Association last summer indicate that Mr. Hughes is not, in his educational philosophy, in complete accord with modern education. His, however, is the kind of philosophy teachers hear in about eight cases out of ten from educated men outside of the teaching profession. It is altogether possible that modern education is too modern. Mr. Hughes said in part:

"When we consider the true object of education, to give the training which will enable one to make the most—that is the best—of oneself, we must realize that the foundation should be laid in a few studies of the highest value, in self-discipline, and that there should be supplied every incentive to attain that mental and spiritual culture which connates, not merely knowledge and skill, but character. This means self-denial, hard work, the inspiration of teachers, with vision, and an appreciation of the privileges and obligations of citizenship in democracy.

"In the elementary schools, it means that sort of training which insists, at whatever cost, on the mastery by the student of the subject before him, on accuracy—the lack of which, I regret to say, is now conspicuous in students of all grades—the correct use of our language, and the acquisition of that modicum of information which everybody should possess.

"In the secondary schools (our high schools and academies) it means that we should stop scattering. There is at present a bewildering and unsuccessful attempt at comprehensiveness. It fails of its purpose in giving neither adequate information nor discipline. It asks too much of the student, and too little. I believe that we need to have a few fundamental, substantial studies which are thoroughly mastered. I am one of those who believe in the classical and mathematical training, and I do not think that we have found any satisfactory substitute for it. But the important point is the insistence upon concentration and thoroughness. The function of the secondary school is not to teach everything but to really teach something and more definitely specialized, intellectual endeavor.

"I think, also, that we have done too much to encourage intellectual wayward in college. Of course there should be opportunity to select courses having in view definite scholastic aims, but we have gone so far that a 'college education' outside of technical schools, may mean little or nothing. It is a time for reconstruction and for the establishment of definite requirements by which there will be secured better mental discipline, more accurate information, and appropriate attention to the things of deepest value which make for the enrichment of the whole life of the student."

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The Bradley Conservatory Orchestra will give their second concert of the season at Bradley Hall, Sunday afternoon of March 25th, at 4 o'clock.

In accordance with his policy of presenting to the public, music of the highest class, Mr. Murray has chosen the following program:

Symphony No. 2 ..... Beethoven
Adagio. Alegro con brio
Larghetto.
Poeme for Violin with orchestra ..... Mazas
Mr. Eldon C. Murray
Aria Vesti la Giubba from "Pagliacci" ..... Leoncavallo
Mr. Kenneth Stead
Spanish Suite "La Feria" ..... Lacoma
Overture—The Hebrides ..... Mendelssohn

The Beethoven Symphonies, each one a masterpiece, have been recognized as pinnacles of musical art. The second symphony opens the above program with wonderful brilliancy in the first part, and a most haunting spirit of romance in the "Larghetto," all of which is typical of the genius of its great composer.

The violin solo is one of Mr. Murray's own original orchestrations on a theme by the French composer Mazas.

One of the greatest dramatic arias in the range of opera is the "Vesti la Giubba," in the singing of which Mr. Kenneth Stead has ample field for his well known vocal mastery and emotional powers.

After the clever sparkling sketch by Lacome the program ends with one of Mendelssohn's best achievements, his tone poem on Fingal's Cave, that famous oceanic cavern in the Hebrides Islands off the coast of Scotland.

The orchestration now numbering twenty-nine, is the largest in Peoria and equal to any in the quality of its work. The roster includes many of the leading professional players of the city who contribute their services for the joy of the work and the practical experience of playing the greatest music with a director qualified for the work by his splendid training and actual experience in the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

* * *

All those who became enthused over the work of the Cleveland Orchestra will have the opportunity of seeing the possibilities of Peoria's having a fine symphony orchestra of its own.

* * *

The fifth of the series of the Sunday afternoon musicals which was to have been given last Sunday afternoon consisting of Cesar Franck numbers was postponed until a later date.

* * *

Mr. Eldon C. Murray will give a talk supplemented by illustrations as a part of the program to be given Friday evening, March 16th, by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, Tuesday, March 13th, at five o'clock in the Recital Hall of the Conservatory Building. The public is most cordially invited.

* * *

The Bradley Chorus is open to new members, including those not students of the institution. The Chorus is working on Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and an entertaining and instructive evening is promised to each rehearsal. Rehearsals on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in Bradley Hall.

Kicks and Komments

Prof. (before English exam): If you try to think of the authors' characterists, you will probably pick out the right man. Just think of the men.

Berniece Jones: But mother said that I mustn't think of the men just yet.

Bill Clark: Do you know how to tell the difference between a professor and a student?

Wayne Buckley: No.

Clark: Well, if there are two people in a room, and one is asleep, the other is a prof.

One day as I chanced to pass,
A beaver was damming a river.
And a man who had run out of gas,
Was doing the same to his flivver.

* * *

Do you know I
Never like to see
A woman standing
A street car, when I am
Sitting—so I
Always close my eyes, and Pretend to be Asleep.

* * *

Prof.: A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer.

Younger: That's why we all flunked that last exam.

* * *

They sat on the porch at midnight,
Their lips were tightly pressed.
Her old man gave the signal—
The bull dog did the rest.

Ed Siminski: "I attended a wooden wedding today."

"Lefty" Tyler (anxiously): "Who got married?"

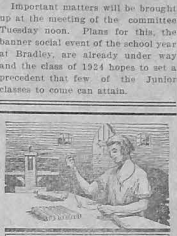
Siminski: "Two Poles."

JUNIOR PROM APRIL 6 TO BE GALA EVENT

At this moment the most important phase of the Junior Prom is the selling of the tickets. Reports on sales to the Alumni of Bradley are encouraging, but the response being met by the students is not satisfactory. It must be remembered that there are only one hundred fifty tickets on sale, and they will be soon gone.

Several students talked in the chapel last Wednesday concerning the sale and stressed the need for immediate action on the part of the student body. The established price of admission is $2.50 per couple. An initial payment down of $1.00, however, will purchase a ticket, the remainder of course to be paid before April 6.

Important matters will be brought up at the meeting of the committee Tuesday noon. Plans for this, the banner social event of the school year at Bradley, are already under way and the class of 1924 hopes to set a precedent that few of the Junior classes to come can attain.



Early printers are said to have locked up their type forms by running a thread through holes made in the type cast from hand engraved letters

THE CO-ED
By Bernice Jones

They went riding after the party.
And the night was very cold.
He didn't try to keep her warm
For fear she'd think him bold.
"Are you nice and warm?"
The young man asked her twice;
And with chattering teeth
She said, "At least I'm nice."

We always try to beat nature's time. It is necessary tho, for when the fresh green grass and the blue and yellow spring flowers come what chance will our spring hats have?

* * *

She: "Why do you go out on the porch when I sing? Don't you like to hear me?"
He: "It's not that; I just want the neighbors to see I'm not beating you."

The girls' basketball tournament is in progress this week. The Sophomore aggregation looks good to those picking a championship team. The dope is always being upset however.

The schedule is:
Tuesday, March 13 at 4:00—Cornell vs. Soph; Decker vs. Jr. Sr.
Wednesday, March 14 at 4:30—Harlan vs. Foster.
Thursday, March 15 at 4:00—Soph. vs. Sr. Jr.; Cornell vs. Decker.
Tuesday, March 20, at 4:00—Decker vs. Sophs; Cornell vs. Jr. Sr.

Russell "Shorty" McMahon has already proven his ability as an athletic coach. He entered the Homer, Illinois, High School basketball team, of which he is coach, in the district high school tournament held at Urbana two weeks ago. "Shorty's" boys won their way to the semi-finals only to lose a close game for third place.

McMahon will be remembered as one of Bradley's most versatile athletes. He won letters in all the major sports and captained the 1920-21 basketball team. Baseball seemed to be "Shorty's" particular liking. He finished last season with the handsome batting average of .486.

BREWER-ROGERS RESPONSIBLE FOR WIN OVER SAINTS

SPECTACULAR BATTLE ENDS WITH TECH CLAIMING 8 POINT LEAD.

Four beautiful baskets by John Brewer and nine free throws out of thirteen chances by Captain Clarence Rogers were the chief reasons for a Bradley victory last Tuesday night over St. Viator. The final score was 31-23. St. Viator clinging to the short end.

The Red and White found a worthy foe in Bushell's squad. The Hilltoppers were forced to battle every inch for their victory and only the superlative fightfing spirit of Robertson's warriors put them out in front.

J. Winterhalter of St. Viator started the game off with a rush by sinking a long one in the first minute of play. From then on it was a battle, with Bradley emerging at the end of the first half on the long end of a 16-13 count.

The lion's share of the honors for the win must go to Rogers and Brewer. "Rog" played one of the best games of his career, caging three field baskets and finding the hoop for nine counters out of thirteen chances from the free-throw line. In addition to that, he was one of the main cogs in the defense. Brewer, at running guard, dribbled down the floor when the game was in doubt and dropped in ringers that were badly needed.

St. Viator was very much in the running until the final minutes of the contest. Captain Lyons and Clancy played the stellar roles for the visitors, the former caging three field goals and the latter the same number with four free throws added.

Here are the figures taken from Government statistics; the man with college training has 817 times more chances for success than the man with no schooling, 215 more chances than the common school graduate, 9.33 more chances than the high school graduate. These figures apply in every field of endeavor.

Of the notable people whose names are given in "Who's Who in America", 7,700 of the 10,000 listed have had college training. Of the men who have been selected to the House of Representatives, only one out of every 352 has not had college training; and in the Senate only one out of every 530 has not had college training.—The Technique.

TECHMEN GO DOWN FIGHTING BEFORE WESLEYAN CREW

METHODISTS GAIN BIG LEAD IN FINAL SPURT—SCORE 35 TO 24.

Illinois Wesleyan was crowned champion of the I. I. A. C. basketball fives last Thursday evening by defeating Bradley 35 to 24. The battle was one of the hottest ever seen in Bloomington and was witnessed by 2200 fans.

Bradley's chances fell away when, in the closing minutes, Oliver, Hausler and Dunham flipped baskets that gave Wesleyan a big lead. Up to that time Bradley had forced the Wesleyanites to their utmost and displayed that fighting spirit that characterizes all of Coach Robertson's teams. It was not quite enough, however, to stave off defeat at the hands of the great team that has represented Wesleyan this year.

If there was one man on Bradley's team that did anything outstanding to keep the Red and White in the fight, it was Captain Clarence Rogers. Out of sixteen chances at free throws, Rogers caged fourteen and dropped in one field basket to bring his total of points to sixteen.

Wesleyan was but once headed by Bradley, and then the Techmen fell behind again, yet continually dogging the Methodists' heels. Taking the lead at the start, Wimberley's men held a 16-13 advantage at half-time. The second half was little different, with Wesleyan's brilliant shots overcoming Rogers' free throws.

The defensive work of Oliver and Gottschalk broke up many Bradley advances. The Wesleyan backcourt men are without doubt two of the best that have been seen on any "Little Nineteen" court this year.

The Green and White basket shooting was uncanny at times, being from difficult angles and over the shoulder flips. Dunham and Ware led their team-mates with four sinkers apiece, while Haussler was not far behind with three. Dunham, with nine free throws, was the high point man.

Other than Rogers and his spectacular free throwing, Doubet and Brewer played the best ball for Bradley. Dunham, Ware and Oliver were Wesleyan's best.

The game was exceptionally clean for a championship contest and the high strung spirit that usually accompanies a titular contest. Not a player was sent off the court because of personal fouls.

NEW STATUES FOR USE OF ART CLASS

Mr. Albert F. Siepert of the Manual Arts division has just received some noteworthy statues for use in the freehand drawing and cut design departments of which Mr. W. Woelffer is in charge.

First in importance is the statue of "Idilino" (little idol) which was cast in plaster from the original bronze Greek image. There are a few slight alterations in the figure but in essentials it remains the same.

The second figure of the group is that of Venus de Medici. The statue is from the late Hellenic period and suggests a figure sprung from water. It is a copy of the original in marble and has all the features of the masterpiece.

The date of the figure's discovery is unknown, but it does not represent the best Greek statuary, although it is executed in perfect skill.

The third figure is the copy of the only certified original Head of Hermes, which is also cast from the original in bronze.

Though other smaller pieces have just been purchased these are the most noteworthy. The originals of all these pieces of statuary are in Florence. The models were purchased from the Caperonica Company of Boston.

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOLUME XXVI — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923. — Number 26

TECH TRACK TEAM TO FACE TEST IN STRENUOUS MEETS

SCHEDULE INCLUDES FIVE DUAL MEETS—ENTER DRAKE RELAYS.

Track Schedule.

April 21—Lombard at Galesburg.

April 28—Drake Relays at Des Moines.

May 4—Millikin at Bradley.

May 12—Illinois College at Jacksonville.

May 19—Eureka at Bradley.

May 26—Wesleyan at Bradley (tentative).

June 2—State meet at Jacksonville.

Providing the proposed meet with Wesleyan is signed up, the 1923 Bradley cinder artists will go through one of the most strenuous seasons of recent years. Coach Johnson and his squad, realizing this, are biding their time until they can start daily workouts out of doors.

With the first dual meet with Lombard less than a month away, no time can be lost in conditioning the team. Lombard fell an easy victim last year, and will be a much better and harder to defeat team this year.

With Capt. Harrison Ireland out of school due to his recent sickness, and Leon Carroll declared ineligible, the team will be greatly weakened. Coach Johnson, however, believes that enough new material will make good to make up in part, at least, for this great loss. Ireland's specialty, the high hurdles, will be the hardest position to fill.

The middle distances promise to be well taken care of by Warner, Babcock, Allen and Skinner, while Hendrix, Krablin, Diefenderfer and Elmore can manage the mile and two mile. Metzel, the boy who won many honors in the mile while at Manual Training High School is ready to make all mile aspirants hustle for that particular assignment.

Correll, Carrol and Babcock are practically certain to handle the dashes and low hurdles, but some new men will undoubtedly be placed along with them.

In the pole vault Friedrich and Garner seem to be the strongest aspirants. "Red" Allen and Haile will be looked to to heave the weights unless some "dark horse" presents himself.

Many new men are anxious for the weather to moderate in order that they can show their stuff.

The climax of the season occurs with the conference meet at Jacksonville. At present Monmouth, Knox and Lombard loom up as Bradley's most formidable opponents, being especially strong in the weights and middle distances.

COLLEGE REGISTRARS HOLD CONVENTION HERE

Bradley is again to be honored when, on April 16, the registrars from all the Illinois colleges make the Institute the seat of their convention. Miss Anna LeFevre of Bradley is a member of the committee on arrangements for the convention which is to be an all-day session. Various problems relating to the work of college registrars will be discussed.

—B. P. I.—

Gratitude always blooms fairest in the soil of expectancy.

Change In Library Rules

A change in the rules regarding Reserve Books has been made by Miss Lillian Guinn, the librarian. For several years the rule has been that books on the reserve shelf are issued not before 4 o'clock. Because of the requests of students the rule is to be modified so that on Friday afternoon books may be taken at 3 o'clock. Miss Guinn believes that this arrangement will be an accommodation to the students withdrawing books without at the same time bringing any sacrifice of study to others.

Pledge Yourself to Honor Mrs. Elida Winship

Friends of Mrs. Elida Winship, head of the sewing department at Bradley for sixteen years, are anxious that some memorial should be founded in that department as a permanent testimonial to her worth and a recognition of her unselfish devotion to duty. During quite a part of her service Mrs. Winship was intimately connected with Mrs. Bradley, since she lived at her house on Moss avenue for several years. It is hoped that her many friends in the city and the alumni and former students will wish to have a part in establishing a fund in her honor. Pledges may be made at once, but payment will not be required until next October.

If $1,000.00 can be secured the memorial will take the form of a scholarship; if less, the annual income will be used to furnish a prize in the Home Economics Department.

DIVERSION SEEKERS HAVE A GAY TIME ON "BOARD WALK"

BIG CARNIVAL NETS G. A. A. AND Y. W. C. A. LARGE PROFIT.

Through a confetti-strewn world made up of side shows, minstrel shows, Babe Ruth twirlers, comic characters and dancers, 400 diversion seekers threaded their way in the Bradley gymnasium last Friday evening. And because of their promenading the "Board Walk," the proceeds of the evening amounted to more than $100, with all expenses paid. The money will be divided between the Y. W. C. A. and the Girls' Athletic Association.

To the above-mentioned sum must be added $10, the gift of the Psi Delta Omega Fraternity who, though not represented at the Board Walk wished to show their good will in this manner.

One of the biggest attractions of the evening was the Manual Arts duck pond. Among the lucky winners were Professor Woelfle, Reisch, Angel and "Dutch" Meinen.

Credit is due Marjorie Ogden for her efficient management of the side shows and to Paul Barnes for constructing the booths.

The general committee wishes to thank everyone who actively helped to make the "Board Walk" a success and to make possible the sending of representatives to the Y. W. C. A. convention at Geneva, Wisconsin, early this summer.

BAND MAY ARRANGE OUT-OF-TOWN CONCERTS

A large number of music lovers expressed their appreciation of the splendid work being done by the Bradley band by attending the brilliant concert rendered last Sunday afternoon in Bradley Hall. The carefully selected musical program was given as one of the series of like entertainments being conducted under the auspices of the Conservatory of Music.

The success which the band met on this occasion has inspired James H. Rose, conductor, to plan trips to several of the nearby towns. Chillicothe, Mason City, and Delavan have already been sought for early engagements but as yet no definite arrangements have been made. Mr. Rose believes that such trips would in part compensate the members of the band for the time and effort which they have so diligently and gladly given to their work.

TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR GREEK PLAY EARLY IN APRIL

LECTURES CLOSE WITH ANALYSIS OF MAIN CHARACTERS IN CAST.

There are reasons why "Alkestis" of Euripides was chosen to be presented by Bradley, June 1 and 2, for the annual commencement day play.

Euripides, who is credited with at least seventy-two plays, wrote when the Greek drama was a highly developed art. "Alkestis," the winner of the prize in the year 438 B. C., has some lighter strains in it than the average tragedy of the time. It was allowed to be played in place of a satire in the annual festival week.

This play is characteristic of the works of Euripides. It opens with a monologue that sets the stage and fixes the atmosphere for the audience. The mood is portrayed throughout the play by the pantomiming of the chorus. The characters are ordinary human beings as compared with the immortal personages of Sophocles. Children are often introduced into his plays, sometimes even given a speaking part.

Miss Shepardson gave a synopsis of the play and analyzed the main characters in the cast at the last of the series of lectures on Greek drama.

Trials for parts in the play will probably be held the first week in April.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB MAKES FIRST BOW BEFORE AUDIENCE

Prolonged applause greeted the initial appearance of the Men's Glee club at Chapel, March 14. Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead a program of two ensemble numbers by the club and three solos by Mr. Stead, was given.

The selections given by the club were "Lullaby" by Brahms and "Trim Ship" by Mentor Crosse.

The Glee club is now planning a concert to be given in Peoria and a short trip may be taken. Requests have been received from three nearby towns for dates, but as yet no definite answer has been given.

Except for first tenors the club has a full membership. Two or three men, with high tenor voices, who will come to meetings and work hard, may join now. First tenors particularly are needed to give a greater degree of volume.

The present members are:

First tenors—Homer Mason, Albert Helmick, Harold White, Morris Bardenner.

Second tenors—Willard Dalton, Donald Challacombe, Clarence Hersche, Frederick Oakley.

First Basses—George Johnson, Fred Saas, Harold Tucker, Frank Allen.

Second basses—Fred Tinthoff, Clifford Putnam, Clarence Krughoff, Edwin Anderson.

ANSPACHER LECTURES TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Louis Kaufman Anspacher, dramatist, and lecturer, spoke to a capacity house at the Woman's Club on March 15th.

"Until America has a National Theatre, drama cannot reach its height," was Anspacher's decision. He explained how accidental the training was for actors in the present order of things.

Anspacher gave a short history of drama, dealing with it as a social force and social art. "Drama is never accidental. It has its foundation in contemporary life," he declared. Because of the law of creative purchase, namely, the demand for poor plays stimulates their production. The noted dramatist urges Americans to patronize good drama.

Hugh Walpole will be the fourth and last of the series of lectures to be brought here by the Allied English interests.

DEBATERS TAKE FLOOR IN SECOND BATTLE OF SEASON

AFFIRMATIVE MEETS EUREKA HERE AND NEGATIVE TO WESLEYAN TUESDAY.

The second battle in the Triangular Debate League, made up of Bradley, Eureka and Wesleyan Colleges, will take place Thursday, March 22, when both Bradley teams will thresh out the question, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations." The Bradley affirmative will meet the negative team Eureka here, while the Bradley negative travels to Wesleyan.

The affirmative, composed of Louis Galowich, Marshall Curtiss, and Louis McDonald should profit from their defeat at the hands of Normal two weeks ago, according to Professor W. Ross Marvin, debate coach. Charles Mee, Raymond Landers, and Ralph Hamon who make up Bradley's negative will take the floor for the first time this season when they meet Wesleyan. The Bloomington school has some experienced debaters, but the Bradley team is in great shape.

The debate season will end on April 4 when the Bradley negative will meet the Lombard affirmative here. Upon the conclusion of the season, Curtiss, McDonald and Landers will be eligible for Pi Kappa Delta and will be formally initiated into the fraternity.

TENNIS TEAM WILL BOOK NO DUEL MEETS FOR COMING SEASON

Contrary to what has been the custom in past years the tennis team will have no dual meets this year. They will compete in the Intercollegiate meet at Knox college, of Galesburg. If successful there, they will be privileged to compete in the state minor college tournament to be held at Jacksonville, May 25-26.

Prospects for a strong tennis team are brighter than ever before in the history of the school. Three members from last year's team are still in school and there is an abundance of new material. The veterans from last year's team are: Harold Tucker, Sidney Tucker, and Richard Radley.

Eugene McClure is perhaps the most promising of the new men. He has played for two years on the Peoria High team and last year won the Greater Peoria meet. He is prominent in state tennis circles and at present holds the city doubles championship.

Other high class prospects include Clifford Arends, Emerson Risser, Brooks Courtright, Frank Ireland, Dean Battles and Fred Saas.

BRADLEY ATHLETES ENJOY REAL FEAST

Forty-two Bradley football and basketball players took advantage of a feast prepared for them last Wednesday night by C. A. Knickerbocker, proprietor of the restaurant by his name in the 2100 block Main street.

The collection of athletes who sat down to that banquet represented aggregations of which Bradley boasts no greater. These members of the '22-'23 outfits created two of Bradley's most successful athletic records. No football team that went through the season of '22 without a defeat and a basketball team that established the remarkable record of 14 wins and but five defeats.

Into the home of George Johnson, Editor-in-chief of the Tech, death has brought great sorrow. After long illness his father passed away last Saturday, the sad news of which reached the Tech office Monday morning. To our friend and fellow student in this hour of bereavement we extend our deepest sympathy.

JOHN H. ROTH AND KIWANIS CLUB FOUND SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

GIFTS PROOF THAT THE HIGH VALUE OF WORK BEING DONE BY THE INSTITUTE IS APPRECIATED—INCOMES FROM DONATIONS MEET ANNUAL TUITIONS.

Three more scolarships have been presented to the Institute, was the important announcement made by President T. C. Burgess in chapel, Monday, March 19. These donations form good news indeed, for they come as a decided assistance and encouragement to the Institute authorities.

One of the gifts is presented by Mr. John H. Roth, for many years prominent and influential in the business and civic life of Peoria. The Institute especially welcomes gifts from men of this type. It is proof that the leading men of the city appreciate the high value of work which the Institute is doing and desire to assist it in a tangible way. This scholarship will be known as the John H. Roth Scholarship and meets the full tuition of a student annually.

The other scholarships came from the Kiwanis Club of Peoria. The Club has had in mind for some time the establishing of two scholarships at Bradley. The matter was brought before the club at its business meeting on Wednesday by the committee of which Mr. Starbuck was chairman. It was unanimously voted. These scholarships will be open, under certain restrictions, to graduates from Peoria High School, Manual Training High School, Spalding Institute and the Academy of Our Lady. Each scholarship has a value of $130.00. The Kiwanis Club is to be congratulated upon this action.

NOMINEES MUST HUSTLE TO LAND MANAGERIAL POSTS

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE SOON MAKES SELECTION OF ASSTANT MANAGER.

Selections of assistant managers for both the track and baseball teams are to be made within the next few weeks, annouces the Athletic Committee. Those who wish to be considered for these important positions should hand their names at once to any of the members of the Committee who are: Dr. V. P. Swain, Mr. A. E. Gauf, and Mr. G. M. Hewitt.

One manager and three assistants are to be chosen for each major sport according to a ruling made last year by the athletic Committee. Under this arrangement only those who have assisted faithfully are eligible the following year to actual managership. It therefore behooves those who aspire to be managers of the 1924 track and baseball teams to see that their nominations get into the hands of the Committee as soon as possible.

Harold Zierton was chosen baseball manager last fall. At the same time Edward Siminski received the appointment as track manager. Because no names had been turned in to the Committee for consideration, it was not possible then to elect assistants in either of these sports.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR MEETING OF MASK AND GAVEL MEMBERS

After their regular business meeting Wednesday evening, March 21, in Social Hall, the members of the Mask and Gavel Club enjoyed a very pleasant social hour for which an unusually good program had been previously arranged.

Dorothy McDonald, appearing first on the program, effected in charming manner an interpretive dance. Following her performance was a clever vaudeville stunt which drew loud applause.

The main attraction of the evening of course was the one act play entitled "A Marriage Has Been Arranged." Helen Louise Wallace, as "Lady Elaine" and Charles Mee, as "Mr. Crockstead," enacted the only two parts for which the play provided. The success of the production warrants its being reproduced publicly within a very few weeks.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG AQUATIC MEET THURSDAY

At the starting signal Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock approximately twenty-five natators will be uneasy to get off in the various events arranged for the big aquatic meet for which Tech officials have so long been planning.

A. Ruch, C. Ruch, Dorman, Schaefer, Voorhees, Arends, Mee, and "Red" Allen are numbered among the entrants. Several good relay swimming teams have also been entered as there are to be two relay races, one for a distance of 220 yards and the other 440 yards.

Particularly attractive will be the diving exhibitions. There are undoubtedly a number of fancy divers at Bradley who have never before had an opportunity to demonstrate their ability. The divers may choose their own style of diving.

DIAMOND STARS ARE STILL CONFINED TO INDOOR WORKOUTS

Unless the weather soon proves more conducive to outdoor baseball practice, the Bradley diamond artists will be in no condition for the first hard games of the season which the schedule shows to be less than a month distant.

Armour Institute crosses bats with the Techmen in the opening contest on the Bradley field, April 13. The Chicago aggregation is composed of the cream of the Windy City high schools, for which reason it is to be considered a stiff opponent.

The one thing that will be true, however, is that the Armour Tech representatives will be as greatly handicapped by the lack of proper conditioning as are Coach Robertson's men.

During the next week is to be taken the first long trip of the season. April 18 Charleston Normal will be the Techmen's foe. Wabash entertains the Bradley nine the following day in what should be a first-class attraction. On the return Millikin University will be played in Decatur.

Four at-home games are booked for the Bradleyites before they depart on their three-day northern trip, which starts May 16. Wesleyan, Illinois College, and Armour Institute will be met on the second long jaunt. These three games will be a severe test for the Red and White ball players.

As yet only the three veteran twirlers, Rogers, Tyler, and Carroll, have reported for the daily workouts in the gymnasium. These three will undoubtedly be apportioned the pitching burdens, in preparation for which they are at present being sent through light tasks, to avoid their overdoing themselves and developing sore muscles.

Except for the arrival of a most promising recruit for an infield position little advance information is afloat as to the calibre of those who will appear when outdoor practice is announced. Third base seems now to be the most uncertain position.

ARE CHAMPIONSHIPS FAIRLY AWARDED?

The unfairness of the present system of awarding championships and positions in the "Little Nineteen" conference is liable to create quite a little disturbance at some not far distant date.

Why should Bradley, playing a hard schedule of fourteen conference games in basketball this winter and establishing a remarkable record of wins and losses, be given a fourth-place ranking, below such schools as Carthage and McKendree, who opposed only "featherweight" competition as compared to Bradley?

Carthage, beaten by Lincoln and Illinois College, two schools that Bradley could undoubtedly have easily defeated, is awarded second place in the conference. That, in spite of the further fact that the Carthage quintet played second-rate teams throughout the season and that three less games were played by Carthage than by Bradley.

Even less worthy of a place at the top of the standing on the strength of its season's record is McKendree, which played only five games against "weak sister" outfits downstate; yet McKendree dangles in third place, one notch above Bradley who met only the classiest foes of the state in creating its record.

Bradley's right to a better position than fourth place will not be questioned by any fair-minded individual. Nevertheless the fact remains that there is at present no provision in the rules of the I. I. A. C. by which Bradley might be awarded its rightful berth in the league.

While Bradley would in no wise advise a break up in the conference, she would have a suggestion or two to offer in the way of remedies. It is highly probable that the matter of laying down some definite and logical system for a awarding the I. I. A. C. championships will come up before the next conference meeting.

Kicks and Komments

By V. Don O'Meara

Say fellows, do you remember the awful things that were printed in a certain Tech column about the value of a man being only 89c, etc., a few weeks ago. Well, I've just found a snappy come-back and it's too good to hold so I must spring it.

This item said that man was worth 89c—we all believe that woman came from the rib of man, therefore women are worth about 13c.

P. S. But we love 'em just the same.

* * *

O, I vowed that I would love her
Like the very stars above her,
And she coyly promised me that she'd be true.
With all my might I kissed her
There on her sofa, Mister,
And the birdie in her clock said: "Coo-Kooo!"

* * *

Migosh, did you go to
The Bradley Board Walk? I
Never in my life spent so
Much money. First a girl
Wanted me to buy this and
Then another one that;
Until I spent the whole
Quarter. That's the way with me when I'm Around the women, I
Don't care how much I spend.

* * *

Helen Cole: That dance made me dizzy, let's sit down some place.

Paul Younge: I know where there's a nice dark cozy corner.

Helen Cole: No, thanks; I'm not that dizzy.

* * *

The other day a Bradley Co-ed came to me with a piece of poetry, which she wanted published in the Tech. Obligingly I brought her to the Tech office and told Wayne Buckley, that a young lady with a poem wanted to see him.

Send her in and I will look over her lines, said Wayne, so I beat it.

* * *

Prof.: Do you know what auto suggestion means?

Harding: Sure, that's when a girl calls you and tells you what a dandy night it is for driving.

* * *

Howard: I know a man who still keeps his wife in a glass case.

Wiley: Yeah, she still has her job selling movie tickets.

* * *

Helen: You dance adorably, where did you learn all those steps?

Risser: I learned them in my youth—I was pin boy in a bowling alley.

* * *

The "Dusty Devils" pulled a good one on Johnny Brewer at the Board Walk the other night. It went something like this:

First D. D.: If a girl kissed Johnny Brewer what would he do?

Second D. D.: He'd kiss her back.

First D. D.: Yes, but what if she was a tall girl?

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

It has been estimated that nearly $700,000,000 are spent annually for advertising in America. The outsider naturally wonders whether advertising with such high rates for space can really be a profitable method of selling. A little investigation will prove that advertising is not a luxury but a profitable and, as a rule, economical method of selling. It would not otherwise have become such a momentous business force during the last fifty years.

People are influenced in their purchase to a far greater extent by advertising than they commonly realize. A recent investigation conducted by the Chicago Tribune showed that 24 per cent of purchases of food were initiated through the influence of advertising. The effectiveness of advertising is further indicated by the quite generally accepted opinion that more business failures occur among unadvertised than among advertising concerns.

Advertising furthermore not only pays the advertiser but also the firm that handles the advertising. From two-thirds to three-fourths of the cost of maintaining a newspaper or magazine is derived from the advertising space.—Monmouth Oracle.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Mr. George Johnson, instructor in machine shop has recently been made contributing editor to "Motor Service." In the last number of this magazine he has an article entitled "Replacing an Emergency Roller Bearing Cage."

* * *

The boys in the machine shop are having no end of fun setting up for simple and compound differential indexing with modern equipment.

* * *

More extensive work in the tool making department may now be done as a tool grinder has just been installed in the machine shop.

* * *

Students in the mill work class did their share in putting the "Board Walk" across. They built the framework for the booths. This type of work is right along their line, and Mr. Hurff felt it their duty to assist in the production of the annual carnival.

* * *

Mr. Emil Johnson has outlined a new course in woodwork for electricians. It is a three-hour course, requiring three double periods each week. The fundamentals of planing, ending with the making of a table lamp, are to be taught. Practice will be given in boring and making coil forms of a collapsible feature. A very practical feature in electric wiring is provided through the construction of a miter box and cutting miters for casings for wires.

* * *

As Miss Mickel accompanied the body of Miss Winship to Manhattan, Kansas, last Friday, none of her classes met that day.

* * *

This week night school closes. Mr. Hurff claims to have the highest percentage of attendance of any department.

* * *

Eighty-six new lantern slides have been received for the History of Architecture course, and more are expected to be here shortly.

* * *

All Manual Arts students who expect to teach next fall, as well as those who desire help from the Institute in securing positions, met with Mr. Siepert last week. Blanks giving the information required of the applicants were filled out at that time and they will be filled for reference.

THE CO-ED
By Berniece Jones

All those who had a part in the Bradley Board Walk must have gone to bed Friday night with the satisfaction of having done something well. It was a decided success both financially and socially.

To the girls is due most of the credit, for all of the committees were headed by G. A. A. and Y. W. girls. The days when people believed that nothing could be done without a man for a leader are gone.

We do not mean to belittle the men. They certainly helped the girls out a great deal, especially as they spent most of the money. Some of the best stunts were put on by them too; for instance, the vaudeville stunt by Fred Knupp and Bill Oakley. The duck pond was also their doings.

* * *

The Y. W. tea held Monday afternoon in the "Y" room was greatly enjoyed by the girls. Teas seem to be quite popular this year.

* * *

They certainly come a long way to see Alta.

* * *

Registration for Spring sports begins this week.

* * *

Did you know that Wednesday, March 21, is the first day of spring? That is, on the calendar. We thought we wanted more cold weather, but we realize now that we were mistaken.

* * *

The girls' volley ball tournament of three week's duration ended Monday afternoon with the defeat of Alta Gillette's team by Alice Bonner's speedy tossers, with a score of seven games to five games.

The losers are to provide a feast for the winners in Social Hall in the near future.

* * *

Why do the girls have to go to chapel and listen to a talk given to men?

* * *

Bobbed hair was never more popular at Bradley. Some new "bobs" are, Laura Hedstrom, Louise Meyer, Clara Cornell and Virginia Applegate, a "re-bob."

* * *

Bobbed hair has its drawbacks, especially when the curling iron doesn't stay where it's put.

* * *

When a little soap and water
Will wash it all away.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

A Bradley Conservatory student recital will be given Friday evening of March 23rd, in Bradley hall. The following students will appear on the program:

Piano—Margaret Fair, Ruth Schneider, Agnes Archer, Virginia Harris, Mary Baker, Harriett Todd, Eleanor Roe, Rosella Wilmot, Loraine Aper, Frances Hoshor, Myrtle Hitchcock, Jeanne Cheyne, and Mr. Harry Hoffman.

Organ—Miss Helen King.

Violin—Miss Faye Gehlet and Mr. Richard Auten.

Voice—Miss Helen King and Miss Mabel Krieling.

Those who heard the excellent program given several months ago by the Bradley Conservatory of Music orchestra under the direction of Mr. Eldon C. Murray will be pleased to read the announcement of their second concert to be given in Bradley hall Sunday afternoon, March 25th, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead will be the soloist.

An excellent program has been arranged and a performance of much enjoyment is anticipated.

On account of the Garrison concert Tuesday evening of March 20th, the Bradley Conservatory Chorus met promptly at 7 o'clock in Bradley hall. Many new members have entered the chorus recently and much interest is being taken in the work. Singers of Peoria who are desirous of an opportunity to become familiar with Mendelssohn's "Elijah" are invited to join.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STUDENT COUNCIL, BRADLEY POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

Article I.

The Bradley Polytechnic Institute Student Council shall be an organization of the undergraduate body to be elected by the undergraduate body as hereinafter provided.

Article II.

Membership.

The council shall be composed of sixteen members, as follows: One member from the freshman class, one man and one woman from the sophomore class, three members from the junior class, to include always one man and one woman, two men and two women from the senior class, two members from the Conservatory, two members from the Horological School, and two members from the Vocational Department.

Article III.

Elections.

Section 1. Elections to the council shall be held the third week of the college year.

Sec. 2. Each of the groups mentioned in Article II shall meet in open caucus and shall nominate at least two candidates for each representative to which the group is entitled.

Sec. 3. The time, place and voting lists of the caucuses and elections shall be determined by the president of the Institute. The temporary chairman of the caucuses shall be appointed by him.

Sec. 4. The elections shall be held not less than two days after the caucuses and shall be by secret ballot. The President of the Institute shall appoint the judges of election from the student body.

Sec. 5. Should a vacancy occur in the representation of a group, that group shall hold a special election to fill the vacancy not less than two weeks after the vacancy occurs.

Article IV.

Terms of Office.

Section 1. The senior members shall hold office until close of the college year in which they were elected.

Sec. 2. The representatives of the remaining groups shall hold office until the election of their successors.

Sec. 3. Members of the council shall be eligible for re-election.

Article V.

Section 1. The newly chosen members of the council shall meet within one week after their election to select a President, Vice-president and Secretary-Treasurer.

Sec. 2. The President shall be a member of the senior college class.

Sec. 3. At the first meeting of the Council the members shall sign the following statement which shall be printed in THE TECH. "We agree on our honor that neither as individuals nor as members of any organization shall we be moved by individual or partisan influences in relation to matters pertaining to the welfare of the Institute."

Sec. 4. The Council meetings shall be conducted according to "Robert's Rules of Order."

Article VI.

Procedure.

Section 1. Meetings shall be held every two weeks upon a day to be decided by the Council.

Article VII.

Duties.

Section 1. The Council shall supervise and maintain all regulations having to do with the undergraduate extracurricular activities and conduct not otherwise provided for and shall have power by and with the consent of the faculty to initiate new legislation, or change existing regulations of this nature.

It shall have power to make to the Faculty recommendations regarding any matters affecting the students of the Institute.

Article VIII.

Distribution.

Section 1. Copies of the Constitution shall be published and distributed to the undergraduate body the first month of the college year by means of THE TECH.

Article IX.

Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the Council, subject to the approval of the faculty.

GIRLS PLAY FAST BRAND OF BASKET BALL IN FINALS

JUNIOR-SENIOR COMBINATION TOO MUCH FOR OPPONENTS —DECLARED CHAMPS.

The girls' basketball tournament drew to a close Tuesday afternoon with the two championship games between the Junior-Senior team and Cornell's Freshmen, and between the Sophomores and Decker's Freshman team.

The five preliminary games were played in the girls' gymnasium last week. Tuesday the Sophomores won from Cornell's Freshmen by a 36-35 score. Krughoff and Pease starred for the Sophs while Cornell put up the best performance for the Freshmen.

Monier's Freshmen went down in defeat before the strong Junior-Senior combination captained by B. Jones. The score was 35 to 15. Jones was the upper classmen's star while Cation did practically all the scoring for the Freshmen quintet.

Foster's team of Freshmen scored a 17-11 victory over that of Harlan. Cornell's Freshmen tripped Decker's Frosh outfit for a win, 24-20 being the final score.

The Junior-Senior team defeated the Sophomore in a close game, the score of which was 33-31. Jones again starred for the winners while Krughoff looked best for the Sophomores.

INTER-FRATERNITY CAGE LAURELS GO TO SIGMA PHI'S

ELIMINATE ALPHA PI'S IN TWO CLOSE GAMES.

By holding the Alpha Pi's to a 13 to 12 score in the final game of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament the Sigma Phi's Thursday night walked off with the inter-fraternity cage laurels. The game, which was the second played between the two teams during the tournament, was by far the fastest and hardest fought of the series.

Many thrills were provided throughout the forty minutes of play. At no time did either side feel confident of a happy outcome. Both teams fought vainly for a basket in the final seconds of play—the Alpha Pi's to overcome the one point advantage and the Sigma Phi's to make their lead a trifle more certain.

The first game of the tournament was played Tuesday night between the Sigma Phi's and Alpha Pi's. It was also hotly contested and the score when the final whistle sounded stood 29-23 in favor of the Sigma Phi's.

The second game, which was played between the Alpha Pi's and Beta Mu's terminated in a 23 to 15 victory for the Alpha Pi's. Many spectacular plays were exhibited by both sides. The outstanding stars for this game were Tucker and Younge for the Alpha Pi's. Carter stood out most prominently for the Beta Mu's.

BRADLEY WOMEN TAKE GIRL SCOUT TRAINING COURSE

MISS ELIZABETH M. HANEY GIVES TWO WEEK'S INSTRUCTION FOR LEADERS AND TROOP MANAGERS.

Bradley women are now undergoing a two week's training course for girl scout leaders conducted by Miss Elizabeth M. Haney, a member of the education department of the Girl Scouts, Inc. The course, which began on April 2, was made possible through the co-operation of the Peoria Girl Scout council.

Ten meetings of an hour and a half each conducted in troop scout form, especially emphasizing the problems of leadership and troop management and aided by demonstrations by local girl scout troops will constitute the course.

Patrols will consist of eight members each. Not more than forty nor less than sixteen students, preferably juniors and seniors, will constitute the class. Local girl scout officers and others interested are invited to join the class.

The course carries no credit but is under the auspices of the school departments of Peoria. It is especially designed for students who are interested in recreational and civic work with young people.

During the summer and autumn of 1902, forty-two universities, colleges and normal schools throughout the country have sponsored courses in Girl scout leadership, among them being New York University, Smith College and Ohio State.

The course by Miss Haney will be given from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock daily. The three points in the girl scout movement, home, health, and citizenship, will be especially emphasized in the work.

MANY HONORARY FRATS AT KNOX

Knox college boasts of having chapters of more prominent national honorary fraternities than any other college in the world, eight such organizations being represented by chapters at Siwash. The work of these national organizations has been of great benefit to the college, for besides being honorary clubs, they take an active part in the furtherance of under-graduate activities.

The national honorary fraternities represented at Knox include Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic; Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic; Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic; Delta Sigma Rho, forensic; Theta Alpha Pi, dramatic; Pi Kappa Lambda, musical; Sigma Delta Psi, athletic; Mortar Board, scholarship and service.

Besides these national honorary groups, the college has a local club known as Friars, which performs work similar to that of honorary organizations, composed of seniors.—Knox Student.

SYMPATHY OF FRIENDS EXTENDED TO MEINEN

John "Dutch" Meinen has the heartfelt sympathy of the Bradley student-body and his many friends in the sudden death of his father who passed away on March 23. A number of "Dutch's" teammates and Coach Robertson attended the funeral held at the Meinen home in Pekin, Illinois.

"Dutch" Meinen is to be graduated in June, and next fall he will begin his career as an athletic coach. Meinen is being seriously considered for such a position at one of the near-by high schools. No better student of the coaching game has ever been turned out by Bradley, and it goes without saying that "Dutch" will make good from the start.

Committee Promises Music and Color for Prom Goers

Devotees of the dance will "have the time of their lives" at the Junior Prom next Friday night according to all reports from the committee in charge. Decorations to dazzle the eye, music to satisfy the ear, and "refreshments" to please the tongue, are all on the program, which by the way, the committee states, is leather bound and cost "all of sixty cents."

The student council has requested that neither flowers nor candy be brought. This, to some degree, is a solace to the mere men who were required to part with three and a half dollars for a ticket.

The Junior class plans to limit the number of couples to 150 and urges that students buy their tickets immediately.

THREE HARD GAMES FEATURE CLOSE OF GIRLS' NET RACE

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEAM BEATS FRESHMEN—ALL-STAR TEAMS PICKED FROM CONTESTANTS.

The girls' basketball tournament ended Tuesday afternoon with the junior-senior triumph over Cornell's freshmen by a score of 47-13. The Humphrey, G. Schoenheider and A. Barton.

The championship game between the Sophomores and Decker's freshmen ended with sopha victorious with a score of 46-27. Krughoff started for the sophomores and both Decker and Carlton scored for the freshmen.

In the Foster-Cornell freshmen game, Cornell's five took the title with a 32-10 score. Lottman scored highest for the Foster freshmen while Cornell and Steingraber were star rosers for the Cornell team.

The "varsity" teams were chosen from the championship winning teams. The first team consists of Cheryl Steingraber, center; Mildred Krughoff, forward; Berniece Jones, forward; Margaret Belsley, guard and Edwa Hinnphrey, guard. The second "varsity" team are Adra Newell, center, Alyce Pease, forward, Clara Cornell, forward, Stella La Follette and Gertrude Schoenheider, guards.

ILLINOIS HOLDS HIGH PLACE IN FURNITURE

Illinois ranked third among the 48 states in 1921 for the number of factories manufacturing furniture valued at more than $5,000, according to a Bureau of Census report made public by the Department of Commerce.

Illinois was topped only by New York and Pennsylvania. Michigan, where is located Grand Rapids, center of furniture industry, was seventh. Michigan was second, however, in the value of products, reporting 12 per cent of the total.

SPRING MEETING OF REGISTRARS AT BRADLEY APRIL 16

WILL DISCUSS PROBLEMS RELATING TO REGISTRATION OF STUDENTS.

Registrars of Illinois colleges will come to Bradley April 16, to hold their spring meeting for discussion of plans relating to the work of college registrars.

All sessions of the convention will be held in the social hall, gymnasium, and Bradley hall. The morning session program is:

8:45-9:15—Registration and informal reception.

9:15-9:30—Welcome to visiting registrars, by President Burgess.

9:30-10:30—Organization meeting; adoption of constitution; election of officers.

10:30 to 12::30—Informal discussion led by A. C. Metcalf, registrar of Illinois Woman's College. A question box will be opened at this time and a discussion of the relation of the registrar to the prospective student, including preliminary correspondence, passing upon and recording his credentials, and his registration.

The registrars will be guests of Bradley college at a 1 o'clock luncheon. After the luncheon Miss La Fevre, registrar of Bradley, will conduct the guests to Peoria's various beauty spots.

The afternoon session will convene at 2:30. S. A. Harrod, registrar, Eureka college, will lead an informal discussion of the relation of the registrar to the student after he has become enrolled, including the task of keeping a proper record of his scholarship and conduct. At this time a second question box will be opened. From 3:45 to 5:00 Miss Katherine Carstairs, registrar Illinois State Normal University, will discuss informally, the relation of the registrar to the administration and the faculty.

TRACK MEET FOR NOVICES WILL BE STAGED FRIDAY

COACH JOHNSON DEVISES THIS PLAN TO PROMOTE INTEREST IN TRACK MEET.

What Bradley has probably never before witnessed in the way of athletic contests Coach Leo Johnson will attempt Friday afternoon by staging a novice track meet on the Tech cinder paths. All men who have not heretofore participated in any of the track meets wherein Bradley has been entered are eligible to compete in the events next Friday.

Tech authorities are evolving this plan as a means perhaps of unveiling some of the track talent that has as yet failed to appear for the daily workouts. A large number of novices will, it is hoped, avail themselves of this opportunity to display their skill.

Fred Smith and Risser are dash men entered in the short distance events. Siminski, Garner, Ralph Johnson and Harshbarger are numbered among those who will race the hurdles. Long distance runners include "Dutch" Meinen, Fritz, Metzel, Boettle and Staab. Belmfohr and Falcetti are other sprinters of no mean ability.

Entered in the field events will be Carter, Heidrich, and Hindle, weight men, Garner, a pole vaulter, Purlee, a high jumper, and Lynn Wixon, a broad jumper. Several "dark horses" are sure to appear on the field Friday to add zest to the class of competition.

Other colleges and universities have staged such contests for novices with surprising results. In this way much latent track material has been uncovered and developed. The squad of track men now working out under Coach Johnson is by no means sufficiently large to ensure the Tech's being represented this spring by a first class team. More candidates are needed, and another plea is made for athletes to try out for the team. Coaches Robertson and Johnson believe that the novice meet will stimulate the interest of all who have at any time taken part in track activities.

CLARENCE ROGERS ILL IN HOSPITAL

Clarence "Cap" Rogers, popular Bradley athlete is ill at a hospital in Burlington. This was the information conveyed to his fraternity brothers by a wire from Charles McCaslin whom Rogers had gone to visit over the spring vacation. McCaslin did not state the cause of the illness but stated that he was not dangerously ill. McCaslin is a former Tech athlete.

Rogers had been counted on to take a place on the hurling mound for Bradley this spring. Perhaps the grilling pace of a long basketball season left Rogers under the weather.

Co-eds Anticipate Spring's Arrival by Clipping Tresses

"In the spring a young man's fancy, etc." So sang the poet. But he didn't sing enough. What about the young women? With the first warm zephyrs from the tropics have come more sparms of the bobbing epidemic. Tresses which previously withstood the ruthless slaughtat of Dame Fashion and the barber's scissors are being clipped, curled and crimped and sedate co-eds are blossoming out in the glory of their newly found beauty.

Bradley women are threatening to revive the bobbed hair fad. Bradley men smile and say "Let 'em." The concensus of opinion seems to be that with King Tut, scarabs and slinkers to contend with, the substantial flapper is the best after all.

INTERSCHOLASTIC PROGRAM INCLUDES LITERARY EVENTS

MAKE DIVISION IN DECLMATORY CONTESTS—ENGLISH DEPARTMENT HEADS TO JUDGE ESSAYS.

Literary events of the Bradley Interscholastic meet of May 5, will consist of three contests, two of which will be speaking and the other an assay contest. These divisions were made to replace the system of oratory and declamation used in former years.

Thirteen high schools have been invited to enter the declamatory contests. The entrants will be divided into two groups, the boys speaking in the Bradley auditorium and the girls in the social hall. Both contests will begin at 10:00 on Saturday morning. Gold, silver, and bronze medals of the same kind and quality as those given the athletes will be awarded to the winners of the literary events.

Essays for the contest will be submitted to Mr. W. Ross Marvin, director of the contest before the day of the contest. They will be judged by the members of the English department of Bradley. Thought and composition are the points on which the winners among the essayists will be chosen. Members of any high school in the state are eligible to competition in this contest.

Local ministers will be selected to judge the speaking contests.

HOLD ELECTION OF Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS

Election of Y. M. C. A. officers for 1923-24 was held Wednesday, March 24, and resulted in the election of Louis McDonald to the presidency of the organization. Other officers are: Ted Voorhees, vice-president, and Leland Newell, secretary-treasurer.

McDonald and Newell were selected to attend the Y. M. C. A. officers' training conference to be held in Chicago April 6, 7, 8. Plans for the Geneva conference will be discussed.

A bill recently submitted to the Kansas State Legislature will, if passed, prohibit the use of motor cars for recreation purposes by students attending state schools. The misdemeanor of using a motor car for recreation while enrolled in school will be punished by a jail sentence of from ten to thirty days, a fine of from $100 to $300 or both.

FAMOUS RUNNERS ARE TO APPEAR AT INTERSCHOLASTIC

RAY AND BUKER FEATURE PROGRAM WITH EXHIBITION RACE.

One big feature after another is being added to the program of the eighteenth annual Bradley interscholastic track and field meet to be held at the Tech athletic field on May 5.

Director Robertson follows his announcement that Joie Ray, famous distance runner, will be here on that day for an exhibition run with the news that Ray Buker, holder of the intercolleglate championship of the east, is to run against Joie in the exhibition mile race. It will be the third race between these two great middle distance runners.

At the Bankers' meet in Chicago two weeks ago Ray suffered defeat by the speedy University of Chicago student, but last Friday evening he evened matters by beating Buker out in a stirring finish to their two-mile race at the C. A. A. indoor meet, likewise held in Chicago, the time being 9:53 2-5. The two stars are bitter rivals and expect to settle for a while the question of supremacy when the third match between them occurs here on the day of the Interscolastic.

Aside from having secured this added attraction, Tech authorities are to be assisted in the conduction of the annual track and field meet by two notable officials, Walter Eckersall, who will act as referee and starter, and T. J. Canty, famed the country over as an announcer.

Eckersall is widely known as an athletic critic, for a number of years being on the staff of the Chicago Tribune. He is one of the best football players ever to be developed by the University of Chicago.

Canty, the clever little announcer who will be here for the second time, won the admiration of the spectators last year with his interesting work and pleasing personality. Canty thinks the Bradley meet is the best of its kind held anywhere. He knows whereof he speaks for he announces at all of the big meets throughout the country. Canty is in demand everywhere. It was largely through Canty's efforts that the Bradley authorities were able to secure Buker and Ray on the interscholastic program.

Indications point toward this year's meet being the greatest Bradley has ever held. Invitations have been sent out to more than five hundred high schools, and already Director Robertson is being besieged with requests for entry blanks. Close to seventy-five schools are expected to be entered in the Tech meet.

Numerous star prep athletes will be here on May 5 to compete. Coach Fellows of La Salle-Peru High school has written that he will bring Johns, his pole vaulter, to the meet. At the Northwestern University indoor meet last week Johns cleared the bar at 11 feet 6 inches, just one inch lower than the Bradley Interscholastic record established by Jerry Griggs of Brimfield, in 1921.

Joe Dicenzo, Toluca speed demon, sensed word that he will even better his record for the 100 yard dash, which distance he clipped off in 9 4-5 seconds last year. There was some question about Dicenzo's time last spring, but the Toluca boy hopes to remove all doubt concerning his mark of a year ago.

MILLIKIN BREAKS THE ICE.

Millikin University has recently adopted a rule prohibiting the participation of freshmen in intercollegiate athletics the first semester of the college year. This is similar to the rule adopted by many of the larger universities except that they go further and prohibit all freshmen intercollegiate competition.

Many reasons are given why freshmen should not enter into athletic contests with other colleges, among them being that freshmen, as a rule, have not had enough nor the proper kind of physical education in high school, also that they should devote the first year of their college course to making a good scholastic basis for their future work.

Millikin seems to have found a new reason why freshmen should not enter into intercollegiate competition. The reason is that four years of athletics is liable to cause the student to look upon the athletic coach as a bigger man than the president of the college, in other words, allowing the side show of athletics to swallow the main circus of scholastics.

The new rule will probably cause a hardship and a loss of athletic prestige at Millikin. It was a bold step on the part of the University but who can say that it was not for the best?

THE GIFT O' GAB.

Most writers and philosophers uphold the old, old theory that "silence is golden." They are speaking of the wisdom and eloquence of keeping still. Loquacity is considered by them as an unnecessary evil. This may all be true, but it has always seemed to us that a person endowed with the "gift o' gab" is a mighty fortunate and popular individual. The world today isn't particularly fond of mummies, and those who maintain a deep, dark mysterious silence are seldom blessed with a multitude of friends. A person who is willing to share his thoughts with the rest of the world is certainly of a finer nature than he who carefully guards his philosophy of life from his associates, not wishing them to derive any possible pleasure or profit from his idea.

The most entertaining and fascinating people are those who are brilliant conversationalists. A good talker is sure to be universally liked and admired, one thing provided—that he does not talk about himself.—Augustana Observer.

TWO OBJECTIONS

I usually enjoy the Tech, but the issue of March 14th brought out two regrettable facts. First, on Friday night, March 16th the one orchestral concert of the season was given at the Shrine Temple. Such an event should mean so much to the students of our highest educational institution that nothing would be planned to divert the attention of the students from an opportunity that comes rarely. Rather should every influence be brought to bear to have students experience contact with this highest form of musical art. Next season, let's arrange the Bradley dates with due regard to such an attraction made possible by the guarantee of some public spirited citizens, who should have our undivided support. The date for the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra was announced in October—the date for the Annual Stunt Show must have been chosen afterwards.

Second: The paragraph expressing a wish that the organ might be locked and the key thrown in the river may have been intended for a joke, but it is a very discourteous one. The organ is a memorial gift and to many, one of Bradley's greatest attractions, especially in the hands of such a master as Mr. Stead. Some of the organists he is developing compare favorably with our best church organists, and deserve recognition as such.

When Bradley learns to appreciate music and other arts as much as it does athletics and social activities, it will begin to have the atmosphere of a real college.

A music loving subscriber.

VOLTA EXPLAINING HIS BATTERY TO NAPOLEON

How Electrical Engineering began

IT IS not enough to experiment and to observe in scientific research. There must also be interpretation. Take the cases of Galvani and Volta.

One day in 1786 Galvani touched with his metal instruments the nerves of a frog's amputated hind legs. The legs twitched in a very life-like way. Even when the frog's legs were hung from an iron railing by copper hooks, the phenomenon persisted. Galvani knew that he was dealing with electricity but concluded that the frog's legs had in some way generated the current.

Then came Volta, a contemporary, who said in effect: "Your interpretation is wrong. Two different metals in contact with a moist nerve set up currents of electricity. I will prove it without the aid of frog's legs."

Volta piled disks of different metals one on top of another and separated the disks with moist pieces of cloth. Thus he generated a steady current. This was the "Voltaic pile"—the first battery, the first generator of electricity.

Both Galvani and Volta were careful experimenters, but Volta's correct interpretation of effects gave us electrical engineering.

Napoleon was the outstanding figure in the days of Galvani and Volta. He too possessed an active interest in science but only as an aid to Napoleon. He little imagined on examining Volta's crude battery that its effect on later civilization would be fully as profound as that of his own dynamic personality.

The effects of the work of Galvani and Volta may be traced through a hundred years of electrical development even to the latest discoveries made in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.

Wednesday afternoon twenty-five Bradley men took a trip to Avery Mfg. Co. on an inspection tour. W. J. Brandon was kind enough to give the students this privilege. The tour was under the direction of W. J. Raymond of the Avery Mfg. Co. The boys saw how they do things in a real machine shop and the afternoon was interestingly spent. Mr. Elliott, Mr. Alley and Mr. G. Johnson accompanied the boys.

The total night school enrollment for this season was 594. This is better than last year by 94 as the total enrollment last year was 501. The attendance has been more consistent than in previous years. Extended time has been asked for by students but this is impossible this year. The students claim they are getting what they want. The K. C. free scholarships to world war veterans will be given next year also. An attendance as large as this year, or larger, is expected next year.

THRIVE ON MEAT ALONE.

In the land of the Eskimo, raw meat is their principal food, the diet varying only with the hunting seasons. In seal-hunting time seal meat is the daily bill of fare; in caribou-hunting time caribou is the daily diet of the Eskimos. Though the Eskimo may have both seal and caribou meat on hand at the same time, his peculiar beliefs forbid him to eat seal meat at caribou time and vice versa. Neither may he eat a land meat such as caribou when on water or ice, on which his village is located; he must live only on the flesh of the seal. When he takes to the land in the spring he must not eat seal flesh. He must not cook seal meat under a fire of land mosses. There is no wood in the Arctic and moss forms practically the only land fuel. Neither must he cook caribou meat under a seal-oil flame. The breaking of either of these rules will call down upon his head the wrath of the departed, who are always very evil spirits, says the Eskimo.—Exchange.

OIL SHALES IN AMERICA.

In this country the largest oil shales are in the Rocky mountains, and belong to the Green river formation in northwestern Colorado, southwestern Wyoming and northwestern Utah. This formation contains beds up to 49 feet in thickness that will yield at least 35 gallons of crude oil to the ton. More thorough surveying and sampling is expected to discover thicker areas of equal or even greater richness. A recently discovered 20-foot seam yielded over sixty gallons of oil to the ton, by laboratory test. These shales will also yield to a ton upward to 20 pounds of ammonium sulphite, valuable for fertilizer purposes.

ON GOVERNMENT AND TAXATION

In view of the problems now claiming public attention regarding our government and its relation to business, a book bearing the striking title "Too Much Government—Too Much Taxation" is of very timely interest. The author of the work, which is issued by Doubleday Page, is Charles Norman Fay, an American economist of some prominence. The questions discussed in this book are of vital concern to every citizen and taxpayer. The growing burden of taxation is a thing that cannot be denied, as most people know from their experiences within recent weeks.

In the early days of the republic there was a tendency to follow the dictum of Thomas Jefferson that "government governs best which governs least." But in our era with the coming into existence of great industrial organizations the government has gradually departed from the ancient policy. Now we frequently hear the refrain: "Less government in business and more business in government." Many thinking people today are expressing concern lest our government, designed by the fathers to be democratic, should become merely bureaucratic.

In the first part of his book Mr. Fay tells how the government sought to properly regulate the big combinations of capital. With much detail he goes into the cases of Standard Oil, the Steel Trust, Dupont Powder, American Tobacco, Bell Telephone, the Meat Packers and others. Then follows a chapter on government war-time control of the railroads, wheat and sugar. Of particular importance is the chapter relating to the government attitude toward labor, with a thorough resume of the great railway and coal strikes of last year. In the chapter headed "Useless U. S. Boards or Commissions" he explains the functions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Railway Labor Board. From this it is but a step to "Useless State and Local Boards," with their many overlapping activities. In succession he treats of too many taxing bodies, too many elective offices, too long ballots, and too many elections.

He then takes up the general question of legislation, telling how it should be limited. He gives suggestions for legislation affecting labor and profiteering, and outlines a project for simplified state and local politics. In this connection he discusses candidates for office and their qualifications, the short ballot, simplification of nomination and election, and the efficiency and compensation of government personnel.

Last but not least the author handles the subject of taxation and he finds that our present system is too complex. He offers his remedy in a very illuminating chapter on "Simplification and Visibility of Taxation." He advocates the levying of a federal tax for all purposes which would be in the nature of a sales tax. We heard much of the sales tax while the recent congress was engaged in the work of tariff making. It is clearly explained by the author, who gives estimates of the rates required for present budgets. He also carefully analyzes the obstacles, political and otherwise, in the way of the sales tax.

In conclusion Mr. Fay discusses "The Volstead Act" and the "Merchant Marine Tangle," two other questions that have lately been in the public mind, and which still remain there for that matter. This book furnishes plenty of food for thought for the reader who is interested in our present-day problems.

Mr. Fay has made an exhaustive study of these intricate problems of government and taxation. He states his conclusions clearly, giving abundant reasons for everything he says. This volume is not a wearisome mass of statistics but the matter is presented in a form that is both interesting and instructive.

IDEAL-TROY DOES GOOD WORK.

QUITE RIGHT!

Dear Editor:

Some people would just die if they didn't have loads of flowers at their funeral but we're not that kind. We believe in giving the posies before it's too late. So we picked out some people who had helped us a lot and we decided to let them know about it. Of course everybody knows who they are but for fear they don't we'll just write it down in black and white so the world may know for they are the librarian, Miss Lillian Guinn and Miss Louise Booth.

Miss Lillian Guinn came to Bradley in 1916. She received her education at Cornell college, Mount Vernon, Iowa and at the Library School at University of Illinois. As Bradley librarian we find her a friend indeed. As we think of the countless times seh has helped us we realize how carefully she has guided our efforts into productive moments which otherwise would have been spent in helpless searching.

Miss Booth has lived in Peoria all her life; she attended Pearia public school and High school and was librarian for twenty years at the Peoria Public Library. In 1919 she became reference librarian at the Holt library in East Peoria. Later Miss Booth was employed at the Central National bank and in September, 1922, Dr. Burgess secured her assistance in the Bradley library. We will solemnly swear and affirm that we have never seen, heard or knew of her refusing anybody any help anywhere, any time.

What is it about Bradley library that is so very pleasant? Miss Guinn and Miss Booth.

CHILDREN NEED CARE.

New York.—The American Relief association's physicians report that over 80 per cent of all children in America are born normal, whereas less than 20 per cent reach maturity in normal physical health.

"Much constructive work has been done by public and voluntary agencies in endeavoring to develop the proper care of normal children as distinguished from the care of those who have fallen by the wayside and require actual medical treatment, but the field in many sections of our country is as yet almost untouched," it is stated.

WHAT DO WE REALLY KNOW OF EDUCATION

John Dewey writes in the New Republic: For those who choose to exercise the hope and who also wish to be honest about the accidental state of what is called education, the first step is to recognize the enormous gap which divides our talking and writing about education from our practice of it in the concrete. In the former, education is always something generic. It has a general aim which is stated in terms of dignity. The end is indeed diversely named by different schools of thought. By some it is called character, by others culture, by others a discipline mind, by others good citizenship or capacity for social service or vocational usefulness. The representatives of these schools, the devotees of these ideals, quarrel actively with one another. A considerable part of educational "discussion" is a record of these quarrels. Adherents of different doctrines quarrel as if there were something really at stake as broad and as deep as are the words they employ. They deceive themselves and the innocent bystander, the public, into supposing that there will be some difference in educational practice corresponding to the fervor and import of the outcry for culture or good citizenship, according as one side or another wins the verbal dispute.

"Deceive" is a wrong term. But in educational practice the ends aimed at are not generic and human; they are immediate and technical or specialized, namely the acquiring of some form of skill and item of knowledge. The controlling end is to acquire mastery of fractions or of a Latin declension or ability to bound the state of Tennessee or give an acceptable account of Magna Charta or manage tools so as to make a mortise and tenon joint. The assumption, of course, is that by pursuit of these various specific aims the general end of culture or discipline or good citizenship or whatever is furthered. And here is where the element of deception comes in. Until we have a definite knowledge of just how results in terms of human disposition and quality are achieved, till we can analyze into definite factors connected with definite antecedents, our belief in a working connection between this and that study, this and that method, and our desired end is at best a pious aspiration. In consequence, the educator who talks about culture usually means as a matter of fact simply that Latin or Greek should occupy a large place among school studies, while the one who dwells upon the desirability of mental power and discipline usually means in fact that he leans strongly toward grammar and mathematics and formal studies, and the adherent of good citizenship or social service notifies us that he is in favor of the introduction of studies which have recently found their way into the program, civics perhaps or bookkeeping or manual training.

DEBATERS CLOSE SEASON WITH WIN OVER LOMBARD

VICTORIOUS IN THREE-FOURTHS OF ARGUMENTS—THREE MEN GET KEYS.

Bradley closed its most successful debate year with a 2-0 decision over Lombard college here on April 4, thus going into a tie for first place in the second triangular league. The teams won first place in the first triangular series with Wesleyan and Normal and won 9 out of a possible 12 votes for the entire season's work.

The affirmative team consisting of Marshall, Curtiss, Louis McDonald and Louis Galowitch, captain, were decated by a 2-1 decision at Normal in the opening debate of the season. They came back strong and won their next debate in a decisive 2-1 victory over Eureka college. The affirmative had much the harder side to defend but in spite of this fact, broke even on the season's work.

Bradley's negative team won both debates by unanimous decisions and by thus doing away with the distinction of being the first Bradley team to do this. The team consisting of Ray Landers, Charles Mee and Ralph Haman, captain, met the Wesleyan team and won 3-0. Lombard was not here on the last debate of the year and also fell before a unanimous decision, giving our negative a perfect record for the year.

The Institute will award Pi Kappa Delta keys to Marshall Curtiss, Ray Landers, and Louis McDonald and formal initiation will be held for them by the active Pi Kappa Delta chapter. Charles Mee and Louis Galowitch will receive the Degree of Honor for winning two out of three debates and Ralph Haman will be awarded the highest degree of Pi Kappa Delta—that of special distinction, for winning three out of four debates.

Debating has created unusual inter at Bradley this year and large crowds attended both debates held here. The question: Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations, has caused much discussion and is of current interest and this probably accounts for the enthusiasm shown.

Forensic activities are playing a more important part in the college program each year and Bradley should be able to come through in fine shape next year, with five veterans to form a nucleus for the teams.

RECEIVE ENTRIES FOR LITERARY CONTESTS

Professor W. Ross Marvin, director of the literary events in connection with the Inter-scholastic meet of May 5, has announced that several high schools of the state have already sent in entry blanks for the three contests to be held on the morning of the meet.

Invitations have been extended to schools to send speakers to compete in the girls' and boys' contests. Any school may send essays to be judged. There are no requirements as to the length or character of the essays, which will be judged by members of the English department on thought, construction and appeal.

Among the schools invited to the declamatory meet are: Brimfield, Washburn, El Paso, Macknaw, Canton, Farmington, Havana, San Jose, Bradford, LaFayette, Henry Lacon, and La Salle-Peru.

BOOK OUT-OF-TOWN CONCERTS FOR BAND

The Bradley band has been booked for several out-of-town concerts this spring, according to latest reports from the director, James Rose. If the band performs as well as it did in its concert at Bradley, it will undoubtedly score a big success.

The towns already signed up are Mason City and Green Valley, concerts to be given the 13th and 20th, respectively. Rose is also considering Delavan and Chillicothe, if the band is received favorably in its first two programs.

Tyler and Barnes Managers of '23-'24 Athletic Teams

Howard Tyler, pitching ace of the Bradley baseball nine, has had another honor conferred upon him by being elected football manager for the season of 1923. Last fall Tyler was superintendent, so to speak, of the "dummy-digging" gang, and in the art of management is a past master.

At the same time the athletic board appointed Verne Barnes manager of the 1923-1924 basketball team. Barnes acted as assistant manager during the past season and by reason of his faithful and diligent service in that capacity advanced to the actual managership. He has already started work on the schedule for next season.

The new system of electing managers, adopted by the athletic board last year, is accomplishing its purpose. As only those who have served as assistant managers are eligible for election to the chief managerial post the plan will secure more efficient men as each of the three assistants—for there are three assistants appointed to each major athletic team—will strive to win the good graces of the Tech authorities.

BLOCK BROTHERS' ESTATE MAKES GIFT OF SCHOLARSHIP

RECALLS SIMILAR GIFT BY BUSINESS ASSOCIATE—SCHOLARSHIP GOES INTO EFFECT IN 1924.

Bradley college is again honored and aided by the bending of a scholarship by the beneficiaries of the Henry C. Block and Fred L. Block estates. Only a short time ago Theodore C. Kuhl, one of the members of the firm of Block & Kuhl, Peoria's largest department store, was the donor of a $2,500 scholarship to Bradley.

The Block brothers, Fred L. and Henry C., came from Germany in early youth and by diligence and industry were instrumental in founding the store now known under the name of Block & Kuhl. The brothers were not only successful business men but were men of the highest type and character. They were potent factors in the civic and commercial life of Peoria.

The Block scholarship will be presented in 1924, the selection of its winner being left to the Institute authorities.

In commenting on the scholarship Dr. Burgess said: "It is an honor to have the Block brothers' names connected with our college at the present time and the scholarship will, in turn, carry their names down to future generations. Bradley acknowledges her debt to the various donors of this foundation."

BROKER TELLS VALUE OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

F. L. Starbuck, a member of the board of trade and one of Peoria's prominent men spoke in chapel Monday, giving a humorous talk on the value of a college education.

Illustrations and anecdotes, plentifully interspersed thruout his talk led him to state the conclusion that the value of a college education was entirely dependent upon "what the student made of himself."

BUSINFSS COURSE BECOMES POPULAR WITH STUDENTS

FIRMS DESIRE EXECUTIVES—WORK COVERS MANY PHASES OF BUSINESS LIFE.

Mr. Loyal G. Tillotson, professor of the department of business and economics, has been receiving numerous requests from large firms in Chicago for graduates from Bradley business course. The positions offered lead to places in the executive departments in these firms.

Bradley's business course, said by many to be one of the best in the state, now in its 3rd year. There are one hundred seventy-five students in the department at the ball and a few correspondence students. The Bloom prize of $50 is offered to the department to the freshmen student standing highest in his record of scholarship in all first year courses of the general business curriculum. Other prizes are offered also.

Next term the following courses will be offered in addition to the present ones: First semester a three hour course in corporation finance; 2-hour course in income tax procedures; 3-hour course in labor problems. Second semester: 3-hour course in public finances; 3-hour course in marketing and a 2-hour course in investments. These courses are for advanced business students, junior and senior.

The Commerce club has been organized in connection with the business administration department. Marshall Curtis is the president of the club. This organization is particularly interested in advertising. Many prominent business men of Peoria have spoken before the members about various commercial subjects.

The degree offered is B. S., Edwin Anderson, Adra Nevell and Clara Hershe will graduate from the department in June.

The correspondence courses offered are elementary and advanced accounting, business correspondence, business law, business organization and administration; transportation and traffic management; marketing and distribution; salesmanship and advertising.

WILL ATTEMPT TO SECURE PI KAPPA DELTA CONVENTION

PEORIA FAVORED AS CENTRAL POINT FOR NATIONAL FRATERNITY'S MEET.

Bradley has been offered a chance to secure the bi-ennial convention of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debating fraternity, which is to be held in March, 1924.

In reply to inquiries from the national president at Los Angeles, California, Professor Ross Marvin of the English department has extended to the fraternity an invitation to hold its next convention at Bradley. Professor Marvin has interested the Peoria Chamber of Commerce and the convention department and has made the fraternity an attractive offer.

There are about 75 chapters in the country and that would mean that possibly 300 delegates would gather here. In connection with the convention there are held a series of national debates and oratorical contests which would last over a period of three days. Bradley was one of the few written to concerning the convention because of the central location of Peoria.

For the first time in the history of American Colleges a woman's college will enter into inter-collegiate debate competition with a man's college, when Vassar and Harvard freshmen meet on the platform this month to debate the question, "Resolved, that the United States should enter into an agreement with the former allies for the cancelation of the inter-allied debts."

JUNIOR PROM IS SEASON'S LARGEST SOCIAL SUCCESS

OVER 250 PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL FORMAL AFFAIR IN GYMNASIUM.

Declared by all concerned to be by far the most brilliant affair of its kind ever held at Bradley, the third annual Junior Promenade was held in the gymnasium Friday evening, April 6.

From the grand march, which started the dancing program, to the strains of the last waltz, the entire evening was the biggest kind of a success, and the 250 or so people who attended gave evidence of the fact by their applause and exclamations of delight at the many features of the affair.

The decorations were especially beautiful, the color scheme being worked out in the class colors of blue and gold. A false ceiling supported by pillars of the above hues, formed part of the transformation, and a huge golden harp, standing out against a heavy black curtain hid the orchestra from the dancer's view.

Delightful music, furnished by Haschert's orchestra, delicious refreshments, an interpretive dance by Miss Alice Bonner, and attractive programs, all went to make up a most enjoyable evening, and everyone from President Burgess down to the newest "freshie" enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

The majority of credit for the success of the "Prom" must be laid at the doors of the various committee members. The general committee which had direct charge of the affair follows: Russel Peters, chairman; Alice Marie Dolan, Helena Burke, Alta Gillette, John Weir, Theodore Voorhees, Charles Brobst, Arnold Hitchcock, Lenore Wysong, and Frank Ireland, Jr. Every member of the junior class who also helped make the night a memorable one, also should receive part of the credit.

MEET FOR NOVICES UNCOVERS TALENT IN TRACK MATERIAL

GREGORY PUSHES HOSWELL HARD IN 100 YARD DASH—GARNER SCORES MOST POINTS.

Bradley's first novice track meet was a huge success from the viewpoint of Coach Leo Johnson. It brought to light several new men that will undoubtedly be of great help to this year's squad, and uncovered at least one "find."

Whitney Gregory, Peoria high school graduate, surprised the crowd by dogging the flying footsteps of Hoswell, the "Toluca Cannonball," so close that it was doubtful for a second as to which would win. Hoswell won the event but Gregory finished only a foot behind. With coaching Gregory should develop into a crack dash man, for it was his first attempt to run the century in competition.

Glen Garner, another freshman, distinguished himself by landing high among the individual point winners. Garner won the 220 low hurdles, the pole vault, and the fifty yard dash, and finished second in the broad jump and third in the 100 yard brush.

Other unknown athletes who showed promise were Sminski, who placed second in individual points won, Carter, Metzel, Purlee, Fred Smith, McNaught and Faletti.

The meet was open to only those Bradleyites who had not previously won a point for Bradley in varsity competition. Final tryouts for the first dual meet of the year to be held at Lombard April 21, will be conducted next Saturday morning.

Louis McDonald's name should have appeared on the Freshman Honor Roll which was recently published in the Tech. This omission is due to an error in the report of one of his grade.

FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK AT LUNCHEONS

The month of April is "Bradley Month" at the Thursday luncheons of the "Women's City Club" at 127 S. Jefferson avenue. On April 5 Miss Martha Hobson read Barrie's play, "The Twelve Pound Look;" April 12, Loyal G. Tillotson will speak upon "Training of Women for Business;" April 19 Miss Jennie Constance will lecture on "Potentiality of American Literature." Mrs. Burgess will talk April 26.

The Women's City Club consists of business and professional women in Peoria. Miss Anna Le Fevre, Bradley registrar, is the chairman for programs for the month of April.

MAIL OUT ENTRY BLANKS FOR TECH MEET THIS WEEK

VALUABLE PRIZES OFFERED WINNERS OF VARIOUS TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS

The entry blanks for Bradley's eighteenth annual Track and Field Meet have been sent out and from now on Coach Mapletopn and his assistants expect to be busy. The meet will be held on Tech field May 5 and should be by far the biggest ever staged by Bradley.

Approximately fifty schools are receiving entry blanks and at least twenty more will be sent out. Last year there were 57 schools and 523 athletes entered.

Joe Dicenzo, sensation of last year, will again appear to represent Toluca High School. Dicenzo set a mark of 9 4-5 in the century dash that probably will never be broken. Coach Fellows of LaSalle-Peru informed Coach Robertson that he will send his crack pole-vaulter, Johns, to the meet. Johns will attempt to break the record of 11feet, 7 inches, established by Griggs of Brimfield.

The prizes are the best ever offered for a Tech meet. The team winning first place will receive a silver figure of an athlete, 19 inches high. Shields will be given to the schools winning second, third and fourth places will receive gold, silver and bronze medals, respectively.

There are several individual prizes, best of which is a gold watch for the high point winner. This prize has been won for the last two years by Marion Leonard of Forrest High, now at Centre College, Kentucky.

FEW APPLICANTS FOR GREEK PLAY CHORUS

Applicants for the chorus parts of the Greek drama "Alcestes" are very scarce to date, only a few having signed the request on the bulletin board. Only about 15 persons will be used in the chorus but even this small number have not yet signed.

The other work on the drama is progressing rapidly, and well trained cast is promised by the directors of the play.

RUSSELL RESIGNS AS NORMAL COACH

H. Harrison Russell director of athletics and head coach at Normal University for twelve years has resigned from his position to accept a more attractive one in the athletic department of Clark University at Worchester, Massachusetts.

Mr. Russell will retain his present position until September 1, when his successor will be named.

BRADLEY BASEBALL NINE ROUNDS INTO SHAPE FOR OPENER

ARMOUR TECH HERE FOR THE FIRST GAME FRIDAY—LINE-UP UNCERTAIN.

Though outdoor workouts have been few this spring, Coach Robertson expects to have his Bradley baseball nine in fair shape for a tussle with Armour Tech by Friday of this week. Now that the diamond is being made fit for the opening contest, the chief worry has been about removed.

The Tech mentor is not by any means sure of starting line-up Friday. A number of candidates have stood out prominently in fielding and batting practice during the past week so that for him to pick a line-up is a difficult task. The class of material working out each day leaves no question but that the Tech should rank with the strongest ball clubs in the conference.

Reserve pitching talent has presented a problem to Coach Robertson, but since both Rogers and Mariotti have again reported for work the outlook for a staff of reliable twirlers becomes more encouraging. Tyler and Carroll, however, will share the major portion of the hurling duties and both should come through in splendid manner.

Backstop aspirants are plentiful enough and fairly well matched, though Buckley, veteran of last year, is working with the first squad during batting drills. Buckley possesses all the attributes of a high class college receiver, and because of his complete knowledge of the game and his hitting ability he will probably have the job all season. Reiehle, Fritz and Hindle are contending for the catching job.

As was expected at the start of the year Earl Doubet, who performed as utility man with the University of Illinois nine last year, is considered to be the best infield prospect on the team. His versatility as an infielder would fit him for either the shortstop or the second base position. Doubet is also hitting the ball at a dangerous slip.

On the initial corner Landers, a newcomer to Bradley, has the call for the job. Landers is showing better baseball than any of the other recruits that have been stationed there.

Brewer, Scofield, and Mariotti are bidding strong for the shortfield position. Mariotti is developing into a classy infielder and with a more thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of the game he ought to prove a valuable man. Brewer has improved wonderfully since last year and is being given serious consideration as to Scofield, another natural fielder. Both are displaying marked ability at the bat.

Wally Smith and Friedrich are vieing for the third base assignment. Friedrich is learning fast and may land the job through Smith is by no means out of the race. Smith may have a slight edge on the Chillicothe lad in hitting, having pounded out a home-run, a triple and a single in Saturday's practice game.

In Correll, Dixon and Captain Bernard Allen the Tech is well fortified in the outfield. All three of the boys field with grace and Coach Robertson looks to each of them to bat far above the .300 mark.

If Dead, Get Buried.

The great majority of us like to coast along through life, our highest degree of activity consisting of mildly criticizing what some else has had pep and energy enough to do. Either a violent like or an intense dislike for a proposal, condition, or institution is encouraging and suggestive of life, but when nothing but unmitigated apathy prevails the dead should cease to walk and eat, and bury themselves in a manner befitting their staté of existence. The criticism is often heard, especially about the college campus that so-and-so is "railroading" something through, that so-and-so is agitating, that such-and-such a move is undemocratic. If democracy means no more than equality of inertia and divided dodging of responsibility, give us aristocracy; if an agitator is someone, disdiscontent, with "has been, is now, and ever shall be," may power be given to the agitator; if "railroading" consists in getting something done, hurrah for "railroading." Contentment means stagnation and death. Do, don't die.—Carletonian.

Model Editor for College Paper.

A college editor should be a superman endowed with the patience of Job, the editorial ability of Horace Greely, the managing and directing ability of Charles Schwab, the diplomacy of Woodrow Wilson, the judicial qualities of ormer Chief Justice Marshall, he needs the keen humor of Lincoln, the dignity and philosophy of Socrates, the agnostic tendencies of Ingersoll; he should have the literary ability of Shakespeare, and the lack of conscience of Amy Lowell.

In addition to these few qualifications he needs the physique of Jack Dempsey, the nerve of a hold-up man, and Edison's ability to do without sleep. His brain should be so constituted that he could absorb the essentials of a twenty-credit course by means of the barest perusal of the subjects contained and to pass the final exams with honors so that the faculty will respect him and allow him to stay in school. He should be absolutely foreign to the needs of rest, sleep, eating, recreation, the love of society, the inclination for glory in athletics, school activities, and love.

Having these few requirements, he should be able to qualify as a fairly competent editor, and there is a possibility that he would not be hauled on the faculty carpet more than once a week and kicked by the student body in general more than twice a day.—Idaho Argonaut.

This is the tale of Johnny McGuire,
Who ran down the street with his trousers on fire.
He ran straight to the doctors, and fainted with fright.
When the doctor told him that the end was in sight

More Scandal.

We have just learned, that Geo. Benson went calling the other morning at 2 a. m. upon a certain young lady who writes for the Tech. Her irate father (so the story goes) admitted George to his abode, and a stormy conversation ensued. George left the house quite hurriedly, with foot-prints on his trousers, at a place where foot-prints generally are.

It is rumored that the Sophists had something to do with Mr. Benson's nocturnal visit. Developments are anxiously awaited.

At last the instructors, Tech reporters, and Tech copy readers have found that "Alcestes" is not Alkestes" but "Alcestes." Yes, verily, time works wonders.

Football at night is the latest novelty in the history of gridiron sport. The university of Cincinnati and Kentucky Wesleyan are to give a trial on September 29 at Cincinnati in what experts say will be the first night game yet played in this country. It is predicted by those who arranged the contest that it will draw a record crowd to Carson Field, in-as-much as it is scheduled for the same day as the Latonia racing season opens.

THE CO-ED
By Berniece Jones

We don't know whether our (dear) readers noticed it or not (observe our modesty please) but the Woman's Column was conspicous by its absence last week. (For the benefit of those who read our words of wisdom we wish to say that the only thing which prevented our writing it was) an auto accident in which a foot's difference would have meant no more words of wisdom from our pen. Ah, it grieves me to think of what your loss might have been. But we were spared, we really believe, for your benefit. Our little column will continue to give encouragement and advice through the remaining year.

* * *

Many a man marries a woman simply because he admires her good judgement in selecting a husband.

Miss Haney, who is giving a girl scout leadership course to Junior and Senior girls, is certainly an ideal leader herself. All the girls who are lucky enough to be in her class are not only learning how to organize girl schout troops but also many things about camp life which are invluable.

A tea was given Tuesday to afford a chance for the rest of the Bradley girls to meet Miss Haney.

Thursday the class will go on a picnic when Haney will show the girls how to cook food without the aid of any utensils.

"Take the message and I'll get it from you later."

"Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone," explained the stenor demurely.—Jester.

* * *

Radio

I called my love by radio,
In hopes that she would hear,
I asked her if she'd marry me,
And closed it, "Billy, dear."
Oh, sad is my predicament,—
Indeed a sorry mess;
When I tuned in my receivers
I heard forty answer, "Yes!"—Lord Jeff.

* * *

Four more girls joined the bobbed ranks; The Twins, Martha Hoerr and Gertrude Nelson.

* * *

Isn't it terrible to come back to school and find the bulletin board so loaded with notes that you can't find your own name there although you know it's there.

* * *

Baseball and track practice have started. All juniors and seniors who wish to go out for either of these must lose no time in registering.

* * *

Ruby—"Ah, I see they're giving a cantata at the church tonite. Let's go!"

Bill who can't hear anything to music—"Do I have to go to one of those things again?"

STEM-WINDERS

AN ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST

Mr. Frank Leet, a well known and very popular young man in "finishing," wishes to announce his engagement to one of the "fair sex."

Mr. Leet has been wearing a smile from ear to ear for the past few days which is said to be a very unusual happening among the victims of "finishing." This was noticed at once by some of his friends in school and they could not imagine what could cause such a sweet smile. Undecided whether it could be that he had struck oil, found a gold mine or sold one of his Missouri mules, a few of the fellows went over to his desk to investigate. When they asked what could cause such a continuous sweet smile on his face while he was taking finishing—he replied: "Boys, I am only going to take on a fair sex."

This remark almost knocked them cold, for little did they think such a thing was on this Missouri farmer's mind.

Mr. Leet stated that he is sorry he let it out for right lately it is almost impossible for him to finish his watchmaking on account of the thousand and one congratulations he is receiving every day.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Pupils are now enrolling for the new term in the Bradley Conservatory of Music, which opens Wednesday April 11.

Exhibits Sent to Gothenburg Exposition.

Augustana will be represented at the Ter-centennial exposition to be held in Gothenburg, Sweden, this summer. Exhibits from all departments of the school have been prepared and shipped.

Among these exhibits are a large oil painting showing all the buildings on the campus and a model of the new seminary buildings. Photographs of interior views of the various buildings were also sent.

The Gothenburg exposition is the first of its kind since the World War. Its purpose is to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the founding of Gothenburg.

C. E. Surrels, who has been an inmate of the Speedway Hospital in Maywood, is with us again after a absence of about six weeks.

The boys in the wood finishig class have been enameling bases for "Beach Babies." The babies are designed by Mrs. Beldon, a Peoria woman, who has a patent on them, and are being sold at the beaches. They are so constructed so that when thrown out into the water they stay in an upright position. Many have been used along the beaches at Chicago. The boys have finished an order for five dozen and will soon start on an order for ten dozen more.

BAND MAKES BIG SUCCESS OF FIRST OUT-OF-TOWN TRIP

SAXAPHONE QUINTET ONE OF FEATURES OF CONCERT—GREEN VALLEY NEXT.

Bradley's band, twenty-four strong, augmented by the Bradley male quartet, scored a big hit at Mason City, Friday evening, April 14. An audience of several hundred were enthusiastic in their reception of each number on the program.

Special features on the program made a decided impression upon the audience and proved of real merit. The male quartet, accompanied by Miss Alice Marie Dolan, were forced to respond to several encores. Bradley's latest organization, "The Tom Brown Saxaphone Quintet" proved to their hearers that there is real music in a saxaphone. They were complimented on their organization.

The program given follows:

Under United Banners...Rosenkrans
Echoes from Opera.....
.....Arr. by Mackie-Beyer
Tallulah.....Kohr
Love's Old Sweet Song.....Molloy
Cornet Solo by Clarence J. Hershe. Selection from "Prince Charming"
.....King
Iowa Brigade March.....Jewell
The 13th Regiment March...Panella
At Evening Time.....Jewell
Falling Leaves.....Sweely
Muttering Fritz.....Losey
Trombone Specialty
Our Lieutenant March.....Lingo

Friday, April 21, the band goes to Green Valley. Several other tours are being arranged by Director James Rose. The band has come into prominence this year through merit alone and is doing a big share in advertising Bradley.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT HEAD TO TOUR EUROPE

Miss Jennie Constance, head of the English department at Bradley, will sail in June for a tour of Europe. She is to be a member of the Bureau of University Travel, with such members included in the staff as Lorado Taft, the sculptor, and H. H. Powers, author and critic.

They will visit England, Scotland, Belgium, Switzerland, France, and Italy. It is to be essentially a study tour; a study of places of chief art, historic, and literary interest. It is a selective course; one must be recommended to be included in the party.

Miss Constance will sail from New York on the Aquitania. She will be back at Bradley in September.

PELITE DESIDERIUM CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Bradley young women of the Pelite Desiderium club entertained in Bradley gym Saturday afternoon and evening with a benefit card party and dance. The proceeds are to be spent for the new victrola which the P. D. girls have purchased for Laura Cottage. The committee in charge of the party consisted of Marguerite Bragg, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, and Adele Carton, chairman of the refreshment committee.

The honor system has been abandoned at the University of Illinois. This action was taken last week by the University Senate, acting upon the recommendation of the council of administration.

The system has been given a trial of four years at the State University and, according to the council, has proven a failure. "The experience of four years shows clearly that a great majority of the offenses reported have been presented to the commission by members of the faculty," the recommendation stated, "and very rarely by members of the upper classes in the University."

Another difficulty experienced, it is stated, was the impossibility of indoctrinating within one semester or even two the approximately 2000 members of the freshmen class each year with essential principles of the system.

Mystery of "Gammer Gurton's Needle" Revealed on May 5

"Gammer Gurton's Needle" will be presented May 5 in Bradley hall by the Coffer-Miller players. These players need no introduction to Peorians, since they scored a tremendous hit last year in their presentation of "The Rivals."

The play, "Gammer Gurton's Needle," is one of the two or three earliest comedies in the English language. Its authorship is uncertain. In 1575, some years after it was staged at Christ's College, Cambridge, it made its appearance in print. The plot is a very simple one. An old woman, Gammer Gurton, while mending the breeches of her servant Hodge, loses her needle. The loss of an article so valuable in those days not only worries her, but throws the whole household into confusion. Tib, her maid, and Cock, her servant boy, join in the search.

Presently Diccon, the Bedlam appears—a kind of wandering buffoon, who persuades Gammer Gurton that her cat, Rowlan, or Dame Chat, has taken the needle. Out of this false accusation arise all kinds of complications, and the whole village shares in the excitement. Dame Chat, and her maid Doll, Master Baily and his servant, Scapethrift, and Dr. Rat, the curate, are brought into the discussion. In the end, as Diccon is belaboring Hodge with his hand, the latter is made painfully aware of the fact that the needle has been left by Gammer Gurton sticking in the back of his breeches.

Rowdy jokes, extravagant language, and situations depending for their fun on the discomfiture of one or another of the actors gave this play great popularity in its day. Readers of the present time who penetrate behind its quaint and uncouth language will find in it an interesting picture of sixteenth century village life.

FINALS FOR THIRD CHICAGO ORATORICAL CONTEST IN JUNE

ENTRANTS MUST SUBMIT ORATIONS TO ENGLISH DEPARTMENT FOR CRITICISM—TWO PRIZES.

Preliminaries for the University of Chicago oratorical contest will be held the third week in May and the finals will be the first week in June. Every oration must be submitted for criticism to some member of the English department at least two weeks before the preliminary contest.

This is the third year that the contest has been held and it is planned to make it a permanent event. It was made possible through the efforts of the University of Chicago club of this city and their president, Frederick A. Stowe. The club offers two prizes, a first prize of thirty-five dollars and a second prize of fifteen dollars.

T. T. C. Burgess, Prof. C. E. Comstock and Miss Anna La Fever have been influential in securing this event. The purpose of the contest is to encourage oratory at Bradley. It is the present plan that the winner may represent the Institute at the Illinois oratorical association in the fall. It is expected that from twenty to thirty students will enter this contest.

Questionnaires have been sent out to more than 4,000 alumni and ex-students of Beloit College in an effort to gather suggestions as to the qualifications and preference desired by Beloit men for the new president.

The questionnaires which are being prepared for mailing to every man or woman who has ever attended the college will ask the following questions:

"What personal qualifications do you think the next president of our college should possess?"

"What individual do you suggest for the position?"

The questionnaires are part of the plan of the "presidency committee" to conduct the most thorough search possible for Beloit's fourth president.

HOLD TRYOUTS TO SELECT MEMBERS FOR TRACK SQUAD

MIDDLE DISTANCE MEN SHOW UP WELL—PREPARE FOR FIRST MEET WITH LOMBARD SATURDAY.

The official tryouts for the varsity track team were held last Saturday under rather bad weather conditions. The results were very gratifying to Coach Johnson, considering the conditions. The performances of the middle distance men were especially good and they showed much promise.

Coach Johnson expects to whip his men into fine shape by Friday, provided the weather permits, for the dual meet with Lombard at Galesburg. Bradley will meet some tough competition in the Olive, represented by the firm of Swanson and Lamb, and will undoubtedly be stretched to the utmost to win.

The results of the tryouts were as follows:

100 yard dash—Gregory 1st; Horwell, 2nd; Correll, 3rd. Time 10:4.

220 yard dash—Hoswell, 1st; Gregory, 2nd; Smith, 3rd. Time 24:4.

440 yard dash—Warner, 1st; Smith, 2nd; Fritz, 3rd. Time 56.

880 yard run—Skinner, 1st; Hendricks, 2nd; Metzel, 3rd. Time 2:11 4-5.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETS; DECIDE ON BANQUET

The regular monthly meeting of the English club was held April 11, in Social hall. The evening was devoted to the discussion of Czecho-Slovakian literature, the topic covered by the club during the year. Miss Frances Conway gave an interesting paper on the Czecho-Slovakian short story.

The members of the club voted to establish a separate fund with the proceeds from Tony Sarg's Marionettes which appeared here last fall, to be used for the dramatic interests of the college. This will include stage equipment and the staging of good dramatic productions.

May 16 and the Creve Coeur is the date and place chosen for the annual banquet of the club. This event always features the last meeting and this year it marks the close of the most successful year in the club's annals.

GET FILING CABINET FOR ENGLISH OFFICE

Bradley's English department has installed a new filing cabinet in the office of Miss Jennie Constance, head of English. The filing list now includes invaluable materials from current magazines, newspaper clippings, bibliography material for theses, mimeograph outlines, pictures from American and European literature and library reference material. The purpose of the cabinet is to help the student in his outside reading. Much of the material is for student distribution.

In accordance with the present day revival of Shakespeare, preparations for this year's varsity show are being made in the form of vigorous rehearsals and the procuring of scenery for the presentation of Henry VIII. Four performances will be rendered in the College Theatre on the evenings of April 16, 17, 18, and one matinee. The excellence of the productions of the past augurs well for the success of this year's play.

With six students permanently expelled on the basis of conduct during examinations, two suspended for a six months' period, two forced to repeat courses, four cases pending and others placed on probation, the School of Commerce through Prof. Hugh Agnew, Chairman of the Discipline Committee, is making it clear that New York University's high standing of honor will be and must be maintained.

ORGANIZATION OF STATE REGISTRARS MADE AT BRADLEY

PLANNED TO SUPPLEMENT NATIONAL BODY—MANY DELEGATES PRESENT AT MEETING.

Registrars of Illinois college were organized into a state body at their meeting in the Social hall at Bradley Monday. The new group will be used as a supplement to the national organization and will hold its meetings every two years as does the national organization.

About twenty-five delegates were present, representing the colleges and universities in Illinois.

The morning session was given over to registration, organization, adoption of the constitution, and election of officers. An informal discussion led by A. C. Metcalf, registrar of the Illinois Women's College, on the subject of registration of the prospective student also took up part of the morning session.

After luncheon Miss Anna Le Fevre, Bradley registrar, led the guests to places of interest in and about Bradley.

The afternoon session was taken up with the discussion of two topics, "The relation of the registrar to the student after enrollment," and "The relation of the registrar to the administration and the faculty."

FAELTEN CLUB TO GIVE MENDELSSOHN PLAY

The Faelten club will present the second in a series of historical and musical plays, on April 28. The play is written by Dr. James Frances Cooke, editor of the Etude, and presents two episodes in the life of one of the most gifted and best loved composers, Felix Mendelssohn.

The active members of the Faelten club will be admitted on their membership tickets, the associate and honorary members of the club will be guests of the club and there will be a small admission fee for the public.

The proceeds will be used toward keeping up the scholarship which the club has given for the past two years. The performances will be in the Recital hall of the Conservatory building and will be followed by a program of Mendelssohn compositions.

PROMINENT EDUCATOR EXPLAINS NEW SCHOOL

Eugene Randolf Smith, prominent educator in the east, explained to his audience in Bradley, Monday evening, the problem of establishing a school for city children, which would give them the advantages of the country during the school day.

This type of school has been introduced in a number of communities in the east. Mr. Smith has just recently had charge of such an institution. He was brought to Bradley by a number of citizens of the city who are interested in establishing such a school in the outskirts of Peoria.

Sixty-five Schools Already Entered in Interscholastic

Sixty-five schools have already expressed their intentions of competing in the Eighteenth Annual Bradley Interscholastic Track and Field Meet to be held on Bradley field May 5. Although nearly two weeks remain, before the date when no more entries can be received yet the number of schools already entered exceeds that of last year by eight.

Last year there were five hundred athletes entered in the meet. This year it is expected that over 600 thinly clad high school boys will put in their bids for honors.

The latest high schools to send in their entry blanks are: Farmer City, Urbana, Galva, Champaign, Fischer Community, Pleasant Hill and Forrest High School.

The Tech meet has been growing by leaps and bounds during the past few years. The secret of its success is laid to the almost perfect management with which every detail is carried out and to the excellent facilities for the competition of a large group of athletes.

The Bradley campus, one of the prettiest and best located in the state, serves as an added drawing card for the prep school athletic contest. No other college in Illinois can boast of an athletic field and equipment equal to that of Bradley, everything considered.

This year a number of new features have been added toward the improvement of the meet. The race between Joie Ray and Ray Buker, which comes off the afternoon of the meet, will be one of the main points of interest. The announcing of Ted J. Canty and the judging of Walter Eckersall will also be features.

MRS. ADELINE C. STEVENS TO TALK IN CHAPEL MONDAY

WILL SPEAK ON EDUCATIONAL TOPICS—HAS TRAVELED EXTENSIVELY AND IS NOTED WRITER.

Mrs. Adeline C. Stevens, wife of the professor of biology at the University of Illinois, will speak at Chapel Monday, April 30. Mrs. Stevens was recommended by David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois, as a woman eminently fitted to talk on cultural or educational topics to college students. Mrs. Stevens will address all college young women at 4 o'clock of April 30 on some subject along educational lines suitable for women. After the lecture tea will be held for Mrs. Stevens, which all college women are invited to attend.

In the Woman's Who's Who in America Mrs. Stevens is given the following biography: In 1909 she studied home economics in Italy, Switzerland and Germany. Later she became a professor of home economics at the University of Porto Rico, Mayaguez. She is now editor of the Women's department of the "Progressive Farmer," joint author of "Practical Arithmetic" and of a primary arithmetic, collaborator with authors of the Hill Readers; contributor to many magazines and author of a collection of children's stories.

TECHS TO MEET LITTLE GIANTS ON THREE-DAY TRIP

ROBERTSON TO CARRY FOUR HURLERS ON INVASION WHICH STARTS WEDNESDAY.

Three hard games in as many days face the Bradley baseball nine this week on their first tour, Charleston Normal, Wednesday, Wabash, Thursday, and Millikin, Friday is the menu that Robertson has dished out for his crew.

Little is known of the strength of the opponents. Charleston Normal will probably be possible, Wabash impossible, and Millikin a question mark.

A shake-up in the infield is looked for before the Charleston game. Due to a slight weakness with the stick it is rumored that Smith and Brewer will be replaced by Fritz and Friedrich.

Four pitchers will make the journey. Mariotti is slated to hurl the Charleston game, Carroll the Wabash game and Tyler the scrap at Millikin. Rogers will probably be held in reserve and will, no doubt, see service in the Millikin game.

The game with Armour brought out a number of weaknesses which Robertson has been trying to rid the team of this week. The fielding was poor, 5 errors being chalked up against the Bradley nine, and had it not been for the masterful twirling of Tyler the score might have told a different story.

Fourteen men will make the trip. They are: Allen, Brewer, Buckley, Carroll, Correll, Doubet, Dixon, Landers, Smith, Tyler, Rogers, Mariotte, Friedrich and Fritz.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB HEARS STATE LEADER

Miss Juliet Lita Bane, state leader of home economics extension work of the women of Illinois, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Home Economics club Monday evening in Social hall. Miss Bane discussed the opportunities for young women trained in home economics. Miss Bane, who has supervision of the home demonstration agents of Illinois has had wide experience among home makers organizations. She related some of her experiences, relative to some of the problems which she personally had met in her extension work.

After the lecture, the club members enjoyed a social hour.

VINDICATING THE TECH

Advertising is the chief source of income of a newspaper. Many of the metropolitan dailies derive 75% of their financial receipts from the selling of advertising space. Circulation alone rarely accounts for more than 20% of the receipts.

Some Bradley students who think they have opinions as to how a college publication should be run are bemoaning the fact that the Tech has too much of its space devoted to advertising. These 'kicks' have led to a little research work which disclosed the following facts concerning the per cent of advertising carried by some of the minor college publications of the state; the Decaturian of Millikin had 45% of its space devoted to advertising in the issue of April 12; the Monmouth Oracle of March 21 contained 45% ads; the Knox Student of March 25 was 44% ads and the Augustana Observer of March 28 was made up of 49% advertising. The Peoria Transcript of April 16 contained 45% advertising; and the Chicago Tribune of the same date was made up of 68% ads. The Tech of April 11 contained 45% advertising. The college papers were selected at random and serve as a fair representation of all college papers of the state and so will the figures serve as a fair criterion of the average amount of space devoted to advertising. The comparisons show that the Tech has a no larger proportion of advertising space than any of the others.

In addition to this it must be noted that the Tech makes no charge for material written in the form of invitations, announcements, or programs from clubs, or other organizations of the Institute as do many of the college papers.

GIVE US SERVICE

Not a very elevating topic for the subject of a college publication editorial yet, at the same time, a very pertinent one is the mis-management of the gymnasium towel box.

There are certain hours when the towel box is supposed to be opened for the distribution of towels to students. Yet too often within these hours a student comes out from under a cold shower into a cold room and finds the towel box locked and its keeper not around. At these times it is sometimes possible by good fortune, personal friendship, or flattery to gain admission by the key of some other gymnasium official yet more often than not a curt, "I don't get paid for that" means the re-using of the sodden rag already hanging in the locker.

If the towel box requires too much time for one man to handle, let the business management get another student to help. There are plenty of students who would be glad of the chance. Whatever is done let the management remember the gymnasium and towel service fee which the student pays and "GIVE US SERVICE."

THE CO-ED

By Berniece Jones

Did you ever get a chance to pull a fire box, or put out a fire with real fireman's apparatus (even if it was only a bonfire), or jump into a fire net?

That's what Miss Haney's class in Girl Scout leadership did last Thursday. The fire wagon called for them at 4:30 to take them over to the Franklin School where Audra Newell had the honor of breaking the glass and pulling the little handle. A minute and a half later two fire wagons swept around the corner and came to a stop in front of the girls. The firemen then realized that it was a false alarm and their tense expressions relaxed into a hearty smiles as they climbed down and explained the different apparatus to the girls.

On returning to the gym, Ruth Whalen showed her courage and cool headedness when she grasped the hose and turned it on the blazing bonfire. Mr. Boniface then told the girls how to act when caught in a burning building and also illustrated how a fire victim could be carried leaving both hands free to climb down ladders.

The girls feel like regular fire veterans and one of them was even heard to remark that she wished she could be in a fire so she could show off her knowledge.

WHAT IS COLLEGE FOR?

In a recent issue of the Cornellian, a Senior satirist questioned the value of a college education, and his lament was largely that his friends who jumped into industry after leaving high school were now entrenched in good jobs, while he must go back to the farm and forget his four years of college in as many behind the plow, or spend monotonous years in some school room at $1350 a year.

If this humorist was serious, he came to college with a mistaken purpose. No college or university ever advertised its courses as a substitute for hard work and native ability in getting the big positions in life. The A. B. who leaves with the expectation of rooting out the man who entered the business world when he entered college, or with the expectation of beginning as high as the high school graduate has climbed at the time of his graduation, will be quickly disillusioned.

Theodore Roosevelt has been quoted as having said, "In 1880 I was graduated from Harvard and then began my education," which interpreted means that the college course at its conclusion is valuable chiefly not for what the graduate knows, but for what he will presently be able to learn. A quick toboggan to success by way of the workless road is not the guarantee of a college education.

An undergraduate course is not organized to give professional efficiency. It is, on the other hand, supposed to be but a foundation for further specialization whether that specialization be teaching, medicine, law, or efficient living.

If the senior pessimist in question cannot see any hope for the farmer, or the teachers who "go out and elevate mankind by preparing children to enter college, where they may learn to prepare children to enter college . . . . "he not only misconstrues the industrial position that a college education promises, but has failed to get from his education the biggest thing a college can attempt to give—the ability to discover and estimate human values which includes the knowledge of how to get for one's self and for others the best things out of life.

There is a financial return, for it is commonly conceded that in college a man gains the kind of PREPARATION for his career which commerce and industry distinctly demand and for which they bestow their rewards. A college trained man knows how to think straight; he can see far ahead; he can put things into their proper relations.

But life cannot be motivated by wages and a specified career alone. Men live by work, play, love and worship. Real life is expressed in forms of art, music, literature, recreation, courtesy, friendship, religion, in an equal, if not greater degree than in money and worldly position.

Former President Hyde, of Bowdoin College, has left on record a classical enumeration of what a man gains from going to college:

"To be at home in all lands and all ages; to count nature a familiar acquaintance and Art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of one's own; to carry the keys of the world's library in one's pocket, and feel its resources behind one in whatever tasks he undertakes; to make hosts of friends among men of one's own age who are the best four years of one's life; to lose one's self in generous enthusiasm and co-operate for common ends; to learn manners from students who are gentlemen; and to form character under professors who are Christians—these are the returns of a college for the best four years of one's life."

Evidently the senior in question has failed to realize the true purposes of a college education.

Yet it would be hasty to put the blame on him. May not a part of the failure be laid to the college?—The Cornellian.

SEASON'S FIRST GAME RESULTS IN WIN OVER ARMOUR

TYLER'S PITCHING FEATURES CONTEST—TECHMEN LEAN HEAVILY ON BAT.

Bradley's baseball stock took a distinct rise last Friday afternoon when Coach Robertson's nine put to rout the fast Armour Tech team. The score 10 to 3 shows the comparative ease with which this was accomplished.

Lefty Tyler was in fine form, letting the visitors down with four hits, two of which were of the scratch variety, and whiffing ten in the eight innings of the game. Besides this he got two nice singles out of four trips to the plate.

Dixon, the freshman, gave every evidence of capably taking Red Ireland's place, by getting three clean hits, while Doubet more than covered himself with glory by also garnering three nice hits, one a three bagger with two on in the fifth which put Bradley in the lead.

The game was anybody's up to the seventh when Bradley put the game on ice with five runs, routing the third pitcher used by Armour.

The visitors showed plenty of fight, but their outstanding feature was Walsh, first base, who acted as coach and captain, and showed much more than the average college first sacker.

Armour lost no time in ringing up a score in the first inning. Tyler after fanning the first two then issued a walk to Schurmuner who raced home with the first score when Buckley's throw to second eluded Correll who had run in to back up Brewer.

Bradley came right back, however, and evened the count. Dixon, first up, singled. He advanced to third on sacrifices by Brewer and Correll, and romped home with Bradley's first run of the 1923 season when Doubet pounded out his first hit.

The play of both teams was ragged in spots, due to the extremely cold weather and the shortness of the training season, but this was offset by the hard hitting of the Bradley team which made 14 hits.

The clever play of Launders at first who handled all his chances without a bobble, and made two hits, and the all round play of Correll are factors in the victory which cannot be overlooked.

The score:

DUAL MEETS ON BRADLEY COURTS PLANNED FOR MAY

DIVIDE CONFERENCE INTO FOUR DISTRICTS—TUCKERS AND RADLEY BACK.

Dual tennis meets will be held this year and already Bradley officials are in communication with several colleges to arrange meets. At first it was announced that there would be no dual meets but owing to a change in policy this plan was abandoned.

Letters have been sent out to Knox, Millikin, and Wesleyan offering dates for contests. It is planned to play each of these three schools on the road and also in return matches in Peoria. The majority of these contests will be played during the month of May.

The conference has been divided into four districts in order to facilitate the staging of the state meet. Bradley is a member of this district which holds its meet at Knox college, Galesburg, on May 18 and 19. Each school will be represented in the district meet by two singles and one double team. Bradley will meet some stiff competition in the district meet, since Kenneth Conrey of Augustana, present state title holder, will play in the same district.

Winners and runners-up in the district contests will compete in the meet at Jacksonville for the state championship on June 2.

The courts are now in good shape and tennis is getting an early start. There is an abundance of tennis material and prospects for a winning team are very bright.

The veterans from last year's team are Sidney Tucker, Richard Radley and Harold Tucker. Some of the most promising of the new material includes Eugene McClure, Clifford Ahrends, Emerson Risser, Brooks Courtright and Leon Carter.

HOLD FIRST TRY-OUTS FOR PLAY "ALCESTES"

The first try-outs for the major male character parts for the play "Alcestes" have been held but none of the selections have yet been made. Among the men who are candidates for roles are Charles Brobst, Charles Mee, Will Oakley, Cliff Ahrends, Angus McDonald and Clarence Krughoff.

The committee chosen by Miss Nadine Shepardson, director of the play, to select the persons for the parts is composed of Miss Bertha Hobson and Professors Marvin and Schroeder.

The try-outs for the women characters will be held Thursday. Applicants for the "Alcestes" chorus will meet with Franklin Stead Friday and go through the first rehearsal of the music.

The recently appointed costume committee consists of Margaret Cation, chairman, Ruth Whalen, Audrey Barton, Dorothy McDonald and Helena Burke.

SUMMER SCHOOL PLANS PROMISE RECORD SESSION

SIX NEW INSTRUCTORS ADDED—ONLY TWO COURSES OF CURRICULUM OMITTED.

According to plans now being formulated this year's summer school at Bradley promises to be the biggest and most successful of any ever previously held. It is predicted that the enrollment will far surpass that of former years.

Two of the special features this year and the courses upon which much emphasis is being laid are: first, that offered by Coaches Dobbenson and Johnson, which is a course intended for those who are particularly interested in coaching athletics, and second, a demonstration school which will be in charge of Miss Long, who is at present supervisor of the primary grades in the public schools. In the demonstration school children will actually be taught by the students taking the course.

This year as usual there will be two terms during the summer. The first session will begin June 18, and continue to July 20. The second term will follow and continue to August 24.

The heads of all departments will be on duty during both terms and with the exception of only two, all courses now being offered will be offered this summer. Besides the regular faculty members six instructors from other schools have already been selected to offer courses during both sessions.

The outside instructors besides Miss Long and Mr. Hines who are to serve during the summer include: Mr. Erickson, formerly supervisor of Manual Arts, Okmulgee, Oklahoma; E. K. Frye from the University of North Caroline, who will offer a course in education; Miss Cherniss, supervisor of primary grades, Springfield, Missouri; Miss Peterson, supervisor of home economics, Peoria public schools. The total summer school faculty will number twenty-eight. This does not include the conservatory of music or Horology.

The remainder of the courses to be offered during the summer are: Courses in art, automobile, biology, chemistry, education, electricity, English, history, home economics, mathematics, mechanical drawing, metal working, music, physical education, physics, sociology and woodworking.

COACH JOHNSON TO REMAIN AT BRADLEY

Announcement has been made by Dr. T. C. Burgess that Leo Johnson, assistant director of athletics, has signed a contract to remain at Bradley for another year.

In addition to handling all the gymnasium work Coach Johnson is in charge of the track team and assists in football and basketball coaching.

Queries Show that the Bible and Shakespeare Would Hold High Place Among Bradleyites on Desert Isle

"If one short volume could comprise
All that is witty, learn'd and wise,
How would it be esteem'd and read."
—Swift.

"I shipwrecked upon a desert island, what four books would you want with you, and why?"

The reporter, upon asking this question, met with a very queer situation.

Dr. T. C. Burgess, when asked this question, laughed and said: "Is this a joke, or are you in earnest?" When assured that the question was asked in all seriousness of thought, he answered: "First I would choose the Bible for its teachings, a complete volume of Shakespeare's works would be the second book I would want, because of its excellent literature and the variety it offers. I would also want a one volume encyclopedia for its variety of interests and Les Miserables because of the good history it contains, and because it is a high class novel."

In contrast with Dr. Burgess the reporter asked the same question of Marjorie Ogden, a junior. After pondering on the subject for some time, she replied:

"The Bible, College Humor, O'Henry and the cook book."

Why should she want a cook book is the question the reporter asked her. She said, "Well, if I haven't anything to eat I would like at least to imagine that I have by looking at the cook book."

Miss Jenny B. Constance was the next person to be questioned by this inquiring reporter. She laughed as the others had done and asked if it was a joke, but when she saw the serious look on the face of the questioner she answered: "Of course the Bible would be the first book that I would need in such a predicament. Its worth not only lies in its spiritual teachings, but in its literary value." The other three books she mentioned were Shakespeare, for its interpretation of human life, Emerson's Essays, which give the optimistic philosophy of life and Dickens' novels for entertainment and to increase knowledge of life."

The next student asked was Harold Voeckel, a student. He responded by mentioning, "The Bible for inspiration and comfort, Shakespeare for its literary value, a book of Kipling and any one of O' Henry's stories."

It would not have been fair to have omitted Mr. Schroeder, as he is quite a favorite among the student body, as well as among the faculty. "Les Miserables!" He gave as his reason for this choice that it made possible for him to live over human relationships and emotions. It would be a real companion to him. The next book he choose was a volume containing the complete writings of Shakespeare, which would furnish a pleasure in reading it, and would bring him in contact with human nature. The last two books, which he said every one might not agree were necessary, but which he thought were very essential, are "Introduction to the Science of Sociology" and "Life."

Clifford Putnam, one of the freshman, answered this question with the following words:

"I would need the Bible mostly, then I would want an encyclopedia Brittanica, an empty diary and "Roosevelt's Letters to his Children."

PUBLIC SPEAKING HEAD GIVES READINGS FROM "LOYALTIES"

MANY CHARACTERS PORTRAYED IN PRESENTATION OF GALSWORTHY PLAY.

Miss Nadine V. Shepardson, public speaking and dramatic art instructor, gave a recital Monday evening in Bradley hall which was attended by a large audience. The program was composed of cuttings from the play "Loyalties" by Galsworthy. The following characters were presented:

Charles Winsor, owner of Meldon Court, near New Market.
Lady Adela, his wife.
Ferdinand De Levis, a young Jew, rich and new.
Treloure, Winsor's butler.
General Canynge, a Racing Oracle.
Margaret Orme, a society girl.
Captain Ronald Dancy, D. S. O. retired.
Mable, his wife.
Inspector Dede, of the County Constabulary.
August Borring, a clubman.
Lord St. Erth, a Peer of the Realm.
Footman, of the Club.
Major Colford, a brother officer of Dancy's.
Edward Graviter, a solicitor.
Young clerk of Twisden and Graviter.
Gilman, a large grocer.
Jacob Twisden, senior partner of Twisden and Graviter.
Graviter, junior partner of Twisden and Graviter.
Recordos, an Italian, dealer in wine.

The scenes of the play:

SENIORS UNDECIDED ON MEMORIAL GIFT TO ALMA MATER

POSSIBILITY OF DONATION TO STUDENT LOAN FUND—MANY FORMER GIFTS.

Burbank E. Lewis, chairman of the committee for selection of the senior class gift to Bradley Institute, announces a list of three proposed gifts namely a student loan fund, a clock system for the Institute or a magazine rack for the library. The committee has chosen these three proposed gifts from a list of fourteen submitted to them. The gift will be selected at the next senior class meeting.

If the gift chosen be an addition to the student loan fund it would be a gift which would be appreciated year after year. Mr. Loyal G. Tillotson, chairman of the student loan fund reports that the request for student loans is greater at times than the loan supply. At present the fund consists of $570. Mr. Tillotson says: "Bradley should have a loan fund of $1,000. We prefer to loan this money to students who have been at Bradley a year. The majority of loans are held by juniors and seniors who pay 6 per cent interest and who borrow the money for one month to one year."

If, however, the gift selected by the seniors should be the clock system or the magazine rack, they are gifts which are needed.

Gifts presented in past years have been the drinking fountain in Bradley hall, two light standards in the oval of Institute Place, two bulletin boards in Hall of Bradley, Alumni flag pole, decorations in social hall, portraits of first and second directors of Bradley, bust of Roosevelt, book plate for library, clock for library, and cases for pictures in gymnasium.

The Men's Glee Club of Bradley College are meeting twice each week under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Stead, and are preparing to make several public appearances in May.

LAMBA PHI BENEFIT DANCE IS SUCCESS

The benefit dance given under the auspices of the Lambda Phi sorority Friday night netted $75. The dance was the second of a series of three benefits to be given by this organization this winter. The last event is to be the bridge party to be given at the Woman's club on Saturday, April 27. The money made by the three benefits will be given to the student loan fund at Bradley.

This fund is one of the worthy interests of the college. It had its beginning in 1917 when the late Chas. E. Ulrich gave the Institute one hundred dollars as payment for the help members of the faculty had given in judging an essay contest. The faculty chose to leave the money as a gift to start the student loan fund. Since that time the fund has been added to, from time to time, by gifts such as this one, from organizations of the school.

ENTRY OF WATSON ADDS INTEREST IN INTERSCHRLASTIC

WILL RUN IN EVENT WITH RAY AND BUKER—75 SCHOOLS ENTERED TO DATE.

A new attraction has been added to the Interscholastic meet with the signing of Roy Watson to enter into the race with Joie Ray and Ray Buker. The Buker-Ray contest was to have been the feature of the meet and the addition of Watson will add more interest to the affair.

Watson's best race is the mile. He is a graduate of the Kansas Agricultural college and is now running under the colors of the I. A. A. C. of Chicago.

It is possible that the number of schools entered will have reached the century mark by the time the entries are closed. Last year 58 schools and 522 athletes participated in the meet. To date 75 high schools have sent in their entries which means that 700 or more athletes will compete on the Tech field on May 5.

Authorities have made arrangements with the railroads whereby all contestants at the meet and all spectators who come to the meet over the rails will have the opportunity to buy their tickets at the rate of a fare and one-half.

The schools already entered are: Averyville, Princeville, Carlock, Oakdale, Minier, Kilbourne, Homer, La Salle-Peru, Urbana, Fisher, Forrest, Farmer City, Sadorus, Galva, Clifton Hill, Delavan, Rochelle, Modesto, Leland, Normal, Washington, Metamora, Mohomet, Trivoli, Easton, Harvard, Seaton, Lake Forest Academy, Lewistown, Minonk, Moline, Tuscola, Abingdon, Eureka, Leroy, Lane Tech of Chicago, Elmwood, Maroa, Spring Valley, El Paso, Gillespie, Gridley, Chenoa, Peoria, Hinsdale, Washburn, Pekin, Geneso, Armington, Manual, San Jose, Magnolia, Macomb, Illiopolis, Gurnee, East Peoria, Athens, Sheffield, Colchester, Williamsfield, Havana, Saunimin, Wyoming, Stonington, Forrest City, Toluca, Sheldon, Kenney, Hyde Park Chicago, Decatur, Lostant, Chillicothe, Astoria, Toulon.

BUSINESS STUDENTS VISIT LOCAL BANK

Members of the money and banking class, some forty in all, took a trip through the bank of the Dime Savings and Trust company Friday under the direction of L. G. Tillotson.

The trip was made for the purpose of acquainting the students with the various functions and departments of a modern banking system.

CLUB PROGRAM FRENCH CELEBRATION FEATURE

Members of the French club were entertained Thursday evening by a program featuring the French celebration of the "Fete des Poissons" a holiday on April 1 in France.

In celebrating the day the French send small gifts to their friends. Among these are such presents as chocolate candy filled with onions or other gifts of the "fooler" variety.

Featuring the program were a cornet solo by James Rose, an interpretation of French music by Ruth Dixon and a humorous selection from the play "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" by Charles Brobst.

Elsie White gave a number of vivid descriptions of pictures of the Louvre and the Fete des Poissons.

First prize in the contest of making French sentences out of a number of letters was won by Edwin Wiley.

Refreshments were served and after the telling of a French "bedtime" story by Esther Earnheart the meeting was adjourned.

PRACTICAL SOCIOLOGY FOR SOCIAL WORK CLASS

Members of the social work class under the direction of Professor C. W. Schroeder are planning to enter into the field of practical sociology this week by investigating conditions in certain parts of the city.

Four men of the class will study conditions along the river front among the house boats. They will endeavor to learn the handicaps under which the people live and to suggest improvements if possible.

The nine women members of the class will work at the Neighborhood House, making an especial study of the percentage of children from that section of the city who are attending school.

The class will devote four hours per week to their work for the rest of the semester.

PASSIVITIES VS. ACTIVITIES.

Speaking before the Iowa College Press Association recently, President M. H. Gage of Coe college classified all student affairs into two groups: passivities and activities. Under the first group he included all college work along scholastic lines. The second group was composed of all the extra curricular interests of the student.

President Gage contended that all college affairs should be under the guidance of faculty rule, not so much for the sake of censorship as for the instruction of those participating.

Athletics, forensics, journalism, dramatics, and the work of various clubs fall under the heading of activities. These are usually taken up by the student who wants to secure from them a knowledge of practical affairs, yet in many cases they are neglected or suffer for a lack of really competent over-seeing.

On the other hand a student enters into these activities to thrash out ideas for himself. Should faculty supervision be inducted into each branch of student activity this purpose would be thwarted.

"THE QUEEN'S ENGLISH"

"Any student who cannot write an English sentence and read an English paragraph does not belong in college" is a statement recently made by Professor W. L. Corbin, head of the department of English in Boston University College of Secretarial Science.

That the English spoken by the average college student, be he freshman, sophomore or senior, is full of errors not even the student himself will deny, in fact the gentle art of murdering the English language is becoming a favorite pastime.

The college student who speaks slovenly and incorrect English has no logical defense. Unlike the person who has never gone to school or has quit in the early grades, he cannot plead ignorance through the lack of opportunity although the ignorance itself may be real enough.

Barrenness in vocabularly is another distinction of the average student: one which limits any ideas he may actually have simply through his inability to express them.

PLAGIARIZED.

Getting up a paper is no picnic for anyone. If we print jokes, folks say we are silly; if we publish original matter, they say we lack variety; if we publish things from other papers, they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church, we are heathen; if we do, we are hypocrites; if we stay in school, we ought to be out rustling news; if we go out, we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes, we are slovenly; if we wear new ones, we owe for them. Likely as not some one will say this was lifted from an exchange. It was. —The Index.

The other day I was gazing out on the campus, and out there on the seat I saw a pair gazing lovingly into each other's eyes; over a little farther I saw a fellow lying in the grass, sound asleep; and then I heard a fly buzz around my head, and unconsciously I yawned. Thoughtfully, I said to myself: "Spring is here."

The Editor of this head column took a ride in Arnold Hitchcock's aeroplane last Sunday morning, and was furnished with quite a few thrills. When the plane had reached a height of about 1500 feet, Arnold had to adjust something—suddenly with a cry of dismay he turned to the Ed. and said: "I've dropped my monkey-wrench."

"That's all right, I'll get it for you," said the Ed., as he clambered over the side of the plane.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

All the parts for a shaft straightener have been completed in the machine shop. They are now waiting for a casting so they can assemble it and put it into operation.

* * *

Each lathe in the shop has been furnished with a complete set of gears with a spindle to hold them when not in use to prevent loss and make it easy to locate them when needed.

A keyway broach, twelve inches long and three-sixteenths of an inch wide with eighty-eight teeth, has been made by a student in the tool making class. The purpose of the broach is to make better keyways. A one and five-eights end mill has also been made or the vertical milling machine.

* * *

A finishing cabinet has been made in the millwork class and is being stained and varnished by the class in woodworking.

Five tables are also being refinished by the same class. The tables come from Bradley Hall and getting the old finish off and refinished is quite a job.

* * *

The practice teaching has been completed for this year and the boys are glad it has. Four classes have been instructed, two from St. Mark's Parochial school, and two at the Neighborhood House.

The instructors are busy reorganizing the outlines of the course of study which the Federal Board requires.

* * *

Bases for the two new statues recently made part of the art department's equipment, have been made in the millwork class.

A certain female calls around about four o'clock and honks the horn of her car in front of the Manual Arts building. Harry Walters usually appears on the scene in a few moments. The other day one of the boys told her Harry was gone so he didn't see his sweet mama and he vows he will find out who played that trick on him, so beware!

THE CO-ED
By Hermiee Jones

The editor of the Co-ed Column would be as hard up without the trite editorial or spring fever as the popular song writer would be if girls and curls, love and dove, eyes and sighs didn't rhyme. In this instance the editor herself succumbed to the lure o the budding birds and singing trees. So it's up to one of the lesser lights to keep the column.

But at that, spring's a pretty good time of year. One day you roast, the next day you sneeze. Miss Potter at the dorm knows when spring's here by the hard time she has dragging the weaker half of these couples in at night.

Doctor Burgess has not yet told us to "Keep off the terrace and give the grass a chance," so we know he hasn't yet seen the dandelions blooming.

It is here, nevertheless, for Bradley Park is thronged with shieks and shebas and most everyone is cutting class.

At last the Bradley girls have a chance to earn the Red Cross life saving emblem. Miss Ewald is going to give instructions so that the girls can pass the test. Some of the requirements are:

1. Surface diving, recovering a 10 lb. weight.
2. Towing a patient 60 ft. with 3 different carries.
3. Releasing from various holds.
4. Resuscitation.

The instruction will be given right away in the Bradley pool and all should take advantage.

The class baseball managers have been elected recently. Bertha Berman was chosen by the 2:30 class, and Frieda Moody by the 4:30 group. With these capable girls to help coach, some good teams ought to be organized.

Fellows, what is the matter, don't you want as good a horology section as we had last year? If so, then we will have to fight it. We will not have as much in the book this year as we had last year. What's wrong? Lack of support. Our section would have been much smaller than it really is, if it had not been for the help received the past few days from Messrs. Garlick, McDonald, Graico, Tyler, Anderson, and Bass. Thanks, fellows, very much.

You cannot always walk upon the mountains. You cannot feel like singing all the time. We are so strangely wrought of soul and body that such exultancies are sure to pass. It is sweet to pray when the gates of heaven are open. It is sweet to serve when everyone is grateful But I will tell you something that is not so sweet, and yet may be worthier in the sight of God—it is to pray when the heavens are as brass; it is to serve when nobody is grateful; it is to do one's work, and do it well, though there is not a star in all the sky; that is the way to strength of character; that is the avenue to inward peace."

TWO WINS AND ONE DEFEAT MARK THREE DAY TRIP

TECH HURLERS SHOW GOOD FORM — MEET NORMAL HERE THIS WEEK.

The Bradley baseball team completed a fairly successful trip last Friday by handing Millikin University an 8-4 defeat. The game was tight up to the eighth when the Tech batsmen began to get the range of Pfeiffer whom they soon sent to the showers. Carrol on the mound for Bradley pitched a good game and was well supported.

The first game of the trip, that with Charleston Normal on Wednesday, was also a victory for the Tech nine although it took them twelve innings to turn the trick. The score was 9 to 6. Carrol did the hurling for Bradley.

Thursday's game with Wabash was not so good, the Hoosiers winning by a 7 to 2 score. The Little Giants pocketed the game in the first five innings, making 6 runs as a result of the loose playing of the Bradley infield.

Rogers on the mound for Bradley was hit a little harder than was Robertson of Wabash.

BRADLEY BOYS BEGIN BARBERING BUSINESS

The Red and White Barber Shop which was opened on Bradley avenue across from Mullen's, some time ago, by one of our enterprising Bradley students, has met with such success that another chair has been added and other accommodations will be forthcoming very soon.

Such efforts should be heartily supported by the student body in general.

TECHSTERS LOSE OUT 74 TO 52 AT GALESBURG MEET

MAKE POOR SHOWING—SWANSON OF LOMBARD WINS FIVE EVENTS.

Ever Swanson and a gang of cohorts aided by Jup. Pluv. squelched Bradley's track team's hope for a no-defeat season when they dragged down the big end of a 74-52 score at Lombard Saturday.

The Bradley team did not come up to expectations. Skinner and Warner in the quarter and half had been doped to win with ease but both were defeated decisively. The weight men also weakened in their duties and Lombard copped all the weight events.

To Swanson of Lombard go the honors of the day. That high-geared youth won five firsts for his team making a total of 25 points. Meyers, Lamb, and Hart of the Olive also scintillated brilliantly.

Slow time was made in all the events due to the rain and soft track and also the fact that some of the dashes were run against time.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Swanson, Lombard, 1st; Lamb, Lombard, 2nd; Hoswell, Bradley, 3rd. Time: 10¼.

220 yard dash—Swanson, Lombard, 1st; Lamb, Lombard, 2nd; Hoswell, Bradley, 3rd. Time 22¼.

440 yard dash—Swanson, Lombard, 1st; Lamb, Lombard, 2nd; Skinner, Bradley, 3rd. Time: 54⅘.

880 yard dash—Eckland, Lombard, 1st; Warner, Bradley, 2nd; Metzel, Bradley, 3rd. Time 2:07.

1 mile—Hendrix, Bradley, 1st; Berringer, Lombard, 2nd; Krablin, Bradley, 3rd. Time: 5:14⅘.

120 yard high hurdles—Siminski, Bradley, 1st; Carroll of Bradley and Murphy of Lombard tied for second. Time: 18.

220 yard low hurdles—Swanson, Lombard, 1st; Garner, Bradley, 2nd; Ott, Lombard, 3rd. Time: :27⅘.

Pole vault—Garner, Frederick, Ireland of Bradley, tied for 1st place. Heighth: 10' 6".

High jump—Briggs, Lombard, 1st; Furlee and Burt, Bradley tied for 2nd. Heighth: 5' 5".

Broad jump—Swanson, Lombard, 1st; Nester, Lombard, 2nd; Garner, Bradley, 3rd. Distance: 19' 10½".

Shot put—Meyers, Lombard, 1st; Frederick and Allen, Bradley, tied for 2nd. Distance 37' 3".

Javelin—Hart, Lombard; 1st; Allen, Bradley, 2nd; McNaught, Bradley, 3rd. Distance: 156' 6".

Discuss—Thompson, Lombard 1st; Meyers, Lombard, 2nd; Allen, Bradley, 3rd. Distance: 117' 2".

2 mile—Metzel, Bradley, 1st; Drazer, Lombard, 2nd; Diefenderfer, Bradley, 3rd. Time 11:24.

REDS RETAIN RULE

Faculty Celebrate Mayor's Election

TEACHERS PLAY GAMES AT PARTY

In order to celebrate the election of Mayor Woodruff Dr. Comstock gave a party at the Wassonia Hotel at Rome, Saturday.

The party was made up of several prominent members of the Bradley faculty. It included Dr. T. C. Burgess, Dr. C. T. Wyckoff, Dr. Comstock, Mr. Wharry, Mr. Ashman ano Mr. Gaut.

They left Peoria at five o'clock Saturday afternoon and journeyed to the scene of the revelry on bicycles. An incident of the journey was a race between Dr. Comstock and Mr. Ashman. Dr. Comstock won due to better physical condition and more experience. Mr. Ashman protested the result claiming that he was handicaped because he had on his heavy underwear and did not have a coaster brake on his machine.

The chief means of entertainment was a strip poker game. At eight o'clock Dr. Wyckoff dealt the first card and the game continued at a rapid pace. Mr. Comstock and Mr. Wharry staged a big argument over the relative value o their B. V. D's. Mr. Wharry claimed that his was worth twice as much as Comstock's because of the difference in size. Mr. Comstock claimed that it was quality and not quantity that counted and stated that Mr. Wharry's were already three years old and had depreciated by hard usage.

At three o'clock the party started the return trip to Peoria. Due to a shortage of machines Mr. Gaut had to bring Dr. Ashman home on the handle bar.

BLACKSTONES LISTEN TO FIRST HAND DOPE

Would-be lawyers of the Institute have been getting some practical knowledge of the workings of the courts of justice by attending sessions of the Federal court where the cases or Drs. Ashcan and Backward of the faculty are on trial, the first named for "hich-jacking" and the other for receiving stolen property.

The hope-to-bes reported that the case was slow and uninteresting, enlivened occassionally by humorous tilts between the lawyers.

Ashcan, head of the chemistry department, is accused of taking the alcohol and selling part of it to Backward of the biology section who used it to pickle bugs.

Witnesses called to testify as to the good character of the defendants practically won the case for the prosecution by their testimony. "Bunsen" Burner, one of the witnesses, testified that the only thing he knew against the character of Ashcan was the fact that he drove a Reo and ate onions. Burner created an uproar in court by his answers concerning the character of Dr. Backward.

"Do you know of any deed, good or bad, committed by this man?" was asked of Burner.

"I though I saw him petting the janitor's cat once," replied Burner, "but later found that he was only hunting for fleas to vivisect. The cat died the next day."

The jury is now out and it is expected that they will return a verdict in a few hours.

—B. P. I.—

Among those given exemption, in this issue, for telling some of the scandal appearing here, are: Eleanor Burby, Damon, Barton, Winget and Blank. Maybe they will be the central figures in a later issue.

FIRING OF NUMBER OF INSTRUCTORS IS FIRST STEP IN REDUCING EXPENSE

Dr. Teddy Burgess announces a list of several forced vacancies in Bradley Institute for next year. Since none of the teachers were willing to die and many of the rural school teachers were clamoring for their positions, Teddy is reported as saying: "This is a swell time to get rid of these high-priced teachers. I'll ask them to pack their suit-cases ano go back home."

Dr. Why Cough scented a mouse and he resigned at once. He rose in faculty meeting and said: "Honorable T. C., I have accepted a position as agent for the Smith Bros. Cough Drop Co."

Dr. Burgess wept, and between tears and groans, he said: "You, Tillotson, what is this I hear about you giving away "A" grades to a favored student, namely, Mrs. Tillotson? You are fired at once." Tillotson remained fainted as long as possible.

Miss Hopper, with a defiant smile around her arched lips, said: "Well! Mr. Burgess, I feel so unnecessary up here!"

"Sit down!" said Burgess, "are you going to resign just when I am going to give you a dollar raise next year?"

She blushed and twisted her dainty little red gingham handkerchief.

The president was pale. This was the end? Nay, not so, Burgess spoke more low. "Well, Jennie Constance! Do I see you rise?

"You do," said Miss Constance. "I can't live here on nothing and let my art escape. I must do what I have always desired to do. It's the Drama, Dr. Burgess. Mr. Limburg of the Orpheum has offered me a place, and I must accept."

Then dire consternation reigned in the faculty meeting. Teachers forgot their dignity. "I resign." "You're fired!" "More money!" "Less work!" The final score, counting dead, dying and married, was: Andrus fired for excessive use of powder and rouge; Marvin fired because his wife claimed non-support; Backward fired for excessive use of alcohol in Bradley laboratory; Baum excused because of short examinations; Hobson forced to leave because of undue waving of hands at street car conductors; Schroeder, too much interested in golf and son to attend to duties; Gaunt, unnecessary marcelling of hair during school hours.

SET NEW RECORD FOR DIZZY DANCE

The non-stop dance craze which has been sweeping the country, invaded Peoria Monday, 1234 couples participating in the contest. The winners, Miss Ewald and one Prof. Comstock, of Bartonville, will receive one way tickets to Oskaloosa. The second prize was won by Mrs. Potter and Weston Harding, and consists of a rubber vaulting pole for Mr. Harding, and a set of endless spaghetti for Miss Potter. Mr. Harding entered the ring in the pink of condition—his weight being announced as 207 lbs.

The winners were pressed hard in the closing hours of the struggle, and it was only because of their perfect physical condition that they were able to set the record of 36 hours 29 minutes and 28 seconds. Prof. Comstock was shaved while dancing, by La Voy, and it is said that he will never look the same again. All the couples ate while dancing, the food being prepared by Anderson's Beanery, located at the foot of Bridge St. (Adv.)

An interesting side-light is the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Ewald to her partner in crime. It seems that love entered the contest, and now Miss Ewald claims her dashing partner for her very own. The marriage will occur as soon as Mr. Comstock can secure a divorce from his present wife. In a special interview to the reporter from the "Scar" Miss Ewald said: "To what do I owe the secret of my success? Well, I have always been an athletic girl, I ride, swim, shoot craps, play poker, and leap frog. These sports account for my wonderful physical development. (Miss Ewald here shifted her gum to the right side, and spat viciously.) Why listen, kid, I been dancing all me life, see. And how did I fall in love with 'Commie?' Well, he's so brutal, do you know, he didn't dance on the floor once—no, sir, he just walked all over my dogs until I had to do something to get that guy off, so I proposed, and it accepted me. He'll regret that. And say, kid, just put in that there paper of yourn that I'm a lady thru and thru, get me?"

Then we interviewed Prof. Comstock, who said: "Well, I just couldn't resist her, those eyes, those lips, those nose, those hair—" (here Mr. Comstock went into a spasm that lasted several moments. He was revived by a tap on the head with a hatchet.)

ANOTHER MOTH GETS ITS WINGS SINGED

"When he left home for the city he had red cheeks and blue eyes; he comes back to me with blue cheeks and red eyes." These few words tell a mother's story of the outcome of the trip of Rural Risser to the city and, as he supposed, fame and fortune.

Two years ago he came to the city—he an honest, upright, straightforward country youth. Simple he was, yes, as judged by city standards but "back home" he was rated as the village cut-up, a youth full of spirit and daring, the pride of the countryside.

Yesterday he went back. But he was not the gay, happy youth of before. The city had taken its toll leaving the husk of the former manhood. Dissipation had done its work leaving a pitiable wreck. His clothes were in rags. The insidious cancer of depravity had eaten into his soul leaving him a moral leper.

CRUSHING LEADERSHIP OF LIBERALS BRINGS CLIMAX

Poletariat Growl Ominously as Shortage in Funds of Treasury is Revealed.

(Burtram Powlovski, Special Correspondent.)

SPECIAL — Five former instructors, A. E. Gaut, Nadine Shepardson, G. C. Ashman, A. F. Seipert and C. T. Wyckoff, were shot down by order of the Supreme Council this afternoon.

SPECIAL — Dissention among members of the Women's Liberals, growing out of crushing leadership exercised by Comrade Wysong, reached its climax late today, when opposing conservatives, headed by Comrade Marie Smith, attacked the former in front of the old practice house. Pretense of an alleged exchange of silk stockings was the immediate cause. Both were placed in Horology hospital. Attendants report slight improvement.

Quiet pervades the Bradley campusorium on the morning of the third anniversary under communistic "red" student regime.

As the sulky red of a hazy dawn lighted the mists shrouding the hudded hovels on the old gym field, student inhabitants crawled from the doors, seeking the sun. A straggling line formed at the south door of the Members of the French Club were entertained last evening by a program featuring the French celebration, the "Fete of the Frogs."

In celebrating the day the French send small gifts to their friends. Among these are such presents as candy, filled with poison; a cake, playfully stuffed with dynamite, and other gifts of the "fooler" variety.

Miss Hopper, the faculty adviser of the club, was present in a ravishing sports costume, made of jersey in an attractive combination of purple, orange and gold. The skirt was closely plaited, and the jacket, with swanky pockets, fastened trimly about the hips.

The evening was spent in an enjoyable manner. A humorous reading from "The Sheik" was given by Charles Brobst, after which Miss Dixon favored with a discussion of the present-day trend towards doing away with clothes on the French stage. She spoke against this movement but was violently contradicted by James Rose, who delivered a vehement address, saying that he hoped they would "go the limit."

The next number was the interesting French game, "shootus crapus." It is rumored that Wiley bought a new suit of clothes the next day and that there was a great demand for barrels following this session.

Rumored Bookstore Will Close Doors

There is a rumor floating around Bradley to the effect that the book store will soon close its doors. The rumor may not be founded on fact but it is said that the management has been a little lax in the matter of prices and as a consequence, will have to close down.

Closing the book store is a serious matter to Bradley students. The management has always made it a policy to sell books at a profit to themselves of not more than fifty per cent and this plan has enabled most students to buy their books for about the same price as their tuition.

The rumor has it that this "low price" policy has been the downfall of the big-hearted men who control the book market at Bradley. An increase in the price of paper has caused a rise in the price of books and a late audit of the books of the business show that the profits have dropped to as low as forty per cent. It is easily seen that if this is true, the book store cannot continue. A man can not keep a wife on a profit of forty per cent.

All attempts to interview the president of the corporation have failed but it is hoped that a full and complete statement of affairs will be forthcoming shortly.

SCAR SCRIBES DINE A LA PIGSKIN

Through a field soppy with gravy and overcast by lowering black clouds which threatened every minute to spill a deluge of water over the assembly, the erstwhile scribblers of The Scar carved their way to a 48-0 victory over the Appetites on the Creve Coeur grounds Saturday.

The start of the game was delayed because of the absence of I. Forgot and I. Also, the halfbacks of the scribblers. As these men were counted on to make heavy gains, the

PROFS CLASH IN ROW OVER GARDEN

WOELFLE GETS CROCKED IN FRACAS.

Dr. C. T. Why Cough is minus one set of ivory teeth and Dr. Ashcan is suffering the loss of a new pair of pants as a result of a near riot started by a heated discussion over the merits of the Dodge and Reo cars in a special faculty meeting called by President Burgess last Monday.

It is understood that the meeting was called for the purpose of ruling out the customary ineligibles for the baseball season but as a result of the wild Ashcan-Why Cough debate no decision was reached and Coach Robertson was able to use his regular line-up against Wabash.

Beyond a doubt the untimely riot was the result of the traditional bad blood between the two profs. Some time ago Dr. Why Cough was known to have assaulted his brother doctor with a lawn rake while the latter was making his garden. The cause of this malicious attack is laid to the famous "spring vacation war" in which the two teachers took opposite sides; Ashcan advocating Wednesday as the starting date so that he might make his garden, and Why Cough holding out for the regular Friday evening, as his car would be in the garage until that time and he would have nothing to do during the first three days of the proposed Ashcan reform.

At first the meeting progressed rather smoothly but soon a general undercurrent of dissatisfaction began to show itself in low grumblings and other disorders.

Frequently during the meeting President Burgess was forced to strike his sledge hammer on his desk and raise his voice in thundering denunciation in order to quiet the disorder in one corner of the room where the Marvin-Wharry faction was holding forth—exchanging a few good ones between throws of the galloping dominoes, and whose many loud guffaws and exclamations were a constant source of annoyance.

The meeting had scarcely begun

BAND MEN BATTLE SOUP INHALERS TO DRAW IN RUCKUS

Two innocent bystanders were probably fatally injured, and a quantity of china ware completely destroyed during an engagement between the cafeteria force and the band members. Hostilities were precipitated when the tyrannical and czar-like Rose, who rules his humble subjects with a hand of iron, accosted Miss Potter on the campus while she was bound for the drug store to purchase some arsenic.

Rose, wasting no time in preliminaries, demanded that the manufacture of soup be discontinued immediately in the cafeteria, giving as reasons the fact that the consumption of this article had all but ruined the musical ears of his subjects and rendered his own musical charms impotent. Miss Potter replied that "if that were the case she could henceforth consider herself the benefactor of humanity." In the face of this scorching insult, Rose lost his usual calm serenity and with a low muttered oath sprang like a wild beast at the throat of his enemy, who evaded him and retreated to her haven of safety in the lunch room where she mobilized her forces to resist the attack which she new to be inevitable.

Director Rose, nothing daunted, collected his clan together and with trumpets blaring and banners floating, marched against the stronghold.

With the advent of Spring we are told, the young man's fancy turns to love. This seems to be the cause of the organization of a new campus club called the Bradley Afternoon Tea Hounds. The charter members of this club are said to be John Bergan and Ernie Hahn, two notorious women fanciers. These two young gentlemen conceived the idea of allowing women only into their club. Working upon a sure tip the Scar reporter secreted himself in a bush over in Bradley park and waited for the initiation to start.

After some time the reporter saw a Ford coupe alleged to belong to Hahn come down the hill. It stopped, and within were discovered Hahn and Bergan, each holding one arm of a girl, believed to be named Proctor. After some delay a loud smack was heard, and the car started away. It came back in a few minutes and another girl was kissed against her will. The car came back many more more times with the same result. At last they brought a young maiden who did not take kindly to the treatment. She fought viciously against her captors, but finally the kissing process was repeated and the car sped away.

But the girl was not through with the members of the B. A. T. H. club. She went direct to her loving swain and told him of her humiliation. What did he do? Well, it is said that he caught Bergan in a down town alley and proceeded to pound the daylight out of him. At the next meeting Bergan made a motion to disband, which was loudly seconded by Hahn.

SWORN STATEMENT

To me this day did appear to all intents and purposes several people representing SCAR, respectively, and they did positively swear that they had appeared before me, in accordance with the law, and reading from left to right. Certified and pasteurized before me this third day of September in the year 1922.

SIMEON PREITZER,
Notary Public.

My commission expired Jan. 30, 1897.

We print all the news that's fit to print—and lots that isn't.
We give the people what they want.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1923.

THE PRIVILEGED FOURTH ESTATE.

If this issue of the Scar does not result in the near expulsion of all or any of its writers it has failed in its purpose. If it does result in the expulsion of any of them it has also failed in its purpose. The object has been to get it as close to the line as possible that is, if we had said "darn" where we did say "gee whiz" we would be forced to forever sever our connection with Bradley Institute.

Anything said here which is true allows for no "come back" from anyone. Only poor sports would make a kick over anything untruthfully stated here. There is no retribution for the maligned nor is there any justification for the praised.

Raising the battle cry of "freedom of the press" we march bravely on.

—B. P. I.—

HE BACKSLID.

The recent swindle of $50,000 from the treasury of the Y. M. C. A. by Herman Beimfohr, president of the organization, is regrettable from the standpoint of its moral effect on the religious life of the people whom it directly affects.

Just what comment the exposure will arouse among the Reverend's congregation can only be conjectured. Throughout the past year Beimfohr has invariably selected for his sermons the Ten Commandments. Little, though, did his innocent assemblies who met with him for religious worship and instruction suspect that he stood before them not as a pure and undefiled preacher of the gospel, but as a servant of Satan.

In equal contempt do those faithful givers to the cause of the Y. M. C. A. hold President Beimfohr. Was it not he who uttered a strong plea for funds when the coffers of that organization were low, and did not the brothers all valiantly respond? How well do we remember the generosity of Brothers Hindle and Correll, each of whom pledged $1000 to the cause! Does Beimfohr think for one moment that this outright and insane thievery will soon be forgotten?

While Beimfohr repents in the dark confines of a foul-smelling prison may he hear those words which were spake unto Moses: "Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another."

NOTICE

All writers on the Scar are asked to attend a meeting at the rendezvous Friday. A faculty committee will present a program to the assembly. Numbers to be sung are: "You Won't Be Back for a Long, Long Time", "Leave Us With a Smile" and "You Broke Our Hearts to Pass the Time Away."

REDS RETAIN RULE

gym, and with battered cups, the men students impatiently awaited their morning rations. Some delay was caused by the flogging of Hadley, former instructor, now men's cook under the Council.

The women students, with characteristic yells and brawling, roughly holding to their factions under Comrades Wysong and Smith, advanced to the mess door of the north gym side, deserting their hovels in the northeast section of the campusorium.

After mess, the hum of the huge grindstone behind the Manual Arts building, caused a general movement in that direction for the daily edging of knives and axes. Some talk in the line rumored that Supreme Dictator Damon would harrangue students of both sexes that morning, on the prison expense resulting from the confinement of former instructors Gaunt, Shepardson, Swepert, Why Cough and Ashcan. The Home Economics Battalion of Death was to receive restrictions and sentence arising from negligence during recent clothing and food raid on a downtown store, some said.

The class in the manufacture of death rattles, wife choking and crapshooting divisions, the morning schedule, were dismissed for the anniversary celebration, to consist of Dictator Damon's speech before the Supreme Council and Assembly.

The laggard file of ragged and half-clad men and fourth-clad women wound dejectedly up the broken walk of the main campusorium to the crumbling steps; between the warped and creaking doors, gaping painless beneath the once-proud gargoyles. Grumbling, they checked their crude axes, knives and vanadium hatpins at the chapel door and seated themselves as in the days of the Burgess supremacy.

The red sun sifted through the ragged blinds, derisively flapping like worn-out garters, at the side walls of the dingy chapel. The bloody rays caught here and there a gleam of some dirty blonde hair topping some once-fair co-ed. Silence hung heavy in the room as all waited. Only the high-pitched shrieks of a comradess being beaten by her czar in the detention room of the old conservatory, broke the stillness.

The sobbing shrieks ebbed and died away, and a death-like hush settled over the mammoth gathering. A moment later the groaning doors of the chapel swung back, as Dictator Damon, with his cortege of ministers of the council, editor of THE SCAR, and factional leaders, swaggered to the chapel stage.

The treasurer's report showed resources of the Supreme Treasurer all but devastated. Eight deceased Sullivan's beer checks and a 1922 Three-I league rain check were reported.

A glowering look from the dictator and the treasurer resumed his seat.

A buzzing of many tongues followed reading of the report, and incredulous eyes asked what had become of the millions in hard dollars and jewels filched from the super-Croesus faculty on the eve of the internationale. Comrade Falletti rose angrily to his feet, and in the ringing tones of a cash register, demanded an itemized account of the supreme expenditures in the next edition of THE SCAR. His natural popularity with the women won screams of applause from the rare sex.

Dictator Damon was taken aback by the growing turmoil, and looked uneasily at the stack of axes. Raising an index finger, he called for silence, and the three-year leader of the B. P. I. internationale advanced to the front of the stage, spat viciously on the postrum, passed a trembling hand through his bushy black whiskers, and opened up on the mob, to-wit:

"Comrades,"—with an eye for the women—to the men, his bushy brows beetling, "and spaghetti-spined jellyfish. Things ain't so bad as Supreme Treasurer Battles has gone and said (growls). And while the treasury is rather ill, due to recent ravages of deuces wild, in which the treasurer was S. O. L. (sole and only loser) we still have some hard rocks for a good cause; to convert the power plant into an arsenal. I have said it.

"But enough for the paltry and insignificant subject of money. Let us review the three years of happiness."

Whipping a quart flask from his hip, he guzzled deeply, cleared his tonsils and resumed:

"You will remember the opening of the conflict, when the present daisy-pusher endeavored to enforce the 7 o'clock class rule. You will remember the ensuing riot (cheers); the faculty meeting massacre, the pursuit of the willful ones who escaped. Remember the fair and warmer flag on the weather bureau, where we imprisoned the fallacious faculty. The flag was humorously hoisted by Doc Comstock when the flames crept to the roof (cheers, guffaws). He was the last to die.

"But there are five left, due to the flexibility of Shepardson's larynx. But she has pleaded for the last time. She and her four friend-conspirators must be handed harps. The garlic has been plucked clean from the fields; our mouths water for food; they wear clothes; we need 'em. The crafty Shepardson has wheedled me, the Supreme Dictator, (front row showered with vest buttons) for the last time. Do they die, doggone it, or don't they?"

The ancient chapel shook with the screams and howls of "Yes, yes; perforate 'em." Wysong, the bloodthirsty, even placed her knitting in her lap, and gave her opponent leader, Smith, a playful kick.

"Unanimous," was Dictator Damon's dictum, passing a perspiring paw through his wadded and assorted face foliage. "They die at the stroke of one today. Generale Babcock, instruct the firing squad."

"Classes in bootlegging, distilling, incendiarism and bull-shooting will be omitted this afternoon. I want everyone to come out full for the delightful performance to be put on by the firing squad on the tennis courts at the hour of one p.x.

"After the manufacture of these five corpses, both women and men will hold a clothing and food raid on the downtown stores," the Dictator further announced.

"We will close the annual observance tonight with a quiet celebration. Comrades Reisch and Garlic will stage a duel with red-hot pokers in the old forging room, Manual Arts department. There will be no other bloodshed. The results of this afternoon's raid will determine the refreshments."

The meeting closed with the reading of letters of congratulation by Supreme Secretary Peters from Lenin, Trotsky and Senator Borah.

of the Potterians. The attacking general sent a sharp note to the commander of the fort demanding immediate surrender. The valient patron of soup sent a reply saying that she considered his note flat, and that if his forces were not withdrawn she would give orders for a heavy barrage of custard pies.

Rose opened the battle by playing "Onward Christian Soldiers" which passed over the heads of his enemies, but his second shot which was a Hungarian Rasphody, caused heavy casualties in the garrison. An unusual heavy shower of pumpkin pies took heavy toll in the Rose army. Lieutenant Stiener was completely cut off from the main army and forced to surrender.

It is impossible to say how long the bloody affair would have lasted had it not been for the timely arrival of Officer Brill, who arrested both armies, placing them in the dungeons under Bradley hall for safe keeping. Special Investigator Walter Winget has been detailed to make thorough investigation of the affair. His reports will be posted on the bulletin board as soon as they are received in the "Scar" office.

DAVY EXPERIMENTING WITH NITROUS OXIDE IN THE ROYAL INSTITUTION

The First Electrochemist

NITROUS oxide, according to the science of a century ago, was "the principle of contagion when respired by animals in the minutest quantities." Mere say-so.

Imaginative yet skeptical Humphrey Davy, who believed in experiment rather than in opinion, "respired" it and lived.

It was this restless desire to test beliefs that made him one of the founders of modern science. Electricity was a new force a century ago. Davy used it to decompose potash, soda, and lime into potassium, sodium, and calcium, thus laying the foundations of electrochemistry. With a battery of two thousand plates he produced the first electric arc—harbinger of modern electric illumination and of the electric furnace.

Czar Alexander I and Napoleon met on a raft to sign the Treaty of Tilsit while Davy was revealing the effects of electricity on matter. "What is Europe?" said Alexander. "We are Europe."

The treaty was at that time an important political event, framed by two selfish monarchs for the sole purpose of furthering their personal interests. Contrast with it the unselfish efforts of Sir Humphrey Davy. His brilliant work has resulted in scores of practical applications of electrolysis in industry and a wealth of chemical knowledge that benefit not himself but the entire world.

In the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company, for instance, much has been done to improve the electric furnace (a development of Davy's arc) and new compounds have been electrochemically produced, which make it easier to cast high-conductivity copper, to manufacture special tool steels, and to produce carbides for better arc lamps.

Advice to the Loveworn

BY THE LITTLE MATCH GIRL

Dear Miss Barebax:

I am a young man, considered good looking. I am a talented actor and have a delightful mezzo de catarrah voice. Miss Constance has often told me that women always do the proposing. No woman has proposed to me yet. I can not afford to lower my dignity, being a doctor's son. What can I do? C. B.

C. B.—Get other opinions. Ask Mrs. Royal Graham.

My Dear Miss Barebax: *

I am madly in love with a red-headed girl, but since I object to red hair, she has promised to dye it.

BOOB McNAUGHT.

Dear Boob—Good Lord, is she fat too?

I am a petite brunette and am in love with a tall dark shiek, and need your advice. Every time this young man comes to see me my papa, who is biology teacher, talks to him about amoeba and earthworms. We never have any time to talk of love and other topics. What shall I do?

MARJORIE CADILLAC.

Offer to go to the woods—get your father some worms for specie and forget to come back.

Dear Miss Barebax:

I am a product of nature's own. I never use rouge, powder or a curling iron, and still I do not seem to attract the men. What is your suggestion?

HELEN VAN D.

Dear Helen—That solution is simple. Use them.

"We Hatch 'Em--Match 'Em--Dispatch 'Em"

DOC ABBOTT

This advice must be taken with a grain of salt, it's needed.

Clarence Rosell writes:

What is a good cure for cold feet?

Reply—Soak pedal extremities in pre-Volstead before retiring, for one week.

Dorothy Moore writes:

What's a good cure for insomnia?

Reply—Omit thinking of Paul Younge.

Since taking your course in "Upbuilding the Body" I can lick my weight in wildcats and lift two kegs of beer. Am now employed in the First National Bank, lifting paper weights. Yours,

Theodore Faber Strongforit.

I used to be considered quite stout, but since I have used "Nofat" I have lost 20 pounds and two of my double chins.

MARJORIE OGDEN

Leslie Otto asks:

Is the climate more beneficial for hair growing in Peoria than in Bartonville?

Reply—It all depends on the kind of curry comb you use.

I have often wished to be a great violinist, but had given up in despair until I commenced to take your wonderful course in "The Violin—By Heck." Since I have completed my work I have become first violinist in Al Fuller's Simple Syncopators and am considered the leading musician in Pekin. Lovingly,

WILLIAM H. HOGAN, JR.

What Did You See Today?

SHAME ON GEORGE!

I went over to the business office this morning and saw George McClyment and Mr. Carr shooting craps up in George's office. I don't think that was a very nice thing for a Sunday school superintendent to be doing, nor can its influence upon Miss Comstock be of the best. Do I get the prize?

ROSS SNARE.

CARMEN AND VALENTINO

There is always much curiosity among the students concerning faculty meeting, so I determined to discover what takes place at these mysterious conclaves. At the last meeting I hid under Miss Hopper's desk. When all the members had assembled Dr. Swaim produced his saxaphone and Miss Mickle, her Jew's harp, and Mr. Chilrud proceeded to teach Miss Constance the Argentine tango.

ALYCE PEASE.

WHAT DO YOU MAKE OF IT, WATSON?

Upon passing the Horological building Monday night, I noticed a big truck backed up to the entrance. Astonished at the unusual sight, I drew near and hid behind a neighboring tree. Presently Dean Westlake emerged followed by Mr. Wild and Macon Brook struggling with an immense box.

"I guess that's enough for this load," said the Dean. "We ought to get at least a pint for all these diamonds."

—RED ALLEN.

STEM-WINDERS

What is the idea of such a gay looking paper? Why this is "scandal week" for the Tech, and read and laugh while others read and weep.

* * *

A couple of weeks ago "some body" slipped a piece in the Stemwinders Section about Mr. Leet. It was awful, and the readers of the Tech will agree that it was. It is a scandal for any one to put such a piece in the Tech about one of our brother Stemwinders. And if he ever sticks his head from under the cover, we'll shoot him at sun rise.

—B. P. I.—

CO-ED

A certain young lady was pinched by a man. Was it Wright?

It is our editorial policy to correct mistakes. Last week K. Langton wrote an editorial (in her usual fascinating style) but she took credit for the whole column. She insinuated that the editor was lazy. On the contrary the editor is most industrious, has not even had an attack of spring fever. We will vouch for it ourself.

We did the dirty work last week as usual. This scandal column is the most thankless job we ever undertook.

SCAR SCRIBES DINE

Sears refused to proceed without them.

Conspicuous by her absence from the lineup was B. Verner, star tackle of the scribes. Powell, Garland and McClyment, of the writers, were not in their expected places when the whistle blew, but their places were ably filled by Shoch and Robb, two youngsters of promise, and Crawford, a veteran lineman.

The first half was scoreless for both sides. Once Elliff tore off a long run but was smeared on the waistline by Bullion of the Appetites. Welting and Ireland were penalized several times for "boners." Bullion of the Appetites was knocked out and withdrawn from the game.

The second quarter was much the same as the first. Toward the end of the quarter it was plain that the Appetites were exhausted and would not hold up under the strain, and that the scribes had not bitten off more than they could chew.

The second half started off with a rush. Captain Johnson of the scribblers carried the ball over for the first touchdown early in the period, Davis kicking goal.

From that time on the game was a series of touchdowns by the scribes; Marvin, Buckley and Jones each put the ball over the line, and each time Davis kicked goal. Robb nearly crossed the goal once but was downed with a few feet to go.

The last goal was hung up by Chi Gamble. A fake pass followed by an end run and a few line bucks put the ball over for the last time.

Two veterans, Buckley and Davis, will form the neucles for the team next year.

when the question of the requirements for an A. B. degree was brought up. Professor Bullrud suggested that the student desiring an A. B. degree should be able to dance two days and two nights without stopping. This requirement was heartily approved by the other members and was especially endorsed by Coach Robertson. Other requirements decided upon were: that the student should be a constant reader of Whizz-Bang and Hot-Dog and that he should be able to play Yankee Doodle on the mouth harp with his eyes closed. This latter requirement was advocated by the conservatory of music and is thought to be very essential.

"Now that we've settled that, next bring on the flunkies," roared Pres. Burgess in a high falsetto in order to be heard above the rest.

A moment of silence followed when the flunkies, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Wayne Buckley and Herman Beimfohr were dragged in by Deputy Tilotson.

"Honorable flunkies," exclaimed Dr. Burgess, "do you realize that the gates of this institution are soon to be closed against you?"

"Yea, Bo!" they all echoed in chorus.

"That's good." Brother Why Cough, "I will now proceed with the usual questions."

"What's the price of apples on the Nile," he asked, shaking his fist at Buckley.

"How come?" retaliated Buckley, with his usual vim and vigor.

"That's still another side of the question," said the Doctor.

"And now," directing his gaze at Beimfohr, "how many nights this week were you out at Riverview?"

"Eighteen," the response came, weakly.

"Approximately correct," said Dr. Swaim, feverishly working his slide rule.

"I can easily see that you have been unjustly accused," said Dr. Wyckoff. "You're excused."

It was soon after this, in fact, right after it was decided whose boy was the quickest calculator, Prof. Showed Her's or Comstock's that Why Cought was seen to scribble a note hastily on a piece of paper and have it passed over to Ashcan.

Upon reading the note, Ashcan's face grew red in a frenzy of rage.

"It's a mistake," he cried, "it's a mistake!" And rushing madly across the room he made a lunge at Why Cough, snapping viciously with his teeth. A fierce tussle ensued in which soon everyone was forced to take sides. Pandemonium reigned.

"Now, now is my chance to become famous," screamed Miss Constance, and saying this, she jumped into the very midst of the fray, felling the Baum with one magnificent sweep of her hand.

"S-s-s-success," yelled Mr. Johnson, as he hit Mr. Woelfle on the back of the head with a crowbar.

This was the deciding blow of the struggle, for as soon as Woelfle, the main cog of the Why Cough machine, had fallen, the others lost heart and hurriedly fled from the meeting, leaving the Ashcanites to fully enjoy their hard fought victory.

Turn Senior Gang Out On Unsuspecting World

EDITOR'S NOTE—This news is being published two months ahead of time. TAKE THE SCAR. IT ALWAYS HAS THE BEST NEWS FIRST.

Ending a our year struggle in a blaze of glory, the class of '22 of Bradley Polytechnic Institute was graduated Friday, June 15. This class numbered 55, the largest in the history of the Institute.

A novel method of decorating in the class colors was carried out in the gowns worn by the graduates. The gowns was of black and white (striped alternately). On the sleeves was service bars for each year of confinement.

Dr. A. T. Westlake, professor in horology opened the exercises by a touching little ballad, "Why Should I Cry Over You."

He was accompanied on a stretcher by Dr. L. P. Elliott, dean of men. After the ushers had quieted the crowd Dr. Teddy Burgess made a few remarks concerning the graduates and the day's program. He gave a few reminiscences of the days he spent in college, and brought tears to the eyes of the audience as he related the struggle he made to escape. He said, "I remember when I was a giddy young man fresh from college, before hair tonic was discovered, how I struggled to make a place for myself in the world. With the splendid training these young men and women have they should advance far in the world." He then exclusively introduced Hon. H. M. Spindell the speaker of the day.

Amid great din the speaker skillfully dodged a shower of vegetables (an appreciation from the audience) and gave the commencement address.

At ten o'clock Dr. Burgess announced an end to the party, saying he had a date to attend to and must lock the gymnasium, since Axel Johnson was on his annual trip to Moline and had left the gymnasium in his care.

Catholics and Ku Klux Join Forces

The expected merger of the Catholic Club and the members of the Bradley Knights of the Ku Klux Clan was effected last week, according to a statement issued jointly by King Kockroach Witsche of the Klan and Brother Herman Beimfohr of the Catholics. The merger was made as a means of obtaining protection against the alleged slanderous statements of Dr. Why Cough and Prof. Showed Her recently made about the organizations.

James Harris, Kwestion Mark, and Michel O'Brien, Kalamity of the Klan confirmed the report yesterday.

"The stuff these profs have been handing around is something awful, and is merely the product of bigoted and narrow minds," quoth Brother Beimfohr in an exclusive interview to a Scar reporter, "and we are joining our forces with the Kluxers in an effort to squelch their overthrow of gushing venom and vindicate our group."

Witsche of the Klan could not be found and it is reported that he has gone to his summer home among the Ratskills for a rest.

Rumors that the A. P. A. would also enter into the consolidation were dispelled when it was learned that V. Don O'Meara had obtained membership in that order which had led to its dissolution.

The Inquisitive Reporter

Our Inquisitive Reporter yesterday asked this question of three people chosen at random:

"Do you regard the Hegelian empiricism, taken in the light of Von Clausewitz's metabolism, as a priori, indicative of a subconscious conflict, —making due allowance, of course, for inherited, predilections?

George Steiner. "It all depends on how much yeast you use. Some like it less yeasty and some likes it more. I get the best results by skimming every three days. It depends how you like it."

Bee Verner. "No. I prefer Rodolph Valentino. I didn't see The Hairy Ape, but I hear Lionel Barrymore was just lovely in it."

Prof. Schroeder. "It looks to me like the Giants has the best chance."

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOL. 2 PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1923. Number 32

FAST ST. VIATOR TEAM TO BE NEXT CONFERENCE FOE

BRADLEY NINE WILL ATTEMPT TO AVENGE WABASH DISASTER BY BEATING NON-LOSERS.

One of the hardest tests of the year for the Tech baseball team will take place on Thursday afternoon, when the high toned, non-losing and ambitious St. Viator's team will be met on the home diamond.

The team is training strenuously and is grimly determined to avoid another disaster like the Wabash game, when the Little Giants won a one-sided game by the score of 12 to 1.

The Catholics have a wonderful record, but the Techsters feel that they can at least equal last year's record when they split even on the two game series. It is probable that Donnelly, a Peoria product, will take the slab against Tyler, although Carroll and Rogers will both be ready if needed.

Bradley has not been beaten in the state, and has four victories to its credit, so if a state championship is to be earned, the St. Viator's game will almost have to be won.

CO-EDS HEAR ADDRESS BY NOTED LECTURER

"The Changing World" with special emphasis on the responsibility of young women for the change, was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. Anna Stevens of Champaign to the women in Social Hall, Monday, April 30.

She painted a picture of an ideal modern girl, as compared with the girl of the 18th century. Many of the problems of young women are the same today, as they were two hundred years ago. But since women's scope has widened, her problems have also increased. Mrs. Stevens stressed her political responsibility. She must keep in touch not only with welfare reforms, but also with economic reforms.

After the lecture the girls were given the occasion to meet Mrs. Stevens socially at the tea that had been arranged by Mrs. Huston.

The chapel exercise on that day was given over to Mrs. Stevens in which she related some of the interesting and vivid details of her recent trip through the wilds of South America.

MISS BOOTH RESIGNS POSITION IN LIBRARY

Miss Louise Booth, assistant librarian at Bradley, has resigned her position because of the illness of her mother. Miss Booth has been at Bradley only a short time but has made herself the friend of the entire student body by her helpful assistance and her untiring energy.

Her place will be filled by Miss Pauline Gauss, an alumnus and former assistant in the library. Miss Gauss is also well versed in the ways of the library and is a capable successor to Miss Booth.

The library staff also consists of the following students: Lenore Wysong, Mary Stillfield, Mary Burroughs, Ethel Nyberg, Geo. Barnett and Gail Warner.

A one-hour course in practice work in the library is also given and has a large enrollment.

ENGLISH CLUB BANQUET TO BE AT CREVE COEUR

The English club will hold its annual banquet at the Creve Coeur club May 16. It is the final meeting of the year.

Dr. Wiley, librarian of the public library, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Other speakers on the program will include Harold Voelkel as toastmaster, Dorothy Crowder, will speak for the Alumnae, Mr. Marvin for the faculty, and Mr. Garlick for the club. Frances Wood, president of the organization, will give a report of the year's work.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LITERARY EVENTS SHOW GOOD TALENT

WELL PRESENTED SPEECH AND ESSAY TOPICS FEATURE CONTESTS.

One of the big features of Bradley's 18 interscholastic was the oratorical contests held in the chapel and social hall at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Medals similar to those awarded the winners in the track meet were given to the winners.

Miss Clara Tibben of Pekin, carried away the honors at the girls' contest in the chapel. Misses Marion Thomas of Henry, Dorothy Underwood of Washburn, won second and third prizes respectively. Honorable mention was accorded Miss Margaret Hynds of the LaSalle-Peru high school.

The judges of this contests were Mrs. Wales H. Packard, Mrs. L. R. Snowden, and Miss Jennie M. Constance of the Bradley faculty.

The boys' contest took place in social hall, and was won by Reis Kash of Minier. A Farmington boy, John Pereilla, won the second prize, and James Durick of Sheffield, third. Professor C. W. Schroeder and Dr. T. C. Burgess presided as judges.

Mackinaw, Morton and Minier won the prizes in the essay contest, while Buda won honorable mention. Members of the Bradley English department composed the board of judges.

The judges of the contests encountered much difficulty in making their decision. "This has been its most successful affair of the kind Bradley has ever had," said Professor W. Ross Marvin, manager of the contests. Many of the contestants had just won prizes at their county meets and had worked up their selections to a high degree of finish.

Y. W. C. A. COUNCIL MEETS AT DECATUR

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet council was held at James Millikin University from April 27-29. Bradley had the second largest delegation with eight delegates while Lincoln college had nine delegates.

The problems that were discussed at the open discussion were: The International, The Racial and The Industrial.

At the Saturday afternoon meeting, Helena Burke gave a speech on "The Connection of Bradley Y. W. C. A. with the Industrial Department of Peoria Y. W. C. A.," and Mary Gene Stifield gave a talk on the "Girl Reserve Movement in Peoria."

The Bradley delegation stayed at the Pi Beta Phi house while in Decatur. Helena Burke, Bee Verner, Clara Cornell, Dorothy Griesser, Marjorie Ogden, Gladys Weeks, Althea Behrends and Mary Gene Stifield made the trip.

ELIDA E. WINCHIP MEMORIAL GROWS

The self-appointed committee which is endeavoring to raise a thousand dollars for the purpose of founding a scholarship as a memorial for the late Elida E. Winship is meeting with marked success. This scholarship is to be applied in the Domestic Science department.

The campaign will be closed June 1 and the pledges payable October 1. The committee's results are to be announced Convocation day.

Miss Geraldine Hadley of the home economics department, and Mrs. T. C. Burgess have been and are still collecting funds to be included in the emmorial scholarship.

GLEE CLUB SINGS TO PACKED HOUSE AT MORTON HIGH

WILL APPEAR AT HALE MEMORIAL AND AT ASCHER'S PALACE LATER IN SEASON.

The Bradley Men's Glee club made its first public appearance at Morton high school Friday evening. A capacity house was present at the entertainment and the efforts of the men were greeted with continued applause. A program of nine numbers was given and the club was forced to respond to several encores. The following men made the trip: Weston Harding, Clarence Krughoff, Edwin Anderson, Leo Staab, Clifford Putnam, Donald Challacombe, Homer Mason, Albert Helmick, Harold White, Lynn Wixson, George Johnson, Frank Allen, Charles Brobst, Russel Dalton and MacMillen.

The next appearance of the club will be at the Hale Memorial church, on May 22. A program of fourteen songs will be given.

The glee club will also appear at Ascher's Palace theater, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 6, 7, 8 and 9. This will be in connection with the regular show and will consist of afternoon and evening performances.

The personnel of the glee club is now complete and no more members will be admitted, according to Harold Tucker, president of the organization. He states further, "the club has had several additional offers from neighboring cities, but as yet we have taken no definite action on these proposals."

TECH OVERTHROWS JAMES MILLIKIN IN TRACK MEET

DISTANCE RUNNERS TOO SPEEDY FOR DECATURIANS—TAKE TEN FIRST PLACES.

Coach Leo Johnson's track men played with the blue and white athletes that Mr. Millikin sent over last Friday, winning the meet by a 93 to 38 score, in one of the most decisive victories that Bradley has ever won over the Decatur boys. Johnson's progress stepped out and grabbed 11 firsts out of the 14 events, and in many cases won first and second places.

Bradley's distance runners completely outclassed their Millikin rivals, Skinner winning the 880-yard run, Hendricks winning the mile in 4:58, and Metzel stepped the two miles in 10:48, lapping one of the two Millikin runners on the last turn. The distance men made such a decisive victory possible by winning ten out of the twelve possible places in the four events.

Howell, the flashy little speed wagon from Toluca, won the 100-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds and tore off the 220-yard dash in 23 seconds. "Hosie" is getting tuned up to a perfection and some of these fine days will hang up a record. Glenn Garner, Farmington's pride, won the 220-yard low hurdles, the pole vault,

REPRESENTATIVES OF COLLEGE PRESS TO MEET SATURDAY

WILL FORMALLY ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION SIMILAR TO THAT OF OTHER STATES.

Delegates from Illinois college publications will meet at Knox college, Galesburg, Saturday to formally organize the Illinois College Press Association. This decision was brought about at a meeting of editors and business managers at Peoria, January 13, when it was decided to organize an association in Illinois such as exists in many other states.

The meeting Saturday will start at 10 o'clock with a business meeting and the adoption of a constitution. This will be followed by a luncheon at which the scribes will be addressed by speakers of note.

The afternoon session will be devoted to short talks and round table discussions which will be carried on in two separate divisions, one for the editors and one for the business managers. Topics of importance to college journalists will be dealt with.

The evening banquet will be followed by talks by men prominent in journalism, chief among which is Dean F. H. Harrington of the Medill School of Journalism. Dean Harrington will also present the loving cups which will be awarded to the papers having the best samples of newstories, editorials, and front page make-up.

The association was organized for the purpose of fostering college journalism and for mutual assistance. Its officers are: George E. Johnson, editor of the Bradley Tech, president; and W. E. Simpson, editor of the Lyon Student, secretary-treasurer.

BRADLEY BOOK SHOP TO AWARD CASH PRIZES

Another award has been made to the department of business administration in the form of two cash prizes to be given for the next two years by the Bradley Book Shop and its manager, W. C. Jacquin.

The prizes are $25 and $10 in cash to be awarded to the business students presenting the two best thesis on the subject of "A Complete Advertising Campaign for a Retail Store in the Peoria Retail Business District."

This year's awards will be made in June and will go to members of the class in advertising.

Mr. Loyal G. Tillotson, head of the department of business administration, has been instrumental in securing a number of scholarships and prizes for the students taking that course. Only recently the B. & M. prize of $50 was secured. Freshmen business students are eligible for it.

MASK AND GAVEL CLUB TO PRESENT ONE ACT PLAYS

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS FORMS THE THEME FOR MAIN PRESENTATION—PUBLIC INVITED.

The Mask and Gavel club will present three one act plays on Friday evening, May 11, at 8 P. M., in the Social hall. These plays will be open to the public and an admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

"Suppressed Desires," the first of these plays, is a very clever satire. It deals with a woman whose entire life is devoted to psycho-analysis. Her husband has nearly gone mad with the suppressed desires of his wife. His wife's sister comes for a visit and after a few days of this terrible atmosphere, she and the husband decide to study psycho-analysis. They find out that they have suppressed desire for each other, and upon telling the wife, she become jealous and decides to give it all up if her husband will do likewise. Her sister asks: "What am I going to do with my suppressed desires?"

The husband says, "just keep on suppressing it."

The characters in this play are Helen King, Helen Cole and Clifford Ahrends.

"The Marriage has been Arranged," is a play of a very different type than the other two. It's a story of a wealthy and prominent person and of a mercenary individual. The marriage had been arranged so that the poor person could have wealth through marriage. The play is noted for its humor. Helen Wallace and Charles Mee take the parts in this play.

"The Finger of God" is a play dealing with a very critical situation. The man is trusted by everyone, including his stenographer. He is noted for his honesty but is really a thief. The climax of the play is reached when he reforms and pays back the money which he was going to steal. The "Finger of God," through the agency of the little stenographer saved him. Those acting in this play are Marjorie Packard, Clifford Putnam and LaPorte Dorman.

BRADLEY PROFS JUDGE AT COUNTY CONTESTS

Bradley teachers have received many requests to act as judges in county contests. Last week Miss Martha Hobson went to Pekin and Morton. Prof. C. W. Schroeder went to Washburn and Morton.

Mr. W. R. Marvin this week, Saturday, will go to Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, to judge in the Iowa State Intercollegiate Peace Contest. The orations have also been submitted to him for grading as to thought and composition.

Miss Edith Clinebell, Mrs. Dudley C. Chaffee, Mr. Franklin Stead and Mr. Kenneth Stead have been judging musical contests in San Jose and Morton.

Joe Dicenzo, Toluca flyer, won first place for his school at the 18th annual Bradley Interscholastic, Saturday, by winning the 50, 100 and 220-yard dashes, and incidentally setting a new record in the latter event.

LaPlante, of Chillicothe, also shattered a record when he clipped off the second half-mile race of the day in 2 minutes 4 3-5 seconds, 4 seconds better than the old record, and 2 3-5 seconds better than the time set by Rex Schraub a few minutes before.

Not only were track records shattered, but attendance records for track meets on Bradley field went by the boards when over 2,000 spectators crowded the bleachers to glimpse the cream of Illinois prep athletes.

Harold Osborne, holder of an unofficial world's record in the high jump, topped the bar at 6 feet, 6½ inches in an exhibition jump, and drew the applause of the crowd. An exhibition race of one mile by Joie Ray, Ray Watson and Roy Buker, resulted in a victory for Joie when he made four laps around the quarter-mile track in 1 minute, 65 seconds, 67 seconds and 68 seconds respectively, for the total time of 4 minutes, 16 seconds.

Lake Forest Academy, one of the 72 schools entered in the meet, made a good showing and would probably have won the meet had it not been for the fact that they were ineligible, being a private academy.

The Schraub brothers, Rex and Fred, won second place for Manual, the first by winning the first half-mile and getting second in the 440-yard dash, and Fred by winning the mile race.

Walter Eckersall, starter and referee, and world famous authority on sports subjects, declared the Tech meet to be one of the best managed track meets he had ever seen, barring not even the state or Stagg meets.

The Results:

50-yard dash—Won by Dicenzo, Toluca; Hinman, Chillicothe, second; Dancey, Forrest, third. Time—:5 2-5.

100-yard dash—Won by Dicenzo, Toluca; Egbert, Wyoming, second; R. Nelson, Lafayette, third. Time—10 seconds.

220-yard dash (finals)—Won by Dicenzo, Toluca; Rirle, Gridley, second; Howell, third. Time—:22 2-5.

440-yard dash (first race)—Won by Archer, Peoria High; F. Schraub, Manual, second; Wolter, Havana, third. Time—54 seconds.

WE PREFER SHORT WEIGHT

Education is the one thing we are not willing to be short weighted in. There are many, however, who do not desire over-weight at the expense of their lunch hour, or in way that might cause them a delay in reaching other classes.

Of course there are students who come late to classes, but these are only a certain few, not more than one or two to each class. Why should the majority of a class who are always on time be detained after the close of the period on account of the few who make a habit of being late? It is not only the fourth hour classes that complain of being kept overtime, but also other classes throughout the day. Teachers request students to be in their places at the ringing of the second bell. Then why not dismiss their respective classes at the sound of the first bell? Ten minutes is allowed to give students time to change classes, but often they are deprived of a part or all of this time, due to the fact that some teachers did not plan her class program so as to be able to dismiss class at the proper time.

THE INTERSCOLASTIC

Bradley's eighteenth annual Interscholastic meet is now past history. From almost every viewpoint it was a great success, and the promoters can rest assured that their efforts were justly awarded.

Throughout the state this meet is recognized as being the best that an Illinois minor college has ever held. It compares favorably with the Stagg meet at Chicago and the annual Interscholastic at the University of Illinois. All hope that it has been the means of bringing many new students into the fold for the coming school year.

Due credit must be given to the newspapers and the general public of Peoria. Their cheerful co-operation was largely responsible for the success of the meet. It is hoped that the Interscholastic next spring will be even greater than this, and gain more fame for the school.

———B. P. I.———

DORMITORIES?

To make Bradley a bigger and better college, there seems to be a great need for more students who live away from the city of Peoria. Bradley has always been a school for Peoria people. One of the best advertisements that a college can have is a satisfied group of out-of-town students.

In order to gain this object, conditions must be made more attractive for that group of students. There are few student boarding houses near the campus now. There should be both men's and women's dormitories. The experience of other colleges have shown this to be true. Fraternity houses, organized on a firm basis, can help this matter a great deal.

We have meets, band trips, glee club concerts, and other things to further advertise the school. The college must broaden its motives and offer more solid inducements before it can attract the out-of-town students and gain the name which rightfully belongs to it, and which many other Illinois colleges have already obtained.

About the only good we see that comes out of the Scandal Sheet, is the fact that we get to call Dr. Burgess, "Teddy" once a year. But then, it's worth it.

* * *

The statement that we had joined the A. P. A.'s is entirely unfounded and libelous. Certain persons on the Tech staff had better choose their words with care or they will have a law suit staring them in the face.

* * *

In the write-up in last week's Tech about the Tech staff banquet, the most important thing, namely, Miss Berniece Jones' speech, was left out. Miss Jones made the hit of the evening by reading a piece of poetry that evoked roars of laughter from her listeners. The best part of it all was that she had clipped that very same piece of poetry from Kicks and Komments of an earlier issue. (Now we are even, Berniece.)

* * *

DID YOU KNOW THAT the cat who appeared in Gammer Gurton's Needle belonged to the janitor here at Bradley? We thought that it was the best actor on the program. Notice that we call it, IT. They called it Tabbie on the stage. Its owner calls it Tom.) The animal is so stuck up now that it struts around the neighborhood and refuses to mingle with the other cats in the neighborhood. Maybe it will be home a few nights now.

* * *

Whew boy! We are sure glad that the Scandal Sheet is over with. Although our life is an open book, there were several chapters in it that we did not want the general public to hear about. The Tech staff very kindly refrained from printing them, so we are able to breathe easily once more.

* * *

We do not know what colleges the others contributors to the Scar are choosing to go to, but we have chosen the Alabama College of Chiropractics and will leave for that place as soon as the meeting is over.

COWBELLS!

Don Bloch came to school the other day with his right eye bandaged. We asked him what was the matter, and he replied that he had burst a blood vessel while STUDYING! We looked at him for a minute and then in a low voice we began to sing "Cowbells."

RINGS AND THEIR ROMANCE.

Does your friend wear a ring?

If he does, has it ever occurred to you that he may have concealed in it a supply of poison for use in combatting his fiercest enemies? At any rate, you would have been justified in such an assumption four centuries ago!

One way of ridding one's self of troublesome characters, we are told, was to hand them a key in the shape of a finger ring and ask them to unlock a certain chest or cabinet. When a slight pressure was exerted upon the ring there was released a minute needle which pricked the holder of the ring and injected a fatal poison. Others reserved the poison for their own use in case suicide seemed the only solution—as in the case of the great Hannibal.

All rings with compartments in them, however, were not designed to serve such dire purposes for, it is said, they sometimes contained cosmetics—the prototype of the modern vanity case only much more convenient! Other rings contained relics or pictures, an interesting example of the latter being the case of the loyal friends of Charles I, who secretly cherished his likeness in their rings in defiance of the Roundheads.

The advantage of wearing the key upon the finger in the form of a ring is of course obvious, particularly when it guarded chests of precious stones and metals since this seemed to be the easiest way to prevent both loss and theft of the key. Still another use for the ring was that of personal protection. One ring, we are told, rendered its wearer invisible by his simply turning it about on his finger so that the setting rested against the palm of his hand.

And what could be a more convenient adaptation of the modern ouija board than the finger ring? Possibly one of your ancestors was among those to use their rings to divine the future. A simple process was to lower the ring on a slender thread over a table bearing the letters of the alphabet which, when joined by the ring, spelled the desired answer. To contribute to the solemnity of the occasion, the holder of the ring was attired in linen only and a circle shaved round his head.

Perhaps the one practical use of the ring which has been most universal and enduring is as a seal. The earliest examples of rings show this use which seems to have continued uninterrupted down through the middle ages. The custom seems to have later lost favor until an interesting revival occurred within recent years. The historic ring was introduced by the college fraternities and sororities as an unusually effective as well as appropriate manner of displaying the organization's crest.

THE CO-ED

By Bernice Jones

We would like to write an editorial on our editor but we are afraid he would censor it so we thought we'd choose a more safe topic.

As we try to give the public what they want we asked our readers what they wished an editorial written on. Here are some suggestions: Gingham dresses, more or less rouge, being out too late or early, cats in "Y" room.

Speaking of cats, our Tom has disappeared from the lower regions of the building. The day after acting with the Copper-Miller players Tom would come only when called Tibby. The general opinion around the Tech room is that he has traveled forth to seek more exclusive company.

* * *

Marjory and Wiley between acts of "Gammer Gurton's Needle" sat looking over the Scandal Sheet. A lady in the row back of them, seeing the red print, leaned over and interestedly inquired if they were Bolshevists.

* * *

Our depression caused by the ingratitude of the mob was somewhat abated when Mr. Gamble at the Tech banquet said that the humor editor had the most dangerous position on a paper. A knowing look passed between Don and ourself. Oh, by the way, we must correct another mistake. Don says his trousers aren't toreador—not even bell hops or tops or whatever they are called. So we humbly apologize. Don also stated that there are others who wear these toreadors and asked us why we picked on him. We don't know, only Don is such a good-natured fellow and besides we have quite a score chalked up against him.

* * *

Who is the girl Ralph calls "baby?" Leave it to Ralph to pick out the good-lookers.

* * *

Ask Emaline and Hendrixs if they ever got squelched at the Palace theater.

* * *

What the little bird heard:

Helen Cole proposes to Mr. Beimfohr. Herman said he had expected it for some time, as she had been hanging around for weeks.

Edith Schoenfeld confessed with tears in her eyes that she was disappointed in love and was going to enter a convent.

* * *

Boys who have asked to have their names mentioned in this column in connection with:

Fred Tintoff—sheiks.

Rodney Mitchell—studies.

Mr. Voekel—dancing.

* * *

Any time one enters the Palace cafeteria one can see Mary Thomson and Leland Flemming haunting a table in a secluded corner. The reason?—they have hopes of winning that Ford coupe for their honeymoon.

* * *

Jury and Margaret S. had a fight. After waiting 40 minutes alone in the parlor for her to get over it, he had to go home disappointed.

* * *

John was asked to take a walk Sunday afternoon. He said he had to sleep. Mary can tell you what he did do.

Strong armed Amazons were never so plentiful at Bradley before. These feminists tried to schedule a game with the boys but H. Tyler had been watching the girls practice and he refused to pitch against so many "Babe Ruths!" And Coach Robby when asked said: "Let my gentle Julius play with those female Sampsons?" with such horror in his voice that Miss Ewald withdrew for fear he would burst into tears. Nothing affects a woman so much as tears in a man.

STEM-WINDERS

On Saturday evening, April 28th, the Tech held its annual banquet for the officers of the paper. There was a large crowd who enjoyed very much the wonderful dinner. Several business men gave addresses which made the evening an enjoyable one for everybody.

* * *

A special election was held by the members of the Psi Delpha Omega fraternity, and the following officers were elected:

Vice-President, Mr. Mittens; treasurer, Mr. Deans.

The following Monday night a business meeting was held and later Messrs. Don C. Rothenberger and Ralph L. Wicker were initiated.

* * *

All those who are interested in the examinations of the Horological Institute of America will please send their watches in cases with them, so that the watches can be taken care of when winding is necessary.

* * *

A letter received from a former instructor in Horology, Mr. Greathouse, stated that he was holding a splendid position at his home town in the southern part of Alabama.

* * *

It will be interesting to know that Mr. Harold Simon, a former student of Bradley, has gone in business at Barberton, Ohio.

* * *

Mr. James B. Hill writes that he has a splendid position at Columbia, Tenn., and likes his work very much.

* * *

Lady: "Did you ever do a single day's work in your life?"

Hobo: "Jest about, leddy."

"Now that you have a car, you must not neglect exercise."

"Oh, I won't be able to; it's a second-hand car."

* * *

"Maud tells everything she knows."

"Yes; it wouldn't be so bad if she would stop there."

* * *

Last night when Mr. Brock and Miss Decker were on their way home from town, walking up Main street they passed a pop corn stand, and Miss Decker said "Say, but don't that corn smell good." "Yes, honey, it sho do,—let's stand here and smell a while," replied Mr. Brock. Now, wouldn't that kill you. Just think of it,—the idea of such a remark instead of buying a sack of pop corn for her. It's a wonder he doesn't lose his membership in the "National C Room Association of Destructors," or is put out of "Mr. Wild's Zoo."

* * *

Mr. James B. Hill left several weeks ago to take a position as an expert stemwinder. We hated to see him leave, but it was a shame the way he did about his allowance at the material window. Why he wouldn't stop getting tools, etc. When he had bought all the government would allow a federal man, he just kept buying, until it was a scandal, for he went way over. So one day he heard a voice coming from the material window, saying, "Mr. Hill, oh, Mr. Hill. You have gone way over your allowance, way over, way over, way over, way over." How much over," asked Mr. Hill—"thirty-four cents," was the reply.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Howard Annis and R. B. Neuhauser handed in their theses last week. Annis' theses was on automobile work and Neuhauser's dealth with the vocational aims of high school students.

* * *

The Manual Arts department is receiving quite a few calls for teachers. Mrs. Meiners seems to think that all she does at present is to write letters of recommendation.

* * *

Ted Voorhees and Gordon Buehrighave made several sketches along water fronts and oil paintings of buildings on the campus. They also finished their first oil painting from life last week.

* * *

The machine shop is turning down a crank shaft of a fly wheel of a tractor which is to be used in the automobile department for testing purposes.

* * *

The counter shafting of the machine shop has been completely overhauled. Such work as this makes the machine shop almost self-sustaining.

* * *

Some of Mrs. Bradley's old furniture is being reupholstered and put into usable shape. It was discarded as of no value but by putting pieces together they are obtaining good results.

* * *

The faculty had a little picnic about six miles above Mossville. Here they found a bluebell patch about forty acres in extent. This has been an annual event for some time. Last year six or eight cars made the trip but this year there were sixteen accommodating ninety people. They had a lunch and started back before sun down. It was proclaimed a grand success by all and one of the most beautiful spots ever seen.

* * *

Mr. Alley, Leach, Becker and Eliot attended the convention at St. Louis last week. They came back believing Bradley has just as good if not better equipped than anything they saw.

* * *

Thirty pictures have been taken in the shops at Bradley for the new catalogues which are to be issued shortly.

* * *

Meinen is building a drill block, for the machine shop, to facilitate the location of small drills.

* * *

The carpentry class has just finished a fancy garage on the east bluff. The garage belongs to Mr. Russell, principal of the Manual Training high school. The owner is very well pleased with the job. The labor is not paid for which decreases the cost of the building.

* * *

Bostic went out flower picking Sunday and brought Miss Mickle a bouquet of bluebells to show his appreciation of what she has done for him.

The woodworking class is constructing some new hurdles for Bradley track work.

and a second place in the broad jump, for a total of 13 points, winning individual honors of the meet.

James Millikin University hasn't let us play in their alley for two years, but this year they came over to our gym to play basketball and then went home all down-hearted. Then our baseball team went over to Decatur and returned victorious, and last Friday their boys came over to see us, and Mr. Institute's youngsters won again. Now, next fall, there is going to be a football game—well, anyhow, time will tell.

Next Saturday we meet the Illinois College track team at Jacksonville, and the Bradley team is picked to win, although Illinois may show unexpected form and upset the dope. We'll tell you later who won.

100-yard dash—Hoswell (B) won; Rodgers (M) second; Jones (M) third. Time—:10 1-5.

220-yard dash—Hoswell (B) won; Rodgers (M) second; Gregory (B) third. Time—:22 1-5.

440-yard run—Warner (B) won; Skinner (B) second; Chamblin (M) third. Time—:55 1-5

880-yard run—Skinner (B) won; Metzel (B) second; Warner (B) third. Time—2:14.

Mile run—Hendricks (B) won; Brown (M) second; Krablin (B) third. Time—4:58 2-5.

Two-mile run—Metzel (B) won; Diefendorfer (B) second; Falleti (B) third. Time—10:48.

120-yard high hurdles—McGee (M) won; Siminski (B) second; Carroll (B) third. Time—:17 2-5.

220-yard low hurdles—Garner (B) won; Friedrich (B) second; Siminski (B) third. Time—:26 4-5.

High jump—McGee (M) won; and Blotter (M) tied for first; Weir (B), Purlee (B) and Allen (B) tied for third. Height—5 ft. 4 in.

Broad jump—Mariotti (B) won; Garner (B) second; Keefe (M) third. Distance—21 ft. 5 in.

Shot put—Fredrich (B) won; Allen (B) second; McGee (M) third. Distance—36 ft. 1¼ in.

Javelin—Robertson (M) won; McNaught (B) second; Allen (B) third. Distance—152 ft. 2 in.

Pole vault—Garner (B) won; Blotter (M), Gibson (M), Ireland (B), Frederich (B), tide for second. Height—10 ft. 6 in.

THE BRADLEY TECH

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOL. 26 — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1923. — Number 33

GRID SCHEDULE FOR '23 INCLUDES CREAM OF STATE

Tech Eleven Outlines 8-Game Chart —Six Games Here and Two Away—May Meet Indiana September 29 There.

When the one doubtful date of the 1923 football schedule is filled, Bradley's grid eleven will have mapped out for the coming season a chart of eight games, the caliber of which has probably been surpassed only by the schedule of 1922.

September 29 is the date for which a game has yet to be definitely arranged. Negotiations are open with several schools whose strong football teams would give the Tech plenty of opposition. Institute officials expect to close within a week or ten days for the opening engagement.

Indiana University is being considered for this date, although the conditions under which Bradley would be obliged to compete are unfavorable. Officials of Indiana University are willing to contract provided Bradley agrees to play under Big Ten conference rules. Inasmuch as the Big Ten rules stipulate that freshmen cannot compete in varsity teams the Tech would be placed at a decided disadvantage due to the fact that Coach Robertson has to rely largely on freshman material to fill vacancies that necessarily occur as the result of graduation and other causes. In the event that Director Stehn of Indiana University consents to play in accordance with the eligibility rules of the I. I. A. C. the Bradley mentor will lead his band of "Fighting Indians" to Bloomington, Indiana, for the toughest kind of a battle.

Should the game with the Hoosier school not materialize the date may be taken by Monmouth College or by Des Moines University. Either school is always represented by high-class football teams, and as Monmouth is also a member of the "Little Nineteen" this contest with the up-state school would be of vital importance in the winning of the conference championship.

A period of two weeks intervenes before the first at-home game of the 1923 season, with St. Viator College, on October 13. The Catholic eleven put up a splendid exhibition of football here last fall and with practically every regular back for another year Bradley is sure to find them a worthy foe.

Lombard and Illinois college come for games the next two Saturdays before the Tech eleven invades the camp of Illinois Wesleyan, on November 3. Augustana is the attraction on the Hilltop field November 10, Home-Coming Day. The following week Lake Forest University is to be the Tech's opponent, and James Millikin University winds up the season by meeting Bradley here Thanksgiving Day, November 29.

The schedule for 1923 follows:

Sept. 29—Monmouth college, there (tentative).
Oct. 13—St. Viator, here.
Oct. 20—Lombard, here.
Oct. 27—Illinois College, here.
Nov. 3—Illinois Wesleyan, there.
Nov. 10—Augustana, here (Home-Coming).
Nov. 17—Lake Forest University, here.
Nov. 29—James Millikin University, here (Thanksgiving Day).

"William, put General Washington on the galley, and then finish the murder of the girl you started yesterday. Set up the ruins of Herculaneum and distribute the smallpox. You could not finish the runaway match but have the high water in the paper this week. Put a new head to General Grant and lock up Jeff Davis. Slide the old dead matter into hell and let that pie alone until after dinner. MUSIC STUDENT WINS STATE CONTEST HONORS

Miss Lucille Harrom, a student of the conservatory of music, was awarded first place in piano at the state contest held Saturday, May 12, at Decatur. Miss Harrom played the waltz in form of an etude by Saens Sacens and was one of a large number of contestants.

Miss Harrom comes from Armington, Illinois, and is studying under Director Franklin Stead at the conservatory.

This is the second time that one of Mr. Stead's pupils has won first honors in state contest, Miss Wanda Proudfit having won this distinction at the contest of 1921 playing the Camponelle Etude by Liszt.

Delta Kappas Plan a Benefit Party for Student Loan Fund

Another boost will be given the student loan fund Friday afternoon and night when the Delta Kappa sorority will hold a benefit party and dance in the gymnasium, the proceeds going to the loan fund. This is an annual affair of the Delta Kaps and usually results in a session of unadulterated pleasure as well as a substantial increase to the loan fund.

Cards in the afternoon and cards and dancing in the evening is the program. Interspersed in the evening's events will be musical numbers by the Bradley quartette and also a few solo dances.

Arrangements for the affair are in charge of Mable Schmitt, general chairman of the promulgating committee.

COSTUME PARTY TO BE LAST EVENT OF MASK AND GAVEL

Mask and Gavel will hold its last meeting for this semester next Thursday. A costume party has been arranged, and everyone is urged to "dress up" for the occasion. Two plays will be presented during the evening: "Sicilian Limes," an Italian tragedy by Pirandello, will include in the cast Charles Brobst, Angela Voers and Bernice Jones. The other play is a comedy, "The Marriage Will Not Take Place." Frederick Oakley, Helen King and Margaret Straesser will take part.

Refreshments will be served by the committee at the close of the evening.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR JUDGES IOWA DEBATE

Mr. W. Ross Marvin of the English department went to Parson's College Saturday to serve as judge of a debate there. On his way over he stopped at Galesburg and attended the business session of the College Press Association, of which he was the originator.

Mr. Marvin was a member of the Ohio College Press Association while editor of the Oberlin Review at Oberlin College.

BRADLEY NET MEN WILL COMPETE IN GALESBURG MEET

McClure and Tucker to Enter Students' Divisions—Gaut Will Play in Faculty Division.

The Bradley tennis team plans to attend the district tournament held at Galesburg May 18 and 19. Entries in the students' division will be Eugene McClure and Harold Tucker in the singles and the Tucker brothers in the doubles.

Mr. A. E. Gaut, a faculty player of no little ability will represent Bradley in the faculty division.

Schools competing with Bradley in the same district are Augustana, Knox, Lombard, Monmouth and Blackburn.

The winners and runners-up in the district meet will play for the state championship at Jacksonville on June 2.

On May 3 the tennis team played Millikin on the Bradley courts. They split even, winning a singles and doubles match and losing two singles matches.

The Tucker brothers took their doubles contest by a 6–2, 4–6, 6–2 count against K. Schultz and C. Field. H. Tucker defeated K. Schultz 6–1, 6–2. Charles Field of Millikin won from S. Tucker 7–5, 6–3. Walley won from McClure 2–6, 6–3, 6–4.

On May 8 the team journeyed to Galesburg and played the Knox representatives. This match was played during a blinding blizzard which slowed down the play. Bradley won three out of four matches. The Tucker brother copped the doubles with ease from Marsh and Smith by a 6–2, 6–0 count. Eugene McClure defeated Beckford 7–5, 6–2. Tucker defeated Marsh 6–3, 4–6, 6–2. Smith of Knox defeated S. Tucker 6–2, 6–

BAND PLAYS TWO CONCERTS OUT OF TOWN THIS WEEK

East Peoria and Pekin to be Visited —Orchestra Concert Planned for June to Be Postponed.

Owing to the remarkable success which the band has thus far enjoyed this season on their out-of-town concerts and the manner in which they have been received, two more concerts are planned for this week. The first will be at East Peoria, Thursday evening, May 17, and the second at Pekin, Friday evening, May 19. The towns which have been visited so far this year by the band are: Wyoming, Mason City, Green Valley and Pottstown.

Owing to the crowded condition of the school calendar, the last of the series of three orchestra concerts which was to have been held in June will not be given.

During the first of the year it was planned to give a series of three concerts several months apart. The second of this series was given March 25 and the third was to be given just before the end of the semester, but because of the rush of events at this time it has been thought better not to do so.

Parts and Parties Blend Well In Mask and Gavel Productions

By Edna Wieting.

George Cram Cook and Susan Gaspell may have had Clifford Arends, Helen King and Helen Cole in mind when they created the characters for their play "Suppressed Desires." At least, they fit into their parts beautifully. Clifford Arends, as Stephen Brewster, the tolerant husband at the point of saturation with psycho-analysis, utters his terse and natural comments so as to bring real, spontaneous reaction from the audience. The study of suppressed desires is the latest intellectual hobby of Henrietta, his wife (Helen King) an ultra modern club woman, who shows, as Mable says, "always did have the brains of the family."

Helen Cole, taking the part of Mable, was delightful when she breaks the plate, and in fact, when she does anything. There was an unanswered question in my mind at the end of the play. Were Mable and Stephen plotting against Henrietta, or did Mable have faith in what she learned of her suppressed desire? Her expression in weeping would lead one to believe that it was all a plot, but maybe, Helen Cole just naturally looks pretty when weeping.

"The Finger of God" by Percival Wilde was the one play of the evening that was not a satire. There was a heavy role to be taken in the character of Mr. Strickland. This part was ably portrayed by Clifford Putnam; the tense moments he met with intelligent feeling. His make-up was especially good, probably the master make-up of the three performances. LaPorte Dorman made a thoroughbred English butler, who took his orders well. Marjorie Packard, an office girl in Mr. Strickland's office came and went, but while she was on the stage she won over to her side, not only Mr. Strickland, but the entire audience with her naive manner of acting the finger of God.

Helen Wallace and Charles Mee took the parts in "The Marriage has been Arranged," one of the clever social satires of Alfred Sutro. The spirit of the dialogue was well brought out. Helen Wallace's cutting retorts and Charles Mee's calm acceptance of them were the best points in a good play. As the poor society girl trying to keep up, she was gowned appropriately. The lack of jewels did not make her look poor—but, at least did not prove that she had wealth.

She was in a tense position. Maybe her and I in her place would have made regular rounds moving from chair to chair.

Charles Mee, as Harrison Crockstead, seemed to enjoy the situation. He was a man whose wealth could cover up his crudities, but it could not cover his poor make-up.

The three plays were produced under the supervision of Nadine Sheparadson, assisted by Gertrude Mayer Graham, student director. A large part of the success is due them.

The committee on costumes and settings also deserve much credit for their work. It includes Paul Diefenderfer, chairman; Alice Pease, Mildred Merkle, Fred Tintoff, and Weston Harding.

MARSHALS APPOINTED FOR CONVOCATION WEEK

Mr. M. E. Wharry, chairman of the committee on public events, announces the appointment of Wayne Buckley of Peoria, and Glenn Shaefer, Balaton, Minn., as marshals for convocation week. In selecting these marshals, the committee submits to the faculty the names of not less than six juniors having the highest average grade points, with no unremoved conditions or incompletes. They must have attended Bradley one full year and have represented the school in a creditable manner. From this number the faculty selected the above named marshals.

The following juniors have been selected as ushers: Theodore Vorhees, Onarga, Ill.; Glenn Walker, Aurora, Ill.; Elsie White, Peoria, Ill., and Harry Romine, Peoria, Ill. This year the ushers have been chosen from the ranking members of the junior class.

Three Arguers Get Keys In Pi Kappa Delta Initiation

To the tune of clanking chains and unearthly noises, Marshall Curtiss, Ray Landers and Louis McDonald, were admitted to the inner shrine of Pi Kappa Delta, last Tuesday night in the social hall. These neophytes safely entered the Garden of Allah and made their pilgrimage to the altar where they were bound forever in sacred rites of brotherhood and received the Pi Kappa Delta key in recognition of making the varsity debate team and engaging in intercollegiate debate.

Pi Kappa Delta was founded in 1913 and has grown to be the largest debate fraternity in the United States and now has over 80 chapters, being nation-wide in its scope with chapters scattered from Maine to California. Illinois Delta chapter, here at Bradley, was installed in 1920 with six charter members but has now grown to a chapter of sixteen members.

Bradley, in recognition of the work that is necessary in debate, awards the keys to those elegible to membership and also rejewels the keys of those that have won higher degrees, upon graduation. Bradley teams won three out of four debates this year and unusual interest has been shown. Charles Mee and Ralph Haman will be lost to the next year's team but prospects for debate material are such that the team seems well taken care of for next year.

POSITIONS ON TECH BUSINESS STAFF OPEN

Positions as assistants to the business manager of the 1923-24 Tech are now open according to J. Edward Davis, manager-elect for the coming year. He urges that anyone who wishes to take up this line of work see him immediately.

The position of assistant business manager is to be made more attractive by the fact that the managers for the 1924-25 Tech will be selected from the assistants of next year.

LARGE DELEGATION AT FIRST MEETING OF COLLEGE PRESS

Frederick A. Stowe Talks at Banquet —Buckley and Davis Elected as Officers for Next Year.

Nearly forty delegates representing twelve Illinois colleges met at Knox College, Galesburg, last Saturday at the first convention of the Illinois College Press Association. The meeting came as an outgrowth of a session held at Peoria in January at which it was decided to hold the first convention of the association at Knox.

The morning was taken up with the registration of delegates and a business meeting. At this meeting a constitution was adopted and officers elected for the coming year. The business session was followed by a luncheon in Seymour Hall.

Following this the delegates were guests at the Knox-Coe baseball game. After the game the delegates convened in two groups, the business managers and editors, and round table discussions of the problems of make-up, staff organizing, news getting, and financial organization were taken up.

The evening was given over to a banquet at the Elks' club. Dean Simonds of Knox acted as toastmaster. He spoke of the power of the press and of the seriousness and determination with which college journalists should look upon their positions.

Professor Curtis of Knox spoke of the press from the viewpoint of "one on the outside," as he called it. He compared the newspaper editor with the skilled chef who must not only be able to make up delicate and tasty dishes, but must be able to prepare a menu day by day which will suit the diners and at the same time be for their own good.

Frederick Arthur Stowe, editor of the Peoria Journal-Transcript, was the main speaker of the evening. He told of the importance of a college training for a newspaper man because of the broad insight it gives him in the affairs of the world. Mr. Stowe laid special emphasis on the fact that the college newspaper was a medium through which college men and women could express their own opinions without fear. He dwelt for a time on his own adventures in college journalism and told with a touch of pride of the times when he was threatened with punishment because he had the "courage of his convictions."

"The college paper should be the highest type of journalism existing," said Mr. Stowe. "It is supposedly written by the highest intellectual types in the world and its subscribers are of the best educated classes. Despite this fact, college journalism is not on par with metropolitan papers from a literary standpoint alone." Mr. Stowe concluded his statements with the idea that it would not be long before college students and college publications would take their place in the sun.

Wayne Buckley, editor-elect of the Tech, was elected president of the association for last year. Miss Alice Simmons of Lombard College, was elected vice-president, and J. Edward Davis of the Tech was appointed secretary-treasurer of the organization.

As a result of a vote it was decided to hold the 1924 convention at Bradley.

Delegates were present from Knox, Augustana, Monmouth, St. Viator, Rockford, Millikin, Lombard, Bradley, Carbondale, Normal, Eureka and Macomb.

POLY-WHAT?

Bradley Poly-technic! Is it, or is it not? Is it poly-athletic or is it not? Many honest students will admit that Bradley is becoming more and more poly-athletic, as the years come and go, and less and less poly-technic. If the old saying be true that "where your treasure is, there your heart is, also," then Bradley is decidedly poly-athletic. One need only to go to a baseball game to find this out.

There are many teachers, here, however, who are giving us years of their lives to prove to us that Bradley is poly-technic. We are blind and will not see, yes, we are deaf and will not hear, we are dull and cannot learn. If we were not technically blind we would know that Bradley has a freshman genius who ranked perfect in the intelligence test, another freshman who had such a surprisingly high average in his studies last semester that the Peoria papers featured it in their Sunday paper. We might make an effort to find which of the seniors are honored graduates and a few other things.

In other words we might cater to the mental for a time instead of bowing to the physical. If our college is to live it will have to cater to both physical and mental health. It can not live over-developed mentally and slump physically. Neither can it succeed as a well developed physical machine with little reference to its intellectual development.

THE GOOSE STEP

Speaking before the College Press Association at Knox College Saturday, Frederick A. Stowe, editor of the Journal-Transcript, emphasized the seeming indifference of the college student to the world and to what the world thinks. College students are willing to let other people do the thinking and forming of opinions and are willing to accept them and use them, so far as they have use for them, at their face value.

College students go thru a system of training in which they are handed down a program of facts and ideas worked out decades or centuries before, and required to learn and accept it without reservation. Real initiative has little place in the life of an academically successful student. The very nature of his training discourages it. It is the exception, not the rule, to find a graduate, just out of college with an unbreakable will, an unbendable conscience, or an undimmed initiative. Students are afraid to be wrong. They dislike standing up for what they believe because there is a possibility that they might be wrong.

In Upton Sinclair's latest book, "The Goose Step", an attack on the American educational system, he pictures the president of the university goose stepping after the wealthy trustees, the instructors goose stepping after the president and the students goose stepping after the instructors. Whatever Mr. Sinclair's rating may be among men of letters and "conservatives" his idea expressed in the "Goose Step" can be used as a fitting metaphor for the "where you lead me I will follow" policy in vogue today.

The other night we went
Out walking, a girl and I.
It so happened that I only
Had 15 cents. As we passed a confectionery
I said: "Have a coke?"
We went in and sat down.
"Banana Split" she said sweetly.

He seized her and drew her to him. He struck her, but she made no response. Again he struck her, boiling with anger, strong words on his lips. Still she remained adamant. A third time he struck her, and her head flew off. She was only a safety match. EXIT!

Pete Risser gave a swimming party last Monday night. Monday afternoon we met him and he seemed in a hurry. "Where are you going?" we asked. "I'm going out to the deaf, dumb and blind asylum to get a chaperone," said Peter. Imagine the party!

TWENTY-THREE COLLEGES IN THE UNITED STATES WITH OVER 5,000 STUDENTS

There are now twenty-three colleges and universities in the United States which have an enrollment of over 5,000 students, according to latest available reports. Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, and the University of Iowa at Iowa City are the only two in the Hawkeye state with this large enrollment, although Iowa State College at Ames is understood to approach that number. The list follows:

Boston University	8,833
University of California	12,370
University of Chicago	11,365
College of the City of N. Y.	12,543
Columbia University	25,743

The American Student Votes "Yes".

Students at the University of Nebraska and at Iowa University have joined in the movement to express themselves vigorously in favor of permitting college athletes to participat in summer baseball games, without disqualification.

Iowa is sounding out the sentiment of other Middle Western colleges.

Someone suggested that we write an editorial on gossips. We daren't bawl them out—for what would this column do without it?

And what is a gossip but a person with a nose for news? That is also the requirement for a good reporter. This would be a dull world if there weren't any persons interested enough in other people's affairs to talk them over once in awhile.

The only danger is that we may talk over all the bad things about said person and leave their good points to speak for themselves. Which isn't so good. Our good qualities are the ones that need help.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The fourth year class finishing the preparatory course of Faelten fundamental training will give its program Friday evening of May 18 in Bradley hall. Not only piano numbers will be given but other work will be featured giving the audience a general idea of the work accomplished with the Faelten system.

Mr. Merle Gibson, pupil of Franklin Stead, will give his senior piano recital Monday evening, May 28, in Bradley hall. Mr. Gibson is a young pianist of great promise and should be heard.

The Bradley College Glee club under the direction of Kenneth M. Stead will make their first Peoria appearance Tuesday evening, May 22, in Hale Memorial church.

Miss Faye Gehlert, a very talented young pupil of Miss May Ulrich, of the Bradley Conservatory will appear as soloist at the commencement program of the Armington high school, Friday evening, May 18th.

MENDELSSOHN PLAY WAS A SUCCESS

The Mendelssohn play recently presented under the auspices of the Faelten Club, coached by Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, was much appreciated by two large audiences. The young Thespians disclosed surprising ability in depicting their characters.

Theodore Fluegel, who portrayed the immortal poet, Goethe, in his Weimar home, gave his lines with dignity and nice consideration for their meaning, one of the finest being a quotation from Faust, "He who cannot obey, cannot command."

Carl Zelter, a well known conductor and teacher of Mendelssohn, furnished contrast, because of the spirited and forceful impersonation of Russell Wharry, the president of the Faelten Club.

The part of Felix Mendelssohn, a charming boy of twelve, was delightfully done by Sam Harband, whose intelligent dark eyes and aesthetic appearance, enhanced by an authentic costume, presented a remarkable resemblance to the young genius.

In the second act, the part of Mendelssohn, then a youth of seventeen, portrayed by Harry Hoffman, a talented young pianist of Mackinaw, was equally well cast, and he dominated the scene by his radiant personality.

Joseph Fortune, as Father Mendelssohn, presented a type of man that America so much needs, the substantial banker, who loves the arts and finds his best recreation in them. Joseph played the part convincingly, and he is living it, as he proved by a pleasing rendition of the famous Spring Song.

Ignace Moscheles, the greatest pianist o the period, a pupil of Beethoven, was effectively portrayed by Merle Gibson. His stirring interpretation of the Moonlight Sonata, while the lights were low, disclosed again his exceptional talent which is developing in a most gratifying way under Mr. Stead's wise training. His senior recital, May 21, at Bradley Hall will be one of the events of the season.

Miss Adelaide White, as Mother Mendelssohn, and Ruth Diehl as the talented Sister Fanny, both in becoming period costumes, gave the touch of charming feminity. Both were extraordinary women, held in check by the restricted ideas of the time. The Consolation, played by Fanny, and Midsummer Night's Dream music with the mother, were delightful. Puck's lines from Shakespeare, which inspired the Midsummer Night's Dream music, were given with fine effect by Warner Johnson, one of the youngest members of the Faelton Club, leader of his class.

The high point of the performance was the singing of "On Wings of Song" by Mr. Kenneth Stead, head of the Voice Department.

The Faelton Club is to be commended for presenting Musical History in such a fascinating way and this cross section from the ideal home life of the remarkable Mendelssohn family was an inspiration.

The Printing Press has long been the foe of tyrants and the friend of the oppressed. For example in England in 1799, during the reign of Geo. III a man who loaned a book without the consent of the king's magistrate was fined 100l per day and subject to further punishment as the keeper of a disorderly house.

VIATORIANS DOWN TECH IN A BATTLE OF STAR HURLERS

Dundon and Tyler Stage Slab Duel—Standaert Gets Homer—Infield Revamped.

Coach Robertson's revamped ball club was pushed down a notch in the I. I. A. C. standing when the powerful St. Viator team brought their winning streak to eleven straight, by virtue of a hard earned 2 to 1 victory over Bradley.

The game will long be remembered as one of the classiest hurling duels ever seen on the Tech diamond. Not only were the pitchers, Dundon and Tyler, in rare form, but they were given almost air tight support by their mates.

Tyler was on the mound for Bradley, allowing the mighty Saints but four hits and whiffing eleven. He issued five passes, however, two of which came in the third coupled with a two bagger by Clancy which produced the visitor's first run. Tyler was invincible after the third except for the seventh when Standaert put one over the fence for the final Viator counter.

Dundon, the Viator southpaw, had a slight edge on Tyler as he allowed but three hits, fanned thirteen and issued only three passes. Of the three hits garnered by the Bradley team, Doubet got two and Dixon one.

Bradley had not seen third until a belated ninth inning rally threatened to put the game on ice. Dixon and Launders, first up in the ninth, fled out. Then Correll worked Dundon, for pass, took third on Doubet's second single and slid home with Bradley's only counter when McGinnis' throw to third slipped through Winterhalter's legs when Correll was sliding into the base. His slide home beat Winterhalter's peg by inches. Doubet pulled up at third.

Bradley pleaded in vain for a hit from Allen to bring in the tieing run, but although he broke his bat in the attempt his best was a line drive to center field which ended the game.

Bradley's new infield with Schofield at second and Fritz at third, together with the veteran Doubet at short and the freshman Launders at first pulled off play after play which checked threatening rallies in the bud.

Buckley protected the plate, and help up Tyler in great fashion while the outfield accepted many hard chances without an error.

The Catholic school is fond of their ball team, and well they should be as they have one of the classiest aggregations ever seen on a college diamond. Their coaching staff consisting of Big Tim Murchison, former big leaguer, Jack Crangle, former Illini star, and others would be a credit to any league team.

Unless Bradley pulls the unexpected in their return game at Bourbonnaise, St. Viator will have the state championship as good as won.

HAND CHARLESTON DEFEAT IN FIRST OF WEEK'S GAMES

Meet St. Viator and Armour on Trip—May Decide Championship of I. I. A. C.

For a time it looked as though the baseball team was going to drop a game to the Charleston team here Monday afternoon but they recovered and run in enough scores to win by a 7-4 score before the game was called in the seventh on account of the rain.

The Charleston teachers hammered the ball at a lively clip and at the end of the fifth inning Robertson was forced to withdraw Marriotti and substitute Rogers who was also yanked in at the end of the inning. Carrol finished the game and held the Normalites to the four scores which they had obtained.

Among the handfull of Bradley rooters who braved the drizzling rain to review the game there was grave fear that the umpire would call the game in the fifth on account of the rain. Charleston was in the lead at the end of this inning and it looked as though Bradley was to be lowered another notch in the I. I. A. C. pennant race.

Errors were plentiful on both sides as a result of the dampness but each side clouted the ball quite freely.

Wesleyan, contender for state honors, will be met on Wednesday. The Methodists have a real team and a real pitcher since the ban on Ray "Shag" Imig has been lifted.

On Thursday St. Viator will be met for the second time and this will probably have a bearing on the state championship.

The last game but not the easiest perhaps, will be against Armour Tech. The Chicago boys have not forgotten their 10 to 4 defeat at Bradley and will be out for revenge.

Much of the success of the trip will depend upon the utility pitchers, Rogers and Mariotti, as both will no doubt have an opportunity. Tyler will pitch either the Wesleyan or the St. Viator game.

Baseball Players' School—Maybe.

The Kansas City Star has lent approval to a suggestion to establish a baseball school, particularly a school for pitchers.

The sport editor remarks that a number of high school athletes should welcome such a course.

VARSITY NET TEAM ELEGIBLE TO ENTER STATE TOURNAMENT

Win Places in District Meet—Tucker Brothers to Compete for Honors in the Doubles.

Bradley's tennis team won two second places in the district meet held at Galesburg on May 18 and 19. This makes them eligible to compete in the state tournament held at Jacksonville on June 1 and 2.

The Tucker brothers played second in the doubles, losing to Allen and Timm of Carthage in the finals by a 7-5, 1-6, 7-5 score. In the finals of the singles Conroy of Augustana defeated T. Tucker of Bradley in straight sets 6-1, 8-6. The men who will represent this district in the state meet are Conrey of Augustana, and T. Tucker of Bradley, in the singles; Timm and Allen of Carthage, and the Tucker brothers of Bradley, in the doubles.

On May 26 the tennis team will journey to Decatur and meet Millikin. Earlier in the season Bradley and Millikin played a tie on the Bradley courts. Knox college will play Bradley here on May 31. Bradley has defeated Knox this season by a 3 to 1 score at Galesburg. The tennis season will close with the state tournament at Jacksonville on June 1 and 2.

Bradley Next In Line for State Oratorical Conference Meeting

Indications seem to point to the fact that Bradley will be selected as the next meeting place of the state oratorical conference. The conference will be held the first week in December.

The scene of the conference is determined by rotation, and according to this Mt. Morris College of Mt. Morris, Ill., is to hold the 1924 conference. Newspaper report has it, however, that Mt. Morris will close its doors June 1st, due to lack of finances. In this case Bradley is next in order.

This will be the first meeting of the conference at Bradley, as the college was voted in but last fall. All the colleges in Illinois will be represented and many oratorical lights will be present.

The Chicago oratorical contest to be held here during convocation week will bring Bradley's orators to the front and will determine largely who will represent us in the December conference.

Bradley Dramatic Students to Produce Greek Play In June; Elaborate Production

The Bradley dramatic forces could not have chosen a better play for their annual out-of-doors production than the Alcestes of Euripides, for the original performances of the Greek plays took place in the open, those of the tragedies before the doors of some building. And in addition to the modern spirit of the Alcestis in its handling of both the happy and the tragic sides of life, the play includes much of the religious traditions and popular beliefs of the times.

The staging for this production will represent the pillard porch of a Grecian palace. At the front will be a flight of steps leading down to an open space in which is to be the altar of Dionysus. In this open space the chorus takes its position and does its acting and singing during the play. Since the chief character of the play is a woman, the chorus represents a group of women come to sympathize with the house in its time of affliction.

Pastel shades of draperies will constitute the costuming of the chorus. These costumes, the grey background of the palace front, and the frieze position of the chorus on the steps will combine to a setting of rare beauty and dignity.

In the character of Alcestis, the wife who dies for her husband, Admetus, we have one of the noblest female characters on all drama. It was the Greek belief that a woman could do no greater thing than die for her husband, and that a man should preserve his life for his country's use. The scene wherein Alcestis takes leave of her husband and children is one of the most affecting and beautiful ever written.

The sudden transformation of Hercules from a drunken, revelling guest unmindful of the tragedy of the home, to a strong, generous character who is to save the life of Alcestis gives opportunity for tremendous dramatic effect. The part of death is especially interesting in that it shows one of the Greek dramatic practices —that of presenting such abstract things in concrete form with pantomime costuming. This character represents the extreme of Greek realism. In the play there is also illustrated the Greek practice of having the gods appear on the stage. Apollo comes on to give the prologue which explains the action that is to follow.

The intense dramatic action and interesting theme, the beautiful outdoors staging and the costumes, the Gaiety music which the chorus will sing as it breaks in on the play with its musical comments on the action and with its chants of sympathy, the harp accompaniment to all the musical parts and the atmosphere of magnificence to which such a production lands itself promise to make the event one of unusual interest.

Miss Nadine V. Shepardson has the play in constant rehearsal and expresses herself as very well pleased with the progress benig made.

FAELTEN CLASS GIVES RECITAL

The fourth year Faelton class appeared in recital at Bradley Hall Friday night.

The demonstration of the Faelton class work which was given under the supervision of Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, head of the children's department, gave the audience a clear and concise idea of some of the actual work done in the classes of the department.

The strong points especially noted were excellent rhythm, good tone quality, phrasing technic and the ease with which each pupil gave their numbers. Teachers having pupils appearing on the program were Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, Miss Adelaide White, Mrs. Kate Morton, Mrs. Eileen Pagelinkrants, Miss Mary Frances Thompson and Miss Mary Frances Armstrong.

Select Bradley for Spring Convention of Pi Kappa Delta

The national council of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debating fraternity, has accepted Bradley's invitation to hold their fifth bi-ennial convention here next spring.

Charles A. Marsh of the southern branch of the University of California, and president of Pi Kappa Delta, said in his letter of acceptance to Mr. W. Ross Marvin that the central position of Peoria as well as the generous entertainment promised, made Bradley the logical meeting place of the convention.

A national oratorical contest will be held in connnection with the convention and many speakers of well-known ability will compete.

No definite date for the meeting can be reached until next fall. The usual time is the last week in March, the convention convening three days.

Mr. Marvin has been appointed convention officer and is also a member of the publicity committee. "The Bradley chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is greatly indebted to the Peoria Chamber of Commerce in getting the convention here," said Mr. Marvin. "Bradley can feel proud that it has succeeded in bringing representatives from seventy-two colleges, all eager for the convention, to Peoria."

ENGLISH CLUB BANQUET HELD AT CREVE COEUR

The annual English Club banquet was held at the Creve Coeur Club last Wednesday evening, with Dr. Edwin Wiley as the main speaker of the evening.

A very interesting program was arranged and many interesting talks were given. Miss Frances Woods, president of the club, gave her farewell speech in which she spoke on this year's work and made suggestions for the bettering of next year's club. Miss Woods introduced Harold Vogel as toastmaster. Miss Dorothy Crowder was introduced as the alumni representative and gave an interesting talk upon various types of books for the different ages. Alfred Garlick represented this year's club, and told of Dicken's London 15 years ago.

Mr. W. Ross Marvin, representing the faculty, told what books really meant and what they had meant to him. Mr. Marvin was followed by Dr. Edwin Wiley, the main speaker of the evening, who chose for his topic "The Personality of the Book."

The members, guests and alumni present were:

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Burgess, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Wiley, Miss Lillian Guinn, Miss Jenny B. Constance, Miss Martha Hobson, Mary Thompson, Mr. Garlick, Mr. Voelkel, Frances Woods, Dorothy Crowder, Mr. W. HITS AND RUNS FEATURE IN WIN OVER TECH NINE

Bradley Drops 10 to 5 Tilt to Green and White in Erratic Game Fritz Connects for Circuit Clout in Second.

Wesleyan won a wretched ball game from Bradley on the Hilltop field yesterday afternoon, 10 to 5, for their second win over the Red and White nine this spring.

Tyler gave way to Carroll in the seventh inning after allowing nine hits, four passes and hitting a batter.

Wesleyan pounded out fourteen hits off the Tech slabmen while Imig was hit just about as hard, thirteen blows going to the Hilltoppers. But the difference was in when the hits came. Wesleyan blows were opportune and mingled in with passes and five errors went much farther than the locals.

Tyler started by hitting one Methodist and walking the next two, Buckley's error and passed ball helping Wesleyan to two tallies in the first frame without a hit.

The Hilltoppers managed to get back some of the gratis tallies and a home run by Fritz in the second round with two on put them ahead. They were tied 5-5 until the seventh when two weak hits off Tyler and a walk by Lefty and two hits off Carroll

BALL TEAM LOSES TWO AND WINS ONE ON ROAD JOURNEY

Spill Dope by Beating St. Viator Bunch—Wesleyan and Armour Both Register Wins.

"Off again, on again, gone again, Finnegan" was the program carried out by the ball team in the three games played last week.

The series was started on Wednesday when the team went to Bloomington and after ten innings of errorless ball dropped the game to the Wesleyanites by a 3-4 score after one of the best collegiate contests ever seen in Bloomington.

Carrol started on the hill for Bradley and pitched good ball until the eighth when he cracked and Tyler went in to finish the game.

McCormick's home run gave Wesleyan the lead in the first inning but Bradley went ahead with a pair in the fourth. Doubet walked, Allen and Fritz singled, Doubet scoring and Allen taking third. Schofield fanned but was safe when Zinser dropped the ball and then threw to third attempting to catch Allen. Carrol's sacrifice fly scored Allen.

In the tenth Oliver singled and McCormick sacrificed. Oliver reached third on a passed ball and scored on Zinser's single to left.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1923.

WHY?

Why should Bradley be without an Opening Night this year? At this time when the building is thrown open to outsiders, a great many people are attracted to the school in order to see the various exhibits and work of all departments. Strangers in the city are given an opportunity of finding out exactly what Bradley offers in all lines of work.

It is true, that Peorians are supposedly already familiar with the institute, but as the advertiser says, "the field of people to be reached is constantly changing", and it is to this new field that we must appeal. On the other hand, old residents of Peoria who have attended Open Night in the past, are not acquainted with the new courses offered. The business department ,for instance, has developed very rapidly within the last two years. New vocational courses have been instituted. The conservatory has an enlarged faculty which indicates increased growth. And a great many other changes have taken place during the last year.

Those Peorians who are interested in Bradley will want to come to Open Night. The extra time needed to prepare for such an event is well-spent and will be repaid in more ways than one.

———B. P. I.———

"TOO MUCH MONEY."

Once upon a time, as the stories go, Bradley used to furnish each and every student with all his or her necessary textbooks. This, of course, was in the days of long ago. As time went on, the Institute discontinued this practice and started a bookstore of its own, wherein all students were requested to buy their supplies. These were sold at a reasonable price, and people were satisfied.

But during the last year, Bradley has not managed its own book store, and students have been compelled to pay sky-high prices for all texts. As a rule, if the amount charged is exorbitant in one place, the buyer seeks another shop with which to trade. In this case, there is no other store in Peoria selling college books. This lack of competition makes for exceptionally high prices. To say that the cost of one year's books almost equals one semester's tuition is not stretching the point at all.

Are the trustees of Bradley going to permit their students to be literally robbed, or will they again take over the management of their own book store?

———B. P. I.———

GIVE IT A REST.

Bradley has a perfectly good football song. But the trouble is, that one song is so overworked that it has to serve for all occasions. When the baseball season comes along, the words have to be adjusted from "touchdown" to "homerun", etc. Why not have a special song for basketball, one for football, and another for baseball?

If not a special song for each game, we at least need one besides the one we have, that will meet all the demands put upon a college song. This should be a song that has easily remembered words; that is, words that seem to really belong to the music. Perhaps then, there will be more than about twenty per cent of the students singing by the time the middle of the song is reached.

The prize dumb-bell of the season is hereby awarded to "Dangerous" Nick Carter who was declared winner over a hundred contestants, after careful consideration of the dizzy stunts submitted. It seems that Nick had a book report due to Mr. Marvin, and as he had let it go until the last minute (as most of us do) found it necessary to use Bunny Gross' report. The story goes that Nick transcribed the report word for word, even signing Bunny Gross' name! He was reminded of his error by Mr. Marvin.

The second prize is awarded to Miss Theresa Baum, who when informed by Jimmy Costello that he was going to the Kentucky derby, quietly asked if that was a football game. And she has a Pi Beta Kappa pin too!

As you come into the hallway,
And there's a con notice on the board.

Who is the most pretty and popular girl in Bradley?

Kicks and Komments is going to conduct a contest to determine the most beautiful and popular girl in Bradley. Votes can be deposited in the Tech box which is situated in the hallway. The winning girl will have a 4-column picture in a later issue of the Tech. She will also be presented with a date with the editor of this column although it will be some time before her turn will arrive.

"Holes for what?"

"Holes for the Jackass 'ears who would pay that much for a straw hat."

"Know thyself," said Emerson, which was undoubtedly good advice. But in this day of pep and slang, such adjurations must be jazzed up a bit. Our suggestion would be "Know thy stuff."—Daily Iowan.

Can you picture in your mind two clean cut, fine looking, southern gentlemen, both groomed with oil, stove powder and crocus, and highly polished with diamondtine, really wanting to fight. The idea of such a thing,—it is awful for the young men to think of such a thing. Why we should discontinue their membership in "The National Key and Stemwinders Association." Mr. Marcus, by "trade", who claims to be an airplane on feet, put up the sum of 5 fares that he could defeat the Honorable Mr. Hodges, also of "trade", in a race around the track. Mr. Hodges realizing that he could never carry his heavy load around the track ahead of such a swift runner as Mr. Marcus, but wanting to have a little fun. Hodges soon had Marcus believing that he was simply a cat's adnolds when to came to running. After school they went out to the track with a few witnesses, and Hodges refused to show his mighty speed. This made his opponent angry, and when he found out that Hodges had not even put up five simoloons against his, then a few licks were about to be passed. But before it was too late, some good old brother "key winder" got them to let the matter drop. Now isn't that a scandal for horology? It is really a sad pity.

Abolish Classes

Plans for abolishing the freshman and sophomore classes at the University of Michigan have been proposed to the state legislature. Two years of collegiate work with not less than sixty-six hours credit in some college will be required, making the university merely a finishing school.

The machine shop has made a set of six reamer shanks to accommodate twenty-five shell end reamers. The shanks are made of ordinary steel instead of tool steel making quite a saving in the cost. The making of a complete set of broaches for all sizes of keyways in common use in the shops is also under way. This method of making keyways by means of the broach is more nearly the factory method of doing it than the old method of chipping and filing.

:: THE CO-ED ::

By Berniece Jones

We'll soon have to say farewell to dear old Bradley. Whatever we may have said about our school we realize how dear it is to us as the time draws nearer for us to leave it. To the seniors comes the sharpest pang. They go never to return—at least as students.

There is something terribly final about graduation. The friendships, loves, and even acquaintances we have made among our fellow students and teachers can never be quite the same again.

And we will miss our classes. We have gone to class without our lessons and have even cut them at times but we will realize what they have been to us when we do not have them to cut.

What message have we gotten from our college life to pass along to those less privileged? For there is a message. It may be a different kind of a message to each of us but the main thing is that we get something worth passing on. Education is not an ornament, it is a responsibility.

* * *

"What's the matter dear?"

"Oh, Jack and I have been quarreling about everything."

"Everything? That shows you're broadminded, anyway."—Octopus.

* * *

"Her lips are like the red, red rose,"
The bard sang. "Are there sweeter?"
Now I know what he metaphor;
That's why I wanna meter.
—Lord Jeff.

* * *

You might think from the lack of scandal this week that the girls have been good. Not so. They have been so bad that we can't print what we know about 'em.

* * *

The W. A. A. had its spring picnic Tuesday evening. Judging by the crowd and the eats, most necessary for a successful picnic, everyone had a wonderful time. Who says we can't enjoy ourselves without the men?

* * *

Mrs. Dumbdora: "Who is that tall, dark man on the eighth green?"

Mrs. Sharp: "Don't you remember him? He used to be your husband."

Mrs. Dumbdoro: "Oh yes, I knew I had met him somewhere."

When several co-eds of Washington Square College were recently asked the question, "If you were a man and attending a college or university in the vicinity of New York what would you wear?" One of the ladies suggested well-fitting dark suits and white shirts with white collars, soft but hard looking. Black hose and black oxfords should be worn with this outfit. "I like loose fitting overcoats or heavy sweaters on a man and no hat," she concluded.

The next girl proved that this opinion was not unanimous on the subject of dark clothes for men. "I'd do away with dark clothes—all of them, and give the men some bright shades. Why should the female of the species run away with all the bright plummage? Look at the male species of the birds. I'd do away with all the hard collars and give necks a chance to breathe. In fact I don't think that ties are always necessary.

Neatness in the college man's dress is non-existent, according to one of the interviewed. "I'd like to see a college boy with his shoes shined for a change," she said. "College boys seem to have a traditional carelessness about their dress that seems to have been amended in some respects, but not in regard to his shoes. Also I dont' like to see a man wearing jewelry—outside his Ingersoll."

Pitching quoits has been introduced as a minor sport at the University of Texas to satisfy a demand of the farmers for something familiar.

Education an Opportunity.

Eudcation is an opportunity, nothing more. It will not guarantee success, or happiness, or contentment, or riches. Everything depends upon what development is produced by it and what use is made of it. It may make a man more capable of doing harm in the world, for an educated scoundrel is clearly more dangerous than an ignorant one. Properly employed, however, and combined with high character, with a due regard for the rights of others, and with simple and practicable but high ideals, it should help a man very greatly in making himself of service in the world and so in making his life really successful in the highest sense. What a students gets out of his education depends largely upon what he puts into it. The student is not an empty vessel to be pumped full of learning; he is a complex machine which education should help to run properly.

———B. P. I.———

The opinions of other folks are worth considering; but it is a very great mistake to fall into the habit of accepting all our views "ready made." Individual brains are for individual use. Disuse promotes atrophy.

Why They Come to the Games

The old grad—Because he hasn't missed a football game in ten years, and because he likes to inform everybody within fifteen tiers, what marvelous teams the old school used to have.

The professor—Because he hated to accompany his wife on her shopping tour, and because he didn't want to stay home and take care of the baby.

The co-ed—Because the pep rally made her heart flutter with romantic yearning, and because everybody else is going to be there.

The father—Because he hopes to see his son win the game in the last three minutes of play, and because he remembers how reckless he himself used to be and is afraid his son may be the same way.

The small boy—Beause every time he thinks of missing the game he is filled with a sickening sensation, and because he knows he can outwit the cops by crawling under the grandstand at 9 o'clock in the morning.—Humbug.

The Business of Friendship.

The happiest business in the world
Is that of making friends,
And no "investment" on the "street"
Pays larger dividends.

For life is more than stocks and bonds
And Love than rate per cent,
And he who gives in Friendship's name
Shall reap as he has spent.

Life is the great investment,
And no man lives in vain.
Who guards on hundred Friendships
As misers guard their gain.

But When He Tried

Two little boys met on the street.

"What's that you ot in your button-hole?" asked one.

"Why, that's a chrysanthemum," the other replied.

"It looks like a rose to me," said the other.

"Nope, you're wrong, it's a chrysanthemum," the other stoutly maintained.

"Whaddya mean? Spell it," asked the first.

"K-R-I-S, by golly, that is a rose!" ejaculated the first boy, as he took another look at the bower on his coat.—Whirlwind.

The great Capablanca was visiting the illustrious Pederewski. They strolled into the music room and the magnificent Pole waved lightly in the direction of his grand piano.

"Oy, Mister Keppablenka," he said, "you play, don't you?"

The other nodded affirmatively.

"Chess," he replied.—Goblin.

BALL TEAM LOSES TWO AND WINS ONE ON ROAD JOURNEY

Bradley .....000 200 100 0—3
Wesleyan .....100 000 020 1—4

Runs—Landers, Doubet, Allen, Zinser, Porsch, Oliver 2. Two base hit—Oliver. Three base hits—Zinser, Porsch, Landers. Home run—Porsch. Sacrifice hits—Carrol, Landers, Correll, McCormick. Bases on balls—Off Imig 3. Struck out—By Imig 8; by Carrol 6. Hits—Off Carral 8 in 8; off Tyler 2 in 2. Passed ball—Buckley. Umpire—Poisall.

Bradley did what they had done the two years previously when they met St. Viator at Bourbonnais Thursday, shattered the Catholic hopes for an undefeated season. Incidentally the beating was the first one suffered by the St. Viator outfit on their home grounds in four years and was the first 1. 1. A. C. game dropped by them in three years.

Tyler was the big cheese in the fray. He let the slugging Viatorians down with six hits. He got a trifle wild in the eighth and filled the bases with one down but southpawed himself out of the hole without giving a run. He was aided by good support.

Bradley made three in the first. Landers beating out a hit, Correll walked and Doubet was hit, filling the bases. Allen singled to center, scoring Landers and Correll. Doubet was nipped off second by a neat throw of Standaert's but Fritz and Schofield were passed and the bases were full again. Allen scored on a wild pitch.

Duffy replaced Dundon but was wild and forced in Doubet with a walk. The other tally came in the ninth when Correll tripled to right and scored on McLain's error.

Singles by Winterhalter and Standaert coupled with a Bradley error gave St. Viator its only tally in the sixth.

The third game of the trip was played with Armour Tech at Chicago and resulted in a swatting bee in which the Bradley outfit was beated 10-5. The boys whom Bradley had humbled a few weeks before on the home diamond came back with a vengeance and mauled all of Robertson's pitchers around the lot.

roll and a pair of bobbles gave the Bloomers three runs and a lead that was never chopped down.

Bradley threatened in almost every round, but always a batting weakness in the pinch held them down.

In addition to Fritz's homer, Dunham of Wesleyan hit one for the circuit.

Tommy Correll's brilliant work in center field was the brightest piece in the contest.

Stanford and the University of California are conducting a fight through their press to oust women from the universities. They are charged with bankrupting their families to maintain themselves in style, having no regard for self supporting students coming to college to seek eligible young men, creating an artificial world around themselves and distracting the men rom their studies with social life. The women in turn, claim that the men are jealous because they are being beaten in scholarship, that the male ego is being stepped upon, and that if the women are looking for eligible young young men in college most of them go away disappointed.

ISSUED WEEKLY

VOL. 26 — PEORIA, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY MAY 30, 1923. — Number 35

BOARD OF CONTROL ELECTION TO TAKE PLACE ON FRIDAY

Body of Six Members To Control All Student Publications—Begins in September

Undergraduate publications will be put on a new basis beginning next September. A board consisting of six members, two of which will be faculty members chosen by the administration, and four students, elected by the student body at large, will conduct the business of the Bradley Tech, and all other publications placed under its control.

Nominations to the above have been made from among the sophomores and juniors of the college, and the final election will take place Friday, June 1.

The constitution of the board follows:

BOARD OF CONTROL OF UNDERGRADUATE PUBLICATIONS

Subject to the general authority of the faculty of Bradley Polytechnic Institute all undergraduate publications unless otherwise provided for by the faculty shall be published in accordance with the following regulations:

Constitution.

Article I

Name—The name of this organization shall be the Board of Control of Undergraduate publications.

Article II

Purpose—The purpose of this organization shall be to supervise the publications of the Bradley Tech and any other undergraduate publications which may be placed under its control. No profit shall accrue to any person by virtue of his membership in this organization.

Article III

Membership—The Board shall consist of six members, two to be members of the faculty appointed by the administration and serving for one

VARIED PROGRAM GIVEN BY BRADLEY GLEE CLUB

A small but enthusiastic audience greeted the Bradley Men's Glee Club at its home concert in Bradley Hall Friday evening, May 25.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Kenneth Marvin Stead, since its organization last October, has grown to be one of the leading musical organizations at Bradley.

The program given by the Glee Club was varied and well presented. The special duet, which was to have been sung by Edwin Anderson and Charles Brobst, was omitted, owing to the illness of the latter.

Mrs Gertrude Mayer Graham gave a reading "Mammon and the Archer" from O. Henry, and also a short encore.

1923 POLYSCOPE WILL BE OUT MONDAY, JUNE 4

The new 1923 Polyscope will be put on sale Monday, June 4. They may be secured at the General Office in Bradley Hall and in Horology Hall upon the payment of $1.50, which together with the former payment makes up the purchase price.

The 1923 books are distinctly different from any that have been gotten out before. They are filled with clever pictures and cuts, snappy feature stories, witty comments, and exceptionally striking art works.

The Bradley Mask and Gavel and the English Clubs have purchased two large flood lights at a cost of forty dollars each, to be used in the production of Alcestes. These lights are to be donated to Bradley for use in future production and will aid a great deal in producing the beautiful lighting effects that will be seen at the playing of Alcestes. "Both clubs are to be heartily commended for their assistance and we certainly do appreciate their co-operation," said Miss Shepardson, director of the play.

DELTA KAPPA ADD $125 TO STUDENT LOAN FUND

In the last issue of the Tech it was incorrectly stated that the Delta Kappa Benefit Dance was attended by only 30 couples. There were over 70 couple at the dance, which was one of the most successful and enjoyable affairs of the school year.

A net profit of $125 was turned in to the Student Loan Fund. Mr. L. G. Tillotson, chairman of the Student Loan Committee says: "The Delta Kappa Sorority is to be commended for this great work, and for their untiring efforts towards the betterment of Bradley."

BRADLEY HANDS MACOMB NORMAL 111-20 DEFEAT

Visitors Cop Only One First Place—Techsters Romp Away With Distance Runs and Field Events.

In the last dual meet of the season Bradley crushed Western Illinois State Normal of Macomb by the overwhelming score of 111 to 20.

Only one first place was captured by the visitors, Barclay heaving the javelin for a nice throw of 151 feet. Bradley placed second and third in this and first, and a second or third in every other event.

In the 880 yard run, 2 mile, 120 yard high hurdles, high jump, and pole vault, Bradley captured every point. The showing of the Macomb boys was very disappointing.

Bradley took the relay with ease, Hoswell finishing with a lead of over fifty yards.

Garner, with first in the low hurdles, and broad jump kept up the unusually good pace he has been setting.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Hoswell, B.; Bostick, M., second; Gregory, B., third. Time—:10⅘.

220 yard dash—Won by Gregory, B.; Hoswell, B., second; Bostick, M., third. Time—:23⅘.

440 yard run—Won by Skinner, B.; Hoswell, B., second; Parrotte, M., third. Time—:54⅘.

880 yard run—Won by Warner, B.; Skinner, B., second; Metzel, B., third. Time—2:02⅘.

Mile run—Won by Arablin, B.;

COMMERCE STUDENTS BANQUET AT Y.M.C.A.

Commerce student will hold their last meeting of their club this year in the form of a banquet at the Y. M. C. A., June 5. Election of officers for the coming year will also be held at the meeting to which all members of the club are invited.

The club has invited representatives of the Association of Commerce to this meeting which makes it of special importance. Judge Miles ,one of Peoria's prominent jurists has been asked to give the principal address. Judge Miles is well known to many of our students and his selection is very appropriate.

The Jacquin prizes in advertising will be awarded at this meeting. A first prize of $25, and a second of $10 will be given to the best advertising campaign outlined for a Peoria retail store, by members of the advertising class.

With a membership of only one score at its organization over a year ago, the Commerce Club today numbers over 50 students. It has been instrumental through Professor L. G. Tillotson, the club advisor, in bringing many prominent business men both of Peoria and out of town before Bradley students. Four sentors of the department graduate this year and have secured responsible positions through the efforts of the commerce department. The graduates are Edwin Anderson, Audra Newell, Winifred Himmel and Clarence Hershe.

SOLOISTS CHOSEN TO SING FAMOUS ORATORIO 'ELIJAH'

Chicago Singer Comes to Take Leading Part—Chorus Will Be Composed of Fifty Members.

"Elijah", by Felix Mendelssohn, one of the best known of oratorios will be presented Friday, June 8, in Bradley Auditorium.

The soloists are:

Mr. William Phillips of Chicago, bariton, a well-known oratorio singer.

Miss Edith Clinebell, soprano.

Miss Alma King, contralto.

Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead, tenor.

Miss Adelaide White,pianist.

Miss Helen King, organist.

Mr. Franklin Stead, conductor.

A chorus composed of fifty members will aid in making this one of the biggest musical event of the season.

The story of Elijah concerns itself with the prophet of that name. Suddenly, and unannounced, he appears before Ahab and tells him there shall be no rain for three years. He then mysteriously disappears. Famine and draught continue until Obadiah, a secret worshipper of Jehorah, is sent by the king to find pasture and water for his horses. He meets Elijah, who commands the followers of Baal to assemble at Mt. Carmel to test their claims. In a supernatural manner, with his, as ministers of the true God. At this meeting fire descends from Heaven and consumes the prepared sacrifice. The people are converted, and the first part of the oratoric ends in a great chorus of thanks to Jehovah.

ALCESTES WILL BE BRADLEY'S MOST FINISHED DRAMA

Says Miss Shepardson — Anticipate Huge Crowds at Both Performances—Will Have Good Lighting Effects.

"A more finished production than was the Midsummer Night's Dream of last year", is the prophecy of Miss Nadine V. Shepardson, coach and director of Alcestes, concerning the Greek tragedy by Euripides which will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

The setting of the play will be one of rare beauty. The first scene opens just before dawn in front of the majestic palace of Admetus. The stage will be dark until Apollo, the sun god, enters surrounded by amber light. He is followed by Death dressed in black and surrounded by a green light. Following this prologue of two speeches, Death enters the palace of Almetus, and the chorus of fifteen maidens in Greek costumes of pastel shades, usher in the dawn, at which time the stage is flooded with rosy lights.

From this point the action proceeds rapidly. Alcestes, the noble wife, who is to die for her husband, Almetus, comes out to bid farewell to the sun. Her death occurs and the solemn funeral march follows. Heracles, a guest ,enters the palace of sorrow, and plunges into revelry and drunkenness. Admetus, the grief stricken husband, in a powerful dramatic dialogue, upbraids his father, Pheres for not being willing to die for him, and thus restore to

ELECT PI KAPPA DELTA OFFICERS FOR 1923-24

Louis G. McDonald, captain of this year's affirmative team, was elected president of the Illinois Delta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at a business meeting held last Friday. Louis Galovich was elected Secretary and Treasurer, while Ray Landers, the Chillicothe arguerer was given the job of Corresponding Secretary.

Bradley will entertain the Pi Kappa Deltas with the Annual Convention and the new officials are already hard at work arranging the details and planning big things to entertain the visitors.

MILLIKIN TAKES BRADLEY'S SCALP IN 13-INNING GAME

Pfeffer and Tyler Stage Pitchers' Battle—Tech fails to score in 12th With Man on Third and None Out.

After taking the St. Bede's crew into camp on Wednesday, Bradley returned to the home lot intent upon taking the scalp of Millikin. Millikin had other plans, however, and after 13 innings of air tight base ball, Bradley succumbed to the great pitching of Pfeffer.

The game started out as a batting bee but soon became a pitcher's duel between Tyler, who replaced Carroll in the fifth, and Pfeffer.

Pearce led off in the opener with a single and Brown scored him with a fluke triple to center, the ball eluding Correll on a bad hop.

Bradley came right back and got two. Dixon singled to left and the bases were loaded. Doubet fled out. Allen singled to left, Dixon counting. Landers crossed on a single by Fritz but Correll and Marriott were easy outs.

Millikin got three more on hits by Schroll and Pearce and a fluke home run to center by Doutlelt.

Bradley undaunted, scored two markers to even the count in the same frame. Dixon lived on an infield hit and Landers poked a single to left. A wild pitch scored Dixon and a squeeze play by Doubet scored Landers.

Neither team could score thereafter until the 13th. Tyler walked

STUDENTS ORGANIZE SOCIOLOGICAL CLUB

The sociology students, under the leadership of Professor C. W. Schroeder, are organizing a Sociological Club. The first meeting of the club will be held in Social Hall, Thursday, May 31, for the purpose of adopting a constitution and electing officers.

The purpose of the club is to foster a broader interest in the field of sociology and to bring speakers having practical experience to the college.

Membership is limited to those who have completed the introductory course in sociology and two more hours along this line, and are maintaining an average of C in their work.

PLAN COURSES FOR OPENING SESSION OF SUMMER SCHOOL

Professors Schroeder and Siepert in Charge of Work—Scout Leadership Course Will Be Offered.

Registration for the first term of summer school will take place Saturday, June 16, and will continue through Monday of the following week. Actual classroom work begins at noon, June 18 and ends July 21. Examinations are scheduled for July 20. Second term registration will be on July 21. Work commences July 23 and ends August 25; examinations July 24.

Professor A. F. Siepert will take charge of the first term registration, but Professor C. W. Schroeder will be director of the first summer session. Mr. Siepert will direct the second session.

A partial list of some of the instructors follows: Professors Clarence E. Comstock, C. T. Wyckoff, W. H. Packard, C. W. Schroeder, and A. F. Siepert. Coaches Robertson and Johnson will give special instruction in coaching methods and athletic training.

The summer session is arranged especially to meet the needs of those who wish to be: Supervisors of Industrial Education or Home Economic Instructors of Shop Work and Drawing in elementary, secondary, or vocational schools, teachers of academic subjects in the grades and high schools, and for those who wish to make up credits leading toward a degree in order to graduate in less than four years.

A course in Scout leadership will be offered in co-operation with the Peoria Council, Boy Scouts of America. Practical instruction is to be given in troop organization, troop meeting programs, discipline, games, knot tying, first aid, swimming, signaling, and camp technique.

GREEKS PLAN REWARD FOR HIGH STANDING

Fraternities and sororities of Bradley have recently inaugurated a plan to elevate the scholastic standing of their organizations by deciding to award silver loving cups to the fraternity and the sorority having the highest average in their grades.

At a meeting called by Charles Mee at which representatives from the six Greek letter chapters were present, it was decided to start a sinking fund to purchase the cups. The awards will be made at the end of the year, the first cups to be given next fall.

BRADLEY CO-EDS WIN STATE NET TOURNEY

Bradley emerged victorious in both the singles and doubles of the state tennis tournament for girls held at Decatur last Friday under the auspices of James Millikin University. Berneice Jones was the victor in the singles, defeating Cleo Bell in straight sets 6-2 and 6-3. Miss Jones and Clara Cornell were triumphant in the doubles, conquering Gladys Sanders and Catherine Engelder 7-5 and 6-2.

Harold Tucker defeated Schultz o Millikin 6-4, 6-8, 6-3. Doutleit o f Millikin defeated Gene McClure 2-6, 7-5, 6-4. Walley of the Blue won from Sidney Tucker 6-3 and 7-5.

In the doubles, the Tucker brothers whipped Schultz and Doutleit 1-6, 6-0 and 6-2.

The Misses Jones and Cornell were both presented with silver loving cups a sa reward for their skill. The cups are about nine inches in height and are beautifully engraved.

RESPECT FOR THE "B"

Is to wear a "B" monogram sweater without being entitled to that privilege a breach of the "unwritten law," or is it not?

This question perplexes the lettermen of the Institute since several of the students have recently overstepped the bonds of propriety. Those who have thus violated established customs may have done so thoughtlessly, but nevertheless they should be more observant of the significance attached to the "B." Though the wearers of the "B" would not be showing tolerance were they to reprimand the violators for their misconduct, it is a condition over they alone should have the say.

Bradley lettermen realize that they are not wholly free from blame for this sad occurence. Now that the "B" men are organized they propose to do all that is possible to maintain the former reverence of this, the Institute's visible means of rewarding an athlete for his honorable services on the athletic field. In this matter they seek the co-operation of all the students, for it is a matter in which the students of Bradley should be deeply concerned.

Let us forthwith establish even higher respect for the value of the Bradley monogram and for all that it signifies!

A PROTEST

"Some time ago an editorial appeared in your columns, which told the injustices done by certain faculty members who persisted in holding members of their respective classes over the time limit. The aforementioned article stated that inasmuch as the teachers require that the students be in the class-room on time, it is no more than just that these same teachers release the students at the right time.

"This editorial was apparently ignored by certain teachers in Bradley Hall, and it is to them that this note is directed. Students have other classes and other matters to attend to, and if they are absent or tardy to these affairs, it is marked against them.

The college newspaper is supposed to be the organ of the students. It is supposed to help them, to guide them, and look after their interests. This the Bradley Tech should do. Let a word to the wise be sufficient."

———B. P. I.———

The above communication was recently received from a subscriber who in spite of his "whereases and whereupons" and his dire threats to "take heed or beware" is expressing the sentiments of a unanimously agreed student body on the question.

From the laborer who throws down his tools at the stroke of six thru all classes of workers, college men and women not excepted, the boss who attempts to impose on his men by making them work overtime soon becomes unpopular and suffers a loss in prestige among those under him.

From another viewpoint the instructor who dismisses classes late may be causing students to come late to other classes or lose time on other work.

The habit is a bad one from every viewpoint and should find no place in Bradley classes.

Speaking of Jimmy reminds us. He went down to the Kentucky Derby, and has come back a changed youth. No more does he get his lessons, no more does he write home every night, instead he goes around the campus with a frown upon his features. He keeps ranting about the beautiful women he saw at the races. Hour after hour he will talk about their beautiful features and forms. It seems that another moth has had his wings singed.

THE CO-ED
By Berniece Jones

The Woman's Self Government Association, although it has not been making much noise about it, has been doing a very real service. This organization is composed of all of the out of town women and its business is to keep up the high standards that Bradley has.

Helen Turner, with the other members of the board, during the past semester has been of great help to the Dean in much of the routine work concerning the out of town girls.

The officers for next year have been elected. They are:

Senior

Mrs. Delta Whitehead.....President
Alta Gillet.....Representative

Junior

Bernice Barber.....
.....Upper Class Representative
Ruby Hawkins.....Junior College

Sophomore

Grace Decker.....Sophomore Class
Emma Andreen.. Secretary of Board

Next fall three more members will be elected; representatives from the Senior and Freshmen classes and the president of Laura Cottage.

Ione Lamp, who was at Bradley last year is soon to be married to Marvin Wenzel. They plan to take an automobile trip to Yellowstone Park for their honeymoon and then to live in Mt. Carroll, Illinois.

* * *

We felt very much like a returned conquering hero until we ran across several people who didn't even know there had been a girls' tennis tournament.

* * *

If bugs were jokes we would have 8—TECH—5-30-23 the funniest and longest column ever printed.

* * *

For the first time we heard a Bradley student remark the other day that he liked the one-man street cars. We can understand why the girls prefer two men but we'd think the boys would like the speedy little one-manners.

* * *

The students don't have any leisure time anymore. Term papers, Alcestes and exams fill our days now.

BOARD OF CONTROL ELECTION TO TAKE PLACE ON FRIDAY

year or until their successors shall be appointed, four to be undergraduate students of the Institute elected by the students of the Institute.

Article IV

Enactment—Immediately upon the approval of the faculty of this constitution and its by-laws, the president of the student council, acting as chairman pro-tem of the Board, shall call for nominations by the method hereinafter provided, and shall conduct the elections.

There shall be elected at this time two members from the Sophomore class and two members from the Junior class. They shall assume office immediately upon the declaring of the election.

The Board thus created shall accept the elections already made by the Student Council for the 1923-1924 Tech, but these newly elected officers shall be subject to the control of the Board in every way as if they had been approved by the Board.

By-Laws

Article I

Election of Members—Section 1—Two Sophomore members shall be elected on the second Wednesday in May, and shall take office on the opening day of the ensuing college year.

Section 2.—Each undergraduate member shall be nominated on a petition signed by twenty undergraduate students and presented to the Chairman of the Board not later than three weeks before the date of the election. The names of all such candidates so nominated shall, on their approval, be published in the Bradley Tech and pasted on the Institute bulletin boards for at least one week preceding the election.

Section 3.—No Sophomore shall be a candidate for membership unless he has credit amounting to 45 hours with an average grade of C.

Section 4.—Vacancies in the membership shall be filled by vote of the students on nomination of the Board.

Section 5.—The two persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

Article II

Duties of the Board of Directors—Section 1.—The Board shall conduct the business of the Bradley Tech and of any other undergraduate publications placed under its control.

Section 2.—It shall appoint or approve the Editors, Business Managers, and any other officers or employees hereinafter provided for, and shall determine the method of selection and approve the appointment of such members of the publication staff as may hereinafter be provided. It shall have supervisory rights in the management and policies of the publications. It shall approve the scale of advertising rates and subscriptions, contracts for printing and distributing, bills for equipment, the payment of salaries and commissions, and shall be responsible for the auditing of the accounts. It shall have power to remove from office any member of the staff who does not abide by its regulations, or who is manifestly unfit to hold his position.

Section 3.—Four members of the Board shall constitute a quorum.

Section 4.—The Chairman of the Board shall have the right to vote on all questions.

Section 5.—In the case of a tie vote, the Board may call upon the President of the Institute to cast the deciding ballot.

Section 6.—The Board shall meet on alternate months during the college year at the call of the Chairman, and at other times at the call of the Chairman or of any three members.

Section 7.—The Board shall adopt whatever by-laws are needed for the government of the publications.

Article III

Officers and Their Duties—Section 1—The officers of the Board shall be a chairman. He shall be elected from the undergraduate members of the Board to hold office for one year or until his successor is elected. The election of said officers shall take place within one week after the annual election of the undergraduate members of the Board.

Section 2.—The retiring Chairman shall prepare an annual report to be published in the Bradley Tech and shall make all other such official reports as shall be required.

(Approved by the faculty on May 22, 1923).

TECH NINE WINS ONE-SIDED GAME WITH 13-2 SCORE

St. Bedes Taken Into Camp by Clever Work of Tommy Correll, Ably Assisted by Rogers and Fritz.

Base hits galore, and fine twirling by Rogers, gave the Tech nine a one sided game with St. Bedes by the score of 13 to 2.

Tommy Correll, the flashy center fielder led the attack with two home runs, a double and a single in five attempts. Fritz also drove out a Herculean drive for four bases, his second of the year.

Potjunas, the Bedes' slabster, fanned 15, but when the Bradley bats did connect, the connected for sixties, 17 hits being the quota for the day. Rogers allowed 12 hits but kept them scattered and was never in danger.

him his wife, Alcestes. Later when Heracles learns of the sorrow of the household, he throws off his drunkenness and promises that he will risk the terrors of the under world and bring Alcestes back to her husband. The play closes with the restoration of Alcestes to Admetus by Heracles.

Following is the list of characters:

Alcestes—Mrs. Gertrude Mayer Graham.

Admetus—Louis McDonald.

Death—Charles Brobst.

Pheres—Frederick Oakley.

Heracles—Charles Mee.

Cup Bearer—Clifford Ahrends.

Handmaiden—Angela Vogel.

In the Apollo dance which precede the dawn, Alice Bonner will dance the role of Apollo, Dorothy McDonald, Esther Earnhart, Ethel Nyberg and Bernice Barber will represent the team o Apollo. Miss Catherine Patterson appears during this act in a solo dance. In the dance of the Frieze Margaret Strasser, Bernice Jones, Helen King and Josephine Ewald, Margaret Simon, Marjorie Packard, Frieda Moody, Marion Cation, Blanch Taylor and Bernice Barber appear.

Mrs. George Barrette will play a harp overture in the opening of the play. There is the harp accompaniment to the singing of the chorus and to some of the speeches. The harp and piano accompaniment follows the majestic funeral procession of Alcestes.

The Bradley Mask and Gavel and English Clubs have purchased new stage lights to produce the elaborate stage lighting system which will make the play very effective.

The seating capacity for each night will be 1200 people. The production has been insured in case of rain. The tickets for the Friday night production are to be used for that date, and those for Saturday for Saturday only. In case of rain on Friday night the play will be produced the following Monday and in case it rains on Saturday, the Saturday night tickets may be used the following Tuesday.

PICKUPS DEFEAT GREEK NINE IN INTRA-MURAL

In a game featured by a gigantic last inning rally the Pickups defeated the Alpha Pi team by the score of 14 to 10. In this frame the entire team of the Pickups batted around without an out being made. The Greeks attempted to stage a comeback and even the score in their half of the round, but fell short after five runs had crossed the rubber and the bases were loaded with but one down, when Peters and Barton both hit into forceouts.

The Pickups scored first on a pass to Dorman, a hit by Tinthoff which went through Warner and was good for three bases, scoring Dorman. Peters also walked McNaught but settled down and struck out the next three men. The Alpha Pi's scored two in their half on two hits and two passes. The Pickups evened the score in the third and went one ahead in the fourth only to be overtaken and passed the next inning by the Pi's. In the final frame, however, the Pickups put the game on ice. The Battery of the Pickups, Barrett and G. Johnson, functioned well, the result being eleven strikeouts, three of which came in one inning, only three men facing Barrett.

The hitting of McNaught was the feature of the game, the big boy garnering three triples ,a double and a walk out of five times up.

The score:

Three base hits—McNaught 3, Tinthoff, Barrett. Hit by pitcher—Dorman. Bases on balls—Off Peters 5; off Barrett 4. Struck out—By Peters 5, by Barrett 11. Umpires—Smith and Gregory.

Although the standing of the teams in the intra-mural league is not definitely decided due to a mix-up involving "doctored" scores ineligible players and protested games the Pickups seem to be the cream of the teams yet to appear and will probably lead the league at the finish.

BRADLEY FINISHES BASEBALL SEASON WITH 7-1 VICTORY

Tyler Masters Olive With His Slants —Correll Gets Four Hits —Allen Grabs Hot One.

Bradley's last baseball game of the season played last Friday at Lombard resulted in a 7 to 1 victory for the Techsters. The outcome of the game was never in doubt as Tyler had the opposition at his mercy at all times. He allowed but five hits, three of them coming in the ninth when the Olive claimed its first and only run. Lombard went hitless until the sixth. Tyler was aided by brilliant support at all times.

The victory lets Bradley finish above the 500 mark. Along with today's game Harrison Dixon hit in his fifteenth straight game, the Tech gardener getting at least one hit in every game scheduled.

Lombard used two hurlers against the Techmen. After allowing seven hits for five runs, Swanson was weakening perceptibly and was relieved by Watson to star the fifth. He yielded four hits and two runs.

Tommy Correll was the heaviest sticker of the day with four swats in five times, one a double.

Featuring the game was a spectacular catch by Allen in left field, cutting off what looked sure to be a triple or a home run.

HOME EC. GIRLS HOLD CREVE COEUR BANQUET

Several of the home economics girls attended the banquet given in their honor at the Creve Coeur club, Tuesday. The evening's program consisted of songs and speeches by the members of the club. Mrs. Ina S. Gaul was the toast mistress. Mrs. Edythe Rawson, the retiring president, introduced the new officers. Gertrude Schoenheider, president, Laura Hedstrom, vice-president, Ethel Nyberg, secretary, and Mable Allen, treasurer.

The evening's speeches dealt with various phases necessary to an enjoyable automobile ride as compared to similar various phases of education necessary to a successful career. Ethel Nyberg, freshman member of club recited a clever piece of poetry, telling of the freshman's optimism on his first journey without 'gas.'" Robert Kate Austen told how the correct make of a "machine" influenced a college girl's career. Litra Benes emphasized the need of high grade gas in the college girl's education. Gertrude Schoenheider gave a graphic account of the need of "accessories" in automobiles and in college. Most autoists "experience a breakdown of some kind" said Miss Lilla Shad. She went on to show how the Home Economics club guided by the last year's officers carefully avoided all such mishaps. The "auto trip" reached its "goal" when Miss Geraldine Hadley, dean of the Home Economics department spoke upon "Our Destinations." The evening's program closed with the singing of several clever songs composed by Ruth Schneider.

GIVE LUNCHEON TO HONOR MISS CONSTANCE

Miss Jennie Constance of Bradley college, who leaves next Thursday to spend the summer abroad, was the complimented guest at a luncheon given in the Block & Kuhl tea room by Miss Lucy Willy, Mis Sara Potter and Miss Clara Freidheim Saturday.

The place cards were dainty handpainted affairs, and spring flowers made attractive decorations. Covers were laid for Mesdames T. C. Burgess, A. F. Williams, Charles Wyckoff, Mark Whittemeyer, Harry Hurff, Ross Marvin; Misses Jennie Constance, Geraldine Hadley, Leota Jones, Adelaide Michel, Martha Hobson.

BRADLEY DEFEATED IN FINAL GAMES AT STATE NET MEET

Conrey Defeats Tucker in Straight Sets—Millikin Eliminates Tech In Doubles in Semi-Finals.

Kenneth Conrey of Augustana defeated Harold Tucker in the finals of the state tennis meet held at Jacksonville on June 1 and 2. Conrey won in straight sets 6-3, 6-0, 6-3.

To reach the finals Conrey defeated Coray of Wheaton and Sazre of McKendre and Tucker defeated Hailing of McKendendre and Waderty of Northwestern. Due to unfavorable weather conditions the singles were played on concrete courts.

The Tucker brothers were eliminated in the doubles by Douthit and Schultz of Millikin in a semi-final match. The score was 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. In a first round match the Tucker brothers defeated Carthage 6-3, 6-3. The finals in the doubles between Millikin and Northwestern have not been played due to unfavorable weather conditions.

Successful Presentation of Alcestes Transforms Campus with Atmosphere of Days When Greek Tragedy Led All Dramatic Productions in Beauty and Simplicity

By EDNA WEITING.

Bradley campus is again the grounds of a modern college, but the setting last week was transformed to that of a Greek Palace 438 B. C. with a most effective stage and elaborate costumes acting as the chief medium.

Simplicity was the keynote of beauty. The stage, with its huge pillars, set off by Hermes and wingless Victory on tall pedestals. Broad white steps led down to the grassy plot. Throughout the entire performance there was not one single scene that was not near perfect in composition. The chorus, with their leader, Helen Louise Wallace, pantomiming gracefully at the foot of the platform, to such a scene as the funeral procession, further enhanced by the play of lights, gave wonderful Greek atmosphere.

Atmosphere alone, however, can not put a play over. The actors must do their share and they did. In the prologue, Charles Brobst's interpretation of Death was so finished that one almost wished he would come again to claim another character. His shallow laugh and slinking movements raised this minor part to one of the outstanding pieces of acting.

Clarence Krughoff, as Apollo, opened the prologue and explained in good manner the action of the play.

Alcestis, done by Gertrude Mayts Graham, is the noble wife who lays down her life for Admetos, in a most beautiful fashion. She showed great ability in her interpretation of the death scene.

Admetos (Louis McDonald) was exceptionally well portrayed. One of the best scenes in the play is the part in which Admetos drives his aged father off with his curses. Bob Admetos and the father, played by Frederick Oakley, arose to wonderful heights in their anger.

Charles Mee had an odd combination of parts to take in the role of Heracles. First that of the intoxicated guest and that of the hero who grapples with Death to bring Alcestis back to life. Both parts he played with equal success, changing from one to the other with ease and proper motivation.

Angela Vogel, the handmaiden to Alcestis, charmed everyone with her full voice and exquisite feeling of her part. She held the two children during the death scene, with true sympathy. The children, by the way, were faculty children, George Comstock and little Betty Marvin. George proved himself a very youthful actor when he bewailed his mother's death.

The first touch of Greek life was given by dances, the first, a chariot dance, Berniece Jones as Apollo, drove her four purky ponies around the alter of Dionysus in the semi-circle in front of the stage. Miss Carlene Pattison delighted her audience with a Greek fantasy. She was followed by a group of maids interpreting a Grecian frieze, which gave lovely effects with the use of colored lighting. The music was furnished by the harp, played by Mrs. Helen Strawn Barrett.

Miss Nadine Shepardson, who so successfully coached the entire play, deserves much credit.

The costumes were designed by Margaret Catlon and Ruth Whalen.

The lighting effects were skillfully managed by men from the electrical department of the college under the direction of Fred Dace, instructor in electricity.

H. MERLE GIBSON GIVES GRADUATE RECITAL

The graduate piano recital of H. Merle Gibson, pupil of Franklin Stead, director of the Bradley Conservatory of Music, was a brilliant and artistic example of student work and approached in no small degree the artist profession. Little can be said to express the qualities possessed by Mr. Gibson. All who heard him surely know that he is especially gifted in the art of piano playing in soul and intellect. Considering the master compositions which he rendered, and his ability for rhythm we see that the sacrifice he has made to acquire the technique by which he was able to express those inmost thoughts and passions which are necessary to make music live, we can only add that Mr. Gibson's future is in the making. With his talent together with his splendid mind and tenacity for ardour us labor and indifference to discouragements and seeming failure; he is bound for a great career as a musician pianist. Mr. Gibson will continue his studies under Mr. Stead another year, taking the post graduate course as laid down in the Bradley Conservatory curriculum.

MANY SENIORS ACCEPT TEACHING POSITIONS

Many Bradley seniors have accepted teaching positions during the past few days. Several others expect to sign up contracts this week. Mrs. Ina S. Gaul will fill the position of dean at the Starret School for Girls near Chicago. Alfred Heath has accepted the position of superintendent of the Mackinaw high school. Bill Clarke has signed up to teach physics and manual training and athletics in the high school of Monona, Iowa.

Frank Allen will teach manual arts in the Streator grade schools. Homer Mason will teach at Lemmon, South Dakota. Berryce Payne will be an instructor in the Hawthorne School at Mattoon, Ill.

The following young women from the Home Economics department will teach home economics in the following towns: Lucille Stansell at Athens, Ill.; Lois Swanson at Rock Falls; Cora Albertson at Mishawaka, Ind.; Roberta Kate Austen at Nazareth College in Kentucky; Lila Shad at Streator, Ill..

Katherine Schmidt has accepted the position of dietetian at the Methodist hospital in Peoria.

TECH TRACK TEAM FINISHES NINTH IN I. A. A. C. MEET

Warner Sets New Record in Half-Mile as One of Eight Marks to be Shattered.

Amid the crash of falling records, Illinois College of Jacksonville came from behind in the last few minutes of the annual I. I. A. C. track and field meet to win by the narrow margin of 2¼ points. The meet was held on Illinois College field last Friday and Saturday, June 1 and 2, and was easily the greatest meet ever held among the minor colleges of the state. Had it not been for the rain slowing up the track at the start of the meet, there would undoubtedly have been more marks shattered.

Illinois scored 27⅝ points with Monmouth a close second with 25½ points. The other teams scored as follows:

Lombard, 23¾; Eastern Teachers, 23¾; Knox, 191-6; Eureka, 14 1-6; Carthage, 10; Wesleyan, 7; Northwestern, 7, Bradley, 7 3-4; State Normal, 3 1-2; Millikin, 2; and Augustana, 1.

The event which beat Monmouth out of first place was in the half-mile which was won by Gale Warner of Bradley Tech, Peoria. Warner raced over the half-mile distance to set a new record in 1 minute 57

SELECT MANAGERS FOR TRACK AND BASEBALL

Leland Newell and Ernest Keeping have been selected by the athletic board to manage the track and baseball teams for 1924, according to an announcement made by Dr. Swaim, chairman of the board. Newell succeeds Edward Simanski as track manager, and Keepping is promoted to the baseball managership which this year Harold Zierten has so efficiently filled.

Both of the newly elected have assisted in the management of the respective major sport teams. Their experience as assistants enables them to assume their positions next spring without having to begin at the bottom. The athletic board has evolved this plan to secure efficiency, and it is working out satisfactorily. Greater interest must, however, be taken by the student body in the nomination of assistant managers to assure the Tech officials that competent men will take over the managerial duties.

As the result of this election nominations for the positions of assistant baseball and track manager are open. There are still the assistant football and basketball managerships to be decided, though the announcement of these vacancies was made several weeks ago.

CHORUS TO SING ORATORIO 'ELIJAH' ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Soloists Prominent in Peoria Music Circles—Story Deals With Characters of Old Testament.

Under the direction of Franklin Stead, head of the Bradley conservatory of music, the Institute chorus will make its annual appearance Friday evening of this week at Bradley hall in a performance of Mendelssohn's famous oratorio, "Elijah."

The chorus numbers about fifty voices. Three of the soloists are well known in Peoria musical circles. Miss Edith Clinebell will sing the soprano roles, Mrs. Alma King, the contralto, and Mr. Kenneth Stead, is to be the bass soloist. At the piano will be Miss Adelaide White, and Miss Helen King will be at the organ.

Since its first performance in Birmingham, England, in 1846, this oratorio has become, with the possible exception of Handel's Messiah, the most popular of its sort in England and America. It has had countless performances on both sides of the Atlantic. Mendelssohn himself conducted the oratoric in England.

The story which the music carries out is one of the most stirring in the entire Old Testament. The prophet Elijah was perhaps the greatest of that line of stern figures that dominated Hebrew history. His life, which the oratoric concerns, was full of impressive and dramatic incidents, and the music of the oratoric—its choruses, duets, quartets and solos—makes vivid the drama of his career, from his sudden appearance before the king to condemn him for his worship of heathen gods and to predict a terrible famine, on through his contest with the heathen priests on Mount Carmel, one of the grandest scenes in religious history, his anxious waiting in solitude for a sign from the Lord and the other events of his life, the story is told in the beautiful and majestic music of one of the world's most famous composers.

The chorus has had the work under preparation for over three months.

"Speed ball," a new game invented by Elmer D. Mitchell, director of intra-mural athletics at the University of Michigan, is taking a firm hold in eastern universities.

The game is a combination of football and basketball with the kicking of soccer also involved. It is said to be faster than any of the parent sports. A ball kicked in the air may be played with the hands until it touches the ground, thus allowing a forward pass to be used with great effect.

ALCESTES

One of the most difficult things in the world is to give credit where credit is due by the mere use of words. Actions speak plainer than words. Yet we are confined to words only in the expression of opinions. It is easy to slip in stilted expressions and prosiac terms which will discount a most worthy deed while real spontaneous expression is rare indeed.

'Alcestes' was a success. Despite any favorable or unfavorable criticism on technique, plot, staging, or setting the play was a success because it represented the climax of weeks of co-operative work between directors, cast, and promoters. The long period of preparation is forgotten in the glory of the success.

The success is not in the play itself but in the spirit which prompted, nurtured, and developed it into a thing of beauty.

CHAPEL

Slightly late, yet better late than never, comes a comment on the talk concerning Decoration Day delivered from the chapel platform by Mr. W. Ross Marvin.

Bradley students are so used to having a lot of pickled propaganda handed to them from the chapel platform that a speech of the type given by Mr. Marvin was a distinct relief. He had no tickets to sell, nothing to "put across big" and no axe to grind. His words and actions seemed sincere. He presented a human interest subject from the start to finish. If there were more speakers of Mr. Marvin's type giving more speeches of the type he gave it is possible that the amount of chapel "cuts" would be appreciably reduced.

KIDDING THE COLLEGE GRADUATE

(From the Peoria Transcript)

This is the season of year when cartoonists who draw well and spell atrociously have their annual fling at the college graduate whom they represent as a callow youth with bulging forehead moving grimly off the college campus and making ready to plunge into the cold, cold world.

College graduates who never have felt the sting of poverty and who are about to complete four years of club life, are perhaps more sophisticated than the elderly gentlemen who has been dividing his income between the internal revenue collector and his young hopeful. As soon as the young man graduates, he may enter a professional or techinal school or he may be given a place in his father's office or mill. He may start at the bottom for appearance's sake, but he will be quickly promoted. As a Christmas or birthday gift he will be placed in charge of men who have spent years at their trade. The "cold world" will have no terrors for youth of this class.

As for the young men, and women too, who have carved their way through college, earning a portion or all of their expenses during summer vacations or out of school hours, they deserve no patronage because they don't need it and no kidding because they already have been introduced to the world.

The experts do not kid immigrants because they enter the new world without being able to speak a word of English or because they don't know whether a president or an ordinary king rules at Washington. Why kid the college graduate who has just written a thesis on "The growth of the federal principle in America?"

The rich and sophisticated college graduate will not accept the advice of his seniors; the hard working, self-reliant graduate doesn't need it.

THOT FROM ANOTHER CAMPUS

Concerning Intercollegiate Athletics.

Recently, two 'varsity teams spent approximately four hundred dollars in week end trips. We are hearing here at Northwestern an echo of the tremendous roar of athletic machinery in our big colleges and unversities. Teams on special trains often accompanied by hundreds of rooters, travel halfway across the continent for a single game. Stadiums built at unbelievable expense are paid for in a single season. Perhaps they are wise, although certainly venturesome who ask, " What is the good of it all?"

Censure of intercollegiate athletics is usually met by one of three or four answers, each considered from long usage to be an entirely adequate defense. We are told that intercollegiate athletics are necessary in advertising a college. We are assured that they are invaluable in building a school spirit, that is centering the interest in the school, and then rather inconsistently informed that they are essential in broadening the interests of an institution.

But are intercollegiate contests such good advertising? Could not more be done with five hundred dollars in the hands of an advertising expert than is accomplished by that amount expended on athletic trips? Do athletics alone attract the type of students we are most anxious to secure? These are fair questions sometimes asked. One argument for intercollegiate athletics seems to run in a vicious circle somewhat after this fashion. We need athletics to advertise to secure more men for better advertising for better advertising and so on.

Is the finest kind of contact with other schools made in the heated partisanship of intercollegiate sport when five or seven or eleven men visit another school with avowed interest of administering as crushing a defeat as possible? It may even be questioned whether the most worthwhile school spirit can be developed in that way. Very little good comes of the rapid school loyalty thus called forth.

It may be that intercolleglate athletics are really necessary for a school but it rather looks as if we are approaching the time when colleges will be necessary for athletics. There is needed especially in the larger universities a more unprofessional spirit. As a man taking in a half dozen bears for entertainment might soon discover that with theif growth he must devote his entire time to providing for them a living; so colleges may soon find themselves supporting athletics not as an entertainment but as a life work. In the Annual put out by Iowa University after winning the big ten football championship several years ago, the first thing in the book was not the pictures of the faculty or buildings or graduating class, but full page individual pictures of "the team." It is facts like this which led a Chicago daily to define a college as "an institution operating in conjunction with a football team."

Perhaps it would be more worthwhile in the end even here at Northwestern, instead of concentrating our athletic budget in developing a few men, to use it in providing more adequate facilities for intramural sport.

By Berniece Jones

As the end of the year draws nearer, the time for dates grows less and less. Of course they're making hay while the sun shines.

What makes it worst of all for the poor students, is that there's no time to study for the exams. This time of the year is certainly hard on health. The teacher wants your time, the other person wants it.

Elsie White tells us she had a very enjoyable time at Rome this last week-end.

Hugh—Do you object to kissing on sanitary grounds?

Dorothy S.—Why, no.

Hugh—Let's stroll through the biology lab.

* * *

Going to the dance tonight?

I don't know, is it formal or can you wear your own clothes?

Catherine—Last night I dreamed I was in heaven.

Ralph H.—Did you see me there?

Catherine—Yes, and then I knew I was dreaming.—Monmouth Oracle.

I'm very sure of that.
For after one big blowout,
She went and left me flat.

We wish to congratulate Katherine and Russell on the Polyscope they put out. All departments are good. As is the case with most of the undertakings this year we feel that we can say it is the best the school has yet turned out.

Don was wondering why girls close their eyes when they are kissed. When asked if he kept his eyes open he said, "Yes, I keep them on the watch."

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

Bostic has accepted a position at Mattoon, Ill. a city of about 17,000. He is to teach woodwork and mechanical drawing and coach athletics in the high school. Bostic is going to attend school at the University of Illinois this summer where he will take work in coaching.

The woodwork shop has constructed a metal lined box as a container for the tow used in upholstery. This was made a requirement by the fire inspector.

* * *

The advanced students in the machine shop are doing some work in spiral milling. This is quite a complicated piece of work.

Mr. H. G. Snell has been transferred to Springfield. He is a student in machine drafting and expects to be retransferred.

* * *

Cotter, a teacher training student, was obliged to leave school last Monday because of tonsil trouble and rheumatism.

* * *

The drawing department has recently completed a series of drawings for use in the new vocational catalogue. Drawings have been made of bungalows, orders of architecture and an elevation of a gothic cathedral in the drafting department. Problems in gearing designing of a drill press and a vertical and horizontal engine are contributions of the machine department. Drawing from the electrical department are also contained among these for the catalogue.

H. E. CHUBBUCK TO BE HONORED FOR LOAN FUND GIFT

Donation Will be Called H. E. Chubbuck Loan Fund—Henry M. Pindell Aids in Securing Amount.

A substantial gift of $5000 has just been added to the Students' Loan Fund through the generosity of H. E. Chubbuck and will be known as the H. E. Chubbuck Loan Fund. The gift was secured through the services of Henry M. Pindell, a trustee of Bradley. Dr. T. C. Burgess and Judge J. M. Neihaus tendered the thanks of the trustees, faculty and student body.

The increase to the loan fund will aid many worthy students in securing an education. Commenting editorially on the gift the Transcript says,

"There was no hint of patronage in the gift or the manner of its giving. The decision of the board to call the fund the H. E. Chubbuck Student Loan Fund was made by the trustees because they wished to compliment the donor, not because any strings were attached to the donation.

Although Mr. Chubbuck has always been public spirited, he would shy at the designation of philanthropist, and his gift is not philanthropy. As a business man, he is aware of the economic and financial value of a college education. He realizes that business will be improved and professional standards raised when those who engage in both are college men. Consequently, his gift is an investment which will pay returns in a higher type of citizen through an increase in the ease with which worthy students can complete their college training.

Bradley Institute and Mr. Chubbuck are to be congratulated; the former because it will be able to lend money to those it deems worthy, and the latter because of his vision and generosity."

Oratorio "Elijah" Is Well Presented by Conservatory

"Elijah", the Mendelssohn oratorio presented by the Bradley Conservatory of Music chorus Friday was superior to anything of its kind ever given at Bradley. It was the result of ability combined with hard work. The result was satisfying to the highest degree.

The oratorio was directed by Mr. Franklin Stead, head of the Conservatory of Music, and it was largely through his efforts that it was the success it proved to be.

Soloists were Edith Clinebell, soprano, Miss Alma King, contralto Mr. Kenneth Marvin Stead, tenor and Mr. William Phillips, baritone. Miss Adelaide White was at the piano and Miss Helen King at the organ.

The following choristers sang:

Sopranos.

Emma Schreiner, Mrs. N. C. Johnson, Gladys Willis, Mrs. D. C. Chaffee, Mrs. R. W. Turney, Mrs. Frank S. Harrison, Frances Turnbull, Mrs. E. B. Espenscheid, Margaret Jale, Edith Clinebell, Leila Evans, Mrs. J. H. Thrush, Helen Hoshor, Mrs. Myrtle Hill, Mrs. W. A. Gregory, Olga von Seger, Emma Harrmann, Dorothy Reishardt, Edna Goetz, Danelia Janssen, Miss Taylor, Vernice evans.

Altos.

Mrs. P. A. Langton, Agnes Archer, Dana H. Johnson, Mrs. L. D. Short, Mrs. May Gillette, Alma King, Mary Morgan, Katherina Linder, Hazel King.

Tenors.

Fred C. Noel, Clarence Comstock, N. C. Johnson, Arnold Schoenheider, Kenneth Marvin Stead, John H. Thrush.

Bassos.

D. C. Chaffee, George E. Wilde, L. T. Bourland, Orville Smith, W. J. Williams, George F. Johnson, H. M. Gibson, Roy A. Dillon, C. F. Krughoff.

—B. P. I.—

JOURNALISM CLASS

V. DON O'MEARA

V. Don is a Peoria boy and a graduate of Spalding. Although only a freshman at Bradley his over-developed sense of humor has made him a fitting editor for the Kicks and Komments column. Don has only two weaknesses as far as the Tech staff has been able to discover—one his natural reticence to talk about himself and the other his Hebrewie name. He plans to come back to Bradley next year.

STELLA LA FOLLETTE

Stella, assistant business manager, had a whole lot to do about putting the Tech on a firm basis this year. She is a specialist at the selling game—subscriptions, ads, candy—anything. She also has a weakness—but he is a nice young man. Committees think they are lucky when Stella is on them. She is a product of Peoria schools and will return to Bradley next year.

BEATRICE VERNER

Bee, a graduate of Decatur high school and a junior in the Home Economics department has been responsible for the society news in the Tech. She is at her best in writing up fraternity meetings. She holds and has held offices in numerous organizations at Bradley—is blonde, coy, and a Lambda Phi—What more can be said?

WAYNE BUCKLEY

"Buck" was sporting editor—is managing editor and will be editor-in-chief next fall. He is one of Bradley's superlative students, shining in grades, athletics and social activities. He is also president of the State College Press Association. Where he gets his time to do what he does we don't know, but we know that he always gets it done. He comes from Manual high school.

CLARENCE ROSELL

"Rosy" has been scribing the manual arts news or the past year. Joliet is his home town, but no one holds that against him. He is a senior, a member of the honorary teacher's training fraternity and just now is undecided whether or not he will accept a position—no, not land a job—as principal or superintendent in some of the numerous high schools which are angling for him.

WILLIAM CLARK

Bill will be one of the seniors to leave with a B. S. on his name this year. He has been attending to the Tech circulation and the gray hairs are beginning to show. Bill is somewhat of an athlete; having won his "B" he is now trying to win his Ruby. He still wears his Sophist pin. He was graduated from Peoria High and is going to teach at Monona, Ia., next fall.

W. LANG BASS

W. Lang, the editor of the Stem Winders section of the Tech graduates this year from Horology Hall. He hails from Laurel, Miss., and drops his r's and ng's like a regular southern colonel. W. Lang is one of the live men who have helped keep up the good name of Horology.

BERNIECE JONES

Berniece Jones, editor of the Co-Ed, comes from Peoria high school and goes on the Chautauqua stage this summer. In addition to being a writer she is an excellent swimmer and also a tennis shark. Her favorite avocation is giving rebuttal to Kicks and Komments. She slings words right promiscuously and her column is one of the most popular in the Tech. She will be back next year.

PAUL DIEFENDERFER

Paul has been exchange editor on the paper. He is a senior, will graduate with a B. S. and plans to return for post-graduate work. When Paul isn't selling tickets he is making high grades or doing a little research work. His hobbies are money lending and raising white rabbits. He belongs to nearly everything in school and rates high as a committeeman.

MR. W. ROSS MARVIN

Mr. Marvin the popular member of the English department is leaving Bradley this year to enter another line of work. He goes to Chicago where he has "landed a job" in the editorial department of the Scott-Foresman Publishing Co.

Mr. Marvin is a graduate of Oberlin University and has been connected with Bradley for the past three years. During this time he has served as faculty adviser for the Tech and has been very instrumental in its development. The student body don't like to see him go but wish him all kinds of good luck in his new venture.

THE JOURNALISM CLASS

A new plan was inaugurated this year, that of having the class in journalism write many of the stories for the Tech. This plan worked very successfully and was not only helpful to the Tech but also worked in well with the regular class duties.

Many Instructors to Teach During the Coming Summer

Several Bradley instructors will study at leading Universities during the summer, others will teach, and some expect to travel during the summer. Gaut, Siepert and Schroeder will study at the University of Chicago. Tillotson will enter the School of Commerce and Finance at Northwestern for the summer. Miss Theresa Baune will study Spanish at the University of Mexica during vacation.

Dr. Swaim goes to William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Va., to be instructor of physics for the summer. Mr. Chillrud will teach psychology at the Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. Marvin leaves at the end of this school term to become one of the editors for the Scott, Foresman Co., publishers of Chicago.

Miss Jennie Constances leaves Tuesday on the Cunard liner Acquatania to tour in England, France, Switzerland and Italy for the summer. Mrs. Snowden expects to travel in Europe later in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Burgess expect to motor to Zeeland, Michigan, to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Roscoe Page. They will also motor in the north.

Evidence Required From Candidates for Graduation

In faculty meeting last week it was decided by common agreement that candidates for graduation for next term must present evidence in February that they are in a position to complete work by the following June. Their candidacy will be approved at that time. Students must have 86 credits to be ranked as seniors in September.

At West Virginia it is requested that all freshmen under 21 years of age should have one year in residence before entering any fraternity.

GEORGE E. JOHNSON
(Editor-in-Chief)

George has been one of the most efficient editors that the Tech has ever had. He is the one who received all the "Kicks" during the year, but has suffered no ill effects. He hails from Altona, Ill., and says he hasn't decided what to do next year.

California has the greatest enrollment of any university in the United States, according to the annual report of the registrar's office. There are 14,505 regular full time students and 15,909 non-resident students.

The University of Texas has forbidden students to have their automobiles at school and the president has written letters to the parents requesting that they keep the cars at home.—Iowa State Student.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON GIVEN BY REV. CREIGHTON

Is First of Convocation Week Exercises—Seniors to be Graduated Friday Night.

Reverend J. H. Creighton o the Second Presbyterian Church delivered the baccalaureate address to Bradley seniors at the Westminster Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. This was the first of the Convocation week exercises.

The theme of Reverend Creighton's address was the plans which graduates should formulate for their life's work. He spoke at length on the starting point from which the graduates were to embark on their careers in the world.

Fifty-five of the sixty-four graduates of '23 were present at the services and attired in their caps and gowns occupied reserved seats in the chapel. This is the largest graduating class to leave Bradley in any one year.

As one of the graduation exercises, the Conservatory of Music students presented their final concert in the chapel hall Tuesday night.

The University of Chicago club of Peoria will hold its annual oratorical contest in the Social Hall Wednesday night. Six contestants are entered to compete for the $50 prize offered by the club.

Thursday is chosen for Class and Alumni day. Exercises will be held in Bradley hall at 10 o'clock followed by a class breakfast at Bradley Park at twelve. In the afternoon at 3:00 the faculty meet the seniors in a game of ball on Bradley field. The Alumni banquet at 6 o'clock will conclude the program on the day.

Graduation services will be held Friday night, Professor A. B. Snyder of the English department of Northwestern University delivering the address.

Form New Sociology Club at Meeting Held Wednesday, June 6

In order to promote a better feeling among the sociology students and foster a greater desire for this study, a new club has recently been organized by some of the members of the sociology classes. Thru this club a very good medium for studying social problems will be found.

It also is hoped that by means of this club many sociologist lecturers of prominence will be brought to the school.

At a luncheon meeting held Wednesday June 6, a Constitution was adopted and an election of officers held.

The officers elected were:

Paul Diefenderfer, President; Marjorie Ogden, vice-president; Fred Tinthoff, Secretary and Treasurer.

The signers of the constitution are: Edna Wieting, Marguerite Bragg, Lois Swanson, Winifred Drew, Ferne Smizer, Fred Tinthoff, Russell Damon, Marjorie Ogden and Paul Diefenderfer.

Lamba Phi Sorority Adds $200 to the Student Loan Fund

During the past few days Bradley Institute has been the receiver of a $200 gift from the Lambda Phi sorority. The money is to be used as a Student Loan Fund until the sum of $1000 has been reached. From that time it will be known as the Lambda Phi sorority Scholarship.

The gift is much appreciated and a welcome one. Grateful acknowledgement of it is expressed to the president, Mrs. Gladys Hanna Krieger and the other members of the sorority.

WEDNESDAY JUNE 13, 1923

OUR SENIORS

"I have eaten your bread and salt,
I have drank your water and wine,
The deaths ye died, I have watched beside,
The lives ye have lived were mine"

Another graduating class is leaving the halls of Bradley. They will go their own ways. Some will return or will enter other institutions of learning. For the rest there is the world and all its realities.

Each has left something with the college — some indelible imprint which will remain as a remembrance for years to come. They are gone but will not be forgotten. The ideals for which they strove will be the ideals which will remain and serve as a criterion for all Bradleyites.

If we could only tell them how much we shall miss them, and how glad we have been to have them here —and tell them that Bradley and we are backing them for the whole rest of their lives—it is all contained in a wish for their happiness.

———B. P. I.———

"30"

As each sheet passes under the rollers today, a little slug of type proudly yet sadly breathes "Number 37" upon it. Even the clanking press seems softened somehow as if it, too, realizes that the year's work is finally completed.

A lengthy editorial on the work of the year is not necessary. The 37 numbers of the Tech will serve as a much better testimony to the labors of the staff. The staff has striven loyally to represent the student body. Bradley ideals have been its ideals. Boost has been its motto; progress, its password. It has worked patiently to put out the best paper possible. Mistakes have been made. The heights of journalistic excellence have not been reached, but a measure of growth has been fulfilled, and that is the thought that rewards all those who have labored quietly on the Tech throughout the year.

A reporter is not greeted with a skyrocket when he turns in a bit of good copy. There is no applause from the sidelines when he covers his assignment efficiently. Even publicity is denied him by virtue of his position. His only reward rests in the thought of work well done.

JAN., 1923—JUNE, 1923.

Exams are over, answers punk;
Grades back, you flunk.
Card home, dad acts,
Lays down, bare facts.
Come back, hard work,
More study, less shirk.
First week, study best;
Second week, study less,
Third week, study small,
Fourth week, not at all.
Same thing, through year.
Exam time, again here.
Adviser comes, looks sad,
Says grades, very bad.
Take books, clean off dust,
No more dates, work you must.
One day before exam!
Semesters' work, one nites cram.
—Plaiganized.

Kicks and Komments

By BRICK O'MEARA.

What is the younger generation coming to?

How often do we hear this question asked by people today? There is a general shaking of heads, and then some sage declares that "the world isn't what it used to be." In the minds of older people, the thought that the younger generation is corrupt and degenerated, is predominant. They rave and rant about these so-called petting parties and necking contests, whereas these things are done only by those young folks who do not amount to much and who never will. Older people forget that in this younger generation there are many who are just as good and up-right as they were when they were young. We admit that there are necking parties, but we rise up in wrath to state that the world today is just as virtuous and good as it was yesterday. Romance today gets more publicity than it did years ago.

DO YOU REMEMBER WAY BACK WHEN———

You came home from school, on the last day, singing at the top of your voice: No more pencils, no more books. No more teachers angry looks?

* * *

I am claimed as a native by two cities, Peoria and Chicago. Peoria says that I belong to Chicago, and Chicago says that I belong to Peoria.

* * *

Farnum: "Has your new Cadillac got any pick up?"

Don Block: "Pick up? Why the other night I picked up four broads with it."

* * *

Myrtle: "My mind is made up."

Wally: "Myrtle, I thought that your mind at least, was natural."

* * *

Ed. Note: Some time ago the editor of this column printed a product of his brain, in which he bewailed the fact that the Sigma Chi's, Delta Kap's, and Lambda Phi's are always ready to eat.

The following was sent in by a girl who claims that she writes from experience. We have never had a date with her, but upon reading her poem, we have decided to date her up. Here is her reply.

A Reply.

I've had dates with Beta Mu's
And I've found them very nice.
I've had dates with Sigma Phi's,
Once, or maybe twice.
And I've had dates with Alpha Pi's
And I've found it quite a treat.
But never once with all my dates
Did they ever suggest: "Let's eat."

* * *

Oakley: "And then I told him that he was a dirty bum, and a liar and that if I ever caught him out I was going to beat him up."

Jobst: "He's much bigger than you, it's a wonder he didn't hit you."

Oakley: "Oh, I was going to tell him some more too, but Central cut us off."

* * *

We were out with a girl, so dumb that she thinks that Kelly Pool is a bathing place.

* * *

No es Verdad?

Some men are born crazy—women drive others that way—and some edit columns like this one.

Trans lucent.

A sweet little maid was Irene.
Outfitted in pink crepe de chine.
When she stood in the light,
It hardly seemed right,
But we saw less of silk than Irene?

* * *

Kleinschmidt: "What'll I give my brother for his birthday?"

Barton: "Socks."

Walt.: "Nope, he's got a pair of socks."

* * *

Hot Lips.

The air was cold,
The night was worse.
But she and I,
Were just reverse.

* * *

The stork had brought a little peach,
Said the nurse, with quite an air,
I'm mighty glad, said dease old dad,
That he didn't bring a pair.

* * *

Marie: "I'm afraid that the train will beat us to the crossing.

Russell: "That's not what I'm afraid of—I'm afraid that it will be a tie."

* * *

Why not cut this out and paste it in your scrap book?

* * *

The skin you love to touch, is often Dad's old leather wallet.

* * *

Now, that school is over, and exams are finished until next year, we have decided to close. Let us say that we will be back next year, with a bigger and better paper than even this one. Let the congregation pass out slowly, singing:

"No more pencils, no more books,
No more teacher's angry looks."

—AMEN.

1922-23 HISTORY OUTLINE OF BRADLEY COLLEGE

School opened with a rush and the enrollment of 928 students on Wednesday, Sept. 13. Of this number 208 were college men, 224 college women, 106 in the vocational departments, 250 in Horology Hall, and 140 in the conservatory of music. More or less of these students attended a mixer at the gym on Friday of that week where after much handshaking they got acquainted with each other and were ready for the business of getting educated.

About this time the coach was frantically calling for football men. Good ones were scarce and a hard schedule loomed up. The return of Gross and Meinen, however, pepped things up a bit and practice for the game with Lincoln began in earnest.

The next week is remembered for a number of things, chief among which was the announcement that a course in sheet metal work would be inaugurated in the college. This, incidentally, never was carried out. The election of senior class officers, and explanations of various school activities from the chapel platform by students were the other events of the week.

About this time, October 6 to be exact, Student Council representatives were elected. The football team had beaten Lincoln and a few days later held the mighty Lombardians to a 6-6 score; the scrubs of the respective colleges playing an 0-0 game a few days later. The Commerce Club with Dick Bradley as their main speaker held their first meeting of the year and the sophomores elected their officers.

Founder's Day exercises were held Oct. 9 in chapel with Rev. Hazen as the speaker of the day. Winfield Scott delivered a talk to the students later in the week on some of the social problems of life.

Preparations for the homecoming day were going on full tilt and W. Ross Marvin wrote his famous invitation starting Hear Ye, Hear Ye, etc. The Y. M. pajama paraders paraded successfully and everything was lovely.

Bradley knocked off Wesleyan on Homecoming Day and the business office added some new bleachers to the football field.

The organizing bug was working strong about this time and the Glee Club, Debating Team, English Club and a few others were revived and began work.

The football season was drawing to a close. The Thanksgiving game with Eureka finished the grid schedule and brought with it a state championship to Bradley. Thanksgiving and its accompanying pains was enjoyed in diverse ways by the student body and after a short recess they came back for a few weeks until Christmas.

Many things crowded into the month of December. The big football banquet was held in the cafeteria on the ninth, and the Monday following basketball practice started. Bradley was admitted to membership in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Bradley orchestra gave its first concert, the Polyscope managers started promising a bigger and better book than ever and agitation for Tony Sarg and the Coffer-Miller players was started.

After a couple of weeks of vacation the students returned to the halls of learning and began the assimilating process again. Bradley was admitted to membership in the State Oratorical Association during this period largely through the efforts of Mr. Marvin.

Illinois college press delegates met in Peoria on the 13th of January and started a state college press association. Semester examinations were approaching and activities were lessened in number as the students began to prepare for them.

As the spring wore on track and baseball began to take the place held by basketball and intra-mural sports. Debating was on in full swing and the League of Nations question was revived from the platform and made a vital problem in the minds of debate followers.

Scholarships were being received from a number of Bradley friends. Theodore Kuhl gave one of $2,500 followed by one by John Roth and two from the Kiwanis Club. Scholarships are always welcome and the donors of these gifts are worthy of great appreciation from any Bradleyite.

The Junior Prom on April 11 was a brilliant affair. Nearly 250 people were present at the prom and went away satisfied that it really was "the best ever."

It was in April also that the band began giving its out-of-town concerts, the first of which was at Mason City. Later ones were given at Green Valley, Wyoming and Pekin. The band with its accompanying saxaphone quintet made a good impression on its tours and became quite famous.

Plans for Alcestis, the Greek tragedy, were formulated and committees were chosen and selection of characters was begun. Lectures were given to acquaint the actors with the character of the Grecian presentations.

The Scar issue of the Tech came out on May 1 and served as a damper on the spirits of some of the college's most notorious characters as well as the Tech staff.

The next week was featured by the Interscholastic which was won by the school represented by a certain J. Dicenzo. The literary events also were popular, Pekin, Minier, Morton and Mackinaw being the winners. The Glee Club was also doing its stuff in the form of a concert at Morton.

From this time on the Alcestis, tennis, track and baseball held the stage until preparations for graduation and the end of the semester came in, pushed aside everything else, and took the spotlight which they still hold.

:: MANUAL ARTS NOTES ::

The boys in the machine shop are busy overhauling the lathes for the opening of the summer session. The finishing up work keeps them very busy these last few days in order to finish up everything in good order.

* * *

Mr. George F. Johnson of the machine shop is expecting to spend the summer at the University of Chicago doing graduate work.

* * *

A seven and one-half horse power motor has been belted up to take care of the machine shop during the summer months when the power plant is not in operation.

It was the fag-end of a tedious evening. At the close of the third twenty-minute lapse he said plaintively:

"I wish I had money. I'd travel."

"Well," she replied, as she began to unroll her stocking, "how much do you need?"—Voo Doo.

HOROLOGS STAGE SCRAP TO PROVE BASEBALL ABILITY

"C" Room Leads Trade in 8th Inning and Then Forfeits Game—Fists Play Prominent Part.

After 8 innings of base running and one good four round bout, Horologs from "C" room and Trade are still wondering which division had the best team. The game really was forfeited by "C" room according to reports, but the question as to the best team still remains.

The fracas started, it seems, Saturday morning when Frank Leet of Trade started haranguing Jean Rackliffe a "C" roomer about the superiority of his fellow workmen in general and of their ability to clout the A. G. Spaulding around the diamond. Rackliffe took up the gauntlet of battle and collected a team from among his co-workers. Leet did the same, Dean Westlake promised to treat the winners with ice cream, Graccho was selected to manage the affair and the time was set for Saturday afternoon.

Things went fine until the 5th inning. The score was 17-19 with the "C" room men in the lead when "One Round Maley" took exception to some of the remarks of "Battling" Schlager concerning some of his (Maley's) characteristics and took upon himself the task of chastising Schlager.

The first round went to Maley by a hair. Schlager won the next two by some clever foot work but in the fourth he placed his jaw in front of one of Maley's hot ones and went down for the count.

After peace was restored the game went on but most of the interest was gone after the excitement of the scrap and it was not surprising that the "C" room team should become tired and refuse to play in the eighth inning with the score standing 28-23 in their favor. This, of course, caused the game to be forfeited to Trade.

Batteries were: White and Stuteville for "C" room and Thompson and Thompson for Trade.
